AT YOUR SERVICE

Unless otherwise specified, all recipes are based on service for six persons. When cooking for more, multiply the ingredients in direct proportion. When fewer are to be served, divide by two or three as necessary. A full discussion of the problems of small quantity preparations is found in the chapter entitled "Cooking for Two"

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT FOOD

USE OF RECIPES

To become a good cook requires more than the blind following of a recipe. This is frequently illustrated when several women living in the same community, all using the same recipe, obtain widely differing results. It is the reason so many cooks say, “I had good luck with my cake to-day,” or “I had bad luck with my bread yesterday.” Happily, luck causes neither the success nor the failure of a product. To become a good cook means to gain a knowledge of foods and how they behave, and skill in manipulating them. The recipe by itself, helpful as it is, will not produce a good product; the human being using the recipe must interpret it and must have skill in handling the materials it prescribes.

Some of the lessons which the person desiring to become a good cook should learn are given in the following pages. They will not be learned all at once; but if they are gradually mastered, luck will play a less important part in culinary conversation.

Methods of Cooking Food

Boiling is cooking in water at a temperature of 212° Fahrenheit. At this temperature water will bubble vigorously and as these bubbles come to the surface of the water steam is given off. (In mountainous regions, where the boiling-point is affected by atmospheric pressure, allowance must be made for the variation.)

Simmering is cooking in water at a temperature of 180° F. to 210° F., or below the boiling-point of water. Only an occasional bubble is formed and rises slowly to the surface.

Stewing is cooking in a small amount of water. The water may boil or simmer, as indicated for the food that is to be cooked.

Steaming is cooking in the steam generated by boiling water. Pressure Cooking is cooking in steam at a pressure of 5 to 30 pounds and at temperatures 228° F. to 274° F. The rise in the temperature of the steam is caused by holding it under pressure. A special cooker is necessary for this cooking. From 10 to 15 pounds (240° to 250° F.) is the pressure ordinarily used for household purposes.

Broiling is cooking over or under or in front of a fire of live coals or a gas or electric burner, or other direct heat.

Oven Broiling is cooking in a broiler pan (either with or without a rack) that runs close under the heat in the broiling oven of a gas or electric stove.

Pan Broiling is cooking in a hot griddle or pan greased only enough to prevent food from sticking.

Baking is cooking in the oven. The temperature of baking varies with the food to be prepared. A slow oven should be from 250° F. to 350° F. A moderate oven should be from 350° F. to 400° F. A hot oven should be from 400° F. to 450° F. A very hot oven should be from 450° F. to 550° F.

Poaching is cooking, for a short time, foods such as eggs or fish or mixtures of these foods, in water, milk, or stock, just below the boiling temperature.

Oven Poaching is cooking in the oven in a dish set in hot water. The method is used for custards, soufflés, and other egg mixtures of delicate texture which are cooked in the oven.

Roasting as now used means the same as baking. Originally it meant cooking before an open fire and was similar to broiling.

Frying is cooking in hot fat at a temperature of from 350° F. to 400° F., depending on the nature of the food to be cooked. The article to be cooked is immersed in the fat.

Sautéing is cooking in a small quantity of fat. The article to be cooked must be shifted from side to side to come in contact with the fat. Sautéing is a cross between pan broiling and frying.

Braizing is a combination of stewing or steaming with baking. The food to be braized is first stewed or steamed and then baked.

Fricasseeing is a combination of sautéing with stewing or steaming. The food to be fricassee is first sautéed, then stewed or steamed.
Fireless Cooking is cooking by heat that has been retained in a fireless cooker or insulated oven. It is accomplished by surrounding the thoroughly heated food with some insulating material to keep the heat from being lost rapidly.

Methods of Mixing Food

Stirring—Food is stirred by a rotary motion of the arm. The purpose of stirring is to mix thoroughly all ingredients.

Beating—Food is beaten when the motion in mixing brings the contents at the bottom of the bowl to the top and there is a continual turning over and over of a considerable part of the contents of the bowl. The purpose of beating is to enclose a large amount of air.

Folding In—Two foods are blended by putting the spoon or egg-whip vertically down through the foods, turning it under the mass, and bringing it vertically up. This process is repeated until the mixing is complete. The purpose of folding in is to prevent the escape of air or gases that have already been introduced into the mixture.

Cutting in—A process used to blend fat with flour. It consists of cutting the fat into the flour with a knife or two knives until it is distributed in as small particles as desired.

Creaming—A rubbing together of fat and sugar, or a pressing and beating of fat to soften it.

Kneading—A stretching motion applied to dough when more flour is to be added than can be either stirred or beaten into the mixture; or used to make a dough smooth and even in consistency.

Larding—A process of inserting match-like strips of salt pork about one-fourth inch in thickness into a dry meat or fish. These strips are called lardons, and are inserted either by making an incision in the surface and laying the lardon in the slashing or by the use of a larding-needle. The pork is clamped into one end of the needle and is threaded into the meat, as in any sewing process.

COOKING BY TEMPERATURE

For best results in cooking, exact temperatures should be known and followed. This requires the use of thermometers.
such as an oven thermometer or an oven-heat regulator for all sorts of baking, and special thermometers for sugar cookery, deep-fat frying, and roasting meats.

Automatic Mechanical Oven-Heat Regulators which control temperature automatically by regulating the supply of heat are available in both gas and electric ranges. These are of great assistance alike to the experienced cook who would always obtain the same results with a given recipe and to the beginner who has nothing to guide her in estimating the length of time required to get the slow, moderate and hot stages in her oven.

Heat Regulators or Temperature Controls must always be built into a gas range at the factory, and they must usually be built into electric ranges. For both types of stove they may be set to control a desired temperature automatically. Once set, they will maintain the temperature to within a few degrees Fahrenheit of that indicated, for an indefinite period.

Time Controls are now quite common on modern ranges and even on fireless cookers, and, in combination with the temperature controls, they are almost uncanny, for they will turn heat on at a definite time and off again at another specified moment. This makes it possible to put a meal in the oven or cooker in the morning and leave it with the assurance that it will start to cook at five o'clock in the afternoon and that the heat will be turned off again at five forty-five. As today's ovens and cookers are thoroughly insulated, the heat retained in the oven wall and in the food will complete the cooking. Moreover, since they are cooking on a decreasing heat, there is little or no danger of burning food, even if you should be delayed beyond the time when you planned to return.

Thermometers That Can be Set in the Oven may be used where an oven heat regulator is not available. A small flash light is useful for reading them in a dark oven.

Other Thermometers may be bought for candy and frosting, for deep fat frying, and for roasting meats. The cost of these thermometers is not large and they will soon pay for themselves in saving of time and food.

If These Devices Are Not Available the next best thing is to seek to develop delicacy of feeling and knowledge of practical tests which will detect differences in temperatures. This, of course, comes only with experience.

Note Explaining the Use of Figures in the Following Tables.
When two degrees of temperature or two periods of time are given, separated by a dash, (e.g. 350—375 or 30—40) it means that the temperature of the cooking medium or the length of the cooking period may range between these two extremes.

When the temperature figures are separated by the word “to” (e.g. 400 to 350) it means that cooking is to be started at the temperature first given and that the heat is afterward to be reduced to the second figure.

BAKED

To bake loaves of yeast bread, heat the oven to the higher temperature given, and leave it at this degree for about fifteen minutes. Then reduce it to the lower figure for the remainder of the baking period. See table of oven temperatures above.

TABLE III

MEAT, POULTRY AND FISH
ROASTED

For table of oven temperatures, see page 5

The number of minutes per pound which a roast requires for cooking at a given temperature is only an approximation. The accurate way of determining doneness is by the internal temperature shown on the meat thermometer inserted into the roast.

All boned cuts require longer cooking time than those with the bones left in. Allow about 10 minutes per pound longer for cooking boned cuts.

Many hams now on the market require shorter cooking time. For these hams, follow directions given with them.

If one wishes to sear meat, the oven may be preheated (450°-475° F.) and the meat placed in the hot oven for 10 or 15 minutes, then the temperature reduced quickly to 300° F. for the rest of the cooking period. Searing, however, does not keep in juices. The constant low temperature method is preferred.

Periods Required for Waterless Cookery of Vegetables

The time required for waterless cookery varies somewhat with the age of the vegetable and the size of the pieces into which it is cut. It is generally safe to allow the maximum period given in the preceding tables, if the vegetables are young. For old, fully matured vegetables, increase the time from ten to twenty minutes.

MEASUREMENTS

Learn to Measure Accurately—All the measurements in this book, and in most modern cook-books and magazines, are level. It will not do to use a heaping teaspoon, tablespoon or cup when a level one is meant. To change proportions by wrong measuring causes poor results, for example:

Too much flour will make a cake dry and crumbly, bread solid and heavy, sauces thick and pasty.
Too much fat will make cakes oily and may cause them to fall; it will make grease-soaked doughnuts and greasy gravies and sauces.
Too much sugar will make a cake with a hard crust, or a sticky cake; it makes a soft, sticky jelly.
Too much liquid will make a cake that falls easily.
Too much soda gives a disagreeable taste and bad color to breads and cakes.

Have Accurate Equipment for Measuring, as follows:
A measuring-cup holding one-fourth quart and divided by ridges on one side into thirds and on the other side into fourths.
A quart measure divided by ridges into fourths. Each fourth is a cupful.
A standard tablespoon that holds one-sixteenth of a cup.
A standard teaspoon that holds one-third of a tablespoon.
A tested scale.

To Measure Dry Material—Fill the cup, spoon or other measure to overflowing, then pass a spatula or the straight edge of a knife over the top, leveling the material. For an accurate half-teaspoon or tablespoon of dry material, fill spoon as above, then, owing to the difference in capacity of the tip and bowl of the spoon, divide the material in half lengthwise.

To Measure Fat—An easy and accurate way to measure solid fat is by means of water. For instance, to measure \( \frac{1}{3} \) cup of solid shortening, fill a standard measuring cup \( \frac{3}{4} \) full of cold water, then drop in pieces of the shortening, pushing them under the water until the water level reaches the one-cupful mark. If \( \frac{1}{2} \) cup shortening is called for in the recipe, fill the cup one-half full of water, and so on for any quantity desired.
Another accurate method especially recommended for small quantities, is to pack the shortening into a standard measuring spoon and level off evenly with the straight edge of a knife.

To Measure Liquids—Fill the measure with all it will hold.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT STARCH

Some of the foods which are used most frequently are rich in starch; for instance:

Flour—White, whole wheat, graham, buckwheat, rice, corn, rye, barley.

Vegetables—Potatoes, sweet potatoes.

Legumes—Dried peas, dried beans, lentils.

Breakfast Foods—Wheat, oat, corn-meal, rice, barley.

Miscellaneous—Chocolate, cocoa, macaroni, vermicelli, spaghetti, corn-starch, tapioca, sago, chestnuts.

Starch-rich Foods Must be Cooked Thoroughly if they are to have fine flavor and be easily digested. This is because starch occurs in foods in the form of tiny, hard, dry grains which are not soluble in cold water and which are difficult for the digestive juices to act upon. When starch is cooked, it is easy to digest and much improved in flavor, because cooking changes the form of the starch.

When Starch is Cooked in Liquid, the heat causes the starch grain to absorb liquid, swell and soften. When flour or corn-starch or any other finely divided meal is cooked in a liquid, it thickens the liquid.

When Starch is Cooked by Dry Heat, that is, with very little moisture, the heat, unless it is great enough to burn the starch, breaks down the starch grain and changes the starch to a substance called dextrin. Dextrin does not thicken liquid, but, like starch cooked in water, it has a better flavor and is easier to digest than raw starch.

The baking of a loaf of bread illustrates both these changes. The starch in the dough in the inside of the loaf absorbs the water used in making the dough and swells and softens. The water in the dough on the outside of the loaf evaporates and the starch in the outer layers of dough is partly changed to dextrin. As a result, the crust has more flavor and is sweeter than the crumb, and has a different texture.

In baking a potato, the water for cooking the starch is supplied by the potato itself.

Points to be Observed in Cooking Starch-rich Foods

1. Use enough water to soften all the starch present. This is especially important in cooking breakfast foods.

2. Cook them for a long enough time to swell and soften the starch. A temperature as high as the boiling-point of water, 212° F., is best for this cooking.

3. When flour or finely ground meal is to be mixed with a hot liquid, separate the particles before they reach the hot liquid, or gummy lumps with raw centers will be formed. This separation of the particles of flour or meal can be accomplished by mixing the flour or meal with enough cold liquid to make a mixture as thin as cream, or by combining them with sugar or with fat before mixing them with the hot liquid. Lumpy gravies, sauces, mushes and puddings are caused by a failure to observe these precautions.

4. A double boiler is the best utensil to use in cooking cereals, mushes and starchy sauces because it does away with the danger of sticking and burning. The water in the lower part of the boiler should be boiling.

Thickening Power of Flour or Corn-starch

This is one of the most important things for a good cook to know. If the cook can tell how much flour or corn-starch to use to make sauces or pastes of any desired thickness, and knows how to mix and cook these sauces and pastes to make them smooth, velvety and fine in flavor, he or she has learned one of the hardest cooking lessons and is in possession of information that will help in making a great variety of dishes.

WITH EACH CUP OF LIQUID:

- \( \frac{1}{2} \) tablespoon flour or \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon corn-starch
  - Makes a very thin sauce, which may be used in making thin cream soups.
  - Makes a thin sauce, which may be used in making cream soups of average thickness.

- 1 tablespoon flour or 1 teaspoon corn-starch
  - Makes a medium sauce, which may be used for creamed meats or vegetables, scalloped dishes, gravies or other sauces where a medium thickness is desired. It has about the thickness of heavy cream.

- 2 tablespoons flour or 2 teaspoons corn-starch
  - Makes a thick sauce, which may be used for creamed meats or vegetables, scalloped dishes, gravies or sauces where a thick sauce is desired. A sauce containing this amount of flour has considerable body and spreads rather than runs.

- 4 tablespoons flour or 4 teaspoons corn-starch
  - Makes a paste when cold. This sauce may be used in making mixtures for croquettes, soufflés, blanc manges and similar puddings.

WHEN THE LIQUID USED IS MILK, use a little more milk or a little less starch than for a water sauce, because milk already contains about 12 per cent. solids.

WHEN THE LIQUID USED IS ACID, as vinegar, a fruit-juice or tomatoes, the hot acid acts on the starch and gradually changes it, just as dry heat does, to dextrin. Dextrin has not the thickening power of starch. Therefore, when an acid liquid is to be thickened, more of the thickening agent may be needed, and the time for cooking may be shortened. No statement can be made as to exact differences because acids differ greatly in strength.

WHEN THE FLOUR IS BROWNED, the dry heat changes part of the starch to dextrin and the flour may lose a considerable part of its thickening power. Either more browned flour must be used than uncooked flour or browned flour may be used for color and uncooked flour for thickening.

Corn-starch Requires Longer Cooking Than Flour, and a quickly cooked corn-starch mixture always has a raw taste.

If a Sauce is Too Thick, it can be thinned without trouble by adding more liquid.

If a Sauce is Too Thin, it must be thickened by adding more of the thickening agent and by recooking it. A starchy sauce or a cream soup is always thinner when hot than when cold. Even the amount of cooling which occurs in transferring a starchy sauce, gravy or soup from the cooking utensil to the serving dish perceptibly thickens it. This must be taken into account in making creamed dishes of various kinds.

If a Sauce is Lumpy, because proper precautions have not been taken in mixing and cooking the thickening agent with the liquid, the sauce should be strained; but such a sauce never has the creamy, smooth texture of a well-made one.

Methods of Combining Flour or Corn-starch with Liquids

When Little or No Fat is Used—Heat three-fourths of the liquid. Stir the remainder of the liquid gradually into the thickening agent. If sugar is used it may be mixed with the thickening agent before the liquid is stirred in or added to the sauce after the thickening is completed. Stir into the thickening agent at first only enough of the cold liquid to make a thick batter. Beat this batter until smooth and free from lumps, then add the rest of the cold liquid. The mixture should be about as thick as medium cream. Beat this gradually into the hot liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture is thickened. If fat is used, it may be added at this time. After thickening, the sauce may be cooked in a covered double boiler with occasional stirring.

When Amount of Fat Equals or Exceeds Amount of Thickening Agent—Melt the fat, add the flour or corn-starch and cook, stirring constantly, until thoroughly blended. This is called a roux. Stir in the liquid, a little at first, then immediately enough to thin the roux perceptibly and finally the remainder. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Complete cooking in a double boiler, stirring occasionally.

Or

Heat the liquid; cream together the fat and thickening agent;
add this modification of roux to the hot liquid and stir constantly while the fat melts and the particles of flour or cornstarch are being spread through the liquid and cooked. Complete cooking in a double boiler, stirring occasionally.

Dishes That Have a Sauce Foundation

A variety of dishes can be made by a person who is familiar with the thickening power of flour and corn-starch and with methods of combining them into sauces. There are two foundation sauces:

A White Sauce is one made from milk or white stock or part of each, thickened with plain flour or corn-starch.

A Brown Sauce is one made from milk or water or brown stock and thickened with browned flour or part browned and part plain flour or corn-starch.

The following typical dishes have a sauce foundation:

Cheese Sauce—To each cup white sauce of desired consistency, add ¼ cup shaved, grated or crumbled cheese and stir until cheese is melted.

Cream Soups, Purées and Bisques—To each cup of very thin or thin white sauce, add 2 cups of vegetable, meat or fish pulp.

Creamed Dishes—To each cup of medium or medium to thick white sauce, add 1 to 1½ cups vegetables, meat, fish or hard-cooked eggs cut in pieces.

Scalloped Dishes—To each cup of medium to thick white sauce, add 1 to 2 cups cooked vegetables, meat, fish, hard-cooked eggs, cooked macaroni or rice; put into a baking dish, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

Croquette Mixtures—The foundation of most croquettes is white sauce or brown sauce. When this type of croquette is made, to each cup of very thick sauce use 1 to 2 cups of finely divided cooked meat, fish, hard-cooked eggs or vegetables.
When the mixture is cold, it will easily shape into croquettes.

Soufflé Mixtures—Many soufflés are made from a foundation of thick or very thick white sauce to which is added some seasoning or flavor such as cheese, vanilla, sugar, or some chopped food and raw egg-yolk. Beaten egg-white is folded in and the mixture is ready to pour into a baking-dish. All soufflés are baked with the containing dish standing in hot water. With a knowledge of white sauce and egg cookery, soufflés are very simple to make. No attempt is being made to give at this point complete directions for making soufflés, but only to show how a knowledge of one part of cooking will help in the making of many dishes and will make the whole problem of cooking simpler and more interesting. The most common soufflés having a white sauce foundation are:

Cheese Soufflé—To each cup of thick to very thick white sauce, add ¼ cup grated cheese, 2 egg-yolks and seasoning. Cook until the cheese is melted. Then fold in the beaten egg-whites, and the soufflé is ready to bake.

Meat or Fish Soufflé—To each cup thick to very thick white sauce add 1 cup minced meat or vegetable, 3 egg-yolks, and the beaten whites of 3 eggs and bake for thirty minutes at 375°F.

Chocolate Soufflé—To each cup thick white sauce, add 2 ounces grated chocolate, ½ cup sugar, and 3 egg-yolks; cook until the chocolate is melted. Fold in the beaten whites of 3 eggs and bake for thirty minutes at 375°F.

Vanilla Soufflé—To each cup very thick white sauce, add ⅓ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 2 to 3 egg-yolks. Fold in beaten whites of 2 to 3 eggs and bake for thirty minutes at 375°F.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT SUGAR

Sugars are useful in cooking (1) because of their flavor, or the effect they have in modifying or intensifying other flavors; (2) because of their texture, or the changes they make in the texture of other foods; (3) because they help in preserving other foods, especially fruits.

Use of Sugar in Flavoring Foods

Sugars Not Equally Sweet—Maple sugar, brown sugar and molasses, weight for weight with white sugar, are a little less sweet than white sugar. Corn sirup or glucose, weight for weight with white sugar, is only about three-fifths as sweet as white sugar and may be used to reduce the sweetness of white sugar. Many persons prefer this modified sweetness.
Foods Taste Sweeter Hot Than Cold—This accounts for differences in the amounts of sugar used in making frozen desserts and other desserts.

Some Sugars Contain Special Flavors, for example: maple sugar, brown sugar, molasses, honey. Sugar Brings out or Modifies Natural Flavors—It makes bitter chocolate and fruit acids more mellow and agreeable in flavor. It brings out flavor in bland foods like cereals, breads, milk and some mild-flavored vegetables.

Ways in Which Sugar Affects Texture of Foods

In Cakes, used in right proportions, sugar helps to make them tender and light. Too much sugar makes cake tough and heavy.

In Breads, used in right proportions, sugar helps to make them light. Too much sugar makes bread coarse in texture.

With Fruit Juices, used in right proportions, makes fruit-juice jelly. Too much sugar makes jelly “wine off” and makes it soft and sticky in texture. Too little sugar necessitates overcooking, impairs flavor and gives a tough texture.

In Beaten Egg White, sugar helps the egg to hold air and remain stiff. Too much sugar makes the egg white flatten out and settle.

Approximate Amounts of Sugar for Various Common Dishes

Ice creams—2 to 4 tablespoons to 1 cup mixture.
Custards (not frozen)—1 to 2 tablespoons to 1 cup milk.
Cakes—One-half as much sugar as flour. In chocolate cakes, three-quarters as much sugar as flour.
Meringues—1 to 5 tablespoons to 1 egg white.
Frostings—1 to 3 cups to 1 egg white.
Breads—1 tablespoon or less to 1 cup flour, if any is used.
Muffins—2 tablespoons or less to 1 cup flour, if any is used.

Caramel

1 cup granulated sugar 1 cup boiling water

Put the sugar into a pan and melt slowly over direct heat. Cook until dark brown, being careful not to scorch. Add the hot water and cook slowly until a thick sirup is formed. (Be sure that the water is hot. Cold water will make the hot sugar spatter.) This will keep indefinitely in a covered glass fruit jar and is a popular flavoring for desserts, soups, meat sauces and confectionery.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT FATS

The cooking and table fats available for use in the modern household range from liquid oils to hard fats. The source may be vegetable, meat, milk or a combination of these.

Cooking and Table Fats Classified as to Use

Fats are often classified as to their use: (1) for table use (2) for shortening, and (3) for frying. Many of them belong to two or all of these groups, while others are limited to one.

Oils—Oils are both salad and cooking fats. As salad oils they are chosen for their flavor and smoothness in salad dressings. Those made of cotton seed, corn and peanut oil—alone or in combination with olive oils—are less expensive than pure olive oil. From the labels, the purchaser will know just which type she is buying.

Oils for shortening are becoming increasingly popular because of their convenience. They are easily measured; they do not need to be creamed or melted.

For frying, particularly deep fat frying, cotton seed and corn oils are practical and inexpensive. They do not smoke and burn easily and, properly cared for, they can be used over and over again.

Solid Shortenings and Cooking Fats—Lard and meat drippings for shortening and cooking date from the time when all fats were prepared in the home.

Lard is solid without being hard to handle in doughs, and has an established reputation for pastry.

Fat from chickens and other poultry is highly prized for cake making.

Bacon, ham and sausage fats are too highly seasoned for any but limited use but are excellent for sautéing any food where their seasoning is desirable.

Drippings are not possible for deep fat frying, because they burn so easily; unless they are clarified and combined, when they become a good mixed fat. They may be used for sautéing or in seasoning.

In the solid vegetable compounds, vegetable oils—cottonseed, corn, and sometimes peanut—are solidified by a special process. This gives certain characteristics of both the original oil and the solid fat, i.e.: they do not smoke or burn except at a high temperature. This makes them desirable for deep fat frying. They do not easily melt which makes pastry making easy in ordinary temperatures.

Butter—Probably butter will never lose its place as the favorite for eating. Its texture and flavor are particularly satisfactory. For certain types of cooking also, it is desirable, notably in sauces, and in some baking where its flavor becomes a part of the flavor of the dish.

Margarines—The nut and oleo margarines are less expensive than butter but are nicely flavored and salted for table use. They should not be considered a substitute but rather another product suitable for the same use as butter. In the manufacture of these products, liquid fat, either of animal or vegetable source, is churned with milk. The oil may be principally olein from meat source, giving the name oleo margarine; or it may be derived from peanuts, coconut or other nuts, making a true vegetable margarine. They are purchased uncolored to distinguish them from butter, but they may be easily colored at home for table use.
Shortening

The term shortening includes fat of any kind that is used in pastry, doughs, and batters. Any clean, sweet fat may be used. The best known and most commonly used are butter, solid vegetable fats, margarine, salad and cooking oil, lard and drippings. In general they may be used interchangeably for "shortening" in a recipe, remembering the difference in flavor, and that since some contain more water than others more fat is needed to give the same shortening quality.

How to Try Out or Render Fat

Every bit of fat from scraps of meat, bacon drippings, roasts, soups and poultry may be made into a mixture useful for general cooking purposes. The scraps should be "tried out" together. The proportion of soft fats to hard fats will usually be enough to make of the whole a good medium fat.

Chop the fat into fine pieces or run it through a meat-grinder. For each pound of fat allow one-half cup of milk. Cook in the top of a double boiler, or in a kettle set over water, until the fat is melted. Strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth laid over a strainer.

Fat may be tried out in exactly the same way without the use of the milk, but milk improves the flavor and texture of the product. Sweet, sour or buttermilk may be used.

If the crisp cracklings left after straining are of good flavor and color they may be substituted for other fats in various dishes, notably in corn-meal and graham-flour mixtures, hashed brown potatoes, corn-meal mush that is to be fried, and any kind of baked hash.

How to Clarify Fat

If fat that has been tried out from scraps and drippings needs to be clarified, let it harden, remove it from the container, scrape away and discard any sediment that has settled in the bottom of the cake and melt it by pouring boiling water over it. Boil this mixture thoroughly, strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth placed over a strainer, and set away to cool. When the fat is cold, remove the solid cake from the liquid. Discard the impurities in the bottom of the cake. If this process is repeated two or three times, a cake of clean fat may be obtained.

If fat acquires, through use, a slightly burned or disagreeable flavor, melt it and for each pound or pint add a medium-sized potato cut in quarter-inch slices. Heat gradually. When the fat ceases to bubble and the potatoes are well browned, strain the fat through several thicknesses of cheesecloth placed over a strainer, and set away to cool. When ready to use, scrape away and discard sediment from bottom of cake. Potato helps to clarify fat as well as to purify it, for the potato is porous and gathers into its pores much of the sediment in the used fat.

How to Care for Fats

Since the four factors that are instrumental in making fat rancid are light, moisture, air and warmth, all fats should be kept in a dark, dry, cool place and as far as possible away from air.

Oils, particularly, are affected by air. If oil is bought in quantity and used a little at a time, it should be transferred from the large container to small ones. Each container should be filled completely full to exclude air, and should be sealed or stoppered. The containers should be kept in a dry, cool place, but not so cold that the contents will congeal. The top shelf of the refrigerator is usually satisfactory.

Deep Fat Frying

Fats for deep fat frying, should be capable of being heated to a high temperature without smoking or burning. Smoking impairs the flavor, the digestibility and the durability of fat. A fat should be capable of being used over and over again, but everytime the fat is used the smoking temperature will become lower, because of the amount of crumbs or other foreign matter which escapes from the food into the fat, unless the fat is always strained carefully after frying and clarified frequently.

Vegetable Fats and Oils are used increasingly for frying. They have high smoking temperatures. They can be used over and over again and are not likely to burn. They absorb practically no odor from the food so can be used for all sorts of foods. They are, perhaps, the best all around fats for general use in frying. See photographs opposite.
When the thermometer says the time has come, lower the food carefully and stand by.

Drain at once and turn onto an unglazed paper.
BANANA FRITTERS CAN BE DONE IN A SHALLOW PAN

WHEN FINISHED, THE FAT CLARIFIED, STRAINER STORED TO BE USED AGAIN.
Olive Oil has a comparatively low smoking temperature. This is partly compensated for, however, by the fact that it produces smoke slowly and the smoke is non-irritating. It has more decided flavor than the other vegetable oils.

Lard must be used with great care to avoid overheating, and must be well clarified after each time of using. It has a rather low smoking temperature, smokes rapidly and produces an irritating smoke. Like all animal fats, it absorbs strong odors from foods.

Utensils for Frying

1. A deep iron bowl or scotch kettle. The bowl has one advantage over the flat-bottomed kettle; the sediment from food sinks into the curve of the bowl and does not adhere to food.

2. A wire basket that fits loosely into the kettle. This is to lift food into and out of the kettle. A skimmer will do this but it is not so convenient.

3. A long-handled spoon or fork to hold the basket out of the fat while the food is draining.

4. A pan large enough to hold the basket while it is being emptied or filled.

5. A large pan lined with soft paper on which to drain the food that has been fried.

6. A thermometer for testing the temperature of the fat.

Directions for Frying

1. Put enough fat into the kettle to submerge to a depth of one or two inches the articles to be fried. Do not fill kettle more than three-fourths full of fat. The fat in an over-full kettle may bubble over and catch fire.

2. Heat fat gradually to the desired temperature, which will be between 300° and 400° Fahrenheit, always, if possible, below the smoking point of the fat.

3. Put only moderate amounts of food into the fat at one time, because (a) when the very hot fat cooks the food it causes the moisture in the food to boil and this vigorous bubbling may cause the fat to bubble over the edge of the kettle, with risk of fire; and (b) too much food may so cool the fat as to delay the cooking and increase absorption of fat thus making a greasy product.
4. When the food is cooked to the desired brown color, remove at once, drain over the kettle for a few seconds, then place on soft paper to finish draining.

5. After frying is completed, let fat cool until it is safe to handle, then strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth placed over a strainer. Clarify it frequently, after each time of using, if possible, as it will lengthen the lifetime of the fat.

If fat used in frying is not overheated, and if it is frequently clarified, it may be used over and over again, even if the smoking temperature is comparatively low.

If fish is well egged and crumbed before being fried, it will not seriously flavor the fat in which it is fried and the fat is then useful for frying foods other than fish.

Testing Fat for Frying

Fats should never be brought to the smoking point as a test of heat. Use a thermometer or drop into the fat a one-inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf. Judge the heat of the fat by the length of time it takes the bread to brown.

1. If the fat is the right temperature for large pieces of raw food—breaded chops, etc.,—(350°-375° F.) it will take from 1 to 1 1/4 minutes, for bread to brown.

2. If the fat is the right temperature for smaller pieces of raw food or raw batters and doughs (360°-390° F.) the piece of bread will brown in 50 to 60 seconds.

3. If the fat is the right temperature for most cooked foods—croquettes, fish balls, etc., (375° to 390° F.) the bread will brown in 40 to 50 seconds.

Have the Right Temperature in Frying—If fat is too hot, it scorches the food, or does not cook it through, or spoils the fat. If it is too cool, the food becomes soaked with fat. Fats of low smoking temperature will naturally soak into food a little more than fats of high smoking temperature, because the food must remain longer in the fat.

Egging and Crumbing Foods for Frying

Except in the case of foods like doughnuts, fritters, potatoes and fried breads, foods are ordinarily either egged and crumbed or dipped in an egg batter before being fried. This is because the egg or egg batter hardens in the hot fat, making a case about the food which keeps it from becoming fat soaked.
For crumbing, use dried bread crumbs rolled and sifted or soft crumbs forced through a strainer.

Break an egg into a shallow plate and beat it with a fork only enough to mix the yolk and white and not enough to beat air into it. Blend into the mixed egg two tablespoons water for each egg.

Place some crumbs on a board. Roll the food to be fried in the crumbs, covering all parts with crumbs.

Dip the crumb-covered food into the egg bath, being careful to cover every part with egg.

Lift food from egg with broad-bladed knife and roll again in crumbs.

Let stand a few moments to dry. The food is then ready for frying. Foods may be egged and crumbed several hours or even a day before being fried.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT EGGS

Eggs Help to Bind Foods Together

Eggs Bind Fats and Liquids Together—Fats and liquids mixed together tend to separate very quickly. When egg is added to this mixture, it is possible, under right conditions, to secure a very intimate mixing of the fat and liquid. The best known household illustration of this is the combination of oil, vinegar and egg in mayonnaise dressing, which produces mixture that will keep for a long time. In the case of French dressing, the oil and acid can often be held together for an hour or longer if a small amount of egg-white is added.

Eggs Help to Combine Ingredients in Batter and Dough—Although many batter and dough mixtures, such as cakes, muffins, pancakes; and breads, may be and often are made without egg, the use of egg materially improves them. Egg brings about a very intimate mixing of fat and liquid not only with each other but also with the other ingredients present. This gives the product fineness of grain, particularly in mixtures containing fat; and increases its lightness of texture. Cake, fancy yeast breads, such as zwieback, brioche, rusks and fancy rolls, and quick breads, such as delicate muffins, owe a part of their delicacy of texture to the presence of eggs in the mixture.

Egg Increases Power of Batter or Dough to Hold Fat—By causing a more intimate mixing of fat with other ingredients, the egg in a batter and dough mixture will permit the addition of more fat. If a cake is so rich that it has a tendency to fall, the addition of another egg may cure the difficulty. If it is not rich enough, yet falls when more fat is added, putting in another egg permits the use of more fat. If richer muffins are desired, the same rule holds good; eggs as well as fat may need to be added if the product is to retain its lightness. In fancy yeast breads such as zwieback, brioche, rusks and fancy rolls, the large amount of fat present does not reduce the lightness of the mixture, in part at least because of the effects of the egg present.

Egg Increases Power of Batter or Dough to Hold Liquid—Egg causes the liquid to be distributed in smaller particles throughout a batter and dough mixture. This makes it possible for the mixture to hold more liquid, without interfering with its lightness, than it could hold if the eggs were absent. Therefore, a bread or cake dough made with egg can be made softer than one in which egg is not used. This adds to the delicacy of the product. The popover is the most interesting illustration of a batter that is very light in spite of the large amount of liquid present.

Eggs Help to Give Lightness and Looseness of Texture

This property is due to the presence in egg of a tenacious, gluelike or viscous substance called albumin. Albumin has the power of holding air beaten into it, or gases formed in the mixture containing it, and of stretching as a result of this.

Air-Holding Power of Egg Reduced by Fat—Egg-yolk is very rich in fat. This is the reason that egg-white is better than the yolk for giving lightness and looseness of texture, and accounts for the direction, familiar to every housekeeper, not to permit any of the yolk to escape into the white when separating eggs, if the white is to be beaten stiff. In cakes in which the air-holding quality of egg-white needs to be used to greatest advantage, the egg-white is beaten alone and is folded lightly into the mixture at the last minute, so that the fat in the mixture may not reduce its viscosity.

Air-Holding Power of Egg Increased by Sugar—In limited amounts sugar increases the tenacity or viscous properties of egg. This fact is interestingly illustrated in cakes, where the addition of sugar, within limits, increases the lightness of the
When sugar is added to beaten egg-white, in limited amounts, it increases the air-holding property of the egg, and the meringue is lighter than the beaten egg alone. When the sugar is added to unbeaten egg-white, in limited amounts, and the two are beaten together, not only can the product be made very light but a meringue made in this way holds the air for a much longer time than when it is made by beating the egg first.

Eggs Thicken Liquids, Making Custards

The value of eggs in custard making is due to the fact that raw eggs are fluid and readily mix with water or milk. When the mixture containing the egg is heated, the particles of egg become solid and the liquid is thus thickened.

Proportion of Egg to Liquid in Custard Mixtures

| 1 cup liquid | Makes a mixture that has sufficient body to bake in small cups or for a medium thick soft custard. |
| 1 whole egg or 2 egg-yolks |
| 1 cup liquid | Makes a mixture that has sufficient body to bake in a large baking-dish and hold its form while in the dish; or, when baked in small cups, to retain the form of the cup when turned into another dish. Good foundation for ice-cream if less than one-fourth to one-half its bulk of cream is to be used. |
| 1½ whole egg or 3 egg-yolks |
| 1 cup liquid | Makes a mixture that has sufficient body, when baked in a large baking-dish, to hold the form of the dish when turned into another dish. Good foundation for frozen custard where no cream is used. Good foundation for salad dressings. |
| 2 whole eggs or 1 whole egg and 2 egg-yolks |

Effects of Temperature on Eggs

The texture of eggs cooked alone or in custard mixtures is directly affected by the temperatures at which they are cooked.

Cooked at 180° to 200° Fahrenheit (below the boiling-point of water), the egg-white is firm but delicate and very tender and friable or easily broken apart. The egg-yolk is tender and salve-like.

Cooked at 212° Fahrenheit (at the boiling-point of water), the egg-white is firm, but somewhat tough. The egg-yolk is mealy.

Cooked at 350° to 400° Fahrenheit (the temperature of fat hot enough for frying), the egg-white is leathery where touched by the fat, and the yolk is leathery where touched by the fat.

Why Custards Whey or Curdle

Custards usually whey or separate or curdle because they are cooked at too high a temperature or too long a time. Milk that is a little sour may cause curdling of a custard.

The best way to prevent wheying, separating or curdling is to regulate the temperature and time of cooking all custards by cooking them over or surrounded by water slightly below the boiling-point, by removing them from the heat when they are done, and by being sure that milk used in making them is entirely sweet.

If a soft custard begins to whey, separate, or, as it is usually called in this case, curdle, it should be removed immediately from the heat. The pan containing it may be set into a pan of cold water, and the custard may be beaten vigorously to redistribute the particles of egg and milk solids.

Precautions For Custards Made With Acids—If a soft custard mixture is to be made with vinegar or acid juices, such as lemon-juice or tomato-juice, the custard should be removed from the heat the minute the mixture begins to thicken. Hot acid coagulates egg and then very soon begins to digest it. This process makes it thin instead of thick. If an acid custard mixture has become thinned by cooking it for a minute too long, it must be thickened by adding more egg or by thickening it with flour, following the directions for starchy sauces. Custards made with acid require more egg than other custards to secure the same degree of thickness.

Directions For Mixing and Cooking Custards

Scald the liquid. This saves time in making all custards.

Thoroughly mix eggs, seasoning (as salt), and flavoring (as sugar) by stirring but not by beating.

Gradually add hot liquid to egg mixture.

For Firm Custards, pour custard mixture into baking-dish, set baking-dish in pan of hot water and cook in slow oven (300°-350° F.) or in a steamer at 180° to 200° F. until firm, keeping water in pan constantly below the boiling-point. The custard is done when the blade of a knife run into the center of the custard comes out clean.
For Soft Custards, cook in top of double boiler, keeping the water in the lower part constantly at 180° to 200° F. or just below the boiling-point. Stir constantly until the mixture stops frothing, coats the spoon, and has the thickness of cream. Remove at once.

Always cook custard mixtures over hot water or surrounded by hot water.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT MILK

The value of milk in the daily meals is so great that every effort should be made to extend its use in cooking.

Whole Fresh or Pasteurized Milk need hardly be discussed since all homemakers are familiar with its use. Vitamin D Milk is a new form carrying an increased content of this vitamin. It is desirable, however, to describe other forms of milk which today play a prominent role in up-to-date kitchens.

Evaporated Milk is the most important of these. It is whole milk concentrated to double richness by evaporating part of the natural water content. No sugar is added. Evaporated milk has all the nutritive value of whole milk. When irradiated it carries an increased content of Vitamin D. It is an especially suitable food for babies.

For cooking, where whole milk is called for, an equal amount of water should be added to evaporated milk. In place of cream, it is used undiluted. Because this milk is homogenized, reducing the butterfat globules to tiniest particles, it produces excellent results in making cream soups, sauces, and other dishes where a fine, smooth consistency is desired.

Dry Milk made by evaporating all water leaves the milk solids in powdered form with the food value of pasteurized milk.

Condensed Milk, which contains a large amount of added sugar, is used for making some desserts.

Skim Milk may be used in cooking, but the fact must be remembered that the fat removed has carried with it important vitamins which must be returned as butter and cream.

Buttermilk, produced when the fat is removed as butter, is similarly deficient although valuable for its lactic acid.

Sour Milk is often needed for the invalid, for cooking or baking. It can be made from fresh milk by the addition of 2 tablespoons white vinegar or lemon juice to each pint of milk. Allow to stand in a fairly warm place at room temperature for one-half hour, then return to refrigerator. The same proportions obtain for evaporated or irradiated evaporated milk after it has been diluted one-half according to directions. In baking, use one-half teaspoon soda for every cup of sour milk or cream.

For Sour Cream add one tablespoon white vinegar or lemon juice to one cup cream or each cup evaporated or irradiated evaporated milk as it comes from the can.

TO PASTEURIZE MILK

If there is any question about the cleanliness of fresh milk to be used for drinking, it should be pasteurized or boiled. Infants or small children should never be fed any milk about which there is the slightest doubt.

FLASH Process—Put it into a covered container set over hot water. Heat until the milk reaches a temperature of 160° to 165° F. Hold at this temperature for one-half to one minute. Cool as quickly as possible and keep in a cold place.

HOLDING Process—Heat until milk reaches 140° to 150° F. Hold at this temperature for about 30 minutes.

Pasteurized milk, if kept too long, is apt to putrefy instead of becoming sour. If any pasteurized milk is left over and there is danger of its spoiling before it can be used, it may be mixed with a little sour milk and set in a warm place until it all becomes sour. Sour milk may be kept for some days.

TO BOIL MILK

FLASH Method—Put it into a shallow pan and cook quickly over direct heat so that the milk is brought as rapidly as possible to the boiling-point. Stir constantly to prevent scorching, making the figure eight with the spoon, as this brings the spoon the greatest number of times in contact with the part of the kettle receiving the most heat.

When the milk has boiled up once, remove from the fire and cool as rapidly as possible.
THE MACHINE BEATS TIME AS WELL AS BATTER WHILE YOU SUPPLY THE BRAIN THAT MAKES THE CAKE.
A little lemon does the trick when you're whipping milk or cream into shape.

—Irradiated Evaporated Milk Institute
Milk boiled by this rapid method is believed to be less affected in nutritive value than pasteurized milk.
Boiled milk, like pasteurized milk, spoils rather than sours.

TO WHIP CREAM

To whip easily cream must be thick. This requires that it must contain not less than 20 per cent butter fat. Best results are obtained when it contains 25 to 40 per cent butter fat.

Fresh cream does not whip well even when it contains more than 20 per cent butter fat. This is because lactic acid is produced as cream ages, and the acid thickens the cream. The addition of one-half teaspoon commercial lactic acid to each pint of cream will do the same thing that is accomplished by twelve to twenty-four hours standing.

Warm cream will not whip well because warmth thins cream. As cream is chilled, the fat congeals and the cream thickens. Cream set on the ice for two hours will whip easily, if it is rich enough and old enough. The best temperature for whipping cream is between 35° and 50° Fahrenheit. Cream is doubled in bulk after whipping.

TO WHIP EVAPORATED MILK

Milk, bowl and beater should be thoroughly chilled to about 40° F. If the milk fails to whip, it is not cold enough. Scalding the milk prior to chilling causes it to whip a little more readily and somewhat stiffer, but scalding is not absolutely necessary. To scald the milk, cover the unopened cans with cold water. Bring water to a boil and continue boiling for five minutes.

Lemon juice can be added for even greater and "permanent" stiffness, when the lemon flavor is suitable to the food with which the whipped milk is to be combined. When lemon juice is used, first whip the milk until stiff. Then add two tablespoons of lemon juice for every cup of milk. Continue whipping long enough to blend in the lemon juice.

Evaporated milk has only about one-fifth of the amount of fat contained in whipping cream. Instead, it has a much greater content of whole milk solids. For that reason it is an ideal ingredient for a dessert which completes an already rich meal.

HOW TO BUY FOOD

THOUGHT should be given to the expenditure of the money allotted to food, as a balanced diet, so necessary to health, depends on the wise apportionment of that allowance. The following rules apply to the average healthy family; they may be modified by each housewife to meet her own special needs.

Milk

Spend as much for milk as is necessary to secure for each child three-quarters of a quart to a quart of milk a day and for every one else in the family from one-third to one-half quart of milk a day. If you can not afford whole milk, buy skim milk for the children. Cheese may replace a part of the milk for adults if they prefer it. Two ounces of cheese may be substituted for about one-third of a quart of milk.

Fruits and Vegetables

It is desirable to include fruit twice a day. Use fresh fruits in the height of their season. When they are cheapest, preserve them for winter use. Dried fruits, such as prunes, apricots, peaches and raisins, can always be bought in the markets and are probably the most inexpensive of all fruits. Oranges are particularly wholesome and should be used as often as possible unless replaced by tomatoes.

Women and little children will eat about two average potatoes and ¼ lb. other vegetables daily. Adolescents and men at hard work can eat two to three times that amount.

Cereals

Buy cereals in variety. Be sure to include a generous proportion of cereals made from the whole grain. These contain elements of nutrition that are lost when the outer coat is removed, and also furnish part of the necessary roughage in the diet. Such cereals are especially desirable when it is difficult to use as great a quantity of vegetables and fruits as these rules call for.
Fat

For each grown person, every day, buy at least one and one-half ounces of fat (butter, cooking fat, cream, fat from meat, etc.). For children buy at least one-half as much, unless the child is getting a quart of whole milk daily; in that case, he is getting a large part of his fat allowance in the milk.

Meat and Other Protein Food

Ordinarily, do not try to serve flesh foods (meat, fish, and poultry) more than once a day. Milk, eggs, and cheese supply a desirable quality of protein or muscle-building foods and may be served instead of meat. The more milk one has, the less meat he needs. Peas, beans and cereals can not replace the high-quality protein found in meat, eggs, milk and cheese, but they have great value in supplementing the animal proteins. If they are used instead of meat, some milk, eggs or cheese should be included in the meal. The weekly allowance of meat foods need not be higher than one and three-quarters pounds for each person in the family, in order to furnish appetizing meals. This means an average daily portion of not more than a quarter of a pound.

A child under four or five years of age is well off without any meat at all. If he has an egg every day in addition to his three-fourths of a quart or quart of milk allowance, he will get adequate protein food.

A child four or five years old may have a little meat-food in addition to his milk allowance. He should have no more than a small serving (an ounce or less) each day of lean beef, mutton, lamb, chicken, lean fish or oysters.

Sweets

Buy only moderate amounts of sugar, molasses, honey or sirup.

How to Select Canned and Package Goods

If the average household is to be supplied with the vegetables and fruits needed in the abundance recommended in this book, some provision must be made to have a supply on hand during the months when fresh products are not available. In some households, these will be stored, canned, or otherwise preserved at home. In others, they must be purchased fresh from the market or bought in preserved form from the dealer.

It would be a profitable thing for every housewife to learn sizes in canned goods and demand certain standards. She should keep a record of good and poor grades so that she may ask for the quality she prefers. Canned goods that are used frequently should be purchased in case lots, as a wholesale or reduced price can be obtained in that way.

The canneries have the sizes of cans well standardized and the housewife will find it to her advantage to know the common sizes. The following list gives the size of the can by number together with an approximate estimate of its contents:

Standard Sizes in Cans and What They Contain

No. ¼ cans—sardines, potted meats such as deviled ham, condensed milk—contain 4 to 4½ oz.; approximately ½ cup.

No. ½ cans—shrimp, lobster, salmon, pimiento, condensed milk—contain 7½ to 8 oz.; approximately 1 cup.

No. 1 cans (short or small)—tunafish, canned soup, milk, boned meats such as chicken—contain 10 to 13 oz.; approximately 1¾ cups.

No. 1 cans (tall or square)—salmon, asparagus tips—contain 1 lb.; approximately 2 cups.

No. 2 cans—vegetables such as peas, corn, beans and some fruits, such as pineapple and berries—contain 1 lb. 4 oz.; approximately 2½ to 3 cups.

No. 2½ cans—fruits such as pineapple, peaches, pears, plums, berries; also many vegetables, such as beets, asparagus stalks in square tins, spinach—contain 1 lb. 14 oz. to 1 lb. 15 oz.; approximately 3½ cups.

No. 3 cans—tomatoes, beets, sauerkraut, pumpkin and fruits—contain 2 lbs. to 2 lbs. 1 oz.; approximately 4 cups.

No. 10 cans—mince-meat, apple sauce, marmalades, jams; pickles, sauerkraut, baked beans, corn on cob, in fact, nearly all canned goods for large quantity use—contain 6 lbs. 8 oz. to 7 lbs. and over for fruits and vegetables and 7 lbs. 8 oz. to 8 lbs. 12 oz. for marmalades and jams. Approximately 3½ quarts.

While the size of can is standardized, there is a variation in weights of cans put up by different canneries. This difference in weight is probably due to a more solid pack or a greater density in sirup content in the heavier cans and, this being the case, the housewife should know not only the number but also the weight she can expect in a can of any given size.

SCALE IN FEET
TODAY the modern woman carefully plans her meals. She realizes that meals must appeal to the appetite and to the eye, but what is more important, they must be properly balanced to build healthy bodies, to stimulate vigor and energy, and to build up resistance against the elements and disease. The modern woman, in preparing a food budget, knows that bulky foods are essential, but not any more or less than the powerful, natural chemicals which we know today as vitamins. The modern woman has learned to distinguish between vitamins and calories. She knows that vitamins have to do with the chemical properties of many kinds of food, supplying the resistance-building and life-giving properties we shall discuss shortly at greater length. Calories, on the other hand, are units of heat formed during digestion of many foods and varying in a remarkable degree with the kinds of food eaten. Fresh vegetables and fruits provide little heat when digested and hence are said to be “low in calories,” while fats, starches and sugars produce a high degree of heat and so are called “high calorie foods.” When more of these are eaten than can be used up as energy, the remainder is deposited as fat. That is why we gain weight by eating foods of high caloric content and lose when their amount is reduced.

WHAT TO BUY TO BUILD HEALTHFUL MENUS

The food dollar will be used to advantage and serve all its necessary purposes, if it is divided into five, spent and served as follows:

One-Fifth or more for whole milk, cream, cheese and cod-liver oil for growing children. Plan to give each child 1 quart and each adult at least 1 pint of milk in some form, per day.

One-Fifth for vegetables and fruit, with emphasis on the green leaf and yellow fruits and vegetables. Serve at least 1 cooked vegetable, besides potatoes, and 1 fresh vegetable each day. Serve fresh fruit twice a day, with citrus fruit at least once.

One-Fifth or less for meats, fish and eggs, serving liver in some form at least once a week.

One-Fifth for breads and cereals, especially the whole grains.

One-Fifth for fats, sugar and other groceries.
WHAT FOOD MATERIALS DO FOR THE BODY

The healthy body is built and maintained by:

Protein—helps make flesh and blood
Calcium—for bone, teeth, glands, nerve and muscle
Phosphorus—for bones, teeth, glands, muscle and nerve Iron—with Copper and Manganese to help make blood
Iodine—for the functioning of the thyroid gland
Fat—heat, energy and padding for nerve and muscle
Sugars and Starches—supply heat and energy as well as fat—necessary for the proper functioning of the liver and the digestion of fat.

Health can not be maintained nor the body function properly without abundant supplies of Vitamins. They are:

Vitamin A—promotes growth, increases resistance to infectious diseases and prevents certain eye diseases
Vitamin B—promotes growth, stimulates appetite, protects nerve and brain tissue and function
Vitamin C—promotes growth, protects jawbone and teeth and the walls of the blood vessels
Vitamin D—promotes calcification of teeth and bones, hence protects against rickets and its deformities
Vitamin E—protects the growth and function of the reproductive glands and organs
Vitamin F—promotes growth and protects skin, hair and kidneys
Vitamin G—promotes growth and normal nutrition and prevents pellagra.

MENU MAKING

ALTHOUGH it is desirable that each meal should be well selected, the food for the entire day is the real measure of good nutrition. The food-selection chart should be used to determine the types of food to be selected. The art of combining these foods into wholesome and satisfying meals is the art of menu making.

Every meal should be planned to meet first the needs of the youngest and weakest member of the family. Foods that are good for children are equally good for adults but foods that are good for adults may be very bad for children. It is easier to suit a child's dietary to the adult than to suit an adult's dietary to a child.

Points to Keep in Mind in Making Menus

In order to encourage good digestion and to make sure that the family enjoys the meal as well as receives benefit from it, all of the following factors should be considered:

The Staying Quality of Food—Does it leave the stomach quickly or slowly? For healthy, active adults working outdoors, a great deal of food that has considerable staying quality may be highly desirable. For indoor workers and for children this type of food may be the wrong choice.

Fats and fat-rich foods all have staying quality. Cream sauces, cereals and similar foods have moderate staying qualities. Liquid foods, foods containing meat-juices or fruit acids are likely to encourage quick passage of food along the digestive tract. This is one reason for beginning a meal with meat soup or fruit in some form.

The Most Satisfactory Conditions of digestion and elimination are encouraged by use of generous amounts of bulky, moist foods, such as fruits, succulent vegetables, whole cereals and water.

Too Much Sweet Food should not be included, since it may give rise to excessive fermentation in the digestive tract.

Too Much Meat and Eggs should not be included, since they may give rise to excessive putrefaction in the digestive tract.

The Texture of Food plays an important part in its attractiveness. Crisp foods should be associated with soft ones. Variations in texture, even in a single dish, always appeal: oatmeal with cream and a sprinkle of coarse sugar; rice pudding with raisins; ice-cream with cake; crackers with cheese; crisp salad with soft dressing.

The Appearance of Food is important to civilized man. Beautiful color and dainty, attractive arrangement play a large part in a successful meal.

The Flavor of Food plays an important part. Too often, however, food is selected only on the basis of what tastes good. The main background of the diet should be made up of bland, mild-flavored foods, like milk, bread, cereals, many vegetables. The accent should come by the use of the more highly flavored foods such as meat, fruit, sugar, condiments and herbs of various kinds.

Suggestions for the General Plan of a Day’s Meals

Breakfast

Fruit, fresh, canned, dried, or fresh stewed.
Milk, or cocoa made with milk, for the children. Milk, cocoa, tea, coffee or other beverage for adults. Milk on cereal for all the family.
Cereal, preferably whole, for all the family.
Bread, toast or muffins with butter.
If a heartier meal is needed, it may be desirable to add eggs, bacon or other fat meat, and potatoes, adapting the method of cooking to the children.
Doughnuts, cookies, jam, jelly, marmalade, and pancakes with sirup should be considered desserts, even at breakfast time; to be eaten only after more wholesome foods have been taken.

Lunch or Supper

An egg, cheese or milk dish.
Succulent vegetable or salad.
Bread and butter, toast, muffins, or plain sandwiches.
Milk for children. Any preferred beverage for adults.
Sweets in moderation. Only light desserts such as fruit, simple pudding, and cookies should be served at supper.

The meal may be made more elaborate, if desired, but should always partake of simplicity.

Dinner

Meat or other flesh or an egg or cheese dish. Dried beans may be used if milk or eggs are provided in the meal.

Potatoes, unless the meal includes dried beans, macaroni or rice.

Another vegetable. Two vegetables (not potatoes) should be used with dried beans, macaroni or rice.

Bread and butter.

Salad may be served in addition to the meal or in the place of dessert. Raw vegetables that may be served as salad are particularly desirable.

Sweets in moderation.

If all the milk that a person requires has not been used, the remaining amount may be served as a beverage.

If a more elaborate dinner is desired, the meal may begin with soup or an appetizer, such as a fruit cocktail or grapefruit, oysters in some form, or a canapé. The problem of the formal meal is discussed in the section that follows the simple menus given below.

The Problem of the Formal Meal

The purpose of food is to satisfy hunger and to give pleasure. After hunger is satisfied, more food is a hindrance to health. After the appetite has been stimulated by a variety of foods, to stimulate it further jades it.

At one time it was the custom to serve long and elaborate dinners having many courses and much repetition of type foods. Gradually the realization has grown that elaborate meals are not justified from any point of view, social, physiological or economic, and that even the most formal meal must follow the rules of health.

Formal meals which conform to laws of health and good taste may be arranged according to the following general plan:

First Course

The Appetizer—Any one of the following types of dishes, with proper accompaniments, serves to whet the appetite:

Canapés or tiny open sandwiches made with highly flavored mixtures. Raw oysters or clams; oyster or clam cocktails. Grapefruit or fruit cocktail; avocado served with lemon-juice; cantaloup, watermelon or similar fruit. Soup, preferably a clear stock soup.

Second Course

To Satisfy the Appetite—For dinners, the pièce de résistance, or main course, may be any one of the following—roasts of meat, poultry, baked fish or game, with the proper accompaniments of vegetables and a starchy food such as rice or macaroni.

For luncheons, the main course may be any one of the following—a small steak, chops, made dishes or entrees of meat, fish, poultry, game, eggs, or cheese, served with a succulent vegetable, preferably a green vegetable, and rolls.

Third Course

Light, Refreshing and Crisp—The salad course may be any simple vegetable salad with a suitable accompaniment of dressing and breadstuff. Meat salads or heavy mixed or complicated salads should not be served in this type of meal.

Fourth Course

The Sweet or Bonne Bouche—This course may consist of any frozen dessert, sponge, whip, meringue with fruit, or any individual tart or pastry.

Fifth Course

To Keep the Sweet from Being Too Well Remembered—This course includes a demi-tasse of coffee, with sugar, and cream if desired. It may include fruit or crackers and a cheese with high flavor.

If the person giving a formal dinner or lunch has not been converted to the new idea of simplicity and desires a more elaborate meal than the type just outlined, more courses may be introduced. An entrée may come between the appetizer and the main course. Soup may follow fruit or raw oysters. Fish may be served as a separate course, with meat to follow. An entrée may be introduced between the fish and meat courses. All of these procedures are correct by custom.

Order of Courses

The courses in a meal are served in the following order:

1. Appetizer
2. Soup
3. Fish
4. Roast
5. Game
6. Salad
7. Dessert
8. Crackers and Cheese with Coffee
9. Nuts and Raisins
10. Fruit

For the place of the entrée, see chapter, Entrées and Made-Over Dishes.

AS much care is needed in selecting and preparing the food for the child's lunch at school as for the other meals served to the child. If the lunch is inadequate or lacking in food essentials throughout the school year, the child's whole nutrition will be seriously affected, and his work at school will suffer. The school lunch is one of three meals, not just a "snack," and should possess the following characteristics:

1. It should be abundant in amount for a hungry, healthy child. A little too much is better than too little.
2. It should be chosen with regard to the nutritive needs of the child and in relation to the whole day's food.
3. It should be clean, appetizing, wholesome and attractive.

FOOD SELECTION CHART FOR CHILDREN

Select from the following chart and make the school lunch bear its full share of responsibility for carrying the foods the child needs.

Milk—\( \frac{3}{4} \) to 1 quart daily.
Vegetables—Two servings daily (in addition to potatoes).
Fruit—Two servings daily (fresh, canned or dried), one of fresh fruit or fresh or canned tomatoes if possible.
Cereals—Whole cereal bread, usually. Whole cereal breakfast food, usually.
Water—1½ quarts liquid daily (may be included in other foods).

How to Use the Selected Foods

Foods selected from the above groups may be included in the school lunch in the following forms:

Sandwiches—Made as often as possible from whole cereal breads, as graham, whole wheat, oatmeal. Made to include some substantial food which will increase the value of the meal. Supplied in sufficient number to satisfy hunger. Made carefully and well.

Succulent Foods—Whole orange, whole tomato, whole apples, apple sauce, peaches (whole or sliced), celery, stewed... fruit, prunes, baked apple, sliced fruit, dates, berries. Fruits and vegetables are especially important in the dietary of the growing child and pains must be taken always to include adequate amounts of them. They are not always easy to include in the school lunch, yet if the child is to be well nourished, some way must be devised to get them in.

Milk Always—This should never be omitted. It may be carried in a special container provided for the purpose or it may be included in the hot dish.

One Hot Dish If Possible—The value of hot food in the lunch is now so generally recognized that many country and town schools have made provision for serving at least one hot dish at the noon hour. If not available at school, hot food may be carried in the lunch box. A vacuum container will solve the problem satisfactorily.

Preparation of Food

Sandwiches—Since sandwiches form a main part of the school lunch, their preparation is most important.
Wholesome breads should be used for sandwiches. Graham, whole wheat, oatmeal, brown, raisin, and nut bread are excellent. Cold bran or whole wheat muffins or filled rolls are often tempting.

Fillings for the sandwiches for the school lunch require some special preparation. The filling should be abundant in amount and should play an important part in the sandwich.
Cheese, meat, eggs, nuts, dried fruits or vegetables should be put through the food-chopper. Cream cheese, peanut butter and other compact substances should be thinned with cream. Ground meats, eggs, and vegetables should be moistened with a small amount of salad dressing or cream and vinegar. Succulent vegetables should be provided, if possible. Finely chopped celery, lettuce, water cress or sliced tomato may be used alone or with cottage cheese. Finely cut pineapple or orange may be used in sandwiches.
Jellies, jams and conserves make sweet sandwiches or a tiny jar of the fruited sweet may be tucked into the lunch box.
Dried figs, dates, raisins, thoroughly washed and steamed in a small sieve or strainer over boiling water for thirty minutes and then ground and moistened with a small amount of fruit-juice or salad dressing, make excellent sandwiches.
Pickles, chow-chow and relishes should take a subordinate place in the school lunch box.
The chapter on Sandwiches (See Index), gives full directions and recipes for a variety of sandwiches.
Hot Dishes—Special vacuum containers make it possible to send hot cocoa or hot soup with the lunch, also a creamed vegetable, a hot pudding or other hot food. These containers should never be filled the night before the lunch is prepared. If foods prepared for dinner are to be used for the school lunch, these foods should be kept in a cool place, uncovered, over night and reheated in the morning.
Milk—If there is any possibility that the milk will not keep sweet for three hours, it may be put while cold into the vacuum container. Good milk properly kept should be in good condition if carried in a milk bottle or small glass fruit-jar.
Liquid and Semi-Solid Foods—Stewed prunes and canned fruits may be carried in any small screw-top container. A cold rice pudding or other pudding, custards or similar desserts may also be carried in this manner.

Packing the Lunch

All foods not in containers should be wrapped separately in waxed paper before being placed in the box. The neatly wrapped articles should be placed, so far as is possible, in the order in which the food will be eaten, so that those found first may be eaten first without disturbing the remainder. The heaviest foods, however, should be placed at the bottom.

Articles should be packed compactly in order to prevent the food from shaking about. Empty space may be filled neatly with paper. When space seems lacking, the difficulty may be overcome by more careful packing, by resorting to such expedients as cutting fruits or cookies in half, or by packing sandwiches the other way of the box.

The Lunch Box

Select a box that can be kept clean. Lunch boxes should be washed, scalded and aired daily. Those made of lightweight metal are best. Many attractive boxes are now made with a vacuum bottle which fits the box. These are highly desirable. A lunch box should not be air-tight, as a circulation of air prevents the mingling of odors. All food should be protected from dirt by wrapping.

Accessories—A small vacuum container of cup-like shape for hot foods, a screw-top container for liquid or semi-solid food, plenty of waxed paper, and paper napkins are essential lunch box accessories.

Without the Hot Dish—In many places the school, the Parent-Teacher Association or some woman’s club provides milk and/or prepares one hot dish at school to be sold to children for a few cents. In this case the lunch box need contain only the sandwiches, vegetables and fruit. The greatest care should be exercised that vitamins and minerals are not sacrificed to bulk. Carrot sticks, parsley, whole tomatoes, radishes, cabbage leaves, oranges or grapefruit will take care of this.
TABLE SETTING AND SERVICE

The social life of a household, whether the household is a simple one or an elaborate one, centers about its dining-table and whether that dining-table is simply or elaborately dressed, it should, by its harmony and unity of setting, indicate that it is arranged according to a definite artistic standard. Every accessory that builds the table-picture—the silver, china, glass, and linen—furthers the art of gracious living in the household.

China

Perhaps in greater degree than any other domestic appointments, does china present an opportunity for indulgence of personal whim and the exercise of good taste on the part of the hostess. Today there are patterns for every occasion. Breakfast china is gay, sprightly; color runs rampant upon it; often whole gardens shine on its face. But it would not be used for a dinner, which demands fine china of exquisitely fine design. Luncheon is still another thing. Its china may vary as the season—or as the whim of the hostess.

Modern day impatience with formula and rite is nowhere more eloquently expressed than in the growing custom of using different patterns for different courses, all related by the thread of harmony. The hostess of today considers sameness identical with boredom. If she uses a cobalt and gold service plate, she may elect to use a simple gold-banded entree plate. The fish plate perhaps may have yellow bands to match the flowers in the center. The roast plate may present a pattern border, touched with gold, and yellow, and blue. Her dessert plate will be utterly different from any of the foregoing: it may strike an entirely new note; but it will not be discordant or jarring. Obviously, all dishes used in one course should match.

Plates of Various Sizes and How They Are Used

In the following list the measurements, in inches, are from extreme rim to rim.
Place Plate (also called cover plate, service plate, lay plate). 10 to 11 inches.

Dinner Plate (roast plate). 10 inches, but seen as large as 10½ inches. The size of the dinner plate is fairly large, due to the current practice of placing attendant vegetables on the plate with the meat. The day of side dishes, each bearing a particular variety of vegetables, has definitely passed.

Entrée Plate. 8½ to 9½ inches. A most convenient size, for, in addition to its use in serving entreés, it is often employed as a salad plate, or a fish plate: even a dessert plate when the finger bowl is borne in with the dessert silver on the plate, the finger bowl being removed later.

Dessert Plate. 7½ to 8 inches. Used for miscellaneous desserts, and salads. It becomes the cake plate at tea.

Bread and Butter Plate. 6 to 6½ inches. Universally used now: the butter chip, for individual butter service is extinct.

Soup Plate. 8 to 8½ inches at rim, for the usual type of soup plate with wide, flat rim. There is also a bowl soup plate, or “coup” soup, which has no rim at all. Soup plates are not as commonly used as at one time, due to the spreading favor accorded the cream soup cup and the bouillon cup for luncheons and informal meals.

Cups and Bowls

Cream Soup Cup. This is a low, broad cup, handled on both sides. Its width is from 4½ to 5 inches, and its depth about two. It is used for the serving of purées, bisques, cream soups, and is extremely popular for luncheons.

Bouillon Cup. A tea cup with two handles. Clear soups, consommés, bouillons are served in it.

Chilled Cocktail Bowl. This is distinctly an innovation in china service. It is a low, wide bowl, fitted with a separate small container. The space between the bowl proper and the inner cup is filled with crushed ice. Used for grapefruit, shrimp cocktail, and many other foods best served chilled.

GLASS

Of late years, an awakening appreciation of the charm of glass has taken place. Perhaps the appeal of glorious color, so striking in this substance, accounts for it. Blue in varying tones was some years ago in wide favor; then amethyst displaced it. Rapidly came amber, and green, which maintain a deserved respect, because of their adaptability. Rose, canary, sapphire, in quick succession—no color today is unrepresented.

Glass is often selected to “go with” certain tones of china. The hostess with a sense of fitness has a glass service for each of her dinner services. For her severely formal tables she uses glittering crystal, etched or cut, engraved or gold decorated.

But there is ample opportunity for her to indulge her love for color to the full, to arrange tables with an eye to the dining-room effects, or to build them according to her own color preferences.

Kinds of Glasses

Goblet. The goblet is the aristocrat of table glass. In its usual form it is a flaring round bowl resting on a tall slender stem. In certain styles, however, the "stem" becomes a mere button. Goblets are always provided with a foot, however small. The goblet is the dominant member of the "place glass" group, and all glasses of a service take their shape from it, following its contours very closely.

Other Place Glass. In addition to the goblet, there may be placed at each cover at least one other glass for the cup or other beverages. At very formal dinners two extra glasses are often placed, but never more.

The shapes and sizes of these supplementary glasses vary as their purposes. On the continent, for example, there is a definite type of glass placed for certain wines. Thus a glass for sherry is differently shaped from one for claret: it is more sharply tapered and considerably smaller.

For the most part the glasses of this type that we see in America are either the claret, or the tall shallow champagne glass. The claret, whose capacity makes it a fine utility glass, is used for almost any kind of cup. On the other hand the tall champagne glass is often placed for its high decorative value. Few glasses are as graceful as this shallow bowl on its slender shaft.

Sherbet. The sherbet glass is a medium depth broad bowl on a short stem. In it are served sherbets, ice-cream, frozen desserts. Much used now, however, for this purpose is the tall shallow champagne glass, perhaps because of its more imposing height and dignity.

Hollow Stem Champagne. This glass is similar to the tall champagne glass, except that the stem instead of being solid is hollow to the very bottom. While its primary use was for serving champagne, today we often serve in it ginger ale, and other carbonated drinks. The hollow stem releasing a train of sparkling bubbles is picturesque indeed.

Finger Bowl. The finger bowl is a low broad bowl, variously shaped. It is usually seen without a “foot,” but certain styles have such supports. Finger bowls are fitted with matching under-plates, but their use is optional.

Grapefruit Bowl. This is a double bowl for chilled food cocktails. It consists of a large bowl on a stem. Within it is placed a smaller “cup” or “lining.” The grapefruit or other cocktail is put in the small cup, and the space between the cups is filled with crushed ice.

Tumbler. In its simplest form, a tumbler is simply a glass cylinder with one end closed. But the glass designer does wonders with it. He mounts it on a foot: he shapes its sides in lovely contours: often he makes it angular instead of round.

The sizes commonly used are:

- Apollinaris Tumbler. This is a small, narrow tumbler used for liquids that are served in small quantities, such as orange juice, grape juice, mineral water. It is often used for water when space is at a premium, as on breakfast trays, or at bridge tables. It holds about five ounces.

- Table Tumbler. Also called water tumbler. It is a low tumbler, containing about ten ounces, and is used to serve water informally, at simple meals.

  There is also a water tumbler of about the same capacity, but narrower and taller, sometimes called the “Ale tumbler.”

- Highball Tumbler. A tall tumbler, used to serve “long drinks,” or iced tea, iced coffee, iced chocolate, and so forth. It holds about 12 ounces.

- Iced Tea Tumbler. A normal iced tea tumbler, sufficiently large to contain plenty of ice. Its capacity runs from 14 to 16 ounces.

Besides the Pieces in General Use Described Above, there are all manner of articles blown for special uses: trays for hors d’oeuvres; salad bowls, salt dips, saucers for berries, and plates of various sizes.
SILVER

The silver on your table is a declaration of your taste. Whether it is sterling or plate, there is, in an excellent pattern and in the perfect form and proportion of the utensils, an unmistakable aristocracy that gives distinction.

Modern methods of manufacturing silver plate have made it not only durable but beautiful as well. Plated silver ranges from the very durable triple-plated ware, (heavy weight) which lasts a lifetime, through the double plate (medium weight) which has good wearing qualities, to the single plate which is light weight.

When you choose a pattern of silver, examine all the pieces; to be sure that you approve of the shapes of all the pieces, that the pieces are perfectly balanced, that the handles are comfortable to hold, and that the tips of the handles of the knives and forks fit perfectly into the center of the palm of the hand. Find out how long the pattern has been on the market, and, if possible, how long it is to be made, so that you will not suddenly discover that the pattern has been "discontinued."

Place silver, or flat silver as it is sometimes called, consists of the knives, forks, and spoons necessary for general use at table.

Knives and Forks

The dinner knife and fork, although imposing members of the silver-family, are not the most important members, for their use is limited to the main course of dinner.

The luncheon knife and fork offer the greatest variety of uses. They may be used “around the clock,” for breakfast, for luncheon, for supper, and for certain courses at dinner, such as hors d’oeuvres, entrée, fish, salad, for dishes served in a ramekin, for dishes served at informal entertaining, and for large and small sandwiches.

Smaller than the luncheon knife and fork are the tea knife and fork, with their increasingly-recognized number of uses.

Butter spreaders are necessary in your first list.

Later if you are not content to use the medium size knives and forks or the tea knives and forks for special courses like fish, entrée, salad, and fruit, you may buy fish knives and forks, entrée knives and forks, and salad knives and forks (or, if you prefer, individual salad forks,) and fruit knives, or preferably, fruit knives and forks.

Spoons

Accompanying the medium size knife and fork, and of a size between a teaspoon and a tablespoon, is the dessert spoon, the spoon of a variety of uses, from eating soup and cereals, to eating desserts such as pudding and compote of fruit.

Teaspoons have a great variety of uses, and while these are the first kind of small spoon to be bought you will want to add when you can, orange spoons, bouillon spoons, ice-cream spoons, coffee spoons, five o'clock teaspoons, and iced tea spoons.

LINEN

White linen damask is the classic covering for the dinner-table. Linen and lace are often combined and sometimes elaborate all-lace table-cloths are used. When a lace cloth is used, it is placed on a bare table. In the colored damasks every woman will find an opportunity to vary her table setting effects occasionally with a harmonious combination of pastel shades in table-cloth and glass and china and flower-centerpiece. But the conservative woman still uses white damask for her formal dinners, and undoubtedly will continue to do so.

Table-cloths

Before you buy your table-cloths, carefully measure your table, and allow a twelve- to fifteen-inch hangover for your dinner cloths, and an eight- to twelve-inch hangover for your luncheon cloths.

Table-cloths should be French-hemmed, with the hem three-eighths of an inch to one-half an inch wide, and napkins, also French-hemmed, have hems of from one-eighth of an inch to one-quarter of an inch wide.

A white linen damask cloth is as appropriate to the formal or informal luncheon as to the formal or informal dinner. Gay colored sets of damask or of less formal materials are often used. Linen runners, with small luncheon napkins to match, are popular, especially on long tables like refectory tables. An especially beautiful table is sometimes left bare except for the lace rounds under the centerpiece, plates, and glasses. Damask napkins are used with these.

Luncheon sets are appropriate for use at breakfast, luncheon, an informal dinner on the porch, or an informal supper.

For the tea table one may use an embroidered or hemstitched teacloth, or a simple or elaborate lace cover, or a combination of linen and lace.

Napkins

Table-cloths and napkins should match. For formal dinners an unusually large napkin is smart, but nowadays napkins, like most other "furnishings," have shrunk, and one rarely encounters dinner napkins larger than twenty-eight inches and usually not larger than twenty-four inches.

Luncheon napkins are from thirteen inches to eighteen inches square. White hemstitched luncheon napkins are often used with a white linen damask cloth.
Breakfast napkins, often colored or with a colored border to match the cloth, are usually a bit smaller than luncheon napkins but may be the same size.

Appropriate to the appointments of the tea table are the small tea napkins, sometimes of fine handkerchief linen with scalloped edges, sometimes of damask with hemstitched borders, and sometimes of heavy linen with drawnwork borders. In houses with Early American furnishings—and with excellent laundry technic—the old-fashioned damask napkins with fringe edges add a charmingly quaint touch. But with uncertain laundering these are very apt to be unattractive looking.

Monogramming

The pattern or design of the cloth and napkins and the type, design, and size of the monograms embroidered on them should make a perfect unity.

For table-cloths, the size of the monogram should be from two and one-half to five inches. For dinner napkins from one to two inches. For luncheon and breakfast napkins and doilies, from three-quarters of an inch to an inch and a half.

When the bride-to-be is marking her trousseau linens, it is best form for her to use the initials of her maiden name. However, there is no hard and fast rule for this marking, and she may if she prefers use the initials of the first and last names of her maiden name and the initial letter of the groom’s last name.

If an initial is used instead of a monogram it should be the initial of your last name. When only one letter is used, it is usually a block letter—sometimes ornate—since a single letter in script is not very effective-looking.

How to Measure for the Placing of the Monogram

Spread the cloth on the table, place the end of your measuring stick at the corner of the table, and point it in the direction of the corner diagonally opposite. Measure from twelve to fifteen inches, mark this off, and place your monogram there unless it will, in this place, interfere with the design in the damask. In that event, raise it or lower it to make it artistically well-placed.

On a table-cloth of two yards square or less usually only one monogram is placed. Larger sizes usually have two monograms diagonally opposite each other.

Dinner napkins should be marked with a smaller monogram of the same design as that used on the table-cloth. They are now usually embroidered in what is known as the "center of the side." Fold the napkin into thirds, and again into thirds in the opposite way. On the top of the center square with the selvedge toward you, place the monogram in the approximate center.

Tea napkins may be monogrammed with the two or three initials used on the other napkins. In very fine linen ones, cut-out monograms are often used.

TABLE DECORATION

Have in mind a definite plan.
Consider carefully the artistic height for your table decorations: table decorations that are too high are awkward, and those that are too low become monotonous to the eye.

No table decorations should obstruct the view of the guests (although at large, formal dinners, when the conversation cannot be general anyway, they may be tall).

All tall decorations should be narrow (e.g. candles).

Avoid over-decoration and inappropriate decorations. Don't crowd your table or make it look heavy.

Discriminate between a formal party and an informal party, and adapt your decorations accordingly.

Keep in mind the color-scheme of your room, and the colors of the food in your menu, and harmonize the color of your table decorations with these.

Adapt your flowers to the type and proportions of your flower-container.

Centerpieces

Centerpieces are of infinite variety, their beauty and distinction being limited only by one's imagination and one's budget. Flowers are still—and probably always will be—the most lovely decoration for the center of the table. The fashion of supporting a few flowers in flower-holders in low silver or glass bowls makes possible simple and very effective arrangements. Unusual effects may be obtained with central mirrors and with mirrored tables, with fruits, with formal combinations of flowers and fruits, with crystal trees and flowers, with delicate figurines, and even with amusing accessories of simple or elaborate kinds. But one must be careful that the designs built with unusual accessories are beautiful and appropriate and not simply bizarre.

Compote Dishes and Candles

To balance the centerpiece, decorative silver or glass—or gold!—compote dishes, two or four in number, are usually placed toward the ends of the table. These dishes, containing bonbons or mints or nuts, may be low, medium, or high, according to the proportion required by the other table decorations.

Four candles, or more if the table is very large, are used in candlesticks of glass or silver or fine china, and sometimes of pottery for an informal dinner on an Italian or Spanish table. Instead of candlesticks handsome silver candelabra may be placed on each side of the centerpiece.

The candles should be lighted before the guests enter the dining-room, and allowed to burn until they leave the dining-room, even if they stay so long in the dining-room that the candles burn down to their sockets!

The height of the candles should, of course, be adapted to the height of the candlesticks—very tall candles in low standards, and shorter ones in the standard of average height. Low candlesticks with tall slender tapers are interesting and effective, but their use is more appropriate to informal occasions. Formal functions seem to need the dignity of tall candlesticks.

Candles for formal dinner tables usually are the color of natural wax or, if that is not obtainable, of white. As a matter of fact, many hostesses use candles of this color on their tables for all their parties. Of course colored candles may be used to carry out a decorative scheme, and are festive and appropriate for special occasions.

Candles are now never shaded.

Service or “Cover” Plate

A service plate (sometimes called a “place plate” or “lay plate,” and, most appropriately, a “cover plate”), which is about one inch larger than a dinner plate, is used in formal service. A service plate is a background plate on which other plates are placed. Since its function is largely decorative, it should be as handsome as your circumstances permit. Service plates are usually of beautiful china, though sometimes they are of gold or silver or silver plate or even glass. If they are of china, they do not match the rest of the china in design, since they are usually far more ornate. In advance of the meal, the service plate is set in the center of each cover, one inch, or sometimes two inches, from the edge of the table. No food is served directly on the service plate. On it are placed the plates containing the first courses of the meal, such as fruity oysters, and soup. It is not removed until it is exchanged for the plate of the first hot course after the soup.

Large service plates are not used for breakfast, and it is usually inconvenient to use them in homes where there is no service, or in homes where the food is served at the table by the hostess or host or both.

Place Cards

Place cards are used at formal dinners and luncheons for convenience in seating the guests. A place card should be simple (plain white ones are best) of about the size of a visiting-card. It is sometimes engraved with the hostess' monogram or crest embossed in plain white. Sometimes at feature parties, such as Hallowe’en or Valentine’s Day, decorative place cards are used to carry out the motif of the entertainment. The name of the guest is written on the card, the title—Mrs., Miss, or Mr.—before the name. Place cards are usually placed above the cover so that they do not conceal the beauty of either the place plate or the napkin.

Salts and Peppers

Salts and peppers may be tall, gold or silver ones, or they may be low silver or crystal ones, or a silver pepper shaker accompanied by a low salt cup lined with old blue glass. For breakfast use, they may be of china or pottery, consistent with the informality of the breakfast table or tray.

It is customary to place a set of salts and peppers between every two covers if the party is large, or a pair at each corner of the table, if few are dining, or at two corners of a small table. Individual sets are sometimes placed. Whether salt shakers or salt cups are used is a matter of choice, but with salt cups small salt-spoons should be provided.

Bread and Butter Plates

These convenient little plates are used at breakfast and luncheon, and at family and other informal dinners. Since butter is not served at formal dinners, bread and butter plates are not usually placed. However, there is now a tendency to place bread and butter plates on the table, except at the most formal dinners, many hostesses maintaining, and quite rightly, too, that these plates are of great convenience, in affording a harbor for the roll or bread and for the celery, radishes, and nuts that are passed at dinner.

Bread and butter plates are removed after the salad course, with the salts and peppers.

The Napkin

The napkin is usually placed at the left of the forks and parallel with them. If the napkin is folded in a square or otherwise folded so that the corners are up, it is placed so that the open corners are toward the plate.

Often one sees the napkin placed on the service plate, but unless space demands this, it is not to be recommended. Service plates are usually of such loveliness that none of their beauty should be sacrificed.

It is no longer good form to put bread or a dinner roll in the napkin—too many embarrassing moments resulted from that custom, for it was most natural, when one was engrossed in conversation, to take up the napkin unthinkingly and discover the roll perversely flying for the regions under the table.

Finger Bowls

There are three methods of placing finger bowls:

First, if the finger bowl is needed after fruits at the beginning of a meal, or after corn on the cob, artichokes, and other food that demands the use of the fingers, it may be placed to the left of the cover when the table is laid or it may be brought in toward the end of the course and placed to the left of the cover.

Second, if the dessert plate and finger bowl are served together, the finger bowl is placed on the dessert plate, usually with a small fine white or cream doily between it and the plate, and the dessert silver placed on the sides of the plate, the fork on the left and the knife or spoon (depending on what the dessert may be) on the right. The guest removes the silver, placing the spoon or knife to the right, and the fork to the left, of the cover. Then he removes the finger bowl and doily and places them on the left of the cover, leaving the plate ready to receive the fruit or dessert.

Third, if the dessert is served in individual portions, say in a sherbet glass or some other container, which precludes the placing of the finger bowl on the dessert plate, the finger bowl, on a doily on a plate, is placed in front of the guest after the last course.

If especially beautiful glass or silver finger bowls and plates are used, many hostesses now omit the doily between, maintaining that it destroys the harmony between the bowl and the plate.

The bowls, half-filled with tepid water, may be placed on the side table before the meal is announced.

SETTING THE TABLE

Precision and decision are demanded in table-setting; mathematical precision in laying the table-covering and in placing the silver and other table-appointments, and artistic decision in the choice and harmonious arrangement of the table-appointments.

Spreading the Cloth

When the table-covering is the conventional table-cloth, first place the silence-cloth, of white, thick, doublefaced material, which usually extends five inches over each side of the table. This is sometimes tied in place to prevent slipping.

Over this, spread the table cloth, perfectly laundered. There should be in the table cloth only one crease, the straight central crease, and the cloth should be most carefully adjusted so that this fold is placed exactly in the center of the table. The opposite edges of the cloth should fall at equal distances from the floor. The cloth should fall from twelve to fifteen inches below the edges of the table.

Placing the Decorations

Now having placed the background for your table-picture, focus your composition by placing the table decorations, the centerpiece, candlesticks or candelabra, and compotes.

For a table of six covers, four candles or two candelabra are sufficient. The candlesticks are usually placed about halfway between the center of the table and its edge, but their position depends on the general form and design of the decorations. The candles are unshaded.

Compotes, filled with bonbons or mints or nuts, are usually placed between the candlesticks and the edge of the table— their position too, depending on the general structural scheme.

Setting the Covers

Now you are ready to set the covers.

A “cover” is the place set for one person at the beginning of a meal. It consists of a service plate (called sometimes a “place plate,” and most appropriately called, a cover plate), silver utensils, napkin, and water glass.

In setting a cover allow, if possible, the standard space of twenty-four inches, this space being measured from the center of one plate to the center of the next one. Allow fifteen inches for depth.

Place the cover plate in the exact center of the place, and so that the pattern is up, in other words so that the pattern-design is given its full beauty-value.

All the lines of the cover should go either across the table or lengthwise of it. Avoid diagonal lines because they attract the attention of the eye and take away from the harmony of the design.

Place the knives in a straight line, on the right of the plate, parallel to each other, and the spoons on their right. On the left place the forks, also in a careful straight line, and lay the napkin at the left of the forks with its edges parallel to the forks and knives and spoons. When the cover includes a bread and butter plate, lay the butter spreader on the edge of the plate so that it is parallel to the edge of the table with the handle toward the right. Salt and pepper sets should follow this rule of placing, as should the handles of dishes that are placed on the table, and if a piece of silver is placed on a dish at the table (for instance, the spoon on the plate under the fruit cocktail) it too should be placed parallel to the pieces of silver at the sides of the plate.

There are several other important rules for setting a cover, and the basic idea of these rules applies to informal meals as much as it does to formal meals.

Knives, since they are used in the right hand, are placed at the right of the plate, with the cutting edge toward the plate.

Spoons, with the bowls up, are placed at the right of the knives.

Forks are placed at the left of the plate, with the tines up. This is because the fork is held in the left hand when the knife is in the right hand. If an oyster fork is necessary, it is placed on the right of the knives and spoons—and parallel to them—or on the plate on which the oysters are served.

The Silver should be placed in the correct sequence—so that the person eating may use first the utensils farthest from the plate and "work toward the plate." Not more than three knives and three forks (not counting the butter knife or oyster fork) are laid at one cover. If necessary, additional pieces are laid just before the course is served. Usually the silver is laid for the courses through the salad course, and the dessert silver is either placed at the cover before the dessert is served, or brought in on the dessert plate. For every item of food in the menu the necessary piece of silver should either be placed at the cover or brought in before the service of the course.

The Napkin is placed on the left of the forks. If it is folded in a square, the open corner is the lower corner, nearest the plate.

The Water Glass is placed above the tip of the dinner knife. If there is a glass for another beverage, it is placed to the right of the water glass or in a line slanting down from the goblet to the right. If there are more than two glasses, they are grouped artistically.

The Bread and Butter Plate is placed above the tips of the forks so that it will be on a line with the water glass. The butter spreader is placed on the bread and butter plate parallel to the edge of the table, the handle toward the right and the cutting edge down.

The Place Card is best placed above the plate.

The Edge of the Service Plate, the tips of the handles of the silver utensils, and the lower edge of the napkin should be placed in exact alignment, usually one inch from the edge of the table. Some hostesses prefer that the silver be placed two inches from the edge of the table, so that there is a minimum of danger of its being brushed off the table.

Salts and Peppers are usually placed between every two covers, or individual sets may be placed, or, if there are only a few covers, sets may be placed at the ends of the table.

Salted Nuts may be placed in small individual dishes above the covers, or in silver or glass compotes.

Covers should be placed directly opposite each other.

The Chairs are placed so that the line of the table-cloth is not broken.

TABLE SERVICE

Styles of Service

There are three styles of service:

Russian: In this style of service all the food is served from the kitchen, by attendants. The host and hostess take no part in the service. No food is put on the table except the decorating dishes of nuts, candy, and fruits. The food may be placed in individual portions before the guest, or may be separated into portions and arranged on serving-dishes for each guest to help himself.

English or Family Type: In this service all the food is served at the table by the host, hostess, or both.

Combination or Mixed Service: In this service the main course is usually served at the table, while the soup, salad, and dessert are served from the kitchen. Sometimes, the salad is served from a large salad bowl, and the hostess serves the dessert at table.

Service Suggestions

Methods—There are three methods of table service. The one often preferred is the left hand service, that is, the placing, passing, and removing of all dishes at the left. Beverages are, of course, an exception, and these are placed at the right. In the left hand service, the waitress uses the hand farthest from the guest, that is, the left hand. The left hand service permits the guest to use his right hand in helping himself. In the right hand service the waitress places and removes all dishes from the right, using the right hand, but she passes a dish at the left, using her left hand. Often a combination of these two services is used: that is, the dishes are placed and passed at the left, and plates are removed from the right. A hostess decides which method seems to her the easiest and most practical for her household, and directs her service accordingly.

Order of Service—In many houses the hostess is served first.
This is a relic of the old custom of taking it for granted that the giver of the feast prove the absence of poison by first tasting of the food or drinking of the beverage! Some hostesses too justify this custom by maintaining that, when complicated foods are served, the hostess indicates to her guests the methods by which they can most conveniently serve themselves.

However, the custom of serving the honor guest first is growing, and many hostesses now insist on giving the chief guest this additional compliment.

The former custom of serving all the ladies first and the gentlemen afterward is no longer in vogue, for this method consumed too much time and delayed the service. Now guests are served in the order in which they are seated, usually beginning with the honor guest or the hostess and proceeding to the right.

The Ever-Present Plate—It is an important rule of good service that there must be a plate before each guest until the salad course is removed. As soon as one plate is removed, another is put in its place. The first course—if a pre-soup course —is either served from a large dish, in which case a plate is placed for it on the cover plate, or is brought in on a plate which is set on the cover plate already on the table.

When the first course is removed the soup plate is set on the cover plate. Then, if the next course—an entrée, or fish, or the main course—is, as usual, to be served on a heated plate, the service plate is removed with the soup plate as this heated plate is put before the guest.

The "Service Napkin"—On the palm of her left hand, under the dish that she is passing, the waitress holds a napkin folded in a square—the so-called "service napkin" or "serving napkin." She does not use a tray to bring dishes to the table or to remove them from the table.

Using a Tray—When a waitress is passing two or three small articles such as the cream-pitcher and sugar-bowl, or extra pieces of silver, she uses a serving-tray, with a doily on it to keep the articles from slipping.

Filling Glasses—Water glasses are filled three-fourths full. The water pitcher should be three-fourths full. When a glass is being filled it should not be lifted from the table. If necessary, the waitress uses a napkin to catch the drip. Beverages are placed and glasses are filled at the right.

Knives and Spoons are placed at the right, and forks are placed at the left.

Bread, in the form of plain or pulled bread, rolls, or toast, is passed after the soup has been served.

If the First Course of an informal dinner or luncheon is a cold course, it may be on the table when the guests enter the dining-room. If it is hot, it is served after the guests are seated.

Before Passing a Dish to a Guest the waitress should see that adequate silver is placed on the dish—usually a serving-fork on the left and a serving-spoon on the right—in a convenient position. She should, if necessary, rearrange the silver before offering the dish to the guest.

Food Should Be Placed on the Table, passed, and removed in the order of its importance in the course.

If a Salad Is Served With the Meat Course, it is placed on the more convenient side of the plate. If there is no extra glass on the right side, it is usually more convenient to the guest to have the salad placed on the right.

Hot Food Should Be Served Hot on heated dishes.

Cold Food Should Be Served Cold on cold dishes.

When the Host and Hostess Do the Serving at Table, the host serves the meat, and often the vegetables, and the hostess serves the soup, salad, dessert, and beverage.

In the Maid-Less Household, the hostess will find great convenience in the tea-wagon or any other kind of serving-table that may stand at her right, ready to help her.

Before the Dessert Course, the table should be cleared and crumbed. The salts and peppers, the bread and butter plates, and all other accessories or dishes that will not be used in the dessert course, are removed on a tray. When the table is crumbed a small folded napkin and a plate should be used, and the crumb-clearing is done at the left of the guest.

When the Dessert is Finished, the dessert plate is exchanged for an after-dinner coffee cup, if the coffee is served at table.

At the End of the Coffee Course, the cups are exchanged for finger bowls if these were not placed with the dessert.

There is Increasing Inclination to serve after-dinner coffee in the drawing room, living room or the library. The plan has many advantages. The original reason was to give guests more freedom and more luxury—dining-room chairs are stiff at best. But in large families, young adults and children are eager to be excused—the former for their own plans and the latter have school work to do, besides which they do not or should not drink coffee. The adults want to continue their discussions without interruption, while they have coffee, liqueurs and smokes at their leisure.

Besides, in many American homes, servants come in by the day or the hour. Serving coffee in the living room, in addition to the comfort it gives host and guests, allows maids to finish the cleaning-up process with more speed and care as well as more freedom. The coffee service can be done last or even left until morning without catastrophe. In the maidless home, the dining-room doors can be closed, the lights turned out and both hostess and guests forget the work that awaits the former, in the glow of the larger, more comfortable and less formal living room. Moreover, in many modern homes the dining room has disappeared and its function taken over by an enlarged living room, with or without a dining alcove or solarium but almost always when there is a garden, by the terrace used for meals out of doors. In homes with this arrangement there should be an appropriate screen to set around the table used for dining, when the guests move into the living room proper or onto the terrace. Often when there is a dining alcove, these screens are attached to opposing walls as permanent fixtures of the room, and need only to be swung out to meet around the disheveled table. For less formal entertaining see page 724.
CARVING

SKILL in carving depends upon two things: first, a knowledge of the anatomy of that which is to be carved, and second, good tools with which to work.

EQUIPMENT FOR CARVING

For the Average Family, two carving knives are desirable; one with a long, keen blade for large roasts, and a smaller, lighter one for steaks, cutlets and poultry. One two-pronged fork can be used with both knives.

For a Small Family, where large joints are not served, the smaller knife will be adequate.

The Carving Knife Should be Sharp when it is brought to the table. It should never be sharpened at the table.

The Carver Should Remain Seated while carving and should carve enough for all who are at the table before he begins to serve anyone.

The Platter Should be Large Enough to give room not only for the meat that is to be carved but also for the carved portions.

A Serving Spoon should be provided for the gravy.

TO CARVE BEEF

Beefsteak

First separate the meat from the bone by cutting along the edge of the bone with the thin point of the knife.

Beginning with the wide or bone end of a porterhouse or sirloin steak, and following the grain of the meat, divide each section into portions an inch or slightly more in width, depending on the number to be served.

In porterhouse and similar steaks, the tenderloin and the wider section are more tender and have a finer flavor and texture than the narrow section. Give a serving of the finer quality meat and one of the less choice meat to each person.

The small or flank end of a porterhouse steak is of poor quality, suited only for stewing or braizing, and should not be served with the rest of the steak.

Add to each portion a bit of garnish, a spoon of dish gravy, and if the steak is planked, a serving of vegetables.

Roast Beef

Carve all roasts across the grain of the meat. The thickness of the slices varies with the kind of roast that is being carved, and may be influenced by the personal preferences of the people for whom the carving is being done. Generally the slices should be thin, but whether thin or thick, they should be even and attractive looking.

Fillet or Tenderloin Roast—Hold the roast firmly with the fork and cut the meat squarely across the grain in slices slightly less than one-half inch in thickness. Begin with the thick or forward portion. Serve one slice to each person.

Loin, Round or Rump Roast—Cut across the grain, as with a tenderloin roast, but carve the slices as thin as possible, because the meat is less tender than the fillet.

Standing Rib Roast—Place the roast cut side up on a platter with the ribs to the left. Thrust the fork firmly into the side below the upper bone and cut slices \(\frac{1}{8}\) to \(\frac{1}{4}\) inch thick toward the fork, across the grain, until the bone is reached. Cut several slices and then separate from the bone by cutting down with the point of the knife along the bone.

Chuck Pot Roast—Place the meat with the rib side toward the carver. Insert the fork straddling the narrow strip of cartilage running down the center of the meat and cut off the rib bone. Cut horizontally across grain into slices \(\frac{1}{4}\) inch thick, beginning at the right front corner and cutting up through the slice at the center of the roast. When one side is sliced reverse and cut other side.

Short Ribs—Place meat so that ribs are at the back. Thrust fork into meat and cut down between the bones. A bone may be served with each slice.

Rolled Roast—A rolled roast should be held together for carving by skewers thrust directly through the roll across the grain of the meat. Set the roast on end and thrust the fork firmly into the side an inch or two from the top. Then, holding the knife horizontally, cut thin even slices across the entire roast.
Remove the skewers one at a time as you reach them in carving, and move the fork downward from time to time as necessary.

TO CARVE LAMB, MUTTON, VEAL AND PORK

Leg of Lamb
Let the small bone extend toward your left and have the curved side of the meat uppermost. Thrust the fork into the center muscle and cut thin slices downward, across the grain of the meat, till the knife strikes the bone. To release the slices, insert the point of the knife beneath them and cut along the surface of the bone.
If the leg of lamb is boned, cut slices straight through, across the grain of the meat.

Loin Roast of Lamb, Veal or Pork
The backbone should be cut through at each rib before the meat is roasted. Let the roast lie on the platter with the bones down and the smaller end of the roast at your left. Carve down between the ribs and serve one rib to each person.

Crown of Lamb
Carve down between the ribs and serve one rib to each person.

Saddle of Mutton
Let the roast rest on the platter with the bone down and the end diagonally toward you. Make a cut through the center the entire length of the backbone, separating the meat into two similar parts. Remove the meat from the bone on each side by running the knife point between the meat and the bone. Carve the meat into slices slightly less than half an inch thick, cutting across the grain.

TO CARVE POULTRY

Roast Turkey or Chicken

Let the bird rest on its back on the platter, with the drumsticks pointing toward your left. Grasp the carving-fork firmly in the left hand, with the tines pointing toward the bird's neck and the tips turned from the bird. Insert it into the leg so that one tine goes diagonally through the drumstick and the other through the second joint.

Cut all around the hip joint. Press against the side of the bird with the flat of the knife and use the fork as a lever to bend the leg back. This will separate the hip joint and the leg can be lifted off without difficulty.

Without removing the fork, lay the leg down flat, with the open end pointing toward the left, and insert the knife from right to left between the tines of the fork. Press the knife down and it should go through the joint. At first you may have to do a little feeling around to locate the joint, but with practice you will learn how to insert the fork so that when the knife is placed between the tines it will fall directly over the joint.

Next thrust the fork into the side of the bird, rather low down, and cut the breast downward in thin even slices.

Slice the meat from the second joint and serve a slice of white meat and a slice of dark meat to each guest.

If more portions are needed, turn the bird so that it is lying with the carved side down. Separate the second leg in the same way you did the first, and slice the breast.

If the wings are needed they may be cut from the bird and divided in the same manner as the legs.

Ordinarily the tips of the wings and the drumsticks are not served with the roasted bird but are reserved for other uses.

Roast Ducks

Follow the same method as for turkeys and chickens, but keep in mind that a duck's joints are much farther toward the back than those of turkeys and chickens.

With Wild Duck, only the breast is served. Half a breast is usually removed in one portion and served to one person.
Broilers

Arrange the bird on the platter so that the neck is toward you. Insert the fork in the second joint; cut the flesh around the hip joint; bend the joint over sharply with the knife and separate it from the body. Separate the drumstick from the second joint or leave them together, as you prefer. Split the breast in two. Serve half the breast and a second joint or whole leg to each person.

TO CARVE FISH

Special carving sets are procurable for fish. If such a set is not at hand, the best thing to use is a dinner knife, with silver plated or stainless steel blade, and a silver fork, preferably of the type known as a cold meat fork.

In carving any fish try to serve as little bone as possible and avoid breaking the flakes of the fish.

Baked or Planked Fish

If the fish has been slashed before baking, cut through these slashes, to, but not through, the backbone. If there are no slashes, cut the flesh crosswise at intervals of about two inches. Slip the knife under each section and lift it from the bone. When one side of the fish has been served, lift up the backbone and divide the lower half.

Middle Cuts or Thick Pieces of Fish

Middle cuts or thick pieces of large fish, such as salmon and cod, are placed on the platter with the skin up. Carve the fish in thick slices down to the bone, then slip the knife under the portions and remove them from the bone.

Split Fish

When fish are split down the back and broiled or sautéed, divide them through the middle, lengthwise, then divide each half into as many portions as are needed. Very small fish are served whole.
GARNISHES

GARNISHES serve two purposes. First, they make food more attractive to the eye, thus stimulating the flow of digestive juices and aiding digestion; second, they add bulk or "roughage" to the diet or increase the nutritive value of the dish.

GARNISHES SHOULD BE SIMPLE, appropriate and easy to prepare. They should not be used to disguise deficiencies or poor quality of any dish. Edible garnishes are more appropriate than those that are used merely for appearance. At least one-third of a dish should be left free of garnish and the garnish should be so placed that it does not interfere with the service.

WITH A FEW EXCEPTIONS; such as candied or maraschino cherries, sweet pickles, preserved whole currants, strawberries, cranberries, etc., sweets are not used to garnish savory dishes.

TOAST OR PUFF PASTES should not, as a rule, be used on the same dish with potatoes.

Garnishes for Soups

One of the simplest garnishes for soup is a tablespoon of salted whipped cream sprinkled with a dash of paprika or a little parsley chopped very fine.

Eggs are used as garnishes of soups in the form of a baked custard cut in fancy shapes, or as egg balls. (See Soup Accessories.) The whole yolks poached in salted water just below the boiling-point may be used; one yolk is served with each plate of soup.

Noodles, tapioca, spaghetti or macaroni cut in fancy shapes, or quenelles (See Soup Accessories) make simple and attractive garnishes for soup.

Cooked vegetables cut in thin strips or in Julienne style or in fancy shapes or slices, are often used to add color, flavor and nutritive value to a soup.

Soups may be garnished also with cubes of bread or puff paste buttered and browned in the oven or fried in deep fat.
Garnishes for Egg Dishes

Eggs are often served with toast in some form. They may be garnished with crisp slices of bacon and a spray of parsley or they may be served on a bed of chopped spinach, mashed potato or chopped meat. A sauce or purée is a very attractive garnish for poached eggs. Eggs are sometimes garnished with grated cheese or cooked egg-yolk put through a sieve.

Garnishes for Hot Vegetables

Mashed vegetables are sometimes garnished with bits of butter and a sprinkling of paprika or chopped parsley. Vegetables that are cooked and served whole are often covered with grated cheese and put into the oven long enough to brown the cheese. Slices of hard-cooked eggs or egg-yolk put through a sieve may be used as a garnish for spinach.

Garnishes for Meat, Fish, Game and Poultry

Garnishes often used with roasts of beef, lamb or mutton are browned potatoes, croquettes of potatoes or rice, mashed potato cups filled with green peas or diced vegetables, slices of carrot, parsnip or turnip sautéed or fried in deep fat, or boiled onions and sprays of parsley or cress.

Roast pork may be garnished with any of the above or with baked apple or sautéed apple rings filled with jelly.

Fried bananas make a suitable garnish for roast of mutton.

Chops and steaks may be served with a simple garnish of parsley or cress and a slice of lemon or in a border of French fried potatoes, Saratoga chips or lattice potatoes.

Creamed meat dishes may be served with triangles or rounds of toast, in borders of rice or mashed potato, in croustades of bread, in timbale cases or patty shells or in cups of rice or mashed potato.

Sausage, meat balls or chops are attractive arranged about a mound of rice, mashed potato, macaroni or spinach.

Roast or fried chicken may be served in a border of celery or of fried oysters or with a simple garnish of parsley or cress.

Roast duck is attractive with endive and slices of orange and olives or with rice cups filled with currant jelly; roast goose with broiled sausage, gooseberry sauce, apple or barberry jelly or cooked rings of apple; roast quail with squares of fried mush and cubes of currant jelly.

Fish steaks, broiled fish or baked fish are usually garnished with slices of lemon and parsley or cress. Slices of hard-cooked eggs are often used as a garnish for fish. Fat fish such as salmon may be garnished with slices of cucumber or of tomato or whole tomatoes stuffed. Fish may also be garnished with potatoes, peas, onions or tomato in any form.

Other garnishes that may be used are celery curls, olives, radishes, mushroom caps, small green pickles, strips of green pepper or pimiento.

Garnishes for Aspics and Salads

The best and simplest frame for any salad is a bed of lettuce leaves or shredded lettuce, cabbage or cress. Many salads are made more attractive by a sprinkling of chopped nuts or capers, minced green pepper or red pimiento or a grating of cheese. A half nut-meat, two or three radishes cut to resemble roses, dates or prunes stuffed with nuts or cream cheese, olives whole or sliced, tiny new onions or sliced green pickles all add flavor and color.

Truffles are wild, edible, subterranean fungi that are raised principally in France. They are too expensive to be used in large quantity but are highly prized as a flavorful garnish for aspics, salads and sauces. Because of their black color they make an effective contrast to the pale or vivid colors of the more common foods.

Very attractive decorations for meat, fish, salads or aspic are vegetables cut into simple flower designs. Cucumbers, beets, turnips, Russian radishes and carrots with chopped greens are the materials to have at hand. For a lily, cut a long cucumber in half crosswise. Stand up on this cut surface and with a sharp knife cut narrow strips, not too thin, from tip to within an inch of the base. Continue until all the white, too, is cut into strips resembling petals. Into the center insert a long narrow carrot, root end up, to simulate the yellow stamen. If necessary wrap base with a rubber band to hold tightly. Beets and round turnips can be peeled and cut to resemble budding roses. The turnips can be stained with vegetable coloring if desired. Flat slices of turnip or Russian radish cut to resemble daisies have a center of carrot and a sprinkle of chopped green. Calla lilies may be made of thin slices of larger turnips. Roll until the edges meet in cornucopia shape and fasten with a toothpick. Insert a long slender carrot or carrot strip for the stamen and fasten with another toothpick. Broccoli, leek, shallot, or spinach leaves may be attached. Easter lilies are made the same way except that the petal is split after rolling the calyx.
CEREALS

CEREALS or grains are the seeds of certain grasses, the most important of which are wheat, oats, rice, barley, corn, rye and buckwheat. To most persons "cereals" designate only breakfast cereals; and, while the term "cereal foods" actually does include also commercial products made from cereals such as macaroni and spaghetti, corn-starch and the different flours, the present chapter deals only with cereals in the breakfast-cereal sense. There are many kinds of breakfast-cereal products on the market. Most of them are made from the cereals listed above but they differ because of variety in the processes of their manufacture. The so-called breakfast-cereals have a wide usefulness in meals other than breakfast.

Storage of Cereals

With a suitable storage place, cereals and flour may be kept for several months. Unless there is a cool, dry place for storing them, they should be purchased only in amounts that can be used in a few days. This is especially true in warm weather.

Cereal products are liable to spoilage for two reasons: they may become wormy, or they may become rancid. Products made from the whole grain are more subject to spoilage than the refined products, because the whole products contain the germ, which is high in fat, and it is this that becomes rancid; it is this, also, that offers suitable material for the development of eggs laid by insects.

Cereals should be purchased from a merchant whose store is known to be kept in a sanitary condition. Closed glass jars are excellent for keeping cereals. If package cereal is purchased, it should be placed in closed glass jars after it is opened, thus insuring against infection by insects.

Whole or Refined Cereals

Seeds are made up of starchy material in a network of protein, and protected by several coats of fiber generally referred to as bran or cellulose. In the process of manufacture a part or all of the outer coats may be removed so that the actual composition of the cereal is a matter determined by the method of manufacture. If a large part is removed, the cereal is called highly refined; if a small part is removed, it becomes less highly refined; and if the coats are not at all, or but slightly removed, it is called "whole." Therefore, the terms "whole" and "refined" refer to the amount of outer coating which the cereal contains and not to the size of the particles into which the grain is ground.

One way to determine whether cereals are whole or refined is by the color. The less highly refined cereals are apt to be dark in color, and the more highly refined cereals are light in color.

Pre-Cooked Cereals

Cereals were formerly bought uncooked, but by modern methods of manufacture they may be partly or entirely cooked. Thus we have, in oats or wheat, a partly cooked product; and the long list of ready-to-eat cereals or entirely cooked products which need only a few minutes of reheating to be ready for the table.

Cooking Cereals

Two of the important secrets in cooking cereals so that they are acceptable are:

1. To allow enough water to swell and soften all the starch.
2. To cook them long enough to swell the starch and soften the cellulose present so that the starch may be exposed to the action of heat and water.

Cereals high in starch and low in cellulose or bran absorb more water than do cereals containing proportionately less starch and more cellulose or bran. Also, coarsely ground or unground cereals require more time to cook than the finely ground ones. These facts determine the method used in cooking. A refined cereal will require a proportionately larger amount of water than a whole cereal, though it will require less time in the cooking; a coarsely ground cereal will require longer time than a finely ground cereal.

Thorough cooking of cereals is necessary for two reasons: first, cellulose requires plenty of time to soften; and second, starch gains in flavor by cooking.

Methods of Cooking—Cereals may be boiled directly over the heat; steamed, as in a double boiler; or cooked in a fireless cooker. The first is the quickest process but requires attention in order to prevent sticking; and, even when stirred frequently, some sticking may occur. Since the slower cooking develops the flavor and more thoroughly softens the cellulose, the use of either double boiler or fireless cooker is recommended.

Amount of Water Needed—Tastes differ greatly concerning consistency of cereals. Some persons like a thin cereal, almost a "gruel"; others prefer a thicker product, or "mush," while still others choose a thick "porridge." The following suggestions are only general. The directions on the packages are safe to follow in cooking any uncooked or partly cooked cereal, then if a thicker or thinner product is desired it is easy to determine the proportions that best suit the family and make your own rules.

In General:

1. Rolled cereals, such as rolled oats or rolled wheat, require about two parts of water to one of cereal.

2. Coarsely ground cereals from the whole grain, and unground whole grains require about four parts of water to one of cereal.

3. Finely ground refined cereals require from five to six parts of water to one of cereal.

Where directions are lacking for any cereal bought in bulk, the following table will serve as a fair guide.

Amount of Salt Needed—Tastes differ again here, but a safe rule from which to vary is to use one teaspoonful to each quart of water used.

Swelling of Cereals—The amount of swelling is the same as the amount of water required; that is, rolled cereals swell about twice, coarsely ground or whole cereals swell about four times; and finely ground and refined cereals swell from five to six times.

Time Needed For Cooking—Cereal products have a naturally delicious flavor, although not pronounced, which is brought out by long slow cooking, and the right proportion of water and salt.

Long slow cooking used to mean four to six hours, but manufacturing processes have cut the time considerably—to fifteen or twenty minutes in the case of some of the fine grained wheat products, and even three to five minutes for partially cooked cereals. However, a longer cooking only improves them.

In trying a breakfast cereal for the first time, follow the directions on the package; then if you wish, adapt them to the consistency and saltiness you prefer.

Some cereals may be boiled—notably rice, and those partially cooked products that need only three to five minutes cooking, and so demand but little constant attention. The standard ways of cooking cereals are steaming in a double boiler or baking in a slow oven, as in making creamy rice and Indian puddings. The baking method has obvious advantages, and can well be extended to include cereals for breakfast or entrées, omitting the sugar and flavoring.

If cereal is cooked in the evening for the following breakfast, it may stand in the double boiler all night and be heated in the morning. It is well not to stir it in the morning until it is thoroughly hot, because stirring when cold is apt to cause lumps which resist being made smooth.

Variations in Use of Cereals

Cereals may be cooked in milk instead of water, or a part of the water may be replaced by milk. This method offers an easy way of increasing the milk content of a meal and makes the cereal dish more nutritious. Raisins, dried fruit or fresh fruit supply a pleasing addition to cooked cereals. Dates or figs cut into pieces and stirred into the cereal before serving make a very appetizing change.

To prevent a hardening over of the cereal due to standing, two or three tablespoons of water may be poured over the top of the cereal after the cooking process at night is finished.
HOT TAMALEs

Filling:

- 3/4 pound chicken or
- 1/4 pound veal or beef
- 3 ounces chili powder
- 1 small onion

- 3 cloves garlic
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 1/2 cups hot water
- Bay leaves

Envelope:

- 4 cups yellow corn meal
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pound cornhusks

- 2 1/2 cups stock
- 1/2 pound fat

The “redi-cut” cornhusks may be bought. Field cornhusks must have both ends removed; immerse in cold water while filling is prepared.

Boil both meats in water to which have been added one small onion, a clove of garlic and two bay leaves. When meat is tender remove and drain stock, setting it aside to use in making envelope. Cut meat into small cubes. Heat 3 tablespoons of fat, add meat and brown. Mash 2 cloves of garlic and add to meat. Stir the chili powder and spices with hot water and mix well with the meat. Cook mixture 10 minutes.

To make the envelope: Mix 4 cups yellow corn meal, salt, half the stock and all of fat. Beat well with a wooden spoon and then add remainder of the stock. It is very important that the mixture be well beaten to make it light. Dry cornhusks on the inside, spread thinly with mixture; add one teaspoon of chili meat filling and roll up like a cigarette. Fold both ends down. Stack in a steamer and cook until well done. If a steamer is not available, place an ordinary kitchen pot lid on bottom of a deep kettle. Cover with husks and stack tamales over this in “pyramid” style. Pour four cups of boiling water over tamales, cover tightly and cook over a low flame for 45 minutes or one hour. Always serve tamales hot.
YEAST BREADS

Bread as a universal article of food has much in its favor. Flour, its chief ingredient, is not quickly perishable and is rather easily stored and transported. Bread itself keeps well, is mild in flavor, is inexpensive and furnishes material needed by the human machine.

Excellent bread can be made of good bread flour, salt, water and yeast. Better bread can be made if sugar and fat are added. It is in the handling of the dough, not in the proportions of ingredients, that much bread is ruined.

Flours and Meals Used in Bread-making

While flours and meals made from oats, corn, rice and other seeds are used to some extent with wheat flour in making yeast breads, by far the larger amount of yeast bread is made from wheat flour only and most of it is made from highly refined white flour. This is because the gluten of wheat flour possesses properties of toughness and elasticity which enable the dough containing it to stretch and hold gases produced in it by the action of yeast or introduced into it by baking-powder. The dough rises and becomes light.

However, the quality of wheat flour depends upon the season in which the wheat is grown. Winter wheat is sown in the fall, remains in the ground all winter and is harvested in the summer. This grain is generally poor in gluten, but rich in starch. Winter wheat is used largely for pastry flour. Spring wheat is sown in the spring and is harvested in the summer at about the same time as the winter wheat. The grain is generally rich in gluten but poor in starch. Spring wheat flours are best for bread making. Standard flours are a mixture of spring and winter wheat; and they vary little in quality.

In Selecting a Flour For Bread-making every effort should be made to secure a flour of good bread-making properties. Bread flour, when rubbed between the fingers, has a granular feeling. It will not hold its shape when pressed in the hand. Bread flour can be used successfully in making cakes and pastries.
A Good Pastry Flour differs from bread flour in containing more starch and not only less gluten but a less elastic gluten than bread flour. It has an oily feeling when rubbed between the fingers, and holds its shape when pressed in the hand. Pastry flour can not be used successfully in making bread.

Whole-Wheat or entire-wheat flour, combined in right proportions with white flour, can be made into excellent bread. Graham Flour, although coarse, may, rightly combined with white flour, be made into excellent bread.

Proportions of Flour and Liquid in Dough

For one cup of liquid use approximately three cups of flour. This proportion varies widely because of differences in the absorptive powers of different flours. A good bread flour will take up more water than a poor bread flour. Flour, except graham or whole wheat, should always be sifted before being measured.

Yeast

The most satisfactory temperature for the growth of yeast is from 75° to 95° F. It ceases to grow when the temperature is below 30° F. and is killed at about 212° F. Yeast should not be softened in very cold water if immediate activity is desired.

Compressed Yeast—A cake of fresh compressed yeast breaks with a clean edge and has no odor of putrefaction. It is creamy yellow and uniform in color. When old, compressed yeast becomes slightly slippery, is streaky, and has an unpleasant odor. Only fresh compressed yeast should be used in bread-making. In compressed yeast the yeast plants are alive and ready for action, hence bread-making with compressed yeast requires less time than with dry yeast.

Dry Yeast—Dry yeast is a mass of yeast plants mixed with corn-meal and dried. As yeast will live for some time and yet can not grow without moisture, these dry cakes will keep for many weeks. The dried plants are inactive and even when warmth and moisture, food and air are supplied, they take some time to become active again.

Liquid, Railroad or Starter Yeast—This consists of potato water, sugar and salt, in which yeast plants are in an active condition. The starter must be stored in a cool temperature to retard the action of the yeast. The disadvantage of liquid yeast lies in the fact that other yeasts than those best suited for bread-making may be thriving there also, and soon bread made from this perpetual yeast may have a characteristic flavor. Starter should be thrown out occasionally and remade with a fresh yeast cake.

Amounts of Yeast

From one-sixth of a cake to four cakes of compressed yeast may be used to one cup of liquid in making bread. The amount of yeast within this range does not affect the flavor of the bread if the dough is handled properly. With the minimum amount of yeast, the process will take six hours or more; with the maximum amount of yeast, it may, with skillful handling, be completed in one hour and twenty minutes. From two tablespoons to one cup liquid yeast may be used for each loaf of bread.

Methods of Using Yeast

Compressed or dry yeast should be softened in from one-fourth to one-half cup of lukewarm water to which one teaspoon of sugar has been added. The compressed yeast may be used immediately. The dry yeast may be set aside in a warm place for an hour before it is added to the batter.

Liquids for Bread-making

All liquids should be boiled or scalded before being used, to kill any organisms which might develop in the dough.

Milk is the best liquid because of its contribution to the food value as well as to the appearance of the loaf. It gives a white crumb and a rich golden brown crust. The loaf retains its moisture better than when no milk is used.

Water is cheap, but has no food value. It produces a satisfactory loaf, however.

Potato Water produces a characteristic crust excellent in flavor and hastens the action of the yeast. It darkens the bread slightly but gives a loaf which retains its moisture and does not get stale as quickly as when water alone is used.

Miscellaneous Materials Used in Bread

Sugar is added to improve flavor, to produce a better bloom in the crust and to hasten the activity of the yeast. Too much sugar slackens or softens the dough. In making large quantities of bread, the liquid is decreased if a large quantity of sugar is used.

Salt is used to improve the flavor of bread. Too much salt retards the activity of the yeast.

Fat is added to give slight tenderness to both crust and crumb and to improve the keeping qualities of the loaf. Any soft fat of mild flavor may be used as shortening in bread.

Eggs give a yellow color to the crumb and a brown rich bloom to the crust. Because of their leavening power, eggs add to the lightness of the loaf.

Currants, Raisins, Dates and Other Fruit add flavor and nutrition but have little effect on the texture of the dough. Nuts add shortening in addition to flavor and food value.

General Directions for Making Bread

Scald All Liquids to ensure destruction of micro-organisms which might interfere with the action of the yeast plant.

Add Fat, Sugar and Salt to the hot liquid and let it cool until it is lukewarm.

Add the Yeast Cake, softened in a small amount of water to which one teaspoon of sugar may be added.

Add the Flour, sifted before measuring, except graham and whole-wheat flours, which are measured before they are sifted. There are two methods of mixing flour into dough:

SPONGE METHOD

Add one-half of the flour to the liquid-and-yeast mixture and beat thoroughly. Set in a warm place. When the batter is light, add the remaining flour, or enough to make a dough of the desired stiffness, and knead thoroughly until it no longer sticks to the board.

STRAIGHT DOUGH METHOD

Add to the liquid-and-yeast mixture all the flour to be used or enough to make a dough of the desired stiffness and knead thoroughly until it no longer sticks to the board. This method may always be used with compressed yeast.

Kneading Bread—Press the dough away with the palms of your hands. Stretch the dough from the edge, folding the back edge over to the center. Press the dough away with the palms of your hands, exerting sufficient force to cause the part folded over to adhere to the mass under it, and repeat folding. Turn dough one-quarter around and repeat kneading. Continue turning, folding and kneading until dough is smooth and elastic and will not stick to an unfloured board.

First Rising of Dough—Put the dough into a greased receptacle large enough to hold at least three times the bulk of the dough. Grease the top of the dough, cover the receptacle and set in a warm place. Let the dough rise until it trebles its bulk.

Second Rising of Dough—Remove dough from receptacle, bring the top around the under side and fold edges together. This leaves a ball-shaped mass, round and smooth on the upper surface. Bread carefully shaped in this way seems to give a much better product than seamy rough dough. Put back in receptacle. Grease the dough, cover the receptacle, return to warm place to rise again. This second rising is not essential but is worth while because it improves both the texture and the flavor of bread.

Shaping into Loaves—Shape by folding the sides of a piece of dough under while pressing the dough so as to lengthen it. The top should be kept perfectly smooth and the only crease in the dough should be on the under side as the loaf is placed in the tin. If a soft crust is desired, grease the dough. To braid, cut into three, roll lengthwise, pinch together at one end, and proceed. Cover and allow to rise until double its bulk.

Baking Bread—A loaf of average size should bake from fifty to sixty minutes at a beginning temperature of about 400° F. After fifteen or twenty minutes, the temperature of the oven may be reduced. A moderate heat for sixty minutes produces better bread than a hot oven for thirty minutes.

The baking process may be divided into four periods:

First 15 minutes the dough should continue to rise.

Second 15 minutes the dough should crust over and brown slightly.

Third 15 minutes the center of the loaf should bake and the crust continue to brown.

Fourth 15 minutes the loaf should shrink from the sides of the tin and should be browned evenly over its entire surface. It should have a hollow sound when tapped.
Bread is baked to complete the rising, kill the yeast plants, drive off the carbon dioxide and alcohol, dextrinize the crust, harden the cell walls of the crumb and develop the desired flavor.

Tests for Determining When Bread Is Done

1. When the color is a rich golden brown.
2. When the loaf shrinks away from the sides of the pan.
3. When the sides of the pan sizzle when touched with a damp finger.
4. When a clean toothpick inserted comes out free from any particles of the dough.
5. When the loaf gives a hollow sound on being tapped.

Characteristics of a Good Loaf of Bread

Size and Shape—A medium-sized loaf made of dough weighing from one pound to one and one-quarter pounds costs less to bake and is more likely to be thoroughly baked than a very large loaf. A moderate-sized loaf is about four or five inches deep, eight or nine inches long, and four or five inches wide.

The careful shaping of the dough is the first step necessary in making a well-shaped loaf of bread.

Color—Bread should have a good bloom and be golden brown in color with a depth of crust on top, bottom and sides. The crumb should be cream-white in color with no dark streaks through it. A grayish color indicates poor flour or poor handling of the dough.

Texture—Nothing is more difficult to describe than texture, nothing more indicative of quality. Perfect texture of the crumb depends on kneading the dough until it is smooth and elastic and until it can be kneaded on an unfloured board without sticking. It depends on having the dough rise to double or treble its size once or twice before it is made into the loaf, and once in the tins. It depends on careful baking. To determine the texture of the crumb, cut the loaf in two. The holes should be small and uniform with no streak near the bottom of the loaf and no lumps through the loaf. Press the center of the loaf with the knuckles; if the elasticity and moisture are right, the loaf should spring back to shape.

The crust should be smooth without large holes on the bottom and without a split on one side of the loaf. If the top crust is rough it may be due to insufficient kneading or to putting the dough into the tins before it is perfectly smooth.

Flavor and Odor—A well-made, well-baked loaf will taste slightly sweet, neither too fresh nor too salty, and will have no suggestion of acidity, rawness or mustiness.

Common Causes of Inferior Bread

Poor Flour—A cheap flour is an expensive flour because it makes a loaf inferior in texture, color, flavor and volume.

Old Yeast—Dead yeast plants can not leaven bread. Old compressed-yeast cakes or dry yeast which has been stored away until many of the yeast plants are dead will act very slowly if at all and will not give best results.

Too Much or Too Little Kneading—Over-kneaded dough becomes sticky and will not rise well in the oven. Under-kneaded dough makes streaked bread, poor in texture, which sometimes contains lumps that might have been worked out in the kneading.

Too Much Flour—Too stiff a dough rises very slowly and therefore often is not allowed to rise sufficiently. This is a green dough and produces a loaf with poor flavor.

Over-Rising—Too long rising gives a very porous loaf with little flavor, a pale crust and a porous crumb with broken, irregular cells. This bread crumbles badly. If the rising continues too long, the bread is sour.

Under-Rising—This gives a bread of dark crust which has blisters just under the crust. The loaf is small and flat. It browns easily in the oven. Such dough is said to be green.

Too Cool an Oven—Bread will continue to rise too long if the oven temperature is too low. The result is bread that is very porous in the center and upper part of the loaf.

Too Hot an Oven—The dough crusts over immediately and can not continue to rise the first ten or fifteen minutes it is in the oven, or the crust may break as it is forced up—usually on one side more than the other. The crust becomes very brown while the center is underdone.

Rope in Bread—This appears during hot, damp weather.
It is due to the presence of a bacillus and the ropy, stringy quality does not develop immediately after the bread is baked. Rope gives bread a very disagreeable odor and makes it unfit for use.

If rope develops all utensils used in making bread and containers in which bread is stored should be sterilized with boiling water. Vinegar equal to two per cent. of the amount of flour used should be added to all bread made until the supply of flour is exhausted. This is approximately one-half ounce (one tablespoon) of vinegar to one and one-half pounds of flour.

Mold—Bread wrapped while hot molds quickly. Containers used for storing bread should be washed and aired frequently, and immediately if mold is found.

Care of Bread After Baking

Bread should be removed from the tins as soon as it is taken from the oven, and placed on racks or crosswise of the tins so that air can circulate on all sides of it. Quick cooling prevents loss of moisture.

Varying from Recipes in Making Bread

Water may be substituted for milk in all bread recipes. This is not always desirable, however, as one purpose of milk is to increase the nutritive value of bread.

In recipes using compressed yeast, one cup potato yeast may be substituted for one cake compressed or dry yeast. When potato yeast is used it is necessary to use a little more flour.

STANDARD RECIPE FOR WHITE BREAD

| 2 cups milk | ½ to 2 compressed yeast cakes softened in ¼ to ½ cup lukewarm water |
| 1½ teaspoons salt | 6 to 8 cups sifted flour (enough to make a dough) |
| 1 teaspoon to 2 tablespoons sugar | |
| Shortening, if desired, up to 2 tablespoons | |

Scald milk, add salt, sugar and shortening and cool. When lukewarm add the softened yeast. Add flour to make a stiff batter, beating well. Add flour enough to make a firm but not stiff dough. Mix and turn on to a floured board. Knead until the mixture is smooth and elastic to the touch and until it does not stick to the hands or to the unfloured board. Put into a greased bowl, brush over top with melted fat. Cover and set in a warm place to rise. When it has almost trebled in bulk, fold it under and let it rise again. When light, shape into loaves and put into greased bread tins. Let rise until almost treble in bulk. Bake in a hot to moderate oven (400° F. to 375° F.) for fifty to sixty minutes. Remove from pans and cool as quickly as possible. Well-made and thoroughly baked bread should keep from five to ten days in a thoroughly clean, well-aired bread-box.

POTATO BREAD

| ½ cup boiling water | 1 cake yeast softened in ½ cup lukewarm water |
| 1 ½ teaspoons salt | 4 cups flour (enough to make medium dough) |
| 1 tablespoon sugar | 1 tablespoon fat |
| 2 cups mashed potato |  |

Combine in order given, following general directions for bread-making, straight dough method (page 100).

POTATO YEAST

(Liquid, Railroad or Starter)

| 6 medium-sized potatoes | ½ cup sugar |
| 4 pints boiling water | 3 tablespoons salt |
| 1 cup flour | 1 yeast cake softened in 1 cup lukewarm water |
| ½ teaspoon ginger |  |

Pare potatoes and cut in small pieces. Cook in the boiling water until well done. Mash the potatoes or force them through a colander.

Mix sugar, salt, ginger and flour. Pour over these ingredients the hot, cooked, mashed potatoes with the water in which they were cooked. When lukewarm add the softened yeast. Keep at room temperature twenty-four hours.

Pour into sterilized crock or jar. Cover and store in a cool, dark place. Liquid yeast may be used for two weeks. It is not desirable to keep it longer. When making new liquid yeast, use one cup of the old liquid yeast or a compound yeast cake to start it.
CORN BREAD

\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup corn-meal} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cake compressed yeast, softened in} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup warm water} \\
1 \frac{3}{4} \text{ cups water} \quad 2 \frac{3}{4} \text{ to 3 cups flour (enough to make medium dough)} \\
1 \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons salt} \quad \text{2} \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons salt} \\
2 \text{ tablespoons sugar} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup molasses} \\
1 \text{ tablespoon shortening} \quad 1 \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons salt} \\

Cook the corn-meal in the water ten minutes; add salt, sugar and fat to the mush. Cool until lukewarm, stirring occasionally to prevent a film. When cool add the yeast and beat well. Add the flour and mix well. Knead, using as little flour on the board as possible. Put into a greased bowl, let rise until it almost doubles in bulk. Work it down and let it rise again. Mold it into loaves, place in pan and let rise until it has almost doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (400° to 350° F.).

RAISIN BREAD

\[ 2 \text{ cups scalded milk} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ to 1 yeast cake softened in} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup warm water} \\
2 \text{ tablespoons shortening} \quad \text{White flour to make a medium dough} \\
\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup molasses} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup molasses} \\
1 \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons salt} \quad 2 \text{ tablespoons sugar} \\
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup raisins, chopped and floured} \quad \text{2 tablespoons molasses or 2 tablespoons sugar} \\

Follow general directions for making bread, either sponge method (page 100) or straight dough method (page 160). Add raisins after the bread is kneaded.

GRAHAM BREAD

\[ 2 \text{ cups scalded milk} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ to 1 yeast cake softened in} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup warm water} \\
1 \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons salt} \quad 1 \text{ cup wheat flour} \\
2 \text{ tablespoons molasses or 2 tablespoons sugar} \quad \text{About 5 cups graham flour} \\

Follow general directions for making bread, adding only the white flour at first. Let the mass stand in a warm place until light. Stir in graham flour to make a stiff batter. Pour into a baking-dish and when it has almost doubled in bulk bake for one hour in a moderate oven (400° to 350° F.). If a less moist bread is desired, enough flour, part white and part graham, may be used to make a dough and the bread may be made by the straight dough method (page 100).
WHOLE-WHEAT BREAD

2 cups scalded milk  5 cups whole-wheat flour
2 to 4 tablespoons sugar  2 to 3 cups white flour—
1 to 2 tablespoons shortening  enough to make a medium-
1 1/2 teaspoons salt  stiff dough
1 yeast cake softened in 1/2 cup warm water

Follow general directions for making bread (page 100).

RYE BREAD

Follow recipe for whole-wheat bread, using rye flour instead of whole-wheat and adding caraway seeds if desired.

ROLLED-OATS BREAD

1 cup rolled oats  1 tablespoon melted shortening
2 cups boiling water  1/2 to 1 yeast cake, softened in 1/2 cup molasses or brown or  1/2 cup lukewarm water white sugar  4 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

Let the rolled oats steam for an hour in the boiling water.
Cool and add the yeast, molasses, salt, and melted fat. Then stir in the flour and set away to rise. When light, beat thoroughly, place in greased bread-pan, let rise again, and bake in a moderate oven (400° to 350° F.) one hour. If a less moist bread is desired, add enough white flour in the beginning to make a medium dough and follow directions for straight dough method (page 100).

GLUTEN BREAD

2 cups scalded milk  2 egg-whites
1 yeast cake softened in  1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup lukewarm water  4 cups gluten flour

When the milk is cool, add the softened yeast, the salt, the gluten flour, a little at a time, and finally the slightly beaten whites of eggs. The mixture should be of a consistency to drop from a spoon rather than to pour and should be baked in greased pans filled about half full. Follow general directions for rising (page 101). When ready, bake one hour in a moderate oven (400° to 350° F.). If a less moist bread is desired, add enough white flour to make a dough, after beating in the gluten flour, and follow directions for straight dough method of making bread, (page 100).

Crumble yeast into sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Add cold milk and make into a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured board and knead until light and elastic. Roll into a long narrow strip 1/3 inch thick. Divide butter into 5 portions. On half of strip place 1 portion of hard butter, thinly sliced. Fold over remaining half of strip and press down firmly. Let stand 10 minutes in refrigerator. Repeat 4 times. After last rolling wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator overnight. In morning cut dough into portions. Roll out each portion 1/2 inch thick and shape into crescents, pocketbooks, twists or any other desired shapes. Place on baking sheet. Brush with milk and melted butter. Sprinkle with salt or poppy seed if desired. Place shaped rolls in refrigerator, cover with waxed paper and let chill 1/2 to several hours or until needed. Bake at once in hot oven (400° F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Makes 16 rolls.

If a greater amount of sugar is used the rolls will be sweeter. If a greater amount of shortening is used, the rolls will be richer and more tender. Not less than two or more than eight tablespoons of sugar or fat should be used, however.

Follow general directions for making bread (page 100) kneading in a little less flour and permitting the dough to become lighter during each rising process both after it is shaped and before the rolls are placed in the oven.
VARIATIONS OF STANDARD ROLL RECIPE

Plain Rolls—When dough is light, cut or tear it into pieces about the size of a small egg or a walnut. Fold the sides under until the top of the roll is perfectly smooth. Brush the top with fat. Place in greased bread tin or on bread sheet or in individual molds. When light, bake in a hot oven (400°-425° F.)

Cinnamon Rolls—Follow standard roll recipe. When dough is light, roll into a sheet about one-fourth inch thick, spread liberally with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Add currants if desired. Roll like jelly-roll. With sharp knife or shears cut slices from the roll and place them an inch apart on a well-greased sheet. When light, bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.) about twenty minutes. When baked, the tops may be brushed with the yolk of egg diluted with a tablespoon of milk and returned to oven to brown.

Clover-Leaf Rolls—Follow standard roll recipe. When light, break dough into small pieces about the size of marbles. Brush with fat and place three or four of these tiny balls close together in greased muffin rings or pans. When very light, bake about fifteen minutes in hot oven (400°-425° F.). The success of these rolls depends on having the three balls together equal only as much dough as an ordinary roll would require and letting them rise very light before baking them.

Crescent Rolls—Follow standard roll recipe, adding flour to make a stiffer dough than for most rolls. When light, cut the dough into small pieces the shape of triangles. Brush with fat. Roll each triangle, beginning at the base. Press dough lightly with palm of hand, bringing ends around to form a crescent. Place on tins some distance apart. When light, bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.) fifteen minutes. Brush with egg-yolk mixed with milk and return to oven for browning.

Dinner Rolls—Follow standard roll recipe, using four tablespoons shortening, desired amount of sugar and two egg-whites. Add one-half the flour, beating until smooth, then add the beaten whites of eggs. Add the remainder of the flour, knead lightly and let rise. When light, cut or break dough into rolls the size of walnuts. Shape, place on well-greased pans, one-half to one inch apart, let rise and glaze with white of egg diluted with water. Bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).
FINGER ROLLS—Follow standard roll recipe and when light cut and shape into long pieces about the size and shape of a finger. Place on well-greased pan, brush with melted fat or egg-white. When light, bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).

LUNCHEON ROLLS—Follow standard roll recipe using 6 to 8 tablespoons of shortening. Add two well-beaten eggs after one-half the flour has been added. Add remaining flour and knead. When light shape into small biscuits. Place one inch apart in well-greased pan. When double in bulk, brush with egg-yolk diluted with milk and bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS (POCKET-BOOK ROLLS)—Follow standard roll recipe. Four tablespoons each of sugar and shortening give excellent results. When light, roll dough one-fourth inch thick. Cut with biscuit-cutter, brush each circle with melted fat and crease through the center of each roll with the dull edge of a knife. Fold each roll over double. Place on well-greased pan one inch apart, brush with melted fat and when very light bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).

TWISTED ROLLS—Follow standard roll recipe. When light, break dough into small pieces and roll out with palm of hand into rolls about seven inches long and one-half inch thick, taking an end of each strip between the thumb and forefinger of each hand, twist in opposite directions and bring the ends together. Shape the two ends alike, place one-half inch apart on well-greased pans, brush with melted fat or egg-yolk diluted with milk. When light, bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).

TEA BISCUIT—Follow standard roll recipe. When dough is light, roll and cut with biscuit-cutter. Place on well-greased pans one-half inch apart. When light bake in hot oven (400°-425° F.).

ENGLISH MUFFINS—Follow standard roll recipe, making a very soft dough. Knead lightly until smooth and elastic. Work down and when light again roll out with rolling-pin to about one-fourth inch in thickness. Cut in circles. When light, bake on ungreased hot griddle. As soon as they are brown on one side, turn them over. When both sides are browned, bake more slowly until finished. They may be browned on the griddle and then put into the oven to finish baking.

A modification of this recipe may be made by adding only enough flour to make a drop batter. Let it rise until light. Drop batter into large, greased English muffin rings, arranged on a greased baking-sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400°-425° F.) until nearly done. Turn rings upside down and complete baking.

BREAD STICKS

1 cup milk
4 tablespoons shortening
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 yeast cake dissolved in
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1 egg
3 1/2 cups flour

Scald the milk and cool it. Cream the shortening and sugar, add the milk and salt. Add the dissolved yeast, the egg-white, well beaten, and the flour. Knead and let it rise. Shape into sticks about the size of a lead pencil. Put into a floured pan, far apart; the sticks must not touch one another after they have risen. When light, put into a hot oven (400° F.) then decrease the heat so that the sticks may become dry and crisp.

MONTE CARLO BREAD

2 cups scalded milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup shortening
6 eggs
2 yeast cakes softened in
1/2 cup lukewarm water
9 cups flour (enough to make soft dough)
1 1/2 cups currants

Add scalded milk to salt, sugar and shortening. When lukewarm, add the yeast. Add one-half the flour and beat well. Let rise until very light. Add slightly beaten eggs, currants and remaining flour. Knead lightly, let rise and when light place in well-oiled bread-pans. Let rise and when light bake in moderate oven (400° to 375° F.). When the bread is a few days old, cut in thick slices and toast.

SWEDISH TEA RING

1 cup scalded milk
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup sugar
6 tablespoons shortening
1/8 cup finely chopped nuts
1 yeast cake softened in 1/4 cup warm water
3 1/2 cups flour
1 egg

Add the scalded milk to the salt, sugar and fat. When lukewarm add the yeast. Add one-half the flour and beat well. Let rise until very light. When light add the egg and the remaining flour and beat well. Let rise. Divide the dough into two parts and shape each in a long, round piece and form two circles, placing the circles on a baking-tin. Brush with white of egg and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. With a large pair of scissors cut toward the center of the ring, but not quite to the center, at intervals of two inches, placing the cut section each time flat on the tin, giving it a petal-like appearance. When light, bake in a hot oven (400° F.).

</table>

Cool the milk, add the yeast and one-half the flour. When light add salt, sugar, shortening, egg and remaining flour. Knead lightly on well-floured board. Let rise until double in bulk, roll out and cut with biscuit-cutter. Place on well-oiled pans, let rise and bake in hot oven (400° F.).

RAISED BUCKWHEAT CAKES

<td>2 cups buckwheat flour</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1/4 cup warm water</td>
<td>1 teaspoon soda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1/3 cup hot milk</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Pour the boiling water over the corn-meal and let stand until it swells. Soften the yeast in the lukewarm water. After the corn-meal is cool, add the molasses, salt, yeast and flour. Beat thoroughly and set in a warm place to rise over night. It should rise and fall again by the morning. Then add a teaspoon of soda dissolved in the hot milk, stir well, and bake on a hot griddle.

When the cakes are desired frequently (say, three times a week), fresh yeast will not be required after the first making, if a little more than a pint of the batter is reserved each time and kept in a cool place to be used instead of the yeast. Molasses in buckwheat cakes helps to give them a good color in frying. Without it, they may be gray and unattractive.

RAISED MUFFINS

1 cup scalded milk 1 yeast cake softened in
1/4 teaspoon salt 1/4 cup warm water
4 tablespoons sugar 3 1/2 cups flour
2 tablespoons shortening 1 egg

Add the scalded milk to the salt, sugar and shortening. When lukewarm, add the yeast and one and one-half cups flour. Beat thoroughly. When very light, add the beaten egg and the remaining flour. Mix well and let the dough rise until double in bulk. Shape into portions small enough to fit into muffin-tins. Brush the top with egg-white slightly beaten and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Let rise in a well-oiled tin and bake in a hot oven (400°-425° F.).

COFFEE CAKE

1 cup scalded milk 1/3 cup sugar
1 cake yeast softened in 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup warm water 4 tablespoons shortening
2 cups flour (about) Sugar, cinnamon
1 egg

Cool the milk and add the yeast and one-half the flour. Beat well and let rise until very light. Add the slightly beaten egg, sugar, salt and melted fat, mix thoroughly and add remaining flour. Let rise until almost double in bulk. Pour into shallow, greased pans. When light, sprinkle thickly with sugar and cinnamon. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven (400° F.).
Serve hot. See page 476 for Upside-Down Cakes.

HOT CROSS BUNS

1 cup scalded milk 1 yeast cake softened in
1/4 teaspoon salt 1/4 cup warm water
1/2 cup sugar 4 1/2 cups flour (about)
1/2 cup shortening 3 egg-yolks

Add scalded milk to salt, sugar and shortening. When lukewarm, add yeast and one and one-half cups flour. Beat well and let rise until very light. Add the egg-yolks and the remaining flour. Knead lightly and let rise until double in bulk.
Roll out dough to one inch thickness and cut into rounds. Set these close together on a greased pan and let rise. Glaze the surface of each bun with a little egg-white diluted with water.
With a sharp knife cut a cross on top of each bun. Bake about twenty minutes in a hot oven (400° F.). Just before removing from the oven, brush with sugar and water. Fill the cross with a plain frosting. A cup of raisins may be added to the dough, if desired.

Brioche

| 1 cup milk, scalded | 2 yeast cakes |
| 2/3 cup butter | 1/4 cup lukewarm water |
| 2 teaspoons salt | 4 eggs, well beaten |
| 1/2 cup sugar | Melted butter |
| 4 1/2 cups bread flour |

Scald milk and add butter, salt and sugar; stir until butter dissolves. When tepid, add yeast previously soaked in water, and beaten eggs. Sift flour before measuring, beating well into mixture. Allow to rise in warm place six hours. Refrigerate over night or until ready to use. Form quickly into small balls to 1/3 size of muffin tins or glasses. Brush tops with melted butter and let rise until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for 20 minutes.

For Braids—Dust a bread-board lightly with flour and roll brioche dough gently into a sheet about one-half inch thick. Cut the dough in strips one-half inch wide, leaving one end uncut. Place on greased baking-sheet and brush the cut edges with melted fat. Fold the strips over each other to form a braid. Pinch both ends of braid together, flatten, and press down on pan to prevent strips separating and losing shape.

To Make Bow-Knots—Twist strips of brioche dough lightly and tie in a bow-knot. Bring the ends down and press to the pan.

For a Dessert—A very good simple dessert is made by baking this mixture in small shapes in muffin-tins and serving it with chopped fruit and a fruit sauce poured over it.

Raised Doughnuts

| 1 cup scalded milk | 1 yeast cake softened in |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1/4 cup lukewarm water |
| 3/4 cup sugar | 3 1/2 to 4 cups flour |
| 2 tablespoons shortening | 1 egg |
| | 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg |

Add scalded milk to salt, sugar and fat. When lukewarm, add the softened yeast. Add one and one-half cups flour. Allow the sponge to stand in a warm place until it is so light that it will fall at the slightest touch. Add the egg, nutmeg, and remainder of the flour and knead. The dough should be softer than bread dough. Cover and set in a warm place to rise. Toss on a lightly floured board and roll until three-fourths inch thick. Cut with a doughnut cutter and let rise. Fry in deep fat (360°-370° F.) two to three minutes. When frying, put the raised side of the doughnut down in the fat. The heat will cause the top side to rise by the time the doughnut is ready to turn.

Scald the milk. Allow it to cool until it is lukewarm; then add the sugar, corn-meal and salt. If shortening is used, add it. Place in a fruit can or a heavy crock or pitcher and surround by water at about 120° F. Water at this temperature is the hottest in which the hand can be held without inconvenience. Approximately this temperature can be secured by mixing equal parts of boiling water and cold (not icy) water. Allow the mixture to stand for six or seven hours, or until it shows signs of fermentation. When it is fermented sufficiently the gas can be heard as it escapes. This leaven contains enough liquid for one loaf. If more loaves are needed, add 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, and 1 tablespoonful shortening for each additional loaf to be made. Beat thoroughly and put the sponge again at the temperature of about 120° F. When it is very light, add more flour gradually until the dough is so stiff that it can be kneaded without sticking to the hands or to the board. Knead ten or fifteen minutes; put at once into the pans; allow to rise until about two and one-half times its original bulk, and bake. This bread is never so light as bread raised with yeast. A loaf made with one cup of liquid therefore will come not quite up to the top of a pan of standard size.

Pour hot milk over butter, sugar and salt. Crumble yeast into lukewarm water to soften. Cool milk to lukewarm, add yeast and well-beaten eggs. Beat in flour to make a soft dough, then turn out on a floured board and knead until smooth. Form into a ball and place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. When light, shape into a long roll about one inch in diameter. Coil the roll into a greased cake pan, beginning at the outside edge and covering the bottom. Brush with honey topping. Let rise until double in bulk and bake in moderate oven (375°F) 25 to 30 minutes.

Honey Topping:

\begin{align*}
\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup butter} & \quad 1 \text{ egg white} \\
\frac{2}{3} \text{ cup confectioners' sugar} & \quad 2 \text{ tablespoons honey, warmed}
\end{align*}

Cream all ingredients together and brush over Twist before baking.

USES FOR STALE BREAD

Many ways to prepare stale bread for use in canapés are found on page 159. Use the cookie cutter freely to produce additional designs. For bread croustades see page 329. If a lid is wanted, cut slice of stale bread to fit and toast, using an olive or radish attached with a toothpick for a knob handle (page 314).

Day-old rolls make excellent quick canapés. Cut off one end, scoop out soft center and pack the shell tight with any good canapé paste: anchovy butter, sardine paste, deviled lobster paste, Roquefort cheese, or any other favorite. Wrap in wax paper and keep in refrigerator. When needed slice thin, arrange carefully on a tin and brown lightly under the broiler. Garnish with olive rings, radish slices or parsley.
QUICK BREADS

QUICK breads are those breads or bread-like mixtures which are made up and baked at once. The essentials of quick breads are a liquid and flour. When leavening agents are used they act quickly and make the mixture light without a long period of waiting.

Quick breads may be improved in flavor and texture by the addition of salt, sugar, eggs, shortening, etc., in various combinations and proportions. Shortening and eggs contribute liquid to the mixture, which explains apparent discrepancies in proportions given in various recipes for quick breads.

READY-TO-USE FLOURS—Prepared flours which contain leavening and other ingredients require only milk or water to make excellent griddle cakes. The addition of eggs and shortening produces a batter suitable for muffins, waffles, and similar quick breads.

Types of Quick Breads

There are four types of quick breads—the pour batter, the drop batter, the soft dough and the stiff dough; the latter is seldom used.

THE POUR OR THIN BATTER will pour easily from a spoon or a pitcher and can vary in degree of thinness. The breakfast puff and the popover mixtures are examples of the thinnest batter, while the griddle-cake and the waffle mixtures are examples of a thicker pour batter.

THE DROP, OR THICK, BATTER does not pour readily, but drops in a soft moist mass from a spoon or must be shaken or helped free from it. Muffins and fritters are examples of the drop batter.

THE SOFT DOUGH can be handled more or less easily. Biscuits and some cookie mixtures are examples of the soft dough.

THE STIFF DOUGH can be handled easily, and some force must be used to roll it out. The Southern beaten biscuit and noodles are examples of the stiff dough.
Approximate Proportions of Liquid to Flour in Making Quick Breads

Pour or Thin Batter—Use 1 cup liquid with 1 to 1½ cups flour
Drop or Thick Batter—Use 1 cup liquid with 1½ to 2 cups flour
Soft Dough—Use 1 cup liquid with 2 to 2½ cups flour
Stiff Dough—Use 1 cup liquid with 4 to 5 cups flour

Methods of Mixing Quick Breads

Muffin Method—This method is usually used for the batter type of quick bread. The dry ingredients are mixed and sifted, then the liquid and egg (if used) are added, either separately or combined. When well mixed, the melted shortening is beaten in.

Cake Method—This method is used for the richer muffins. The shortening is creamed, the sugar stirred in, then the beaten egg added. The rest of the dry ingredients are mixed and sifted and added gradually to the first mixture alternately with the liquid.

Biscuit Method—The dry ingredients are mixed and sifted and the shortening cut in with knives or worked in with the tips of the fingers, it being necessary to keep the fat hard until the dough goes into the oven. If the shortening becomes warm, or is melted, the result is not flaky and flakiness should be a characteristic of biscuits.

Popover Mixtures should be thoroughly beaten with an egg-beater for several minutes, in order to introduce as much air as possible and to break the liquid present into tiny droplets. The mixture, being very thin, will not hold air very long, so it should be poured immediately into the baking containers, which may be of tin, glass, aluminum, earthenware, iron or steel. If metal containers are used, they should be hot when the batter is poured into them, so that the baking may begin as soon as the pans are put into the oven. A hot oven is needed at first and until the batter has risen to full height, then the temperature should be reduced in order to prevent burning.

For Griddle-cakes and Waffles the griddles and irons should stand perfectly level; then if the batter is poured steadily from a pitcher or from the tip of a large spoon, it will spread itself evenly.

Muffin Mixtures and Similar Batters should be stirred and beaten only enough to combine ingredients thoroughly and produce smoothness of texture. The muffins should be baked at once.

Soft Doughs should be handled as little as possible and kneaded only enough to make a smooth surface, free from dry flour. Much kneading develops a stretchiness in the dough which detracts from flakiness. The dough should be rolled or patted out to one-half inch or more in thickness if thick, soft biscuits are desired, or rolled out to one-quarter inch in thickness if thin, crusty biscuits are desired. The biscuits should be baked at once.

Baking Temperatures For Quick Breads

All quick breads should be baked in a moderate to hot oven (350°-460° F.).

POPOVERS

1¼ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 teaspoon sugar
1 cup milk

Mix the flour, salt and sugar. Gradually add the milk and the well-beaten eggs. Beat thoroughly. Have ready some small ramekins or muffin-pans, well greased and piping hot. Fill them about half full of the batter and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for twenty minutes. Lower to 350° F. and bake fifteen to twenty minutes more.

SWEET MILK GRIDDLE-CAKES

3 cups flour
2 teaspoons salt
1½ tablespoons baking-powder
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted fat

Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add the milk, gradually, beating constantly to make a smooth batter. Add the beaten egg and the fat and bake on a hot griddle. This makes a thick bready cake. If a thinner cake is desired, use more milk.

SOUR MILK GRIDDLE-CAKES

Use recipe for sweet-milk griddle-cakes, substituting thick sour milk for sweet and using one teaspoon of soda instead of the baking-powder. If thicker than liked, use water to thin.
BREAD CRUMB GRIDDLE-CAKES

1½ cups stale bread-crumbs
1½ cups scalded milk
2 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking-powder

Soak the crumbs in the milk and melted fat until they are soft. Add the eggs, well beaten, and the dry ingredients, mixed and sifted. Bake on a hot, greased griddle. The cakes are very tender and should be turned carefully.

BAKING POWDER BUCKWHEAT CAKES

1½ cups buckwheat flour
½ cup wheat flour
5 teaspoons baking-powder
1 tablespoon molasses
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1½ cups milk

Sift dry ingredients together. Add melted fat to milk and molasses, then add slowly to dry ingredients. Beat well and bake until brown on a slightly greased, hot griddle.

RICE GRIDDLE-CAKES

1 cup boiled rice
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1½ cups flour
1 tablespoon shortening
2 teaspoons baking-powder
1 egg

Put the cooked rice to soak with one cup of milk, and in the morning add the salt, sugar, shortening, flour and baking-powder. Beat the mixture well, then add the well-beaten egg and the other cup of milk. Bake on a hot greased griddle.

CORN-MEAL GRIDDLE-CAKES

1 cup corn-meal
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups milk
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking-powder
2 eggs

Put the meal, sugar, and salt into a mixing-bowl, and pour over them the boiling water. Let stand until the meal swells, then add the cold milk. When the mixture is quite cool, stir in the flour and baking-powder, mixing well, and lastly add the eggs, well beaten. Bake on a hot griddle. The cakes should be small, well browned and thoroughly cooked; they need a little longer cooking than wheat griddle-cakes.

Rub the shortening into the flour, and add the salt and baking-powder. Beat the yolks of the eggs light, add the milk to them and beat well. Add the liquid to the flour mixture, stirring until quite smooth. Beat the whites light, add them to the batter, and bake on a hot greased griddle.

Separate the yolks and whites of the eggs. To the beaten yolks add the sugar, salt and one-half cup of milk. Stir in the sifted flour, the other half cup of milk, the melted shortening, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. When eggs are high, two eggs and a half teaspoon of baking-powder may be used.

Bake on a hot griddle, making the cakes slightly larger than usual. Spread each cake with tart fruit jelly and roll while hot. Place all on a platter, side by side, with the lapped edge of the roll touching the bottom of the platter to keep the cake from spreading. Dredge with sugar and, if desired, burn lines on the sugared surface with a red hot wire toaster. This gives an attractive appearance and a slight flavor of burnt sugar.

Cream the shortening and sugar, add the beaten eggs, the flour sifted with the baking-powder and cinnamon, and the chopped apples. Then gradually add milk to make a medium batter. Bake on a griddle as for ordinary pancakes and serve in an overlapping row around a platter of pork chops, or serve separately with roast pork, either hot or cold. Cooked apples or a dry apple sauce may be used with batter in the same way.

Scrub and pare the potatoes and grate into cold water to keep them from discoloring. Drain well and add the egg, well-beaten, the flour, and sufficient milk to make a stiff batter. Season with salt, pepper and onion-juice. Cook in a frying-pan with hot fat to the depth of about one-half inch. A large spoonful of batter makes a good-sized cake. Cook until well browned and crisp and serve as a vegetable with meat and gravy. Especially good with a stew.

JELLY CORN MUFFINS

Use the recipe for corn-meal muffins. Fill greased muffin-tins one-fourth full, put a teaspoon of jelly on the top of the batter in each cup, cover the jelly with more batter and bake in a hot oven (400°-425° F.).

CORN MUFFINS WITH DATES

1 cup white corn-meal 1 cup flour
2 tablespoons brown sugar 4 teaspoons baking-powder
1 teaspoon salt 1 egg
2 tablespoons shortening 1/2 cup chopped dates
1 1/4 cups milk

Mix the corn-meal, sugar, salt and melted shortening. Scald the milk, pour it over the mixture, and let it stand until the meal swells. When cool, add the flour sifted with the baking-powder, the well-beaten egg and the dates. Beat thoroughly, and bake in greased muffin-tins in a hot oven (400°-425° F.).

CORN-MEAL ROLLS

1 1/4 cups bread flour 1/3 cup milk

4 \text{ teaspoons baking-powder} \quad \frac{3}{4} \text{ cup liquid (all milk or half milk and half water)}
1 \text{ teaspoon salt}

Mix dry ingredients and sift twice. Work in shortening with tips of the fingers, or cut in with two knives. Add the liquid gradually, mixing with a knife to a soft dough. Owing to differences in flours, it is not always possible to determine the exact amount of liquid. Toss on a floured board, pat and roll lightly to one-half inch in thickness. Shape with a biscuit-cutter. Bake in hot oven (450°-460° F.) twelve to fifteen minutes.

Emergency Biscuit—Use the recipe for baking-powder biscuit, using more liquid to make the dough soft enough to drop from the spoon. The amount of the liquid in this recipe, in most cases, will be just half the amount of flour (two cups of flour to one cup liquid). Drop the biscuit on to a well-greased pan, or into greased muffin-tins. Bake in a hot oven (450°-460° F.).

2 tablespoons sugar, white or brown
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

AN encyclopedia published about 1900 defines a sandwich as “an article of food consisting of a slice of meat, fish, fowl or other food placed between two slices of bread, which may be plain or buttered.” No such simple definition could be given today, for from these simple beginnings the sandwich has developed in all directions, and has adapted itself to such varied needs that it ranges from a fragile morsel served with afternoon tea to an elaborate combination of toast, meat, lettuce, tomato, sauce, and any number of other things which combine to make it a complete and satisfying meal.

Even the requirement of two slices of bread with something between them is no longer in force. “Open-faced” sandwiches offer almost unlimited opportunity for variety in both cold and hot meals. In these the slices of bread or toast are laid side by side. Sometimes, usually in hot meat sandwiches, both slices are covered with beef or chicken, or whatever gives the characteristic flavor, and the whole is covered with gravy. Often, especially in cold sandwiches, one slice holds its chicken or tomato or crab meat, while its companion is covered with cole slaw and pickles or a lettuce leaf holding a spoonful of mayonnaise. The possibilities are endless, and the suggestions given here can be combined and adapted to almost any requirement where a sandwich can be called into service.

Serving Sandwiches

Garnishes of fine parsley, cress, celery plumes, stuffed or ripe olives, or slices of lemon or pickle are effective on the serving-dish. Barberries and leaves, fresh nasturtium leaves and blossoms, or something to indicate the kind of sandwich may be used as a garnish.

Making and Keeping Sandwiches

The bread for flat sandwiches should be a day old because it can be cut more easily than fresh bread. For rolled sandwiches fresh bread should be used. Bread baked in special tins which provide slices that are perfect squares or circles is economical when the crusts are to be cut off, but any loaf of comparatively fine grain may be used.

The Bread

All sorts of breads are made into sandwiches—white, brown, rye, graham, whole-wheat, raisin, date, nut, etc. Sometimes two or more kinds are used together. Long narrow rolls are attractive when sliced lengthwise, buttered and filled. For picnics, where a substantial filling is desirable, the crumb of the roll may be removed and the hollow filled with sandwich material. Thin salt wafers and crackers are often used instead of bread for paste sandwiches.

For fancy sandwiches, to be used for tea or receptions, or as an appetizer at the beginning of the meal, or to be served with the salad, the bread should be cut into slices as thin as possible and the crusts should be removed. Use a sharp knife, so that there will be no ragged edges.

Picnic and lunch-box sandwiches are cut somewhat thicker than fancy sandwiches, and the crusts are generally left on.

Butter and Filling

The filling and butter for sandwiches should be increased in proportion to the thickness of the slice of bread.

Preparing the Butter—The butter should be thoroughly creamed before it is used or it will not spread evenly over the bread. To cream butter, place it in a warm bowl and mash and beat it until it is soft. It will then spread well even on fresh bread. Sandwich butters are often made by creaming one cup of butter with one-half cup of cream. One-half cup of butter, creamed, will spread a two-pound sandwich loaf cutting forty to forty-five slices.

Relishes such as mustard, salt, grated horseradish, chopped parsley, chives and curry may be added to creamed butter for use in sandwiches of meat, tomato, game, chicken, fish, cheese or eggs.

Spreading Butter and Filling—A poorly buttered sandwich is very unpalatable. Spread the butter to the very edges of the slices, on the sides that are to be put together, being careful, however, not to let the butter spread over the edges so that it is untidy. If the slices need not be fitted together, it is often easier to spread the bread before cutting it from the loaf. A pliable knife or small spatula is a help in spreading butter or filling.

Spread the filling on the buttered surface of one slice only of each sandwich. Have the filling come to the edge of the sandwich, if possible.

When mayonnaise is used, not combined with a filling, as in mayonnaise and lettuce sandwiches, it is more evenly distributed if it is spread on one of the slices of bread and the lettuce leaf placed upon it.

Shaping the Sandwiches

Sandwiches may be cut with a knife into triangles, oblongs and similar outlines, or shaped with cutters into hearts, circles, crescents or any preferred design. When sandwiches are shaped with these fancy cutters, the bread should be shaped before it is spread, to avoid waste of butter and filling. Care must be taken afterward, however, not to spoil the shape while spreading. Heart, club, spade and diamond shapes are popular for card parties. Heart shapes are attractive for valentine and announcement parties and for showers. Strips, triangles, circles, crescents and rolled and folded sandwiches are used for teas.

Rolled Sandwiches—Cut the crusts from a fresh loaf of bread (or if a stale loaf of bread is used, cut off the crusts and wrap for an hour in a cloth wrung from cold water). Spread a thin layer of butter on one end of the loaf and then cut from it as thin a slice as possible. If a filling is used, spread it on the buttered slice. Roll this slice with the spread side inward and lay it on a napkin, with the edge of the slice downward. When all the sandwiches have been prepared, draw the napkin firmly around the rolls and put them in a cold place until needed. The butter will harden and hold the rolls together.

Time Savers in Sandwich Making

In making sandwiches in quantity, route the work so that there will be no waste motions. Have a large enough space for (1) cutting the bread; (2) spreading the slices with butter and filling; (3) shaping and (4) wrapping the sandwiches.

Keeping Sandwiches

Sandwiches are best prepared just before serving, especially if the filling is of a kind that will become limp or soak into the bread. When it is necessary to make sandwiches several hours before they are to be used, they may be wrapped in paraffin paper or a slightly dampened cloth or placed in a stone jar.

Filling for Meat and Salad Sandwiches

When sliced meat is used, a sandwich is easier to eat and generally more palatable if the meat is cut as thin as a knife-blade with several tiny slices instead of one thick one in each sandwich. Fancy butters are excellent with sliced meat.

All kinds of potted and minced meats are used between slices of bread with or without mayonnaise. Salted meat and fish fillings are improved by lemon-juice, chopped pickles or capers. Pastes of fresh fish and meat require high seasoning.

All forms of meat may be used with lettuce or cress, between two slices of buttered bread, with or without salad dressing. The slices should be pressed together and the crust trimmed, if desired. Lettuce may be used in large, crisp leaves, or in "ribbons," to make the sandwich easier to eat. Where mayonnaise dressing is used, the sandwiches should be made at the last moment, and served promptly. Tomatoes and cucumbers with lettuce and mayonnaise make delicious salad sandwiches.

Filling for Tea Sandwiches

The tea sandwich is seldom made of meat, though such things as minced chicken, lobster, or crab meat, and sardines beaten to a paste, are sometimes used for it. The bread is cut very thin and the fillings may be a bit of lettuce spread with mayonnaise dressing, chopped olives, nasturtiums, watercress and similar morsels. An attractive sandwich is made from diminutive Vienna rolls split not quite through and spread with vegetable filling. Another tea sandwich is made by spreading jelly or preserves between two salt crackers. If the crackers are spread with a thin film of butter and crisped quickly in a hot oven, this form of sandwich is really worth eating. Almond sandwiches of all varieties are delicious for the tea-table.

Filling for Sweet Sandwiches

Preserves of all kinds, drained from their sirup, marmalade, jam, jelly, crystallized and candied fruits are used for sweet sandwiches with graham or salt wafers, as well as with bread or sponge cake. The crystallized fruits may be sliced thin and dipped in cream, chopped fine, moistened in orange-juice, and spread between bread or lady-fingers.

Scraped or grated maple sugar mixed with chopped nuts is used with brown bread. Ice-cream is cut in slices and put between wafers or layers of sponge cake.

Tiny tea biscuits make an excellent foundation for sweet sandwiches. They are split and buttered while hot and filled with honey and almonds, cream cheese and jam, or chopped nuts and marmalade. They are best served warm.

Filling for Nut Sandwiches

Pignolias or pine nuts, butternuts, walnuts, hickory nuts, almonds and pecans may all be put through a meat-chopper, mixed, a very little salt added, and spread over thin, buttered slices of brown or white bread. Or, to the ground nuts may be added a little salt and paprika and either salad oil or creamed butter to make a smooth paste.

The salty taste of peanut butter is good with raisin bread. Peanuts may be rubbed to a paste with creamed butter and a layer of chopped preserved ginger added.

Butternuts, walnuts, hickory nuts, almonds, or pecans may be used in equal parts, ground fine, with cream cheese moistened with sweet thick cream and seasoned with salt. Grated American cheese may be used instead of cream cheese and melted butter instead of cream.

PETITE MARMITE

Yeast bouillon, on the market as cubes or paste, makes an excellent spread for sandwiches, hors d’oeuvres and appetizers. It may be used alone or mixed with butter or other pastes. Its strong flavor makes it especially desirable with milder flavored fillings.

THE PIE CANAPÉ

An attractive canapé plate may be made by cutting twice horizontally, through a round loaf of rye bread. The slice should be \(\frac{3}{4}\) inch thick and free of crust. Spread with softened butter and mayonnaise dressing. concentric rings. Fill the center with caviar, piling chopped parsley or egg yellow at very center. Surround with circle of cream cheese tinted with vegetable coloring pressed from a pastry bag. Continue these rings of appetizer paste and colored cream cheese in accordance with your taste or color scheme. Use red salmon paste, sardellen paste, anchovy paste, shrimp paste, etc. When finished, use a very sharp knife to cut like a pie but do not separate. Serve cold within a few hours.

HOT SANDWICHES

The hot sandwich is now frequently used as a supper or luncheon dish with a salad. It is sometimes served as a breakfast dish and even a dessert may now be served in sandwich form, as, for instance, slices of ice-cream between slices of sponge cake.

There are several types of hot sandwiches. Some are made from plain bread and served with hot sauce; in others the framework of the sandwich is toast, sautéed slices of bread, French-fried toast or fresh slices of bread baked with the sandwich-filling; and in still others hot baking-powder biscuit or crisp toasted crackers are used.

Then besides the regulation kind of sandwich—a filling between two slices of breadstuff—there is the open-faced kind, in which the top slice is left off and a garnish of cut parsley, pickle, olive or grated cheese is used instead of the covering slice.

And, lastly, there is a third and novel type of sandwich in which the outer structure is of meat. This is cut in thin slices, dipped in fritter batter and fried in fat, and a filling of vegetables is placed between the slices.

GRILLED CHEESE SANDWICHES

Between two slices of medium thick bread, lay slices of cheese cut about one-eighth inch thick. Place in oven until cheese begins to melt. Then toast on both sides and serve hot. Or mash a soft cheddar cheese with cream. Spread this as a filling and toast the sandwich.

On this lay two small white lettuce leaves, allowing them to project beyond the edge of the toast. On the lettuce lay thin slices of breast of chicken spread with mayonnaise. Cover with a slice of toast, spread with mayonnaise and cover with slices of crisp bacon. A slice of tomato or onion may be placed over the bacon. Place the third slice of toast on this and garnish with pickles or olives. Serve while the toast and bacon are hot.

Suggestions for Breakfast Sandwiches

Poached egg on toast is an open-faced sandwich. Rolls split, toasted, and buttered, with broiled tender bacon placed between them, or bacon between crisply toasted slices of well buttered corn bread are other forms of breakfast sandwiches.

Creamed oysters on toast, scrambled eggs on buttered toast spread with anchovy paste, creamed codfish between two slices of buttered toast are all in the breakfast category of sandwiches. To make a variation of French toast that takes it out of the sweet and puts it into the meat class, spread buttered slices of bread with deviled ham, put the slices together in twos, dip them into a mixture of egg and milk in proportion of two eggs to one cup of milk, and then sauté the slices in butter until they are nicely brown on both sides.

Old fashioned country sausage may be cut in thin rounds, fried a delicate brown and served between hot, savory pancakes of the same size as the sausage slices.

Suggestions for Hot Sandwiches

Hot sandwiches should be substantial and filling without losing the chief characteristic of all sandwiches—ease in handling. For this reason rolls and buns are often more satisfactory than sliced bread or toast.

Broiled Hamburger steaks on round rolls are always popular. The meat mixture may be varied by rolling a stuffed olive in each; by adding strips of bacon crosswise after the first turning, or by a slice of Bermuda onion on both sides. Chopped pickles, carrots, celery or radishes may be added to the meat before broiling.

1. Broiled pineapple with sliced hot chicken, hot turkey or hot duck, on whole wheat bread. 2. Broiled ham with a slice of pineapple, either fresh or canned, served on white toast. 3. Sliced roast lamb with grilled fresh pineapple on toasted English muffins. 4. Sliced hard-cooked egg with hot anchovy sauce on Boston brown bread. 5. Hot roast veal with anchovy sauce and grilled tomato on rye roll. 6. Grilled tomato with Cheddar cheese on rye toast. 7. Hot smoked tongue with fried apples on toasted English muffins. 8. Hot corned beef with grilled sweet potato and endive on finger rolls.
TOAST

BREAD for toast should be cut in slices from one-eighth to one-half inch thick and toasted over a clear fire or in a gas or electric toaster until both sides are an even, rich golden brown. Unless a toaster with an automatic timing and turning device is used, the slices should be turned two or three times to avoid warping.

CRISP DRY TOAST

Cut the crust from stale bread. Slice the bread as thin as a wafer, dry it on a pan lined with paper, in the oven, leaving the door open. When it is entirely dry, close the oven door and brown slightly.

TOAST MELBA

Cut bread in one-eighth-inch slices and toast until it is crisp.

BUTTERED TOAST

Toast bread until crisp and a rich brown on both sides. Butter while hot and serve at once.

WATER TOAST

Toast bread until crisp and brown. Pour into a soup-plate one cup boiling water and one teaspoon salt. Dip the toast into this water and remove at once. Spread lightly with butter and serve immediately.

MILK TOAST

No. 1
Toast bread, butter it well, sprinkle with salt and pour scalded milk over it.

No. 2

Salt

Make a white sauce of the flour, butter, milk and salt and pour it over the buttered toast.
CREAM TOAST

6 slices buttered toast
1 tablespoon flour

TOMATO CREAM TOAST

6 slices buttered toast
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons butter
Salt

FRIED TOAST OR FRENCH TOAST

12 slices bread ½ inch thick
3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk

Beat the eggs, add the milk and salt. Dip slices of bread into the mixture and sauté in a little hot fat until a delicate brown on both sides. Serve hot. Sprinkle with powdered sugar or serve maple sirup with the toast.

CINNAMON TOAST

Spread hot toast with butter and sprinkle generously with a mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Place on the top shelf of the oven or under the broiler just long enough to melt the sugar.

TOASTED LOAF AND CORNUCOPIA

Remove all but the bottom crust from loaf of bread. Cut through center, lengthwise, then into equal sections crosswise. Brush with melted butter and brown in 375° oven.

CORNUCOPIA—Remove crusts from sliced bread, lay thick cheese strip diagonally, fold bread to opposite corners, fasten with toothpick, brush with melted butter and brown in moderate oven (350° F.). Remove toothpicks to serve.

APPETIZERS

STRICT convention in England and America at one time decreed that the formal dinner should begin with soup, but that custom is no longer binding even in the most formal household. Other dishes to introduce the meal have crept in and because of their savory qualities have found ready and general acceptance. Appetizers, they are usually called. Sometimes they are referred to as relishes or as hors d’oeuvres, because they are often a glorified edition of the old side dish now given a conspicuous place as a separate course by itself.

Characteristics of the Appetizer

The appetizer must have distinct, piquant flavor and appetite-whetting qualities. Pickled and salted foods, acids, pepper and paprika play a conspicuous part in their manufacture. Raw oysters and clams, grapefruit, melons and fruit cocktails, canapés and small sandwiches spread with pastes of sardines, anchovies and caviar, lobster and crabmeat, pâté de foie gras, cheese, olives and other mixtures of high flavor, deviled eggs, small succulent salads, may all be included without prejudice in the list of appetizers. In parts of the United States, the dinner is always begun with the salad as the appetizer.

Serving the Appetizer

The appetizer should always be served in small portions because the purpose of this course is to whet but not to satisfy the appetite. At formal dinners and luncheons, the same kind of appetizer is generally served to all the guests, but at more informal meals the hostess may give her guests an opportunity to choose their own appetizers. In that case a number of portions of various kinds are arranged on a regulation hors d’oeuvre tray or on a chop plate or small platter which is passed to each guest.

Each portion must be arranged so that it may be lifted from the tray by the guest and transferred to his plate without trouble. Suitable service silver—usually a tablespoon and large fork—must be laid on each tray.
The following combination will serve as a suggestion for the arrangement of a tray:

1. A crab salad. 2. An onion and green pepper salad. 3. Three or four olives on a small lettuce leaf. 4. A sandwich made of cress and brown bread and butter. 5. An oblong or square of aspic jelly on a lettuce leaf with an anchovy or sardine on the jelly. 6. Half of a deviled egg on a lettuce leaf or in a bed of cress. 7. Cream cheese balls rolled in chopped chipped beef. 8. Cream cheese balls rolled in caviar. 9. Large stuffed olives filled with sharp cheese, wrapped in bacon and broiled until bacon is crisp. 10. Center celery stalks stuffed with Roquefort cheese paste or anchovy paste. 11. Small sweet pickles rolled in cream cheese then in a strip of smoked salmon, fastened with toothpick. 12. Rolled anchovies in broiled mushrooms. 13. Caviar in broiled mushrooms. 14. Tiny meat balls in broiled mushrooms. 15. Chicken liver balls rolled in chopped chipped beef.

Shell Fish

Oysters or clams on the half-shell, oyster, clam, lobster or crab cocktails may be used as the appetizer. The recipes are given in the chapter on “Fish.”

Canapés

PREPARED BREAD FOR ALL CANAPÉS

Canapés are made from stale white bread, cut in quarter-inch slices and then shaped with a cutter into circles two and one-half or three inches in diameter or cut into squares, strips, triangles or other fancy shapes. These portions of bread may then be fried in deep fat and drained on absorbent paper, or sautéed in just enough fat to keep them from burning, or toasted or set in the oven until they turn a delicate brown. When finished they should be nicely browned on both sides. They are then ready to be covered with the mixture preferred.

ANCHOVY CANAPES

| 6 portions prepared bread | 3 teaspoons lemon-juice |
| 3 tablespoons anchovy paste | 2 hard-cooked eggs | Whole anchovies for garnish (may be omitted) |

Anchovy paste, which comes in tubes, jars or bottles, may be utilized, or whole anchovies may be reduced to a smooth paste with a wooden spoon. Season with lemon-juice and spread the paste on the prepared pieces of bread. Split anchovy lengthwise and lay the halves diagonally across the canapé, marking the point where they cross by a little pyramid of riced yolk of hard-cooked eggs. Petal-shaped pieces of the hard-cooked white may radiate from this center pyramid. A large anchovy curved around a circle of hard-cooked egg in the center of a canapé is also effective. The anchovies may be omitted from the garnish.

SARDINE OR LOBSTER OR OTHER SEA FOOD CANAPÉS

<td>6 large olives</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>24 thin slices lemon</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Remove skin and backbone and flake the sardines with a fork. Or chop cooked lobster meat very fine. Season with lemon-juice, salt and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Spread the prepared bread with the mixture and decorate by placing in the center of each canapé a small circle of pickled beet. Cut a slice from the end of a large olive so that it will stand firmly and place this in the center of the beet. A narrow border of minced beet may be placed around the edge of the canapé with good effect. Garnish the plate with four thin slices of lemon placed symmetrically.

Crab meat, shrimps or any smoked or canned fish, highly seasoned and attractively garnished, may be utilized for canapés instead of the sardines or lobster meat.

CAVIAR CANAPÉS

<table>

<th>6 portions prepared bread</th>

<tbody>
<tr>

Garnish of green pepper or hard-cooked egg

Caviar, which is the salted roe of the sturgeon, is highly esteemed by epicures as an appetizer. It is usually served with minced raw onion and decorated with hard-cooked egg and minced pickles. A favorite arrangement is to have an oblong canapé two by four inches, one half covered with the minced raw onion and the other half with the caviar. The striking difference in the colors is very effective. A sliver of green pepper may lie just where the two mixtures meet and little points of the green pepper extend out on each side, or a circle of the white of hard-cooked egg may decorate the center of the half covered with caviar and a little mound of the riced yolk ornament the section covered by the chopped onion.

CHEESE AND OLIVE CANAPÉS

6 portions prepared bread  3 tablespoons cream cheese  Olives stuffed with pimientos

Garnish of red pepper or pickled beet

Spread on the prepared bread a paste made by mixing equal proportions of cream cheese and chopped stuffed olives. Garnish with a quarter-inch border of the chopped olives and a star of red pepper or pickled beet in the center of each canapé.

PÂTÉ DE FOIE GRAS CANAPÉS

6 portions prepared bread  3 tablespoons pâté de foie gras paste or imitation pâté de foie gras  ¼ cup cream  Cayenne pepper  Salt  Parsley

Add the cream and seasoning to the paste. Rub through a fine sieve and spread on portions of fried bread. Garnish with parsley.

IMITATION PÂTÉ DE FOIE GRAS

½ cup chicken livers  2 tablespoons chicken fat or butter  ¼ onion, chopped  Salt and pepper  Mustard or celery salt

Carefully clean, cook and chop chicken livers and mash them to a paste with a wooden spoon. Chop the onion fine and fry in the fat till yellowed. Place the livers, the fat and the onion in a cup, mix well and season with pepper and salt, and either mustard or celery salt, according to taste. Place at once on ice. This preparation makes excellent sandwiches.
Suggestions for Mixtures to Be Used in Making Canapés

1. Anchovy paste mixed with lemon-juice.
2. Shredded tuna fish mixed with lemon-juice and mayonnaise.
3. Chopped lobster meat mixed with cream and seasoned with salt, pepper and lemon-juice.
4. Cream cheese and chopped stuffed olives.
5. Minced red and green peppers mixed with mayonnaise and seasoned with salt, pepper and lemon-juice.
6. Sardine paste mixed with lemon-juice, salt and Worcestershire sauce.
7. A layer of anchovy paste covered with a paste of shredded crab meat, cream cheese and butter, seasoned with salt and pepper.
8. Devilled ham mixed with chopped hard-cooked egg and horseradish.

Fruit Appetizers

Fruit cocktails may be made from mixtures of almost any fruits, canned or fresh. As a rule, combinations of a sweet and a sour fruit are most piquant in flavor. All fruit appetizers should be thoroughly chilled. The trays of the mechanical refrigerator are excellent for this purpose.

GRAPEFRUIT COCKTAILS

No. 1—Grapefruit on the Half Shell.

Cut grapefruit in half, crosswise. With a pair of sharp shears or with a grapefruit corer, cut a circular piece from the center of each half, being careful not to cut through the skin. Then with a sharp knife loosen each section from the membrane and skin. Sprinkle with sugar and set in the refrigerator to chill. Pink the edges of the skin if you prefer, and remove the pieces of membrane between the sections of fruit if you have time. In this way the shell is left with only edible portions of the fruit. In any case each mouthful of fruit should be entirely detached from the shell. Serve a half grapefruit on a plate or in a special grapefruit glass, embedded in ice.
No. 2—Grapefruit and Orange Cocktail.
1 cup diced grapefruit pulp
1 cup diced orange pulp
Sugar
Lemon-juice or grape-juice
Maraschino cherries or preserved pineapple

Mix the orange and grapefruit pulp. Sprinkle with sugar and a little lemon-juice or grape-juice. Chill, and have glasses chilled so that the whole, when served, may be very cold. At the last moment fill the glasses with the fruit mixture, garnishing with cherries or preserved pineapple.

No. 3—Grapefruit and Strawberry Cocktail.
3 grapefruit
1 pint strawberries
Sugar

Cut the grapefruit in half and carefully remove the pulp, leaving the inner white skin as lining. Place the shells in cold water to keep them firm. Mix the grapefruit pulp with the strawberries and sprinkle with sugar. Chill. At serving time, fill the shells with the mixture placing large handsome berries on top as garnish. The mixed fruit left over may be served at breakfast or used as a sauce for pudding or ice-cream.

Strawberry and Pineapple Cocktail
1 cup orange-juice
$\frac{1}{3}$ cup lemon-juice
1 cup diced pineapple
Sugar
1 cup strawberries

Combine the orange- and lemon-juice sweetened to taste, keeping the mixture rather tart. Chill. Wash and drain the strawberries and hull them. At serving time cut the berries in half (except six large ones), mix with the pineapple, place in glasses and cover with the fruit-juice. One large, perfect berry set on a tiny circle of pineapple may decorate the top of each cocktail.

Orange Mint Cocktail
6 small, rather sour oranges
Powdered sugar
Fresh mint
3 tablespoons lemon-juice or
3 tablespoons pineapple-juice
2 tablespoons sugar

Separate the orange into sections and remove the thin skin with a pair of scissors. Chill thoroughly, place in glasses, sprinkle with powdered sugar and add the lemon-juice mixed with pineapple-juice or sugar. Sprinkle with chopped mint and garnish with an upright sprig of mint in the center of the glass.

WATERMELON COCKTAIL

- 2 cups watermelon balls
- Fresh mint
- Powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon-juice

(Lemon-juice and sugar may be omitted)

With a vegetable-cutter prepare small balls of bright pink watermelon. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and add lemon-juice. Chill thoroughly. Fill glasses. Garnish with sprigs of fresh mint. A pretty fancy is to moisten the edge of each cocktail glass and invert in chopped mint before filling. This will leave a line of green adhering to the edge of the glass. The glass may be lined with sprigs of mint before the watermelon is put in.

CHERRY COCKTAIL

- 1 pound cherries
- ½ cup chopped almonds
- 3 teaspoons lemon-juice
- 6 tablespoons strawberry-juice
- 6 tablespoons powdered sugar

Pit the cherries, sprinkle with chopped almonds and pour over them a sirup made by mixing strawberry-juice with powdered sugar and lemon-juice. Chill and serve ice-cold in cocktail glasses. Decorate the plate with two or three whole cherries and a leaf or two.

MIXED FRUIT COCKTAIL

- 6 large oranges
- 1 banana
- 2 slices pineapple
- Juice of 1 lemon
- Sugar

Slice off the tops of the oranges and scoop out the inside, being careful not to break the inside white skin of the orange-peel. Put the orange cups into a bowl of ice-water. Cut in small pieces the banana and pineapple, mix these with the orange pulp cut in small pieces, add the lemon-juice, sweeten to taste, and fill the orange shells. Set each one in a small bowl, filled with crushed ice.

The mixed fruit pulp that remains after the orange skins have been filled may be kept in the refrigerator and served as sauce with ice-cream or used in any other way that circumstances suggest.

SOUPS

SOUPS may be roughly divided into two groups. In the first group belong the soups that are always made from meat stock. These are the various modifications of brown and white stocks, bouillons, consommés and broths. In the second group belong the soups that may be made either with or without meat stock. These are the various modifications of cream soups, purées and bisques, of chowders and stews and of vegetable soups.

The Value of Soup in the Dietary

The purpose of soup in the meal is two-fold; first, to improve digestion and stimulate appetite by introducing at the beginning of the meal a highly flavored liquid food which increases the flow of digestive juices; second, to increase the variety of nutrients in the meal, or even to furnish the main dish of the meal. Stock soups are chiefly valuable for the first purpose. Cream soups, purées, bisques, chowders and stews are more valuable for the second purpose.

A heavy meal should begin with an unthickened stock soup; a light meal may well begin with one of the cream variety.

Home Made and Ready to Use Soups

Not so long ago, all soups were made at home, and the stock pot was kept on the stove day in and day out; but with the gradual change from coal to gas and electricity as fuels, and with the perfecting of modern commercial canning and condensing methods, the long slow process of stock making has become less common in home kitchens.

However, in soup many valuable food materials that would otherwise be thrown out may be saved for the nourishment of the family, and some knowledge of the principles of soup making is worth while for every housekeeper. A home made soup which is lacking in strength or flavor may be easily improved by the addition of a can of soup or some of the various meat extracts obtainable.
For the small family, the canned soups are almost indispensable, and in the making of sauces and gravies, where only a small amount of stock is required, a can of soup supplies the required foundation at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Making Soup Stock

Cut Meat in Small Pieces and saw or crack bone. This is done to increase the surface exposed to the action of hot water.

Brown From One-fourth to One-half the Meat for brown stocks and consommés. This gives added color and improves flavor.

Soak the Meat and Bone in Cold Water for thirty minutes or more before cooking. This helps to extract the juices of the meat.

Heat Gradually to the Simmering-point (190°-210° F.). If stock is to be used for bouillon or consommé or any clear soup, skim at this time. Continue to simmer for three or four hours to insure as complete extraction as possible of the juices and flavor of meat. If the mixture boils, it is not so fine in flavor.

Add the Spices, Herbs, and Vegetables, and continue simmering from one-half hour to one hour. The seasonings are added at this time rather than earlier to prevent the disagreeable flavor of over-cooked vegetables.

Strain the Soup Into a Large Bowl or other container. If the stock is to be used for clear soups, place several thicknesses of cheese-cloth over the strainer before pouring the mixture through it.

Cool the Stock Quickly, because quick cooling improves the keeping quality of the soup. Soup should, if possible, always be allowed to become thoroughly cold before being used, since the fat hardens and collects in a cake on top and can be removed easily. Do not remove fat from the top of soup stock until the stock is to be used. It protects the stock against spoilage.

Keep Stock in a Cold Place, as it spoils quickly if it is not kept chilled. Spoiled stock, like spoiled meat, is dangerous food.
Using Soup Stock

When ready to use stock, loosen fat around the edges with the thin blade of a knife. Remove the cake of fat. If the stock is jellied, wipe off the remaining small pieces of fat and the edge of the bowl with a cloth wrung out in hot water. If the stock is very soft or liquid, pass small sheets of absorbent paper over the top of the stock.

When Stock Must Be Used Before Cooling, skim off all the fat possible. Most of the remainder of the fat may be removed in one of two ways. The first way is to pass over the top small sheets of absorbent paper or blotting-paper. The second way is to cool the soup as much as possible beforehand, then to wrap a piece of ice in a cloth and let it down into the stock. Move the ice around just below the surface so that the fat on the surface is suddenly chilled, and it will gather on the cloth around the ice. This must be done quickly to prevent unnecessary dilution of the stock.

For Clear Soups, take the stock from the top of the bowl, being careful to avoid any sediment which may have escaped through the sieve and settled to the bottom of the bowl. This sediment is valuable as a food and should be reserved for gravies or soups which are not necessarily clear. Clarify this stock if a translucent, sparkling soup is desired.

To Clarify Soup—Allow one egg-white and shell to one quart of stock. Crush the shell into small pieces and mix with the slightly beaten egg-white. Heat the stock just enough to liquefy it, if it is jellied. Thoroughly stir the egg-white and shell into the stock. Heat to the boiling-point, stirring constantly, then boil without stirring two to five minutes. Add a cup of cold water and set on back of stove to settle. Strain through two thicknesses of cheese-cloth. The purpose of egg in clarifying soup is the same as in coffee. The coagulated egg gathers around itself the particles of solid substance in the soup, which otherwise would be fine enough to pass through a strainer.
INGREDIENTS NEEDED TO MAKE ONE QUART OF STANDARD STOCK

Brown Stock or Bouillon.

- 2 pounds beef (¼ to ½ bone)
- 1½ quarts cold water
- 4 to 6 peppercorns
- 2 cloves
- 1 bay-leaf
- 1 blade mace
- 1 teaspoon sweet herbs
- Sprig parsley
- 1 tablespoon, each, of carrot, onion, celery, turnip
- 1 teaspoon salt

A good stock can be made by using left-over meat scraps and bones instead of the beef specified, and by substituting any available vegetables, such as the outer leaves of lettuce, celery tops, etc., for those given above. After the stock is made, left-over vegetables, cereals, hard-cooked eggs, small pieces of meat, etc., may be diced or chopped and served in the soup.

Consommé.

- 1 pound lean beef
- 1 pound veal
- 1½ quarts cold water or
  - 1 pint cold water and
  - 1 pint chicken stock
- 2 peppercorns
- 1 clove
- ½ teaspoon sweet herbs
- Sprig parsley
- 1 tablespoon each, celery, carrot, onion
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mutton or Lamb Stock or Broth—Use the same ingredients as for brown stock or bouillon, using mutton or lamb instead of beef, and removing most of the fat from the meat.

White Stock.

- 2 pounds chicken or knuckle of veal
- 1½ quarts cold water
- 2 peppercorns
- 1 clove
- ½ teaspoon sweet herbs
- 1 tablespoon, each, of onion and celery
- 1 teaspoon salt

The liquid in which a fowl or chicken is cooked is also a white stock or chicken broth.
Fish Stock or Court Bouillon.

2 pounds white fish or 1 clove
2 pounds head and trim-
Sprig parsley
nings
1 bay-leaf
1 1/4 quarts cold water 1 tablespoon, each, carrot,
1 bay-leaf
2 peppercorns celery, onion

Fish stock needs to be cooked for only half the time required for other stock.

VARIATIONS OF BROWN OR WHITE SOUP STOCK

Vegetable Soup—If a clear soup is desired, follow the directions for clarifying soup stock, and then add, to each quart of brown stock, one cup of diced vegetables, raw or cooked. If the vegetables are cooked, the soup needs to be boiled for only a few minutes. When raw vegetables are added, simmer until the vegetables are all tender, adding boiling water, if necessary, to replace any that may have evaporated. Season to taste and serve.

Sago, Rice or Barley Soup—For each quart of brown or white stock, use two tablespoons sago, rice or barley. Soak sago or rice one-half hour in enough stock or water to cover it. Barley should be soaked over night. Bring remainder of stock to simmering-point. Add soaked sago, barley, or rice and simmer in closed saucepan one-half hour.

Macaroni, Vermicelli, Spaghetti, or Noodle Soup—For each quart brown stock, use 1/4 cup macaroni, spaghetti, vermicelli or noodles broken into small pieces. Simmer the pastes in the stock until tender, adding water if necessary.

VARIATIONS OF CONSOMMÉ

Consommé Princesse—Consommé served with shreds or small dice of cooked chicken and green peas.

Consommé a la Royale—Consommé served with tiny blocks of royal custard.

Consommé Julienne or Julienne Soup—Consommé served with carrot, onions, turnips and celery cut into shreds about as thick as a match.

The vegetables should be boiled in clear water before being added to the consommé.
Unthickened Soups

Soups suitable for serving as the first course of a meal with a substantial main course are found in this group. Any of the variations of soup stock or consommé may be used for this purpose. The following recipes give directions for other soups of this variety.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY BONE SOUP

Never discard the bones of turkey or chicken as they always will make a delicious soup. Scrape the meat from the bones, break the bones, pack in a kettle, and cover with cold water, adding a small onion. Cover closely and simmer very gently for three hours. Strain and cool. One-half hour before it is to be served, return to the fire and for every quart of stock add one cup of the cold meat, season and keep hot till needed. This soup may be greatly improved by adding to it, three minutes before serving, ten oysters to each quart of soup.

CLAM BROTH

12 clams in the shell 2 cups water Paprika

Purchase large clams in the shells. Scrub them thoroughly with a brush, place them in a kettle with cold water, closely covered, and bring water to the boiling-point. As soon as the shells have opened, remove them from the broth. The clams may be served at once, in the half-shell, or taken from the shells and kept to be served in any form desired. Let the broth settle, strain, being careful not to pour out the sandy sediment, reheat, add a little red pepper or paprika, and serve hot. Twelve good-sized clams should make enough broth for six persons, but if there does not seem to be sufficient, add a little boiling water or milk. Clam broth seldom needs added salt. Water wafers heated in the oven, or divided crackers toasted on their broken surfaces, buttered and heated for a few minutes in the oven, are generally served with this broth.

Clam broth may be served, hot or cold, in cups with a heaping teaspoon of whipped cream, into which has been beaten a little salt and pepper, placed upon the top of each cup. The cream adds richness to the flavor of the soup and increases its nourishing properties.

CLEAR TOMATO SOUP

1 quart brown soup stock 4 tablespoons butter
1 can tomatoes 2 sprigs parsley
1/2 teaspoon peppercorns 1/4 cup each, onion, carrot, 1 small bay-leaf celery, raw ham, cut in dice
3 cloves Salt
3 sprigs thyme Pepper

Cook onion, carrot, celery, and ham in butter five minutes. Add tomatoes, peppercorns, bay-leaf, cloves, thyme and parsley, cover and cook slowly one hour. Strain carefully, add hot stock, and season with salt and pepper.

This recipe may be used for jellied soup or for salad.

JELLIED SOUP

1 quart clear brown, or white 2 tablespoons gelatin stock, or tomato or chicken 1/2 cup cold water
soup

Soften the gelatin in the cold water, add to the boiling hot soup, chill and serve in cups. The trays of the mechanical refrigerator are excellent for chilling soups.

Substantial Vegetable and Stock Soups

Soups in this group are suitable for serving as the first course of an otherwise light dinner or as the main course of an informal luncheon.

BEAN SOUP

3 slices bacon 1 tablespoon flour
2 cups baked or boiled beans 1 tablespoon butter
4 cups cold water Salt, pepper, paprika

Cook bacon. Add to beans. Add cold water and cook until beans are soft, then rub through a strainer. Place on the fire and add a little more water, if needed, as the soup must not be too thick. Bind with the flour and butter. Cook two or three minutes. Season with salt, a dash of pepper, and paprika.
BLACK BEAN SOUP

1 cup black beans 2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 quarts water 2 tablespoons flour
1 onion 2 hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon fat for sautéing 1/2 teaspoon mustard
2 stalks celery Pepper, salt, paprika
1 lemon

Soak the beans over night. Next morning, drain them and cover with the cold water. Add sliced onion, which has been browned in the fat, also stalks of celery broken into inch pieces. Simmer until beans are soft, adding more water from time to time. Press through a sieve, again bring to the boiling-point, and then add seasoning of mustard, pepper, salt, and paprika to taste. Bind with roux of butter and flour to prevent the soup from separating. Cut the eggs and lemon in thin slices, and add these to the strained soup just before serving.

BORSCHT
(A Famous Russian Soup)

1 bunch beets 1/2 pound breast of beef
1 cup tomatoes, fresh or 1 tablespoon lemon-juice canned 1/4 cup sugar
4 cups water 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 small onion 4 eggs

Pare the beets and cut them into long strips. Strain the tomatoes, over the beets, not letting any seeds through. Add water. Put in the onion and meat, cut into small pieces, and simmer for thirty minutes. Add lemon-juice, sugar, and salt. Boil one-half hour more. Beat the eggs with a pinch of salt. Add the hot borscht to this, a little at a time, stirring well to prevent the separating of the eggs. This will behave more or less as in any soft custard mixture. Serve at once, while very hot.

BOUILLABAISSE

This is a famous fish mixture and greatly esteemed by epicures, but it can not be recommended as economical. It has one advantage, however, and that is that if served with celery, bread and butter, and a dessert, it would provide the main dish for an excellent meal.
SOUPS

1/2 cup oil
2 onions, chopped
1 1/2 pounds haddock
1 1/2 pounds cod or halibut
2 slices lemon
1 bay-leaf
1 tomato

Put the oil and chopped onions into a large fish-kettle and cook until the onions are brown. Add the fish, cut in slices, two slices of lemon, a bay-leaf and the tomato, peeled and cut into quarters. Pour the boiling water over this mixture after it has simmered for ten minutes, and let all boil for another ten minutes. Skim, add oysters or clams and chopped parsley, also the meat of the boiled lobster, cut in large pieces, and caramel, salt, and pepper. Each portion served should include a large crouton, about two inches square, a piece of each kind of fish, a piece of lobster, and a couple of oysters.

CHICKEN GUMBO

This recipe, if followed as given, will provide the main dish for dinner. Chicken gumbo may be made by using leftovers, or the remainder after making chicken salad or boned chicken.

1 fowl (3 to 4 pounds)
1/2 cup salt pork fat
1 onion
1 quart okra, fresh or canned
5 tomatoes
1 cup cream

This is a noted Southern soup. Cut the chicken into convenient pieces and sauté until brown in salt pork fat, then place all the pieces in a saucepan. Cut a large onion into thin slices and sauté slowly for ten minutes in the fat. Add okra, cut fine, sliced tomatoes, and parsley sprigs. Sauté all of these ingredients one-half hour, quite slowly, and place them in the saucepan with the chicken. Add boiling water, pepper and salt. Simmer slowly two to four hours, or until the chicken is very tender, and then add boiled rice and cream. If more seasoning is needed, add it, and if necessary, thin with boiling water. Boil up once and serve. Cayenne pepper (one-fourth teaspoon) may be used instead of white or black pepper, if desired. Separate the bones from the chicken. Serve with pieces of chicken in the plate with the soup.
CHICKEN SOUP

This recipe provides a large bowl of substantial soup, as well as a cooked fowl, and when the soup is served the rest of the dinner should consist of light dishes. For more economical recipes see Index for chicken or turkey bone soup, and chicken broth for invalids.

1 fowl (3 to 4 pounds) 1 cup milk
½ pound ham 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 onion Salt and pepper
2 to 3 quarts water 1 tablespoon flour
¼ cup rice 1 tablespoon chicken fat

Cut up fowl into quarters, with the ham and onion, and add the water. Let this simmer until the meat is very tender, then strain,-reserving the meat to be used in any way desired. Remove all possible fat, and to one and one-fourth quarts of this soup (the remainder can be used for sauce with the meat) add well washed rice, chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Simmer until the rice is tender, add milk, then add roux made of flour and chicken fat. Cook until the mixture is thickened (about five minutes), season and serve.

GREEN PEA SOUP

2 cups stock 2 sprigs mint
1 quart water 1 tablespoon flour
1 quart green peas 1 tablespoon butter
1 celery stalk Salt and pepper
1 onion Sugar
1 turnip

Reserve one-half cup of peas, and to the stock and water add the rest of the peas, the celery stalk, onion and turnip cut into pieces, and the mint. Stew until the mass is tender. Strain through a sieve or coarse cheese-cloth. Thin with stock or water, if necessary; bind with a roux of flour and fat and season with salt, pepper, and a little sugar. Add the half cup of whole peas, stew for a few minutes, and serve.

SPLIT PEA SOUP

This recipe provides the main part of a dinner, since the ham end will serve as the meat dish. A ham bone, left over from a boiled or baked ham, will flavor pea soup quite as well as a piece bought especially for the purpose.

2 or 3 pounds ham end
1 carrot
1 onion
2 potatoes
3 quarts boiling water
1 cup split peas
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons catchup

Put the end of a moderately lean smoked ham into a kettle with carrot and peeled onion, whole potatoes, and boiling water. Boil one hour and strain. Now rinse the ham thoroughly in hot water and return to the strained stock, together with split peas which have been soaking all night, and boil for one hour. Season with salt and white pepper and add catchup. Serve at once. Thin with boiling water if too thick.

ONION SOUP GRATINÉ

3 onions
3 tablespoons butter
3 pints beef stock
3 tablespoons grated cheese
Pepper and salt
½ clove garlic (if desired)
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ loaf French bread

Slice onions and put them into a stew-pan with butter. Stir and fry slowly until softened and slightly browned. Add beef stock, boil ten minutes, skim, season, and add parsley and garlic. Cut the bread into thin slices, dry in the oven a few minutes, pour soup into a low earthen casserole, put bread on top, sprinkle with grated cheese, and set in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) just long enough to brown the cheese.

ONION STEW OR DUTCH BROTH

6 onions
5 tablespoons butter
3 cups cold water
1 egg-yolk
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups scalded milk
Salt and cayenne

Chop the onions and cook them in two tablespoons of the butter for five minutes, then add water and cook thirty minutes. Press through a sieve. Make a roux of the remaining butter and the flour, combine it with the scalded milk and add seasoning. Cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Add this milk mixture to the onion mixture. Mix thoroughly and add the egg-yolk, slightly beaten. Serve individually in Dutch bowls and place one teaspoon of grated Edam cheese on the top. Set for a few minutes in a hot oven to melt the cheese.
Thick Soups, Chowders and Stews

Cream Soups

Cream soups are made by combining a very thin white sauce, see page 308, with a suitable quantity of cooked, mashed, strained vegetable, fish or meat pulp. Irradiated evaporated milk used instead of white sauce will greatly increase the food value and when used for making white sauce will increase the flavor. Flavor is improved, too, by the use of some highly flavored vegetables or the addition of a proportion of soup stock.

Purées

Purées are made in the same way as cream soups, but are somewhat thicker. They are often served under the name of "Cream Soup."

Bisques

The name bisque is usually given to a cream soup made from fish, and the fish is often diced or mashed through a coarse strainer. A familiar example of an exception in the use of the word is mock bisque soup, or tomato bisque, as it is often called.

Chowders

Chowders were probably the common ancestors of the more refined cream soups, purées, and bisques. The word chowder comes from the French chaudière, meaning caldron. The chowder originated as a community fish stew to which each neighbor contributed something; milk, fish, potatoes, crackers, pork or some seasoning. These contributions were all cooked together in the common caldron, from which chowder derives its name, and each contributor withdrew his share of soup when it was ready.

The chowder of today is much the same as the old chowder, and consists of pieces of different vegetables or of fish and potatoes and various seasonings cooked in milk with crackers added just before serving.

Fish Stews

Fish stews are made of milk and the juice of the fish which gives flavor to the soup. They differ from the cream soups in that they need not be thickened, though they often are, and from the chowders in being less complex in composition.

Binding Thick Soups

When a vegetable, meat or fish pulp is combined with milk or stock in making soups, they separate and the solid substance sinks to the bottom of the liquid. Some flour or corn-starch cooked into the mixture will overcome this. With many of these soups the reason for using the flour or corn-starch may not necessarily be to thicken a soup which the vegetable, meat or fish pulp has already made thick enough, but to blend the liquid with the solid so that all parts of the soup will have the same consistency.

Flour or corn-starch may be mixed with enough cold liquid — milk, water, or stock — to make a creamy thickness and added carefully to the soup; or it may be combined with the soup by means of a roux (see Index). When a colored roux is desired the fat is browned before the flour is added and the mixture is cooked to a reddish brown color. When a roux is made in this way, the liquid is usually added to it gradually.

Preventing Skin on Cream Soups

A cream or milk soup has a tendency to form a skin on the top as it cools. If it is beaten just before it is served, the froth protects it against skin formation.

A spoonful of whipped cream or beaten egg-white served on top of each portion of cream soup aids in preventing the skin formation and adds to the delicacy and attractiveness of the dish.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING A STANDARD CREAM SOUP

4 cups milk or part milk and part stock
2 cups vegetable pulp or meat or fish pulp
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat
Salt, pepper, other seasonings

1. Make a white sauce of the liquid, flour, and fat.
2. Cook the vegetables or meat or fish until tender, drain, and mash through a sieve.
3. Combine the vegetable, meat, or fish pulp with the white sauce.

4. Season, beat with an egg-beater, and serve. A tiny portion of whipped cream or beaten egg-white may be served on top of each portion.

The amount of flour may be increased for purées and bisques.

VARIATIONS OF CREAM SOUP

CREAM OF ASPARAGUS OR CREAM OF CELERY SOUP—Follow directions for making a standard cream soup.

CREAM OF CORN SOUP

Soak peas or beans all night, then put them over the fire with water and bring to a boil. Cook slowly, until soft. Rub through a sieve, heat, and thicken with roux of flour and fat. Season with salt, pepper, celery salt, and onion-juice. Stir or beat until smooth and serve with croutons.

Cold Fruit Purées

In hot weather, cold fruit purées are sometimes preferred to hot soups. They are always served in cups, usually of glass, and with a few pieces of the fruit floating on the surface. They should be thoroughly chilled. The trays of the mechanical refrigerator are excellent for this purpose. These fruit purées are really as closely related to the appetizers as to the soups.
SOUPS

CHERRY PUREE

Juice from 1 quart of tart cherries, freshly stewed or canned 2 teaspoons arrowroot

Heat the juice from the cherries. Add arrowroot moistened with cold water, stirring the mixture rapidly to prevent the forming of lumps. Flavor with the grated lemon-rind. Serve very cold, with a whole cherry floating on each portion.

ORANGE PURÉE

2 cups orange-juice 1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon corn-starch 1 teaspoon grated orange-rind
2 tablespoons cold water

Place orange-juice in saucepan and when it is thoroughly heated add the corn-starch mixed with the cold water. Cook slowly until clear. Add sugar and grated orange-rind. Serve ice-cold in glass sherbet cups.

RASPBERRY PURÉE

1/2 cup granulated tapioca 2 cups raspberries
6 cups water Sugar

Chowders

CLAM CHOWDER

50 clams
4 ounces salt pork
1 medium-sized onion
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon thyme
3 potatoes
1 pint milk
½ teaspoon pepper
3 pilot biscuit

Put clams, with their own liquor, into a granite-ware saucepan, and when they have come to a boil skim out the clams and return liquid to the fire. Cut the salt pork into thin slices, chop the onion, and sauté the two together until brown. Stir in flour, and when mixture is bubbling slowly, add the clam liquor. Season with salt, white pepper, and thyme. Add potatoes which have been cut into small cubes, and cook this mixture until the potatoes are tender. Just before serving, add milk, clams cut into pieces, and three large pilot biscuit or a larger number of hard water-crackers, as preferred. If liked thicker, blend one tablespoon of butter or other fat with the same of flour, and add gradually.

To make Rhode Island clam chowder, add tomatoes, either canned or fresh.
CORN CHOWDER

2 slices fat salt pork
1 onion
3 cups diced boiled potatoes
Salt and pepper
2 cups boiling water
1 cup cooked corn, fresh or canned
4 cups hot milk

Cut the pork into small pieces and try it out. In this cook the sliced onion. Strain the fat into another receptacle, and put the potatoes into the strained fat. Add boiling water, corn which has been cooked till tender, and hot milk. Season with salt and white pepper, bring to the boiling-point, and serve with a cracker on each soup-plate.

FISH CHOWDER

\( \frac{1}{4} \) pound fat salt pork, sliced
2 cups raw fish, cut in dice
6 small potatoes, sliced
2 onions, chopped fine
3 cups boiling water
1 pint milk
3 pilot biscuit

Fry salt pork in a deep kettle. When crisp remove pieces of pork and put fish, potatoes and onions in kettle. Cover with the boiling water. Simmer one-half hour, or until the potato is tender. Add the milk and cook five minutes longer. Season with salt and pepper. Just before serving, add the pilot biscuit.

Slice the potatoes and onion thin and boil them in the oyster liquor and water until tender but not mushy. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour, and milk, put the oysters into it, and cook two minutes. Combine white sauce with potatoes and onion and the liquor in which they have been cooked. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Place the pilot biscuit in the hot tureen. Pour the chowder over them, and serve.
CLAM STEW

Make in same way as oyster stew, using clams.

CRAB STEW

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 onion

1 pint rich milk
1 quart water
Salt and pepper
Parsley

Boil the crabs. Remove the meat and sauté it in butter with one small onion. Cook until the onion is quite brown. Add flour, salt, and pepper, cook a little longer, then add water and minced parsley. Simmer ten minutes, add milk and reheat.

OYSTER STEW

Unthickened

1 pint oysters
4 tablespoons butter
Salt, pepper, paprika
1 quart rich milk

Put cleaned oysters, strained oyster liquor, butter and seasoning into a saucepan and simmer gently until oysters begin to curl at the edges. At the same time, heat the milk, being careful not to scorch it. Add the hot milk to the oysters and oyster liquor and serve at once.

Thickened—To the ingredients given above, add from four to eight tablespoons of flour, and, if desired, a little onion-juice and mace. Scald the oysters in their own liquor. Make a white sauce of the milk, flour and butter and season as desired. Combine the scalded oysters and oyster liquor with the white sauce and serve at once.

YEAST BOUILLON

In recent years several varieties of autolyzed yeast have appeared on the market to be used as bouillon or in sandwich pastes. They have the flavor of strong meat extract but have the advantage of being of pure vegetable origin. If purchased in jars use according to direction. When in cubes use like any other bouillon cube. Of peculiar value for the high content of vitamins B and G, it is also called petite marmite.
SOUP may be served with many accompaniments, such as crisped crackers, cheese-sticks and pulled bread; and varieties of croutons, forcemeat balls, noodles, and vegetable pastes may be placed in the soup itself. Grated Parmesan cheese is passed with many kinds of soup to be sprinkled on each portion.

Recipes for some of the best-liked accompaniments for soup are given below.

CROUTONS

Cut stale bread into slices about one-third of an inch thick, and remove all crust. Spread with butter, cut in cubes and bake in the oven until delicately browned. If preferred, these cubes of bread may be fried in deep fat or sautéed in just enough fat to keep them from burning. Put into soup at time of serving, or pass in a separate dish, permitting each person to put as many croutons as he may wish in his portion of soup.

MOCK ALMONDS

These are merely croutons shaped to represent almonds.

CHEESE STICKS AND ROLLS

Cut bread in long, narrow strips, spread with butter, then with a thick coating of grated cheese. Brown in moderate oven (350°F.). Or cut crust from sliced bread, spread thickly with paste of grated cheese and butter, roll, fasten with toothpick and brown as above.

HOT CRISPED CRACKERS

Toast thin wafers or crackers for three minutes in a hot oven (400°F. - 425°F.). They are better if spread with a thin film of butter before being put into the oven. If Boston crackers are preferred, split them, arrange the halves, rough side up, on a plate, lay a bit of butter on each, and brown them in the oven.
VARIATIONS

Use the cookie cutters in any small design to cut sliced bread for toasting on a cookie sheet or large pan. Or use the cutters on biscuit dough and bake or fry in deep fat.

NOODLES

| 1 egg | 1/2 teaspoon salt | Flour |

Stir sufficient flour into a slightly beaten egg to make a very stiff dough. Add salt, knead, and roll as thin as possible. It should be of almost paperlike thinness. Cover with a towel and let remain untouched for half an hour. Then cut in small fancy shapes, and dry them. When needed, place in boiling water and cook rapidly for fifteen minutes. This dough may also be rolled into threads and used like macaroni in soup.

Noodle Balls—Roll the noodle paste as directed above, fold it double and with a tin cutter make circles about one-fourth inch in diameter. Toss these balls into hot fat, (360°-370° F.) using a wire frying-basket. In about a minute they will turn a delicate brown and puff into balls. Drain on soft paper and serve with soup. As these soften quickly, it is better not to put them in the tureen, but to pass them after the soup has been served.

EGG BALLS

No. 1.

5 eggs 1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper Flour

Simmer four of the eggs in the shell twenty minutes and mash the yolks to a smooth paste in a bowl; then add the salt and pepper and the other egg, well beaten. Shape the mass into tiny balls, roll them in flour and sauté, tossing them about while frying to prevent their sticking to the pan. They may be made some time before needed. Use the hard-cooked egg-whites for a sandwich or a salad.

No. 2.

Mash the four cooked yolks to a paste, season, and mix with the uncooked egg-yolk. Form into small balls. Roll them in the uncooked egg-white, then in flour, and poach in hot water. These are attractive in consommé.

Marrow and Liver Balls

2 tablespoons melted marrow
1 egg
½ cup soft bread-crumbs
Salt and pepper
Paprika
½ teaspoon onion juice

Strain melted marrow through cheese-cloth, beat until creamy and then add beaten egg. Season with salt, pepper and paprika, add a little moist bread, and form into balls. Poach in boiling water. Use 1 cup chopped liver instead of marrow for liver balls.

Pâté à Choux

1 teaspoon butter
2 ½ teaspoons milk
¼ cup flour
1 egg
Salt

Heat butter and milk together. When at the boiling-point, add the flour and a pinch of salt, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire, beat in the unbeaten egg, and continue beating until the egg is well mixed with the other ingredients. When cool, drop small pieces from the tip of a teaspoon into deep, boiling fat. When brown and crisp, drain on absorbent paper. If desired, two tablespoons of grated Parmesan cheese may be added to this recipe.

Custard for Garnishing

Allow two tablespoons of milk, cream, or consommé to each egg. Mix well, season with salt and pepper, and pour into a buttered mold, making the custard one-half inch thick. Set the mold in a pan containing hot water and place in a slow oven (300°-350° F.). When the custard is set, remove from the oven and cool. Cut it into small pieces or fancy shapes. The egg-white, the egg-yolk or the whole egg may be used in making this custard.

Custard Royale.

2 egg-yolks
1 egg
½ cup beef stock
Salt and pepper
Cayenne

Beat the yolks of the eggs slightly and then beat into them the one whole egg. Add beef stock, a little salt, pepper and a few grains of cayenne. Pour the mixture into a shallow pan or dish, so that the custard will be about one-half inch deep. Set this pan into another holding water that is just below the boiling-point and place both in a slow oven (300°-350° F.). The custard should set without bubbling and without forming a brown crust on top. When cold, cut in fancy shapes with vegetable-cutter. Use care in placing these in the soup, so that they may not break. When used in consommé, they give the name "Consommé Royale" to the soup.

CHICKEN FORCEMEAT

White—

| 2 breasts chicken (uncooked) | 1 cup milk |
| ⅓ teaspoon salt | ⅓ blade mace |
| 1 cup dry bread-crumbs | ¼ teaspoon pepper |
| 3 tablespoons butter | 2 egg-whites |

Chop, pound and rub through a purée-sieve, the uncooked breasts of chicken. There should be a full half-pint of meat. Add salt and pepper. Boil together the bread-crumbs (no crusts), milk and mace for ten minutes, or until cooked to a smooth paste. Remove from the fire, put in butter and then add the seasoned meat and the well-beaten whites of eggs. Stir until all ingredients are thoroughly blended.

*Dark—*Use dark meat instead of light and the yolks of the eggs instead of whites. Chicken livers, also, may be used for forcemeat.

FISH FORCEMEAT

Free any kind of delicate fish from skin, fat and bone. Pound, strain, use one-half pint fish and proceed as for chicken forcemeat.

OYSTER FORCEMEAT

| 12 oysters | Cayenne |
| 2 cups dry bread-crumbs | 1 teaspoon parsley |
| 3 tablespoons butter | 1 teaspoon lemon-juice |
| 2 egg-yolks | 3 tablespoons oyster-juice |
| 1 teaspoon salt | Nutmeg |

Chop the oysters fine and add the bread-crumbs, butter, salt, cayenne, minced parsley, lemon-juice, oyster-juice, the yolks of raw eggs and a grating of nutmeg. Pound to a smooth paste and rub through a purée-sieve. Add more salt if necessary. This is a fine forcemeat for timbales, or for stuffing poultry or fish. For use in soups, it may be made into balls, dipped in beaten egg-yolks, then in bread-crumbs and fried, or rolled into very small balls, dipped in egg-yolks and browned in the oven.

QUENELLES—These are shapes made by forcing forcemeat through a pastry bag and tube into boiling water or stock. They are used to garnish entrées as well as soups.

COLORING FOR SOUPS AND SAUCES

To color brown, use browned flour or a little burnt sugar. (See Index for caramel recipe) or a few drops of commercial vegetable flavoring.

Spinach leaves give a fine green color. Pound the uncooked leaves, and add to soup five minutes before serving.
THE main difference between fish from fresh water and those from salt water, as food, is that the salt-water fish are an important source of bromin and iodin in the diet, and are considered desirable because of the value of iodin in preventing goiter. Some of the most common salt-water fish are cod, haddock, halibut, smelt, mackerel, salmon, shad, herring, oysters, clams, scallops, lobsters, crabs, shrimps and prawns, and some terrapins. Fish as food may be divided into:

WHITE FISH—Fish that have less than two per cent fat, examples of which are smelt, flounder, yellow perch, pike, pickerel, sea bass, cod and haddock.

MEDIUM FAT FISH—Fish that have two to five per cent fat, examples of which are weakfish, brook trout, mullet, and white perch.

FAT OR OILY FISH—Fish that contain five per cent or more of fat, examples of which are salmon, shad, herring, lake trout, bluefish, Spanish mackerel, butterfish, and eels.

SHELLFISH—Mollusks (oysters, clams, scallops and mussels); crustaceans (lobsters, crabs, shrimps, prawns, crawfish or crayfish); reptiles (frogs, terrapins and turtles. The reptiles really belong to a lower order of animal than fish, but as they spend some time in the water they are discussed in this chapter).

Amount of Fish to Buy

If the fish bought is solid flesh, one-third of a pound should be allowed for each person. If fish is bought in the round (with bones, head, tail, etc.) at least one-half pound must be bought for each person.

Selecting and Caring for Fish

FRESH AND FROZEN FISH—Fresh fish, or fish that was frozen while fresh, has full or bulging bright eyes, bright red gills, firm and elastic flesh and fresh odor. Be sure that the flesh along the back-bone smells fresh; it spoils there first. Fresh fish sinks in fresh water. If it floats, it should not be used.
As soon as fish comes from the market, clean it and put it into the refrigerator or other cool place until it is needed.

Fish that is frozen immediately after it is caught, and is kept frozen until the time for cooking does not lose its flavor. It is preferable to clean and draw it without thawing, but if it is too hard to handle soak in cold water or allow to thaw in the refrigerator overnight until just flexible. Skinning is sometimes easier than scaling. Then it should be cooked at once without further thawing. Quick frozen fish on the market today is cleaned and ready for use. Cook at once without thawing, allowing only slightly more than the usual time allotted to broiling or baking as the case may be.

Cleaning and Dressing Fish

Although fish may have been cleaned and dressed at the market, they are likely to need additional cleaning before they are cooked. If any scales have been left on a fish that is to be cooked with the skin on, remove them with a dull knife (a sharp one might cut the skin). Draw the knife over the fish, from tail to head, slanting it toward the body of the fish at an angle of about 45°. If the fish is to be split, remove the head and tail. Wash quickly under cold running water and wipe the fish thoroughly, inside as well as outside, with a wet cloth. Then wipe with a clean dry cloth and keep on a plate in a cold place until ready to use.

To Skin a Fish

Remove the fins, cut off a strip of skin along the backbone, and cut the skin around the gills. Pull the skin off with the hand. If the flesh is soft, work slowly and closely follow the skin with the knife, to avoid tearing the flesh.

To Bone and Fillet a Fish

Clean and skin the fish. Insert a sharp knife close to the backbone at the tail end, and cut the flesh from the bone, working toward the head and keeping the knife as close as possible to the bone. Small bones that adhere to the flesh or are embedded in it must be removed with the fingers.

Large fish, such as cod and halibut, are easily boned; in fact, they are usually purchased in slices. Fish with many bones, like shad, can not be boned satisfactorily.

Flounders are often boned, to form fillets, and are served as "fillets of sole." The English sole is seldom imported, and most of the "fillet of sole" that is served in America is made from the flounder, which has a white, delicate flesh similar to the sole.

A fillet is merely a piece of fish without skin and bones. Fillets look better on the serving platter if they are approximately the same size. Rolled fillets are called turbans. They are fastened with wooden toothpicks to keep them in shape during cooking, but the picks are removed before the fish is served.

Salted, Smoked and Canned Fish

These may be had the year around. The following varieties are likely to be in any market:

Dried Salt Fish—Cod, haddock, hake, pollack, and whiting.

Brine-salted Fish—Herring, mackerel, mullet, salmon, shad.

Smoked Fish—Carp, catfish, eel, finnan haddie, hake, halibut, lake trout, pollack, salmon, sturgeon, whitefish.

Canned Fish—Cod, haddock, herring, mackerel, salmon, sardines, tunafish, oysters, shrimps, lobsters, clams.

Pickled Fish—Sardines, eels, sturgeon, oysters, clams, scallops, lobsters and mussels.

To Freshen Salt Fish

Place the fish flesh side down in a large pan of fresh water, set the pan in a cool place and let it soak from one to forty-eight hours, changing the water several times. If the fish is to be cooked in liquid, it will need a shorter time in water than if it is to be cooked with very little moisture.

Boiled Fish

For boiling a large fish whole, a fish-kettle with strainer, a large kettle with a wire frying-basket or a steamer is needed. A plate in a piece of coarse muslin or cheese-cloth, kept for this purpose, may be used for fish in small pieces. Clean the fish, rub a little salt over it, wrap it in a cloth and place it in the container in which it is to be boiled or steamed.

The fish must not be put into cold water, as that extracts the flavor, nor into boiling water, as that breaks the skin, but should be put into hot water, which may then be quickly brought to the boiling-point. After the water boils, decrease the heat so that it will simmer.

Use enough water to cover the fish, add one teaspoon of salt and one tablespoon of vinegar or lemon-juice to every two quarts of water. These whiten the flesh and make it firm as well as season it. After the water begins to simmer, allow five to ten minutes to the pound for small thin pieces and ten to fifteen minutes to the pound for large thick pieces.

If you wish to serve a whole boiled fish upright, as if swimming, place a carrot inside the fish to make it retain its form, and arrange the garnishings so that it will keep its position on the platter. Bind the fish to the strainer with twine when cooking. A fish retains shape and flavor better in a steamer than when immersed in water.
To steam, place the fish on a plate in the upper part of a steamer, allowing the same time as for boiling.

Boiled fish needs a rich sauce, such as egg sauce, Hollandaise, Béchamel or drawn butter.

Fresh-water fish or other fish without much flavor may be boiled in court bouillon (See Index). Stock in which fish has been cooked may be made into fish chowder (See Index).

PICKLED SALMON

4 to 5 pounds salmon
1 grated nutmeg
2 quarts vinegar
6 blades mace
1 ounce peppercorns
1 tablespoon salad oil

Wrap the salmon in a fish-cloth and simmer in salted water about three-fourths of an hour. Drain, wrap in a dry cloth and set in a cold place till ready to use. For the pickle, use one quart of the water in which the salmon was cooked, the vinegar, peppercorns, grated nutmeg and mace. Boil for a few minutes, in a kettle closely covered to prevent evaporation of the flavor. Cool. When quite cold, pour over the salmon; then pour in the oil. Cover closely and place in a dry cool place. This pickle will keep many months.

Select fish with roes. Split, wash, scrape and remove heads, roe, and backbone. Sprinkle generously with pepper, salt, and minced parsley, then roll each piece tightly, beginning with the neck, and tie with a string. Put into boiling water that is seasoned with pepper, salt and vinegar and simmer ten or fifteen minutes. Cut the roe in pieces and fry. Place the fish and roe on buttered toast, garnish and serve.

Broiled Fish

To broil a whole fish, split the fish down the back, dry thoroughly, sprinkle with salt, pepper and lemon-juice. Place fish, flesh side down, on a well-greased wire broiler. Turn and broil on skin side just enough to crisp the skin. Large fish are cut into slices one inch thick, and broiled on both sides evenly.

BROILED SMELTS

12 smelts
3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
1 tablespoon salt
½ tablespoon pepper
3 tablespoons flour

Small smelts are not always split open and cleaned, but the entrails are squeezed out carefully so as not to bruise the fish, and the heads are sometimes left on. When the smelts are large, however, cutting down the belly to remove entrails is more satisfactory. Put butter, lemon-juice, salt and pepper in a deep plate on the back of the stove where the fat will slowly melt. On another plate, place the flour. Wash and wipe the fish and roll it in the melted, seasoned fat, and then lightly in the flour. Arrange on a double broiler and cook four or five minutes over clear coals. Serve on a warm dish with remoulade sauce.

Baked Fish

Whole Large Fish—Dress and stuff the fish (See chapter “Stuffings for Fish, Meat, Poultry and Game.”) and sew up the opening with a trussing-needle. If a white or medium fat fish is used, cut three or more slits in its sides and insert a strip of salt pork in each. Fat fish needs no larding, it has fat enough in itself.

Place a cloth or a rack in the bottom of a baking-pan. Upon the cloth place a thin layer of minced salt pork and a few slices of onion and tomato. Upon these place the fish itself. Dredge with salt, pepper and flour and lay on more salt pork; place in a hot oven (425° F.) add a cup of boiling water and cover. Cook fifteen to twenty minutes to each pound, basting frequently, adding water after each basting if necessary. After the first fifteen or twenty minutes reduce the heat to 350° F. Milk may be used instead of water in baking dry fish steaks. If a dripping-pan is used, it is not necessary to add water, and fish has more flavor if cooked without water.

Small Fish or Fillets—Follow directions for whole large fish, allowing a total baking period of twenty to thirty minutes.

Fillet of Flounder Au Gratin

5 pounds flounder
2 cups chicken stock
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
3 tablespoons butter
1 slice onion
1 cup fine bread-crumbs
Salt and pepper
1 bay-leaf

Fillet and cut the fish into pieces about four inches long by three wide. Oil a baking or gratin dish and lay the fillets in it. Sprinkle salt and pepper over them and set in a cool place till needed.

Rub together flour and butter; add onion, bay-leaf, chicken stock, and salt and pepper as needed. Simmer gently twenty minutes and then add lemon-juice, strain the sauce and pour it over the fish. Season lightly with salt and pepper, sprinkle bread-crumbs over the sauce and fish. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven (425° F.) and serve at once in the same dish.

Halibut Creole

2 pounds halibut
1 slice onion
2 cups stewed tomatoes
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup water
1 tablespoon flour
3 cloves
Salt and pepper

Put the tomatoes, water, cloves and onion on the stove in a stewpan to boil. Mix the butter and flour together, stir them into the sauce when it boils and add the salt and pepper. Cook ten minutes and strain into a bowl.
Pour boiling water into a deep plate to the depth of one-half inch, and lay the fish in it for one minute, skin side down; when the fish is removed from the water, the black skin can be taken off easily. Wash the fish in cold water, season with salt and pepper and lay it on the baking sheet in a dripping-pan, put sliced lemon on top, then pour half the tomato sauce around the fish and bake in a hot to moderate oven (425° to 350° F.) for thirty to forty minutes, basting three times with the remainder of the tomato sauce. Pour the sauce remaining in the bottom of the pan around the fish on the serving platter.

Fried or Panned Fish

After cleaning, dry the fish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip in fine bread-crumbs, flour or corn-meal, then in egg, and again in crumbs, flour or corn-meal, and fry in deep fat. (See Index for directions for deep-fat frying.) Small fish are cooked in this way, with or without head and tail; also fish steaks, fillets or turbans. The skin is usually removed. In some cases (for example, the perch) if the skin has not been removed by the fish dealer, it is very difficult to get it off. In this case, dip for a moment into boiling water and remove at once.

FRIED FISH—Small fish are fried whole; for example, smelts, small flounders, whitebait, small whittings, small herrings, small perch. Larger fish such as eels, halibut, cod, large flounder and sole are cut in four-inch lengths or made into fillets or turbans before frying.

Fried fish are usually served with Tartar sauce, anchovy sauce or with lemon.

PANNED FISH—Clean, wash and dry fish, rub in flour which has been seasoned with salt and pepper or dip in egg and crumbs and sauté in a saucepan in a small amount of fat. Any fish that can be fried can be panned.

FILLET OF SOLE OR FLOUNDER

2 pounds fillet of sole or flounder
Salt and pepper
Crumbs, egg

A large sole or flounder will make four fillets. Roll up each fillet, or cut into smaller fillets, season with salt and pepper, dip in egg, then in crumbs and fry in deep fat (390° F.) four to six minutes. For variety, cut the fillets up, simmer half of the small fillets in salted water from six to ten minutes and then serve with the fried ones, having the boiled ones in the center of the dish. Serve with a white sauce, or with Tartar sauce.

Planked Fish

Scale the fish. Split it down the back, clean, wash and wipe dry as usual. Prepare a plank of oak or hickory, about one and one-half inch thick, and put in the oven to heat. If using a gas stove, place it directly under the gas in the broiler, having the side which is to hold the fish nearest the flame.

Rub the fish all over with oil, salt and pepper. Lay it skin side down on the plank, and put the plank on the upper grate of the oven, or under the broiler of a gas stove. Cook about one-half hour, spreading melted fat over the fish while it is in the oven if there is a tendency to dryness. If the fish has roe, the roe may be broiled on the plank beside the fish, or the roe may be boiled, mixed with a little white sauce, well seasoned, and spread over the thinnest part of the fish, five minutes before it is finished, and covered with crumbs.

Have ready freshly mashed potato and form a border of this around the fish by pressing it through a pastry-bag. Set the plank in the oven until the potato has browned, then send to table garnished with lemon and parsley.

The size of the plank will depend on the size of the oven, but it must be at least three inches wider than the fish. White-fish and shad are best for planked fish.

Fish Roe and Milt

The roe (eggs) of many fish, which are available during the Spring, make excellent and often delicate food. Shad roe are most frequently used, but the roe of mackerel and of flounder are just as palatable and are usually much cheaper. When small fish contain roe, do not cook the roe in the fish; remove it and cook it as a separate dish.

To Prepare Roe for Use

Parboil it in salted, acidulated water (one tablespoon vinegar or lemon-juice to one quart water) and simmer eight to ten minutes. Drain, cool, and pick out the pieces of membrane; the roe is then ready for any recipe.
FISH

Milt

The part of the male fish that takes the place of the roe of female fish is called the milt, and may be prepared and cooked in just the same way. The blue vein that runs through the center of salmon milt should be removed before the milt is cooked.

BROILED ROE

Wipe, sprinkle with salt and pepper, put on greased wire broiler, and broil five minutes on each side. Serve with maître d’hôtel sauce.

SHAD ROE CAVIAR

1 cup shad roe

1/2 cup salt or 1/2 cup prepared caviar

Mash the cooked roe very carefully, then mix with the salt. Beat thoroughly and let it stand for an hour before serving. If preferred, the shad roe may be mixed with prepared caviar instead of salt.

SCALLOPED ROE

1 to 2 pounds shad roe

1 cup medium white sauce

Egg-yolk

Bread-crumbs

Chopped parsley

Salt and pepper

Lemon-juice

Parboil roe as directed, drain and break up lightly with a fork. Sprinkle a layer of roe in a baking-dish; add one-half the yolk of an egg, well beaten, dropping it over the top of the roe; next sprinkle lightly with minced parsley, salt and pepper to taste and a few drops of lemon-juice; then add a layer of the white sauce. Repeat the layers of roe, egg, seasoning and sauce, cover with bread-crumbs and bits of butter and bake until brown. If a large dish is required, use with the roe any cold flaked fish left from a former meal. Any kind of roe may be prepared in this way.
Canned or Warmed-over Fish

FISH SOUFFLÉ

1 cup cooked fish, fresh or canned
1 cup mashed potatoes
2 eggs
½ cup milk
Salt and pepper

Mix cold cooked fish with mashed potatoes, milk, salt and pepper. Stir in one egg, well beaten. Put into an oiled mold or dish and set in the oven until hot. Beat the white of the other egg stiff and stir into it the beaten yolk seasoned with salt and pepper; heap this over the fish and brown.

FISH TIMBALE

1 cup cooked fish, fresh or canned
½ cup cooked mushrooms
1 cup bread-crumbs
2 cups milk or cream
½ cup butter or other fat
Salt, pepper and nutmeg
4 eggs

Use any delicate fish, such as halibut, whitefish, cusk or salmon. Remove the bones and skin, and pound the meat very fine, so it may be rubbed through a soup-strainer. Mushrooms mixed with the fish before it is strained will greatly improve its flavor.

Cook bread-crumbs ten minutes in milk or cream. Remove from fire and add melted butter or other fat, salt, pepper or paprika and a few gratings of nutmeg. When this is cold, add the fish, beat the whole thoroughly, add the eggs, also well beaten, and place the mixture in a greased or oiled mold. Cover the mold with oiled paper, set it in a deep baking-pan, place it in the oven, and pour water into the pan until it is within one inch of the top of the mold. Cook for three-quarters of an hour at 250° F. Hollandaise and tomato sauce are both excellent to serve with fish timbale.

SALMON PUFFS

2 cups cooked salmon, fresh or canned
Salt and pepper
½ cup soft bread-crumbs
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
3 eggs

Remove the skin and bones from the salmon, chop the meat fine, and add salt, white pepper or paprika, soft bread-crumbs, lemon-juice or vinegar, and egg-yolks. Mix thoroughly, add the well beaten egg-whites, and place in six or eight oiled cups, filling the cups even full. Set the cups at once in a pan containing hot water that comes to about an inch below their tops, and bake for one-half hour in moderate oven (375° F.). Turn out upon a hot platter, thrust a sprig of parsley or celery, or a clove, into the center of each puff, and pour about them any desired fish sauce.

Fresh cooked fish may be heated in the sauce, or heated separately and served with sauce poured over it.
KEDGEREE

2 cups cooked fish, fresh or canned
4 tablespoons butter or other fat

1 cup cooked rice
Salt and pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs

Free the fish from skin and bone. Melt butter in a saucepan, add the fish and stir gently. Put in the rice, the whites of the hard-cooked eggs, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Move gently about over the fire until thoroughly hot, and serve on a flat dish with the yolks of the eggs, pressed through a ricer, over the top.

SCALLOPED FISH

2 cups cooked fish, fresh or canned
1/2 cup mashed potatoes
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons corn-starch

2 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper
1 cup bread-crumbs

Heat all the milk, except one-fourth cup, in a double boiler; add the corn-starch stirred up with the remaining cold milk; cook twenty minutes, stirring frequently. Add one tablespoon butter, rub smooth the yolks of the eggs and add them, and then the whites after they have been passed through a sieve. Flake the fish, add the potatoes and season with salt and pepper. Oil a baking-dish, put in a layer of the fish mixture, cover with sauce, add another layer of fish, then more sauce, and so on until all is used. Cover the top with the bread-crumbs, add small bits of butter and bake for fifteen minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).

Dried and Salt Fish

CREAMED CODFISH

1 cup salt codfish
1 cup milk
1 egg

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour

Separate the fish into very small pieces and leave in cold water for three hours, changing the water three times. Heat the milk in a double boiler. Add the codfish, well drained, and cook for ten minutes. Mix the butter with the flour until a smooth paste is formed, then stir it into the milk. Cook ten minutes. Take the dish from the heat, add the beaten egg, stir well and serve without further cooking, adding a sprinkling of pepper just before dishing. If the sauce is cooked after the egg is added, the milk is likely to curdle. The egg may be omitted.

CODFISH À LA MODE

1 cup salt codfish
2 eggs
2 cups mashed potatoes
1/4 cup butter or other fat
2 cups milk or cream
Pepper

Pick very fine and freshen salt codfish as in preceding recipe; mix with mashed potatoes, milk or cream, well-beaten egg, butter and pepper. Turn into a baking-dish and bake twenty or twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).

CODFISH BALLS

1 cup salt codfish
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
4 cups sliced raw potatoes
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk or cream
Pepper

If the fish is not already shredded, pick out all the bones and shred the flesh. Simmer the fish and the sliced potatoes together in plenty of water until the potatoes are soft. Drain, mash, and beat until fine and light; then add the pepper, fat and milk, and the egg, well beaten. Mix all thoroughly with a spoon. Shape into balls. Fry in a frying-basket in deep fat, (375°-390° F.) for two to five minutes.

CODFISH SOUFFLÉ

1 cup salt codfish
1 tablespoon butter or other fat
2 cups raw potatoes
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk or cream
Pepper

Place the fish and potatoes together in enough boiling water to cover them, and let them boil until the potatoes are done. Drain thoroughly, mash the potatoes and fish, and beat them well with a fork, adding white pepper, butter, milk or cream. The mass should be made light with vigorous beating. Then beat in the well-stirred yolks of two eggs, and lastly, fold in the well-whipped whites. Arrange the soufflé in an oiled baking-dish and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) about twenty minutes, until it is brown. Serve with cucumber pickles, pickled peppers, horseradish or fresh cucumbers.

SALT FISH WITH EGG GARNISH

2 cups salt fish 2 cups milk
4 tablespoons butter or other 4 tablespoons flour fat 2 hard-cooked eggs

Soak fish over night, cook in fresh water, flake. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk. Add the flaked fish to the white sauce and pour on to a warm platter. Cut the eggs into slices and arrange in a circle on top. Serve at once.

SALT MACKEREL

Boiled—

| 1 salt mackerel | 4 tablespoons flour |
| 2 cups milk | 4 tablespoons butter |
| Pepper | |

Clean the fish by scraping off rusty-looking portions and also the thin black membrane found on the inside, and leave it over night in plenty of cold water, with the skin side up. In the morning, drain the fish and place it in a frying-pan, skin side down, cover with fresh water, and slowly heat to the boiling-point. Drain off this water, add just enough fresh water to cover the fish and simmer until tender. Lift the mackerel out carefully (a pancake-turner will be found convenient for such work) and place it on the serving-dish in the oven to keep hot while the gravy is being prepared.

To one cup of the water left in the frying-pan after the removal of the fish, add the two cups of milk. When the liquid boils, add the flour stirred to a paste with the fat, and season with salt and pepper. Let the gravy boil slowly three or four minutes, stirring constantly until smooth. Pour it over the mackerel.

Baked—Prepare the fish as for boiling but place it in a shallow baking-pan just large enough to hold it, and pour over it the milk. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven (400°-425° F.) stirring into the milk at the end of fifteen minutes a smooth paste made of two tablespoons of flour and two tablespoons of fat, with a sprinkling of pepper. Serve with the thickened milk poured around the fish.

BROILED SALT FISH

Soak in tepid water twenty-four hours, changing the water several times. At the hour wanted, broil, season to taste, dotting with bits of butter. All kinds of salt fish may be broiled in this way.

BROILED FINNAN HADDIE

1 finnan haddie Oil Lemon-juice

Soak the fish in cold water for three-quarters of an hour, then lay in boiling water for five minutes. Wipe very dry, rub oil and lemon-juice into the fish and broil over a clear fire for fifteen minutes. Serve with hot butter sauce.

CREAMED FINNAN HADDIE

1 cup flaked finnan haddie, 1 cup medium white sauce fresh-cooked or canned Salt, pepper, paprika

If the whole fish is used, put it in a baking-pan, cover with cold water, and after soaking twenty minutes, bring the water to a boil. Reduce the heat and allow it to simmer for one-half hour. Drain, rinse, and with a fork separate the fish into flakes. Canned finnan haddie should be steamed. To one cup of fish, add one cup of medium white sauce. Bring to a boil; season with salt, pepper and a liberal quantity of paprika.

Oysters

Oysters, to be safe and palatable food, must be perfectly fresh. Buy them in the shells, if possible, and when purchasing them without shells be sure that the liquor is clear; if it is cloudy, the oysters should not be used.

Opening and Cleaning Oysters

To open an oyster, hold it firmly with the thick part of the shell toward the palm of the hand. Wash the shell thoroughly. Push a strong, thin knife between the shells near the back and run it along until it cuts the strong muscle which holds the shells together. Drop the oysters into a strainer, set over a bowl, and save the liquor that drains through to be used in cooking the oysters or making soup or sauce. Then examine each oyster and with the fingers remove all particles of shell. They are then ready to be used in any way desired.

OYSTERS ON THE HALF SHELL

Raw oysters are served either on the half shell packed in crushed ice, on oyster plates, or in a block of ice. Allow to each person five or six oysters and one-fourth of a lemon, and pass with the oysters crackers or thin slices of delicately buttered brown or graham bread.

OYSTER COCKTAIL

30 medium oysters
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
3 tablespoons tomato catchup
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons lemon-juice
1/4 teaspoon tabasco sauce

Where oysters in the shell are obtainable, they are usually served on the half shell, on a plate of crushed ice, around a small glass holding the cocktail mixture. When it is not possible to get the oysters in the shell, cocktails may be served in ice shells made for this purpose, or in cases made from green-pepper shells, in halves of grapefruit, or in large claret glasses. Put five medium oysters into each glass and pour the dressing over them. To make the dressing, mix horseradish, tomato catchup and vinegar, lemon-juice, tabasco sauce, and salt thoroughly. Both oysters and dressing should be very cold.

PANNED OYSTERS

1 pint large oysters
6 slices buttered toast
1/4 cup oyster-juice

Lay the oysters in a shallow dripping-pan, and pour over them a small quantity of oyster-juice, but not sufficient to raise or float them. Place the dish carefully in a hot oven (400°-425° F.) and just heat the oysters through. Be careful not to bake them. Moisten hot buttered toast with the hot juice from the oysters and serve the oysters on the toast.
LITTLE PIGS IN BLANKETS OR OYSTER BUNDLES

24 large oysters  Salt and pepper
24 very thin slices fat bacon  Parsley

Season the oysters with salt and pepper. Wrap one oyster in each slice of bacon and fasten with a toothpick. Heat a frying pan and put in the oysters. Cook on one side and then on the other just long enough to crisp the bacon, about five minutes. Cut slices of toast into quarters and place one oyster on each small slice of toast. Serve immediately, garnished with parsley.

CREAMED OYSTERS

1 pint oysters  6 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons butter or other  1 pint rich milk
fat  Salt and pepper

Heat the oysters in their own liquor until the edges curl. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk. Combine the oysters and sauce, add seasoning and serve.

OYSTERS À LA POULETTE

1 pint oysters  Nutmeg
1 1/4 cups milk or cream  2, egg-yolks or 1 whole egg
1 tablespoon butter  2 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper  Cayenne

Set the oysters on the stove to heat in their own liquor. As soon as they begin to boil, skim carefully and turn them into a strainer. Add one-half cup of oyster liquor to one cup of milk or cream and make a white sauce with the fat, flour and this liquid. Season with salt, pepper, a slight grating of nutmeg and a grain of cayenne. Add one-fourth cup of cold milk or cream to the well-beaten egg or yolks of eggs. Place the oysters in the white sauce and add to the egg mixture. Cook over hot water for three minutes, or until the eggs thicken, stirring all the time; remove from fire immediately to prevent separating. Serve with a border of puff-paste cakes, buttered toast or baking-powder biscuit. If liked, one-half tablespoon of lemon-juice may be added just as the oysters are taken from the fire.
FRIED OYSTERS

1 pint oysters
1 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 cups flour

Scald the oysters in their own liquor, and drain them thoroughly on a cloth. Make a batter with the milk, egg, flour and salt and dip the oysters in it. Fry a light brown, in deep fat (375°-390° F., two to five minutes) drain and serve. Seasoned bread-crumbs may be used instead of the batter.

OYSTERS COOKED IN THE SHELL

30 oysters in the shell
Butter
Salt
Pepper

Wash the shells thoroughly by scrubbing with a brush. Place in a baking-pan with the deep shell down. Set into a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) and bake until the shells open. Or, cover the pan, set it over a pot of boiling water, and steam until the shells open. Add a little butter, salt, and pepper to each oyster and serve immediately in the shells.

OYSTERS EN BROCHETTE

30 large oysters
6 slices toast
1/4 pound bacon

Cut the bacon into thin strips and cut the strips into pieces an inch or an inch and a half square. String the oysters and bacon squares alternately on six long, slender steel skewers, being careful to run the skewers through the hard part of the oysters. Place the skewers across a narrow, deep baking-tin so that the oysters will hang down but not touch the bottom of the tin; leave space between the skewers so that the heat will pass evenly around them. Cook in a very hot oven (450°-475° F.) for five minutes, or long enough to crisp the bacon. Place a skewer on each slice of toast. Pour the juice in the pan over the toast and serve immediately.

BROILED OYSTERS

30 large oysters
Butter
Salt and pepper
Bread-crumbs, if desired

Dry the oysters on a towel; sprinkle them with salt and pepper and lay them in an oyster broiler (a fine-mesh broiler).
Brown on both sides. Serve on a hot plate with melted butter poured over them. The oysters may be rolled in bread-crumbs before broiling, if preferred.

OYSTERS WITH MUSHROOMS

1 cup oysters
1 cup cooked mushrooms
(1/2 cups milk
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 teaspoon onion-juice
1/2 teaspoon lemon-juice
2 egg-yolks or 1 egg

Drain the oysters and put them into a hot pan. Cook until the edges begin to curl, then remove to a hot dish. Make a sauce by adding to the oyster liquor the juice from the mushrooms, and enough milk to make a pint. Thicken this with the flour blended with the butter or other fat and cook two to five minutes. Add chopped mushrooms, onion-juice, lemon-juice and a little salt.

Beat the yolks of the eggs; add a little of the hot mixture, slowly, then all of it. Add the oysters, and cook over hot water until the sauce thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and serve at once.

BAKED OYSTERS WITH SPAGHETTI

1/4 pound spaghetti
1 pint oysters
Salt and pepper
1 cup bread-crumbs
1/8 cup melted fat
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter or other fat

Break the spaghetti into small pieces, boil it in plenty of salted boiling water until it is quite tender, and then drain. Scald the oysters in their own liquor, reserving the liquor. Oil a baking-dish, put in a layer of the spaghetti and then a layer of the oysters, season with salt and pepper, and repeat the layers until all the oysters and spaghetti are used, finishing with a layer of spaghetti. To the liquor from the oysters, add enough milk to make a pint, reserving a small quantity to mix with the flour. Scald the remainder, add the scalded milk to the moistened flour, stir well and cook twenty minutes in a double boiler. Take from the fire, add the melted fat and pour over the layers in the dish. Top with bread-crumbs mixed with melted fat (see recipe for buttered crumbs), and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) just long enough to brown the crumbs, about ten minutes.

OYSTERS SAUTÉED

| 30 oysters | Salt and pepper |
| 6 tablespoons butter or other fat | Salt and pepper |

Drain the oysters well, season with salt and pepper and roll in fine bread or cracker-crumbs. Place two or three tablespoons fat in a saucepan and when it becomes very hot drop in enough oysters to cover the bottom of the pan. When one side is browned, turn the oysters carefully to brown the other side. Add more fat as needed. The iron pancake griddle is often used for this purpose, when many oysters are to be cooked at one time. Serve very hot on toast.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS

| 1 pint oysters | 6 tablespoons butter or other fat |
| 2 cups soft bread-crumbs | Salt and pepper |
| 1/4 cup milk | |

Oil a baking-dish; put in a layer of crumbs, then a layer of oysters, butter or other fat in little pieces, salt and pepper. Repeat, ending with a layer of crumbs, with small pieces of fat dotted over them. Do not have more than two layers of oysters. Moisten with milk and oyster liquor mixed together. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) until brown, about half an hour, and serve in the same dish.

OYSTER CASINO

| 30 oysters in the shell | Pepper and salt |
| Lemon-juice | 30 one-inch squares sliced bacon |
| Buttered crumbs | |

Wash and open the oysters. Into each shell put a half-teaspoon of strained oyster liquor, a few drops of lemon-juice, then the oyster sprinkled with pepper and salt and covered with buttered crumbs. On each lay an inch square of bacon and set in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) for ten or twelve minutes. Shallow ovenware dishes, with the half-shells embedded in coarse salt, are excellent for this purpose. The salt keeps the shells from tipping during baking. Where shells are not available, arrange the oysters for each portion in a shallow ramekin. These are excellent for Sunday-night supper or as a luncheon dish.

DEVILED OYSTERS

1 pint oysters
3 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk or cream
2 egg-yolks
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Drain the oysters, chop them, not too fine, and drain again. Make a white sauce with two tablespoons of the fat, the flour and the milk, remove from the fire and add the beaten yolks, the salt, pepper and parsley, and then the oysters. Fill small ramekins with the mixture, sprinkle lightly with soft bread crumbs, dot with fat, arrange in a baking-pan, and brown in a quick oven (400°-425° F., about seven minutes).

Clams

Clams, like oysters, should be purchased in the shell whenever possible. The shell opens when the animal dies, making it easy to discard the bad ones. A dead clam is dangerous food.

If obtained the day before they are to be used, cover the clams with cold water and sprinkle corn-meal over the top of the water, using about one cup of corn-meal for a peck of clams. Let them stand over night.

To open clams steam in tightly covered vessel and if the clams are not to be served at once, remove them from the shells and drop them into cold water, to keep them from becoming tough. A peck will yield about a quart of clams without the shells.

Cut off the siphons of large clams, as that part is very tough, and if the clams have not been treated with corn-meal, open the stomachs with a pair of scissors and scrape out the débris. Wash the clams well, to remove all sand.

CLAMS ON THE HALF SHELL

Small clams are served raw on the half shell, just as raw oysters are served. (See Index.)

CLAM COCKTAIL

Follow recipe for oyster cocktail. (See Index.)
CLAMS COOKED IN THE SHELL

Steamed—

30 clams in the shell
6 tablespoons butter
Juice of ½ lemon
Salt and pepper

The hard-shell clam is used for steaming. Scrub the shell with a brush and wash free of sand in several waters. Steam the clams in a steamer for ten minutes, or until opened. While the clams are steaming, melt the butter and mix with the lemon-juice, salt and pepper. Lay a napkin on a hot platter and place the clams in their shells on this. Cover with a second napkin and serve. In eating, remove the clam from the shell and dip it into the sauce. The thin, tough part known as the neck or siphon is not eaten.

Roasted in the Oven—Prepare the clams as for steaming, put them into a pan, set the pan in a hot oven (400°-425° F.) and bake until the shells open. Remove the top shell, being careful not to spill the liquor. Arrange the clams in the half-shells on plates and on each place a piece of butter and a little pepper and salt. Add lemon-juice if desired. Serve immediately.

Clam-bake Roast—The seashore is the natural place for a clam-bake, but it is possible to have one at any place where there is a flat open space. Preparations should begin several hours before the time set for the meal.

Make a circle of flat stones—from two to four feet in diameter, according to the size of the party—and on this circle build a hot fire of wood. Let this burn for two or three hours. Then rake off the fire and cover the hot stones with fresh seaweed. On this lay fresh clams in their shells; also, if desired, oysters, potatoes in the skins, corn in the husk, and anything else that may be steamed. Cover with a thick layer of seaweed, and over all spread a large piece of sailcloth, fastening down the edges with stones. Leave for two or three hours; remove the cloth and the top layer of seaweed, and rake out the clams and other foods as needed.

The same materials may be cooked in a large kettle at home using cheese-cloth between the layers, but will lack the fine flavor of the real clam-bake.
CREAMED CLAMS

1 cup clams        2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk       6 slices toast
1/2 cup clam-juice  Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or other  Parsley
fat

Bake the clams in a pan, scalding them in their own liquor, or steam them and then remove from the shell, being sure to save the juice. Chop and add them to a white sauce made from the milk, clam-juice, flour, seasoning, and fat. Serve on slices of toast with parsley as a garnish.

DEVILED CLAMS

25 clams, fresh or canned  2 tablespoons bread-crumbs
1 tablespoon butter or other 2 egg-yolks fat  1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons flour  Salt and pepper
1 cup milk or cream

Drain the clams and rinse them in cold water. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour, and milk or cream, and put in the crumbs, the raw egg-yolks, and the parsley. Remove from the fire, add the chopped clams, pepper to taste and salt if needed, fill scallop or clam shells, or small ramekins, with the mixture, brush them over with beaten yolk of egg, sprinkle with bread-crumbs, and brown in a hot oven (400°F.).

FRIED SOFT CLAMS

Wash soft clams (fresh or canned) and drain them upon a soft cloth, wiping them dry. Then dip each clam first into beaten egg and next into bread-crumbs, and, if much breading is liked, dip them again into the egg and crumbs. Have a sauce-pan containing hot fat (390°F.) about an inch deep. If you have no thermometer, test the fat by dropping in a bit of the soft part of bread. It should color to a golden hue in from 40 to 50 seconds. Lay the clams in the fat, one at a time but as quickly as possible, and cook them until brown (about one to two minutes). Serve very hot.
SCALLOPED CLAMS

18 opened clams
6 large clams in shell
White pepper
2 tablespoons minced celery

48 very small dice of fat bacon
4 tablespoons cracker-dust
2 tablespoons butter or other fat

Have the clams opened carefully, so that the shells will not be broken. Clean the shells well with brush and water. Lay two clams in each half shell, dust with white pepper, and one-half teaspoon of minced celery, and add four of the bacon dice; cover with a very thin layer of cracker-dust, put a half teaspoon fat on top and bake in the oven (350°-400° F.) fifteen to thirty minutes.

Scallops

The nearly round, ribbed shell of the scallop is known to many who have never seen the scallop itself. Only those who live in seashore towns ever see the whole bivalve, as the non-edible portions are discarded before the edible part, the large adductor muscle, is sent to market.

FRIED SCALLOPS

1 pint scallops, fresh or canned
Salt and pepper

Cracker-crumbs
Beaten egg

Wash the scallops, drain them and dry them thoroughly. Season fine cracker-crumbs with salt and pepper, dip the scallops in beaten egg, then in the crumbs, and fry in hot fat 360° F., for two minutes. If preferred, they may be simply seasoned and rolled in flour and then fried. Serve with Tartar sauce.

BROILED SCALLOPS

Use recipe for broiled oysters. (See Index.) Either fresh or canned scallops may be used.
CREAMED SCALLOPS

1 pint scallops, fresh or canned 1 pint thin white sauce

Wash and drain the scallops, add them to the sauce and cook about fifteen minutes in a double boiler.

Sea Mussels

Sea mussels are as agreeable to the taste as oysters, and may be eaten when oysters are out of season. Canned mussels are obtainable nearly everywhere. When fresh mussels are used, the shells may be opened by steaming, or with a knife. The horny "beard" must be removed and discarded.

PANNED MUSSELS

30 mussels in the shell  Cayenne
2 tablespoons butter  Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour  Lemon-juice

Wash the shell with a brush in cold water, and open by steaming. Remove the mussels from the shells, place them in a saucepan, add the butter, salt and pepper, cayenne, and a dash of lemon-juice. Mix the flour with an equal quantity of cold water and rub out all the lumps, then add more water to make it about as thick as rich cream. Pour in a thin stream into the hot mixture, stirring constantly. As soon as the boiling-point is reached, remove from the fire and serve. Mussels, like oysters and clams, are made tough by over-cooking.

FRIED MUSSELS

Use recipe for fried oysters. (See Index.)

CREAMED MUSSELS

Use recipe for creamed oysters. (See Index.)

Lobster

Lobsters are in season from June to September, and it is possible to obtain them at any time of the year. The shell of a live lobster is usually a mottled dark green. Boiling makes the shells of all lobsters turn bright red.

Uncooked lobsters should be alive when purchased. In buying a boiled lobster, straighten its tail; if it springs back into place, the lobster was alive, as it should have been, when boiled.

To Boil and Dress a Lobster

Plunge the live lobster into boiling water, head downward. Add one tablespoon of salt, cover the kettle and keep it boiling. A medium-sized lobster will cook in about twenty minutes. Plunge it into cold water when done and when cool enough to handle, take the meat from the shell in the following order: Chop off the claws. Split the body lengthwise, remove and throw away the stomach, a small sac just back of the head. Running from the stomach to the base of the tail is the intestinal canal. If this does not pull out with the stomach, it must be lifted out with a fork, in pieces, if necessary, and removed entirely.

Crack the claws and remove the meat. If the lobster is not to be served whole, take out the meat from the body, the creamy green fat which constitutes the liver, and the coral or spawn found in female lobsters. The spongy particles between the meat and shell are not used.

In cutting up the meat of cooked lobster, always use a silver knife or one of stainless steel, if possible, as an ordinary steel knife discolors or darkens the meat.

COLD LOBSTER EN COQUILLES, WITH MAYONNAISE

This is simply cold boiled lobster, served in the shell, a spoonful of mayonnaise, colored red with the coral of the lobster, being laid on top of the lobster meat and the whole served in a bed of lettuce leaves. Canned lobster meat also makes a very nice dish served with lettuce and mayonnaise.

BROILED LIVE LOBSTER

1 lobster
Salt and pepper

Melted butter

Kill the fish by inserting a sharp knife in its back between the body and tail shells, severing the spinal cord. Split lengthwise, remove the stomach and intestinal canal, crack the large claws and lay the fish as flat as possible. Brush the meat with fat; season with salt and pepper, place in a broiler, with the shell side down, and broil slowly until of a delicate brown. Twenty minutes is usually long enough. Turn the broiler and broil for ten minutes longer. Serve hot, with melted butter.

BAKED LIVE LOBSTER

Prepare as for broiling. Lay the lobster in a baking-pan, shell side down, season with salt, pepper and butter. Bake about forty minutes in a hot oven (400° F.), basting it twice with melted butter.

LOBSTER FARCI

| 2 lobsters | 1 tablespoon parsley |
| 1 cup milk | Salt and pepper |
| 1 tablespoon butter | Nutmeg |
| 1 tablespoon flour | 3 egg-yolks, hard cooked |
| 2 tablespoons bread-crumbs |

Boil the lobsters and cut the meat into small pieces. In opening the lobsters be careful not to break the body or tail shells. Make a white sauce with the milk, butter and flour. Remove from the fire and add the crumbs, parsley, lobster, salt and pepper, a grating of nutmeg and the yolks of the eggs mashed very fine. Mix all well together. Wash the shells and wipe them dry, and with a pair of scissors cut off the under part of the tail shells. Join the large ends of both tail shells to one body shell, to form a boat-shaped receptacle. Put the lobster mixture into this boat, brush over the top with beaten egg, sprinkle lightly with bread-crumbs, and bake in a moderate oven (350° - 400° F.) fifteen to thirty minutes.

CREAMED LOBSTER, SALMON OR TUNA

No. 1.

| 2 tablespoons butter or other fat | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 2 tablespoons flour | 1 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 cup milk | 2 cups boiled or canned lobster, salmon or tuna |

Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk. Add seafood cut into small pieces and the salt and pepper. Some cooks add a teaspoon of curry-powder.
No. 2.

2 cups fresh or canned lobster
1 cup milk
1 cup soft bread-crumbs
3 eggs
2 teaspoons anchovy sauce
3 tablespoons cream
Salt, pepper and cayenne

Heat the milk and pour it over the bread-crumbs. When nearly cold, add the beaten eggs, the lobster chopped fine, anchovy sauce, salt and pepper, and a large pinch of cayenne. Stir well, then add cream. Pour into an oiled mold, cover with an oiled paper and steam one hour. Serve with anchovy or other fish sauce.

DEVILED OR SCALLOPED LOBSTER

2 cups fresh or canned lobster
1 cup soft bread-crumbs
1 hard-cooked egg
2 tablespoons lemon-juice
Salt
Cayenne

Nutmeg
1 tablespoon butter or other fat
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk

Cut the lobster meat into dice. Add one-half cup of bread-crumbs, the egg chopped very fine and the lemon-juice, seasoning generously with salt and cayenne pepper and a grating of nutmeg. Make a white sauce of the fat, flour and milk. Add the white sauce to the lobster mixture to make a paste. Fill scallop-shells or shallow ramekins with the mixture, smooth the tops, sprinkle with remaining bread-crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400 F.) from fifteen to thirty minutes.

LOBSTER WITH CORAL SAUCE

No. 1.

1 medium-sized lobster
3 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 pint boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon-juice

Cut the meat of the boiled lobster into small pieces and mash the coral with a tablespoon of fat. Rub the flour and the rest of the fat to a smooth paste. Add boiling water and cook five minutes, then add the coral and butter and lemon-juice. Simmer for four minutes. Strain the sauce over the lobster meat, place the whole on the fire and boil up once.
No. 2.

1 medium-sized boiled lobster  \( \frac{1}{2} \) pint drawn-butter sauce
Salt and pepper

Break up the coral and put it on a paper in a slow oven (250°-300° F.) for thirty minutes. Then pound it and set it aside. Chop the lobster meat, not too fine, and add it to the sauce, also putting in a pinch of the coral and salt and pepper to taste. The effect is spoiled if the lobster is cut too fine. The sauce should be like a creamy bed for the lobster. Serve in a shallow dish with the pounded coral sprinkled over the top.

Crabs

The blue crab, found on the Atlantic Coast and in the Gulf of Mexico, is about two and one-half inches long by five inches wide. The Dungeness crab of the Pacific Coast is much larger. Crabs go through a molting season, in the Spring and Summer. During the few days between the shedding of the old shell and the hardening of the new one, they are called soft-shell crabs. At other times, they are called hard-shell crabs.

Oyster crabs are tiny, almost transparent, grayish-white crabs found in the shells with oysters. They are often served in oyster stews.

Dressing Crabs

All uncooked crabs should be vigorously alive when purchased, or the meat is not good. To prepare them for cooking, proceed as follows:

Soft-shell Crabs—The back of the crab tapers to a point at each side. Lay the crab on its face, take one of these points between the thumb and forefinger of the left hand and pull the shell back about half-way. Pull off all the spongy substance which is thus exposed. Repeat the operation at the point on the opposite side. Pull off the tail (apron) which laps under the crab, and the spongy substance under it. Wash the crabs in cold water, and they are ready for cooking.

Hard-shell Crabs—Throw the live crabs head first into rapidly boiling water. After five minutes, add one tablespoon of salt and boil for thirty minutes. When cold, break off the apron, or tail. Take the crab in both hands, with the thumbs at the tail end, and pull the upper and lower shells apart. Discard the material that sticks to the upper shell and pull off all the orange waxy material and white spongy substance between the halves of the body and at each side. The edible part of the crab lies in the two compact masses remaining, and in the small flakes that may be extracted from the large claws. The latter must be broken with a cleaver or hammer.

BROILED SOFT-SHELL CRABS

6 soft-shell crabs  Salt and pepper
1/4 cup butter or other fat  1/4 teaspoon cayenne
2 tablespoons lemon-juice  Flour

Prepare the crabs as directed. In a deep plate melt butter or other fat, and add lemon-juice, salt, pepper, and cayenne. Roll the crabs first in this mixture, then in dry flour. Place them in a double broiler and broil over hot coals eight minutes.

FRIED SOFT-SHELL CRABS

6 soft-shell crabs  Sifted bread-crumbs
Egg  Salt and pepper
Oil

Prepare the crabs as directed, dip them in beaten egg, then in sifted bread-crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper. Fry in deep fat (360° F.) three to five minutes. Or, sauté in a frying-pan with just enough fat to keep them from scorching. Turn so that both sides are cooked.

DEVILED CRABS

12 hard-shell crabs or 1 cup milk or cream
2 cups crab-meat 2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon mustard 1 1/2 cups soft bread-crumbs
1 teaspoon salt Nutmeg
3 tablespoons butter or other 1/2 tablespoon chopped parsley fat
1/2 tablespoon lemon-juice

Prepare the crabs as directed. Wash the upper shells thoroughly. Heat the milk or cream in a small saucepan; thoroughly mix the flour and mustard and two tablespoons of the fat and stir the scalded milk or cream into this mixture. Boil two minutes, remove from the fire and add the crab-meat and seasonings. Mix well, and put the mixture into six crab shells. Sprinkle with the crumbs and place the remainder of the butter, cut in small pieces, on top of the crumbs. Cook on the grate in a hot oven (400° F.) until the crumbs are brown. Serve on a bed of parsley, garnishing with the claws.

CRAB COCKTAIL

Follow recipe for oyster cocktail. (See Index.)

CREAMED CRABS

12 hard-shell crabs or
2 cups canned crab-meat
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or other fat

Cayenne

Prepare the crabs as directed. To white sauce made from the fat, flour and milk, add the shredded crab-meat and season with salt, pepper and cayenne. Serve very hot in individual cases, patty shells or on toast.

SCALLOPED CRABS

1½ cups crab-meat, fresh or canned
5 tablespoons butter or other fat
4 tablespoons flour

Fill shells or ramekins, place crumbs on top, dot over with one tablespoon butter, and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) from fifteen to thirty minutes.

FRIED OYSTER CRABS

1 pint oyster crabs

Place crabs in sieve and hold under a cold-water faucet. Drain, roll in flour and fry in deep fat (360° F.) for two to three minutes, using a frying-basket. Drain on paper and serve on a napkin laid on a platter. Garnish with four lemon-baskets holding Tartar sauce. Or, fill pastry or paper cases with the fried crabs and serve very hot.
OYSTER CRABS AND WHITEBAIT

1 cup oyster crabs
1 cup whitebait

Mix equal quantities of oyster crabs and whitebait, both of which have been previously washed, drained and rolled in flour, and fry in deep fat (360° F.) for two to three minutes. Serve with Tartar sauce.

Shrimps and Prawns

Shrimps and prawns are very similar, but the prawn is larger than the shrimp; the former is often six or seven inches long, while the latter is seldom more than two inches.

To prepare fresh shrimps, simmer them in salted water, wash and drain. Remove the shell carefully, also the black line that runs the length of the body.

CREAMED SHRIMPS

2 cups cooked shrimps, fresh or canned
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper

Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk, add shrimps, whole or broken into small pieces. When thoroughly heated, add seasoning and serve.

SCALLOPED SHRIMPS

2 cups cooked shrimps, fresh or canned
4 tablespoons butter or other fat
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon mustard
1 cup bread-crumbs
2 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon lemon-juice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Prepare shrimps as directed. Melt three and one-half tablespoons of the fat in a saucepan. Add the flour and mustard and beat until light. Gradually pour the hot water on this. Place the saucepan on a fire, and stir the contents until they begin to boil. Add the lemon-juice, salt and pepper, and cook for six minutes, then stir in the shrimps. Turn the mixture into a shallow scallop-dish, cover with the bread-crumbs and dot with the half-tablespoon of butter broken into little bits. Bake for twenty minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

DEVILED SHRIMPS

1 cup shrimps, fresh or canned
3 hard-cooked eggs
3 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
4 tablespoons flour
Few drops onion-juice
2 cups milk
Buttered crumbs

Prepare shrimps as directed. Melt the fat, add the flour and stir until smooth. Add the milk, heat, stirring constantly, and when it begins to thicken, add the eggs, which have been put through the sieve. Cut the shrimps with a silver knife, and add to the sauce; season with the paprika, parsley, and onion-juice. Put the mixture in ramekins, cover with seasoned crumbs, and brown in a quick oven.

Fresh-Water Crawfish

Crawfish, or crayfish, look like lobsters, but are much smaller. They may be prepared and served in the same way as lobsters. Cook the crawfish in boiling salted water, drain, and remove the shell. Take out the intestines by pinching the extreme end of the center fin and jerking it suddenly. This removes the gall-cyst, which is very bitter.

Frogs

Frogs’ legs (hindquarters only) are considered quite a delicacy. The skin can be turned over and slipped off the legs, like a glove taken off inside out.

FRIED FROGS’ LEGS

6 frogs’ legs
1 egg
Lemon-juice
Salt and pepper
Fine bread-crumbs

Skin the legs and wash them in cold water; dry well on a towel or napkin. Season with salt, pepper and lemon-juice. Beat the egg, and season it with salt and pepper; dip the legs into the egg, then into dried bread-crumbs or fine cracker-crumbs, plunge them into deep fat (390° F.) and fry two to three minutes. Use a wire frying-basket, if possible. Frogs' legs are served for breakfast or luncheon and for the latter meal they are accompanied by Tartar sauce.

Turtles and Terrapins

These animals should be alive when purchased. If the large southern variety, the soft-shell or snapping turtles are used, cut off the head and let the turtle lie in cold water one-half hour or hang on a hook with neck down until blood stops dripping. Then wash and drop into boiling water and cook for ten minutes. Pour off the water and cover the turtle with cold water, letting it stand until cool enough to handle easily; then with a towel rub the nails and black skin from the legs.

Wash the turtle carefully, place it in a saucepan covered with boiling water and simmer until the flesh is tender. This will be when the joints of the legs can be broken with a slight pressure, and the shells separate easily. It will take from thirty to sixty minutes. It should be cooked until the skin is like jelly. Remove the turtle from the water, and after it has cooled a little, place it on its back with the head away from you, and loosen and remove the under shell.

The liver, gall bladder and sand bag will be found near the head end, the gall being attached to the left side of the liver. Take out the gall as you would that of a chicken, being careful not to break it. Remove the entrails and throw them away.

Take out the eggs, if there are any, remove the slight membrane and drop them into cold water. Cut all the meat very fine, saving any water that may collect in the shells. The turtle is now ready to use in a stew or in other ways.

If terrapin is used, wash and plunge it alive into boiling salted water, and cook for about ten minutes. Then plunge it into cold water, rub off the toe nails and dark skin, place it again in salted boiling water and cook until the legs are tender, from thirty to sixty minutes. Clean the terrapin according to directions for turtles, but instead of throwing away the small intestines, cut them in very small pieces and use them for food. Discard the thick, heavy part of the intestines.
TERRAPIN OR TURTLE A LA KING

2 cups cooked terrapin or turtle meat
6 yolks hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 cups cream or rich milk
Salt and pepper
Allspice
Nutmeg

Mash the yolks of the hard-cooked eggs and mix them with the fat. Put the cream or rich milk into a double boiler; when it is scalded, stir in the egg and fat mixture and beat till smooth; season with salt, pepper and gratings of allspice and nutmeg. Add the terrapin or turtle meat cut fine and simmer for ten minutes. Serve very hot. Terrapin is very often served in individual metal cups or saucepans with covers.

TERRAPIN WITH MUSHROOMS

1 pint cooked terrapin meat
1 pint medium white sauce
½ pint chopped mushrooms
Six slices toast

To white sauce add terrapin cut in inch pieces and chopped mushrooms. Cook in double boiler for twenty minutes, or until thoroughly hot. Serve on toast.

SHRIMP CREOLE

½ medium-sized onion, chopped
½ cup chopped mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup mushroom broth
1 cup water
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
Dash of cayenne
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 bay leaf
2 pimientos, chopped
2 cups cooked shrimps
4 wheat biscuits
Butter
3 sprigs parsley

Sauté onion and mushrooms in butter 3 minutes; stir in flour and cook 1 minute, then add liquid gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add seasonings and shrimps and cook 5 minutes. Serve on wheat biscuits, cut in half lengthwise, toasted and buttered, and garnish with parsley, or in ring molds of rice or spaghetti.
MEAT

THE name meat is given generally to all edible flesh of animals used for food. The name beef is used for the flesh of adult cattle; veal for the flesh of calves under one year of age; pork for the flesh of swine; mutton for the flesh of adult sheep and lamb for the flesh of sheep from six weeks to one year old.

SELECTION OF MEAT

There are certain characteristics of good meat which serve as a guide to the purchaser. Flecks of fat all through the fibers indicate tenderness and flavor. Thin connecting tissue means a tender cut; thick tissue, a tough one. Meat well ripened or hung some time after slaughter is more tender than freshly killed meat. Meat of any kind should have a fresh odor and no dark, dry edges or spots.

Beef

Good beef should have a bright red color and a moist juicy surface when freshly cut; firm, fine-grained muscle; dry, crumbly suet, white in color; and a thick solid edge of straw-colored fat.

Veal

Veal should be at least six weeks old before slaughter. The sale of "bob" veal is prohibited in many states; it is soft and of poor flavor. Prime veal should be a faint pink color with little or no edge of fat. Flecks of fat in the meat should show a pinkish tinge. Milk-fed veal is particularly good.

Pork

Pork should have firm white flesh with a faint pink tinge. The fat should be clear white. Pork of dull appearance, with yellowish lumps through the meat or fat should be avoided.
Lamb and Mutton

Lamb may be distinguished from mutton by the bones. In young lamb, the bones are slightly streaked with red and the joint is serrated. The joint of mutton is smooth and round. Lamb or mutton should have a deep pink flesh, hard white kidney fat, thin edge fat of a pinkish tinge, and firm, fine-grained fibers. The outer skin and fat of mutton should be torn off before the meat is cooked.

Glands and Organs

Liver—Calf’s liver is often considered most choice in tenderness and in flavor. Lamb’s, however, is equally good and often cheaper in price. Pig’s liver is good, and even beef liver is acceptable if properly prepared.

Because of its value as an iron-rich food, liver is used extensively in the prevention and treatment of anemia.

Kidneys—Calf’s kidneys are best. Lamb’s kidneys are good if the lamb is young.

Sweetbreads—Sweetbreads from the young calf or lamb are used. There are two kinds, those in the throat and those near the heart. Those near the heart are round and compact and are considered slightly more desirable than those in the throat. Sweetbreads spoil quickly, therefore they should not be kept very long.

Heart—Calf’s and lamb’s hearts are more tender than those from beef or mutton.

Tongue—Calf’s and lamb’s tongues are most desirable. The tongue of older animals may be used in some recipes.

Brain—Calf’s brains are most desirable. Although a delicacy, there is so little demand for them that in many markets they may be purchased cheaply.

Tripe—A part of the stomach of a ruminant—that from the ox is the one usually used for food.

Amount of Meat to Buy for Each Person

Meat shrinks from one-third to one-half in cooking. Therefore allow one-fourth pound of meat without bone for each serving, and one-half pound of meat consisting of lean, fat and bone as a minimum for each serving.
Cuts of Meat

Animals dressed for market are divided lengthwise through the backbone into two parts, each of which is called a side. Each side is divided again into two parts, the forequarter and the hindquarter. Each quarter is then divided into smaller cuts which are sold in the retail market.

Comparative Cost of Various Cuts

As a general rule the price of the different cuts of meat is determined by considerations such as tenderness, grain, general appearance and convenience of cooking rather than by food values in terms of fat or protein, or the ease with which they are digested. The cheapest cuts for lean meat are the neck and the two shanks. The cheapest for general use are the shanks, plates and chuck. The cheapest cuts for fat and lean are the neck, shank and plate.

Beefsteaks, in the order of their economy as food, range as follows: chuck, round, flank, sirloin, and club or Porterhouse. Of the roasts of beef, the cheapest in terms of lean meat is the rump and most expensive is the first cut of the prime ribs. For stews and boiling, the neck and shank are less expensive than the rib ends and the brisket.

CARE OF MEAT IN THE HOME

As soon as meat comes from the market, the wrapping-paper should be removed, and the meat should be put on a granite or porcelain plate and placed in the refrigerator or other cool place.

Before cooking meat, wash quickly under running water, remove outer membrane and inspection stamp. In hot weather, if meat is to be kept any length of time and there is any danger of its spoiling, it may be seared on the outside on a hot griddle or may be plunged into boiling water and kept there for five minutes; lamb, mutton, or veal may be partly cooked. It should then be cooled as quickly as possible, uncovered, and put into the refrigerator or other cool place. If meat has become slightly "strong," it may be rubbed with salt and the salt wiped off

METHODS OF COOKING MEAT

Meat is cooked to soften connective tissue, to develop flavor, to improve appearance and to destroy bacteria or other organisms. The method of cooking depends on the kind and quality of the meat to be cooked. Only tender cuts of meat can be cooked successfully by dry heat. Although as desirable in nutritive value and flavor, the tough cuts of meat require moist heat and long, slow cooking to make them palatable. Since meat is largely protein, even the tenderest cuts may be toughened and hardened by too high a temperature.

SEARING—Meat is placed in a hot pan containing fat, a hot oven or over an open fire and is quickly browned on all sides. The temperature is then reduced and the cooking process continued. Searing does not keep in the juices as was formerly thought but does produce a browner exterior.

BROILING—Meat is cooked over or under or in front of an open fire or other direct heat. The meat is placed so that there is a distance of 3 or 4 inches between top of meat and source of heat. Broil on one side until nicely browned, turn and finish broiling. Season. Chops and tender steaks as porterhouse, sirloin and first or second cut of round are the most desirable for broiling.

PAN BROILING—Meat is placed in a sizzling hot skillet and browned on both sides. Reduce temperature and cook until as well done as desired, turning from time to time.

ROASTING—Meat is placed on a rack in an uncovered roasting pan, fat side up and baked in a slow oven, without water until as well done as desired. Basting is not necessary. The large tender cuts of meat are cooked by this method.

COOKING IN WATER—Meat is covered with boiling water, then seasoned with salt and pepper and cooked slowly at simmering temperature, not boiling, until meat is tender.

 STEWING—Meat is cut into cubes. Brown, if desired, on all sides in hot fat, cover with boiling water and cook at simmering temperature in a covered kettle until meat is tender. Less tender cuts containing much connective tissue are best cooked by this method which softens both tissue and fiber.

KINDS OF CUTS AND HOW TO USE THEM

The best cuts for stews are those containing both fat and lean and some bone. The shank is the most economical of all cuts for this purpose. Other cuts used are the neck, plate, flank, heel of the round and the short ribs. The brisket and the rump are sometimes used. Occasionally a cut like the round is used, as in beef à la mode.

In making stews, one-fourth pound of clear meat or one-half pound of meat and bones should be allowed for each serving. One to two potatoes, one to two medium-sized carrots, one small onion, one-fourth medium-sized turnip and one stalk of celery may be used for each person served. Any or all of these may be omitted.

Braising—Use a thick-walled kettle or frying pan. Brown sliced onion and snip of garlic in a small amount of fat and sear meat thoroughly in this. If cooking is to continue on top of stove, leave meat in the kettle. For oven finishing, transfer to casserole or baking dish. Season, add a small amount of water or tomato juice and simmer. Pot roast is the most familiar braised meat.

Frying and Sautéing—Some meats, such as chops and cutlets, may be crumbed and fried in deep fat. Ham, liver and some other meats are sometimes sautéed in a small amount of fat at low temperature, after the first searing.

Pressure Cooking—utilizes live steam in a special kettle.

Fireless Cooking—continues cooking with no additional heat.

Cooking Glands and Organs—All glandular organs require careful cooking at low temperature. Overcooking toughens them and destroys their delicate flavor, making them almost tasteless.

Beef

BROWNED BEEF BRISKET

6 pounds beef brisket
Celery salt
Garlic

6 or more medium-sized boiled potatoes
Salt and pepper

If the piece has much bone, part may be removed for soup, stock, or gravy to be used with the meat when warmed over. Simmer the solid part of the meat in a little water until tender, with a dash of celery salt and garlic added, turning it once during the cooking, which will take not less than three hours for the amount given. Remove the meat from the liquor; place it in a shallow pan with skin side up, and score several times across the top. Have boiled potatoes (hot or cold) in readiness and drop them into the kettle to take up some of the fat; then place them around the meat and brown all in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) about ten to twenty minutes. Make a gravy with the remaining liquor and serve separately. The meat should slice as firmly as cheese and be tender and appetizing.

BRISKET OF BEEF

3 pounds beef brisket
1/2 cup sliced onions
1/2 cup sliced carrots
1/2 cup diced celery with leaves
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

Cover beef with hot water, add vegetables and simmer, covered, until meat is tender, about 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Do not boil. Add salt when half done and more water if necessary. Remove meat from broth, slice and serve with Horse-radish Sauce (page 324) or Onion Sauce (page 315). Allow 1/2 pound per serving.

Variations—1. Brown meat in hot fat before cooking.

2. With Navy Beans—Soak 1 pound navy beans in water overnight. Drain and place in a kettle together with 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup maple sirup, salt and pepper. Place beef brisket on top. Cover with water and cook slowly until tender, about 3 hours.

3. Omit vegetables listed. For the last hour of cooking add 1 quart sauerkraut, 1 cup vinegar and 3 tablespoons brown sugar. Cover and finish cooking. Stir in a grated uncooked potato 10 minutes before serving.

TO CORN BEEF

Neck, brisket and navel are usually used. Rub the beef with salt and pack it in a clean hard wood barrel or crock. Pour over it the following pickle, enough for twenty-five pounds.

2 1/2 pounds salt
1/2 pound sugar
1/2 ounce saltpeter
4 1/2 quarts water

Mix the pickle thoroughly, boil it, remove the scum, and cool the liquid. Place a heavy weight on top of the meat to keep it in the brine. The meat may be left in the brine for a month, but it is at its best after ten days of curing.

BOILED CORNED BEEF

6 pounds corned beef
1 onion
1 carrot
Vinegar
Butter

Soak the meat one hour in cold water. Drain, put into a kettle with carrot and onion, using enough cold water to cover well. Add to each quart of water one teaspoon of vinegar. Simmer until tender. Thirty to forty minutes for each pound is a fair allowance of time. Let it remain in the liquor twenty minutes after it is done. Then drain and serve. Butter rubbed over the meat just before serving improves corned beef prepared in this way.

OLD-FASHIONED BOILED DINNER

6 pounds corned-beef brisket
1 cabbage
3 white turnips
4 carrots
6 potatoes
6 beets
Vinegar

Put the meat into the pot over a brisk fire with enough cold water to cover it. Bring it rapidly just to the boiling-point, then remove the scum, reduce the heat and simmer until tender (three to four hours). About three-fourths of an hour before it is to be served, skim the liquid free from fat. Put a portion of the liquid into another kettle with the cabbage which has been cleaned and cut into sections, the turnips, carrots, potatoes and beets prepared and cut into uniform pieces, and boil until tender.

BEEF STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

1½ pounds shank, neck, plate, flank, rump or brisket
1 small onion
1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup cubed carrots
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cubed turnips
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 cups potatoes, cut in quarters

Wipe meat, remove from bone, cut in cubes of about one and one-half inch. Mix flour with salt and pepper and dredge the cubes of meat with it. Cut some of the fat from the meat and heat in a frying-pan. When part of the fat has tried out, add the cubes of meat and brown the surface, stirring constantly to prevent burning. Put this meat, with the melted fat in which it was browned, into the stew-kettle. Add enough boiling water to cover the meat or a pint of tomatoes, stewed and strained, and simmer until the meat is tender (about three hours).

The carrots and turnips are to be added during the last hour of cooking, and the potatoes twenty minutes before serving time. Fifteen minutes before serving time, add the dumplings to the stew.

Dumplings—No. 1.

2 cups sifted flour 1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
4 teaspoons baking powder Milk (about ⅔ cup)
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Sift dry ingredients together. Add egg, melted shortening and enough milk to make a moist, stiff batter. Drop by teaspoons into boiling liquid. Cover very closely and cook for 18 minutes. Makes 2 dozen dumplings.

These dumplings may be steamed in another kettle, as in following recipe.

No. 2.

2 cups flour 1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking-powder ¾ cup milk
½ tablespoon fat

Sift together the dry ingredients and rub in the fat. Add enough milk to moisten the flour, but do not make the mixture too wet. Roll out the dough on a board, making it about one inch thick, and cut with a biscuit cutter. Put the pieces on a plate in a steamer and steam twenty to thirty minutes. It is better not to steam the dumplings over the stew, as the rapid boiling required reduces the gravy too much. These dumplings may be cooked on top of the stew, as in the recipe above, but they will be lighter if steamed.
BRAISED SHORT RIBS

3 pounds short ribs of beef
Flour
1 cup water
Salt
Pepper

Cut meat into serving portions. Dredge with flour and brown in a hot kettle or oven. Season with salt and pepper, add water, cover and cook in kettle at simmering temperature or in a slow oven (300°F.) until tender, 1½ to 2 hours. Allow ½ pound per serving.

VARIATIONS—Use Barbecue Sauce (page 253) for water.
2. Spread prepared mustard over ribs and use tomatoes or tomato juice in place of water.
3. Add sauerkraut during the last 45 minutes of cooking.
4. Add uncooked pared potatoes, carrots and onions to the ribs about 45 minutes before ribs are done.

BEEF GOULASH

3 pounds beef chuck
Vinegar
Summer savory
½ cup fat
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
8 onions

Cook the onions slowly in the fat. Cut the beef into cubes or slices and sprinkle with vinegar and a little savory. Add the salt and paprika. Add the cooked onions, cover tightly, and simmer for about two hours. The liquid may be increased just before serving by the addition of a little beef stock, or cream, either sweet or sour.

SAVORY BEEF

2 pounds beef, plate, shank, rump or round
3 large onions, sliced
3 tablespoons fat
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon ground cloves and thyme or Summer savory
1 pint brown stock or boiling water and meat extract
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon catchup

Brown the onions slowly in the fat. Increase the heat. Cut meat into sizes desired for serving, add it to the onions, and brown. Mix the flour and the dry seasonings. Sprinkle this mixture over the meat. Add the stock, vinegar and catchup. Cover closely. Simmer until meat is tender, allowing at least two hours for shank or plate and one and one-half hours for rump or round.

POT ROAST OF BEEF

4 pounds chuck, round or rump of beef
3 tablespoons fat
$\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
Salt and pepper

Dredge meat with flour and brown on all sides in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and cook slowly until tender, 3 to 4 hours. As the liquid cooks away add more, as needed. Serve with brown gravy and vegetables. Makes 8 portions.

VARIATIONS—1. Add uncooked pared potatoes, carrots, green beans, celery and onions just long enough before serving to cook them. They may be whole, quartered or sliced.
2. Use tomatoes or tomato juice in place of water.
3. After browning, pour $\frac{1}{4}$ cup horse-radish over meat.
4. Before cooking, cut slits in the meat and insert stuffed olives, pushing them into the meat.

SMOTHERED BEEF

3 pounds rump
2 tablespoons mild prepared mustard
Flour mixed with salt and pepper
1 teaspoon celery seed
3 large onions, sliced
1 cup strained tomatoes or $\frac{1}{2}$ can tomato soup
3 tablespoons fat

Dredge the meat with flour and brown it in a heavy pan. Brown the onions in the fat; add the mustard, celery seed and tomatoes. Pour this sauce over the meat and simmer three hours or more.

SWISS STEAK

2 pounds steak cut 2$\frac{1}{2}$ inches thick from shoulder, rump or round
Salt and pepper
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour
$\frac{1}{2}$ green pepper, chopped fine
2 tablespoons fat
2 cups boiling water or Few slices onion
1 cup water and
1 cup strained tomatoes

onions, green pepper, boiling water and tomato. Cover closely.
Simmer for 2 hours. This may be cooked in a casserole in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 1 to 1½ hours. Vegetables may be added as desired. Serves 6.

STUFFED STEAK

| 2 pounds flank or round steak | 1 tablespoon chopped onion |
| 1 cup crumbs                   | 1 small turnip, diced      |
| ½ cup stock or water          | ½ cup chopped celery       |
| 1 teaspoon salt               | 1 small carrot, diced      |
| ¼ teaspoon pepper             | Flour                      |

The meat should be cut from one-half inch to one inch thick.
Wipe the steak, remove the skin and lay the meat out flat on a board. Make a dressing of the crumbs, stock or water, salt, pepper, chopped onion and a small amount of celery and spread it on the meat. Roll the steak with the grain, so that when it is cut it may be cut across the grain of the meat. Place the diced vegetables in a roasting-pan and on them lay the rolled steak. Add two or three cups of water, depending upon the size of the pan. Cover and bake in a slow oven (350°F.) for three hours, or until tender.

If you prefer to cook this meat on top of the stove, melt one-half cup of suet in the bottom of a flat-bottomed iron or heavy aluminum kettle, flour the meat thickly and lay the roll in the kettle. Turn from side to side until it is well browned, then add hot water nearly to cover, and simmer slowly for three hours.

When the meat is cooked, remove it from the kettle or roasting-pan and thicken the broth, using one to two tablespoons of flour to each cup of gravy.

BRAISED OX-TAIL

| 1 ox-tail (cut in two-inch pieces) | 2 tablespoons flour |
| 2 tablespoons fat                   | 1 cup hot water     |
| 2 small onions                      | 1 cup tomatoes      |
| 1 carrot                           | 3 bay-leaves        |
| 1 tablespoon chopped celery        | 3 whole cloves      |
|                                    | Salt and pepper     |

Sauté the pieces of ox-tail in the fat. Add the sliced onion, and carrot and the chopped celery, and brown all together.
Sprinkle with browned flour. Add the hot water, tomatoes, bay-leaves, cloves, salt and pepper. Put into a casserole and cook slowly (350° F.) until the meat falls from the bones.

BRAISED BEEF

2 to 3 pounds brisket or round of beef
Drippings or other fat for sautéing
2 tablespoons butter or other fat

1 chopped onion
1 chopped carrot
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ cup diced celery
1 cup canned tomatoes
Salt and paprika

Cut the meat into cubes; brown in hot frying-pan with drippings. Stir the meat so it will cook quickly and not lose its juices. Tender cuts can be cooked whole. Remove the pieces to a closely covered kettle that can be used either on top of the range or in the oven. Rinse the pan with a quarter cup of boiling water to save all browned bits, and pour this over the meat. Cover tightly and cook slowly for two hours.

For the Sauce, melt butter or other fat and brown the onion and carrot in it. Add parsley, celery and tomatoes. Heat thoroughly. Add seasonings. Pour the sauce over the meat and continue cooking for another hour.

BEEFSTEAK PIE

2 pounds rump, flank or chuck steak
Pie paste
Chopped onion
Salt and pepper

Sliced potatoes
Butter or other fat
Flour
Egg

Cut the meat into strips two inches long by one inch wide. Put them with the bone, just cover them with water and simmer about an hour. Line the sides of a baking-dish with pie paste; put in a layer of meat with a few thin slices of onion, and sprinkle with salt and pepper; next add a layer of sliced potatoes, with bits of butter dotted over it. Alternate the steak and potato layers until the dish is full. Thicken the gravy with browned flour and pour in, put on a top crust, brush it with beaten egg and bake at 450° F. until quite brown—about thirty minutes.
ROAST BEEF WITH YORKSHIRE PUDDING

In preparing beef for roasting, trim it carefully then skewer and tie it into shape. Rub the lean parts with drippings and rub the whole with salt, pepper and flour.

Place the standing or rolled rib roast fat side up in an open roasting pan. Then the roast will baste itself. Insert meat thermometer so that bulb reaches the center of the largest muscle, taking care that it does not rest on the fat or bone.

Roast in a slow oven (300-350°F) or, if a brown crust is wanted, start in hot oven (500°F) for 20 minutes, then reduce to 300°F until done as desired. The thermometer will read 140°F for rare, 160°F for medium, 170°F for well done. The time per pound needed is 18-22 minutes for rare; 22-25 for medium and 27-30 for well done. For making gravy, see page 314.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING—

1 cup flour  1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt  2 eggs

Put flour, salt, milk and eggs together in a bowl. Beat well with a rotary egg-beater. Pour drippings to the depth of one inch into a shallow pan. Have the drippings hot and pour in the mixture quickly. Bake for one-half hour in a hot oven (400°-425°F). The pudding may then be placed under the trivet that holds the roast beef and left for about fifteen minutes to catch the gravy that flows from the roast. If a trivet is not used, cut the pudding into squares and lay them around the roast in the pan. Serve the pudding with the beef.

FILLETT MIGNON

| Beef fillet | Salt and pepper |
| Salt pork | Flour |
| Butter or other fat |

The fillet is the under side of the loin of beef, the tenderloin. The skin and fat should be removed with a sharp knife, and also every shred of muscle and ligament. If the fillet is not then of a good round shape, skewer it until it is so. Lard the upper surface with strips of fat salt pork and rub the entire surface with soft butter or other fat. Dredge well with salt, pepper and flour, and place the fillet, without water, in a small pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) to the desired degree of doneness, 40 to 60 minutes. Serve, cut into 2 inch slices, accompanied with mushroom sauce or sautéed mushrooms.

BROILED STEAK

1 porterhouse, sirloin or club steak
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Select a steak at least 1 to 1½ inches thick. Heat the broiler for 10 minutes with regulator set at 350° F. Arrange steak on a rack. Place rack 4 inches under heat. Broil for half the specified time, season with salt and pepper, turn and broil on other side. Remove to a hot platter. Place butter on top of steak, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve at once. Allow ½ pound of meat per person.

PAN BROILED STEAK

Heat a heavy skillet until sizzling hot. Place meat in hot pan and brown well on both sides. Reduce temperature and cook until the desired degree of doneness, turning from time to time, being careful not to pierce meat. Pour off fat as it accumulates in the pan. Place meat on a hot platter, spread with butter and season with salt and pepper.

With Mushrooms

Use mushroom caps, whole or sliced. Sauté slowly in hot butter 5 to 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Allow 2 tablespoons butter for ½ pound mushrooms.

With Onions

Slice onions into water and drain. Place in a shallow saucepan, cover closely, and cook over a slow heat for fifteen or twenty minutes, till tender. No water or fat should be used, as the onions contain both moisture and richness. Pan-broil the steak. Put the onions into the pan in which the steak was cooked and brown them. Serve steak with onions around it.

With Oysters.

1 quart oysters
1 tablespoon sifted flour
3 tablespoons butter or other fat

Set the oysters, with a very little of their juice, over the fire; when they come to a boil, remove any scum and stir in the fat in which the sifted flour has been rubbed. Boil one minute, pour over the steak and serve at once.

PLANKED STEAK

1 tender steak, 2 inches thick
Duchess potatoes
Various kinds of cooked vegetables

Trim the fat and make outline of the steak even. Sear it on both sides on a hot griddle or pan, using no fat, or on a broiler. Cook fifteen minutes, turning frequently. Oil a heated plank (see directions for planked fish), place the steak on the plank, and arrange border of Duchess potatoes around it. Arrange other cooked vegetables, such as stuffed tomatoes or green peppers, small boiled onions, peas, string beans and cubes of carrot or turnip, around the steak, also, so that the board is entirely concealed. Place the plank in the oven until the potato border is browned and all the vegetables are heated through. After removing it from the oven, spread the steak with butter into which has been rubbed minced parsley, salt and paprika. Send to table upon the plank.

HAMBURG STEAK

2 pounds chopped beef
1/4 pound suet
Butter

Onion-juice
Flour
Salt and pepper

Have the butcher chop the beef and suet together twice. Press it into a flat steak about three-fourths of an inch thick, sprinkle with salt, pepper, a little onion-juice and flour. Broil on a fine wire broiler or sauté in a little fat. Spread with butter and serve on a hot dish. This steak is sometimes shaped into small, thin, flat cakes. When it is sautéed, a gravy may be made by thickening the juices in the pan, to which a little water has been added. Two tablespoons of melted butter and one tablespoon minced onion mixed with the meat and seasonings improves Hamburg steak.

Have the meat put through the grinder twice. Add the bread, the onion, seasonings to taste and the two uncooked eggs, well-beaten. Arrange the hard-cooked eggs end to end across the middle of the meat and roll the meat mixture around them. Place the roll in a baking-pan, pour over it a sauce composed of the tomatoes, sliced onions, butter or other fat and water, and bake in moderate oven (350°-375° F.) for about two hours, basting frequently with sauce. In serving, slice the roll crosswise. The hard-cooked eggs may be omitted.

Put the meat twice through a food-chopper, add bread-crumbs, salt, pepper, lemon-juice, a little nutmeg and the beaten egg. Shape into balls lightly and let them stand for half an hour or more to become firm, then roll them in flour and brown them in the frying-pan with the fat. Take out the meat balls, add to the fat a tablespoon of flour and a cup of stock. Season well, put the meat balls into this mixture, cover the frying-pan closely and simmer for an hour and a half.
BEEF LOAF

1½ pounds chopped beef
2 eggs
1½ cups bread-crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons salt
Additional seasonings to suit, such as chopped celery or onion, poultry seasoning, a dash of thyme, savory, sage, etc.

Chop the meat. Mix it thoroughly with one unbeaten egg, bread-crumbs, chopped parsley, pepper and salt. Turn into a bread pan until almost filled. Press a hollow with spoon and drop an egg into the opening. Season, cover egg and continue to fill pan. Bake 40 minutes in hot oven (400° F.), basting every 8-10 minutes with stock or butter in hot water. Garnish with parsley or watercress and serve hot with mushroom sauce or onion sauce. It is simple to serve cold with horseradish sauce.

SCALLOPED CORNED BEEF

2 cups cooked corned beef cut into cubes
1 cup medium white sauce
1 stalk celery
2 slices onion
Buttered bread-crumbs

Cook chopped celery and onions in the sauce. Put the corned beef in a shallow baking-dish and add the sauce. Sprinkle with buttered bread-crumbs. Cook fifteen to thirty minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).

BEEF MIRONTON

Sliced cooked beef
1 cup bouillon or
1 cup water mixed with canned tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
6 onions
1 to 2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons vinegar
Bread-crumbs

Slice the onions and brown them in fat in a frying-pan. Add the flour and brown. Then add the vinegar, and the bouillon or the water and tomato sauce. Cook together until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper. Smother the slices of beef in the sauce for a few minutes. Pour into a baking-dish; sprinkle some bread-crumbs over the top and bake for ten minutes in a hot oven (400° F.).
FRICASSEE OF BEEF

Sliced cooked beef ½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour 2 cups water
3 tablespoons fat 1 teaspoon onion-juice
1½ teaspoons salt

Season the meat with salt and pepper. Make a sauce of the fat, flour and water, and remainder of the seasonings. Add the cold meat and cook gently for three minutes, if it is rare beef, mutton or game; if the meat is veal or poultry, it may cook longer. Serve on a hot dish with a border of rice, mashed potatoes or toast.

BEEF HASH

2 cups chopped cold roast beef or steak 1 cup beef gravy or hot water
2 to 4 cups chopped boiled potatoes 4 tablespoons butter or other fat

Put the fat into a frying-pan and then put in the meat and potato, salt and pepper, moisten with beef gravy or hot water and cover. Let it steam or heat through thoroughly, stirring occasionally to mix it evenly and also to keep it from sticking. When done, it should be neither watery nor dry, but just firm enough to stand well when dished. If a drier hash is liked, reduce the liquid, and after the hash has been thoroughly heated through remove the cover and allow the hash to brown. If onion is liked, fry two or three slices in the fat before the hash is added, or mix a little chopped onion with the meat and potatoes.

CORNED BEEF HASH

2 cups chopped corned beef ¼ cup milk or water
2 cups chopped cooked potatoes 2 tablespoons butter or other fat
Salt and pepper

Mix beef and potatoes together lightly and season. Pour the milk into a frying-pan with half the fat and, when this is warm, turn in the hash, spreading it evenly and placing the rest of the fat, cut in pieces, on the top. Cover the pan and place it where the hash will cook slowly for half an hour. There should then be a rich, thick crust on the bottom. Do not stir the hash. Fold it as an omelet is folded and place it on a warm platter. This slow process of heating the hash gives it a flavor that can not be obtained by hurried cooking.

CREAMED DRIED BEEF

2 \text{ tablespoons butter or other fat} & \quad \text{Pepper} \\

Place the butter or other fat and one and one-half cups of milk in a small frying-pan. When hot, add the beef, shredded. Cook three minutes. Rub the flour smooth in one-half cup cold milk, add a dash of pepper and stir into the beef. As soon as it thickens, draw the pan back, simmer five minutes, add the well-beaten egg and serve at once. The hot gravy will cook the egg sufficiently. The egg may be omitted.

\begin{align*}
3 \text{ pounds veal} & \quad \text{Salt and pepper} \\
2 \text{ onions} & \quad 5 \text{ potatoes}

The neck, ends of ribs, knuckle, breast or shoulder may be used. Cut the meat into two-inch cubes and place them in a kettle with the onion, salt and pepper, and just enough hot water to cover them. Simmer until the meat is tender, about an hour usually being sufficient. Strips of salt pork are sometimes cooked with the veal and add much to the flavor. Half an hour before serving, add the potatoes, cut in halves, and cook them with the meat.

Place dumplings around the edge of a platter and with a skimmer lift the meat and potato from the kettle and lay them in the center. Thicken the gravy in the kettle with a little flour stirred to a thin smooth paste with water. Pour the gravy over meat and dumplings. (The Index will tell you where to find the recipe for dumplings.)
BRAISED VEAL

| 5 pounds veal | 1 tablespoon sliced onion |
| 2 tablespoons butter or other fat | Salt and pepper |
| 4 cups boiling water | |

The breast, neck, shoulder, ends of ribs or knuckle may be used. Heat the fat and onion in a kettle. Season the veal with salt and pepper, put it into the kettle and sear it on all sides until brown. Pour over it the boiling water and cover tightly. Set the kettle in a slow oven (350° F.) and bake for two and one-half hours. Serve either hot or cold. If served hot, make a thickened sauce of the liquor in the kettle. When cold, the gravy will form a jelly to serve with the cold meat.

VEAL PIE

| 2 pounds veal | 2 tablespoons fat |
| Puff paste or other rich paste | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 2 tablespoons flour | Pepper |

Cut the meat into small pieces and stew until tender. Line a baking-dish with paste. Set a small inverted cup in the middle of the dish. Put in the meat, dredge it with flour, add fat and seasoning, and nearly cover with the stock in which the meat was cooked. Cover with paste. Bake thirty minutes in a quick oven (450° F.). If one-half pound of good salt pork or ham is cut in thin slices and parboiled with the veal, a nice flavor is added and very little, if any, butter need then be used, nor is any other salt necessary. Hard-cooked eggs cut in slices and arranged in layers on the veal and ham are an addition to this dish. When serving, lift the inverted cup and let the gravy flow back into the dish.

VEAL CUTLETS WITH CREAM GRAVY

| 2 pounds veal cutlets | Drippings |
| Salt and pepper | 1 cup milk or cream |
| Egg | 1 tablespoon flour |
| Bread or cracker-crumbs | |

Wipe the cutlets, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip them first in beaten egg and then in fine bread or cracker-crumbs, and sauté in drippings until brown. If preferred, they may be cut into small pieces of similar size and pounded with a rolling-pin until little more than a quarter of an inch in thickness and then egged and crumbed and sautéed. The cutlets should be thoroughly browned on both sides. Place them on a platter; add cream to the gravy in the pan, and thicken slightly with flour rubbed to a smooth paste with a little cold water. They may be served with slices of bacon.

Cook a veal shank in boiling salted water until tender. Remove as much meat as possible from the bone and cut the pieces to resemble chops. Season the veal well. Roll in crumbs, egg and crumbs again, and sauté in butter or other fat.

For the soup, take the remaining portion of the shank and put it into a kettle with the stock, peppercorns, salt, celery salt, and any other seasonings desired. Add the potatoes, turnips, and a little parsley. Cook for one-half hour.

Fry the ham, using no fat unless the meat is unusually lean. Remove the ham and place on the serving-dish. Cook the veal in the juices left from the ham, frying without covering until it is a deep brown. Put the veal on the same dish with the ham, add a little water to the gravy, season with salt and pepper, and pour it, without thickening, over the meat.
ROAST VEAL

4 pounds veal

Flour

Salt and pepper

Fat or salt pork or bacon

A roast may be cut from the leg, the loin, the rack, or the shoulder, or the breast may be boned for a roast. A fillet of five or six pounds from the heaviest part is the most economical for roasting. If the leg is used, it should be boned at the market, and the bone should be used for stock. Stuffing improves many roasts of veal (see recipes below).

Wipe the meat, dredge with salt, pepper and flour and place it in a pan with some fat. Place in a slow oven (300° F.) and roast uncovered and without adding water until tender. Allow 25 to 30 minutes per pound. If desired make an incision in meat and insert a roast meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the fleshiest part. When the thermometer registers 170° F. the veal will be well done. Allow about 1/3 pound per serving.

ROLLED VEAL LOIN

6 pounds loin of veal

1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

1/2 pound boiled ham

1/2 teaspoon salt

2 hard-cooked eggs

1/8 teaspoon pepper

1 cup bread crumbs

1 egg, slightly beaten

1/4 teaspoon chopped thyme

Salt pork or bacon

1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Have the kidney end of the loin carefully boned and cut into a long shape like a flap. Line it with slices of boiled ham and hard-cooked eggs. Remove all the skin and fat from the kidney, chop fine and mix with bread crumbs, thyme, parsley, lemon rind, salt and pepper. Add beaten egg and blend thoroughly. Spread over the veal on top of the sliced ham and eggs. Roll the meat and sew or fasten tightly with skewers. Arrange strips of salt pork or bacon over roll. Place in a slow oven (300° F.) and roast without covering and without adding water until tender, 25 to 30 minutes per pound. If a meat thermometer is used it will register 170° F. when meat is well done. Allow 1/3 pound per serving. Serve with brown gravy. This is delicious served cold. Garnish with spiced peaches or apricot halves in pineapple rings.
STUFFED BREAST OF VEAL

4 pounds breast of veal
2 cups bread crumbs
¼ cup salt pork drippings
1 teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup minced onion
½ cup diced celery
½ cup hot water

Have a pocket cut in veal breast. Make a stuffing by combining remaining ingredients and tossing together lightly. Pack stuffing into pocket and sew or skewer edges together. Brown the meat in hot fat, then add ⅔ cup water, cover and cook in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1½ to 2 hours or until tender.

Variations—Add ½ cup cooked pitted prunes, apricots or seedless raisins to the stuffing.
Stuff breast with cooked and seasoned rice or noodles.

VEAL LOAF

2½ pounds veal, knuckle or shin
¼ pound salt pork
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chopped onion
1 cup cracker-crums

1 cup water or stock
1 egg
½ teaspoon sage
2 tablespoons butter or other fat

Chop the veal and pork very fine and add salt, onion, crumbs, one-half of the water or stock, the egg and sage. Mix all well together. Oil a small pan and press the mixture into it like a loaf, making it about six inches high. Cook for two and one-half hours in a moderate oven (350°F.) basting with the remainder of the water or stock, in which the butter or other fat has been melted. This may be served hot or cold. If served hot a white sauce may accompany it.

JELLIED VEAL

A knuckle of veal
½ onion
Few slices carrot

Stalk of celery
Salt and pepper

Place the veal in boiling water, and simmer until tender, together with the carrot, onion and celery. Remove the veal from the liquid and cool both. When the meat is nearly cold, cut it into tiny cubes, or chop it fine; remove the fat from the broth, reheat the liquid and stir the veal into it, adding salt and pepper, and other seasoning if desired. Pack the hot mixture into a mold, cover with oiled paper, cover and let stand until set. Slice thin and serve cold.

BARBECUED ROAST

| 3 or 4-pound roast—lamb, mutton, pork or beef | 4 cups beef stock |
| ½ cup salad oil | ¾ teaspoon dry mustard |
| 2 tablespoons vinegar | Dash pepper |
| 1 cup water | ⅛ teaspoon celery salt |
| ⅓ cup flour | Salt to season, about 1 teaspoon |

Select meat which can be easily sliced across the grain. Mix salad oil and vinegar together and let meat stand in the mixture overnight. Place meat in a baking dish, add water and mixture in which meat was marinated. Bake, uncovered in a 350° F. oven for 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Baste several times during the roasting period and turn once so meat will be browned on both sides. Add additional water, if necessary. About ½ hour before serving time, remove ⅓ cup fat from the baking dish, to a skillet, blend in flour and cook until flour is brown. Add beef stock or its equivalent in canned soup or dissolved bouillon cubes, gradually, stirring constantly. Add remaining seasonings. Serve sliced, in a heated covered dish, with sauce in a separate hot bowl—for 6 to 8 persons.

PORK CHOPS WITH BARBECUE SAUCE

6 pork chops

Wipe the pork chops with a damp cloth and dust with flour. Sear on both sides until browned, then place 1 tablespoon sauce on each chop. Reduce heat, cover and cook slowly 5 to 8 minutes. Turn chops and place 1 tablespoon of sauce on other side. Cover and cook slowly until tender. Serve with sauce.

Barbecue Sauce

| 4 tablespoons minced onion | 1 tablespoon salt |
| 1 cup tomato purée | 1 teaspoon paprika |
| ¾ cup water | 1 teaspoon chili powder |
| 3 tablespoons vinegar | ½ teaspoon pepper |
| 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce | ¼ teaspoon cinnamon |
| | Dash ground cloves |

Combine all ingredients in order listed. Heat to boiling and use as directed above.
Mutton and Lamb

The flavor of mutton may be reduced by rubbing the meat with lemon-juice or by putting slices of lemon in the water in which the mutton is boiled. Mutton marinated in oil and vinegar or in spiced vinegar becomes very tender. The marinade also tends to absorb or neutralize the mutton flavor. Mutton may be served rare, but lamb should be well cooked. Mutton should always be served very hot, with caper sauce, mint sauce, tart jelly or spiced fruit.

ROAST STUFFED SHOULDER OF LAMB

3-4 pound shoulder lamb
Salt and pepper
2 recipes Bread Stuffing
No. 2 (page 303)

Have shoulder bone removed from shoulder and sew on 2 sides, leaving 1 side open for stuffing. Season with salt and pepper. Fill cavity in meat with stuffing and sew or skewer edges together. Place fat side up on rack in an open roasting pan and roast in moderately slow oven (300° to 350° F.) until tender, allowing 35 to 40 minutes per pound. Serves 6.

6. In place of Bread Stuffing use 1/2 recipe Pineapple-Nut Stuffing or Rice Stuffing (page 305).
MUTTON CHOPS

6 mutton chops  Oil  Salt and pepper

Mutton chops should be not less than one inch thick. The best way to cook them is to broil them. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, oil on both sides and broil, turning very often. Have them slightly underdone, and serve on a hot chop-dish, garnishing with French fried potatoes and sprigs of parsley.

If preferred these chops may be breaded. Select chops with little fat, or trim off the fat, dip them in well-beaten egg, roll in cracker crumbs, and fry in deep fat (375°-400° F.). Serve with tomato sauce.

BROILED LAMB PATTIES

1 1/2 pounds ground lamb  1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated onion  1/2 teaspoon pepper

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Shape into thick patties. Place on a rack under preheated broiler, about 3 inches from source of heat so that by the time the patties are browned on the top they will be half done. Turn and brown on other side. Allow about 15 minutes. Serves 6.

ROAST CROWN OF LAMB

1 crown of lamb or mutton  1 recipe Mushroom Stuffing
Salt and pepper  (page 305)
Sliced salt pork

A crown is usually prepared at the market and is made by shaping the ribs (12-15) into a crown and frenching or scraping the rib ends. Season with salt and pepper. Fill center of crown with stuffing. Wrap rib ends with salt pork or bacon slices. Place crown on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast in a moderately slow oven (300° to 350°F.) until as well done as desired, allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound. To serve, remove salt pork from rib ends and slip paper frills over them. Allow 2 ribs to each serving.

VARIATIONS—Do not stuff. Roast crown upside down without wrapping ribs. To serve, turn right side up and fill center with vegetables: mashed potatoes, potato balls, peas, diced carrots or cooked whole cauliflower.

LAMB OR MUTTON CUTLETS

2 pounds loin cutlets  Flour  Salt and pepper

Trim the cutlets and remove the fat, dip them in cold water, season with pepper and salt and sprinkle flour on both sides. Wet the inside of a thick saucepan with cold water, leaving about two tablespoons of the latter in the pan. Lay the cutlets in flat, place over a gentle fire and simmer for one hour or more, turning the cutlets when half done. Unless cooked slowly, the cutlets will not be tender or good. Season and serve with pan gravy. A little water may be added to the gravy, if necessary.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB

1 leg lamb (5 to 6 pounds)  1½ tablespoons salt
  ¼ teaspoon pepper

Have shank bone removed at the market, if desired. Do not remove the fell. Rub meat with salt and pepper. Place, fat side up, on rack in an uncovered roasting pan. Roast in a moderately slow oven (300°-325° F.) 30 to 35 minutes to the pound, or until a meat thermometer registers 175° to 180° F. Place on a hot platter and garnish with sliced pineapple and sprigs of watercress.

1. Rub meat with the cut edge of a clove of garlic or place slivers of garlic into deep narrow gashes cut in meat, or insert clove of garlic into joint of leg and remove before serving.

2. Rub 1 teaspoon ginger over surface of meat.

3. Baste lamb with vinegar which has been seasoned with finely cut mint leaves.

4. Baste lamb with a mixture of ½ cup tomato catchup and 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce.

5. Rub meat with ½ cup finely chopped mint leaves. Baste meat frequently the last hour of roasting with ½ cup grape jelly melted in ½ cup hot water.

6. Rub 2 cups cooked apricots and juice through a sieve, add ¾ cup sugar and cook until thickened. Baste roast with this during last hour of roasting.

7. Cover meat with pineapple slices 1 hour before meat is done. Brush with butter so that pineapple will brown.
FRENCH LAMB CHOPS

French chops are made by scraping the meat and fat from the bones of rib chops for a little distance from the end. Broil them over a quick fire, season with salt and pepper, and serve. They may be sautéed or fried. When cooked in this way, they are breaded—that is, seasoned with salt and pepper and dipped in beaten egg and then in cracker crumbs.

STUFFED LAMB BREAST

Lamb breast and foreshank 1 cup cooked rice or barley
Salt and pepper 1 tablespoon grated onion

Have foreshank removed from breast and the meat ground. Have bones of breast cracked so that the meat may be carved between the ribs. Make a pocket lengthwise in the breast by cutting the meat close to the ribs. Sprinkle pocket with salt and pepper. Combine ground meat from the foreshank with cooked rice or barley. Season with onion, salt and pepper. Fill pocket with stuffing and sew or skewer edges together. Sprinkle outside with salt and pepper. Place uncovered in a pan and bake in a moderately slow oven (300° to 350° F.) for 1 hour, then cover and continue cooking until tender, about 1 hour longer. Serves 6.

VARIATIONS—Add curry powder to rice stuffing. Fill breast with Bread Stuffing (page 303).

Pork

PORK TENDERLOIN

1 pound tenderloin 3 tablespoons bacon drippings
Flour Salt and pepper
⅛ cup sour cream

Cut tenderloin crosswise into 2-inch slices. Flatten out and dredge with flour. Place in hot skillet containing drippings. Brown on both sides and season with salt and pepper. Reduce temperature, add cream, cover and simmer until tender, about 20 minutes. Serves 6.

VARIATIONS—Place unflattened slices on a baking sheet. Spread with a thick layer of catchup and bake in a moderate over (350° F.) until tender, about 45 minutes.

BROILED—Do not flatten. Broil as for steaks, (page 243).
ROAST SPARERIBS

2 pounds spareribs Salt and pepper

Place spareribs in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roast in a moderately slow oven (300° to 325° F.) about 1½ hours. Allow 1 pound per serving.

Cover spareribs with greased paper and roast for ¾ hour, then roast, uncovered for remaining time. Just before taking meat from oven, sprinkle with 1 cup bread crumbs seasoned with ¼ teaspoon each of sage and minced onion. Baste with drippings in pan and return to oven 5 minutes longer.

STUFFED SPARERIBS—Use 2 matching sections of spareribs. Sew the edges together, except at 1 end. Fill with Bread Stuffing, Celery Stuffing (page 304) or apple stuffing, and sew or skewer the edges together. Bake in a moderately slow oven (300° to 325° F.) for 1½ hours.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS—Brown spareribs under broiler. Pour Barbecue Sauce (page 253) over ribs, cover pan and bake.

WITH SAUERKRAUT—Brown spareribs. Place sauerkraut in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Add ½ cup water and arrange spareribs on top. Cover dish and cook in a moderately slow oven (300° to 325° F.) for 1 hour.

BRAISED SPARERIBS—Place spareribs in a baking dish and brown in a hot oven (450° F.). Season with salt and pepper, add ½ cup water, cover pan and return to oven. Reduce temperature to moderately slow (325° F.) and continue cooking until tender, about 40 minutes longer. If desired, place cored apples around the ribs. Fill centers of apples with brown sugar and nut meats or raisins.

CROWN AND CANDLE ROAST OF PORK

Crown of pork Pepper
1½ tablespoons salt Cubes of salt pork

Have crown prepared at the market. Rub salt and pepper into meat. Cover tip of each bone with salt pork. Roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) allowing 30 minutes per pound. To serve, replace salt pork with paper frills. If desired, center of roast may be filled with stuffing and baked. See Roast Lamb (page 256). For candle roast, do not roll ribs but leave loin in one straight piece. Roast with fat side up.
SAUTÉED PORK CHOPS

Pork chops are delicious sautéed. They require from twenty to thirty minutes. Some cooks sprinkle a little powdered sage over them, as well as salt and pepper, and thicken the gravy with flour. Sautéed apples are delicious served with the sautéed pork chops. Tomato sauce is good also.

PORK PIE

2 or 3 pounds thick end of loin of pork
1 cup stock, or water
Plain pie paste
Salt and pepper
1 or 2 tablespoons catchup
Parsley
Onion

Cut pork into thick slices three inches long by two wide. Put a layer on the bottom of a pie-plate and sprinkle chopped parsley and onion, salt and pepper over it. Repeat until the dish is full and then pour in stock or water and catchup. Put a strip of good plain paste around the edge of the dish, cover with the paste, cut an opening in the center, and set the pie in a hot oven (450° F.). When the crust rises and begins to color, place the pie in the bottom of the oven, put a piece of paper over it and bake at a lower temperature (350° F.) for two hours. Often the meat is partly cooked before the crust is put on.

FRESH PORK WITH VEGETABLES

1 pound pork butt
4 large carrots
4 large parsnips
1 small red cabbage
Seasoning

Simmer the piece of pork one and one-half hours. Cook the vegetables in the same kettle until they are soft, then remove them and finish cooking the meat. Cut the pork into thin slices. Arrange them side by side down the middle of a large platter, and make a border of the cabbage, quartered, and the other vegetables cut into lengths.

BOILED

6 pigs’ feet
1 1/2 tablespoons salt

Scrape and wash the feet thoroughly and tie each separately in a piece of cheese-cloth. Put them into a kettle or stew-pan, cover with boiling water and add the salt. Let the water boil up once, then set back on the fire and simmer for six hours. Cool in the water. When cold, drain, but do not take off the cloth, and place the feet on a platter. The next day they will be ready for broiling, frying or pickling.

Broiled.

6 boiled pigs' feet
Salt and pepper

Split each foot, dredge with salt, pepper and flour and broil over clear coals for ten minutes. Serve on a hot platter, seasoning with butter, salt and pepper.

Fried.

6 boiled pigs' feet
Salt and pepper
1 egg
Lemon-juice
Bread-crumbs

Split the feet and season well with salt, pepper and lemon-juice. Dip in beaten egg, then in bread-crumbs and fry five minutes in deep fat (375°-390° F.). Drain and serve immediately.

Browned.

6 boiled pigs' feet
1/2 cup crumbs
1 egg
Butter or other fat
2 cups boiled beets, fresh or canned

Dip the feet in beaten egg, then in crumbs, and brown in fat. Bake in casserole at 350° F., basting with butter or other fat. Serve in the casserole with beets surrounding the pigs' feet.

Pickled (Souce).

4 good-sized boiled pigs' feet, with uppers
1 quart strong vinegar
4 bay-leaves
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon broken cinnamon
1/4 cup salt
2 teaspoons pepper
1/2 onion
1 blade mace

Clean the feet carefully, and cover them with hot water. Boil slowly until the meat will separate from the bones, then take them up carefully on a skimmer, and place them in a stone jar, taking out the largest bones. Set the water aside in a cool place to be used later.
Place the vinegar on the fire, adding bay-leaves, cloves, cinnamon, salt, pepper, onion cut in eighths, and mace. Steep slowly in the vinegar for forty-five minutes, but do not allow the vinegar to boil rapidly at any time. Remove the fat cake from the top of the water in which the feet were boiled, and save it for cooking purposes. Add about one quart of the water to the vinegar; if the vinegar is not very strong, less water must be added, so that the vinegar may not be too much diluted. Strain the liquid through a sieve to remove the spice, etc., and pour it over the meat in the jar, helping it through the meat with a knife and fork until the two are thoroughly mixed. Set the jar in a cold place for two days.

Scrape and clean a hog’s head, then split it and take out the eyes and brain. The butcher will do this, if requested. Clean the ears and scrape them well. Put all on to boil in plenty of cold water and simmer gently for four hours, or until the bones will easily slip from the meat. Lift out the meat and bones into a colander, remove the bones and chop the meat fine. Skim off every particle of grease from the water in which the meat was boiled, and return the meat to the boiling stock in the kettle. Season highly with salt and pepper and powdered herbs. Add enough corn-meal and buckwheat flour, in equal quantities, to make a soft mush, stirring constantly for the first fifteen minutes, then lower the heat and cook for one hour. Pour into bread pans, cool, and keep in a cold place until needed.

The scrapple may be served cold or may be cut into slices, dipped in egg and cracker-crumbs and sautéed.

Head-cheese is usually made of the head, ears and tongue of pork. Clean the head with the utmost care and boil all the meat and bones in salted water until the meat is very tender, about two or three hours. Take out the head, place it in a colander to drain, and remove all the bones. Cut the ears in very thin slices. Season the whole to taste with salt, pepper, sage, sweet marjoram and other herbs, and a little powdered cloves. Mix the mass well, and pack it tightly in a bowl, interspersing layers of the mixture with slices of the boiled ears. Press the whole into a compact shape and cover with a plate, on which place a heavy weight. The head-cheese will be ready to use in two or three days. It may be cut in thin slices and served with vinegar and mustard, or it may be cut in slices, dipped in egg and cracker-crumbs and fried.

BOILED HAM

1 ham  Brown sugar  Whole cloves

Wash ham thoroughly, cover with boiling water and simmer, partially covered, for 25 to 30 minutes per pound, or until meat is tender. When cooked the internal temperature will be (160° F.). If ham is to be served cold, let it stand in water until it is cold, then peel off skin and serve. If it is to be served hot, peel off skin, rub with brown sugar, stick in a few cloves and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) to brown. Whenever possible follow packers cooking directions.

ROAST OR BAKED HAM

1 ham  1 teaspoon mustard  Brown sugar  Whole cloves  Soft bread-crumbs

Cover ham with boiling water, simmer about 20 minutes per pound. Whenever possible, follow directions given by packers as to the best method for cooking their hams. Drain and remove skin. Mix sugar and crumbs in the proportions of four parts sugar to one of crumbs, add mustard and spread over ham. Insert cloves one inch apart, making a diamond pattern. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.), allowing ten minutes per pound. To stuff, remove bone; see Stuffings, page 303.

BROILED HAM

Place the slices on broiler and turn them frequently. Either boiled ham or raw ham may be used for broiling.
FRIED HAM WITH CREAM GRAVY

1 pound ham in slices 1 cup milk about 1/2 inch thick
1 tablespoon flour

Pepper

If the ham is too salt, place it in a frying-pan, cover with cold water and set the pan on a range in mild heat. When the steam commences to rise, pour off the water and add more cold water. As soon as this water steams, lift out the slices of meat and drain well before frying. Place the meat in a hot pan, and cook without addition of fat, unless the ham is exceptionally lean; in this case, a spoonful of drippings should be used. When the ham is nicely browned, place it on a platter, and add a cup of milk to the fat in the pan. When this boils, thicken it to a cream with one or two tablespoons of flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold milk, season with pepper, then turn the gravy over the ham. A more simple gravy is made by adding a little hot water to the fat in the pan and pouring this over the meat.

FRIED HAM AND EGGS

Fry a slice of ham, browning both sides. Break each egg separately in a saucer and slip into the hot fat in the frying-pan. Lower the heat, and baste with the hot fat. As soon as the color changes, they are done. Place them on top of the ham and send to the table hot.

SAUSAGES

1 pound sausage 1 cup milk
1 tablespoon flour Salt and pepper

When cooking sausage in casings, prick the skins thoroughly with a steel fork to prevent their bursting. If cooking in bulk, shape the sausage meat into balls with the hands. Place them in a hot frying-pan and fry until brown, adding no fat, as there will generally be plenty in the meat. When done, remove the sausage to a platter. Pour off all but one tablespoon of fat, add one tablespoon of dry flour and cook one minute, stirring all the time; then gradually add one cup of milk, still stirring. POTTED HAM

1 cup cold cooked ham
Cayenne pepper
Powdered mace
Mustard

Mince some cold, cooked ham, mixing lean and fat together, and pound in a mortar, seasoning with a little cayenne pepper, mace and mustard. Put into a baking-dish and place in the oven (350° F.) for one-half hour; afterward pack it into pots or little stone jars, covering with paraffin and paper. This is convenient for sandwiches.

FRIED OR BROILED BACON

Cut the bacon very thin. Place in a hot pan and cook until brown. Turn the slices frequently, and in cooking a large quantity remove some of the fat from the pan occasionally.

To broil bacon, place the strips on a broiler and lay the broiler over a dripping-pan. Bake in the oven or broil under direct heat. To keep bacon flat, broil between racks.

BACON AND EGGS

Fry lean strips of bacon until crisp. Remove and lay them on a platter. Break the eggs separately, gently slide them into the bacon fat and cook until they are set. See page 373.

FRIED SALT PORK WITH CREAM GRAVY

1 pound salt pork
10 tablespoons flour
1 pint milk
Salt and pepper

Cut the slices thin and place them in cold water. After they have soaked one hour, drain well and dry them on a napkin. Heat the frying-pan very hot. Place one-half cup (8 tablespoons) of flour on a plate and dip each piece of meat in it. Fry until crisp. Drain off all but two tablespoons of the fat and stir two tablespoons of flour into that remaining in the pan. Cook two minutes, stirring well, then reduce the heat and slowly add one pint of milk. When the gravy is smooth, cook one minute and add pepper and salt, if needed. Turn the gravy over the meat and serve.
LIVER CASSEROLE

1 pound calf's liver
3/4 cup tomato sauce
Dash salt and pepper

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Wash liver, cut into 1 1/2-inch cubes and place in casserole. Add sauce and seasoning, cover and bake at 350° F. 1/2 hour. Just before serving, add Worcestershire sauce.

BRAISED LIVER WITH STUFFING

1 calf's liver (about 2 pounds)
Bread Stuffing No. 2
(page 303)
Salt and pepper

Flour to dredge
3 strips salt pork
1/2 cup water

Wipe liver with a damp cloth and dry. Make an incision in the thickest part using a sharp knife. Fill with stuffing, sew edges together, season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Place in a baking pan and place strips of salt pork on top. Add water, cover pan and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) until tender, 1 1/2 to 2 hours. About 10 minutes before serving remove cover so that salt pork may brown. Thicken gravy in pan and serve with meat. Serves 8.

VARIATION—Bacon may be used in place of salt pork.

LIVER AND BACON

1/2 pound sliced bacon
1 1/2 pounds calf's liver, cut
1/2 inch thick

Flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Place a single layer of bacon in a cool frying pan and place over low heat. Turn bacon frequently and drain off excess fat so that the bottom of the pan is well greased. Cook slowly until bacon is light golden brown and crisped. Drain on absorbent paper. Keep in a hot place. Wipe liver with a damp cloth and dry thoroughly. Roll in flour to which salt and pepper have been added. Sauté in drippings at reduced heat 5 to 8 minutes, until browned on both sides and center is just done. Overcooking ruins liver. Serves 4.

Place the liver in the center of the platter with the bacon around it as a garnish. Put flour into the hot fat in the pan and stir until brown. Make a medium sauce of this browned flour and water. Season with salt and pepper, and pour the gravy over the liver and bacon.

SWEETBREADS

Preparing Sweetbreads—Sweetbreads should be plunged into cold water as soon as they are received, and soaked for one hour, then they should be parboiled in acidulated, salted water (one teaspoon salt and one tablespoon vinegar to one quart water) for twenty minutes. After draining they should be plunged into cold water again to make them firm. The little strings and membranes, which are easily detached after parboiling, should be removed.

Broiled.

2 pairs sweetbreads
Butter
Lemon-juice
Salt and pepper

Prepare as directed, then cut into thin slices, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and broil. Serve with melted butter to which a little lemon-juice has been added.

Fried.

2 pairs sweetbreads
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper
Egg
Bread or cracker-crums

Prepare as directed and cut in even-sized slices. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip in beaten egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. When well browned on both sides, place them on a platter. Make a sauce with two tablespoons of the fat in which the sweetbreads were fried, the flour and milk and season with salt and pepper.

Fried sweetbreads are often served with green peas, placed in a mound or a little hill in the center of the platter. Macaroni may be boiled very tender and laid on the platter and the sweetbreads placed in the center, the pipes of the macaroni being laid about them in the form of a nest.
CREAMED.

2 pairs sweetbreads 1 teaspoon minced parsley
4 tablespoons butter or other 2 cups milk or cream
  fat Salt and pepper
4 tablespoons flour

Prepare as directed and cut into dice. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk or cream, add the sweetbreads, and stir steadily until very hot. Season with salt and pepper and minced parsley.

LARDED.

2 pairs sweetbreads 1 pint seasoned stock
Salt pork for larding 6 slices toast

Prepare sweetbreads as directed. Lard them with salt pork, letting the ends of the strips curl over the edge of the sweetbreads. Lay in a roasting-pan, pour the stock over them, cover and cook in a slow oven (350° F.) for one hour. Serve on toast. Thicken the gravy in the pan and pour it around them.

STEWED CALF’S HEART

2 calves’ hearts 2 tablespoons flour
1 bay-leaf 2 tablespoons butter or other
Salt and pepper fat
½ lemon

Hearts must be carefully washed and the veins, arteries and clotted blood removed. After washing, place the hearts in a kettle with enough boiling water to cover them, and simmer for one and one-half hours. Remove all the fat, and set aside to cool. When the dish is intended for breakfast, this cooking must be done the day before.

In the morning, cut the heart into small pieces, remove all the cords and artery cases, and use only the lean portions. Place the chopped heart in a saucepan, add the water and bay-leaf, a dusting of salt and pepper, and simmer gently for ten minutes. Rub the flour and butter or other fat together, add them, with sliced lemon, stir thoroughly for five minutes, and serve at once.
STEWED BEEF HEART

1 beef heart
Bread Stuffing No. 3, omitting sage
1 tablespoon chopped celery
Flour or corn-starch

Wash the heart well, remove the large veins and arteries from the inside and take out every particle of blood. Add the celery to the stuffing and stuff the cavity of the heart. Tie the heart about with twine, and wrap it in a cloth, sewing the ends together to keep the stuffing in. Place in a small stewpan with the point of the heart down, and nearly cover with water boiling hot. Place the lid on the stew-pan and simmer gently for three hours. When done, there should be about one pint of water in the pan. Remove the cloth and place the heart on a platter. Thicken the liquor in the pan with flour or corn-starch mixed with a little cold water, and season with salt and pepper. Pour the gravy over and around the heart.

SMOKED BEEF TONGUE

1 smoked beef tongue
1 cup Spanish sauce
10 chopped, cooked mushrooms

Scrub the tongue. Soak it in cold water over night, then place it in enough fresh cold water to cover it, and simmer for five hours. Drain, lay in cold water for two or three minutes, remove the skin, trimming the thick end of the tongue neatly, and again place it in hot water for a few minutes. Drain and lay on the serving-dish, and pour over it sauce piquante or Spanish sauce, to which the mushrooms have been added just before serving.

VIRGINIA BEEF TONGUE

1 beef tongue, fresh
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup stewed cranberries
¼ cup butter or other fat
1 tablespoon whole cloves
½ lemon

Scrub the tongue and simmer it until tender, in water to cover. Remove the skin and trim the root end. Take one cup of the liquor in which the tongue was cooked and add the brown sugar, stewed cranberries, butter or other fat, cloves, and lemon, sliced. Simmer the tongue in this mixture for one-fourth hour. Place on a dish with the sauce, garnish with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley and serve.

Tongue may be jellied and served cold.

BRAIN RISSOLES

2 cups brains or 2 tablespoons chopped green
1 whole brain pepper
Pie paste or short biscuit ½ cup thick white sauce dough ⅛ teaspoon salt

Put the brains into a bowl of cold water, with salt, for thirty minutes. Cover with water and simmer fifteen minutes. Remove fiber and outer membrane. Drain, chop or put through the meat grinder, add seasoning and white sauce. Form into small balls. Roll pie paste or short biscuit dough quite thin. Place the balls on the paste equal distances apart. Place another sheet of paste over all. Stamp out with round cutter or cut them apart and press upper and lower crusts together. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for fifteen minutes. Brown in deep hot fat or oil (375°-390° F.) before serving.

STEWED KIDNEYS

3 cups veal or beef kidneys 2 tablespoons flour
2 bay-leaves 2 tablespoons butter or other ½ lemon fat
Salt and pepper

Split the kidneys and cut out the hard, white substances and fat from the center. Wash them well and soak for three or four hours in cold water, changing the water as soon as it becomes cloudy. Then put the kidneys into a granite pan, add enough cold water to cover them and heat slowly. When just at the boiling-point, pour off the hot water and again just cover them with cold water, once more heating slowly and again changing the water when hot. Change the water in this way three times, then simmer (twenty minutes for small kidneys; forty minutes for a beef kidney.) Set away to cool. If the stew is to be used for a breakfast dish, this preliminary cooking must be done the day before. When ready to prepare, separate all the cords and veins from the kidneys, leaving only the lean part. Cut this into small pieces. Place the chopped kidneys in a granite pan, add the bay-leaves, two cups of water and the lemon, sliced, and simmer for twenty minutes. When ready to serve, remove the bay-leaves, add the flour rubbed smooth in the butter or other fat, season with salt and pepper, and when thickened to the consistency of cream, serve on a hot dish.

Cut the kidneys into halves, remove the white tubes and fat and cover with cold water for thirty minutes. Drain and dry on a piece of cheese-cloth. Brush with, or dip into, cooking oil. Broil slowly until brown on both sides. Remove from the broiler and put in pan, sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little melted butter. Cover the pan and set over a slow fire for a few minutes. Serve garnished with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley.

SAUTÉED KIDNEYS

Remove the skin from the kidneys, cut them into thin round slices, and soak them in salted water for thirty minutes. Drain and wipe. Sauté until tender in butter or other fat. Serve with brown sauce or tomato sauce.

If preferred, cut the kidneys in half after skimming, remove the white tubes and fat and then slice the kidneys lengthwise.

TRIPE

PREPARING TRIPE—Tripe is usually sold in the city markets already cleaned. If not so obtainable, wash well through several boiling waters, then put it in cold water and let it soak over night.

Stewed With Onions

</table>

Simmer the tripe and onions in salted water for three or four hours. Drain. Chop the cooked onions very fine, place them in hot milk, and season with salt, pepper and butter. Pour this over the tripe and serve at once.
Stewed with Tomato Sauce

2 pounds tripe
1 onion
2 cups tomatoes
2 tablespoons flour

Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon butter or other fat

Choose the honeycomb portions and the thick section of tripe. Wash it carefully, cover with hot water, add the onion, cut in halves, cover the stew-pan and simmer for thirty-five minutes. The tripe will then be tender and soft, but long cooking will make it tough and hard.

Place the tomatoes in a separate stew-pan, cook them for ten minutes and strain through a sieve. Make a sauce of the tomatoes, flour, seasoning and fat.

When the tripe is cooked, drain well, place on a hot plate and cut into slender strips. Then drain again, pressing the tripe gently between the back of a spoon and the plate to remove as much water as possible. Place it in the tomato sauce and serve as soon as the sauce is thoroughly heated through.

Liver Loaf with Pan Gravy

1½ pounds beef liver
1½ cups boiling water
2 slices salt pork, ¼ inch thick
1 medium-sized onion
¼ cup chopped parsley

2 tablespoons flour
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Salt and pepper
1½ cups cold water

Wash liver quickly under running water, cover with boiling water and let stand 10 minutes; drain. Grind with 2 slices salt pork and an onion; add parsley, crumbs, eggs, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper, and mix thoroughly. Press into baking pan, 8x4x3 inches, and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour, or until browned. Remove loaf to hot platter. Stir flour into drippings and brown; add water gradually and cook five minutes, stirring until thickened; season to taste and pour over loaf.
LIVER PIQUANTE WITH VEGETABLES

2 pounds liver 1 cup sliced carrots
Fat salt pork ½ cup sliced onion
½ pound lean salt pork 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 cups boiling water Bit of bay leaf

Small sprig of thyme

Buy liver in solid piece, wash thoroughly, dry and lard with strips of fat pork (page 3). Cut lean salt pork in pieces and try out slightly; add liver and brown on all sides. Add hot water, vegetables and seasonings, cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until liver is tender, or about 1 hour for veal liver and 2 hours for beef liver. Serve on hot platter surrounded by vegetables. Approximate yield: 8 portions.

SAVORY LIVER

1½ pounds beef liver, sliced 2 tablespoons flour thin ¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped onion Dash pepper
2 teaspoons chopped parsley 3 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons butter 2½ cups bouillon

Sauté onion and parsley in butter in frying pan until lightly browned; stir in flour, seasonings and vinegar, and add bouillon gradually, stirring and cooking until well mixed. Place liver in gravy and cook, covered 15 minutes, turning once.

REINDEER

Government breeding of reindeer has brought the meat back on the market in modern form. It is shipped frozen and may be thawed at low temperature or put directly under the broiler or in the oven, when additional time for cooking must be allowed. It is very much like beef or veal, with less fat, and has a pleasant gamy flavor. The round is the desirable cut and steaks, pot roast, oven roast, chops and cutlets are prepared like beef or veal except that they need larding more often.
POULTRY AND GAME

POULTRY includes all the domesticated birds that are used for food—chicken and fowl, turkeys, squabs and pigeons, geese and ducks. Game includes wild birds—ducks, geese, partridge, reed birds, quail, plover, etc., and animals suitable for food which are pursued and taken in field or forest, as the deer, moose and rabbit.

The flesh of game, except that of partridge and quail, is dark in color and has a fine strong flavor. The flesh of wild birds, except that of wild ducks and geese, contains less fat than the flesh of poultry.

Seasons for Fresh Poultry and Game

Poultry in some form is available in the market at every season. Chickens weighing about one and one-half pounds, known as Spring chickens or broilers, begin to appear in the market during January. The height of the season for broilers, however, is May and June. The so-called milk-fed or early Spring chickens appear in the market in July and are available until August.

Roasting chickens begin to appear in September, and Philadelphia capons come into the market at about the same time. Fowl are in the market now-a-days throughout the year.

The season for turkey and ducks is the same as for chickens. Goose about twelve weeks old, known as green goose, is available from May to September. Geese, also, may be found in the market throughout the year.

Fresh quail and partridge are in the market from Oct. 15 to Jan. 1. Cold-storage birds may be found much later. Grouse is fresh in the Fall. The cold-storage birds are obtainable throughout the year. Plover are in season from April to September.

Selecting Poultry and Game

There are a few general rules to be observed in the selection of young tender poultry and game.

They should be plump in appearance, have smooth, soft legs and feet and smooth, moist skin.
The lower or rear end of the breast-bone should be flexible, the skin should be easily broken when twisted between the thumb and finger, and the joint of the wing should yield readily when turned backward.

The eyes should be bright, the comb red, and there should be an abundance of pin feathers.

Birds with a yellow skin are likely to be plump, those with white skins are likely to be tender.

Bruised, dry or purplish skin is an indication of careless dressing and of age. Hard, dry, scaly legs, hard breast-bone and the presence of long hairs are all signs of an old and tough bird.

Avoid birds with a full crop. Buy dry-picked poultry whenever possible. Scalding the bird before plucking it impairs the flavor.

Poultry and game unless they are in cold storage, should not be kept long uncooked. They should be drawn as soon as purchased, and should be kept in a cool place.

Unless hen turkeys are young, small and plump, cock turkeys are more satisfactory.

Geese should have an abundance of pin-feathers, soft feet and pliable bills.

There is more meat in proportion to the amount of bone in fowls weighing five to six pounds than there is in smaller birds. Broilers should weigh one to two pounds.

To Clean and Dress Poultry

Cut off the head and remove the pin-feathers with a sharp, pointed knife. Singe by holding the bird over a flame, turning on all sides until all down and hair have been burnt off.

If the feet and tendons were not removed at the market, cut through the skin around the lower joint or "drum-stick," one and one-half inches below the joint that connects the foot with the leg, but do not cut the tendons. Place the leg with this cut at the edge of the table and break the bone by pressing downward. Hold the bird in the left hand and with the right pull off the foot, and with it the tendons. In an old bird, the tendons must be removed one by one with a skewer or trussing needle.
To Prepare Poultry for Cooking Whole

Make a small incision below the breast-bone. Insert the hand and carefully loosen the internal organs, the entrails, the gizzard, the heart and the liver. Reserve the last three; these are known as the giblets. Care should be taken not to break the gall bladder, which is attached to the liver. The liquid content of the gall bladder is very bitter, and makes the flesh unpleasant to eat.

Remove and discard the lungs and the kidneys. Insert two fingers under the skin close to the neck and remove the windpipe and the crop. Pull back the skin of the neck and cut off the neck close to the body, leaving enough of the neck skin to fold down under the back if the bird is to be roasted. Remove the oil bag from the tail.

Clean the inside of the bird by running water through it and wipe the outside with a damp cloth.

To Stuff Poultry or Game—Fill the opening at the neck end with sufficient stuffing to make the bird look plump. Put the remaining stuffing in the body. If the body is full, sew up the opening; if not full, bring the skin together with a skewer. Do not fill the cavity too full. Allowance must be made for swelling of the stuffing especially when the stuffing is made with cracker-crumbs.

To Truss Poultry or Game for Roasting—Clean, dress and stuff. Tie a piece of twine to the end of the neck-skin and pull the neck-skin over the back. Slip the ends of the wings over the back and press the wings close to the body. Press the thighs close to the body, draw the ends of the twine back on each side and up over the thighs. Cross the twine between the legs, and tie it down under the tail.

If the poultry or game has little fat it should be larded with thin strips of salt pork or bacon laid across the breast. To prevent the burning of the legs, wind them with strips of cloth which have been dipped in melted fat.

To Dress Birds for Broiling, Frying, Etc.

For Broiling—Singe the bird, cut off the head and neck close to the breast and the legs at the knee joints. Beginning at the neck, make a cut through the back-bone for the entire
The season’s best-dressed fowl wears stuffing under the skin of the breast as well as in the body (above). Before tucking away in the roaster, cover the fowl with body fat and a fat-saturated cheesecloth. Turn breast side down for the beginning and you will have a self-baster.

length of the bird. Lay the bird open and remove the contents. Cut the tendons or break the joints. Cut out the rib-bones and remove the breast-bone, to facilitate carving.

To Make Fillets—Remove the skin from the breast and with a sharp knife make an incision close to the breast-bone, beginning at the end next the wish-bone and cutting through the entire length. Following the bone closely, remove all the meat, cutting it away from the wing joint. This fillet may be separated into two parts, the upper or larger muscle making the "large fillet" and the smaller "fillet mignon."

To Cut Up a Fowl—Remove pin-feathers, singe the fowl, cut off the head, tendons and oil-bag.
Cut off the legs at the thigh joint. Separate the first joint or drumstick from the thigh.
Cut the wings from the body. Cut off the tips of the wings.
Separate the breast from the back by cutting clear down both sides of the bird below the ribs.
Remove the heart, liver, gizzard, entrails and fat all together. Remove windpipe and crop. Carefully remove the lungs and kidneys from the back-bone.
Cut back and breast into two pieces each, cutting crosswise. The back is sometimes further divided by cutting lengthwise. The wish-bone may be removed by inserting a knife under the tip and cutting downward, the knife following the bone.

To Clean Giblets
Cut the fat and membrane from the gizzard. Make a gash in the thickest part, cutting to, but not through the inner lining. Remove the inner sac and throw it away. Carefully separate the gall bladder from the liver and cut off any part of the liver that has a greenish color. Remove arteries and veins from the top of the heart and squeeze out the clot of blood.

Chickens

ROAST CHICKEN

1 roasting chicken Salt and pepper
Stuffing Flour
Fat

Wash, singe and draw the bird, rub it with salt and pepper inside and out, and stuff with any desired stuffing. Bread stuffing, chestnut stuffing and celery stuffing are particularly good. Truss and tie the fowl. Brush skin with melted or softened fat. Turn breast side down and cover bird with a cloth dipped in fat. Place in a moderate oven (325°C to 350°F). Cook uncovered breast side down about one half the total time. Turn breast side up. Place any strips of body fat removed in dressing over breastbone. Bacon or salt pork strips may be used. Baste with extra fat. The cloth may be removed toward the end of the cooking if the bird is not well browned. Allow 30 minutes per pound for small birds; 22 to 25 minutes per pound for larger birds.

BROILED CHICKEN

Unless you are quite certain the chickens are tender, it is wise to steam them before broiling. This may be done as follows: Set the dripping-pan in a moderate oven (350°-400°F.) and nearly fill it with boiling water. Place two sticks across the pan, extending from side to side, and upon them lay the chicken. Invert a tin pan over it, shut the oven door and let the chicken steam slowly for thirty minutes. This process relaxes the muscles and makes the joints supple, besides preserving the juices that would be lost in parboiling.

Transfer the chicken from this vapor bath to a wire broiler, turning the inside to the fire first. Broil until the chicken is tender and brown, turning it frequently. If the chicken is small, it will cook in twenty minutes or less. Do not have too hot a fire. Lay the chicken on a warmed platter, spread it with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and serve.

PANNED CHICKEN

| 1 chicken | Salt and pepper |
| 1/4 cup fat | 1 tablespoon cracker or bread-crumbs |
| Flour | Onion-juice |
| 1 cup hot milk | Chopped parsley or tarragon |
| Cress | |

Prepare a chicken as for broiling and slightly flatten it with a rolling-pin. Place in pan, lay bits of fat upon it, and place it in a moderate oven (350°F) allowing 15 to 20 minutes per pound. Bake uncovered. Baste with drippings every half hour. When it is nearly done, remove from the oven, salt and pepper both sides, strew once more with bits of fat, dredge with flour and return to the oven to brown slightly on both sides, the under side first.

When the chicken is thoroughly done, place it on a hot platter with the skin side uppermost, cover, and set it where it will be kept warm. Pour hot milk into the pan and add cracker or bread-crums. Season with salt and pepper, if necessary, and add a few drops of onion-juice or a teaspoon of chopped parsley or tarragon, as preferred. Stir the gravy vigorously, let it boil one minute and turn it over the chicken. Garnish with cress or parsley and serve.

Clean and disjoint young chickens, leaving the breasts whole. Put the necks and giblets into cold water and simmer to obtain a cup of stock for the gravy. Sprinkle each piece of chicken with salt and pepper, dip in flour, beaten egg and soft crumbs and place in a greased pan. Bake in a hot oven (480° F.) from thirty to forty minutes, basting frequently with one-fourth cup of fat melted in one-fourth cup of hot water.

When the chicken is done, make a gravy from the fat left in the pan, stirring in two tablespoons of flour, one cup of milk or cream and the cup of stock made from the giblets. If you like, add a few button mushrooms. Serve the chicken with the gravy poured around it.

PLANKED CHICKEN

| 2 large broilers | 1 teaspoon minced onion |
| ¼ cup fat | Salt and pepper |
| 1 teaspoon minced parsley | 1 pint sautéd mushrooms |
| 1 teaspoon minced green pepper | 1 quart seasoned mashed potato |
| 1 teaspoon lemon-juice | Garnishes for plank |

Make a savory fat by rubbing the minced parsley, green pepper and onion into the fat. Flavor with lemon-juice, salt and pepper. Split the broilers, sprinkle with salt and pepper... and put in a pan. Pour over them a little oil or melted fat and bake them (400° F.) until nearly done (about twenty minutes).

Prepare a plank of proper size, oil it, garnish with a border of potatoes forced through pastry-bag and tube, place the chicken in the center of the plank, arrange around it sautéed mushrooms and spread over the chicken the savory fat. Place the plank in a very hot oven (500° F.) to brown the potato border and to give the chicken the final cooking. Planked dishes are invariably served on the plank. They may be elaborately garnished with stuffed tomatoes, green peppers and fancifully cut vegetables.

Cut each chicken into four or six pieces, dip each piece quickly in cold water, then sprinkle with salt and pepper, and roll in plenty of flour. Sauté the chicken in a little fat until each piece is brown on both sides, and admits a fork easily. Drain the pieces well and arrange on a warm platter, setting the dish in a hot place to keep the meat from cooling while the gravy is being made, as on page 279.

No. 2—

Dip the chicken into fritter batter and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.) until brown. Transfer to a casserole or baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (250° F.-350° F.) for 30-60 minutes. If the chicken is not young, parboiling before cutting will shorten the baking time.

This is one of the most delicious ways of cooking chicken. Take off the neck and split the chicken down the back, wiping it with a damp towel. Season inside and out with salt and pepper, and dredge on all sides with flour. Lay the chicken, with the inside down, in a small baking-tin, and add a very little water. The pan should be very little larger than the chickens, otherwise the gravy will be too quickly evaporated. Set into a rather slow oven (300°-350° F.) and cook for one hour in a covered baking-pan or, if baked without a cover, baste every ten minutes after the first twenty minutes.

Should the chicken be decidedly lacking in fat, add fat as needed. When done, place the chicken on a hot platter, add enough water to make two cups gravy and thicken with two tablespoons flour. Should the chicken be quite fat, remove all but two tablespoons of the oil from the pan before making the gravy. Season with salt and pepper, pour it over the chicken and serve at once.

BOILED CHICKEN

In Winter there is no better way to prepare chickens than to simmer them whole and pour over them oyster or parsley sauce. The chicken should be well secured in a wet cloth that has been generously sprinkled with flour, then plunged into boiling water and simmered (not boiled) gently until the chicken is done. Allow twenty to thirty minutes to each pound of chicken. A large, tough chicken may be made very palatable by preparing it in this way.

STEAMED CHICKEN OR FOWL

1 fowl (about 5 pounds)
1 onion
1 bay-leaf
Salt and pepper
Flour

A chicken is more tender than a fowl and is to be preferred for light cooking, but a fat fowl a year or two old has a richer and finer flavor, and if steamed properly, will be perfectly tender. Singe and wash the fowl, draw and dress it as carefully as for roasting and wipe it dry inside and out. Rub it inside and out with salt and pepper, place an onion and a bay-leaf inside and tie the fowl into shape as for roasting.

Then flour a cloth and wrap it about the fowl. Lay the chicken, back downward, in a steamer and allow it to steam continuously for three to four hours, according to its age and size. If properly steamed it will be as good as a roasted chicken. Serve with celery, oyster or parsley sauce. Steamed chicken may subsequently be browned in the oven if desired.
STEAMED WHOLE SPRING CHICKEN

1 chicken
1 cup oysters
1 tablespoon fat
1 tablespoon flour

Salt and pepper
½ cup cream or milk
3 hard-cooked eggs
Minced herbs

Prepare a full-grown Spring chicken as for roasting, season inside and out with salt and pepper, stuff with whole, raw oysters and place it in a steamer with a close-fitting cover, and steam until the chicken is done, then place the chicken on a warm dish and make a gravy as follows: Put the fat into a saucepan with the minced herbs and flour and stir until the mixture bubbles; add the liquor in the kettle below the steamer, the cream or milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture boils. Add the eggs, chopped fine, let the whole boil, pour it over the chicken and serve at once.

CHICKEN POT-PIE

1 chicken
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper

Clean, singe and cut up the chicken, place it in a pot and nearly cover with water. Cover the pot and simmer gently. An old fowl will require at least three or four hours' slow cooking, but a year-old chicken should be done in one and one-half hours. Remove the cover during the last half-hour of cooking, to reduce the gravy to about one and one-half pints when done.

Three-fourths of an hour before time to serve, make Dump-lings No. 2 (see Index). When the dumplings are ready to serve, add salt and pepper to the chicken and make the gravy by adding to the liquor in the kettle three tablespoons of flour stirred to a paste in one cup of milk. Skim out the chicken, lay it on a platter, place the dumplings on the top and pour over them the gravy.

PRESSED CHICKEN

1 chicken
1 tablespoon gelatin to each
Salt and pepper
pint broth

Clean, singe and cut up a chicken. Place it in a kettle with a little water, cover closely and simmer until the meat will fall from the bones. Lift the pieces from the kettle with a skimmer and scrape all the meat from the bones, separating the white meat from the dark and taking out the pieces of skin. Season with salt and pepper.

Soften gelatin in two tablespoons of water for each tablespoon of gelatin and add to the boiling chicken broth. Place the meat in the dish it is to be pressed in, laying the white and dark in alternate layers, and adding from time to time a little of the broth to moisten all well. When all the meat is in the dish, pour over it enough of the broth to cover it; lay a plate on top of it; place a heavy weight upon the plate and set away in a cool place. This makes an attractive dish for luncheon, sliced and garnished with parsley.

White FRICASSEE OF CHICKEN

1 chicken 1 egg-yolk
2 tablespoons fat Salt and pepper
2 cups chicken stock Herbs
2 tablespoons flour Salt pork
1 cup milk or cream Rice or dumplings

Singe, clean and cup up the chicken. Brown in a pan with the fat. Cover with boiling water, add salt, pepper, herbs and a few slices of salt pork. Simmer until tender (about an hour), strain and thicken one pint of the liquor with the flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold water; add the milk or cream beaten with the yolk of the egg. Heat again until slightly thickened, pour over the chicken and serve with rice or dumplings (see Index for recipe).

Brown

1 chicken Salt and pepper
2 or 3 small slices salt pork 1 teaspoon onion-juice, if desired
2 tablespoons flour
1 pint boiling water

Cut in pieces as directed for white fricassee. Place salt pork in a frying-pan, and when hot put in the chicken, leaving plenty of room to turn the meat; cook until each piece is a rich brown. Remove the chicken and keep it warm. Add the flour to the fat in the pan, stir well and when it has cooked two minutes, add the boiling water. When the gravy is smooth and boiling, replace the chicken, season with salt and pepper,
Cover the pan, and simmer gently until the chicken is tender, then add a teaspoon of onion-juice, if desired, and serve at once. The gravy will be thick enough, and if the pan has a tight cover, it will not be diminished, even after long cooking.

CHICKEN PIE

1 chicken
Pie paste
Milk
Salt and pepper
Flour

Clean, singe and cut up chicken as for fricassee. Place in a kettle and add enough hot water to cover. Put the cover on the kettle, and simmer slowly until the chicken is tender, adding a little more water if needed. Make a gravy of the stock, using two tablespoons flour for each cup of stock. Use for the crust puff paste, or a good pie paste, rolled a little thicker than for fruit pies. Line the sides of a deep baking-dish with crust; invert in the middle of the dish a small cup or ramekin; put in part of the chicken and season with salt and pepper, then add the rest of the chicken, and season the same way.

Put in the dish two cups or more of the gravy made from broth in which the chicken was cooked and cover the top with crust. The cup or ramekin will hold the crust up and will prevent evaporation. Most chicken pie is too dry; therefore, use a generous amount of the broth. Bake in a hot oven (450°F.) until crust is done (one-half hour). When serving, after cutting the first slice, carefully slip the knife under the ramekin and release the gravy which is held there by suction. Additional gravy should be served in a gravy-dish.

CURRY OF CHICKEN

1 chicken (1½ or 2 pounds)
1 teaspoon salt
2 onions
1 egg-yolk
2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon to 2 tablespoons curry-powder
1 tablespoon flour

Cut up the chicken as for fricassee, put in a saucepan with sufficient water to cover it, and simmer until tender, keeping the pan closely covered. Remove from the fire, take the chicken out and pour the liquor into a bowl. Put the onions into the saucepan with the fat and sauté until brown, then skim them out and put in the chicken; fry for three or four minutes, then sprinkle over it the curry-powder. Next pour in the chicken liquor, stew five minutes longer and stir in the flour mixed until smooth with a little cold water. Stir the mixture until it thickens; add the beaten yolk of egg, adding a little of the hot mixture to the egg first. Serve with a border of hot boiled rice.

\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup flour} & \quad 1 \text{ cup button mushrooms} \\
1 \text{ cup water} & \quad 2 \text{ tablespoons chopped olives}
\end{align*}

Make a savory sauce by melting the fat and cooking in it chopped onion, carrot and turnip cut in small pieces. Stir in flour and add gradually boiling water and tomato, previously stewed and strained. Season with salt, pepper and paprika.

Cut up a chicken, dredge with flour, and sauté in salt-pork fat. Remove from the pan, place in a saucepan and cover with the savory sauce. Cook until the chicken is tender. At the last moment, add the mushrooms and chopped olives. Arrange the pieces of chicken in the center of the platter and pour the sauce around them, garnishing with triangles of toast and stuffed olives.

SCALLOPED CHICKEN

\text{Fat} & \quad \text{Bread-crumbs} \\
& \quad 2 \text{ cups sliced, cooked potatoes}
\end{align*}
\]

Cut the cooked chicken meat into dice. Thicken the broth with a paste made of the flour and two tablespoons of fat and season with salt and pepper. Fill a pudding-dish with alternate layers of bread-crumbs, chicken and potatoes. Cover the top with crumbs. Pour in the gravy and add a few bits of butter or other fat and bake fifteen to thirty minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).
CREAMED CHICKEN

2 cups cooked chicken
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk or cream
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon parsley
1 egg-yolk

Make a white sauce of the fat, flour and milk. Season with salt and pepper. Add the parsley and chicken and cook until the sauce is thoroughly hot again. Beat the egg-yolk, adding two tablespoons of milk, and pour into the mixture. Cook two minutes, stirring constantly, and serve in a border of riced potatoes or in croustades.

Creamed chicken may be varied in a number of ways: by substituting mushrooms or chopped cooked eggs for part of the chicken or by adding chopped pimientos and olives.

Capons

Capons are large, plump young roosters, especially fattened for the table. They are prepared for cooking in the same way as chickens. For stuffing, choose a delicate flavoring such as oysters or chestnuts. Mushrooms or truffles are especially good with capon.

Turkeys

ROAST TURKEY

Dress as directed for roast chicken and roast in an uncovered roaster in a slow oven (300° F.) allowing 15 to 25 minutes per pound, depending upon age and size of bird. The larger birds require less time per pound than the small birds. Baste the bird at half hour intervals. Serve with giblet gravy.

BRAISED TURKEY

1 turkey
Stuffing
1/2 pound salt pork
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped carrots
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup turnip
4 cups water or stock
Salt and pepper

This is a very satisfactory way of cooking an old turkey that is unfit for roasting. Stuff the body and breast with any desired stuffing, and truss. Spread thin slices of salt pork over the breast and legs, and cover the turkey with a strong sheet of oiled paper, fastening the paper on by passing a string around the body. In a double roasting-pan large enough to hold the turkey, spread sliced salt pork and the chopped vegetables. Lay the turkey on this mixture, with the breast up, sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover the pan tightly, and place in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.). Allow twenty-five minutes for each pound.

At the end of thirty minutes, add water or stock. During the last half-hour take the cover from the pan, remove the paper and pork from the turkey. This permits the meat to brown lightly. Serve with mushroom sauce, or with the gravy in the pan, strained and thickened.

FILLETs OF TURKEY WITH RICE

Breast fillets
Egg and crumbs
1 cup white stock
1 cup rice
6 tablespoons oil

\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon onion-juice} \]
Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons butter
1 tablespoon grated cheese

Skin the breast of a plump turkey, and slice. The slices should be nearly half an inch thick, and as nearly uniform in size as possible. Dip in beaten egg, then in crumbs, again in the egg, and once more in the crumbs. Set in the refrigerator. Put the white stock into a saucepan; add rice, onion-juice and one-half teaspoon salt, and simmer slowly until the liquid is absorbed.

When the rice is tender, add butter and grated cheese, and season with salt and pepper. Cover and let it stand at the side of the fire until the fillets are ready. Heat salad-oil or cooking fat slowly in a frying-pan to 375°-390° F., and cook the fillets to a nice brown. Mound the rice in the center of a hot dish and arrange the fillets about it.

BROILED YOUNG TURKEY

Young turkeys may be broiled or panned, like chickens. A young turkey is easily distinguished by its smooth, black legs and white skin.
TURKEY CURRY

6 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1 large apple, peeled, diced
1 large can mushrooms or
1 pound fresh mushrooms
3 cups turkey, diced

Cook onion, apple, mushrooms, and turkey in the fat until onion and apple begin to be transparent: 10 to 15 minutes. If fresh mushrooms are used, sauté several minutes before adding to other ingredients. Remove from heat, add salt, flour, and curry powder and stir thoroughly. Add liquid, and cook until thickened throughout. Set over hot water, cover and cook 15 minutes longer to blend the flavors. Taste and add more seasoning if desired. Serve with hot boiled rice. Little or no salt is added in cooking rice.

GOOSE

ROAST GOOSE WITH POTATO STUFFING

1 goose (about 8 pounds) Salt and pepper
Potato stuffing Flour
Salt pork if goose is not fat

Select a goose that is about four months old. An old goose is better braised than roasted. Singe the goose, wash it carefully in hot water, and wipe it dry on the outside; then draw it and clean it thoroughly inside. Flatten the breast-bone by striking it with a rolling-pin. Partly fill the cavity with potato stuffing, stitch up the openings and truss the goose. If it is not fat, lay thin slices of pork upon the breast, but if the goose has considerable fat, omit the pork. Bake in a hot oven (500° F.) for forty-five minutes. Remove it from the oven, pour out all the fat, sprinkle the bird all over with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and return it to the oven. Reduce the heat but do not let it get below 350° F.

When the flour is a good brown, pour one cup of hot water into the pan and baste the goose often, dredging it each time with a slight sifting of flour to absorb the fat. Allow twenty minutes to the pound for a young goose and twenty-five for one that is old. Remove the goose from the pan, add a cup of hot water to the gravy and thicken it, if necessary, with browned flour. Garnish the goose with parsley and serve with giblet gravy.

Apple sauce is often served with roast goose.

Goslings may be roasted in the same way, allowing, however, only fifteen minutes to the pound for cooking.

ROAST GOOSE WITH BAKED APPLE

1 eight-pound goose
2 cups bread-crumbs
1 chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
¼ teaspoon sage

1 teaspoon salt
Pinch of pepper
6 to 8 apples
¼ cup brown sugar
3 sweet potatoes

Cook the giblets until tender, chop and add to stuffing made by mixing bread-crumbs, onion, fat, sage, salt and pepper. After cleaning and washing the goose thoroughly, stuff, and sew the neck and back. Roast for fifteen minutes at 500°F, then reduce the heat to 350°F and cook about three hours. Wash and core six to eight apples; sprinkle with brown sugar, stuff with mashed and seasoned sweet potato; bake until tender and serve hot with the goose.

DEVILED GOOSE

1 goose
Potato stuffing
¼ cup vinegar

1 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons made mustard
1 tablespoon salt

After cleaning the goose and wiping it well with a damp cloth, plunge it into a kettle of boiling water, and simmer for one hour. Take it from the kettle, drain well, and wipe it dry. Partly fill the body and neck with potato stuffing, sew up and truss, and roast in a moderately hot oven (350°-400°F.), allowing fifteen to twenty minutes to the pound. Pour over it a mixture of the vinegar, pepper, and made mustard, and baste frequently. Serve with giblet gravy.

An old goose that can not be made eatable in any other way may be cooked in this way, two hours instead of one hour being allowed for the simmering.
Ducks

ROAST DUCK

Epicures prefer young ducks rare, and without stuffing. Some people consider that ducks have too strong a flavor, and to absorb this flavor lay cored and quartered apples inside the body. These apples are removed before the duck is sent to the table. Celery and onions also may be placed inside the duck to season it and improve the flavor, two tablespoons of chopped onion being used to every cup of chopped celery, which may consist of the green stalks that are not desired for the table. This stuffing is also removed from the bird before it is sent to the table. Should filling be preferred, use potato stuffing, putting it in very hot.

Truss the duck, sprinkle it with salt, pepper and flour, and roast in a very hot oven (500° F.) fifteen to thirty minutes, provided the duck is young and is desired rare.

Full-grown domestic ducks are roasted in a moderate oven (350° F.) allowing 20 to 25 minutes per pound. Bake uncovered. Baste every half hour with drippings in pan. Serve with giblet gravy and applesauce or grape or currant jelly. Green peas should also be served with roast duck.

BRAISED DUCKS

| 1 brace ducks                        | Parsley |
| 3 slices bacon                       | Salt and pepper |
| 1 carrot                             | 1 small turnip, diced |
| 1 onion stuck with cloves            | Oil or cooking fat |
| Thyme                                | Flour |

Prepare ducks as for roasting, put them into a large stew-pan with the bacon, carrot, onion and a little thyme and parsley; season with salt and pepper and cover with water. Simmer over a low fire until the ducks are tender, then remove them from the pan. Cook the turnip in the fat until brown, then drain and cook in liquor in the stew-pan, until tender. Strain the liquor, thicken with flour and pour the gravy thus made over the ducks. Garnish with pieces of turnip.

DUCK À LA CREOLE

2 cups cooked duck
2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons chopped ham
2 tablespoons onion
Chopped celery
Chopped parsley

Salt and pepper
Paprika
1 1/2 cups consommé or bouillon
1 clove
1/4 teaspoon mace
Chopped sweet pepper

Melt the fat and add the flour, then stir in the ham. Season with salt, pepper, paprika, onion, celery, sweet pepper and parsley. Stir for two minutes, add the consommé or bouillon, the clove and mace. Simmer one hour. Strain this sauce and stir in the cooked duck, cut into cubes. Cook just enough longer to heat all thoroughly. Serve with diamonds of fried hominy or mush.

Guinea Fowls

ROAST GUINEA FOWL

Roast the guinea fowl either with or without stuffing, keeping it well basted and the breast covered with a slice of fat bacon, which may be removed five minutes before serving. Have the oven very hot (500° F.) for the first fifteen minutes; then reduce to 350° F. Allow thirty-five to forty minutes for a medium-sized bird. Serve with currant jelly and giblet sauce.

FRICASSEE OF GUINEA FOWL

1 guinea fowl
4 slices bacon
2 tablespoons flour

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

A guinea fowl makes a delicious fricassee. Clean and cut in pieces. Place bacon in pan and when it has fried long enough to extract some of the fat, add the pieces of the fowl and brown them well. Add the flour, stir until thoroughly mixed, and then add two cups hot water, salt and pepper, and stir until the gravy boils. Cover well and simmer until the meat is tender, which is generally in one and one-half to two hours. Serve with the gravy from the bottom of the pan, adding more salt and pepper if needed.
Peafowl

These fowls are cooked in the same way as turkeys. They should be larded with shreds of bacon, trussed and roasted about one and one-fourth hours.

Pheasants, Partridges, Quail and Grouse

Game should not be kept too long; birds rarely should be hung longer than one week. Hang in a cool dry room where the air circulates freely. If birds are to be kept many days, draw but do not pick them before hanging. Place a piece of charcoal in the body and sift powdered charcoal into the feathers. A distinction must be made between white meat and dark meat in cooking game. Quail and partridges are white meat and, like chicken, must be thoroughly cooked but not dried. Ducks, pigeons or squabs, grouse (prairie chicken), snipe, and woodcock are dark meat and are preferred by the epicure cooked rare and served very hot.

The methods of cooking all these birds are substantially the same, except as to the degree of rareness desired. They should never be washed, but simply wiped with a damp towel, all shot being carefully picked out of the flesh with a sharp-pointed knife. Small birds are often skinned when the birds are cleaned. There is a difference of opinion among epicures as to the drawing of these birds; sometimes they are cooked undrawn. The English do not draw woodcock, regarding the entrails as edible, and some American housekeepers copy them in this respect.

BROILED BIRDS

Clean the birds and split them down the back. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dust with flour to keep in the juices and broil in a wire broiler, laying the inside first to the fire. Allow about ten minutes for quail, twenty-five to forty minutes for partridges and pheasants. When done, lay them on a warm dish and butter or oil them plentifully on both sides. During the broiling, if the breasts are quite thick, cover the broiler with a pan, and see that the fire is not too hot.
PANNED BIRDS

Clean the birds and split them down the back. Dip them quickly into hot water and sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. The water causes the seasoning to adhere more thickly to the meat. Place the birds in a small baking-dish with the inside of each upward; place a teaspoon of butter or other fat in each bird, add a cup of water, and roast in a very hot oven (500° F.) allowing fifteen to twenty minutes for quail and proportionately longer for larger birds. After the first fifteen minutes reduce the heat to 350° F. Baste every five minutes after the first fifteen. Thicken the gravy, add salt and pepper if necessary, and pour over the birds.

ROASTED BIRDS

Clean, truss and stuff the birds. Roast in an uncovered pan in a moderate oven (350° F.) until meat is tender and bird is well browned. Baste every half hour with butter or other fat and water. Thicken the gravy and pour it over the birds. Serve with bread sauce.

LARDED GROUSE

Grouse are rather dry birds and need to be larded to be palatable. Clean and wipe with a damp towel. On each bird lay thin slices of bacon, covering the bird entirely and keeping the bacon in place with crossings of soft twine. Place in a roasting-pan and pour over them boiling water, sufficient to use for basting the birds while cooking. Cook in a very hot oven (500° F.) fifteen to twenty-five minutes, basting three times. Reduce the heat after fifteen minutes. When done, remove the strips of bacon, brush the birds with oil, melted butter or other fat, dredge with flour and place in the oven again until a rich brown. The liquor in the pan may be thickened, seasoned, and used as a gravy. Arrange the birds on a platter and garnish with rings of sautéed green peppers and the strips of bacon used to cover the birds while roasting.
ROAST QUAIL

6 quail
6 large oysters
Strips of bacon

Flour
Salt and pepper
Butter or other fat

Dress, clean and truss the birds. Stuff each with one large oyster. Lard breast and legs with strips of bacon. Bake as directed for larded grouse, allowing fifteen to twenty minutes for cooking.

GAME PIE

6 birds
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup minced parsley
1/2 chopped onion
2 whole cloves
1/4 pound diced salt pork

2 tablespoons browned flour
2 tablespoons fat
2 cups diced potatoes
Rich paste for side and top crust

Clean the birds thoroughly. Halve them, put them into one quart of water and bring to boiling-point. Remove the scum, add salt, pepper, parsley, onion, cloves and salt pork. Simmer until tender, carefully keeping the birds covered with water. When the birds are done, thicken the liquid with the browned flour and let the gravy come to a boil. Add the fat, remove from the fire and cool.

Put the paste around the sides of a greased pudding-dish, lay in some of the birds, then some potatoes, and repeat until the dish is full. Pour in the gravy, put on the top crust, slashed in the center, and bake in a hot oven (450° F. to 425° F.) for thirty-five to forty-five minutes until done.

Pigeons and Squabs

Pigeons need long, slow cooking to make them tender. Squabs are tender and are usually broiled.

BROILED SQUAB

6 squabs
Salt and pepper

Butter
Toast

Split the birds down the back, flatten the breast, wipe inside and out with a damp cloth. Put on a broiler, season with pepper and salt, and when nicely browned, pour a generous amount of melted butter over them. Serve on toast.
PIGEON AND MUSHROOM STEW

3 pigeons 2 tablespoons mushroom
1 tablespoon fat catchup
1 pint stock or gravy Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons cream Cayenne
½ cup mushrooms

Clean and cut pigeons into small portions and let them cook a short time in the fat in a saucepan, being careful not to brown them. Next add to the contents of the pan the stock or gravy, the mushroom catchup, and salt, pepper and cayenne to taste. Simmer an hour, or until tender, add the mushrooms, simmer ten minutes more, and then stir in the cream. Arrange the mushrooms around the pigeons on a hot platter.

POTTED PIGEONS

6 pigeons Chopped parsley
3 slices bacon Hot water or stock
Any simple stuffing ¼ cup fat
1 diced carrot ¼ cup flour
1 diced onion Buttered toast

Clean and dress pigeons, stuff, truss, and place them upright in a stew-pan on the slices of bacon. Add the carrot, onion, and a little parsley, and cover with boiling water or stock. Cover the pot closely and let simmer from two to three hours, or until tender, adding boiling water or stock when necessary. Make a sauce of the fat and flour and two cups of the stock remaining in the pan.

Serve each pigeon on a thin piece of moistened toast, and pour gravy over all.

PIGEON PIE

6 pigeons Flour
Bread stuffing Rich pie paste
Salt and pepper 3 hard-cooked eggs
Fat

Stuff each pigeon with bread stuffing. Loosen the joints with a knife, but do not cut them through. Simmer the birds in a stew-pan, with water enough to cover, until nearly tender, then season with salt and pepper. Make a medium thick gravy with flour, fat and liquor in which pigeons have cooked and let it cool. Line the sides of a greased pudding-dish with rich paste and cut the hard-cooked eggs in slices. Put successive layers of egg, pigeon and gravy into the dish until it is filled, put on a cover of paste and bake (at 450° F.) for one-half hour.

Wild Ducks

Nearly all wild ducks are likely to have a fishy flavor, and when dressed by an inexperienced cook are often unfit to eat. This flavor may be much lessened by placing in each duck a small peeled carrot, plunging the fowls in boiling water and simmering them for ten minutes before roasting. The carrot will absorb some of the unpleasant taste. An onion will have somewhat the same effect, but unless a stuffing with onions is used, the carrot is to be preferred. When there is an objection to parboiling (as when the ducks are young) rub them lightly with an onion cut in two and put three or four uncooked cranberries in each before cooking.

ROAST WILD DUCK

Clean, wiping inside and outside with a damp towel. Tuck back the wings, and truss. Dust with salt, pepper and flour. If not fat, cover the breast with two thin slices of salt pork. Place duck in a baking-pan, and add one cup of water, and two tablespoons of fat. Bake in a very hot oven (500° F.) from fifteen to thirty minutes, according to rareness desired, basting frequently. Reduce the heat after fifteen minutes. Serve with slices of lemon or orange and a brown gravy or with olive sauce. Currant jelly may also be served. Wild ducks are served rare and are seldom stuffed when roasted. An old saying is that a young wild duck to be well cooked should only fly through a very hot oven.

CANVASBACK DUCK, DELMONICO STYLE

This bird is in season from the last of November until March. As it feeds mainly on wild celery, it requires no spices in cooking. Its flavor is best preserved by roasting quickly in a very hot oven (500° F.) so that it will be brown on the outside and underdone on the inside. Dress it in the usual way and wipe with a wet towel. Truss its head under the wing, place in a dripping-pan and roast one-half hour, or twenty minutes if liked underdone, basting often. Reduce the heat after fifteen minutes. Season with salt and pepper and pour over it the gravy in the baking-dish.

MALLARD WILD DUCK

These ducks, in season during the Fall and Winter, are very dry when roasted. They are good if stuffed with bread stuffing, then well sewed up, tied in shape and placed in a large kettle with a couple of slices of onion, a little thyme, and a small quantity of water and cooked slowly for one hour. Turn the bird frequently during the cooking; replenish the water if necessary, but use only enough to keep the ducks from burning. Make a gravy from the juices in the kettle by adding one cup of water and thickening with flour. Pour this gravy over the ducks when served. Dressed in this way all parts are equally good.

Venison

Venison is prepared and cooked in the same way as mutton. The roasting pieces are the saddle and the leg. It should be served underdone, allowing ten to twelve minutes to the pound, for cooking, and served with tart jelly and green salad.

ROAST LEG OF VENISON

Wipe carefully, and draw off the dry skin. Lard the lean side of the leg with strips of the pork, then soften the fat, rub it over the meat, and dredge with salt, pepper and flour. Lay the leg on the rack in a baking-pan, sprinkle the bottom of the pan with flour, place it in a very hot oven (500° F.) and watch carefully until the flour in the pan is browned, which should be in five minutes. Add boiling water to cover the bottom of the pan. Baste the venison well every fifteen minutes, until the meat is done, renewing the water in the pan as often as necessary. Reduce the heat after fifteen minutes. If a double roasting-pan is used, basting is not necessary.

Most tastes require at least an hour and three-quarters for cooking a ten-pound roast; but if the meat is liked very rare, allow only an hour and a quarter. Serve with a gravy made from the juices in the bottom of the pan. Always serve a tart jelly like currant or wild grape or plum jelly with venison.

BROILED VENISON STEAK

Venison steak
Salt and paprika
Butter

Currant jelly
Possibly salad oil and lemon-juice

This requires about three minutes more time for broiling than beefsteak. If strong, marinate in salad oil and lemon-juice for two hours before cooking. Drain without wiping, and broil over clear, hot coals, turning often to avoid scorching. Serve on a very hot platter, sprinkle with salt and paprika and spread both sides with a mixture of butter and currant jelly, allowing half as much jelly as butter.

FRIED VENISON STEAK

Venison steak
Salt and pepper
Flour

Rolled crackers
½ cup fat
1 tablespoon currant jelly

Rub the steak with a mixture of salt and pepper, dip in wheat flour or cracker meal and cook a rich brown on both sides in one-half cup of hot fat. Place on a dish and cover to keep warm. Dredge two teaspoons of flour into the fat in the pan and stir until brown (but not burned), add a cup of boiling water with one tablespoon of currant jelly dissolved in it, stir a few minutes, strain the gravy, pour it over the meat and serve.

Rabbits, Hares and Squirrels

Choose rabbits with soft ears and paws—stiffness is a sign of age. Also, be sure that they are fresh and free from any unpleasant odor. Neither hares nor rabbits should be drawn before hanging, as they may become musty. In Winter, select a dry place for hanging, and they may remain for some time.
Dressing and Trussing

To skin and dress a rabbit, hare or squirrel, cut off the forefeet at the first joint, cut the skin around the first joint of the hind leg, loosen it and then with a sharp knife slit the skin on the under side of the leg at the tail. Loosen the skin and turn it back until it is removed from the hind legs. Tie the hind legs together and hang the rabbit to a hook by this fastening. Draw the skin over the head, slipping out the fore legs when they are reached. Cut off the head and thus remove the entire skin. Wipe with a damp cloth. Remove the entrails, saving heart and liver, and wipe carefully inside. If it requires washing inside, use water acidified with vinegar.

Before cooking, soak in tepid water for a time. If blood has settled in any part, cut with the point of a knife where it is black and soak in warm water; this will draw out the blood.

Skewer firmly between the shoulders, draw the legs close to the body and fasten with skewers.

ROAST HARE OR RABBIT

Hare or rabbit
Forcemeat or stuffing
Salt and pepper
Beef-drippings or other fat

Wipe the hare or rabbit dry, fill it with good forcemeat or stuffing, sew up and firmly truss it. Season well with salt and pepper and roast. Baste well with beef-drippings, butter or other fat. A thin piece of beef-suet skin may be tied over the back for the first three-quarters of an hour and then removed. One and three-quarters hours is the full time for roasting a medium-sized hare at 500° F. for the first fifteen minutes and 350° F. for the rest of the time. Serve with brown gravy and currant jelly.

BROILED HARE OR RABBIT

Hare or rabbit
Salt and pepper
Butter

Skin and clean the rabbit or hare, wipe dry, split down the back, and pound flat; then wrap in oiled paper. Any tough white paper may be oiled. Place on a greased gridiron and broil over a clear, brisk fire, turning often. Remove the paper and serve on a hot platter, seasoned with plenty of salt, pepper and butter, turning over and over so it will take up the fat. The oiled paper is not essential but results in a juicier product.

Dress as directed and put into boiling water. Boil ten minutes and drain. When cold, cut into joints, dip into beaten egg, then in bread-crumbs and season with salt and pepper. Sauté in any good fat over a moderate fire. Thicken the gravy with the flour and pour in milk or cream, boil up once and pour over the rabbit. Garnish with sliced lemon.

HARE OR RABBIT SALMI

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Clean and dress as directed and place in a baking-pan. Add onion, celery cut fine, and bay-leaf, brush with oil, then bake at 450° F. for thirty minutes. Lift the meat from the pan, add the fat and the flour and stir until a rich brown. Add hot water, stir well, and when smooth, add salt, Worcestershire sauce, capers and olives. Lay the meat again in the pan, cover closely and bake at 350° F. for thirty minutes. Dish the game, strain the sauce over the meat, arrange the olives as a garnish, sprinkle the whole with finely chopped parsley and serve.

HARE OR RABBIT PIE

Dress as directed and divide into pieces suitable for serving, cutting the back into three parts. Immerse in salted water for one-half hour, wipe dry, and then rub with lemon-juice, salt and pepper. If the rabbit is very plump, gash the thickest part several times, allowing the seasoning to penetrate. Follow directions given for game pie.
HARE OR RABBIT EN CASSEROLE

Hare or rabbit
3 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Garlic, if liked

Rub the frying-pan with garlic, if it is not objectionable. Dress and cut up the rabbit and cook in the fat in a frying-pan until brown. Remove the meat from the pan, stir the flour into the fat, add two cups hot water, salt and pepper, and let it come to a boil, stirring it constantly. Place the meat in a baking-dish, pour the gravy over it, cover closely and bake in the oven or fireless cooker (350° F.) until tender. If the garlic is not used, a teaspoon of currant jelly may be added to the gravy before serving.

ROAST SQUIRRELS

Squirrels
Salad oil
Lemon-juice or tarragon vinegar
1 cup bread-crums
Cream
1 cup button mushrooms
Pepper and salt
Onion-juice
Oil
Brown stock
Worcestershire sauce
Paprika

Clean the squirrels thoroughly, wash in several waters and cover with salad oil mixed with lemon-juice or tarragon vinegar. Let stand for an hour on a platter. Soak a cup of bread-crums in just enough cream to moisten them, add a cup of button mushrooms cut in dice, pepper, salt and onion-juice. Stuff each squirrel with this mixture, sew and truss as you would a fowl. Rub with oil, place in a dripping-dish, and partly cover with brown stock diluted with a cup of boiling water. When the squirrels are well roasted, make a gravy out of the liquor in the pan, by adding a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, and paprika, salt and lemon-juice to taste.
BRUNSWICK STEW

2 squirrels 6 potatoes
1 tablespoon salt 1 teaspoon pepper
1 minced onion 2 teaspoons sugar
1 pint Lima beans 1 quart sliced tomatoes
6 ears corn 1/2 pound salt pork
1/2 pound salt pork

This dish is named for a county in Virginia and is a favorite dish in that section of the country. It is served in soup-plates.

Cut the squirrels in pieces, as for fricassee. Add the salt to four quarts of water and when boiling add the onion, beans, corn, pork, potato, pepper and the squirrels. Cover closely and simmer for two hours, then add the sugar and tomato, and simmer one hour more. Ten minutes before removing the stew from the fire, add the butter, cut into pieces the size of a walnut and rolled in flour. Boil up, adding salt and pepper if needed, and turn into a tureen.

OPOSSUM ROAST

Opossum is very fat with a peculiarly flavored meat. To dress, immerse in very hot water (not boiling) for 1 minute. Remove and use a dull knife to scrape off hair so that skin is not cut. Slit from bottom of throat to hind legs and remove entrails. Remove head and tail if desired. Wash thoroughly inside and out with hot water. Cover with cold water to which has been added 1 cup salt. Allow to stand overnight; in the morning drain off the salted water and rinse with clear, boiling water.

Make stuffing as follows: Brown 1 large, fine-chopped onion with 1 tablespoon butter. Add chopped opossum liver and cook until tender. Add 1 cup bread crumbs, a little chopped red pepper, a hard-cooked egg, finely chopped, dash Worcestershire sauce, salt and water to moisten. Stuff opossum with mixture, fastening the opening with skewers or by sewing. With 2 tablespoons water roast in moderate oven (350° F.) until meat is tender and richly browned. Baste constantly with the opossum's own fat. Remove skewers or stitches, serve on heated platter. Skim fat from gravy and serve with baked yams or sweet potatoes.
STUFFINGS FOR FISH, MEAT, POULTRY AND GAME

STUFFING does not necessarily have to be baked in the fowl or meat. If the bird is small or if there is some stuffing left over, it may be baked or steamed in a well-greased ring mold, loaf pan or individual molds. Fill center of ring with vegetables. Croquettes of stuffing, made by the usual method, are served in a circle around the bird.

BREAD STUFFING

No. 1.

$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups bread-crumbs   \hspace{1em} $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper

WHITE AND BROWN SAUCES

Methods of combining flour or corn-starch with liquids are given in the front of the book. (See Index.) The simplest method of thickening sauces is by means of a roux. Equal parts of fat and flour make the best roux. If much more fat than flour is used, the fat rises to the top of the mixture. If less fat than flour is used, the paste may burn. Therefore, if more fat than flour is required in the sauce, it should be beaten in in small pieces after the liquid is added and just before the sauce is served; if less fat than flour is required, it is better not to make it into a roux but to use another method of thickening the sauce.

All sauces thickened with corn-starch should be cooked for at least fifteen minutes. Standing over hot water in a double boiler for an hour or longer improves the flavor. Sauces thickened with flour are better if cooked for at least five minutes after thickening. The seasonings should be added just before the sauce is served.

To Make a Roux

For a White Sauce—The American method of making a roux for white sauce is to melt the fat, add the flour and cook only until the mixture bubbles before adding the liquid. This saves time, but at the expense of the flavor of the sauce. The French method is to melt the fat, add the flour and cook, with constant stirring, for five minutes, before adding any liquid. This removes the raw taste of the flour.

For a Brown Sauce—Melt the fat and allow it to brown before adding flour, then stir in the flour and stir constantly, until the flour is brown. The color depends on this browning, but care must be taken not to scorch. This long preliminary cooking is the secret of a successful brown sauce. Tomato juice or sauce may be used as liquid.

STANDARD RECIPE FOR WHITE SAUCE

Thin White Sauce.

For cream soups

- 1 tablespoon butter or other fat
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Medium White Sauce.

For gravies, sauces, creamed and scalloped dishes

- 2 tablespoons butter or other fat
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Thick White Sauce.

For cutlets, croquettes and soufflés

- 4 tablespoons butter or other fat
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Use method 1 or 2 for making these sauces.

Method 1—Melt butter, blend in flour until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached. Reduce heat and cook for 3 minutes longer; add seasonings and blend. Place over hot water to keep hot and cover tightly to prevent film from forming.

Method 2—Heat milk. Blend butter or other fat and flour together and add to hot milk, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Cook for 3 minutes longer, add seasonings and blend.

Method 3—When less butter than flour is used, heat ¾ of the milk; mix remaining milk with flour to make a smooth paste; stir into hot milk, heat to boiling and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add butter or other fat and seasonings and cook for 3 minutes.

Browned Crumbs—Place the remaining butter on the fire in a frying-pan, add the coarse bread-crumbs and fry them until brown, being careful to have the fat very hot before putting in the crumbs. Brown the onion and fat. Add the flour and make a brown roux (See Index). Pour in the brown stock and cook with constant stirring until the sauce thickens. Strain to remove the particles of onion, and season with pepper and salt. If the roux was not sufficiently brown to make the sauce a desirable color, a few drops of vegetable flavoring or of Worcestershire sauce may be added. If a more highly flavored sauce is desired, add a slice of carrot, a sprig of parsley, a little thyme and a few peppercorns to the onion, and brown in the fat.

No. 2—In making brown sauce for a roast, the simplest way is to use the fat and juice of the roast. Add two tablespoons of flour to two tablespoons of the hot drippings, stir and cook well. Then add one cup of boiling water, stir well to avoid lumps, and season to taste with salt and pepper. If liked, add a tablespoon or two of catchup or a flavoring of Worcestershire or other sauce.

Place the oil in a frying-pan, and add the onion; when this commences to color, add the flour. Stir until smooth. After it has cooked for two minutes, add the stock, and regulate the heat so that the sauce will simmer gently. Pare the olives from the stones, round and round as though paring an apple, leaving the pulp in a single strip. If this is done carefully, the olives will coil back into shape. Place them in the sauce, add the seasoning and the juice of the lemon and simmer for twenty minutes. Skim carefully and serve.

Lobster butter is used in lobster soups and sauces to give color and richness. Pound the coral of a lobster to a smooth paste with two tablespoons of butter, add chopped lobster and remaining tablespoon of butter and pound again until all is reduced to a smooth paste, then rub through a fine sieve. If coral is not obtainable, the small claws may be pounded with the butter.

Put the cooked yolks of eggs through a coarse wire sieve, and then put them in a dish with the raw yolk and the seasoning. Add two tablespoons of the vinegar and beat thoroughly five minutes. Next add the oil, one teaspoon at a time, beating the mixture two or three minutes at a time after each addition of oil. When five teaspoons have thus been added, the rest of the oil may be put in in larger quantities, three or four teaspoons at a time. Whenever the sauce becomes so thick that the beater turns hard, put in one-half tablespoon of vinegar. This sauce may be used for meat, for salads, or for such vegetables as asparagus, broccoli and artichokes. It may be varied by adding capers, minced gherkins and a dash of cayenne. There is not a great deal of difference between remoulade sauce and mayonnaise.

TARTAR SAUCE

ENTRÉES AND MADE-OVER DISHES

An entrée is a dish that is served as an independent course between two main courses of a meal. In an informal meal, an entrée of protein food may be served as the main course.

An entrée is usually a “light” dish, small in bulk, and is often accompanied by a sauce which may or may not be an integral part of the dish. It may be served either hot or cold. Hot entrées are often accompanied by a hot sauce, such as Hollandaise or maître d’hôtel; and cold entrées by cold sauces, —vinaigrette, tartar, etc. Ordinarily the hot entrée precedes the roast and the cold entrée follows it.

Entrées may be made of a great number of foods—eggs in many attractive forms; fish of all kinds; meat, such as lamb, veal and tender cuts of fowl and beef, cooked by some method other than roasting; macaroni and spaghetti; some fruits; and many kinds of vegetables.

Increasingly in America today vegetables are served as entrées. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that the eating habits of the nation have changed, because we have a growing knowledge of and interest in the food-values of vegetables and fruits. For luncheon and dinner now one vegetable is often raised to the dignity of becoming a course by itself.

Hot Entrées

Creamed Mixtures—These are the most simple and easily prepared of the hot entrées. Any well-seasoned creamed mixture may be used. It must be kept hot and transferred at the last possible moment to the container in which it is to be served. This may be merely a slice of toast, an individual case such as a ramekin, patty shell or timbale case, or a border formed of bread, rice or potato.

Forcemeats—These should have a smooth, velvety texture. They call for more effort in preparation than any other type of entrée. They are made of cooked or uncooked meat or fish in finely divided form, those made of the uncooked material being considered the more choice. Such foods as chicken and ham, shell fish and any fine white fish make typical forcemeats. Forcemeats may be used in combination with other materials or cooked alone to form cutlets and timbales. The cutlets are cooked in shallow, chop-shaped molds and the timbales in deep, straight sided molds.

Croquettes—Croquettes are made of cooked and chopped ingredients held together, usually, by means of a thick sauce. When the mixture is cold, it is made into shapes of uniform size, which are coated with flour or sifted crumbs, then rolled in an egg mixture so that the egg forms a continuous film, then rolled in crumbs again. The egg mixture is made by adding two tablespoons of water or milk to each egg required, and beating just enough to break up the white of the egg. The croquettes may be allowed to stand until dry or may be fried at once in deep hot fat. This is a good way to use left-over cooked foods.

Croquettes are made in the form of balls, rolls, cones, nests or cups, cutlets or flat cakes. Whatever shape is desired, it is usually easier to attain it by making the mixture into a ball first, thus insuring a compact mass from which the chosen form may be readily molded.

Cutlets—This word, as used in this chapter refers to the form in which the food is cooked rather than to a distinct type of food. Sometimes cutlets are made by packing forcemeat into shallow, chop-shaped molds, but more often they are croquettes, cut or shaped to look like breaded chops or cutlets. The term may be extended to include boiled cereal, such as rice or cornmeal, which has been packed into a shallow dish, left until cold, and then cut into pieces, rolled in egg and crumbs and fried or sautéed.

Fritters—These may be composed of a piece of fruit enclosed in a batter, then fried in deep hot fat and served with an appropriate sauce; or chopped fruit, chopped vegetable, or other chopped food, such as clams or lobster, stirred into the batter and fried by spoonfuls.

Timbales—This term is sometimes used to describe forcemeat cooked in straight-sided deep molds. More frequently perhaps it refers to sugarless custards cooked in timbale molds. In timbales of this type, where egg is the thickening agent, savory seasonings are used, and the milk which ordinarily forms an important component of custard is replaced in part or entirely by meat stock or vegetable purée.
All timbales are cooked in molds of some sort; they are cooked by oven-poaching and are not browned. They are turned out of the molds before they are served. A circle of buttered paper laid in the bottom of the mold before it is filled insures perfect unmolding.

Hot Soufflés—These are the lightest of the entrées, being made so by well-beaten egg-white folded into the seasoned foundation mixture. This may be simply a fruit purée or pulp; it may be a white sauce combined with egg-yolks and the characterizing ingredient; or it may be a panada made by cooking either cracker or bread-crumbs with milk and adding the prepared ingredient, this method being best for meat soufflés. Soufflés need the same careful baking given to egg timbales and are served in or from the baking-dish. The top should be browned.

Fillets—This type of entrée is composed of a solid piece of meat or fish, and may comprise breasts or joints of poultry, chops, large oysters, scallops, crabs, fillets of fish and the first three cuts of beef tenderloin. These when used as entrées, may be cooked by broiling, sautéing, frying or oven-poaching, but never by roasting because the flavor and effect would be too much like that of the main course.

Vegetable Entrées—Hot or Cold

The following vegetables are suggested for service as entrées: asparagus, cauliflower and broccoli, hot with Hollandaise or butter sauce, or cold with vinaigrette; tomato surprise, stuffed, for instance, with mushrooms; corn on the cob; mushrooms; baked lima beans; long, thin string beans, not cut or split; large beets hollowed out and filled with bread crumbs and tiny peas or chopped carrots or both; stuffed peppers; egg plant; baked Hubbard squash, Brussels sprouts; braized celery or endive; cucumbers; and artichoke bottoms stuffed with forcemeat and baked.

Cold Entrées

Aspícs—Aspic is a spiced tart jelly made from brown or white meat stock alone or in combination with gelatin. It is used to enclose a variety of foods in a mold or to give a transparent coating of shining, sparkling finish. Various foods may be molded in aspic—for instance, stuffed olives, plain or stuffed tomatoes, eggs, birds, beef tongue, chicken salad or a mousse.

Aspics give ample opportunity to show inventiveness in design, for they are usually elaborately decorated. Decorative shapes may be cut from pimiento, green or red pepper, olives, pickles, hard-cooked egg-white, yellow custard, parsley, truffles or cooked vegetables. Green peas and capers, also, are frequently used.

Chaud Froids—For these dishes, the sauce is made up hot but the finished product is served cold. The sauce, which may be white, yellow or brown, and stiffened with gelatin, is used to give a smooth, glossy surface to eggs, cutlets, breast or other choice pieces of chicken, fish fillets, etc., all of which must be plainly cooked and well seasoned. A decoration is usual, also a final coating of aspic.

Mousses—This term, used in connection with entrées, refers to a dish made of a meat, fish or vegetable purée stiffened with gelatin and made light by means of beaten cream. It is molded to give it shape, chilled, then unmolded for serving.

Cold Soufflés—It is difficult to differentiate these from the mousses. About the only difference is the manner of serving. The mixture may be put into individual dishes of china, or paper cases, having paper bands pinned about the top to give greater height. When the mixture is chilled, the bands are removed. The mixture, extending above the edge of the container, gives the effect of great lightness, thus simulating a soufflé.

Salads—Salads are not usually thought of as entrées, but in a formal menu are so considered.

Borders and Cases

BREAD CROUSTADES

Cut slices of bread from one to two inches thick. Remove the brown part of the crust. Cut each trimmed slice into two oblongs or two triangles, for large croustades, or into four squares or four triangles, for small croustades. Or shape the bread with cookie cutters into circles, diamonds, etc. Insert the point of a sharp knife into the top of the shaped piece, one-half inch from the edge, and cut around the outline, running the knife down to within one-half inch of the bottom. Insert the knife point horizontally through one side of the slice, one-half inch from the bottom, and cut out and remove the center, leaving a box with half-inch walls and bottom. Fry these cases in deep fat, (375°-390° F.) or, if you prefer, brush them over with melted fat and set them in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) to brown.

RICE CROUSTADES

Cook one cup of washed rice in white stock instead of in water. Drain well, mix with a thick white sauce, and spread in a greased pan to the depth of about two inches. Cover with oiled paper and place weights on top, so that the mixture may become very compact when cold. When it is perfectly firm, cut it in circles, make a cavity in the center of each, dip the case thus made in fine bread-crumbs, then in egg, and again in crumbs, and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.).

POTATO BORDER

9 medium-sized potatoes
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup hot milk
1 tablespoon salt
2 eggs

Boil and rice the potatoes. Add remaining ingredients except ¼ teaspoon salt and the egg whites. Beat the mixture until very light. Pack into a border mold, well greased, and set in warm place eight minutes. Unmold onto an oven-proof platter. Beat egg whites, with remaining salt, to a froth, spread over the border and brown in a slow oven (300°-350° F.).

POTATO TIMBALES—Peel potatoes and cut into tiny strips lengthwise. Heat in a small amount of fat until slightly soft—don’t brown. Remove, sprinkle with salt and arrange nests inside large deep muffin tins, pressing firmly against sides and bottom. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes. Use carrots, parsnips, macaroni, spaghetti or fine noodles instead of potatoes.

RICE BORDER

1 cup rice
3 cups white stock
1 tablespoon salt
2 egg-yolks
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
3 tablespoons milk or cream

Cook washed rice in white stock for one-half hour, then add salt and butter or other fat and cook slowly twenty minutes more. Beat the yolks of the eggs with the cream or milk and stir in. Grease a border mold, pack the rice firmly into it, let it stand eight to ten minutes in a warm (not hot) place and turn out on a hot platter. Fill the center with any meat preparation warmed in sauce.

TIMBALE ROSETTES

<table>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10 tablespoons irradiated evaporated milk</td>
<td>1/8 teaspoon salt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1 1/2 teaspoons sugar</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Beat egg slightly. Add milk. Sift flour, then measure. Resift with salt and sugar into the egg and milk mixture. Stir until batter is smooth. It should be about the consistency of heavy cream. Use a deep, heart-shaped timbale iron. Dip in the hot fat to heat, then in the batter, being careful that the batter does not come up over the top of the iron.

Have ready a small, deep kettle of fat, place the iron in it and heat until the fat is hot enough to brown a piece of bread while counting sixty (370° F.). The fat should be deep enough to cover the mold end of the iron. Take out the heated iron, remove surplus fat with a piece of absorbent paper and lower the iron into the batter until it is covered not more than three-fourths its height. This is necessary to allow for the rising of the batter during cooking. If only a thin layer of batter adheres to the iron, plunge it in again, and repeat if necessary until there is a smooth layer of partly cooked batter. Plunge it quickly into the hot fat and cook from two to three minutes. Remove from the fat, slip the case from the iron on to absorbent paper and continue until you have the required number of cases.

A fluted iron is easier to work with than a plain one, because the case does not slip off until thoroughly cooked. A properly cooked case, however, should slip easily from the mold. If the cases are not crisp, the batter is too thick and should be diluted with milk.

These cases may be filled with a creamed vegetable, creamed oysters, chicken or sweetbreads, or with fresh or cooked fruit topped with whipped cream or powdered sugar. When sweet fillings are used, they are served as a dessert. This recipe makes about 20 cases with an iron of average size.
RISSOLES

These are practically little turnovers, filled with a highly seasoned mixture of chopped chicken and ham or other delicate meat moistened with white sauce. Roll puff-paste very thin and cut in circles. Place a teaspoon of the mixture in the center of each circle, moisten half the circumference with cold water, and fold the other half over, pressing the edges closely together. Dip in slightly beaten egg mixed with a tablespoon of water. Fry in deep fat (360°-370° F.) and drain thoroughly.

BOUCHÉES

Small pastry shells or cases filled with creamed meat or game are called bouchées, and are much in vogue for entrées. They provide an excellent way of utilizing left-overs of chicken, sweetbreads, fish, etc. Paper cases, bought at the confectioner’s, may be used instead of the pastry shells.

PATTY CASES

Roll puff-paste to the thickness of one-half inch and with a cookie cutter shape circles two and one-half to three inches in diameter. With a tiny cutter, remove the centers from half of the circles. Brush the edges of the complete circles with water and lay the rings on top. Chill thoroughly, then bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) from fifteen to twenty minutes. At the same time, bake the small centers removed from the upper layers of the cases, and use them as lids for the filled patties.

VOL AU VENTS

A vol au vent is a large patty. The French name signifies something that will fly away in the wind. Roll out puff-paste one and one-half inches in thickness, and cut a circle about six inches in diameter, using a cutter or, with a sharp knife, cutting around the edge of a plate laid on the paste. Place the circle on a baking-tin and, with a sharp pointed knife or a smaller cutter, cut a circle around the top about one and one-half inches from the edge and about an inch deep. Do not remove the center but bake the entire circle in a large, flat pan in a hot oven (450°-500° F.) from thirty to fifty minutes.
REMOVE ALL BUT BOTTOM CRUST. CUT AND SCOOP OUT CENTER. TOAST, FILL WITH CREAMED SALMON MIXTURE. CRUMB AND BROWN TO SERVE.

THE RING MOLD IS THE DELIGHT OF FAMILY AND FRIENDS WHETHER OF NOODLES, VEGETABLES OR CHICKEN MOUSSE.
When the outer crust is cooked, lift out the center, remove the uncooked paste from below, and the shell is ready to be filled. It may be filled with lobster meat, oysters, chicken, or any kind of delicate meat or fish chopped and seasoned, and heated in Béchamel, white, brown or mushroom sauce, or with sweet-meats of any kind or fresh berries, sweetened. In using fish, always add one teaspoon of lemon-juice to the mixture after it is taken from the fire.

HOT ENTREES

Creamed Mixtures

PATTIES

Add the chicken and, when hot, add the cream combined with the beaten egg yolks, the mushrooms, pepper and pimiento. Add the sherry and serve immediately. Do not cook after adding the eggs or the mixture may curdle. Stand over hot, not bubbling, water, if necessary. Use 1 can red salmon, boned and skinned.

2 dozen oysters
1 tablespoon fat
1 tablespoon flour

Paprika
Salt and lemon-juice

Cut rounds of toast in two or two and one-half inch circles and arrange in a shallow baking-dish; place large peeled mushroom caps on the toast. Dip clams or oysters in melted butter seasoned with salt, lemon-juice and paprika and lay on mushrooms, using enough butter to season mushrooms also. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.), until mushrooms are tender and clams are cooked. Make a thin white sauce of milk, butter and flour, season with onion and anchovy and color with vegetable bouquet. Pour around the toast and serve.

SCOTCH WOODCOCK

Croquettes or Cutlets

BEEF CROQUETTES

1 cup cooked beef
2 cups mashed potatoes
1 egg
Flour or egg and crumbs

Chop cold roast or corned beef fine and mix with well-seasoned hot mashed potatoes. Beat the egg, work it in with the mass and shape the mixture into little cakes. Roll either in flour, fine crumbs or egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.) from two to five minutes.
CHICKEN CROQUETTES

No. 1.

2 tablespoons fat
1/4 cup flour

Salt and pepper

1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon lemon-juice
Few drops onion-juice
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Egg and crumbs

Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk. Add fowl, seasoned with celery salt, lemon-juice, onion-juice, parsley, salt and pepper. Cool, shape, dip into flour or fine crumbs, then into egg and again into crumbs, and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.) from two to five minutes. White meat of fowl absorbs more sauce than dark meat.

No. 2.

2 cups cooked chicken
4 tablespoons chopped mushrooms
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon parsley

1/2 teaspoon onion-juice
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk or cream
4 eggs

Mix the chicken, mushrooms, salt, pepper, parsley and the onion and lemon-juice. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk or cream. Add the chicken, and cook for three minutes. Stir in two of the eggs beaten until light. Take from the fire immediately, pour into a greased, flat dish and set in a cold place for an hour or so. The colder the mixture becomes, the better it may be handled. Shape into cutlets, either in molds or with a knife, and sprinkle both sides of each cutlet with fine crumbs. Beat the other two eggs in a deep plate. Dip the cutlets in the egg, then in crumbs, put them in a frying-basket, not crowding them, and cook in deep fat (375°-390° F.) from two to five minutes. Serve with Béchamel or mushroom sauce.

1 pint oysters  1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fat 1 tablespoon parsley
2 tablespoons flour 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon-juice
1 egg-yolk  Egg and crumbs

Clean the oysters (see Index). Heat in their own liquor until the edges begin to curl, stirring all the time. Strain the liquor and chop the oysters. Rub together fat and flour. Add the oyster liquor and cook until thick. Then add the chopped oysters and the well-beaten egg-yolk. After taking from the fire, add salt, minced parsley and the lemon-juice. When stiff, mold into desired shape. Dip in crumbs, beaten egg and crumbs again, then fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.) from two to five minutes. Serve with horseradish sauce.

POTATO OR HOMINY CROQUETTES

4 cups mashed potatoes or cooked hominy
2 tablespoons cream or milk
Salt and pepper
Chopped parsley

Onion-juice
Nutmeg
2 egg-yolks
Egg and crumbs

To the mashed hot potatoes or hominy, add cream or milk, and seasonings. Mix well and beat until light, add the well-beaten yolks of eggs and let stand till cold. Shape into oblong or pear-shaped croquettes, roll in fine bread-crumbs, then in beaten egg, and again in crumbs. Fry at once, until brown, in hot fat (375°-390° F.).

Potato croquettes may be made more dainty by rubbing the potato mixture through a sieve before adding the eggs. Short, leafless stalks of parsley thrust into pear-shaped croquettes after the manner of stems will make them very attractive.

RICE CROQUETTES

1 cup boiled rice
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Grated lemon-peel
1 egg
Egg and crumbs

Combine rice, milk, sugar, salt, grated lemon-peel and the well-beaten egg, and when cold, shape in ovals, roll in egg, then in bread-crumbs or rolled crackers, and fry a rich brown in deep fat (375°-390° F.).

RICE FAN-TAN

½ cup rice
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar

1 egg
½ cup candied fruits
Egg and crumbs
Powdered sugar

Cook rice in milk until very soft. Stir in salt, sugar and well-beaten egg, and remove at once from the fire. Mix in cut up candied fruits—cherries, apricots, pineapple, etc.—and turn into a shallow, well-oiled pan to cool. When firm, cut into strips about one and one-half inches wide and three inches long, dip into egg then into bread-crumbs and brown delicately on both sides in butter or other fat. Drain, dust with powdered sugar and serve hot.
The skewer is one of your most useful allies when using up small pieces of meat.

Peppers, acorn squashes and other small vegetables make attractive cups for leftover mixtures.
THE TRADITIONAL CROQUETTE MAY BE VARIED TO SUIT TIME AND OCCASION, AS IN THESE MEAT BALLS ON HOT PEACH HALVES.
No. 1. FRIED OR SAUTÉED MUSH

Make mush according to directions given (Index). Turn it into a shallow greased pan, smoothing the surface. When it is cold, turn it from the pan, cut in slices or cubes, dip in fine bread or cracker-crumbs, then in beaten egg, adding three tablespoons of milk to each egg, and then again in the crumbs. Fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.). Drain on soft paper. Serve hot with jelly sauce or sirup.

No. 2—Cut cold mush into slices about one-fourth of an inch thick, and sauté until brown and crisp in a very little fat; if preferred, the slices may be sprinkled with flour, or dipped first in salted beaten egg and then in bread or cracker-crumbs, before sautéing. Hominy and other cereals may be fried in the same way.

Fritters

(For sweet fritters and fritter batter, see Index).

CLAM FRITTERS

OYSTER FRITTERS

1 1/2 cups oysters 2 cups flour
2 eggs 2 teaspoons baking-powder
1 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon salt

Chop the oysters. Make a batter of the eggs, milk, flour, baking-powder and salt. Stir the oysters into the batter and drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat (360°-370° F.).

PARSNIP FRITTERS

3 parsnips 1 cup milk
2 eggs 1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fat 3 tablespoons flour

Boil the parsnips tender, grate fine or mash and pick out all the fibrous parts. Beat the eggs light, and stir into the parsnips, beating hard. Add the fat, milk, salt and flour. Drop by spoonfuls into deep fat (360°-370° F.) and fry two to three minutes.

BREADED CALVES’ BRAINS

Soak two pairs of calves’ brains in cold water one-half hour; then remove the thick membrane covering them and see that they are perfectly white and bloodless. Divide into servings for six. Put into enough boiling water to cover and simmer for fifteen minutes. Then take them up and plunge them into cold water. When they are cool, drain and season generously with salt, and pepper. Dip into flour, then into beaten egg, seasoned with salt and pepper, then into fine bread-crumbs; place in a frying-basket and cook in deep fat (375°-400° F.) five to eight minutes. Serve with ravigote or white sauce.

FLANK STEAK FILLETS

1 flank steak, unscored 1/2 onion, chopped
1/2 pound kidney suet or salt 2 1/2 teaspoons salt pork 1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 green pepper 8 metal skewers
1 cup tomatoes, strained

Cut suet or salt pork into one-inch strips. Place on steak and roll meat tightly around the fat, skewering it through the roll
1 ½ inches apart. Cut roll between skewers forming individual fillets of steak with small squares of fat in center. Flour; brown fillets on both sides, place in casserole or covered pan; add tomatoes, onion, pepper and seasoning. Other vegetables, fine cut, may also be added. Simmer 1 hour or until tender or finish in 300° F. oven.

RING MOLDS

The ring mold is one of the most satisfactory ways of serving entrees since it is decorative, permits endless variety in appearance but involves no additional labor. Any recipe baked in a loaf may be used in the ring mold. Grease the mold as any pan for baking and unmold on the plate to be used for serving. The center may be filled with another cooked vegetable, a stew, creamed fish or poultry, or a china, glass or silver bowl of the exact size may be slipped into the center and filled with the sauce or dressing to be served with the ring.

<td>1 beef kidney</td>
<td>Bit of bay-leaf</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flour</td>
<td>Salt and pepper</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fat</td>
<td>¼ inch slice of lemon</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Soak a beef kidney in cold water for one hour, changing the water two or three times as it colors; then place on the fire in cold water and gently heat to the boiling-point. Drain off this water and put on fresh cold water for a second heating. Again heat and again change the water.

In the third water simmer the kidney for ten minutes. Then remove it from the fire, and when cool enough to handle, cut out the cords and most of the center fat. Slice thin, dip each piece in flour and sauté in fat until brown.

Remove the meat from the pan, add flour to the fat, stir well, and brown thoroughly. Add boiling water, stirring until a smooth sauce is formed. Return the meat to the pan, add bay-leaf, salt, pepper and slice of lemon from which the peel has been removed. Simmer for one hour with the pan covered, adding more water if it reduces too much. There should be only enough water to form a rich sauce. Remove the bay-leaf, and serve on a heated platter.

KIDNEYS EN BROCHETTE

Split the kidneys, put over the fire in cold water and bring to the boiling-point rapidly. Drain, wipe and slice each half. Arrange these slices on small metal skewers, alternating with slices of fat bacon the same size. Broil quickly and serve on toast, leaving the skewer in.

SWEETBREADS EN BROCHETTE

Prepare the sweetbreads (See Index), cut into pieces about one inch square and one-half inch thick, season, dip into melted fat and then into flour and string on small skewers alternately with thin squares of bacon. Broil, or lay the skewers across a narrow pan and cook in a hot oven (400°-450° F.).

BRAISED SWEETBREADS A LA PARLOA

3 pairs sweetbreads
1 teaspoon minced carrot
2 teaspoons minced onion
2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup water
1 teaspoon beef extract
1 bay-leaf
1 sprig parsley
1 teaspoon lemon-juice
Salt and pepper

Prepare sweetbreads according to directions (See Index) and arrange in deep baking-dish. Cook vegetables in fat for fifteen minutes. Add flour and stir until the mixture becomes frothy. Add the water gradually, stirring all the time. When this liquid boils, stir in the meat extract and seasonings. Cook for five minutes and strain over the sweetbreads. Cover the pan and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) for one hour, basting every fifteen minutes with the gravy in the pan. Arrange the sweetbreads on pieces of toast on a warm dish, and pour mushroom sauce around them.

1/2 cup bread- or cracker-crumbs

Milk or cream

Prepare peppers as directed. Mix the meat with the bread or cracker-crumbs and moisten with a little milk or cream. Be sure that it is rather highly seasoned. (The potted meats that come in cans are excellent for this purpose.) Fill the peppers with the mixture and serve at once or cover with buttered crumbs and set in the oven (400° F.) for ten minutes to brown. Use small vegetables: Lima beans, corn or diced carrots, instead of meat.

(veal, chicken or ham)

1 cup water or stock
1 1/4 cups moistened bread-crumbs

Cut a slice from the stem end of each pepper. Remove seeds and parboil peppers ten minutes. Mix minced cooked meat with moistened bread-crumbs, add salt, pepper, melted fat and the onion, grated. Stuff the peppers with this mixture and stand them in a dripping-pan. Add water or stock. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) thirty minutes, basting frequently. Cooked rice may be used instead of the bread-crumbs.

Cheese Stuffing—

- 6 green peppers
- 1 cup crumbs
- ½ cup chopped cheese

- Salt

Prepare peppers as directed. Mix the crumbs with the cheese. Then add the butter or other fat and salt to taste. Fill the peppers with the mixture and serve with the meat course.

- ½ teaspoon mustard
- Nutmeg
- Celery seed
- 1 egg
- ½ cup bread-crumbs
- 6 green peppers

Prepare shrimps as directed (See Index). Cut off the stem ends or tops of the peppers, and remove the seeds and veins, and soak the peppers in cold water for one-half hour. Cream the fat by beating and then also beat into it the seasonings and egg. Add the crumbs, mixing the ingredients well, and finally stirring in the shrimps. Drain the peppers and fill with the prepared stuffing. Set them in a pan, open side up and bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) for thirty minutes.

Sweetbread Stuffing— oven (350°-375° F.). Mushroom sauce may be poured around the peppers.

ASPARAGUS TIMBALES

1 bunch asparagus
1 cup bread-crumbs
\( \frac{1}{4} \) cup hot milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon parsley
\( \frac{1}{4} \) teaspoon salt
Few grains of cayenne
\( 1\frac{1}{2} \) tablespoons melted fat
\( \frac{1}{2} \) tablespoon onion-juice

Wash the asparagus thoroughly; cut the tender parts into bits one-half inch long, and put into boiling salted water. Boil rapidly for ten minutes and drain thoroughly. In the meantime, cover the bread-crumbs with the hot milk. When the crumbs are soft, add the eggs, and mix well together. Stir in salt, cayenne, melted fat and onion-juice; then stir in asparagus tips, carefully. Grease small timbale molds, sprinkle them with minced parsley and fill two-thirds full. Set in a baking-pan that contains boiling water, but do not allow the water to reach the top of the molds. Cover with a sheet of greased paper and cook in a slow oven (250°-325° F.) for thirty-five to forty-five minutes. Invert on a heated platter, garnish with parsley and serve with a white sauce.

COLD ENTREES

ASPIC JELLY

2 pounds beef
\( \frac{1}{2} \) pound ham or bacon
Sweet herbs
Salt and pepper
1 egg-white
2 tablespoons lemon-juice

Put the beef into the pot and, if desired, veal or beef bones also, though they require longer boiling to dissolve the gelatin. Add the ham or bacon and all the sweet herbs, such as thyme, basil, parsley and marjoram, and salt and pepper to taste. Boil for three or four hours; strain and put away to cool. When cold, take off all the fat and sediment. Throw into it the slightly beaten egg-white, and the lemon-juice, place again on the fire, boil for a few minutes and strain through a jelly-bag.

This is used for molding cold meat.
MINCED HAM IN CIDER CUPS

1 cup boiled ham 1/2 cup celery
3 hard-cooked eggs 2 tablespoons gelatin
1/2 teaspoon salt 2 cups cider
Pepper 1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper 1/2 cup cold water

Unmold, fill the center with Brussels sprouts and garnish the platter with carrots and parsley.

HAM MOUSSE

Follow the directions for chicken mousse, substituting cooked ham for the cooked chicken. Chopped mushrooms are a delicious addition to this dish, and mushrooms may be mixed with the sauce when ready to serve, and also may be used as decorations.

Unmold on bed of crisp lettuce and serve with cucumber cream dressing.
VEGETARIAN DISHES

VEGETARIAN dishes make agreeable variations in the diet, and frequently reduce the food bill. They are welcome in any household where the program of using meat only once a day is being followed. Dishes containing a large percentage of milk, eggs or cheese, together with dried legumes, nuts or gelatin, are nutritious and typical vegetarian dishes.

People not accustomed to meatless menus may experience an unsatisfied feeling at the end of a meal that is entirely vegetarian. This is largely due to the fact that meat is a highly flavored food. The housewife will do well, therefore, to offer some well-seasoned dish in a vegetarian menu.

A ring mold is a decorative way of serving vegetarian dishes with no extra labor. The following recipes calling for a loaf form may be used for the ring mold. See page 344.

CHESTNUT CROQUETTES

2 cups hot mashed chestnuts  Few drops of onion-juice or 4 tablespoons fat 2 tablespoons minced onion
2 eggs  Egg and crumbs
Salt and pepper

Mix the chestnuts, fat, slightly beaten eggs and seasonings. Shape into croquettes. Roll in crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (375°-390° F.) until crumbs are brown (2-5 minutes).

This dish offers adequate protein and iron and a comparatively highly seasoned dish. The croquettes may be served with brown sauce or tomato sauce.

PEANUT BALLS

1 tablespoon fat  Pepper
2 tablespoons flour 2 cups cooked rice
½ cup milk ¼ cup ground peanuts
½ teaspoon salt 1 egg

Make white sauce from fat, flour, milk and seasoning. Mix rice, peanuts, white sauce and beaten egg, and shape into small balls. Sauté in a greased frying-pan turning frequently so that the balls are browned all over. Or, roll in beaten egg, then in crumbs and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.).

This dish is low in both iron and protein, therefore milk, eggs or cheese should appear elsewhere in the menu. These balls are good served with cheese sauce.

PEANUT SCRAPPLE

1 cup hot milk
1 quart boiling water
1 cup yellow corn-meal
3/4 cup hominy grits
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon paprika
1 1/2 cups chopped peanuts
1/4 to 1 cup grated cheese

Combine hot milk and boiling water, bring to boiling-point and add corn-meal, hominy grits and seasoning. Stir constantly until the liquid is thickened by the cereal. Place in a double boiler and cook one hour. Ten minutes before taking up, add the peanuts and cheese.

Place in a deep rectangular bread-pan and allow it to cool. When ready to use, cut in small slices (roll in egg and crumbs if desired) and fry in deep fat (375°-390° F.) until brown (2-5 minutes); or place in a greased baking-pan, sprinkle with grated cheese mixed with bread-crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) until brown.

This makes an excellent luncheon or supper dish.

PEANUT BUTTER CUTLETS

1 1/2 cups peanut butter
1 1/2 cups hot milk
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
6 half-inch slices of bread

This dish offers both adequate protein and iron.

BAKED PEANUTS

4 cups shelled raw peanuts
4 tablespoons salad oil

Cover peanuts with cold water and soak over night. In the morning, place them over the fire, and boil ten minutes. Remove from water and dry. Add oil and mix well. Place the mixture in a greased baking-dish and bake (400° F.) until the peanuts are soft and well browned.

If extra seasoning is desired, a small quantity of catchup, salt, molasses and mustard may be added during the baking, as for baked beans.

Remove from the fire, pour the hot mixture over the well-beaten egg-yolks, mixing thoroughly. Cool, and fold in the egg-whites that have been beaten until stiff and dry. When the ingredients are thoroughly combined, place in a ring mold, set in a pan of water in a slow oven (375° F.) and bake thirty minutes. Serve immediately.

This is a hearty main dish, but, because of its texture, should have something crisp or solid served with it.

This recipe makes six to eight sausages, three inches long and three-fourths of an inch thick. It should be accompanied by some milk, egg or cheese dish.
PEANUT CHOPS

6 half-inch slices rye bread
1 cup peanut butter
\(\frac{3}{4}\) cup top milk
2 eggs
\(\frac{1}{2}\) teaspoon salt
\(\frac{1}{8}\) teaspoon paprika
Cracker-crumbs

Cut crust from bread and divide in lengthwise strips. Spread peanut butter on both sides of each strip. Add milk and seasoning to the eggs and beat thoroughly. Dip strips of bread into the mixture, remove and dip into sifted cracker-crumbs. Put into a greased bread-pan and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) until golden brown. This is a good main dish.

corned beef

Mix all ingredients except meat; turn into greased casserole, arrange meat on top and bake in 350° F. oven about 30 minutes, or until smoked meat is crisp.
EGG DISHES

To test an egg for freshness, place it in a glass of water. If the egg falls to the bottom of the glass and lies on its side, it is a fresh egg; if the large end rises slightly, the egg is somewhat stale; if it stands on end or floats, it is very stale. The shell of a fresh egg has a bloom; that of a stale egg is usually shiny. If the contents of an egg rattle when it is shaken, it is not fresh.

EGGS COOKED IN THE SHELL

Hard-cooked (Coddled) — Place the eggs in a saucepan of cold water and heat slowly until the boiling-point is reached. Set the container on the back of the stove or reduce the heat so that the water will not boil again and let stand twenty to thirty minutes before removing the eggs. Another method of regulating the temperature is to cook them in the double boiler.

Soft-cooked (Coddled) — Use one pint water for each egg up to six eggs, one-half pint for each additional egg, and use a small deep saucepan so that the water will cover the eggs. Bring the water to the boiling-point in a vessel that can be covered closely. Put the eggs in at once, cover, set off the fire and let stand in a warm place for four to six minutes, depending on consistency desired. In this way, the eggs will be cooked equally well in every part.

POACHED OR DROPPED EGGS

No. 1 — Heat salted water to the boiling-point in a frying-pan or other shallow pan. Break an egg into a saucer, then slip it gently into the water. Repeat until all the eggs are in. Remove the pan from the fire, cover and keep hot until the eggs are set to the desired degree. If the yolk is not entirely covered, dip the water over it carefully until it is coated with white. Remove with a skimmer or perforated ladle and slip on to a thin piece of buttered toast. Buttered muffin rings may be placed in the water and each egg slipped into a muffin ring for cooking, or an egg-poacher may be used.
Poached eggs are often placed in clear soup, one egg being prepared for each person to be served. They are served also on thin slices of boiled ham, on mounds of corned-beef hash, on Welsh rabbit or on cooked spinach.

No. 2—Separate the yolk and white. Beat the white until stiff and put it in a glass ramekin. Drop the yolk in the center of the beaten white. Set the ramekin in hot water until the egg sets. Garnish with a bit of butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Serve in the ramekin.

FRIED EGGS

No. 1—Heat cooking-fat in a frying-pan and slip in the eggs. Cook as many eggs at one time as will fill the pan without touching one another. Baste with some of the fat, to cook the yolk. Cook slowly, for if the fat becomes very hot the eggs will be tough and hard to digest but if the temperature of the fat is kept down, the egg may be made as delicate as if poached in water.

Eggs may be fried very successfully by covering the pan as soon as the eggs have been added, and then placing it in the oven or over a very slow fire, so that the eggs will cook very slowly.

No. 2—With Brown Butter—

| 6 eggs | Salt and pepper  |
| 3 tablespoons butter | 1 teaspoon vinegar |

Sauté the eggs in one tablespoon butter until set, season with salt and pepper, and place on a platter. Brown two tablespoons butter in the pan, add one teaspoon vinegar, and when hot, pour over the eggs.

BAKED EGGS

No. 1—Use individual baking-dishes and melt one teaspoon of butter in each dish. Break the eggs into the dishes, allowing one or two eggs to a dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and place a tiny piece of butter on each. Bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) until the eggs are set but not hard. Serve in the baking-dishes.

No. 2—Shirred—Use small ramekins or egg-shirrers. Grease each dish, put in a layer of buttered crumbs, break an egg over the crumbs, season with salt and pepper and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) until the eggs are set and the crumbs brown. Serve in the ramekins.

No. 3—On Toast—Moisten the edges of the toast with hot water and spread with butter. Separate the yolks and whites of the eggs. Poach the yolks in salted water until soft cooked, and place one on each slice of toast, being careful not to break it. Beat the whites very stiff, spread around the yolks, season with salt and pepper, and brown in the oven (350° F.).

No. 4—in Tomato Sauce—Grease small ramekins and place two tablespoons thick tomato sauce in each. Slip a poached egg into each dish, cover with grated cheese, season with salt and pepper, and bake in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) two or three minutes, to brown the cheese.

No. 5—in Bacon Rings—Curl long slices of bacon around the inside of muffin-cups or small ramekins. Break an egg inside each bacon-ring, season with salt and pepper and bake (350° F.) until set, but not hard. Remove carefully from the dish so that the egg will remain fastened to the bacon. Arrange on a platter and garnish with parsley.

No. 6—with Bacon Strips—Fry the bacon very crisp, but not hard, then arrange the slices in groups of two on a large plate or in individual baking-dishes. Break one egg over each two slices of bacon, season with salt and pepper and bake slowly (300° F.) until set, but not hard.

BATTERED OR SCRAMBLED EGGS

No. 1—in a frying-pan, place one teaspoon of butter for each egg. Beat the eggs until the whites and yolks are well mixed. Season with salt and pepper and add one to three tablespoons of milk or cream for each egg. Pour into the hot fat and cook slowly, stirring constantly until the eggs are of the desired consistency. Serve at once. A little onion-juice or chopped parsley may be added to the eggs, if desired.

No. 2—with Green Peppers—

8 eggs 2 sweet peppers
3 tablespoons cream 3 tablespoons fat
Salt and pepper

Beat the eggs slightly, adding the cream, salt and pepper. Heat the fat and add the eggs. As the eggs begin to cook, add the chopped pepper, from which the seeds have been removed. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until the mass is creamy. Serve with toast points.

One-fourth cup of chopped canned pimientos may be substituted for the pepper. It is often desirable to soften fresh peppers by placing in hot water for five minutes.

Eggs scrambled in the top of a double boiler will be more creamy than those cooked in a frying-pan.

Beat the egg-whites until stiff. Beat the yolks until thick and lemon-colored, beat into them the hot water and add salt and pepper. Cut and fold together the yolks and stiffly beaten whites. Melt enough fat in an omelet-pan to grease the bottom and sides of the pan. Turn the egg mixture into the pan and cook over a slow fire until it is puffy and a light brown underneath, then place in the oven until the top is dry. Touch the top of the omelet lightly with the finger and if the egg does not stick to the finger the omelet is done. Do not overcook it or it will shrink or be tough.

Loosen the edges of the omelet, cut through the center, slip a spatula or flexible knife under the side next to the handle of the pan, fold one-half over the other and press slightly to make it stay in place, slip on to a hot plate and serve at once.

Beat the eggs just enough to mix the whites and yolks, and add salt and pepper. Heat the fat in an omelet-pan, pour a little of it into the beaten eggs and allow the remainder to get hot. Turn the eggs into the pan and as the mixture cooks on the bottom and sides, prick it with a fork so that the egg on top will penetrate the cooked surface, and run under the sides. The work must be done quickly and carefully so that the eggs are not all stirred up like scrambled eggs. While the eggs are still soft, but slightly thickened, fold over, let stand a few minutes to brown, and turn on to a hot dish.

AUX FINES HERBES—This favorite French omelet is made by adding a mixture of parsley, thyme and sweet marjoram to a plain omelet.

CHEESE—Scatter grated or ground cheese over the center of the omelet while it is cooking.

FISH—Use any cooked fish. Chop it fine, season with salt and pepper and moisten with a little cream. Spread on the omelet before folding.

HAM OR OTHER MEAT—Scatter minced cooked meat over the center of the omelet while it is cooking. The meat may be browned in a small amount of fat before it is added.

JARDINIÈRE—Stir into the beaten eggs, before cooking, a mixture of chopped parsley, onion, chives, shallots, and a few leaves each of sorrel and chervil, minced.

JELLY—Spread any jelly or jam over the omelet just before folding.

ONION—Mix one tablespoon chopped onion and one teaspoon chopped parsley. Add to the omelet mixture before cooking.

PARSLEY—Scatter minced parsley over the center of the omelet while it is cooking.

VEGETABLE—Use cooked left-over vegetables, one vegetable alone or two in combination. Mash the vegetable through a sieve, moisten with a little milk, cream or gravy, and season with salt and pepper. Lightly spread the mixture over the omelet before folding.

LITTLE OMELETS

6 eggs  1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt  1 cup milk

The following is an excellent method of making an omelet when different members of the family come irregularly to breakfast, as the mixture will be perfectly satisfactory after it has stood for some time, provided it is again beaten thoroughly just before cooking.

Beat the eggs until light and foamy, then add the other ingredients. Fry a small amount at a time on a hot frying-pan or pancake-griddle that has been well greased. When done, roll each omelet quickly, like a French pancake, and serve.

CHEESE

CHEESE has an important place in the dietary, for it keeps well, it is a concentrated food, and ordinarily it is an economical one, at least when compared with other animal foods.

One pound of cheese represents the fat and protein of a gallon of milk. It is one form in which a surplus of milk may be stored satisfactorily and cheaply.

In spite of this, many persons do not use cheese as frequently as they should. In large measure, this is because the following facts about cheese are not generally known:

That cheese is a very concentrated food and therefore should be eaten in small amounts and should be associated at the same meal with bulky foods such as fruits and vegetables.

That whole-milk cheese is very rich in fat and therefore other fats at the meal should be limited in amount.

That cheese is soft in texture and should be associated with something having tough, "chewy" or crisp texture.

That cheese should take the place of meat or eggs and not be used merely as an addition to a meal already heavy with protein and fat.

Varieties of Cheese

There is a cheese for every taste. The housekeeper should know the ways in which various kinds of cheese are used and choose the variety best suited to the need of the moment. The intensity of flavor desirable in a cheese depends, among other things, on the food with which it will be served. Roquefort, Gorgonzola, Limburger and related types will satisfy many people better than the milder cheeses. Strong, old Cheddar cheese may be served with ginger snaps. From the chemist's standpoint, there is no basis for the statement often made that the highly flavored cheeses of strong odor have undergone putrefactive decomposition.

Cheddar, American, or Standard Factory Cheese is the most common cheese in use. It is a hard cheese and varies greatly in flavor and texture. It may be white or yellow, old or fresh. A mild cheese is green and not cured; a strong cheese is old and cured. A Cheddar cheese should have a smooth texture and be plastic enough to slice well. Mold on the outside is no indication of the quality of the cheese. Cheddar cheese is useful in general cooking. Unless made into special dishes like cheese wafers, it is not so good to serve with salads as some cheese of more distinctive flavor. In recipes which call for cheese, without specifying the kind, Cheddar cheese is the variety meant.

Long Horn, Young America, Daisy and Flat are Cheddar cheeses of varying shapes and sizes.

California Jack is the Cheddar cheese of California.

Brie is a soft cheese, ripened by molds from the outside. The cheeses have a red coloration on the surface and vary in size from six to fifteen inches in diameter and from two to three inches in height. The largest weighs from five to six pounds. The interior varies in consistency from waxy to semi-liquid and has a very pronounced odor and a sharp characteristic taste. The cheese is dipped out of the container with a spoon. It is used as a dessert with coffee and wafers or it may be added to salad dressing.

Caciocavallo is a hard Italian cheese shaped something like a gourd and weighing three to five pounds. It is white in color and is so hard that it is necessary to grate it. It is served in small dishes to be sprinkled in soup, spaghetti, etc. It is also added to these dishes during the cooking.

Camembert is a soft cheese, ripened by molds from the outside, so it belongs to the same group as Brie. It has a felt-like rind, one-sixteenth to one-eighth inch in thickness, composed of molds and dried cheese. A typical cheese is about four and one-quarter inches in diameter and three-quarters to one inch in thickness. It is sold wrapped in paper and enclosed in a wooden box of the same shape. Well-ripened cheeses vary from nearly fluid to the consistency of moderately soft butter. It is dipped out of the container with a spoon. It has a strong odor and flavor and is used in the same way as Brie. The entire cheese is eaten by those who like a moldy cheese.

Cheshire is the English Cheddar cheese. It is yellow, grainy, highly colored and highly salted and often more highly flavored than American Cheddar. It is used practically in the same ways as American Cheddar cheese.

Cream Cheese. See Neufchâtel.

Club Cheese is usually made from strong, well-ripened Cheddar cheese which is ground and mixed with butter and condiments. It spreads easily, and therefore is often used in sandwiches.

Edam is a hard cheese. It is put on the market in the form of red balls, weighing from three to four-and-one-half pounds, wrapped in tin-foil. Its texture is solid, close and free from pores. It is rather dry and crumbly. It is mild in flavor and pleasantly saline.

It is usual in this country to cut off a section of the top to serve as a lid, and to scoop out the inside as it is needed. It is served with salads, with crackers, with pie, etc. The cheese may be set in a silver holder or wrapped in a folded napkin on a plate. It is seldom cooked but often thrifty housewives, after the greater part of the cheese has been removed, stuff the hollow shell with cooked and seasoned macaroni, rice, or something similar and bake it. Edam cheese may be used in rarebit.

Gorgonzola is a semi-hard cheese, resembling Roquefort in that it is streaked throughout with a blue-green mold. The surface is heavily coated with a substance resembling clay. The cheeses are cylindrical in shape, about twelve inches in diameter and six inches in height. It may be crumbly or waxy in texture, and has a flavor resembling that of Roquefort. It is usually served uncooked as dessert, with wafers and coffee, or in salads, or it may be added to the salad dressing.

Liederkranz is a small Limburger cheese.

Limburger is a hard cheese. It is wrapped in waxed paper and then in tin-foil. Each cheese weighs about two pounds. It has a very strong and characteristic odor and taste. The odor, which is disagreeable to some people, may be decreased by removing the rind and exposing the cheese to the air before bringing it to the table. Because of its strong flavor, it is always served uncooked, in sandwiches, with pie, or with wafers and coffee.

Neufchatel and cream cheese are very similar, Neufchatel being made from milk containing four per cent. fat and cream cheese from milk containing six per cent. fat. Neufchatel cheese has a clean, sour-milk or lactic-acid flavor. In texture, it is smooth and free from holes. It is served with crackers or in salads and in sandwiches.

Parmesan is a hard cheese, known in Italy as "Grana" because of its granular appearance when broken. The hardness of the cheese makes cutting it practically impossible. It has small holes or eyes. It is used in cooking, principally. It is grated and added to soup, macaroni, spaghetti and similar dishes.

Pimiento Cheese is a cream, Neufchatel or ground Cheddar cheese to which pimientos have been added. It is used chiefly for sandwiches.

Pineapple Cheese is an old, very hard Cheddar cheese. It gets its name from its shape. It is bright yellow and varnished on the surface. It is so hard that it is necessary to grate it. It has a stronger flavor than ordinary Cheddar cheese but is used in practically the same way.

Provolona is a very hard Italian cheese resembling Caciocavallo, the main difference being in the shape. It is used in the same way.

Roquefort is a semi-hard cheese made from goat's milk. It is ripened by a green mold which gives it a mottled appearance throughout. It is found on the market in cylindrical form about seven and one-quarter inches in diameter and three and one-quarter inches thick, also in rectangular form and in small wedge-shaped portions. The pieces are without a definite rind and are wrapped in tin-foil. They must be kept cold. Roquefort has a strong odor and taste and is best served with highly flavored foods. It may be served in salads or with wafers and coffee.

Ricotta is a very hard Italian cheese. It is similar to Caciocavallo and Provolona, except in shape and in being made from albumen whey instead of milk, and is served the same way.

Stilton is a semi-hard cheese having a very characteristic wrinkled or ridged skin or ring. When cut, it shows blue or green portions of mold which give it its characteristic piquant flavor. It belongs to the Roquefort group. It is served as Roquefort is, in salads or as dessert with wafers and coffee, or with pie.

Swiss Cheese is variously known as Gruyère, Emmenthal, Sweitzer and true Switzerland. The peculiar Swiss-cheese flavor is often called a hazel-nut taste. It is a trifle sweet and very tempting. The typical Switzerland cheese has evenly distributed eyes or holes about the size of a cherry, with a dull shine on the inner lining, but the cheese is now packed in small cakes without rind and without holes. The imported Switzerland is yellow in color; the American Swiss is white. Switzerland cheese may be cooked, but is often served in sandwiches or as dessert with pie or with wafers and coffee.

 Welsh Rarebit

Add the cheese, cook and stir until it is melted. Serve on hot toasted bread or on saltines. One-half cup chopped olives may be added. This dish may be varied by adding one or two slightly beaten eggs just after the cheese has melted and continuing the cooking until the egg has thickened the mixture.

ROOTS, stems, leaves, buds, seeds and fruits of plants used as food are called vegetables. They classify as follows:

ROOTS—Beets, carrots, parsnips, turnips, salsify, radishes, horseradish, rutabagas, celeriac, sweet potatoes, yams, cassava.

STEMS—Enlarged underground stems called tubers: Irish potatoes and Jerusalem artichokes, dasheen or taro, yautia, kohlrabi, fennel.

STEM AND BUD—Asparagus.

BULBS—Onions (green, called scallions), leek, garlic, shallot.

LEAF STALKS—Celery, rhubarb.

LEAVES—Lettuce, endive, spinach, romaine, watercress, chard, chives, chicory, tops of beets, turnips, dandelion, fennel, mustard, dill, and parsley, escarole, Chinese cabbage, collards, kale.

BUDS—Cabbage (terminal), Brussels sprouts (axillary).

FLOWERING HEADS—Cauliflower, French artichoke, broccoli.

FRUIT—Cucumbers, squash, eggplant, peppers, okra, pumpkin, tomatoes, string beans, green peas, green corn, vegetable marrow, zucchini, chayote, Lima beans.

SEEDS—Peas, beans, lentils, corn, rice, Lima beans, soybeans, grains, cereals.

FUNGI—Mushrooms, truffles.

Selection of Vegetables

Buy vegetables in their season. Many vegetables are in the market the year round, and modern agriculture has greatly extended the season for many others but some, when out of season, lack flavor and freshness.

Vegetables should be fresh, firm (not hard), and ripe. Do not buy vegetables that are old, withered, moldy or bruised, underripe or overripe; there is no saving in cost from purchasing such vegetables. Head vegetables should be solid, with few waste leaves. Cauliflower should be white and firm, with no blemishes. Leafy vegetables should not be wilted. Peas and beans should have crisp pods. Buy vegetables of medium size and regular shape.
Buy only the amount of summer vegetables you can use immediately, because they deteriorate in quality very quickly and are best when cooked soon after gathering.

Winter vegetables may be bought in larger amounts if there is a suitable dry, cool place for storage.

Get acquainted with vegetables that you or your family have never eaten. For the first time buy only enough for your own lunch and cook them after your favorite method. If that is successful, try them on the family. If not, try again with another recipe, until you find one you think they will like.

Care of Vegetables

Summer Vegetables—If these are not to be cooked at once, they should be put in the refrigerator or some other cool dry place. Peas and corn, especially, should be cooked soon after they are gathered, because they lose their sweetness on standing. Lettuce should be sprinkled and wrapped in a heavy cloth or paper, and put into the refrigerator until it is used. Salad greens keep a week or more in mechanically cooled refrigerators if they are washed and placed in closely covered enamel or porcelain containers after being well drained. Cloths or paper wrappings dry out too quickly in mechanically cooled refrigerators. Cut the stems of wilted vegetables and plunge into cold water to freshen.

Winter Vegetables—These should be in good condition, firm and uninjured and stored in a dry, cool, well ventilated place. Most of them keep better if they are piled up so that the air is excluded. Squash, however, keep better if they are spread out so that they do not touch one another. Squash and sweet potatoes require a warmer place than other vegetables. Vegetables cannot be kept successfully in an unpartitioned cellar containing a furnace. Vegetables should not be overripe when stored, but should be nearly mature. Parsnips improve in flavor if they are allowed to freeze before they are stored. They should be watched carefully and if they show signs of spoiling, should be used at once or removed from the other vegetables.
Preparation of Vegetables for Cooking

Wash all vegetables before cooking, even though they look clean. A vegetable brush is almost a necessity. Soak wilted vegetables before peeling them. Vegetables that are soaked after they are peeled lose some soluble food materials. Dry winter vegetables may be improved by soaking them for several hours. Scrape thin-skinned vegetables; pare thick-skinned vegetables or remove the skin after cooking. Make thin parings except in the case of turnips, from which a thick layer of corky material should be removed. Discard decayed vegetables.

Many vegetables, particularly of the bud, head and fruit groups, need to be immersed for a period in cold salt water. This freshens the fiber and drives out any insects that have taken refuge in crevices. Leaf vegetables need to be washed in several waters, the first of which should be salted for the same reason. The leaves should be lifted out of the water rather than the water poured off. This permits any sand to sink to the bottom of the pan. A tablespoon of liquid ammonia added to the last gallon of wash water will remove the last film that carries an earthy flavor.

What Vegetables Provide

The appreciation of vegetables as food has greatly increased in recent years with an extended understanding of their peculiar values. The modern woman realizes that these values, having been paid for at the market, must be retained in the preparation, if her family is to benefit by her intelligent purchases. Vegetables are one of the three groups of food that protect growth and vitality and preserve the characteristics of youth, the others being milk and fruits. The importance of these protective foods may be realized by the fact that scientists have found an astonishing relation between the early onset of old age and the food habits of persons involved. The modern woman knows that vegetables provide not only starches and sugars for energy, as well as several forms of protein, but what is most important they provide impressive amounts of Vitamins A, B, C, E, and G, in addition to mineral salts. (See pages 39
These mineral salts are especially Calcium, Phosphorus, Iron, Copper, Manganese, and Sulphur, as well as Iodine, in vegetables grown along the seashore. Besides all this, she knows that the generous use of many vegetables helps to keep up the body’s normal alkaline balance which contributes so very largely to sound health and vitality.

Cooking to Retain These Values

Many vegetables can be and are eaten uncooked with all their values intact. But many more need to be cooked before they can be served. Preparation by cooking should result in the least possible loss while it enhances values not otherwise available. For this reason cooking should:

1. Swell and burst the starch cell so that the center is softened and made digestible.
2. Sterilize the vegetable thoroughly.
3. Break up tough fiber so it is edible and digestible.
4. Release food proteins and minerals from their fiber cells.
5. Provide hot food.
6. Increase many flavors and some colors.

Baking is the best method to secure all these results and still preserve Vitamins and minerals. Dry baking in their skins, generally used for potatoes, sweet potatoes, squash, turnips, carrots, onions, and parsnips, is a simple method whereby the vegetable is packed in a pan or laid on the rack of a hot oven to remain until just tender when pierced with a sharp fork. Baking, however, also includes the roasting of whole vegetables with meat, gravy, or fat, especially when potatoes or sweet potatoes are scraped, thus preserving mineral values just under the skin.

Au Gratin and Scalloping are other forms of baking, especially when fresh vegetables are used. In the latter method, layers of the vegetable are alternated in a baking dish or ring mold with white sauce, cream or milk, and seasonings, and in the former method a covering of buttered bread crumbs or buttered crumbs and cheese is added. Leftover cooked vegetables may be prepared by these methods also, but the Vitamin and mineral value will be determined by the first cooking. Only baking in the jacket will insure the preservation of the Vitamins.
Broiling is the exposure to direct heat and can be used for some vegetables. The minerals will be less injured than the Vitamins, for the high heat destroys most of the latter.

Deep Fat Frying, next to baking, is another satisfactory way to retain most of the food values. The vegetable is sliced or cut into convenient form, dipped in egg and crumbs or batter, and immersed in enough very hot fat to cover well. This permits quick cooking with little loss.

In Sautéing, the shredded or broken vegetable is turned into a shallow pan or skillet in which a small amount of fat has been heated. Cooking takes longer and more fat is absorbed by the food, hence, for many persons the process is not advisable.

Boiling does the most damage to fresh vegetables, yet it is used most frequently by the largest number of homemakers. Although there are methods that reduce the losses to a minimum, the modern woman will remember that boiling is to be used least often, and always to be overbalanced by the better methods. Most of the mineral salts occurring in vegetables are easily dissolved in water and the loss of Vitamins during boiling takes place in several ways. They may be destroyed by overheating, by prolonged exposure to the air, and by dissolving out in the cooking water. When this is drained off and discarded, the principal food values gained by the intelligent buying of vegetables has been thrown away. In every case only the smallest possible amount of water should be used and it should be boiling rapidly when the vegetables are dropped in. They should be cooked only until just tender, and by this time most of the water has been evaporated. Greens such as spinach, chard, and dandelions need only the water that clings to the leaves. They go into a cold pot with the heat turned on after the vegetable is in the kettle.

To Boil Vegetables the Proper Way, four methods must be taken into account:

1. The green vegetables are best cooked in water that is slightly alkaline. If there is any doubt, add a bit of baking soda the size of a pinhead. No drinking water would be acid enough to need more. Use an uncovered kettle and cook only until tender to the fork. If overcooked, green vegetables turn brownish because of chemical changes in the coloring matter, the fine flavor is ruined, while food values are lost.
2. White fresh vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower, and onion are strong flavored, due to their special oils. Hard water changes these oils so that the white color turns to yellow or brown. To prevent this, add 1 teaspoon of lemon juice or white vinegar. Drop the vegetable into enough rapidly boiling water to cover and cook with the kettle uncovered until just tender to the fork. Add the drained water, if any, to your soup stock.

3. The red color in vegetables is produced by acid and needs to be kept that way. Tomatoes usually have enough acid of their own to keep the color, but beets and red cabbage need a teaspoon of lemon juice or white vinegar. Cook in a small amount of water in a covered kettle.

4. Yellow vegetables are among the most valuable and stable. That rich yellow color is not only beauty but actually the foundation of Vitamin A. Not much damage can be done to it although the minerals and other Vitamins can still be destroyed if the vegetable is carelessly handled.

In general, the destruction of Vitamins is reduced when vegetables are boiled at high temperatures for the shortest possible time, in the smallest possible amount of water. Then the minerals, too, will be saved.

STEAMING as a method of cooking vegetables is valuable for those that can stand a high temperature for a long period, or those that are cooked in the meat pot so that the extracted minerals and Vitamins are used in the gravy. It is particularly good for dried and starchy ones. The long, slow process gives the starch cell time to swell and gelatinize. It is most valuable at high altitudes, because the extra pressure keeps the steam at 212° F. or more, while in the open-air cooking the high altitude reduces the boiling point below 212° F.

WATERLESS COOKING of fresh vegetables is any process in which no water is added. The water in the vegetable itself does the cooking. A thick-walled kettle with a tight-fitting lid is the necessary equipment. Very low heat is used, and the vegetable is tender in a very short time because neither heat nor steam escapes. No minerals are lost and the loss of Vitamins is almost as low as in baking.

All cooking of vegetables reduces the Vitamin C content, although tomatoes and the baked potato manage to retain most of theirs. To insure an adequate daily supply of Vitamin C, the modern woman never loses sight of the fact that some fresh fruits and vegetables must be served every day.

The spiny choke below the leaves and above the heart must be discarded. The Jerusalem artichoke is washed, pared, boiled like a potato and dressed with seasoning, melted butter and minced parsley.

ASPARAGUS

Trim off hard stalks and scales to the head. Tie in bunches, stand upright in boiling salted water. After 10 minutes turn into loaf pan and continue with heat under the stems. Serve with browned butter or Hollandaise.

<tr>

<td>2 tablespoons molasses</td>

Soak beans in cold water overnight. In the morning drain and turn into a bean-pot; or simmer until skins begin to burst, but not long enough to be mushy, then turn into the bean-pot. Pour boiling water over salt pork. Scrape the rind until white, score in half-inch strips, and bury meat in beans, leaving only the rind exposed. Mix salt, mustard and molasses in a cup, fill with hot water, stir until well mixed, and pour over the pork and beans. Add water to cover, and bake in a 250°-350° F. oven six to eight hours, adding more water to cover until the last hour, when pot cover is removed and pork raised to the surface to crisp.

Use corned beef instead of pork, or omit meat and use more salt, with one-third cup of fat.

No. 2—Quick Method—Use same ingredients as in previous recipe. Do not soak the beans overnight. Place them over the fire, cover them with cold water, and slowly bring the water to a boil, then set the kettle where the beans will simmer, but will at no time boil vigorously. When they have cooked in this way for fifteen minutes, drain and add fresh boiling water. Add salt pork to the kettle and simmer until the beans may be pierced with a straw. Turn the beans into a colander to drain; put into bean-pot, season and bake as directed above.
SOY-BEANS

Of the many varieties of soy-beans grown in this country, the yellow variety is the most popular for cooking purposes, though the black and green beans are used, and are particularly good in soup. Soy-beans require longer cooking than white beans, but the length of time required is lessened if the beans are soaked for twelve hours before cooking.

BAKED SOY-BEANS

2 cups yellow soy-beans
1 tablespoon salt
1 small onion
2 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon mustard
¼ pound fat salt pork

Soak the beans for twelve hours, then heat to boiling and simmer until tender. Unless the beans are tender before they are baked, they will not be good. Prepare as directed for “Baked Beans.” Eight to ten hours will be required to bake them.

BOILED LIMA BEANS

1 quart green Lima beans or
2 cups dried Lima beans
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup milk or cream if desired

If the green beans are used, put them into just enough boiling water to cover, and boil slowly until tender. Salt the water just before cooking is completed. Add fat and salt and pepper to taste. If desired, a cup of milk or cream may be added and the beans allowed to simmer in it for a moment.

If dried beans are used they may be soaked twelve hours in plenty of cold water, and boiled in the same water with one-eighth teaspoon of soda added for each quart of water; or the process may be hastened by soaking them for one hour and simmering them for two hours. If they are not soaked at all, they can be made tender by simmering for two and one-half hours. The water should be drained off before the milk or cream is added.

STRING BEANS

1 quart string beans
Salt and pepper

until tender. Salt the water just before cooking is completed. When done, drain and season with butter, salt and pepper.

If the flavor of salt pork is liked cut slice of salt pork into small pieces and fry until brown, then add one tablespoon flour, one cup hot water, and the beans. Simmer for a few minutes and serve hot.

BOILED BEETS

Wash the beets thoroughly and remove the leaves, being very careful not to break off the little fibers and rootlets which retain the juices and coloring matter. Use plenty of water in cooking. If the beets are tough and withered, soak them for twenty-four hours in plenty of cold water before beginning to cook them.

Try with a fork, and when they are tender drop them into a pan of cold water and slip off the skins with the hands. If small, serve whole. If large, slice those to be used immediately, place in a dish and season with salt, pepper, and butter or savory fat. A teaspoon of sugar may be added also if the beets are not naturally sweet enough. Set them over boiling water to heat thoroughly and serve hot, with or without vinegar. Cold beets left over may be covered with vinegar and used as pickles.

BEET GREENS

Carefully wash and clean young beets, leaving roots and tops together. Put them into a kettle with very little boiling water and allow them to cook until just tender. Salt the water just before cooking is completed. Drain as dry as possible, in a colander. Chop, if desired. Serve hot with vinegar or with butter, salt and pepper.

BROCCOLI

Broccoli is a variety of cauliflower that is green instead of white. It was very popular in Colonial gardens and continued to be grown and sold along the east coast but gained popularity very slowly among native Americans. Within the last ten years growers on the west coast have promoted it and it is now as popular and often more abundant and lower priced than cauliflower. Shipped in ice from early cuttings, even the largest stalks are often tender. Choose heads and leaves that are bright green and crisp. Cut off only such portions of the stalk as are too hard and tough to admit the knife. Wash under running water and refrigerate, if not to be used at once. When ready to cook, use a deep kettle just large enough for the head or heads and bring salted water to a rapid boil. Insert carefully, stem end down, leave uncovered and when the water stops boiling add soda the size of a small pea to the water around the stems. The heads should not be submerged. When water boils up again they will cook more slowly than the stems and both will be tender in 15-25 minutes. If the heads are under water, they cook so much more rapidly that they will be mushy before the stems are tender. Broccoli heads, stems and leaves are valuable sources of vitamins A and G, as well as iron and calcium.

Serve with brown butter sauce, brown butter and crumbs, Hollandaise sauce or au gratin. Broccoli can be used instead of spinach for cream soup, especially when the green color is wanted.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Pick off the dead leaves from the sprouts, soak the sprouts in cold salted water for one-half hour, wash them and put them on the fire in plenty of boiling water. Boil in an uncovered saucepan until tender. Just before they are done, salt the water. Drain in a colander. Reheat; season with salt and pepper, and serve with cream sauce or melted butter.

BOILED CABBAGE

Cut the cabbage into desired shapes. Place it in a kettle with a generous amount of water. Cook uncovered until just tender. Add salt to the water just before cooking is completed. Drain, add butter or bacon fat, salt and pepper.

A little milk or cream may be added or it may be creamed or scalloped or served au gratin.

SCALLOPED CABBAGE WITH CHEESE

1 small head cabbage 1½ cups medium white sauce
2 cups grated cheese ⅓ to ¼ cup bread-crumbs

Cook the cabbage as directed for boiled cabbage. Into a greased baking-dish, put a layer of cabbage, then a layer of cheese, then a layer of white sauce, and continue to add layers until the ingredients are all used. Cover the top of the mixture with the crumbs, which may be mixed with a little melted butter, and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) for about twenty minutes, or until the crumbs are brown.

CARROTS, TOASTED

To serve carrots as a separate vegetable, scrape and wash; leave young carrots whole and cut old carrots in slices lengthwise or crosswise. Boil them until tender (15-30 minutes) in water containing one teaspoon sugar. Just before cooking is completed, salt the water. Drain, add butter, and seasoning or roll in butter, then in corn flakes and brown in oven at 350° F.

CARROTS AND PEAS

No. 1.

<table>

<th>2 cups cubed, cooked carrots</th>
<th>3 tablespoons butter or other fat or Medium white sauce</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 cup cooked peas, fresh or canned</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Combine the carrots and peas, reheat and serve with melted butter or any savory fat such as bacon fat; or combine with a white sauce. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

No. 2—WITH GREEN MINT—Combine the carrots and peas, as directed above, add one-half cup mint leaves and a little boiling water and boil for five minutes. Drain, add salt and pepper, a generous amount of butter and a sprinkle of sugar. Set in the oven until the sugar melts. Serve with a garnish of fresh mint leaves.

CARROT MOLDS

| 2 cups grated raw carrot | 1 teaspoon salt |
| ½ cup bread-crumbs | 2 tablespoons melted fat |
| 2 eggs | ½ cup milk |

Wash, scrape and grate the carrots and mix with the crumbs. Beat the eggs and add to them the salt, fat and milk. Add this mixture to the carrot and crumb mixture. Fill a greased ring mold or popover cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (250°-325° F.) until firm.

BOILED CAULIFLOWER

Remove the green leaves from the cauliflower and cut off any bruised or dirty spots. Place it, top downward, in a deep bowl of cold, salted water and allow it to stay there about half an hour to draw out dust and other impurities. Cook it, whole or broken into flowerets, in boiling water, uncovered. Just before cooking is completed (15-30 minutes) salt the water. Lift out the cauliflower carefully and allow it to drain in a warm place. Pour medium white sauce over it or send the sauce to the table in a sauce-boat, or serve it with melted butter and paprika.

Sometimes hot boiled cauliflower is sprinkled with grated cheese and then with buttered crumbs and baked to a light brown in a moderate oven (400° F.), or it may be sprinkled with the grated cheese and served without baking.

SCALLOPED CAULIFLOWER

1 medium cauliflower
2 hard-cooked eggs or
4 tablespoons grated cheese

1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
Bread-crumbs

Break the cauliflower into flowerets before boiling. Drain. Place a layer of the cooked cauliflower in a greased baking-dish, then a layer of egg slices or of grated cheese, then a layer of white sauce. Repeat until all the cauliflower is used. Put a layer of crumbs over the top and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) from fifteen to thirty minutes. A bit of cayenne pepper or paprika may be added for additional seasoning.

CREAMED CELERY

2 cups celery cut into inch long pieces
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat
Salt and pepper

Wash the stalks clean and cut them into pieces. Place the celery in a stew-pan, cover with boiling water and boil until tender (about half an hour), by which time the water should be reduced to about one-half cup. Make a sauce with the celery water, milk, flour and butter. Add the cooked celery and season with salt and pepper.

SCALLOPED CELERY

Stew celery, as directed in the preceding recipe, using all milk in the sauce instead of part celery water. Turn the creamed celery into a greased ramekin, sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) until it is a golden brown (15-30 minutes).

CELERIAC

Not every housewife knows celeriac, but it is well worth adding to her list of vegetable acquaintances. It is a variety of celery grown for its turnip-like root instead of for the blanched stalks. The flavor is similar to that of celery.

To prepare celeriac, trim off the tops, wash and pare the bulb, drop it into boiling water and cook about one-half hour, or until tender. Add the salt just before cooking is completed. It may then be prepared in the same way as creamed or scalloped celery, or may be used, cold, in salads.

BOILED GREEN CORN

To have this vegetable in perfection, the husks should be left on until just before it is to be boiled. Plunge the husked ears into boiling water and cook from seven to twelve minutes, according to the size of the corn. Do not salt the cooking water, as this toughens the corn.

Lay a napkin on the serving-plate. Pile the corn upon this in a pyramid, cover it with the corners of the napkin and send it to the table.

CORN SOUFFLÉ

Make a white sauce, using the fat, flour, milk and seasoning. Rub the pimiento through a sieve and add it to the sauce. Add the corn to the mixture. Cool slightly, then add the well-beaten egg-yolks and fold in the stiffly beaten egg-whites. Turn into a greased baking-dish, set the dish in a pan of hot water, and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until the egg is set, about thirty minutes.
CORN OYSTERS

2 cups corn pulp  2 tablespoons fat
2 eggs  Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour

If fresh corn is used, grate it from the cob with a coarse grater. If canned corn is used, select one of the sieved varieties. Beat the egg-yolks and whites separately and add to the grated corn, with flour and fat, salt and pepper. Drop the batter from a spoon into hot fat (360°-370° F.) and fry light brown (2-3 minutes). Drain on soft paper. Serve hot.

CORN PUDDING OR DEVILED CORN

2 tablespoons fat  2 cups corn pulp
2 tablespoons flour  1 egg
1½ cups milk  1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt  Buttered crumbs
¼ teaspoon mustard  Paprika

Make a sauce of fat, flour, milk, and seasonings, add corn, egg slightly beaten, and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into a baking-dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) fifteen to thirty minutes.

BAKED CORN AND TOMATOES

2 cups cooked corn  1 teaspoon sugar
2 cups tomatoes  1 cup fresh bread-crumbs
1 teaspoon salt  3 tablespoons fat
Pepper

Mix seasonings with the corn and tomatoes and pour all into a greased baking-dish. Spread the crumbs over the top, dot them with the fat, and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) for one-half hour. This is a satisfactory way of utilizing left-over corn or tomatoes.

CUCUMBER CUPS

This makes a dainty dish for luncheon. Cut the unpared vegetables into sections two inches long and cook until tender in water salted just before cooking is completed. Scoop out the center of each section, leaving one-half-inch thickness all around the sides, as well as on the bottom, thus making green cups of the vegetable. These cups may be filled with creamed chicken, sweetbreads, mushrooms or any other filling held together with white sauce.

STEWED CUCUMBERS

3 cucumbers
6 slices toast
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper
1½ tablespoons lemon-juice

Peel medium-sized cucumbers and cut them into quarters lengthwise. Place in a shallow pan, cover with the boiling water and stew gently for ten to twenty minutes. Add salt just before cooking is completed. When done, lay them carefully on toasted bread, make a sauce of the flour, fat, water in which cucumbers were cooked, and seasonings, cook until smooth, and pour the sauce over the stewed cucumbers.

CUCUMBER SAUTÉ

4 cucumbers
Butter
Flour
Salt and pepper
Minced parsley or chives

Pare and quarter the cucumbers and boil them, without any water, for three minutes. Drain; season with salt and pepper; roll in flour and sauté in a little butter until tender. Sprinkle with parsley or chives just before the cooking is completed.

DANDELION GREENS

2 pounds dandelion greens
1 tablespoon butter
Salt and pepper

Dandelions should be used before they blossom, as they become bitter after that time. Cut off the roots, pick the greens over carefully, and wash them well in several waters. Place them in a kettle, add a little boiling water, and boil until tender. Salt the water just before cooking is completed. When done, lift them into a colander, press them to drain off all the water, and chop. Add butter, salt and pepper.
FRIED EGGPLANT

1 eggplant
Salt
Cracker-dust or bread-crumbs
Egg

Cut the eggplant into one-half-inch slices, pare and sprinkle each slice with salt. Lay slice upon slice and place a plate upon the top. Let stand two hours. The salt will draw out the disagreeably bitter flavor. Half an hour before serving, wipe each slice dry, dip in beaten egg, then in cracker dust or fine bread-crumbs, and sauté in hot fat. Put a pan in the oven or in some other place where it can be kept hot; lay a piece of absorbent paper in the pan, and upon it place the slices as they come crisp and brown from the frying-pan. Serve on a hot platter with the slices overlapping.

STUFFED EGGPLANT

1 eggplant
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper
½ cup water
2 cups crumbs

Cut the eggplant in half lengthwise and scoop out the center pulp, leaving the rind about one-half inch thick so that the shape may be firm. Cover the shells with cold water. Chop the pulp fine, season it with salt, pepper, and butter, and cook in a frying-pan for ten minutes, stirring well, then add water and one cup of bread-crumbs. Drain the shells, sprinkle the interior of each with salt and pepper and fill them with the mixture. Spread the remaining crumbs over the tops. Place the halves in a baking-dish or deep pan, and pour enough hot water into the pan to come one-third up the sides of the plant. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) one-half hour, and serve hot.

CREAMED CHICORY OR ENDIVE

Wash the plant carefully and pick off the outer green leaves, leaving only the white part. Boil until tender, drain well, return it to the kettle, and nearly cover with medium white sauce, which should be well seasoned.
KALE

Kale may be cooked and served in the same way as spinach, or tied in a bundle like asparagus and served on toast with a generous allowance of butter or white sauce.

CREAMED KOHLRABI

6 kohlrabi
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
Salt
Paprika
2 cups milk
1 egg-yolk

Wash and pare the kohlrabi. Cut into half-inch cubes, drop into boiling water to cover and cook until tender. Just before cooking is completed, add salt, then drain and shake over the fire to dry slightly. Make a white sauce from the flour, fat, milk and seasonings, adding the egg-yolk last, and pour it over the vegetable.

SAUTÉED LENTILS

1 pint lentils
$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon soda
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons fat

Wash the lentils and soak over night. In the morning, drain them, cover with warm water in which the soda has been dissolved, and bring them quickly to the boiling-point. Boil gently for one hour, drain, cover them again with fresh boiling water, and boil gently until tender; this generally requires from two to three hours longer. Test by mashing a lentil between the fingers. If it crushes quickly, they are done. Drain in a colander.

Melt fat in a frying-pan; add the lentils, with salt and pepper to season; stir them over the fire for fifteen minutes. Two minced onions may be added, if desired.

MACÉDOINE OF VEGETABLES

2 cups mixed cooked vegetables
1 teaspoon beef extract or $\frac{1}{2}$ cup stock
1 teaspoon sugar
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or other fat

Mix all the ingredients together and cook eight or ten minutes over a hot fire, shaking the pan now and then. Serve hot.
BOILED MACARONI OR SPAGHETTI

Break the macaroni or spaghetti into short lengths. Cover with plenty of boiling water and boil until soft, twenty-five to thirty-five minutes generally being required. If a cooker with perforated inner container is not available, stir occasionally with a fork to prevent sticking to the kettle. Turn into a sieve and drain thoroughly. Place in the serving-dish and cover with tomato sauce. Serve grated cheese with it or mix the cheese with the tomato sauce. Some people prefer spaghetti cooked in long pieces. To do this place the ends in boiling water and coil it as it softens.

BAKED MACARONI OR SPAGHETTI WITH CHEESE

2 cups macaroni or spaghetti broken into short lengths
¼ pound grated cheese
Salt and pepper

2 tablespoons butter or other fat
1½ cups milk

Boil and drain the macaroni or spaghetti as directed in the preceding recipe. Arrange a layer in the bottom of a pudding-dish. Over it sprinkle some of the cheese and scatter over this bits of butter or other fat. Add a sprinkling of salt and pepper. Fill the dish in this order, having macaroni on top, well oiled with fat but without cheese. Add just enough milk to cover well and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.), about one-half hour. Serve in the dish in which it was baked.

MUSHROOMS

To Prepare Mushrooms for cooking by any method, cut off the stalks, pare the caps, or brush well if they are fresh and tender, and drop them into a bowl of water which contains the juice of half a lemon or a tablespoon of vinegar if you wish to keep them from darkening. If the stalks are solid and tender, they may be peeled, cooked and served with the caps, otherwise cook them with the peelings in a small amount of water, for mushroom stock.

Too much cooking toughens mushrooms. Three or four minutes will heat canned mushrooms, and five or six minutes will cook fresh ones, usually.
CREAMED MUSHROOMS

No. 1.

2 tablespoons fat 1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour ½ cup boiling water
½ cup cream 2 cups mushrooms, fresh or canned
¼ teaspoon pepper

Make a sauce of the fat, flour, cream and seasoning. Prepare mushrooms and stew them in boiling water until tender. Add, without draining, to cream sauce. Serve very hot.

No. 2.

1½ tablespoons fat Salt and pepper
1½ tablespoons flour 1½ cups cooked mushrooms
1 egg-yolk fresh or canned
1 cup milk

Prepare a white sauce of the fat, flour, milk and seasonings. Add the cooked mushrooms to the sauce and cook gently for several minutes. Just before serving, add the beaten egg-yolk and reheat.

MUSHROOMS UNDER GLASS

2 tablespoons butter 1 slice toast
½ tablespoon lemon-juice 6 mushroom caps
Salt and pepper ¼ cup heavy cream
½ teaspoon minced parsley

The quantities given allow for service of only one person. Baking dishes with bell-shaped glass covers are obtainable at most house-furnishing stores. The mushrooms should be served with the covers on.

Cream butter and add lemon-juice, drop by drop, salt, pepper and minced parsley. Cover the bottom of an individual baking-dish with a circular piece of toast three-eighths of an inch thick, wetting the under side with half the sauce already made. Pile mushroom caps, cleaned and peeled, on the toast and pour over them the remainder of the sauce and the heavy cream. Cover with glass and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) about twenty-five minutes. Save the stalks, if tender, or stew with skins in a little water to make stock for seasoning sauces and gravies.
BAKED OR ROASTED MUSHROOMS

Select mushrooms that are plump and are truly little cups. Prepare caps as directed. Place them upside down in a baking-dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and place a bit of butter in each cup. Set the pan in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) and cook for fifteen minutes. The cups will be filled with their own liquor. Serve on toast, very hot.

BOILED OKRA

No. 1.
1 quart tender okra pods 3 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper 1 tablespoon vinegar

Test the okra by breaking off the tips of the pods. If there are tough strings that will not break easily the pod is too old to be served as a vegetable and should be kept for a soup or sauce which is to be strained. The pods of okra are so sticky that special care is needed to avoid breaking them during the cleaning. Wash them well, and remove the stems, place in sufficient boiling water to cover them and boil until tender (20-40 minutes). Add salt just before cooking is completed. Okra should boil very slowly, as rapid boiling will break it in pieces. When it is tender, turn into a colander to drain, then lay it in a serving dish. Melt the butter, add the vinegar and a little salt and pepper; mix well, and pour the sauce over the okra.

No. 2.
2 cups okra 2 tomatoes
Salt and pepper 1 tablespoon butter

Test and wash the okra as above; remove stems and cut the pods into slices, crosswise. Place in a granite stew-pan, just cover with boiling water and simmer until tender (20-40 minutes). Add the tomatoes, peeled and chopped, and stew for ten minutes longer. Add butter, salt and pepper, and serve.

BOILED ONIONS

Peel the onions. If they are very large cut them in quarters. Cook in boiling water, uncovered, until tender (30-60 minutes). Just before cooking is completed, add salt to taste. When cooked, drain well, season with butter and pepper and serve hot.

CREAMED ONIONS

In peeling the onions remove all of the green leaves, for they should be as white as milk when served. Drop them into boiling water and boil uncovered for ten minutes. Drain, add freshly boiling water and continue cooking until tender (30-60 minutes). Just before cooking is completed, add salt. Drain thoroughly, place in a serving-dish and pour medium white sauce over them. If the onions are large they may be quartered before they are cooked.

STUFFED ONIONS

6 medium to large onions
½ cup chopped ham or chopped green pepper
½ cup soft bread-crumbs
Fine dry bread-crumbs

½ cup milk
Pepper
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fat

Remove a slice from the top of each onion and parboil the onions until almost tender. Drain and remove the centers, leaving six little cups. Chop the onion that was scooped out and combine with it the ham and soft crumbs. Add seasoning and refill the onion cups. Place them in a baking-dish, cover with crumbs, add the milk, and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) until tender.

CREAMED PARSNIPS

12 medium-sized parsnips
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper

2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat

Young parsnips are most desirable, but old ones may be used if the woody center is removed.

Wash and scrape the parsnips, and boil them until tender. Drain and cut them into small pieces. Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk and seasonings. Add the cooked parsnips and serve.
FRIED PARSNIPS

12 medium-sized parsnips
Flour or fine crumbs
Salt and pepper

Scrape and boil the parsnips until tender. If old, remove the woody centers. Drain, and when cold, cut them in long, thin slices about one-third of an inch thick, and season each slice with salt and pepper. Dip the slices in flour or fine crumbs and sauté in fat or oil until both sides are thoroughly browned. Drain well and serve very hot.

BOILED PEAS

2 quarts peas in the shell
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper

Fresh peas should not be shelled until just before they are needed for cooking. Look them over carefully after shelling, taking out any tendrils that may be mixed with them. Wash and cook until tender in a covered pan in just enough boiling water to prevent scorching. Add salt just before cooking is completed. Young peas will cook in ten to twenty minutes but those that are more mature require a longer time. Most of the water should have cooked away. If any remains, drain carefully. Let the peas stand in the drainer over hot water. Melt the butter, add salt and pepper and the drained peas. Mix well, reheat, and serve.

CREAMED PEAS

2 cups cooked peas
1 cup medium white sauce

Mix peas with white sauce. Reheat and serve.

BHUGIA

2 cups peas
4 medium potatoes
Chopped green peppers
2 tablespoons oil or melted fat
Salt

This is a popular dish in India and is usually served with the dinner roast. Boil the peas and potatoes separately. When the potatoes are thoroughly done, drain and let them cool enough to be easily handled. Drain the peas. Heat the oil in a frying-pan. Slice the potatoes and sauté potatoes and peas together in the oil. Season with salt and sprinkle with chopped green peppers.

RICE AND PEAS

| 1 cup rice | 2 onions | 2 cups green peas |

Boil the rice and peas separately. Chop the onions fine and fry them in oil until tender. Add the cooked rice and peas.

BOILED POTATOES

Select potatoes of uniform size. Wash, pare, if you wish, and drop into cold water. Cook in boiling water until tender when pierced with a fork. Just before cooking is completed, add the salt. The water should be kept boiling constantly. When done, drain and shake the pan over the fire to dry the potatoes. Serve in an uncovered dish or cover with a folded napkin. Old potatoes should be soaked in cold water for an hour or so before boiling. When they are pared, potatoes lose much vitamin and mineral content in boiling. It is better, therefore, from the nutritional standpoint, to wash them thoroughly, scrubbing with a brush, and boil them with the skins on. They may be peeled quickly before they are served, or served with the skins on.

RICED POTATOES

Force hot, freshly boiled potatoes through a ricer or coarse strainer. Sprinkle with salt and pile lightly into the serving-dish. Serve at once in an uncovered dish.

BAKED POTATOES

Select smooth, medium-sized potatoes, scrub, remove the eyes and any blemishes, place in a baking-pan or on the rack in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) and bake until tender (30-60 minutes). Be sure to have the oven hot before the potatoes are put in. To test the potatoes, do not pierce them with a fork, but squeeze them with the hand wrapped in a towel. When soft, break the skin to keep them from being soggy, and serve.
POTATOES ON THE HALF-SHELL

Select medium-sized or large potatoes; scrub and bake. Remove a piece of skin from the side of each potato to make it boat-shaped, or cut large potatoes in two lengthwise. Scoop out the inside, being careful not to break the shell. Mash very thoroughly—it is advisable to put them through the ricer—add butter, salt and milk, and beat well. Pile the mixture lightly back in the shells. Do not smooth down the top. Stand the filled shells in a shallow pan, return to the oven (400°F), and brown lightly on top. Tuck in small wieners before serving if desired.

STUFFED POTATOES

Follow directions for potatoes on the half-shell, adding one-half cup peanut butter and two egg-whites to the potato mixture.

POTATOES SUZETTE

6 medium-sized potatoes
½ cup hot milk
2 tablespoons melted fat
6 eggs

6 tablespoons buttered crumbs
1 tablespoon grated cheese
Salt and pepper

Prepare as for potatoes on the half shell. Refill the shell almost to the top, break an egg into each opening, season with pepper and salt and sprinkle with buttered crumbs that have been mixed with grated cheese and bake in a slow oven (250°-350°F) long enough to set the egg and brown lightly (about six minutes).

SCALLOPED POTATOES

6 medium-sized potatoes
2 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons butter

Milk
Salt and pepper

Pare raw potatoes and cut them into thin slices. Place in a baking-dish a layer of the potato one inch deep, season with salt and pepper, sprinkle a portion of the flour over each layer, add a part of the butter in bits. Then add another layer of the potato and seasoning, as before, and continue until the required amount is used. It is advisable not to have more than two or three layers because of difficulty in cooking. Add milk until it can be seen between the slices of potato, cover and bake (350°-400° F.) until potatoes are tender when pierced with a fork (1-1½ hours). Remove the cover during the last fifteen minutes to brown the top. Serve from the baking-dish.

FRANCONIA POTATOES

Select medium-sized potatoes, pare and place them in the baking-pan with the roast, allowing an hour and a quarter for their cooking. Turn them often and baste with the gravy from the roast. Serve them arranged about the meat on the platter. If you wish to shorten the cooking time, parboil them for fifteen minutes before putting them into the roasting-pan, and allow forty-five minutes for the roasting.

DUTCH POTATOES

6 potatoes  6 slices fat salt pork or bacon
6 frankfurter sausages  Pepper

Scrub medium-sized potatoes; pare or leave the skins on as preferred. With an apple-corer cut a tunnel through the center of each, lengthwise. Draw through each cavity one of the frankfurters. Place in a dripping-pan and lay a blanket of fat salt pork or a thick slice of bacon on each potato. Pepper lightly and bake in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) until the potatoes are tender, basting occasionally with the drippings and a little hot water.

POTATO PUFF OR SOUFFLÉ

2 cups hot mashed potatoes  2 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 eggs
1 cup milk

To the mashed potatoes add the fat, the egg-yolks which have been beaten until very light, and the milk. Stir until well blended and then fold in the stiffly beaten egg-whites. Mix lightly and pile the mass in a well-greased baking-dish. Set in a pan containing hot water and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) twenty to thirty minutes. Serve at once.

Add the flour, stirring thoroughly, add the milk, salt and pepper and cook in a double boiler twenty minutes. Strain and pour over the cooked potato. Sprinkle with grated cheese and serve.

MASHED POTATOES

6 medium-sized potatoes 2 tablespoons butter
Hot milk or cream Salt and white pepper

Pare and boil the potatoes. Drain, and set the saucepan in a warm place with the cover off for a minute or two to dry the potatoes thoroughly. Mash the potatoes in the saucepan in which they were boiled, or turn them out into a warm dish and put through the ricer into the same saucepan. Work quickly so that they will not get cold. Add the butter, season to taste, and beat, adding milk or cream a little at a time until the potatoes are light and moist.

For Potato Cups—Pile into a large teacup and make a hollow with the bottom of a smaller tumbler or bottle. Slip out carefully onto the serving plate. Keep hot until filled and served.

DUCHESS POTATOES

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES

No. 1—Wash and pare potatoes and cut into eighths lengthwise. Dry between towels and fry in deep fat (395° F.). Drain on soft paper, sprinkle with salt and serve in an uncovered dish.

No. 2—Cut uncooked potatoes into blocks measuring about three-fourths of an inch each way, and place them in boiling water. Cook until almost done, ten or eleven minutes being usually required. Then drain off all the water and allow five minutes for the escape of steam. Fry them a few at a time in deep fat (395° F.). Drain on soft paper placed on a hot plate. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

BELGIAN BAKED POTATOES

Prepare potatoes as for French fried. Dip them in melted fat and lay them in a shallow pan, being sure that the pieces do not overlap. Bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) until brown on top, turn carefully and continue baking until they resemble French fried potatoes. Baste them with more fat during baking, if necessary. When done, sprinkle with salt and serve piping hot.

POTATO CHIPS OR SARATOGA POTATOES

Wash and pare potatoes and shave into very thin slices. Soak them for one hour in cold water, then drain and dry on a towel. Fry in deep fat (395° F.) a few slices at a time until light brown, keeping them in motion with a skimmer. Lay them on soft paper to drain. Sprinkle lightly with salt, and serve.

In cool weather, enough potato chips may be cooked at one time to last a week or ten days. They should be kept in a cool dry place and should always be reheated in the oven until crisp, before serving.

AMERICAN FRIED OR BROWNED POTATOES

No. 1—Cut boiled potatoes into slices one-fourth of an inch thick. Heat a very little fat in a frying-pan and sauté the slices, browning on both sides. Season with salt and pepper.

No. 2—Chop the potatoes in a chopping-bowl until the pieces measure one-half inch or less, and add them to the hot fat in the frying-pan. Season with salt and pepper and sauté, stirring constantly, until the potatoes look yellow and are cooking well. Then cover the pan, set it in a slow heat for five minutes, and serve in a heated dish.

HASHED BROWN POTATOES

2 tablespoons oil or drippings
6 boiled potatoes
Salt and pepper

Chop the potatoes, adding salt, and a dash of pepper. Heat the fat in a frying-pan, and add the chopped potatoes to the depth of one inch. Press the potatoes down in the pan, packing them firmly. Cook slowly, without stirring, until the potato is brown. Then begin at one side of the pan and fold the potatoes over on the other like an omelet, packing closely together. Turn out on to a hot serving platter and serve.
CREAMED POTATOES

No. 1.
2 cups cold boiled or baked potatoes    1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
Salt and pepper

Cut potatoes into small pieces and mix with the white sauce. Cook together gently until the potatoes are thoroughly heated through. Season to taste.

No. 2—Slice boiled potatoes very thin. Turn them into a frying-pan with two tablespoons melted butter and pour in milk until it almost covers them. Stew, uncovered, over a low heat, without stirring, for twenty or twenty-five minutes. Tip the pan a little every five minutes and baste the potatoes with the milk. If the potatoes are sliced thin enough, the starch in them will thicken the milk and the result will be creamy and delicious, with all the milk stewed down so that no liquid remains. Add salt and pepper to taste. If part cream is used, the dish is even more delicious.

No. 3—(New Potatoes)
1 dozen small potatoes    2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour    Salt    Pepper
1 cup milk    Paprika or parsley

Small new potatoes are delicious when served with a cream sauce. Scrape the potatoes until no speck of the skin remains, boil until tender and drain. Add salt just before cooking is completed.

Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk and seasonings. Place potatoes in the serving-dish, pour the sauce over them, dust with a sprinkling of paprika or chopped parsley and serve at once. This makes a particularly nice dish for luncheon.

DELMONICO POTATOES
2 cups cooked potatoes, diced    Salt and pepper
2 cups medium white sauce    Buttered crumbs

Mix potatoes and sauce, add salt and pepper, and pour into a buttered baking dish; cover with crumbs and bake ten minutes in a hot oven (400° F.).
POTATOES AU GRATIN

POTATO DROPS

2 cups mashed potatoes 2 eggs
(without any milk) Salt and pepper

Mix the mashed, seasoned potato and the beaten eggs. Drop the mixture from a spoon into the hot fat (375°-390° F.) and fry until a golden brown, (2-3 minutes) then drain on brown paper and serve with a garnish of parsley. If the spoon is dipped into boiling water after every using, each drop will retain the shape of the spoon.

POTATO O'BRIEN

6 medium-sized potatoes Chopped pimientos
Salt Onion-juice

Wash, pare and cut potatoes into half-inch dice. Dry between towels. Fry in hot fat (395° F.) until a delicate brown. Drain on soft paper, sprinkle with salt, then sauté them in just enough fat to keep them from burning, adding minced pimientos and a few drops of onion-juice. They should be tossed frequently during cooking, and not pressed close to the pan.

POTATOES PERSILLADE

12 small new potatoes or Butter
6 medium-sized old potatoes Juice of one-half lemon

These are dependent upon parsley, not only for their name but for their attractive appearance. Scrape new potatoes. Pare old potatoes and cut the size of a small egg or with a vegetable scoop cut them into balls. Boil until tender. Add salt just before cooking is completed. Drain, place in a saucepan with sufficient butter to coat all the potatoes, add the lemon-juice and sprinkle with minced parsley. The potatoes should be well coated with parsley when served. These are excellent with boiled fish.

LYONNAISE POTATOES

| 2 cups boiled potatoes, diced | 2 tablespoons fat |
| 1 tablespoon minced onion | 1 tablespoon chopped parsley |

The potatoes should be rather underdone to produce the best results. Season with salt and pepper. Sauté the onion in fat until yellow, add the diced potato and stir with a fork until all sides are brown, being careful not to break the potatoes. Add more fat if necessary. When done, turn the potatoes out upon a hot dish, sprinkle parsley over the top, and serve hot.

SPANISH POTATOES

| 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper | ½ cup cold cooked ham, chopped |
| 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento | 1 teaspoon salt |

MASHED POTATO BALLS

| 2 cups cold mashed potatoes | Butter |
| 1 egg-yolk | Salt and pepper |

Mix cold mashed potato with the beaten egg-yolk and shape the mixture into balls. Place the balls in a greased pan and make a depression on the top of each, put a bit of butter in each depression and brown in the oven (400°-450° F.).

PRINCESS POTATOES

Boil the potatoes without paring them, and when tender drain and strip off the skins. Make a sirup by boiling together the sugar and water. Cut each potato in half or in thick slices, dip each piece into the sirup and lay it in a greased baking-dish. Season with salt and pepper and bits of butter. When all the potato is in the dish, pour over it any sirup that remains and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) until the potatoes are brown. They will brown quickly.

No. 2—Use the same quantities as for No. 1. Pare the potatoes and boil until about half done. Drain, cut in lengthwise slices, and lay in a shallow greased pan. Spread generously with butter and pour over all the sirup. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) basting frequently with the sirup until the potatoes are transparent. It may be necessary to add more sirup during the baking. An hour or more is usually required for these potatoes.

CREOLE SWEET POTATOES

| 6 large sweet potatoes | Grated nutmeg |
| Salt | 1 cup rich brown stock |
| Celery salt | Few drops of caramel |
| White pepper | |

Prepare potatoes by parboiling them for twenty minutes. Remove skins and cut potatoes in halves. Place the pieces in a shallow baking-pan, sprinkle with salt, celery salt, white pepper and grated nutmeg. Pour into the pan the stock, to which a few drops of caramel have been added, and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) until tender and slightly browned. Baste frequently with the stock. These may be served as a border around planked fish.

MASHED SWEET POTATO CARAMEL

| 2 cups mashed sweet potato | ½ cup maple sirup |
| Milk | ¼ cup butter |
| Pepper and salt | |

Left-over sweet potatoes, either baked or boiled, may be used for this dish. Mash potatoes and add sufficient milk or cream to make a smooth, soft paste. Season with pepper and salt. SWEET POTATO WAFFLES

4 tablespoons fat 1 cup mashed sweet potato
1 tablespoon sugar 2 teaspoons baking-powder
⅔ cup flour Salt
1 egg Cayenne
1 cup milk Nutmeg

Mix the fat and sugar to a cream, stir in the well-beaten egg-yolk, the potato, milk and seasonings, and beat well until smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg-white. Bake in a heated waffle-iron until golden brown. Serve, dusted with sugar and cinnamon, as an accompaniment to roast duck or turkey.

CREAMED RADISHES

1 ½ cups large, strongly flavored radishes 1 cup milk
2 tablespoons flour 2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon chopped onion Salt and pepper

Wash, pare and slice the radishes. Boil until tender. Make a white sauce of the flour, fat, milk and seasonings. Combine radishes and sauce and serve. The flavor is not unlike spicy turnips and they make a pleasant novelty served with steak or chops.

BOILED RICE

1 cup rice 3 quarts water or more 1 tablespoon salt

Wash the rice; drop it into the salted boiling water; and boil rapidly, uncovered, for fifteen or twenty minutes, or until the kernels are soft when pressed between the thumb and finger. Place in a colander (saving the water for soup) and pour boiling water over the rice to remove the loose starch and separate the grains. Drain and place in the oven with the door open for a few minutes, to allow the cereal to dry out. The grains should be separate and distinct.

CURRY OF RICE

1 cup rice 1 to 2 tablespoons curry-powder
2 tablespoons fat 2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chopped onion ¼ teaspoon pepper
2 ½ cups boiling water

Wash the rice well. Place fat and onion in a stew-pan and cook them until the onion is yellow, add the rice and stir the whole over a hot fire for five minutes. Draw the pan out of the heat, season with the curry-powder, salt and pepper, stir well and pour in the boiling water. Cover the stew-pan and boil rapidly for ten minutes, then cook very slowly for forty minutes.

Curry of rice is appropriate with any kind of meat dish that has been prepared with a sauce.

RICE À LA CREOLE

1 onion
1 slice cooked ham
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup boiled rice
2 cups cooked tomatoes
Salt
Paprika
Bread-crums

Chop onion and ham very fine. Add fat, boiled rice, and tomatoes seasoned with salt and paprika. Mix thoroughly, put into a baking-dish, cover with bread-crumbs and bake (400° F.) for fifteen minutes.

CREAMED SALSIFY OR OYSTER PLANT

Wash and scrape the salsify, throwing it immediately into cold water to which a little vinegar or lemon-juice has been added, to prevent discoloration. Cut in inch slices and cook in boiling water until tender, adding salt just before cooking is completed. When tender, drain and combine with medium white sauce. Serve with tiny fried sausage balls.

FRIED SALSIFY

Follow directions for fried parsnips (See Index).

STEAMED OR BAKED SUMMER SQUASH

Cut the squash into pieces of medium size, and remove the seeds and the soft mesh surrounding them. Steam or bake until tender. Serve in the shell or scrape from shell, mash, and place, uncovered, for ten minutes in a good heat to dry, stirring frequently. Season with butter, salt and pepper.

FRIED SQUASH

2 white squash
Egg and crumbs
Salt and pepper

The white "button" squash, about four inches in diameter, are best when fried. Pare and cut the squash into thin slices, dip in seasoned crumbs, then in beaten egg, then in more crumbs, and fry in deep fat (395° F.) from four to five minutes. When the slices are brown, drain on soft paper. Serve on a platter or other flat dish. Fried squash makes an excellent luncheon dish.

SQUASH IN THE SHELL

1 squash
3 tablespoons butter
Egg
3 tablespoons butter
Milk
Salt and pepper

Cut off the top of a small squash, remove the seeds and stringy portion, place in a pan and boil, steam or bake about two hours, until tender. Remove the pulp from the shell, being careful to keep the large shell intact. Mash the pulp and season it with salt, pepper and butter.

Return the mixture to the shell, smooth the surface to a dome shape, score with a knife, brush over with milk and beaten egg, add bits of butter and place in a quick oven (400° F.) for a few minutes to brown. Or leave the pulp in the squash, season well and fill center with ham à la king, chicken à la king, creamed salmon or sausage mixtures.

BOILED SPINACH

No. 1—American Style

2 pounds spinach
3 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper

Remove roots and wilted leaves of the spinach. Wash in several waters, until all trace of sand has disappeared. Place in a large kettle without additional water; the water which clings to the leaves is sufficient. Cover the kettle and cook with low heat until the spinach is tender. The time of cooking depends on the age of the spinach. Long cooking darkens it. Salt the water just before cooking is completed. When done, drain, chop, season with salt, pepper and butter and one tablespoon lemon-juice, if desired.

Spinach Mold—

1 peck spinach, cooked and chopped
3 unbeaten eggs
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Combine all ingredients, turn into a buttered ring mold and steam 2 hours. Unmold and garnish with hard-cooked eggs and carrots. Fill center of mold with mashed potatoes or creamed mushrooms.

This is a satisfactory way to dispose of left-over cooked spinach. To the spinach add egg-yolks beaten, place in a granite saucepan, heat and stir over the fire until the egg sets; then remove from the heat and when cold add the beaten egg-whites. Fill individual baking-dishes one-half full of this mixture. Set the dishes in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) from twenty to thirty minutes. Serve at once to prevent falling.

While the spinach is cooking, cook the eggs hard. Cut eggs in halves crosswise and remove the yolks. Cut a slice from the bottom of each cooked egg-white so that it will stand on a platter. Season the yolks with red pepper, mustard, butter and salt. Mix thoroughly with vinegar to taste. Fill the egg-cups with the spinach, mounding it high, and put the rest around the egg. Put the prepared yolks in a ricer and squeeze over all.
SUCCHOTASH

2 cups green corn or Salt and pepper
1 cup dried corn 1 cup milk
2 cups fresh Lima, string or 4 tablespoons butter butter beans or 1 cup dried Lima beans

If fresh vegetables are used, cut the corn from the cob. Cover the beans with the least possible amount of boiling water, to prevent scorching, and cook until tender. Drain off the water, add the corn and the milk and cook slowly until the corn is tender. Add the butter and other seasoning.

When dried corn and beans are used, soak both separately over night. In the morning, cover the beans with fresh water, and boil them very gently until tender. Do not drain the water from the corn, but reduce heat so it will cook slowly. When the beans are tender, drain and add them to the corn, allowing only water enough to cover. Cook slowly until tender and drain off water to save for soup. Add the milk and seasoning.

STEWED TOMATOES

6 tomatoes, fresh or canned Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter Crumbs or flour

Pour boiling water on fresh tomatoes, and after they have remained covered one minute drain them and plunge them into cold water. Slip off the skins, remove the hard stem ends, and cut the tomatoes in pieces. Stew them in their own juice in a graniteware or porcelain-lined kettle until tender, add butter, salt, and pepper. Bread-crumbs or cracker-crumbs, or a little flour blended with the butter, may be added for thickening.

FRIED TOMATOES

6 tomatoes Crumbs Salt and pepper

Select firm, ripe tomatoes, wash them and cut in half-inch slices without removing the skins. Season fine crumbs with salt and pepper, dip each slice of tomato in the crumbs, and sauté in hot fat. Serve hot.
VEGETABLES

BAKED TOMATOES

6 tomatoes 1 cup bread-crumbs
4 tablespoons fat 1 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper

Peel the tomatoes and cut them in slices one-fourth inch thick. Place a layer of tomatoes in a pudding-dish, and sprinkle over them a little salt and pepper. Rub the fat into the crumbs with the sugar. Spread the mixture thickly upon the tomatoes, using all of it, and add another layer of tomatoes. Add bits of butter or other fat, sprinkle with dry crumbs, and bake (350°-400° F.) twenty minutes.

BROILED TOMATOES

6 tomatoes Melted butter
Salt and pepper

Choose firm, round tomatoes, cut them into slices, three-quarters inch thick, dust each slice with salt and pepper, place in a greased broiler and broil tender. Turn once carefully. Add melted butter and serve at once.

SCALLOPED TOMATOES

6 large fresh tomatoes or Bread-crumbs
1 quart cooked tomatoes, Butter or other fat fresh or canned Grated cheese, if desired
Salt and pepper

Skin fresh tomatoes and cut them into slices. If using cooked tomatoes, drain off the juice, using only the pulp. Place a layer of tomato in a greased baking-dish, add a seasoning of salt and pepper then a thin layer of bread-crumbs. Cut the fat into tiny pieces and lay on the crumbs. Then add another layer of tomato and proceed until the materials are used, having crumbs for the top layer. Add bits of fat and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.). Serve in the baking-dish. Grated cheese may be added to each layer, or to the top one only.
STUFFED TOMATOES

No. 1.

6 tomatoes 2 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 cups soft bread-crumbs 1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

The tomatoes should be very firm, smooth, and of equal size. Cut a piece from the stem end of each tomato, and remove the centers without breaking the walls. Make a stuffing of the centers of the tomatoes, crumbs, seasonings, and melted fat and mix well. Sprinkle each tomato well with salt and pepper and fill with the stuffing, packing it in quite solidly.

Place a small piece of butter on the top of each; arrange the tomatoes in a baking-dish and bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) until tender. Serve hot in the baking-dish.

No. 2—Indian Style.

6 tomatoes 1/8 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons rice 1/8 teaspoon garlic clove
1 tablespoon fat 1 teaspoon chopped celery
1 slice bread A little chopped parsley
2 tablespoons milk Thyme
2 hard-cooked egg-yolks 1/2 teaspoon curry-powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cut the tops from the tomatoes and remove the pulp. Wash the rice carefully, put it into a saucepan with one-half cup salted boiling water and the tomato pulp and cook until the rice is soft. Add the fat, the bread soaked in the milk, the mashed egg-yolk and seasonings. Stuff the tomato shells with this mixture, replace the tops and place in a baking-dish.

Bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) until the tomatoes are soft (about twenty minutes). The curry-powder gives an unusual flavor to the tomatoes, but may be omitted.

MASHED TURNIPS

1 pound white or yellow turnips 3 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper

Wash, pare and slice the turnips and cook in boiling water until soft, adding salt just before the cooking is completed. Drain and mash the turnips in the stew-pan and stand the pan, uncovered, over a low fire for ten minutes to dry the turnips well, stirring them frequently. Add butter and pepper and more salt if needed.

TURNIPS IN CREAM

1 pound white or yellow turnips
2 cups milk
4 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons fat
Salt and pepper

Pare the turnips, cut them in cubes; cook until tender. Make a white sauce of the flour, fat, milk and seasonings. Pour sauce over turnip cubes and serve.

TURNIP SHELLS OR CUPS

Pare the turnip and remove the center, leaving a shell one-half inch in thickness. Cook shell in boiling water until tender. Just before cooking is completed, add the salt. Cook the center in the same way and use for stuffing cup or serve as mashed turnips.

The turnip cups may be used as cases for creamed or buttered peas, carrots, beets, or any suitable vegetable or meat.

VEGETABLE MARROW, FRIED

Wash and pare a vegetable marrow, and scoop out the inside. Cook in boiling water for about fifteen minutes, and then drain and slice in inch slices, or cut in pieces of any desired size. Roll in flour, dip in beaten egg which has been diluted with water, roll in fine crumbs and fry in deep fat (395° F.). After frying, drain the pieces on absorbent paper, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve hot.

To BAKE Vegetable Marrow, cut in half between the ends; peel each half, scoop out seeds and loose pulp. Fill each half with seasoned fresh Hamburg, diced onion and bread crumbs (beef loaf p. 246) or chopped leftover meats, chopped onion, green or red peppers and cooked rice. Fit halves together and truss with string or use skewers in opposite directions. Bake or simmer in deep pot or baking dish, covered with heavy seasoned tomato sauce, until marrow is transparent but not too well done. Serve by slicing through so each service is a complete circle.
SALADS

FRUITS, nuts, uncooked and cooked vegetables and some cooked meats, fish and fowl, served cold and dressed with condiments, oils and acids, are known as salads.

Utensils Needed for Salad Making

A chilled earthenware bowl is excellent for mixing salad ingredients. Two forks or a fork and a spoon are better to use in folding together the ingredients than a spoon alone, because they do not crush the materials so much as a single utensil.

A sharp-edged knife or vegetable cutter is necessary for slicing vegetables or fruits. Where fruit pulp is to be removed from the thin white membrane enclosing it, a thin narrow knife slightly curved at the tip is useful. A pair of shears can be used for many of the processes of salad making, such as shredding lettuce, clipping off wilted or discolored edges, etc.

Various fancy shapes for molding individual salads may be bought; or tea-cups or small bowls may be used as molds. Gelatin salads may be put into pans and cut in square or fancy shapes after they have hardened. The cube trays of mechanical refrigerators are excellent for molding gelatin.

Materials for Salads

Vegetables—Leaf vegetables, such as head lettuce, curly lettuce, endive, chicory, romaine, water cress, celery and cabbage, make very attractive salads served alone with a dressing or in combination with other materials.

Tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, cabbage and ground carrots are excellent uncooked materials for salad, as are also Bermuda or Spanish onions in thin wafer-like slices or young spring onions marinated in French dressing.

Many cooked vegetables, such as peas, carrots, beans, beets, cauliflower, spinach, asparagus and potatoes, are used in salad making, alone or in combination.

Fruits—The fruits most commonly used in the preparation of salads are oranges, bananas, apples, cherries, grapefruit, grapes, peaches, pears and pineapple. Watermelon or cantaloupe adds a delicious flavor to a fruit salad.

Dried Fruits—Dates, figs and raisins give variety to fruit salads.

Meats—Chicken always makes a delicious salad. Veal and pork may be combined with chicken and it is difficult to detect their use. They may be used alone in salads, also.

Crab, lobster, shrimp, oysters, salmon, tuna fish and sardines are most commonly used in fish salads. Any firm-fleshed cooked fish may be diced and combined with other materials.

Cheese—Cream cheese or cottage cheese, served in mounds on lettuce leaves, makes an attractive salad, with bar-le-duc or other jelly or jam as a garnish. It can also be mixed with green peppers or pimientos, rolled in nuts, served with pineapple or molded in a loaf and sliced.

Eggs—The most common egg salad is the “deviled egg,” or salad egg. Hard-cooked eggs can be cut in slices or quarters or fancy shapes and served on a bed of lettuce leaves with a dressing or used with other ingredients in a vegetable or fish salad.

Herbs—Such herbs as chervil, mint, parsley, peppergrass, sorrel and tarragon may be added to salad to give a pungent flavor.

Fennel (finochio) tops, or root and stem of anise flavor, dandelion, chard, escarole, celery cabbage or cooked zucchini are used both as body of the salad and as flavoring. Those who have a garden will find dill, nasturtium leaves and seeds, catnip and rose geranium leaves usable.

 Important Points in Salad Making **

Washing Ingredients—Wash salad greens and examine to insure the removal of all aphids. Then soak in cold water for half an hour to crisp, and dry on a towel or by shaking in a wire basket.

Chilling Ingredients—All ingredients, fruits, vegetables, and dressing, should be chilled (see directions on next page for keeping materials) before being folded together. The bowl used should be chilled; also the plates upon which the salad is served.

Frozen Salads—This name may seem misleading because pieces of fruit or vegetable in salads should never be actually frozen. Combined with whipped cream and mayonnaise, the mixture is frozen like mousse, but it should not be frozen long enough to harden the fruit or vegetable. Salads made of vegetable or fruit pulp may be frozen. The freezing can be done by packing in ice and salt or by placing the mixture in the drawers of a mechanically cooled refrigerator.

Keeping Materials—Lettuce, most vegetables and many fruits may be kept for days by wrapping in a damp cloth or paper bag and placing on ice. In a mechanically cooled refrigerator, lettuce and other salad greens keep best if they are washed and placed in closely covered enamel or porcelain containers with a very little water.

Cutting Materials—Salad materials should be cut in uniform, well-defined pieces small enough so that they will not lose their shape in the folding process. If part of the celery to be used is tough, cut it in fine pieces and cut the tender parts in larger pieces. In this way the toughness will not be detected.

When both the dark and light meat of chicken are used, dice the dark in small cubes and the light in larger cubes. This gives a more pleasing appearance to the salad. If veal or pork is used to extend the chicken, dice it finer than the chicken and its presence will not be detected.

Marinating Salads—A marinade is used to give flavor to salad materials and is made by mixing oil, salt, and lemon-juice or vinegar (sometimes onion-juice). The vegetables, fish or meat may stand an hour or so in the marinade before using. When several vegetables are to be used, each one should be marinated separately. For serving, these vegetables may be combined, or placed on lettuce leaves in small individual mounds, as preferred.

Addition of Salad Dressing—The dressing should never be folded into the salad until time for serving, except in the case of a salad like potato salad, when it is preferable for the dressing to soak in.

Arrangement of Salad—The lettuce leaf should have the stem end cut off so that this ragged part does not hang over the edge of the plate. Care should be taken that the garnish is carefully placed.

Place the salad on the lettuce leaf carefully so that it will not fall apart and spread ungracefully over the plate. No part of the salad should extend beyond the edge of the plate.
Garnishes for Salads

Chives, mint, chervil, parsley and similar small greens may be minced and sprinkled over a green salad.

Strips of pimiento and green pepper, or a dash of paprika may be used to give life to a colorless salad.

A chapon is a small piece of bread rubbed with garlic. When placed in a salad-bowl it gives a delicious flavor to the salad.

The outside leaves of a head of lettuce may be used as garnish for a salad, reserving the heart for heart-of-lettuce salad.

MOLDED SALADS

Among the most decorative ways to serve jellied salad are the form mold and the ring mold. The latter lends itself to many additional touches since the center may be used for decorative vegetables, a pile of cut jelly of contrasting color or the bowl of salad dressing. Of exact size to fit, the bowl may be of glass, china or silver. Be sure the plate onto which the ring is unmolded is large enough for all the decoration planned. See page 344.

Remove the dressing from the fire and pour it while hot over the cabbage. Garnish with rings of hard-cooked eggs and serve when cold.
CARDINAL SALAD

2 large beets
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup wax beans
1/2 cup peas
1/2 cup asparagus tips

Mayonnaise made with vinegar from beets
Lettuce
Radishes for a garnish

Boil beets until tender, slice, cover with vinegar and let stand until the following day. Drain off the vinegar and use it in making the mayonnaise. Arrange beans, peas, asparagus tips and mayonnaise in little rose-like nests of lettuce leaves, and garnish with radishes.

CARROT SALAD

1 cup grated raw carrot
1 cup chopped raw cabbage or celery, or cabbage and celery combined
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mayonnaise or boiled dressing
Lettuce leaves

Mix the ingredients well and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. The grated carrot may be served alone on lettuce or may be combined with cold boiled peas, with chopped nuts and apples, or with onions and radishes.

CAULIFLOWER AND SHRIMP SALAD

1 cauliflower
Mayonnaise dressing

Lettuce
Cooked shrimps

Cook the cauliflower in boiling water, drain, and put it, head down, into a bowl. When cold, place it, stem down, on a shallow dish and cover with mayonnaise. Garnish with lettuce arranged to resemble the leaves of the cauliflower, and add little clusters of shrimps.

CELERY SALAD

2 cups celery
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Strips of pimiento or green pepper and celery curls

After thoroughly washing the celery allow it to crisp in cold water. Then wipe it dry, cut it into inch lengths and these into lengthwise strips. Place them in a salad-bowl, and add sufficient mayonnaise dressing to moisten the whole. Garnish with the pimiento or pepper and the celery curls. Serve at once. Celery salad admits of a wide range of additions, any cold meat, fish or fowl left from a previous meal being palatable served in it.

Celery Curls—These are made from the tender inner stalks. Cut in lengths of two or three inches and slit in narrow strips almost to the end. Place in water with plenty of ice. As the slit stalks chill, the ends curl.

CRESS SALAD

1 pint water cress
1 onion
French dressing

Pick over the leaves of the cress carefully, removing all bruised or wilted ones, wash and drain, and with the fingers break the stems into two-inch lengths. Lay the cress in a salad bowl, chop the onion very fine, strew it over the cress, add French dressing and serve.

CRESS AND DANDELION SALAD

1 cup water cress
6 thin slices raw onion
1 cup dandelion greens
French dressing

The dandelion should be fresh and young. Wash the leaves carefully and drain well. Arrange them in a salad bowl with the cress. Add the slices of onion and pour the French dressing over all.

CRESS AND WALNUT SALAD

½ cup walnut meats
1 lemon
1 pint water cress
French dressing

Crack walnuts and remove their meats as nearly as possible in halves. Squeeze over them the juice of the lemon and let them stand for a short time. Pick over the water cress and wash it carefully. Drain it on a napkin and at the last moment drench it with French dressing. Spread the nuts over it and give them also a generous sprinkling of the dressing.

CUCUMBER SALAD

3 cucumbers
Salt
French dressing

Cut about an inch off the point of each cucumber, and pare carefully. Slice very thin, sprinkle with a little salt, and let stand ten minutes. Serve with French dressing.
CUCUMBER JELLY SALAD

1 pint grated cucumber 2 teaspoons cold water
Salt and paprika 6 halves of walnut-meats
2 tablespoons vinegar Mayonnaise
1 tablespoon oil Lettuce leaves
1 teaspoon gelatin

Peel cucumbers, removing most of the white as well as the green skin. Grate enough to give one pint and season with salt, paprika, vinegar and oil. Add gelatin mixed with cold water. Place over the fire until warm and well mixed. Do not boil. In the bottom of an individual mold put a half kernel of walnut, then pour in the cucumber mixture and when it has cooled, chill. When ready to serve, turn each mold on to a nest of young lettuce leaves, and add a spoonful of mayonnaise.

LETTUCE SALAD

Choose for this the crisp center of the lettuce. Wash it, dry it well, pull to pieces or cut it into four or six sections, and arrange it in a salad bowl. Pour over the center of the dish any dressing preferred. Mayonnaise is frequently used, and Russian dressing is used even more frequently, perhaps, but with a heavy dinner the French dressing is to be preferred to any other.

The following vegetables may be used instead of or with lettuce: endive, peppergrass, water cress, nasturtium leaves, spinach, chicory, sorrel, dandelion, escarole, and romaine.

LETTUCE AND ONION SALAD

2 lettuce hearts French dressing 1 Spanish onion

Strip off, and set aside for some other purpose, the green leaves of lettuce. Wash the hearts, pull them to pieces or cut into sections, and drop into ice-water to crisp them. Peel the Spanish onion and cut it into thin shavings. Shake the lettuce in a colander or wire basket to free it from water or dry on a towel. Fill the salad bowl with alternate layers of the lettuce and onion slices, sprinkling on each layer a little French dressing.
POTATO SALAD

No. 1.

1 quart potatoes
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
French dressing to moisten

Boil the potatoes with skins on and allow them to cool before peeling, as it is considered a good thing to have potatoes waxy rather than mealy for salad. Peel potatoes, cut into small pieces or thin slices, and mix with parsley, onion, and French dressing. Set in a cool place for two hours before serving.

No. 2.

1 quart new potatoes
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon oil
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons vinegar
Thin mayonnaise or boiled dressing
1 onion
Cut beets
2 stalks celery
Lettuce, lemon
1 tablespoon capers

Boil potatoes until done, but not too soft, slice them when cooled and add oil and vinegar. Chop onion and celery very fine, and add, with capers, parsley, and salt and pepper to taste. Pour a thin mayonnaise over all, mixing thoroughly with a wooden spoon and fork. Garnish with lettuce, a few pieces of lemon and cut beets.

POTATO AND PEA SALAD

2 cups boiled potatoes, diced
1 cup boiled peas
½ cup French dressing
Lettuce, mayonnaise

Pour two-thirds of the French dressing over the diced potatoes, and the other third over the cold peas, and set where they will be chilled. After an hour, combine them and arrange on lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise.

SPINACH SALAD

1 pint spinach
2 hard-cooked eggs
French dressing

Wash spinach carefully. Select only thick, tender leaves (save others and stems for cooking). If too large, tear to size. Shake off excess water. Chop whites and yolks of eggs separately and turn into bowl with leaves. Moisten with tart French dressing. Add any mild-flavored vegetable.
TOMATO AND LETTUCE SALAD

No. 1.
3 tomatoes   Lettuce leaves   6 tablespoons French dressing

Scald the tomatoes, remove the skins and chill the tomatoes. Just before serving time, cut them in halves, crosswise, and place one piece, with the outside upward, on each serving-plate with one or two leaves of white, crisp lettuce underneath. Pour over each portion a tablespoon of French dressing.

No. 2.
3 tomatoes   1/3 to 1/2 cup French dressing
Lettuce   1 tablespoon capers

Select smooth tomatoes about two inches in diameter. Scald, peel and chill. Cut in quarters or in slices and arrange on a plate with lettuce leaves or sections of lettuce hearts. Add the capers to the dressing.

TOMATO AND CELERY SALAD

6 tomatoes   1/3 to 1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 cups celery, diced   Lettuce leaves

Select firm tomatoes of a good size, scald, peel and chill, cut a slice from the top of each, and scoop out all the seeds and soft pulp, being careful not to break the sides. Cut celery into small dice, mix it with mayonnaise dressing, fill the shells with mixture, place one teaspoon of the dressing on top of each tomato and serve individually on a bed of lettuce leaves, placing three or four small leaves on each plate and the tomato in the center.

TOMATO SURPRISE SALAD

6 tomatoes   1/4 cup mayonnaise dressing
3/4 cup diced cucumber   Lettuce
1/2 cup diced, cooked chicken   Parsley, cauliflower buds
1/4 cup chopped nuts

Select medium-sized smooth tomatoes. Scald, peel and chill. Carefully scoop the inside out of the tomatoes. Remove the seeds from the pulp. Chill all ingredients, and when ready to serve, mix the chicken, cucumber, tomato pulp, and nuts with the mayonnaise dressing. Add more salt if needed. Fill the tomatoes. Arrange on lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise and decorate each tomato top with parsley and cauliflower buds.

TOMATO JELLY SALAD

| 3 cups stewed tomatoes, fresh or canned | 1 teaspoon sugar |
| 1/4 cup chopped onion | Salt |
| 1/2 cup chopped celery | 1 tablespoon gelatin |
| 1 bay-leaf | 1/2 cup cold water |
| 1 clove | Lettuce |
| 1/4 green pepper pod | Mayonnaise |

Cook tomatoes with seasonings. Soak gelatin in cold water, add to boiling tomatoes, strain and pour into cups about the size of a tomato. Make a nest of small green lettuce leaves for each mold when serving, and place one tablespoon of mayonnaise on top of each tomato as it is turned from the mold.

Tomato jelly is often molded in a square pan and cut in diamonds or cubes, when it makes an attractive garnish.

TOMATO ROSE SALAD

Firm tomatoes
Cream cheese
Milk

Hard-cooked egg yolk
Watercress or lettuce
French dressing

Peel tomatoes and chill them. Slightly soften cream cheese with milk. Form two rows of petals on each tomato by pressing level teaspoons of the softened cheese against the side of the tomato, then drawing the teaspoon down with a curving motion. Sprinkle center of each tomato with hard-cooked egg yolk pressed through a strainer. Serve on crisp watercress or lettuce with French dressing.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

| 1 pint cream | 1 teaspoon powdered sugar |
| 1 1/2 cups cut up fruit (fresh, canned, or candied cherries, peaches, pineapple, etc.) | 1 teaspoon instantaneous gelatin |
| 1/4 cup mayonnaise | 2 tablespoons cold water |
| | Lettuce |

Soak the gelatin in the cold water, melt it over steam, and beat it into the mayonnaise. Add the sugar to the cream and whip it, then combine with the mayonnaise. Stir in the cut-up fruit. Pack and freeze as directed in the preceding recipe. The mayonnaise may be omitted and served separately.

ALLIGATOR PEAR SALAD

2 alligator pears
Lettuce leaves
French dressing

The alligator pear, or avocado, is now available in all markets at very reasonable prices throughout the greater part of the year. Cut each pear into six pieces, giving wedge-shaped sections, and if these are too large, cut each section again lengthwise. Peel and arrange wedges on beds of lettuce leaves. Either French dressing or Russian dressing may be used, but the fruit is so rich that French dressing is preferred by most people.

APRICOT AND BANANA SALAD

2 cups lettuce leaves, shredded
1 cup sliced bananas
6 stewed apricots
Whipped cream or boiled dressing

On each plate arrange a bed of shredded lettuce, and on it place a layer of sliced ripe bananas, topped by the halves of an apricot. Serve with whipped cream or boiled dressing.

FRENCH FRUIT SALAD

1 orange
1 banana
½ pound Malaga grapes

1 dozen walnuts
Lettuce
French dressing

Peel the oranges and cut the sections from the membrane with a sharp knife or a pair of shears. If the fruit is allowed to stand in cold water after peeling, the bitter white membrane will come off easily.

Peel the bananas and cut in quarter-inch slices. Remove the skins and seeds from the grapes. Break in small pieces, but do not chop, the walnut-meats. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and place on ice. When ready to serve, place on lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing.

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

Peel grapefruit and free the sections from all membrane and seeds. Cut sections in half, crosswise; lay on bed of lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing. Sprinkle with tarragon leaves or with mint if desired.

GRAPEFRUIT AND GRAPE SALAD

2 cups grapefruit sections
2 tablespoons grape-juice
2 tablespoons French dressing

½ cup Malaga grapes, peeled and seeded

WHITE GRAPE SALAD

1 pound Malaga grapes
Lettuce
French dressing or mayonnaise

Peel grapes and remove the seeds by cutting the grapes almost in two, with a thin sharp knife. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.
ORANGE SALAD

Peel oranges and free the sections entirely from the membrane. Remove seeds, cut sections in halves crosswise, lay on bed of lettuce leaves, and serve with French dressing. Sprinkle with tarragon or with minced green pepper, if desired. Minced celery may be added.

PEAR SALAD

No. 1.
3 pears
Lettuce leaves
French dressing
Strips of pimiento

After paring the fruit, cut in eightths lengthwise and remove seeds. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing made from oil and lemon-juice. Garnish with strips of pimiento. The dressing will prevent discoloration if it is poured over the pears at once.

No. 2.
6 pears
6 stalks celery
Mayonnaise
Salt and pepper
½ cup broken walnut-meats and stoned olives, chopped
Lettuce leaves

Select well-formed pears and cut off a bit of the broad end so that the pear will stand steadily on the plate. With a potato-ball cutter remove the center, leaving enough of the pear to make a thick cup. Cut the celery into dice, add broken walnut-meats and chopped olives and mix all together with mayonnaise, adding a pinch of salt and pepper. Fill the pear cups and serve on lettuce leaves.

PEAR AND CHERRY SALAD

6 halves of stewed pears, fresh or canned
Lettuce leaves
36 white cherries
Boiled dressing or mayonnaise

Place the half pears on crisp lettuce leaves. Stone the cherries and arrange them around the pears. Serve with preferred dressing.
PINEAPPLE AND NUT SALAD IN TOMATO BASKETS

1 cup broken nut-meats Mayonnaise
French dressing Salt

Mix pineapple with nut-meats and stand in French dressing in the refrigerator. Peel and cut off the top of each tomato leaving a strip to form a handle. Carefully scoop out the center and fill with the pineapple and nuts. Place one teaspoon of mayonnaise on top of each basket.

PINEAPPLE AND CREAM CHEESE SALAD

6 slices canned pineapple French dressing
1 cup cream cheese Lettuce leaves
Purple grape-juice

Work enough grape-juice into the cream cheese to soften it so that it can be made into balls with the hands or with butter paddles. Place a slice of pineapple on a lettuce leaf, put a cheese ball on top and pour grape-juice and French dressing over all.

TROPICAL SALAD

1 cup cantaloup balls Any desired dressing
6 slices tomatoes Lettuce leaves
Garnish of red pepper

With a vegetable cutter, cut small balls from a cantaloup that is fairly firm in texture. Arrange several balls on a slice of tomato which has been placed on a nest of lettuce leaves. Garnish with pieces of red pepper or green pepper cut in diamond shapes. Serve with any desired dressing.

WALDORF SALAD

1 cup diced apple French dressing
1 cup diced celery Lettuce leaves
½ cup broken walnut-meats Mayonnaise

Fold together the apple, celery, and nuts with French dressing and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Do not allow this to stand long before serving, as the nuts will discolor the fruit.

WASHINGTON SALAD

\begin{align*}
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup chopped celery} & \quad \frac{3}{4} \text{ cup canned cherries} \\
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup bottoms of artichokes, chopped} & \quad \frac{3}{4} \text{ cup diced grapefruit pulp}
\end{align*}

Cheese straws

Pile cheese straws in log-cabin style, on a large plate, leaving a center space sufficient to hold the salad. Mix celery, artichokes, cherries and grapefruit pulp with French dressing and decorate with a large spoon of mayonnaise. Serve two cheese straws with each portion of salad.

FROZEN CHEESE SALAD

\begin{align*}
\frac{1}{2} \text{ pound cream cheese} & \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup cream, whipped} \\

1 \text{ cup crushed pineapple} & \quad \text{salt, mustard, paprika,} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup mayonnaise} & \quad \text{mixed according to taste}
\end{align*}
\]

Soften the cheese. Add pepper, mayonnaise, pineapple and seasonings and fold in with whipped cream. Freeze.

CREAM CHEESE SALAD

\begin{align*}
1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups cream cheese or cottage cheese} & \quad \text{Lettuce leaves} \\
& \quad \text{French dressing}
\end{align*}
\]

Arrange crisp lettuce leaves on a salad-dish and press cream cheese through a potato-ricer upon them. The cheese must be thoroughly chilled before making a salad, and it should be served immediately. Use French dressing and pass bar-le-duc or guava jelly or any preferred fruit jam or jelly with it.

COMBINATION CREAM CHEESE BALL SALAD

\begin{align*}
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup cream cheese} & \quad \frac{1}{4} \text{ cup chopped nut-meats or} \\

2 \text{ tablespoons chopped olives} & \quad \text{French dressing} \\
\text{Lettuce leaves} &
\end{align*}
\]

Mix cream cheese with chopped celery and olives and form into balls about the size of a large hickory nut. Roll each ball in chopped nut-meats or chopped parsley. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing.

PEAR-GRAPE SALAD—Frost the curved surface of one-half pear with cream cheese, stud with one-half grapes and garnish with chicory and watercress, or other attractive greens.

Meat and Fish Salads

CHICKEN SALAD

2 cups diced chicken
1 cup diced celery
Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Garnish of celery tops, beets cut into dice, capers, egg-yolks, etc.

Left-over chicken makes a very good salad. To prepare a chicken especially for salad, rub well with salt and pepper, place one small onion and one bay-leaf inside, wrap with a napkin, tie securely and steam for three hours, or until a fork can be easily turned around in the meat. When the chicken is cold, cut the meat into pieces of convenient size for eating. The most carefully made salads contain only white meat, but the dark meat has a juiciness and flavor not possessed by the breast. If dark meat is used, cut it into smaller cubes than the white meat and the white will predominate in appearance. Marinate the cut up chicken and let it stand. Make a mayonnaise dressing, stir part of it into the celery, place the celery on a thin layer of lettuce or arrange it directly upon the salad-dish and garnish the edge with the tips of the celery. Heap the chicken mixture in the center, pour over it the remainder of the mayonnaise, and garnish with white celery tops, boiled beets cut in dice, capers, cold hard-cooked egg-yolks that have been pressed through a colander, or any other garnish that pleases the fancy.

CRAB SALAD

1 cup crab-meat, fresh or canned
French dressing
Mayonnaise

Garnish of crab claws, hard-cooked eggs, parsley, celery tops, etc.

If fresh crabs are used, prepare as directed. (See Index.) Cut up an amount of celery equal to crab-meat. Marinate with French dressing. Place the mixture in the salad-bowl, pour over the top a mayonnaise dressing and garnish with crab claws and hard-cooked eggs in alternation with bits of green, such as parsley, and the leaves of the celery.

Canned crabs make very good salad. If there is any oil in the can, drain it off; sprinkle the crabs well with salt and vinegar, and drain again before adding the dressing.
FISH SALAD

1 pound flaked, cooked fish
2 tablespoons oil
1 tablespoon vinegar

1 cup chopped celery
Lettuce
Mayonnaise

The remains of almost any cold fish may be used in salad very satisfactorily, but the salad is more successful when made of fish that will flake nicely, such as salmon, cod, haddock, or halibut. Remove the bones, pick the fish into flakes, turn over it oil mixed with vinegar and set away in a cold place. When about to serve, chop celery and add to the fish. Arrange crisp white leaves of lettuce in cup shapes on a platter, using one or two leaves for each, then lay one spoonful of the mixture in each cup and pour over it one spoonful of mayonnaise.

LOBSTER SALAD

1 1/2 cups diced lobster meat
1/2 cup diced celery

Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Sprinkle a very little vinegar over the lobster, but keep the celery crisp until it is time to make the salad. Then mix the lobster meat and celery together, stir in enough mayonnaise to moisten and flavor the whole. Arrange the salad on the center of a bed of crisp white lettuce bordered with green lettuce leaves laid under the outer edges. Pour on the remainder of the mayonnaise and sprinkle over it the coral, well pounded, and, if liked, a few capers. Garnish with the claws. Sometimes lettuce leaves are arranged on a platter in cup-like clusters of two or three each, and the salad is divided equally among the clusters. The salad may be served in the cleaned lobster shells.

OYSTER SALAD

1 quart oysters
1 tablespoon oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon-juice
1 pint celery
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Clean the oysters (see Index) and place them in a stew-pan on the fire, adding no water. When they are boiling, drain them in a colander; place them in an earthenware dish, and add the oil, salt, pepper, vinegar and lemon-juice. When cold, set in the refrigerator for at least two hours. Cut the white part of the celery into very thin slices, and place it in a bowl in the refrigerator. When ready to serve, drain the celery, mix with the oysters and half of the mayonnaise. Turn the whole into a salad-bowl, and pour over it the rest of the dressing. Garnish with white celery leaves and serve at once.

If preferred, lettuce leaves may be arranged on a large platter in groups of two or three to form cups and in each cup may be dropped four or five oysters with one spoonful of mayonnaise poured over them. A tiny spray of parsley may be thrust into the sauce at the center of each cup.

SALMON SALAD

1 cup cold boiled salmon, fresh or canned
1 cup shredded cabbage or chopped celery
Mayonnaise
Lettuce leaves

Combine salmon, broken in flakes, and shredded cabbage or celery. Serve with mayonnaise on lettuce leaves.

SARDINE SALAD

3/4 cup sardines
3/4 cup hard-cooked egg
1 cucumber
Lettuce leaves
Mayonnaise or French dressing

Remove the skin and bones from sardines and mix with chopped hard-cooked eggs. Cut cucumber in thin slices and arrange on lettuce leaves. Add sardine and egg mixture. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

SHRIMP SALAD

1 pint cooked shrimps or prawns
Marinade
Lettuce, shredded celery, or shaved cabbage
Mayonnaise or other dressing

Marinate the shrimps and serve whole on lettuce, shredded celery, or shaved cabbage, and cover well with a mayonnaise or other dressing. Canned shrimps are excellent for salads.
SPINACH AND HAM SALAD

2 cups cooked spinach  Any desired dressing
6 slices cold boiled ham  Lettuce leaves

Drain the spinach and season with salt, pepper, and either vinegar or lemon-juice. Pack tightly in twelve small molds to cool. Place slices of cold boiled ham on young lettuce leaves and place two molds of spinach on opposite sides of each slice of ham. Serve with my salad dressing desired.

SWEETBREAD SALAD

1 pair sweetbreads  ¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon vinegar  6 heart leaves lettuce
½ tablespoon oil  1 cup celery, thinly sliced
½ teaspoon salt  1 cup mayonnaise

Prepare sweetbreads (see Index); cut in cubes, add oil, vinegar, salt and pepper, and place in the refrigerator for one hour. Prepare the lettuce and celery, and put them also in the refrigerator. Just before serving time, fold the celery and sweetbreads together and add half the dressing. Arrange the lettuce leaves on a flat dish, divide the sweetbread mixture into six parts, and place one part on each leaf. Put the remainder of the dressing upon the salad and serve at once.

TUNAFISH SALAD

Follow directions given for fish salad, on page 443.

ESCAROLE BOWL—CHICKEN LIVER DRESSING

Wash a head of chicory and a head of escarole, pick over carefully, soak in cold water and dry thoroughly. Make the following dressing: Wash two chicken livers and boil until tender with a carrot, an onion, a piece of celery and a bunch of parsley. Add the bouillon to your soup stock. Rub the livers and yolks of 2 hard-cooked eggs through a sieve. Add 1½ teaspoons French mustard, pepper, salt and mix to a paste. Add 2 tablespoons olive oil, drop by drop, a teaspoon red wine vinegar and a tablespoon red wine. Pour this over the greens and toss well. Serve cold.
THERE are three kinds of salad dressings which are the foundation for practically all others used: French dressing, mayonnaise dressing and boiled dressing.

French Dressing

French dressing, made from oil and acid, is the most widely used dressing. Vinegar is the acid generally used with the oil in vegetable and meat salads, while in fruit salads the juice of lemons, grapefruit or oranges is used.

The choice of oils to be used in dressing is an individual matter. Olive oil has the most distinct flavor. With cottonseed or corn oil the amount of condiments used may be slightly increased if desired.

Serve French dressing with chicken, fish, meat, vegetable and fruit salads.

FRENCH DRESSING

1 clove garlic (optional) 1 tablespoon salt
1 cup vinegar 1 teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons dry mustard 1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon sugar 2 cups salad oil

If using garlic, soak it in vinegar 1/2 hour before mixing the dressing. Mix dry ingredients together and place in a covered jar or bottle. Remove garlic from vinegar and add vinegar to dry ingredients. Pour on the oil slowly. Place in refrigerator until ready for use. Just before serving, shake vigorously for 2 minutes. Makes 3 cups dressing.

VARIATIONS—TARRAGON DRESSING: Tarragon vinegar may be used. Mustard, sugar and paprika may be omitted.

For FRUIT SALADS: Use 1/4 cup each of lemon or lime and orange juice in place of half the vinegar. Reduce mustard to 1/2 teaspoon, salt to 1 teaspoon and paprika to 1/2 teaspoon. Increase sugar to 3/4 cup. Add 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and omit pepper and garlic.
Dieter’s Dressing: Use mineral oil for olive or salad oil.

Variations using ½ recipe French Dressing as foundation—

Anchovy: Cream 2 tablespoons anchovy paste with seasonings. Add 1 tablespoon each of minced onion and parsley.

Chiffonade: Add 2 tablespoons each of chopped green pepper, olives, parsley, pimiento and 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped. Add chopped red peppers and cooked beets, if desired.

Curry: Add ½ teaspoon curry powder and a few drops onion juice.

Horse-Radish: Add 4 tablespoons grated horse-radish (juice pressed out) ½ clove garlic, crushed and a dash of cayenne.

Mint: Add 2 tablespoons chopped mint.

Olive: Add ½ cup chopped ripe or stuffed olives.

Parmesan: Add 4 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese.

Pickle: Add ¼ cup minced pickles.

Roquefort: Add 4 tablespoons crushed Roquefort cheese, 1 to 1½ teaspoons onion juice or finely chopped chives and a dash of Tabasco sauce or cayenne pepper.

LEMON FRENCH DRESSING

\begin{align*}
& \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup lemon juice} & & 1 \text{ teaspoon paprika} \\
& \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup salad oil} & & 2 \text{ tablespoons sugar or honey}
\end{align*}

Combine ingredients in the order listed. Shake well before serving. If desired, add ½ teaspoon celery seed and clove of garlic. Makes 1 cup dressing.

If a clear dressing is desired, omit paprika and substitute a dash of pepper.

HAWAII FRENCH DRESSING

\begin{align*}
& \frac{1}{4} \text{ cup pineapple juice} & & 1 \text{ teaspoon sugar} \\
& 2 \text{ tablespoons lemon juice} & & \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon salt} \\
& \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup salad oil} & & \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon paprika}
\end{align*}
\]

Combine ingredients, chill. Shake or beat thoroughly before serving. This recipe is adapted for use with mixed fruit salads. Makes ⅛ cup.

Variations—Banana French Dressing: Add 2 thoroughly mashed ripe bananas and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Ruby French Dressing: Add 1 to 1½ teaspoons grenadine or maraschino cherry juice.
MAYONNAISE DRESSING

No. 1.

2 uncooked egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika

1/8 teaspoon mustard
3 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice
2 cups salad oil

To yolks, add dry seasonings, beat thoroughly, add vinegar or lemon juice and beat again. Add oil gradually (drop by drop at first) beating hard between additions. The mixture should be thick and creamy. Should mayonnaise curdle, begin with a third egg yolk, add a small quantity of oil to the egg, and then by very small quantities, add the curdled dressing. At times a dressing may be quite firm when left, only to be found curdled and disappointing when the time comes to use it. This third egg process will, however, usually restore it. Equal proportions of vinegar and lemon juice may be used. Tarragon vinegar is sometimes used to give an interesting flavor.

No. 2.

1 egg yolk, hard cooked
1 egg yolk, uncooked
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup salad oil
3 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice

Place hard-cooked egg yolk in a bowl and mash it fine. When the yolk is like powder, add uncooked yolk and stir until mixture is smooth, then add sugar, salt, pepper, mustard and sauce. When the whole is well mixed, add oil gradually, stirring constantly, and thin as necessary with vinegar or lemon juice. Chill for 1 hour before using.

Originally, only a spoon was used in beating this dressing, however, now a wire whisk, small wooden spoon, rotary egg beater or a four-tined fork may be used.

Colored Mayonnaise: To color mayonnaise red, add lobster paste, raspberry or cooked beet pulp or juice from raspberries or beets; for green color add chopped fresh spinach, parsley or concentrated liquor from boiled artichokes.

Dieter’s Mayonnaise: Use mineral oil for salad oil.
SALAD DRESSINGS

Mayonnaise Variations—Foundation 1 cup mayonnaise.

Appetizer Mayonnaise: Rub bowl with garlic and beat in 2 cups French Dressing (page 446).

Chili Sauce Mayonnaise: Add 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoons chili sauce, 1/2 teaspoon confectioners' sugar and 1 teaspoon horse-radish.

Coronation Mayonnaise: Add 1 tablespoon each of lemon juice and red Bar-le-Duc and a dash of paprika.

Fruit Juice Mayonnaise: Add 3 tablespoons fruit juice, 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar and 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Lemon Cream Mayonnaise: Add 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar, 1/4 cup lemon juice, a few grains salt and 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Roquefort Mayonnaise: Add 2 tablespoons Roquefort cheese, mashed, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Sour Cream Mayonnaise: Add 1/3 cup confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 cup sour cream, whipped.

Thousand Island Dressing: Add 1/3 cup chili sauce, 1 tablespoon each chopped olives and pimientos and 1 hard-cooked egg yolk, chopped or rubbed through a sieve.

Whipped Cream Mayonnaise: Add 4 teaspoons confectioners' sugar and 1 cup cream, whipped.

RUSSIAN DRESSING

1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons thick chili 1/2 cup mayonnaise sauce

Mix the lemon juice, chili sauce and Worcestershire thoroughly and add the mayonnaise.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING

1 cup mayonnaise 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
4 tablespoons chili sauce 3 tablespoons chopped red pepper
1 tablespoon chives 1 teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons catchup 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar
1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar

Add chili sauce, chives, catchup, peppers, paprika and vinegar to mayonnaise.
BOILED DRESSING

No. 1.

| 0.5 cup vinegar       | 0.5 teaspoon mustard |
| 1 teaspoon fat        | 1/8 teaspoon salt    |
| 3 egg-yolks           | 1/16 teaspoon cayenne|
| 1 tablespoon sugar    | Whipped cream, sweet or sour |

Heat the vinegar to the boiling-point and melt the fat in the vinegar. Beat the egg-yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add the sugar, mustard, salt and cayenne, mixed. Gradually pour the hot vinegar on the yolk mixture, and cook in a double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Add whipped cream just before serving.

CREAMY EGGLESS MAYONNAISE

| 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar | 0.5 teaspoon dry mustard |
| 0.5 teaspoon paprika   | 0.5 cup evaporated milk, undiluted |
| 0.5 teaspoon salt      | 2 tablespoons vinegar    |
| Few grains white pepper| 1/4 to 1 1/2 cups salad oil |

Mix dry ingredients with milk; beat in vinegar, add oil gradually, beating thoroughly. Since the mixture thickens somewhat when chilled, it may be desirable to thin it with undiluted evaporated milk before using, or less oil can be used if a thinner mixture is desired. Makes 1 pint.

SOUR CREAM SALAD DRESSING

| 1 teaspoon salt      | 1 tablespoon lemon-juice |
| 1 teaspoon sugar     | 2 tablespoons vinegar    |
| 1/8 teaspoon cayenne | 1 cup sour cream         |

This makes an excellent dressing for vegetable salads. Place the salt, sugar, and pepper together in a bowl, mix well and add the lemon-juice, then the vinegar. When the mixture is perfectly smooth, put in the cream, stir well and set on the ice until needed.

DRESSING FOR MEAT SALADS

Tartar, Hollandaise and Vinaigrette sauces (see Index for recipes) may be used with meat salads if desired.
CAKES

CAKES are of two general types depending upon the basic ingredients they contain. In one group are the cakes made with fat—the various butter cakes, pound cakes, and fruit cakes; and in the other group are those that are made without fat—sponge and angel cakes. Either kind of cake may be baked in many different forms—oblong or round loaves, sheets, layers, or individual cakes of various shapes, depending somewhat upon the kind of cake but also upon the way they are to be served. The butter cakes are most frequently baked in layers, pound cakes in round or oblong loaves, and sponge and angel cakes, in sheets or in the tube pans which give round loaves with a hole in the center.

Materials Used in Cake Making

Sugar—Fine grained granulated sugar is the standard sugar for cake. A coarse grained sugar may produce a coarse grained cake with a hard crust. Light brown or dark brown sugar is preferred by most people for fruit cake or any dark cake. Brown sugar is lighter and more moist than granulated and when it is used instead of granulated sugar the substitution should be weight for weight, not measure for measure.

Shortening—Any fat that has a mild flavor may be used for the shortening in cake. Butter is the first choice with many cooks because of its flavor, but it is the most expensive of fats. Tasteless vegetable or animal oils or hardened fats produce perfect results, aside from the flavor. Since these fats are unsalted the amount of salt should be increased by one-half.

Hard fats should be creamed with the sugar. If they are melted and added while hot, the cake is likely to be tough. If melted fat is called for, it should be cooled before it is added.

Eggs—Eggs for cake need not be newly laid, but they should be of good quality, free from taint and fresh enough to beat up well. Two yolks or two whites may be used instead of one whole egg, or a yolk may be substituted for a white or the other way around. The substitution of yolks for whites or vice versa makes a difference in the color and to some extent in the texture of the cake. In recipes calling for egg whites alone or for more whites than yolks, the number of whites cannot be reduced without changing the texture of the cake. If an egg white is used instead of a yolk, one teaspoon of shortening should be added. When fewer whole eggs are to be used than a recipe calls for, add one-half teaspoon of baking powder instead of each egg omitted, after the first one. Eggs improve the quality of the texture of batters, and while a fairly good plain cake can be made with only one egg, additional eggs give a lighter, more delicate texture, improve the flavor and produce a smoother crust.

Flour—In the cake recipes given in this book, cake flour has been used. Cake flour has a low gluten content and therefore makes a finer textured cake. Although cake flour is preferred for cakemaking, successful cakes are made with all-purpose flour. If all-purpose flour is used for cake flour, reduce the amount of flour used by 2 tablespoons per cup of flour called for and do not beat the batter as long as when using cake flour. Always sift flour before measuring. Fill cup lightly. Resifting with dry ingredients as directed.

Leavening Agents—The most usual leavening agents in cakemaking are eggs and baking powder. When 1 egg is omitted from a recipe the baking powder should be increased by \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon. If the liquid used is sour milk or cream, use \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon baking soda for each cup of liquid. Then decrease baking powder slightly. It is best to sift the baking soda with the dry ingredients. If the soda is dissolved in the sour milk it must be added to the mixture immediately or some of the gas to be used in leavening will be lost.

No chemical leavening agent is used in true spongecakes. The air incorporated by means of the beaten egg whites, and the steam generated in cooking make the cake rise as it is baked.

Flavorings—A cake shortened entirely with good butter needs no additional flavoring though most people add some flavoring extract. Vanilla and lemon extracts are used more commonly than others, but almond, orange, pineapple, and rose give a variety in flavors. Very often the juices of fresh fruit such as lemon or orange, or the grated peel or rind, are used in certain types of cake. Too much flavoring is a common mistake. The amount given in recipes is for an extract of average strength. Where an extract of greater strength is used the amount should be decreased.
Standard Method of Mixing Butter Cakes

There are several methods of combining ingredients for butter cakes, but the method described below is considered the standard.

Cream the Butter or Other Shortening by continued rubbing against the sides of the bowl until it is soft and light. Some people prefer to use a wooden spoon for this, but a fork does the work more quickly. If the shortening is too hard to cream easily, warm the bowl slightly by setting it in warm water, but do not melt the fat.

Add the Sugar Gradually and work well after each addition.

Separate the Whites From the Yolks of the eggs. Beat the yolks until they are thick and lemon-colored, then add them to the creamed shortening and sugar. If the egg is not separated, beat the whole egg well and add here.

Sift the Flour, measure it and add to it all other dry ingredients, such as baking-powder, salt and spices, and then sift again.

Add the Dry Ingredients and Milk to the first mixture, alternately, keeping the batter of the same consistency throughout the mixing process. Beat just enough to make the mixture smooth.

Add the Flavoring, then fold in the stiffly beaten egg-whites, unless the whites were added with the yolks.

When Fruits or Nuts Are Used, save out a little of the flour to sift over them, and add them to the cake mixture just before the egg-whites are added.

Melt Chocolate Over Hot Water and add just after the egg-yolks. Add cocoa as one of the dry ingredients.

Baking Butter Cakes

For any cake made with fat, grease the pans with a melted, unsalted fat, using a pastry brush or a piece of soft paper, then dredge the pans with flour, and shake them to distribute the flour over the surface. Invert the pans and shake them to remove all surplus flour, leaving only the thin film which adheres to the fat. This helps to give the cake a smooth under crust.

If the oven temperature is difficult to control, if the cake pan is not smooth, or if the cake contains only a small amount of fat, it is advisable to line the pans with smooth paper. Cut the paper to fit the bottom of the pan, plus an allowance to cover the sides. For a rectangular pan, cut out the corners of the paper so that it will fit against the sides of the pan without overlapping or wrinkling. For a round or oval pan, cut gashes along the edge of the paper as far as the part which is to cover the bottom. The paper will then overlap smoothly on the sides of the pan. Grease the paper after it is fitted into the pan. The grease will hold the paper against the sides as the cake batter is poured in.

If you want the cake to rise to the top of the pan, fill the pan about two-thirds full. Spread the batter well into the corners and against the sides of the pan, leaving a slight depression in the center. As cake tends to rise more in the center than at the edges, this will help to make it flat on top when it is done.

Baking Temperatures—Place the pan in the center of the lower grate so that the greatest amount of heat will reach it from underneath. A moderate temperature, varying from 350° to 375°, is best for baking a butter cake. If the oven is too hot, a thick brown crust will form on the outside before the cake has fully risen and before the inside has thoroughly baked, resulting in a cracked surface.

The Time for Baking depends on the thickness of the cake. Cup cakes take from twenty to thirty minutes, layer cakes about twenty minutes, and loaf cakes from forty-five to sixty minutes.

Divide the time of baking into quarters: (1) During the first quarter, the cake should rise and little bubbles form on the top; (2) in the second quarter, it should continue to rise and to form the crust; (3) in the third quarter, it should begin to brown, and (4) at the end of the fourth quarter it should be browned sufficiently and shrink from the tin.

Testing the Cake—When the cake is fully baked, it will shrink from the sides of the pan. When touched lightly with the finger it will spring back. If the finger leaves a depression, the cake is not done.

Another test is to insert a clean wooden toothpick into the middle of the cake. If no particles of batter adhere to it when it is drawn out, the cake is done.
Care After Baking—After removing the cake from the oven, allow it to remain in the pan about two minutes. Then, with a spatula or knife, loosen the edges. If there is any tendency for the cake to stick on the bottom, wring a cloth out of water and place it on the bottom of the pan for a few seconds. Turn the cake out on a wire cake-cooler and allow it to stand until cool.

Standard Method of Mixing Cakes Without Fat

Cakes without fat depend for leavening largely upon the air beaten into the eggs. The whites and yolks of the eggs may or may not be separated, depending upon the kind of cake. If using the whole egg, beat it till thick and lemon-colored; if using only the yolk, beat till thick and light in color, add the sugar gradually and beat after each addition until the sugar dissolves.

Add the flavoring and liquid, if there is any, and fold in the sifted dry ingredients.

When the whites have been beaten separately, they are added last, using the folding motion. Do not beat the mixture after the whites have been added. Place at once in a moderate oven (325°—350° F.).

General Directions for Baking Cakes Without Fat

Use an ungreased pan for sponge or angel cakes. If they are greased the batter cannot cling to the sides of the pan as it bakes and thus the cake does not reach its full height. Greasing also causes the cake to fall out of the pan during cooling, making it flat and soggy.

Baking Temperatures—True sponge and angel food cakes in which eggs are the only leavening are baked in a moderate oven (325°—350° F.) to insure the best volume and texture. If baked too slow the results will be a coarse uneven cake; if oven is too hot the cake will be small in volume, fine grained and tough. It can be truly said of such a cake, “half the making is the baking.” When baking-powder is used, a slightly higher temperature is desirable. The division of baking time is the same as for butter cakes.

When the cake is a light brown, and springs back when pressed with the finger, it is done. Remove it to a wire cake cooler, invert the tin and allow it to stand till the cake is cool. Then remove the cake from the tin. When serving, break it apart with two forks; cutting with a knife tends to crush the cake and make it appear heavy.

Causes of Failure in Making Cake

Cracks and Uneven Surfaces are caused by too much flour or too hot an oven.

A Dry Cake (that is, a fresh cake that seems dry or bready inside) may be caused by too much flour, too little fat or by the kind of sugar used, i.e., powdered sugar is thought by some people to give a dryer cake than granulated sugar.

A Heavy Sticky Cake means too much sugar or too little baking.

A Moist Sticky Crust is caused by an excess of sugar.

A Macaroon Crust is caused by too much sugar or too slow baking.

Coarse Grained Cakes are caused by insufficient mixing, too slow baking, too much baking-powder, or too much fat.

Falling is caused by insufficient flour, too much fat, under-baking, or opening or jarring the oven early in the baking period.

An Uneven Color is caused by too fast baking or insufficient mixing.

WEDDING CAKE

2 pounds butter
1 pound granulated sugar
\( \frac{3}{4} \) pound brown sugar
20 eggs
2 oranges, juice and grated rind
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup molasses
1 cup black coffee
1 cup fruit juice
2 pounds flour
1\( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons nutmeg
2 tablespoons mace
1 glass tart jelly
3 pounds seeded raisins
2 pounds seedless raisins
5 pounds currants
1 pound almonds
2 pounds citron
2 cups flour (for the fruit)

Cream the butter till very soft, add the white sugar and the sifted brown sugar and mix thoroughly. Add the beaten yolks and mix again with the grated rind. Add one half the soda to the molasses, stir until foamy and add, with the coffee and fruit juices, alternating with the two pounds of flour, the rest of soda, the salt and spices sifted together. Break the jelly into pieces and stir in. It is not necessary to have the jelly thoroughly mixed in.

Look over the raisins and currants, wash if necessary, drain and dry. Blanch the almonds and slice. Save half the nuts to sprinkle on the bottom and top of cake. Cut the citron in thin strips. Mix the two cups of flour thoroughly with this fruit. Candied orange or grapefruit peel may be used for citron.

Mix the prepared fruit with the batter. This may be added from time to time with the flour. When all is thoroughly combined fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

This amount makes about twenty four pounds of cake, and can be baked in small loaves or in one large one. Whatever size is chosen line the greased pans with three layers of paper (bottom and sides) having the top layer well greased. Sprinkle the bottom with about one third of the reserved nuts. Put the mixture into the pan making sure that the corners are well filled and that the top is level and smooth. Sprinkle the remaining nuts on the top. If made into one large cake steam four hours and then bake one hour in a very slow oven (250°-275° F.). If made into small cakes they can be baked without steaming first. Bake in a slow oven (250° F.) for two hours. Let cool in the pan, but have it stand on a rack so as to have a circulation of air underneath as well as on the top and sides.
Turn out and remove the paper. Cool and store in a cool dry place tightly covered. A few sound apples placed in the container where cake is stored will help keep the cake moist if it must be kept long, but they must be watched and replaced if they begin to show decay, or if they become shrivelled.

As there is so much preparation involved, the fruits and nuts can be gotten ready several days before the cake is to be baked. Even after the cake is entirely mixed and in the pan or pans it can stand overnight if kept in a cool place.

CAKE FILLINGS AND FROSTINGS

A TABLE giving the temperatures of boiling sugar sirup at its various stages will be found on page 12.

FILLINGS—A filling is defined as "something that serves to fill up a space or cavity." In connection with cakes, the word is used to designate a soft, sweetened, cooked or uncooked mixture that will spread easily. It is usually put between layers to hold them together, or is put into a cavity in a cake; but occasionally it is spread over the top and sides of a cake. Sometimes a frosting is used between the layers instead of a filling.

FROSTING AND ICING—A frosting is a preparation of sugar and a liquid, which may or may not be combined with egg, and may be cooked or uncooked. The term is derived from the fact that the first sugar decorations of this sort were uncolored and gave the effect of hoar-frost. The word is now used to mean any sweet covering applied to cakes, whether white or colored.

Icing has been used interchangeably with the word "frosting" but more often in reference to the uncooked frostings. In the beginning the word was probably used because the substance looked like ice, being translucently white instead of frostily white. Therefore, it may be desirable to use the word "icing" to mean a thin mixture of confectioners' sugar and a liquid, spread on to give a glazed surface; and to keep the term "frosting" for a thicker, more opaque coating.

Applying Fillings and Frostings

Cakes should be cooled and the surface should be free from loose crumbs before a filling or frosting is applied, and the filling or frosting should be cool enough so that it will not soak in. Either the top or the bottom crust may be frosted, but the bottom crust is likely to be softer and more level than the top crust. This point should be considered also when fillings are to be put between layers. Fillings usually hold layers together better when the bottom crusts are placed together. A very soft filling should not be used for a cake that is to be kept any considerable time before it is eaten because the filling will soak into the cake and make it soggy. Sometimes the shape of a loaf cake makes it desirable to put the frosting on the bottom crust. The frosting may extend over the top of a cake only or may be spread over the sides. A well-made boiled frosting should be soft, but not soft enough to run. A frosting may be put on with a very smooth surface, may be left rough, or may be scored in ridges or designs.

COOKIES, DOUGHNUTS, GINGERBREAD AND SMALL CAKES

Cookies

Cookies doughs range from very soft to very stiff. Whatever the degree of stiffness, a cookie dough is always easier to handle if it is allowed to stand for a time (ten to thirty minutes) in a cold place before it is rolled. This allows the moisture to be thoroughly absorbed and hardens the fat, and both of these conditions tend to prevent the dough from being sticky even though it is soft.

Materials Used in Cookies—Butter or any other shortening preferred may be used in cookies. See Index for materials used in cake making.

Soft Doughs may be dropped from a spoon on to a baking-sheet or may be rolled and shaped with a cutter, a knife or a pastry wheel. They are more difficult to roll out than stiff doughs, and some practice is necessary to obtain perfect results in manipulating them in this way.

Stiff Doughs are usually rolled out and shaped by cutting. Sometimes they are made into small balls and flattened by pressure from the hand, a broad knife or a rolling-pin.

Rolling and Cutting Cookies

In rolling any dough, take out on the lightly floured board only as much as can be handled easily. Flour the rolling-pin and use only as much pressure as is necessary to spread the dough out into a sheet of the desired thickness. If the dough is too soft to be rolled, more flour may be worked in, but the texture of the finished cookie will be harder in proportion to the amount of flour added.

Dip the cutter, knife or wheel in flour, and cut the shapes as close together as possible. Lift the cookies on a broad knife or spatula and lay them on a greased baking-sheet, allowing a little space between for possible spreading.
SAVE ALL THE TRIMMINGS for the last rolling. The last cookies will not be of the same texture as the first because of the extra flour which will be worked into the dough in the process of mixing the trimmings into a mass to be rolled again.

Beat the eggs till very light, add the sugar and when foamy add the melted shortening. Sift the baking-powder, salt and nutmeg with one cup of flour and stir into first mixture, alternating with the milk. Add the lemon flavoring and just enough flour to make a soft dough which can be handled. Roll out three-fourths inch thick on a lightly floured board. A soft dough makes light, tender doughnuts when cooked. Fry in deep fat (360°-370° F.) and drain on unglazed paper. If you have no thermometer test the fat for temperature as directed on page 26.

SOUR MILK—

| 1 cup sugar            | 1 teaspoon baking-powder |

\begin{align*}
\text{1 1/2 cups flour} & & \text{3/8 cup milk} \\
\text{1/4 teaspoon salt} & & \text{2 tablespoons powdered sugar} \\
\text{2 teaspoons baking-powder} & & \text{(for sweet fritters only)} \\ \text{1 egg} & & \\
\end{align*}
\]

Sift dry ingredients, add egg, well beaten, and milk. The batter should be just thick enough to coat the article it is intended to cover. If it is too thin, add more flour; if too thick, add more liquid.

APPLE FRITTERS

\begin{align*}
\text{1 cup milk} & & \text{2 cups flour} \\
\text{2 eggs} & & \text{1 tablespoon baking-powder} \\
\text{1 teaspoon sugar} & & \text{Apples} \\
\text{Salt} & & \\
\end{align*}
\]

To the milk add the well-beaten egg-yolks and the sugar, then the flour mixed and sifted with the baking-powder and the salt. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Add sliced sour apples, being careful to get the batter all over them. Drop by spoonfuls into deep fat (360°-370° F.) and fry two to three minutes. Serve with powdered sugar or foamy sauce.

BANANA FRITTERS

6 bananas
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons orange-juice
Fritter batter

PEACH FRITTERS

Peaches
Fritter batter
Powdered sugar

Peel the peaches, split them in two, remove the stones, sprinkle powdered sugar over them, dip each piece into fritter batter and fry two to three minutes in deep fat (360°-370° F.). Serve with powdered sugar or foamy sauce.

RASPBERRY FRITTERS

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
2 to 3 tablespoons water
1 cup raspberries

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add sugar, egg-yolks and water. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg-whites and the raspberries leaving the fruit as nearly whole as possible. The amount of water may vary somewhat. The batter should be thin enough to fold in the fruit, but thick enough to hold together well; otherwise, the fruit in cooking will soften it too much.

Drop the fritter mixture from a tablespoon into deep fat (360°-370° F.) and fry until brown, turning once. Serve with powdered sugar or foamy sauce.
Gingerbread and Small Cakes

Melt the shortening; add the molasses, vinegar, and beaten egg. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk. Pour into a greased pan and bake thirty to forty minutes in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.). Batter should be just thin enough so that the track left by the spoon in stirring disappears at once.

HOT WATER—

\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup boiling water} & \quad 1 \text{ teaspoon soda} \\

Bake one-half hour in a moderate to slow oven (400° F. for ten minutes then reduce to 350° F.). If these cakes are removed from the oven before they are thoroughly done, they will fall. MERINGUES AND KISSES

2 egg-whites
1/2 to 2/3 cup powdered sugar
Pinch of salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla or 1 tablespoon lemon-juice

Beat the egg-whites stiff, adding the salt. Add two-thirds of the sugar gradually, beating constantly, and fold the rest carefully into the mixture. Heap in rounds or press through a pastry bag on to a wet board covered with an ungreased paper. Bake on the board in a very slow oven (250°-300° F.) from forty to sixty minutes. The kisses should be very light brown and quite dry. If they adhere to the paper, moisten the other side of the paper by placing it on a wet cloth, and they will slip off easily.

The smaller shapes or kisses may be stuck together in pairs with a little white of egg. The meringues, which are usually made larger, may be scooped out and filled with ice-cream or whipped cream. Filled with ice-cream, they are known as meringues glacées.

1/3 cup condensed milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the egg-white until stiff, then fold it into the mixture of coconut and condensed milk. Add flavoring. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking-sheet and shape into cakes. Bake in a slow oven (250°-300° F.) until lightly browned.

BROWN SUGAR—

1 egg-white
1 cup chopped salted nuts
1 cup brown sugar

Beat the sugar into the stiffly beaten egg-white, and add the nuts. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan and bake in a slow oven (250°-300° F.).

NUT OATMEAL—

1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cup rolled oats
1/3 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons melted shortening

Beat egg until very light, add sugar slowly, beating constantly. Add flavoring, oats, salt, nuts and melted shortening.
Drop from teaspoon on greased baking-sheet and bake in a slow oven (350° F.) until browned (about 10 minutes). Remove from pan while warm. This makes about eighteen macaroons.

LACE CAKES

2 eggs
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup rolled oats
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or other shortening
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat the eggs, add the sugar and, when these are well mixed, add the oats and salt. Melt the shortening and stir into the mixture. Add vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking-sheet and spread very thin with the back of the spoon. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.) ten to twelve minutes.

BUTTERSCOTCH STICKS

¼ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
¼ cup broken pecan meats
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking-powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter in a saucepan, add sugar and when well blended remove from the fire and cool, in the saucepan, until lukewarm. Add unbeaten egg to mixture and beat well. Mix flour, salt and baking-powder, and add to the sugar mixture; then add the nut meats and vanilla. Spread the mixture in a shallow pan lined with plain paper which has been greased. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven (400°-450° F.). While hot, cut into strips an inch wide and four inches long. This recipe makes about two dozen.

BRAN COCONUT DROPS

1 cup cooking bran
½ cup coconut
¼ cup sugar
2 egg-whites
½ teaspoon almond extract

Beat the egg-whites, and add the other ingredients. Drop from a teaspoon on a greased baking-sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (400° F.) until browned.
CANDIES

WHEN sugar and a liquid are boiled together, a sirup is formed which grows thicker as the boiling continues. The thickness of the sirup determines the general type of candy that will result.

Testing the Sirup

The simplest and most accurate method of determining whether the sirup is thick enough for your purpose is to measure its temperature, because the temperature rises steadily as the sirup thickens.

A Candy Thermometer registering up to 350° F. is not expensive, and it will not only give you a higher average of success in candy making but will save you the time and labor that must otherwise be given to testing the sirup. A table giving the various stages of sugar cookery will be found on page 12.

If You Are Not Provided With a Thermometer, the following test will help you to determine when to take your candy from the fire.

Drop a little sirup into ice-cold water and pinch it between the thumb and finger:

Soft ball stage (for fondant and fudge) the sirup forms a soft ball which loses its shape immediately when removed from the water.

Stiff ball stage (for caramels and nougat) the sirup forms a stiff ball which retains its shape for a second or two when removed from the water and then flattens out.

Hard ball stage (for molasses taffy and soft candies to be pulled) the sirup forms a hard ball which will roll about on a cold buttered plate when removed from the water.

Light to medium crack stage (for toffee and butterscotch and hard candies to be pulled) the sirup forms spirals or threads which are brittle under water but which soften when removed from the water and stick to the teeth when chewed.

Hard crack stage (for clear brittle candies) the sirup forms spirals or threads which are brittle when removed from the water and do not stick to the teeth when chewed.
Creamy Candies—Creaminess is desirable in soft candies. "Creamy" means that the texture should be very smooth, not grainy at all; soft but not sticky. This means that the sugar must not remain as a sirup, but must crystallize. The crystals, however, must be very fine, so that they can not be felt by the fingers or in the mouth.

Creamy candy should not be overcooked. If it reaches too high a temperature, accidentally, a little water may be added and it may be recooked to the correct temperature. This does not give as good a result as one cooking to the correct temperature, but it improves a poor product.

Creamy candy should be cooled before it is beaten. Beating candy while it is hot causes large crystals to form and grainy candy results. If crystals that form on the side of the pan in which candy is cooked fall back into the candy, they tend to cause large crystals to form and to make grainy candy.

A small amount of corn sirup tends to prevent grainy candy. Creamy candies made with corn sirup will require longer beating before crystallization takes place than will candies made from all granulated sugar. They also soften more quickly on standing. If too much sirup is used, the candy will not crystallize at all and the best thing to do with it is to boil it until it reaches the proper stage for a pulled or brittle candy.

One-eighth teaspoon of cream of tartar or one-half teaspoon of lemon-juice or acetic acid to two cups of sugar may be used instead of corn sirup or glucose. They change part of the granulated sugar to glucose during the cooking process.

Ingredients Used in Candies

Sugars—Granulated, confectioners', brown and maple sugar, corn sirup, molasses, honey and maple and cane sirups are all used in candy, according to the flavor and texture desired. The light-brown sugar should be chosen rather than the darker brown, for a candy of delicate flavor. The same thing is true if corn sirup or molasses is used; the lighter color gives the less strong flavor.

Brown sugar and molasses contain an acid, which if used in candies with milk causes the milk to curdle. Therefore, candy containing these two ingredients should be stirred while it is cooking. Crystallization does not readily occur here because the milk tends to prevent it.
OTHER INGREDIENTS—Nuts of all sorts, chocolate or cocoa, butter, milk, cream, egg-whites and fruits such as dates, figs, raisins and candied cherries, give special flavor or texture.

Butter is often used because of its flavor and because it tends to make a creamy product. Other mild-flavored fats may be used instead of butter, particularly in candies containing chocolate, brown sugar or molasses.

Chocolate contributes flavor and tends to make a smooth candy because of the fat it contains. Three tablespoons of cocoa and two-thirds of a tablespoon of butter may be used instead of one square of chocolate.

Fresh milk, dried milk or canned milk, sweetened or unsweetened, may be used in candies.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE

2 cups sugar
1 or 2 squares chocolate

1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar or 2 tablespoons corn sirup

1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons butter

Mix the sugar, milk, grated chocolate, cream of tartar or corn sirup and boil rather slowly, stirring until the ingredients are well blended. Boil to the soft-ball stage (238° F.). Remove from the stove, add the butter, but do not stir it in. When lukewarm, add the vanilla and beat until it creams; that is, until the shiny appearance disappears and the fudge will hold its shape when dropped from the spoon. Spread it in a buttered pan and when it hardens mark it into squares.

MARSHMALLOWS FUDGE

To the recipe for chocolate fudge add three tablespoons of marshmallow cream just after taking it from the fire. Beat well and pour into buttered pans.

MAPLE FUDGE

2 1/2 cups maple sugar
1 cup cream or milk

1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup broken nut-meats

Break the maple sugar into small pieces and heat it in a saucepan with the water. When it is dissolved, add the milk. Boil to the soft-ball stage (238° F.). Remove from the fire and cool. When it is lukewarm, beat until it creams and add the nut-meats. Spread it in a buttered pan and when it hardens mark it into squares.

DIVINITY FUDGE

| 2 cups sugar | 2 egg-whites |
| ½ cup corn sirup | ½ cup blanched almonds |
| ½ cup water | 1 tablespoon almond or lemon extract |
| ¾ cup candied cherries | |

Put the sugar, water and corn sirup into a saucepan. Stir it while it dissolves over the fire, then let it boil without stirring to the light crack stage (265 ° F.). While it is cooking, beat the whites of eggs stiffly and when the sirup is ready pour it over them, beating constantly. Beat until creamy, add nuts, cherries and extract, and pour into buttered tins.

MAPLE DIVINITY FUDGE

Follow preceding recipe, using in addition one-half cup maple sirup.

OTHER VARIATIONS OF FUDGE

Brown sugar may be used partly or entirely in place of white or maple sugar. If brown sugar is used, the cream of tartar or corn sirup should be omitted.

Condensed milk may be used instead of fresh milk. It should have water added according to the directions on the can.

Peanut butter may be used instead of chocolate, using two tablespoons of the butter to each cup of sugar in the recipe. Like butter or other fat it should be added after the fudge is cooked.

Marshmallows or marshmallow cream may be added to any fudge after it has been taken from the fire. One cup of marshmallow to two cups of sugar is a good proportion.

Any kind of broken nuts, including coconut, may be added to the fudge just before it is turned into the pan.

Candied cherries, or other fruits, chopped candied orange-peel or citron may be added. Dates and raisins are often used.

Flavoring may be varied to suit. Orange extract is good with brown sugar, chocolate or molasses. Lemon extract or lemon-juice is good in a white-sugar fudge from which the chocolate is omitted.

FUDGE-COVERED DATES

Cut dates in half, lengthwise; remove the pits and lay the halves at intervals on a greased dish. Make fudge according to any fudge recipe and drop a teaspoonful on each half date. This must be done quickly, to avoid letting the fudge harden in the pan. The hardening may be delayed by standing the pan in a larger one containing hot water.

PANOCHA

| 3 cups brown sugar | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1 cup milk          | 1 cup nut-meats    |
| 2 tablespoons butter|                            |

Put the sugar and milk into a saucepan and cook to the soft-ball stage, or 238° F. Remove from the fire, add butter and vanilla, and cool without stirring. When it is lukewarm, beat until it is creamy. Stir in the broken nut-meats. Hickory nuts, walnuts or pecans are especially nice. Pour into a buttered pan and when it hardens mark into squares.

MAPLE PRALINES

| 2 cups sugar     | 1 cup maple sirup |
| 3/4 cup milk     | 2 cups pecan-meats |

Boil the sugar, milk and maple sirup until the mixture reaches the soft-ball stage (238° F.). Remove from the fire and cool. When it is lukewarm, beat until it is smooth and creamy. Add any kind of broken nut-meats and drop on buttered paper from the tip of a spoon, making little mounds.

FONDANT

| 2 cups granulated sugar | 2 tablespoons corn sirup or 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar |
| 1 cup water             |                                                             |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla      |                                                             |

Put the sugar, corn sirup and water in a saucepan and heat slowly. Do not let it begin to boil until the sugar is dissolved. Wash down the sides of the pan with a fork wrapped in a damp cloth or else cover and cook for two or three minutes so that the steam will carry down the crystals that have been thrown on the side of the pan. Remove the cover and continue to boil slowly without stirring to the soft-ball stage (238° F.). While cooking, keep the cover on part of the time so the steam can help to keep the crystals washed down.

Remove from the fire and pour at once on large platters or slabs which have been dipped into cold water, and let it stand until it is lukewarm. Stir with a spatula or a fork till it is creamy; then knead with the hands until it is smooth and free from lumps.

Fondant is better if allowed to ripen for several days before being used. It may be wrapped in waxed paper and put into a tightly covered jar. When it is to be used for centers of dipped bonbons the centers should be shaped by hand or in molds and allowed to stand in the air until the surface loses all stickiness. Then the shapes may be dipped into the coating.

HONEY FONDANT

| 2 cups granulated sugar | 1/3 cup honey | 1 cup water |

Proceed as for plain fondant.

CANDIES MADE FROM FONDANT

Tutti-Frutti—Knead fondant and flavor with cherry or almond extract. Knead into it one-third its amount of a mixture of raisins, dates, figs, candied cherries, citron, orange-peel or other candied fruits, which have been chopped together. Shape into a flat cake and cut after it stands for an hour.

Wintergreen Creams—Melt a portion of fondant in the upper part of a double boiler until it is soft enough to drop from a spoon. It may be necessary to add a few drops of hot water. Color it with red vegetable coloring to a delicate pink. Flavor with oil of wintergreen. Stir until it is creamy. Drop from a teaspoon on oiled paper.

Peppermint Creams—Follow instructions given for wintergreen creams, but leave the fondant uncolored and flavor with oil of peppermint.

NutCreams—Knead fondant and flavor with almond or coffee extract. Knead into it a mixture of chopped nuts or moist coconut. Shape into balls, squares or other shapes attractive for dipping into chocolate.

STUFFED DATES, AND PRUNES—Stone dates or prunes and stuff them with fondant which has been colored pink and flavored with rose water. A whole nut-meat should be inserted with the fondant.

CHOCOLATE BONBONS—Melt very slowly a good quality of specially prepared dipping chocolate, sweetened or unsweetened, in the top of a double boiler. Do not heat the water under the chocolate above 120° F., for overheating spoils chocolate for dipping. Stir it constantly while it is melting to keep an even temperature, and after it has melted, beat it thoroughly. Keep the heat very low during the dipping process. To dip centers, use a fork or confectioner's dipper. Drop centers in one at a time and when covered place on oiled paper. The room in which dipping is done should be cool, so that the chocolate may harden quickly.

MARSHMALLOWS

| 2 tablespoons gelatin | ⅛ teaspoon salt          |
| ⅛ cup cold water      | 1 teaspoon vanilla       |
| ⅜ cup boiling water   | Confectioners' sugar     |
| 2 cups sugar          |                           |

Soak the gelatin in the cold water until it has taken up all the water. Boil the sugar and water to the soft-ball stage (238° F.). Add vanilla and salt to gelatin. Pour the sirup slowly over the gelatin, beating constantly with a whisk until cool and thick. Butter a shallow pan slightly and dust with confectioners' sugar. Turn the marshmallow mixture into the pan and smooth the top evenly. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Let it stand over night. In the morning cut it into small squares and roll in confectioners' sugar.

VARIATIONS FOR MARSHMALLOWS

Chopped nuts, dates, figs, raisins or candied cherries may be added to the recipe for marshmallows. Plain marshmallows may be rolled in coconut before being rolled in sugar, or they may be dipped in melted chocolate. Marshmallows may be tinted any desired color.
CANDIES

CARAMELS

2 cups sugar 4 tablespoons butter
½ cup corn sirup 1 cup cream or condensed milk
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook the ingredients, except the vanilla, to the stiff-ball stage, or 246° F. Remove from the fire, add the vanilla and pour into a buttered pan. When it is cold, turn it out of the pan and cut it into squares.

CHOCOLATE—Use the same ingredients as for vanilla caramels but reduce the cream or condensed milk to one-half cup and add three squares of chocolate. Break the chocolate in small pieces, add to the other ingredients and proceed as for vanilla caramels.

MOLASSES TAFFY

2 cups molasses 4 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 cup granulated sugar ½ teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon soda

Cook the molasses, sugar and water slowly to the hard-ball stage (260° F.) stirring during the latter part of the cooking to prevent its burning. Remove from the fire, add the fat, soda and vanilla and stir enough to mix. Pour into a greased pan and, when cool enough to handle, pull it until it becomes light in color. Stretch it into a long rope and cut with scissors into small pieces.

WHITE TAFFY

2 cups granulated sugar 2½ tablespoons vinegar
½ cup water 1 teaspoon lemon or vanilla extract
1 teaspoon glycerin

Boil the sugar, water, glycerin and vinegar to the hard-ball stage (260° F.). Add flavoring. Pour on to a greased platter. When cool enough to handle, pull until very white, stretch into a long rope, and cut into short pieces.
NOUGAT

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup corn sirup
1 cup water
4 egg-whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups nut-meats
1/2 cup candied cherries

Boil together half of the sugar, half of the water and half of the corn sirup to the stiff-ball stage (246°-250° F.). Remove the sirup from the fire and pour it slowly over the well-beaten whites and continue beating until it is cool. While beating, cook the remaining half of the ingredients to the stiff-ball stage. Remove and add at once to the first mixture, beating while adding. When cool, add the vanilla, nut-meats and candied cherries and pour into buttered pans. Smooth over the surface and let it stand over night before cutting. In the morning cut and wrap in waxed paper.

BUTTERSCOTCH

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup light corn sirup
1 cup water
1/3 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract

Put sugar, sirup and water into a saucepan and set over direct heat. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then cook without stirring to the stiff ball stage (250° F.). Add fat and cook to the medium crack stage (280° F.), for soft butterscotch, or to the hard crack stage (300° F.) for brittle candy. Remove from fire, add the flavoring and pour on a greased slab. Mark while still warm and when cold break into pieces.

MAPLE SCOTCH

1 cup maple sugar
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vinegar
4 tablespoons butter

Boil together the maple sugar, water and vinegar to the stiff-ball stage (246° F.). Then add the butter and cook to the medium-crack stage (280° F.). Turn into a well-buttered pan. Mark while still warm, and when cold break into pieces.
CANDIES

POP-CORN BALLS

3 quarts popped corn
1 cup sugar
1/3 cup white corn sirup
1 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon or vanilla

Discard all imperfect kernels and put the popped corn into a large pan. Cook sugar, sirup and water to the medium-crack stage (280° F.). Add flavoring and salt. Pour over the corn, stirring with a spoon so that all kernels will be evenly coated. Shape the corn into balls, lay on waxed paper, and wrap in waxed paper.

No. 2.
3 quarts popped corn
1 cup honey
1 cup sugar
3/4 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon salt

Proceed as for No. 1.

MAPLE NUT BRITTLE

1 cup light-brown sugar
1 cup maple sugar
1/2 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup broken nut-meats
2 tablespoons butter

Boil the sugar and water to the stiff-ball stage (246° F.). Then add the fat and cook to the brittle stage (290°-300° F.). Add the vanilla and salt and pour over the nut-meats, which have been placed on a buttered pan. When cold, break into pieces.

PEANUT BRITTLE

2 cups granulated sugar
1 pints chopped peanuts

1/2 teaspoon salt

Put the sugar into an iron frying-pan and heat slowly, stirring constantly, until the sugar is melted and turns a light brown color (slightly above 300° F.). Spread the chopped peanuts in a buttered tin, sprinkle them with the salt, warm the tin slightly and pour the melted sugar over the peanuts.
TURKISH DELIGHT

3 tablespoons gelatin
2 cups sugar
½ cup cold water
Grated rind and juice of
1 orange

½ cup hot water
Grated rind and juice of
1 lemon
Red or green coloring

Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Put the sugar and hot water in a saucepan. When it reaches the boiling-point, add the gelatin and simmer twenty minutes. Add color and the flavorings; strain into a bread-pan which has been rinsed with cold water. The mixture should be from one-half to one inch in depth.

When it is cold, turn it on to a board. Cut into cubes or other shapes and roll in confectioners' sugar.

If you prefer other flavors, such as peppermint, wintergreen and clove, omit the fruit juice and rind, add one-half cup of water, and flavor with a few drops of oil of peppermint, oil of wintergreen, oil of cloves, etc.

COCONUT CONES

2 cups sugar
½ cup water
½ teaspoon vanilla

3 egg-whites
2 cups moist coconut

Boil the sugar and water together to the soft-ball stage (238°F). Add the vanilla and pour it slowly over the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs beating constantly until light and foamy. Stir in the coconut and drop on buttered tins by teaspoonfuls. Shape each confection like a cone. Bake in a slow oven (300°F) for about twenty minutes.

Beat the egg-whites and mix with the almond paste. Add the flavoring and enough sugar to make the mixture stiff enough to handle. After it has stood over night, it may be molded into small shapes of fruits or vegetables such as pears, apples or carrots and colored with vegetable colors, or it may be cut into small pieces and dipped in chocolate or other coating, or used as the center for candied cherries, dates, prunes, etc.

The almond paste may be bought at a confectioner’s, or the almonds may be blanched and pounded. Two and two-thirds cups shelled almonds make one cup of paste.

STUFFED SPICED PRUNES

\frac{1}{2} \text{ pound prunes} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup sugar} \\
\frac{1}{8} \text{ cup corn sirup} \\
\frac{1}{8} \text{ cup water} \\
3 \text{ to } 6 \text{ cloves}

\frac{1}{8} \text{ teaspoon grated nutmeg} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon cinnamon} \\
5 \text{ allspice berries} \\
\frac{1}{8} \text{ teaspoon maple flavoring} \\
\text{Chopped nut-meats}

Soak the prunes over night, after washing them thoroughly. Drain off the water; add the sugar, sirup, water and spices and simmer slowly until the sirup is all absorbed by the prunes. Cut a slit along one side of each prune, slip out the stone and fill the cavities with chopped nut-meats moistened with a little sirup or with cream. Roll in confectioners’ sugar.

TUTTI-FRUTTI CANDY

1 \text{ pound raisins} \\
\frac{3}{4} \text{ pound walnut-meats} \\
1 \text{ pound dates}

1 \text{ pound figs} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ pound prunes} \\
\text{Confectioners’ sugar}

Soak the prunes over night. Steam until they are soft and remove stones. Wash the figs, and steam them twenty minutes. Wash the dates and remove the stones. Put the fruit and nuts through a food-chopper. Put confectioners’ sugar on the board and with the hands work the fruit and nuts until well blended. Roll to about one-quarter inch thick, using the sugar to dredge the board and rolling-pin. Cut in any desired shape, roll in sugar, pack in layers in a tin box, using waxed paper between the layers.

HOLIDAY COCONUT BALLS

\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup corn sirup} \\
\frac{1}{4} \text{ teaspoon maple flavoring} \\
\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup currants} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup raisins} \\
1 \text{ cup moist coconut}

Stir the ingredients together to make a stiff loaf. Pack in a small cake-tin. Chill in the refrigerator and roll into small balls. Dust with confectioners’ sugar.
SALTED ALMONDS OR PEANUTS

 Blanch the almonds or remove the thin brown skin from the peanuts. Dry the almonds well. Put a small amount of oil into a dripping pan, pour in the nuts and stir them until they are well coated. There should be no excess oil in the pan; just enough to give an oily surface to each nut. Set the pan in the oven, and stir the nuts often until they become light brown. Drain them in a colander, spread on a platter and sprinkle with salt.

To BLANCH ALMONDS—Shell the nuts and pour boiling water over them. Let them stand from two to five minutes, until the brown skin can be slipped off with the fingers. Pour off the water and remove the skins.

GLACÉ FRUITS OR NUTS

2 cups sugar 1 cup water ⅔ cup light corn sirup

Small fruits or sections of larger fruits or whole nut-meats

Make a sirup of the sugar, water and corn sirup. Boil, without stirring, to the hard crack stage (300°F.). Remove the saucepan from the fire and put it into an outer pan of boiling water to keep the sirup from hardening. Drop in the well drained fruit or the nut-meats, a few at a time. Skim out and place on heavy waxed paper to dry.

CANDIED FRUITS

Sirup for Candied Fruits—

2 cups sugar ½ cup light corn sirup
1 cup water

Boil together until the sirup spins a thread when dropped from the spoon (234°F.).

Candied Pears, Peaches, Plums, and Cherries—Pare, core, slice or otherwise prepare the fruits to be candied. Have them drained clear of all juice and add them to the boiling sirup, being careful not to have them crowded. Simmer until the fruits are clear. Skim from the sirup, drain, spread on a screen and allow them to dry until they are no longer sticky. Pack between sheets of waxed paper and place in a tin box or a glass jar.

Candied Quinces, Pineapples and Figs—Prepare fruits by washing, paring or slicing as desired, then simmer in clear water until tender. Drain and use the water in which the fruits were cooked to make the sirup. Proceed as in the preceding recipe.

Candied Orange, Lemon or Grapefruit Peel—Cut the peel into halves or quarters. Let them stand over night in salted water (one tablespoon salt to one quart water). Drain and wash thoroughly. Simmer in clear water, changing the water several times until it has no bitter taste. When the peel is tender, drain, cut into strips or add whole to the sirup and simmer until it is transparent. Drain, roll in granulated sugar, and allow the peel to dry well before packing.

FRUIT PASTE CANDIES

Fruit Paste—Paste may be made from most kinds of fruit-pulp after the juice has been drained off for jelly, or it may be made from fresh or canned fruit. A combination of the pulp of two or more kinds of fruit gives a delicious result.

Press the pulp through a rather fine strainer, measure it and to one pint of pulp add one and one-third cups of sugar. Cook this mixture, stirring it and taking care not to let it scorch. When the paste is thick and clear, turn it out on a platter which has been brushed with unsalted fat. Let it stand and dry until a film forms over the top. Then turn it on to a wire screen and dry until it loses its stickiness. To get the best results, dry it as quickly as possible in the open air. Roll the dried paste in thick paraffin paper and pack it in tin boxes or glass jars for future use. For finish, dip in fondant or chocolate.

SPUN SUGAR

2 cups sugar 1 cup water
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar

Dissolve sugar in water, bring slowly to boiling point and boil to 280° F. Add cream of tartar and continue boiling without stirring until the sirup reaches 310° F. In the meantime, have prepared 2 oiled wooden spoon handles securely anchored in kitchen-cabinet drawers, with a clean paper spread on the floor below. When the sirup reaches 310° F. remove quickly to a pan of cold water to stop the boiling, then to pan of hot water. Tint with food colors if desired. Dip the spinner (a spoon, large knife or egg whip will serve) into the sirup and swing back and forth over the handles. The sugar falls in long threads. If the sirup thickens as you work, heat the water in the lower pan until the sirup melts and continue spinning. Use at once as decorative nests for ice cream, meringue glacé, Baked Alaska or Easter eggs.

PULLED SUGAR

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>2 pounds loaf sugar</th>
<th>1 teaspoon glucose</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 cup water</td>
<td>¼ teaspoon cream of tartar</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Add water to sugar in a saucepan and when completely dissolved turn on heat, add glucose and cream of tartar and boil as quickly as possible to 312° F. Remove at once to pan of cold water to stop boiling, then pour sirup onto a lightly oiled slab. If different colors or flavors are wanted, divide the sirup as desired. As edges cool, lift with knife and turn in to the center. When sugar is cool enough to handle, pull from sides, turning in to the center, and roll into a ball. Work in a warm place so sugar does not cool too quickly as you work and be sure that all parts are pulled equally. When it becomes quite satin-white and china-like in appearance, start your design. Ribbons are made by pulling a straight piece, cutting the edges quickly and then arranging in knots or bows. Set aside to cool slowly so they will not crack.

For flowers and leaves, pull a small end into petal shape, pinch off the end, work the edges thin and curve into desired shape. Put the petals together as you work to form the flower, then pinch the lower ends together and attach to a new tin wire, or attach to a green pulled-sugar stem. Detached leaves may be mounted on wire and left uncovered.
FRUIT DESSERTS

Fresh Fruits

FRESH fruits are the simplest and easiest of all desserts to prepare, and furnish one of the most wholesome sweets. They are at their best when served ripe and in season. When fruit comes from the market it should be looked over and kept in a cool place. All fruit should be washed before it is served.

FRESH BERRIES

Turn the berries out of the container and spread them on a platter or board so that they are not piled up on one another. If there are any noticeably soft or moldy, remove them and set the rest in the refrigerator or other cool place until they are to be prepared for serving. Then pick them over carefully; wash and drain. Strawberries are usually hulled, but when very large and perfect they may be served with the hulls on and dipped into powdered sugar when they are eaten.

MELONS

All melons should be served very cold. They may be laid on chopped ice when served but the ice should never be placed in or on the edible parts of the melon.

Cantaloup—Cut the cantaloup in half and with a spoon remove the seeds without injuring the flesh. Each half may be served alone or it may be filled with fresh berries or other fruit or with ice-cream. When used as an appetizer at the beginning of a meal, a quarter of a large cantaloup is enough. Chilled melon balls are often served.

Honeydew and Casaba Melons—These are usually cut lengthwise and served in sections two or three inches wide.

Watermelon—To serve a whole watermelon at the table, cut it in half, crosswise, and cut a slice from each end to make it stand on a platter. Garnish the platter with green leaves.

The melon may be served in round slices, or in half or quarter slices from which the rind may or may not have been removed; the pulp may be shaped in balls or dice and served in glasses.
or it may be scooped out in large spoonfuls and served in a watermelon tub shaped from the rind.

For other suggestions for serving melons, see Index.

GRAPEFRUIT

See Index.

ORANGES

Cut oranges in half crosswise. With a sharp knife, loosen the pulp from the center and from the dividing fiber. Serve two halves to each person.

An attractive dessert is made by cutting oranges crosswise in quarter-inch slices and laying the slices in an overlapping row on a glass plate, allowing about four slices to each person. The slices may be sprinkled with sugar and moist coconut or served plain.

ICED ORANGE JUICE

Fill small glass cups with strained orange-juice and set each in the center of a plate filled with cracked ice. This makes a delicious and beautiful fruit course for breakfast.

STUFFED PEACHES

Pare large peaches and cut a slice from the top of each. Remove the pits without breaking the fruit and fill the hollow with nuts or with any chopped fruit, such as apples, citron or raisins. Sprinkle with sugar and a little cinnamon or nutmeg. Pour custard over the peaches and bake. Or serve cold soft custard with the uncooked chilled fruit.

SLICED BANANAS

Chill and slice well ripened bananas, serve with cream or lemon-juice and sugar.

FRESH FRUIT CUP

No. 1.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1/2 pineapple</th>
<th>3 oranges</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 cup strawberries</td>
<td>2 tablespoons lemon-juice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 well ripened bananas</td>
<td>Sugar</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Peel and dice the pineapple, bananas and oranges. Wash and hull the strawberries. Mix all together, with the lemon-juice and sugar, and set in the refrigerator until very cold.
FRUIT DESSERTS

No. 2—Peel and slice oranges and arrange in a glass dish alternate layers of oranges and sugar until all the fruit is used. Whip some sweet cream very stiff, sweeten and flavor it and spread it over the oranges. Serve very cold. Crushed pineapple and sliced bananas may be added, if desired.

No. 3.

3 oranges
1 cup diced pineapple

3 well ripened bananas
1 cup moist coconut

With a sharp knife cut the orange and pineapple into thick slices, then cut them into bits free from seeds and membrane. Slice the bananas thin. Arrange alternate layers of the different fruits in a deep dish and sprinkle each layer with sugar and coconut. Over the whole pour any fruit-juice. Serve very cold.

MACÉDOINE OF FRUIT

3 peaches
3 pears
1/2 cup diced pineapple
1/2 cup diced watermelon

1 cup raspberries
1/3 cup sugar

Pare and slice peaches and pears, cut pineapple and melon in small pieces, mix fruit and sugar, and chill for one hour. Serve in glasses, adding one tablespoon whipped cream to each glass just before serving. A berry or piece of pineapple placed on the cream gives color to the dish.

VERMONT QUARTERED APPLES

6 firm, tart apples
4 tablespoons shaved maple sugar
3 tablespoons butter

1 cup boiling water

Pare, quarter and core the apples, and place on an earthenware pie-plate. Mix the maple sugar, butter and boiling water and boil for five minutes. Pour this sauce over the apples, place in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) and bake until the apples are soft. Baste occasionally with the hot sirup. This makes a delicious dessert served with cream. It may also be served in the baking-dish with duck or goose.
APPLE SAUCE

No. 1—Wash, pare, quarter and core sour, juicy apples. Place them in a porcelain kettle with just enough water to keep them from burning and boil until tender. Add sugar to taste and boil a few minutes longer. Serve hot or cold.

A few whole cloves or a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg or a little lemon-juice or a few seedless raisins may be cooked with the apples. Brown or maple sugar may be used instead of white.

No. 2—Prepare as for No. 1 but place in a baking dish with just enough water to start them cooking. Sprinkle with sugar. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) until the apples are soft but not broken. Add more sugar and a little boiling water if necessary, and cook, uncovered, until the top is slightly browned.

No. 3—Wash, quarter and core but do not pare apples. Cut out any bad spots. Stew until tender with just enough water to keep them from sticking to the pan. Rub through a colander or coarse strainer, add sugar to taste, and stir until the sugar is dissolved.

APPLE OR OTHER FRUIT SNOW

\begin{align*}
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup sour apple pulp} & \quad \text{Lemon-juice} \\
\text{Sugar} & \quad 3 \text{ egg-whites}
\end{align*}

Pare, quarter and steam enough apples to make the required amount of apple pulp. Press through a sieve. Add sugar and lemon-juice to taste and fold into stiffly beaten whites very gradually. Pile on a glass dish, chill and serve with custard sauce or cream.

Other fruits may be used in the same way. Uncooked fruit pulp may be used by grating fresh fruit and covering it at once with lemon-juice to prevent discoloration.

BLUSHING APPLES

\begin{align*}
6 \text{ red apples} & \quad 1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups water} \\
1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups sugar} & \quad \text{Juice of 1 lemon} \\
\text{Juice and grated rind of 1 orange} & \quad \text{Whipped cream}
\end{align*}

Wash and core the apples. Cook until they are tender in sirup made of the sugar and water, turning so that they will cook evenly. Carefully remove the skin, scraping the red pulp from it and pasting it back on the sides of the apple. Put the apples in a serving dish. Boil the sirup down to one cup and add the grated rind and the juice of one orange, the juice of one lemon, and, if desired, nuts, candied orange peel or raisins. Pour sirup over the apples and serve with whipped cream.

JELLIED APPLES

Pare and core the required number of apples and bake, steam or boil in sirup until tender. Cool. Cover the bottoms of individual molds with lemon jelly, put in apples and cover with jelly. Unmold and serve with meringue or whipped cream.

BAKED APPLES

Select sound apples; core them and place from one teaspoon to one tablespoon of sugar in each cavity. Place the apples in a baking-dish, add water to cover the bottom of the dish, and bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) until tender.

Sour apples cook more quickly than sweet ones, and summer or fall apples take less time to cook than winter apples.

Baked apples may be varied by filling the centers with brown sugar and raisins, sections of bananas, red cinnamon candies, marshmallow, marmalade or jelly, honey or corn sirup and lemon-juice, nuts, candied orange-peel, candied pineapple, preserved ginger, canned or fresh berries, peaches and other fruits or left-over fruit-juice. Meringues, custard sauce, whipped cream or marshmallow sauce may be used as garnish.

BAKED STUFFED APPLES

| 6 large tart red apples | 1 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1 cup chopped bananas | Chopped nut-meats |
| 1 cup chopped cranberries | Whipped cream |
| 1 cup sugar |

Cut off the stem end of the apples, but do not peel them. Remove all the core and part of the pulp, leaving the walls of the cup about three-fourths inch thick. Mix bananas, cranberries, sugar, and cinnamon. Fill the cavities in the apples with this mixture, cover with chopped nut-meats, and bake in the oven (350°-375° F.) until tender. Serve cold with a spoonful of whipped cream on top of each apple.
STEAMED APPLES

Core the apples, fill cavities with sugar and put in a saucepan with hot water about an inch deep. Cover and cook slowly, turning the apples over once. This will steam the apples and, if they are red, will preserve their color. These resemble baked apples and the same variations may be used.

BAKED STUFFED PEARS

Pare and core large pears and stuff with seeded dates, raisins or chopped nuts with some tart marmalade or shredded coconut. Place close together in a baking-dish, cover bottom of pan with water and bake slowly until tender.

MERINGUED PEARS

6 large pears
6 tablespoons sugar
Grated lemon-rind
Candied ginger
3 egg-whites
¼ cup powdered sugar

Pare and core the pears, place them in a baking-dish and fill the center of each with one tablespoon sugar and a little grated lemon-rind or candied ginger. Add three or four tablespoons of water and bake until tender. Cover them with a meringue made with the stiffly beaten egg-whites and the sugar. Brown quickly.

STEWED RHUBARB

Wash, but do not peel, the rhubarb and cut it in one-inch pieces. Add one-half as much sugar as rhubarb, put in a saucepan with just enough water to keep the fruit from burning. Very little water is needed, as rhubarb provides its own moisture. Cook rapidly until tender.

BAKED RHUBARB

Prepare as for stewing, using same proportion of sugar and rhubarb, and bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.). Bake until the rhubarb is reduced to a soft, red pulp.

Dried Fruits

If prepared carefully, most dried fruits retain their flavor. Except for some of the vitamins, none of the food values of the product are lost in drying, for this method of preservation only drives off the moisture of perishable foods through evaporation. The modern method of drying fruit makes it unnecessary to soak the present day product. Dried fruits are edible as they come from the package, or may be plumped slightly by immersing in hot water.

Quick cooking without soaking saves the sugar of the fruit, allows a firmer texture and improves the flavor. Rinse the fruit, cover generously with water and boil briskly until very tender. Apples and apricots require 40 minutes, figs 20-30, peaches 50, pears 40, prunes 45-50 and raisins 10. Add sugar to taste during the last 5 minutes of cooking to all fruit except figs which must be cooked with sugar for at least 15 minutes.

Stick cinnamon, cloves or lemon juice may be added for flavor variety.

There are endless ways in which dried fruit may be used for garnishes, salads, cakes, cookies, breads and desserts.

APRICOT OR PRUNE WHIP

1½ cups sweetened apricot or prune pulp
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup sugar
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Mix pulp, lemon juice and salt together. Beat sugar into egg whites, fold in fruit mixture and serve garnished with chopped nuts. If desired this mixture may be piled lightly into a buttered baking dish and baked in a slow oven (275° F.) 30 to 45 minutes.

STEAMED FIGS

18 pulled figs
2 tablespoons water
1 orange
3 teaspoons confectioners’ sugar
3/4 cup cream

Wash the figs and cut out the stem end. Soak several hours, or overnight. Cook in a double boiler slowly until tender. Arrange the hot figs in individual dessert dishes around a central small mound of orange portions which have been skinned and sprinkled with sugar. Border with sweetened whipped cream slightly flavored with orange juice.
KNICKERBOCKER FIGS

1/2 pound figs
Maraschino cherries
Pecan meats
1/4 cup orange-juice
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons lemon-juice

Stuff the figs with cherries and broken nut-meats, allowing two cherries and five nut-meats to each fig. Mix the orange-juice, sugar, and lemon-juice, add the figs, cover and simmer until the figs are tender. Drain, cool and serve in individual paper cases.

RHUBARB SCALLOP WITH MERINGUE

1/2 pound rhubarb
1 cup granulated sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 small sponge cake
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Wash and peel rhubarb and cut in 1-inch pieces; add sugar, orange rind and salt, mixing well. Cut sponge cake in thin slices; line bottom of greased baking dish with 3 or 4 slices; cover with 1/4 of rhubarb. Continue to make alternate layers of cake and fruit until material is used. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff; add sugar slowly, beating until blended. Pile on baked pudding and bake 15 minutes longer, or until meringue is slightly browned.

SOUTHERN FRIED APPLES

Core but do not peel, medium-sized Jonathan or Spitzenberg apples. Slice 1/2 inch thick to make perfect rings. Heat 1/3 cup butter in thick-walled skillet—aluminum, chrome or steel—until light brown. Fit in the apple slices to cover bottom without breaking. Mix 3/3 cup sugar with 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon and dash of salt. Cover apples with 1/2 the mixture. After 5 minutes turn the slices with pancake turner to avoid breaking. Cover with remaining sugar mixture. Fry over low flame until almost transparent. If too well done, they break easily. Serve hot.
CUSTARDS, GELATIN AND CREAM DESSERTS

MOST desserts made with eggs, cream and gelatin, or with any one or two of these ingredients, are best served very cold. The mechanical refrigerator is excellent for chilling such desserts.

Custards

A custard is a mixture of cooked egg and milk, flavored. Starchy material is sometimes used to replace part of the eggs. Custards are classified according to the method used in cooking them; those cooked over hot water and stirred throughout the cooking process are known as soft or stirred custards—erroneously, as boiled custards; those set in hot water and cooked in the oven (oven-poaching) are firm or baked custards.

The firmness of a custard depends on the proportion of eggs to milk. (See "Useful Facts about Eggs.") The finest-grained custards are those in which the yolks predominate.

If fresh milk is not available, an unsweetened canned milk or milk powder may be used with excellent results.

No. 1. PLAIN SOFT CUSTARD

2 cups milk
2 whole eggs or
4 egg-yolks

1/8 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Scald the milk in the top of the double boiler. Beat together slightly the eggs, sugar and salt. Add the hot milk to the egg mixture, mix thoroughly and return to the top of the double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the egg coats the spoon.

No. 2—If eggs are expensive, modify the recipe for soft custard by substituting one teaspoon of corn-starch for one egg-yolk or two teaspoons for two egg-yolks or one whole egg. Make the milk and starch into a sauce and cook over hot water twenty to thirty minutes before adding any eggs.
VARIATIONS OF PLAIN SOFT CUSTARD

Coffee—Use recipe for soft custard, substituting one cup of very strong coffee for one of the cups of milk.

Caramel—Caramelize one-fourth cup sugar and add to one cup scalded milk.

Follow recipe for soft custard, using this milk with caramel as part of the milk, and using in addition the full amount of sugar called for in the recipe.

Chocolate—Melt one ounce of chocolate and add to it two tablespoons of sugar dissolved in two tablespoons of boiling water. Mix thoroughly. Add this chocolate mixture to two cups of scalded milk and use as the milk in a plain soft custard.

WAYS OF SERVING SOFT CUSTARD

Soft custard may be served in sherbet cups, frappé glasses or deep sauce dishes, garnished with whipped cream and pieces of tart jelly.

It may be poured over fresh fruit.

It may be poured over lady fingers or sponge cake and may then be garnished with meringue or whipped cream.

It may be served as a sauce for most gelatin dishes.

It is an excellent foundation for ice-creams.

FLOATING ISLAND

2 cups milk
3 eggs
\( \frac{1}{8} \) teaspoon salt

6 to 8 tablespoons sugar
\( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon vanilla

Follow directions for soft custard, using two egg-yolks and one whole egg. Cool and turn the custard into a glass dish or into custard cups. Beat the two egg-whites until stiff and beat into them two to four tablespoons of fine granulated or powdered sugar. Drop this meringue by spoonfuls on the custard and chill thoroughly. A candied cherry or a small bit of red jelly placed on each spoonful of meringue adds to the attractive appearance of the dish.
CARAMEL PUDDING

1 cup brown sugar  \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup flour
2 cups milk  2 eggs

Mix sugar and one and one-half cups of milk. Scald in double boiler until sugar is dissolved. Mix flour with beaten egg-yolks and the remaining half cup of milk and add to the hot milk, stirring constantly until it thickens. Remove from fire and fold in stiffly beaten egg-whites. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

ORANGE FOOL

6 oranges  Sugar
3 eggs  Nutmeg
2 cups cream  Cinnamon

Squeeze and strain the juice from the oranges. Beat the eggs and add to them the cream and the orange-juice. Sweeten to taste. Add a sprinkle of grated nutmeg and powdered cinnamon, and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until the mixture coats the spoon. Pour into glass dishes and chill thoroughly before serving.

PLAIN BAKED CUSTARD

2 cups scalded milk  \( \frac{1}{8} \) teaspoon salt
3 eggs  \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons sugar

Scald the milk. Mix sugar, eggs, salt and flavoring and combine with scalded milk. Pour into custard cups or baking-dish set in pan of hot water and poach in a slow oven (300° F.) until firm. A knife blade run into the center of the custard will come out clean.

VARIATIONS OF BAKED CUSTARD

Caramel.

No. 1—Caramelize one-fourth cup of sugar and add to two cups of scalded milk. Use as the liquid in a plain baked custard.

No. 2—Caramelize one-half cup of sugar. Pour into a mold or pour a little into each of six custard cups. Before it hardens, move the mold about so that the caramel will coat the sides. When the caramel is hard, fill the molds with plain baked custard mixture and bake as directed for baked custard. These custards are unmolded and served either hot or cold. The caramel melts during the cooking process and when the custard is turned into a dish forms a sauce around it.

Cocoa—Substitute cocoa, made as for drinking, for scalded milk in baked custard recipe.

Chocolate—Melt one and one-half ounces of chocolate and add to milk. Use in a plain baked custard.

Coffee—Substitute one cup of strong coffee for one cup of milk in baked custard recipe.

Gelatin and Cream Desserts

ONE QUART STANDARD GELATIN JELLY

1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
3 cups other liquid or fruit-juice
1/4 cup to 1 cup sugar (lemon-juice requires more sugar than orange-juice, and orange-juice more than coffee or cream)

Soak gelatin in cold water until soft. Add to boiling water and stir over hot water until thoroughly dissolved. The object of heating only part of the water is to hasten the cooling and solidifying of the gelatin mixture. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Add remaining liquids or fruit pulp and mix thoroughly. Pour into molds that have been dipped into cold water.

STANDARD FORMULA FOR WHIPS

Use recipe for standard gelatin jelly but leave the mixture in the bowl in which it was mixed until it begins to congeal. Then whip until it becomes light and frothy. Fold in 1 1/2 cups fruit pulp, as prune or apricot. Turn into molds and chill.

STANDARD FORMULA FOR SPONGES

Use recipe for standard gelatin jelly with these exceptions: use three-eighths cup instead of one-half cup cold liquid; whip the congealing jelly and add beaten whites of two eggs after jelly begins to congeal.

Any Fruit Sponge may be made into a delicious semi-frozen dessert by substituting cream for egg-white and chilling two to three hours. Three tablespoons cream should be substituted for each egg-white in the recipe, the other quantities remaining the same. Whip the cream and fold in, following directions given for egg-white.

STANDARD FORMULA FOR CHARLOTTE OR BAVARIAN CREAM

Use recipe for standard gelatin jelly with these exceptions: Use one-quarter cup instead of one-half cup cold liquid and add one-quarter cup cream, which should be beaten and folded in after the mixture begins to congeal. Part cream and part whipped egg-white may be used if you prefer.

LEMON JELLY

| 1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin | 2 1/4 cups ice-water |
| 1/2 cup cold water | 1 cup sugar |
| 1/2 cup boiling water | 3/4 cup lemon-juice |
| | A little lemon-rind |

Combine as directed for standard gelatin jelly. Serve with cream or soft custard.

SNOW PUDDING OR LEMON WHIP

When lemon jelly begins to congeal, beat it thoroughly with an egg-beater. Mold. When cold and jellied, serve with soft custard.

LEMON SPONGE

Reduce the ice-water in lemon jelly to two cups. When the jelly begins to congeal, whip until light and frothy and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Serve with cream or soft custard.

ORANGE JELLY

| 1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin | 1 cup ice-water |
| 1/2 cup cold water | 1 1/2 cups orange-juice |
| 1/2 cup boiling water | 3 to 4 tablespoons lemon-juice |
| 1 cup sugar | A little grated orange-rind (may be omitted) |

Combine as directed for standard gelatin jelly.
ORANGE WHIP

When orange jelly begins to congeal, whip until light and frothy. Mold.

ORANGE SPONGE

Reduce the ice-water in orange jelly to one-half cup. When the jelly begins to congeal, whip until light and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs.

ORANGE CHARLOTTE OR BAVARIAN CREAM

Omit the ice-water in orange jelly. When the jelly begins to congeal, fold in one cup of whipping cream beaten to a stiff froth. The jelly may be whipped before adding the cream, if desired. It makes a more delicate product.

FRUIT JELLIES, WHIPS, SPONGES, CHARLOTTEs OR BAVARIAN CREAMs

Use recipe for orange jelly, orange sponge, or orange charlotte or Bavarian cream, substituting one and one-half cups of any other fruit pulp or juice for one and one-half cups of orange-juice. If stewed sweetened fruit pulp is used, reduce the amount of sugar proportionately. Fresh raspberries, strawberries and peaches make particularly good sponges and Bavarian creams.

COFFEE JELLY

1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar
3 cups strong coffee

Combine as directed for standard gelatin jelly. Particularly good served with whipped cream.

FIG AND GINGER PUDDING

1/2 pound crystallized ginger
1 1/2 pounds figs
2 cups sugar
5 cups water
1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger
1/2 ounce (1 tablespoon) granulated gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
Whipped cream

Cut the crystallized ginger and figs into tiny pieces. Dissolve the granulated sugar in the water, and add the powdered ginger, the crystallized ginger and the figs. Place all in a double boiler and simmer slowly all day. The entire mass must form a soft pulp so that the ingredients will scarcely be recognized. Soften the gelatin in the cold water and stir into the mixture while hot. Turn into high-stemmed glasses and serve ice cold with whipped cream.

GRAPEFRUIT À LA ST. PATRICK

- 1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- ½ cup boiling water
- Fresh mint

Cut the grapefruit in half, crosswise, and scoop out the pulp being careful not to cut the skins. Drop the shells into cold water until needed. Simmer a few sprigs of fresh mint in the boiling water until the flavor is extracted. Follow the standard directions for making jelly. When jelly is firm, cut it into cubes, pile the cubes in the grapefruit shells and garnish with sprigs of mint and cherries.

MOLDED LIME FRUIT SALAD

- 1 package lime gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup cold water
- 4 slices canned pineapple
- ½ cup canned white cherries
- ¼ cup red seeded grapes, cut in fancy shapes
- 4 halved pears

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and add cold water. Set aside to cool slightly. Add fruit and pour into mold which has been rinsed out with cold water. Refrigerate to set.

Garnish—Mix cream cheese with chopped nuts and raisins; stuff pears, place in individual gelatin molds, fill with lime gelatin and allow to congeal. Use as garnish around lime mold, topped with pimiento cream cheese flower. Place decorated pineapple slices between pears. Serve with creamy eggless mayonnaise. See page 450.

Decorating Jelly

Have the mold thoroughly chilled. Pour in a layer of jelly about one-half inch deep. Chill. When firm, arrange a design of fruit or nuts or both, dropping a few drops of jelly on each piece to hold the design while the jelly hardens. When the jelly holding the design in place has congealed, add enough jelly to cover the design and let this harden. A single design may serve or alternate layers of fruit and jelly may be arranged in this way. Each layer must congeal before the next is added.

REFRIGERATOR CHEESE CAKE

\begin{align*}
&{1/2 \text{ cup melted butter}} \\
&{3/4 \text{ cup sugar}} \\
&{2 \text{ cups fine zwieback crumbs}} \\
&{2 \text{ teaspoons cinnamon}} \\
&{2 \text{ tablespoons gelatin}} \\
&{1 \text{ cup cold water}} \\
&{3 \text{ eggs, separated}} \\
&{2 \text{ cups cream cheese}} \\
&{3 \text{ tablespoons lemon juice}} \\
&{1 \text{ tablespoon grated lemon rind}} \\
&{1/4 \text{ teaspoon salt}} \\
&{1/2 \text{ cup whipping cream}}
\end{align*}

Blend butter, \(1/4\) cup sugar, crumbs and cinnamon. Press \(3/4\) of this mixture on the bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan. Soak gelatin in \(1/2\) cup cold water for 5 minutes. Cook egg-yolks, remaining sugar (\(1/2\) cup) and water (\(1/2\) cup) in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a metal spoon. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add gradually to cream cheese, add lemon juice, rind and salt, beat thoroughly. Cool, when beginning to congeal, beat several minutes with an egg beater. Whip cream and fold in with stiffly beaten egg-whites, blend thoroughly. Pour onto crumbs. Sprinkle remaining crumbs over top. Chill until firm. Serves 10 to 12.

For variety use crumbs made from graham crackers, vanilla wafers, gingersnaps, chocolate cookies, browned dried bread crumbs, crushed cornflakes or other suitably prepared breakfast foods in place of zwieback.

GELATIN BLANC MANGE

\begin{align*}
&{1 \text{ pint milk}} \\
&{1/4 \text{ cup sugar}} \\
&{11/2 \text{ teaspoons granulated gelatin}} \\
&{1 \text{ teaspoon vanilla}} \\
&{1 \text{ tablespoon water}}
\end{align*}
\]

Heat the milk in the top of a double boiler. Add the gelatin softened in the cold water. Stir constantly, adding the sugar a little at a time. Cook over hot water for fifteen minutes.
CUSTARDS, GELATIN, ETC.

stirring frequently. Strain into molds that have been dipped in cold water and chill. Serve with cream.

CHOCOLATE—Dissolve one square bitter chocolate, add the milk and sugar, using one-third cup sugar, before adding the gelatin.

CHOCOLATE CREAM

| 6 tablespoons cocoa | ½ teaspoon salt |
| ⅓ cup sugar | 1 pint cream |
| 3 tablespoons water | 1 egg |

Mix cocoa, sugar and water, and cook over the fire, stirring until thick and smooth. Cool slightly and pour over stiffly whipped cream, and beat thoroughly with a spoon. Add egg and again beat well. Chill in refrigerator, allowing an hour and a half or two hours for a mechanical refrigerator and longer for an ice-cooled refrigerator.

No. 1.

VELVET CREAM

| ½ ounce (1 tablespoon) granulated gelatin | 4 tablespoons powdered sugar |
| ¼ cup cold water | 1 pint cream |
| ¼ cup boiling water | 1 teaspoon vanilla |

Follow standard directions for making the jelly. As soon as it begins to congeal, add the cream. Flavor with vanilla. Turn into a mold and place on ice to harden. Serve with maple sauce.

No. 2—Use same ingredients as for preceding recipe. Whip the cream and fold into it the dissolved gelatin and sugar mixture. Mold.

SPANISH CREAM

| 1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin | ¼ teaspoon salt |
| ½ cup cold water | 2 eggs |
| ½ cup hot milk | 2¼ cups cold milk |
| ⅔ cup sugar | 1 teaspoon vanilla |

Make a custard of the egg-yolks, sugar and hot milk. Add the softened gelatin. Proceed as for standard sponge mixtures. Mold, chill and serve with whipped cream.
PLAIN BAVARIAN CREAM

1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold water
Salt
1 pint scalded milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg-yolks
1 pint heavy cream

Soak the gelatin in cold water until soft. Make a soft custard of the milk, egg-yolks, sugar and flavoring. Stir the softened gelatin into the hot custard. When the gelatin has dissolved, strain and cool. Whip the cream and fold it in as the mixture congeals.

RICE BAVARIAN

1 1/2 pints milk
Lemon-peel
1/2 cup rice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon flavoring
1 ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup heavy cream
Strawberries

Put the milk and a few thin cuts of lemon-peel into a double boiler. When it is hot, stir in the well-washed rice and salt. Cook until the rice is perfectly tender. The milk should be nearly absorbed, leaving the rice very moist. Add to the hot cooked rice the flavoring, the sugar and the gelatin, which has been soaked in the cold water, and mix carefully. When the mixture is beginning to set, fold in the cream, whipped stiff. Pour into a mold and chill. Serve with sweetened crushed strawberries. The white mold with red sauce makes a charming combination.

MONT BLANC

1 pound large chestnuts
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup sugar
Whipped cream

Put the chestnuts into the oven for a moment, until the shell and inner skin can be easily removed. Boil the skinned chestnuts in water with the salt and three tablespoons of the sugar, until they are very tender. Add one-half cup sugar to the water and chestnuts and let stand until thoroughly cold. Remove chestnuts from this sirup and run them through a potato-ricer on to a platter, mounding it high. Save a few of the finest whole pieces to decorate the dish. Top the mound with a spoonful of sweetened whipped cream, and put a border of whipped cream around the edge of the dish, dotting it with the whole nuts here and there.

MACAROON BISQUE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1 cup heavy cream</th>
<th>18 macaroons</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Powdered sugar</td>
<td>6 maraschino cherries</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanilla</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Whip a cup of cream until stiff, sweeten with powdered sugar and flavor lightly with vanilla. Stir in six macaroons broken in small pieces, but not powdered. Pile in sherbet glasses with a border of the whole macaroons and decorate with marshmallows or maraschino cherries. This is an excellent emergency dessert.

PINEAPPLE AMBROSIA

| 1 fresh pineapple or | 1 cup heavy cream |
| 1 can crushed pineapple | 2 tablespoons sugar |
| ½ pound marshmallows | 1½ tablespoons lemon-juice |

Shred the pineapple with a fork. Cut the marshmallows into small pieces, using a pair of scissors. Mix the pineapple and marshmallows and let stand on ice until thoroughly chilled. Just before serving, whip the cream and add the sugar to it. Add lemon-juice to the pineapple mixture and then fold in the whipped cream. Serve immediately in individual glasses or in a large dessert dish.

FRUIT FLUFF

| 1 cup powdered sugar | 4 cups sliced peaches or apple sauce or berries |
| 1 cup thick cream   |                                          |
| 2 egg-whites       |                                          |

Add half the sugar to the cream, stir until the sugar is dissolved, and then add the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Place the sliced peaches in a dish, sprinkle them with the remainder of the sugar, pour on the cream mixture, and serve at once. The success of this depends upon its being thoroughly chilled when served. The cream, egg-whites and fruit should be chilled for at least two hours before the dish is to be prepared, and the finished dessert should be kept in the refrigerator until needed.

A cool creamy slice of Charlotte Russe rises to the occasion on a hot summer day.

Irradiated Evaporated Milk Institute

Smooth, chilled melon mold of Bavarian cream is the fitting climax to a warm-weather meal.
FIG PUFF

1 cup cream 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 egg-white Chopped figs
1 tablespoon grapefruit marmalade Maraschino cherries
Shredded almonds

Whip the cream until thick. Beat the egg-white until stiff, then combine with the cream and add the sugar and marmalade. Stir chopped figs into the mixture until it becomes very thick. Pack in long-stemmed glasses. This may be garnished by sprinkling the top with macaroon crumbs. Arrange a half maraschino cherry with radiating strips of almonds in the center of each.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE

No. 1—Line a number of small molds, or one large deep mold, with a thin layer of cake. Thin sponge cake that has been cut with a sharp knife, when cold, into two layers of equal thickness is considered attractive, but halved lady fingers or pieces of any plain cake cut one-half inch thick may be used. Charlottes are made with and without tops, according to taste or convenience.

Fill the forms with whipped cream sweetened with powdered sugar and any desired flavoring. To make sure that the cream is sufficiently stiff, fold into it lightly the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs to each pint of cream. Keep the charlottes on ice until needed, and serve on chilled plates.

No. 2—Substitute velvet cream (See Index) for the whipped cream mixture in the preceding recipe.

MAPLE CHARLOTTE RUSSE

\[\frac{1}{2} \text{ ounce (1 tablespoon)} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup brown sugar}\]
\[\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup maple sirup}\]
\[\text{granulated gelatin}\]
\[\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup cold water}\]
\[\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup scalded milk}\]
\[1 \text{ teaspoon vanilla}\]
\[1 \text{ pint heavy cream}\]
\[1 \text{ pint heavy cream}\]

Follow standard formula for charlotte or Bavarian cream (See Index). Line molds with lady fingers and fill with the cream mixture. Chill, unmold and serve.
ICE BOX CAKES

General Directions—Line the bottom and sides of a spring form melon mold or deep cake form with lady fingers, separated and placed with the rounded side toward the pan. Place them as close together as possible. Prepare any of the fillings and proceed as follows:

Place a layer of the filling on the lady fingers at the bottom of the form. On top of this arrange another layer of lady fingers, then another layer of filling, and so on, placing lady fingers on top like the spokes of a wheel.

Set in the refrigerator or other cold place and let it stand twenty to twenty-four hours. When ready to serve, remove the rim of the form, place the cake with the tin bottom on a platter, cover the top with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Decorate, if desired, with pistachio or other nut-meats or with candied cherries.

- 1 cup unsalted butter
- 1½ cups powdered sugar
- ½ pound blanched and grated almonds

18 lady fingers
30 macaroons

Line the bottom of the mold with stout waxed paper. Separate the lady fingers and place the halves close together on the sides of the pan, rounded ends cut off and rounded sides toward the pan. Mix egg yolks, sugar and lemon juice and cook over hot water 5 minutes, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Fold gently into stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill.
HOT AND COLD PUDDINGS

THE temperature at which a pudding is served depends somewhat upon the nature of the pudding. However, soufflés, must be served hot because they begin to fall as soon as they are taken from the oven; and certain others, such as the steamed puddings and baked batters or doughs, become soggy when cold.

Some puddings may be chilled almost to the point of freezing, and for these the mechanical refrigerator is very satisfactory. Use the ring mold for both hot and cold puddings, unmold on the serving plate and serve with the bowl of sauce or cream in the center. See page 344.

Puddings that May be Served Either Hot or Cold

BREAD PUDDING

2 cups stale bread, 2 eggs
1 quart milk 1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup raisins if desired

Soak the bread in the milk until it is very soft, then mash it fine. Heat together until nearly boiling. Beat the eggs until light and add to them the sugar, salt and vanilla. When well mixed, stir this into the bread and milk, pour the whole into an earthenware baking-dish, set in a pan of water, and bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.).

CHOCOLATE BREAD PUDDING—Melt two squares of chocolate over hot water and add this to the soaked bread and milk.

COCONUT PUDDING

1/2 cup bread-crumbs 3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup moist coconut 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk 1 tablespoon butter or other fat
1 egg

Soak the bread and coconut in the milk until soft, then mash and add the sugar, salt and melted fat. Beat the white and yolk of the egg separately; add the yolk to the mixture, then fold in the white. Pour into a greased baking-dish, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (250°-300° F.).

SPICE PUDDING

1 cup raisins
1 egg
½ cup sugar
2 cups milk
1½ cups fresh bread-crumbs
1 teaspoon cinnamon

½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon melted butter or other fat
½ teaspoon salt

Seed the raisins and cut them in half. Beat the egg light, add the sugar and then the milk and pour the whole over the crumbs. Add the spice, fat, salt and raisins, stir well, pour into a baking-dish, set in a pan of water, and bake until firm in a slow oven (250°-350° F.). Serve hot or cold, with any desired sauce.

QUEEN OF PUDDINGS

2 cups stale bread-crumbs
1 quart scalded milk
3 eggs
½ cup sugar

Currant jelly or plum jam
2 tablespoons sugar for meringue

Soak the crumbs in the hot milk until soft; then add the egg-yolks mixed with the sugar, pour into a baking-dish set in a pan of water, and bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) about an hour, or until custard is set. When cool, spread a thick layer of the jelly or jam over the top. Beat the egg-whites until stiff, add the sugar gradually and beat until stiff, spread this meringue on top of the jam and place in the oven until a delicate brown. Serve hot or cold, with cream.

ORANGE AND RICE

Pare oranges, cut in half crosswise and remove the core. Cook the halves, until they are tender but not broken, in a sirup made from equal parts of sugar and water, to which a little lemon-juice has been added.

Place around a mound of boiled rice and pour the sirup over the whole. Serve with plain or whipped cream, or a custard sauce. Serve hot or cold.
CREAMY RICE PUDDING

3 tablespoons rice
1 tablespoon sugar
1 quart milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg

Wash the rice thoroughly, add the other ingredients and pour into a greased baking-dish. Bake from one and one-half to two hours in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) stirring several times. The mixture should not boil.

This is the old-fashioned creamy pudding which has such a delicious flavor because of the long slow cooking. One-half cup of raisins may be added, if desired. Serve hot or cold.

APPLE OR OTHER FRUIT TAPIOCa

1 cup any fresh fruit, such as has been soaked but not cooked apples, peaches, apricots, sour cherries and cranberries or 1 cup any dried fruit which
3/4 cup granulated tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
3 cups cold water

Cook the tapioca and water in a double boiler until transparent. Pare and core the apples or prepare the other fruit, place in a baking-dish, sprinkle with sugar, pour over the sweetened fruit the tapioca, cover and bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) until the apples or other fruit are perfectly tender. For the last ten minutes, remove the cover so that the surface of the pudding may brown slightly. Serve hot or cold, with cream.

CREAM TAPIOCa

1 1/2 tablespoons granulated tapioca
2 cups scalded milk
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Add the tapioca to the milk and cook in a double boiler until the tapioca is transparent. Add half the sugar to the milk and half to the salt and the egg-yolks, slightly beaten. Pour the hot mixture slowly over the egg mixture; return to the double boiler and cook until it thickens. Remove from the heat and add the stiffly beaten egg-whites and the flavoring. Turn into the serving dish and serve hot or cold.
With Fruit—Allow the cream tapioca to cool and turn it over sliced oranges or other cut fruit. Chill and serve.

| 1 cup peaches | ¼ cup bread-crumbs or cake-crumbs |
| 1 quart apples | ¼ cup water |
| ¼ teaspoon salt | |

Grease a baking-dish with the fat. Chop the peaches and put half of them in the bottom of the dish. Pare and quarter the apples and lay half of them over the peaches. Sprinkle with salt, add the other half of the peaches, and then the apples, and sprinkle again with salt. Scatter the sugar over the top, then the crumbs, then pour the water over all. Cover the dish and bake in a slow oven (250°-350° F.) from forty-five to sixty minutes, removing the cover after thirty minutes. Serve hot or cold, with or without whipped cream or marshmallows.

Puddings That Should Be Served Hot

SOUFFLÉS

| 1 cup fruit pulp | 3 egg-whites |
| Sugar | Salt |

Any kind of fruit, either fresh or preserved, may be used. When canned fruit is used, drain from sirup. Rub the fruit pulp through a sieve, add a pinch of salt, sweeten if necessary, and heat. Fold the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs into the hot fruit pulp. Fill a greased baking-dish or small molds three-fourths full, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until firm. Serve at once with whipped cream or a soft custard.

Any fresh or canned fruit that is not too juicy may be used, or dried fruit that has been soaked. Apricots, peaches and blackberries are particularly delicious.

BROWN BETTY

This pudding is usually made with apples, but almost any other fruit may be used instead of or in combination with them. Peaches, apricots and rhubarb are especially good. Serve hot with cream or with any preferred sauce, or without a sauce.

Fill a greased baking-dish half full of the fruit, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon or nutmeg, add the water to make a little juice and cover with a baking-powder biscuit crust. Bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) until the crust is thoroughly baked and the fruit tender. If the crust becomes too brown before it is cooked through, reduce the heat slightly after the first twenty minutes. A thick crust of this kind is more easily baked if a small opening is left in the middle. With a rolled crust a piece may be cut out with a tiny cookie cutter. If the crust is dropped from the spoon it may be placed around the edge of the dish so that there is a small opening in the center.

Bake in sheets for a large shortcake or cut with a biscuit cutter or bake in muffin tins for individual shortcakes. Bake in a very hot oven (450°-460° F.) twelve to fifteen minutes. When done, split into two parts, butter and put crushed sweetened fruit between the layers and on top. Serve hot with cream.

Any fresh berries, peaches, oranges, bananas, or stewed fruits, fresh or dried, may be used for shortcake.

FRUIT DUMPLINGS

Make a baking-powder biscuit dough, adding a little more shortening than when making biscuit. Roll one-fourth inch thick and cut into five-inch squares. Place a mound of fruit, pared, cored, or whole, in the center of each square. If large fruit is used, it should first be cooked five or ten minutes. Sprinkle the fruit with sugar and cinnamon or nutmeg. Moisten the edges of the dough with water or cold milk and fold so that the corners will meet in the center. Press the edges lightly together.

The tops may be brushed with beaten egg, melted fat or milk, and sprinkled with sugar. Place dumplings in a greased pan with a small amount of boiling water and bake in a very hot oven (450° F.) until crust and fruit are cooked. Serve with cream or a sauce.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

1 pound chopped suet
2 cups crumbs
2 pounds raisins
1 teaspoon mixed spices
1 pound currants
2 cups brown sugar
1 pound mixed peel
8 eggs
2 cups flour

Mix the suet, the fruit and the chopped peel and dredge with some of the flour. Mix together the remaining flour, crumbs, spices and sugar, and add the well-beaten eggs. Stir the fruit and suet into this mixture and mix the whole thoroughly. Put into greased molds or into pudding cloths. Drop into a kettle of boiling water and boil from five to seven hours, according to the size of the pudding. Serve with hard sauce or any desired liquid sauce.
Steamed Puddings

APPLE, OR OTHER FRUIT ROLY-POLY

Make a baking-powder biscuit dough and roll it into a sheet about one-fourth of an inch thick. Spread it thickly with sliced apples, and sprinkle over them sugar and cinnamon. Roll up the dough as for jelly roll, pressing the overlapping parts of the dough well to the body of the pudding and also press the ends well to prevent the escape of the juices. Roll and tie in a cloth, leaving room for the pudding to expand, place on a plate, cover carefully and set in a steamer over a kettle of hot water and steam one and one-half hours. Serve hot with apple sauce or any other sauce desired.

This may be baked if apples that cook quickly are used. Cherries, cranberries or other fruit may be used instead of apples.

CARROT PUDDING

1½ cups crumbs
1 tablespoon shortening or ½ cup fine chopped suet
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup grated carrots
1 teaspoon baking-powder
1 cup molasses
½ cup chopped dates or prunes
½ cup raisins
½ cup chopped figs
½ cup ground nuts
½ lemon

Brown the crumbs and mix them with the fat. Salt the carrots, which have been grated or put through the meat-grinder, and add them to the crumbs. Next add the molasses, the fruit, nuts, lemon-juice and grated rind. Mix all well together and stir in the baking-powder. Turn into a well-greased mold and steam for four or five hours. Serve with a raisin sauce.

FRUIT PUDDING

3½ cups mixed fruit and juice
½ cup shortening

Cream, sherry wine

Place fruit in deep baking dish, cover and boil. Cream the shortening and sugar, add the beaten eggs and beat well. Sift together the flour and baking-powder and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Add flavoring. Mix to smooth batter and pour over boiling fruit mixture. Cook 40

1/2 cup corn-meal 1/2 teaspoon each, mace, cloves, allspice, ginger
4 teaspoons baking-powder 4 teaspoons baking-powder
1/2 teaspoon soda

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, excepting the white flour. Add molasses and milk to cracklings. Combine mixtures. Mix white flour and raisins and add to mixture. Turn into greased mold. Cover and steam three hours. Serve with caramel or lemon sauce.

No. 2.

1 cup graham flour 1 cup molasses
1 cup white flour 1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon salt 1 egg
\(\frac{3}{4}\) teaspoon soda 1 cup raisins

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, keeping out one-half cup of flour to sift over the raisins. Add the molasses, milk and beaten egg. Mix well, then add the raisins which have been dredged with flour. Pour into greased molds and steam two and one-half hours. Serve with any sauce desired.

STEAMED MARMALADE PUDDING

1 cup flour 4 eggs
\(\frac{1}{2}\) cup shortening 4 tablespoons marmalade
\(\frac{1}{2}\) cup sugar 2 teaspoons baking-powder

Beat the shortening and sugar, add the flour and baking-powder, sifted together, and the eggs, well beaten. Mix well. Spread the marmalade in the bottom of a mold, pour the batter on top, cover the mold and steam for one and one-half hours.

STEAMED PEACH PUDDING

3 cups peaches 4 teaspoons baking-powder
2 cups flour 2 tablespoons shortening
\(\frac{1}{2}\) teaspoon salt 1 cup milk

To be successful with this kind of pudding, the cook must see that the water is boiling violently when the pudding is placed over it and must not allow it to fall below the boiling-point at any time while the pudding is cooking.

Sift the flour, salt and baking-powder together, rub in the shortening and add the milk. The result will be a dough too soft to roll out. Peel and stone the peaches and cut them into rather thick slices. Place the sliced fruit in a greased pudding-dish, spread the dough over the fruit and set the dish in a steamer over a kettle of rapidly boiling water, covering the steamer tightly. Steam for one hour. Turn the pudding out without breaking. This brings the peaches uppermost, when the pudding is sent to the table. Serve with hard sauce or any liquid sauce.
STEAMED SUET PUDDING

3 cups sifted flour 1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda 1 cup suet
1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon cloves 1 cup molasses
1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg 1 cup raisins

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, keeping one-half cup of flour to sift over the raisins. Chop the suet fine and add it to the milk and molasses. Combine the two mixtures and add the raisins, dredged with flour. Grease pudding molds or baking-powder cans and fill two-thirds full of the mixture. Cover and steam for three hours. Serve with hard sauce or any desired liquid sauce.

Cold Puddings

RICE PUDDING

2 eggs 1 1/4 cups cooked rice
2 cups milk 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup raisins 1/2 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon cinnamon or 1 tablespoon powdered sugar
nutmeg

Separate the whites and yolks of the eggs, add to the yolks two tablespoons of the milk and place the rest of the milk on the fire in a double boiler. Wash the raisins, put them in the milk and cook until soft (about fifteen minutes). Add the rice, cook five minutes longer, then stir in the yolks of the eggs and the salt, sugar and spice. Stir well, cook for two or three minutes, remove from the fire and pour the pudding into the serving-dish. Beat the whites of the eggs light, add sugar, spread the meringue on top of the pudding and brown delicately in the oven. Serve cold.

RICE AND APPLE PUDDING

8 apples 1/2 cup rice
4 tablespoons butter 8 tablespoons marmalade
4 tablespoons sugar 1/4 teaspoon salt

Cut the apples into small pieces and simmer in a saucepan with the fat and sugar and enough water to cover. Wash the rice and cook in boiling salted water until soft, then drain. Line the bottom and sides of a mold with the rice, fill the center with the apples, and spread the marmalade over them. Cover the mold with rice and bake in a slow oven (300°-350° F.) for fifteen minutes. Let stand until cold, then unmold and turn on to a platter. Serve with any desired sauce.

Apricots or other fruit may be substituted for the apples.

PEAR CONDÉ

1 cup rice
2 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
3 pears
1 quart raspberries or strawberries
1 cup sugar

Wash the rice and cook it in the boiling water until the water is absorbed, then add the salt and milk and continue cooking until the rice is soft. Put into small molds and chill. Turn out and serve on a platter surrounded by halves of pears. Fill the pear cavities with one-half the fresh raspberries or strawberries, crushed and sweetened. Pour the remainder of the crushed, sweetened berries over the rice and pears. A spoonful of whipped cream with each serving is a great addition to this dish.

NEW ENGLAND APRICOT PUDDING

½ pound dried apricots
Cinnamon toast
½ cup sugar
1 cup boiled frosting, using three egg-whites or 1 cup meringue

Soak the apricots over night. Stew until tender and add the sugar. Arrange squares of cinnamon toast in the bottom and around the sides of a pudding-dish. Pour in the boiling hot apricots, cover the dish so that no steam can escape and cool gradually. Chill and cover the top with boiled frosting garnished with bits of jelly or with meringue.

PEASANT GIRL WITH A VEIL

2 cups dried crumbs
1 cup tart jam
Whipped cream

This is a delicious Danish pudding. Crumble bits of graham or rye bread to make fine crumbs. Add a little sugar to the crumbs and heat them in slow oven until they are very dry. Cool and mix with any kind of jam, preferably a tart jam like apricot or plum. Mold, chill and serve with whipped cream.
FRUIT CHARLOTTE

Line cups with triangular pieces of sponge cake and chocolate cake, alternating. Fill the center with slices of orange and peach. Chill, turn out on a serving-plate and surround with whipped cream and blackberries. Put a spoonful of whipped cream on top and serve very cold.

SWEET STRAWBERRY OR OTHER FRUIT SHORTCAKE

\begin{align*}
\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup shortening} & \quad 1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups pastry flour} \\
\frac{3}{4} \text{ cup sugar} & \quad 2\frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoons baking-powder} \\
2 \text{ eggs} & \quad \frac{1}{4} \text{ teaspoon salt} \\
\frac{1}{2} \text{ cup milk or water} & \quad \text{Strawberries or other fruit} \end{align*}

Cream the fat, add the sugar gradually, continuing the creaming process until all is added. Separate the eggs. Beat the yolks until creamy, add to the shortening and sugar mixture and mix well. Sift the flour, measure, add the baking-powder and salt and sift again. Add the flour and milk alternately. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold into the mixture. Pour into two well-greased layer-cake tins and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.). Turn out and cool. Spread one sheet with a layer of sweetened, crushed berries or diced fruits. Cover with the other sheet and cover the whole with more fruit. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Serve at once.

RENNET-CUSTARDS

\begin{align*}
1 \text{ rennet tablet} & \quad 1 \text{ pint milk} \\
3 \text{ tablespoons sugar} & \quad 1 \text{ teaspoon vanilla}
\end{align*}

Set out 4 or 5 dessert glasses. Dissolve rennet tablet in 1 tablespoon of cold water. Warm the milk, sugar and vanilla slowly, stirring constantly, until lukewarm (110° F.)—not hot. A few drops of milk on the inside of your wrist should feel only comfortably warm. Remove from stove. If desired, add small pinch of salt. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds only. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses. Let set until it thickens—about 10 minutes. Chill rennet-custards in refrigerator. Serve in same glasses.
Rennet-custards may be served with a sauce made of a mixture of sweetened fruits such as bananas, cooked or canned pineapple, oranges and dates or crushed and sweetened berries. They may also be served with chocolate or caramel sauce.

VARIATIONS OF RENNET-CUSTARDS

Chocolate—Melt one ounce of chocolate over hot water. Add three tablespoons hot water, cook until it is smooth and add to the milk before it is heated.

Caramel—Caramelize the sugar, add sufficient hot water to dissolve the caramel and add to the milk.

With Eggs—Beat the yolks of 2 eggs with the sugar and mix with the milk before it is heated. Make a meringue of the whites by beating until stiff, then beating in sugar. Drop spoonfuls on a buttered baking sheet and bake in moderate oven at 325° F. until lightly browned. At serving time, top each dish of rennet-custard with a meringue.

CORN-STARCH BLANC MANGE

2 1/2 tablespoons corn-starch
2 to 4 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup cold milk
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Pinch salt

Mix corn-starch and sugar with one-half cup cold milk. Scald remainder of milk in top of double boiler. Carefully add the corn-starch mixture to the scalded milk, cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Cover and cook in the double boiler for forty-five minutes. Five minutes before it is finished add vanilla and salt. Turn into molds wet with cold water and refrigerate.

VARIATIONS OF CORN-STARCH BLANC MANGE

Fruited—When corn-starch blanc mange begins to set, stir in one cup of fruit, such as cherries, crushed pineapple, or raspberries.

Coconut—Add one or two cups moist coconut to corn-starch blanc mange.

Arrowroot—Use 1 cup scalded milk and 6 teaspoons arrowroot mixed with 1/2 cup cold water. Cook in double boiler 45 minutes.

Irish Moss—Soak 1/2 cup Irish moss in cold water to cover 15 minutes. Drain and add to 1 pint milk. Cook in double boiler 1/2 hour without stirring. It thickens only on cooling. Serve this as well as arrowroot with cream, sauce or fruit.
CHOCOLATE—
Corn-starch blanc mange 1 cup milk
2 eggs 5 tablespoons sugar
½ cup grated chocolate 1 teaspoon vanilla

Make the corn-starch blanc mange. Ten minutes before cooking is completed, add two beaten egg-yolks. Cook long enough to set the yolks, then mold.

Melt the chocolate over hot water, add the milk and three tablespoons of sugar, and cook until smooth. Stir in the vanilla and set aside to cool. When the corn-starch mold is cold, spread the chocolate mixture over it.

Beat the egg-whites until stiff, add the remaining two tablespoons of sugar and a few drops of vanilla. Spread on top of the chocolate. Brown delicately in a slow oven (300°-350° F.).

Prune—
3 tablespoons corn-starch 1½ cups hot pulp and juice made from cooking ½ pound prunes until tender ½ cup sugar 2 tablespoons prune-juice
½ cup cold prune-juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix and cook as for corn-starch blanc mange. Mold and cool. Serve with cream or lemon sauce.

Caramel—Add ¼ cup caramelized sugar sirup (page 457) to milk after scalding.

Coffee—Substitute 1 cup strong coffee for 1 cup milk.

MOCK BUTTERSCOTCH CUSTARD
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar 3 cups milk
6 tablespoons flour 3 eggs, separated
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar and flour thoroughly; add milk slowly, stirring until smooth. Cook over boiling water 15 minutes. Stir small amount into beaten egg yolks, then return to remaining hot mixture and cook 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and fold gently into egg whites, beaten until stiff but not dry; add vanilla. Cool.
ICE CREAMS are generally classified as cooked or uncooked. All ice-creams are stirred or beaten while freezing.

PLAIN OR PHILADELPHIA ICE CREAM—This is cream, or cream diluted with milk, sweetened, flavored and frozen. Plain ice-creams may be flavored with extracts or may have crushed nuts or fruits added. Rich, oily nuts do not combine well with ice-cream. Walnuts, almonds, pecans and pistachio nuts are most often used, and crushed peaches, pineapple, apricots or berries are particularly good for flavoring.

BISQUE ICE CREAM—This is made by adding to plain ice-cream such material as pulverized macaroons, ground nuts and stale sponge cake crumbs, to give variety in texture and flavor.

FRENCH AND AMERICAN ICE CREAMS—In these, the foundation is a custard made with cream, milk, eggs, sugar and flavoring, cooked, chilled and then frozen. In French ice-cream the custard mixture contains many eggs. In American ice-cream a plain custard is used.

NEAPOLITAN ICE CREAM—This may be made of any variety of ice-cream tinted in three colors and variously flavored. It is packed in layers after it is frozen. Sometimes it is made of a combination of ice-cream and water-ice.

FROZEN PUDDING—This is plain ice-cream plus a combination of fruit and nuts with bread-crumbs, cake-crumbs or powdered macaroons.

Mousses, Parfaits and Biscuits

MOUSSES—A mousse is whipped cream, sweetened, flavored, packed, and frozen without stirring. Gelatin is often used to give body to a mousse. In that case it is sometimes spoken of as a frozen soufflé. Chocolate, coffee, maple and fruit flavors of various kinds are used.

PARFAITS—A parfait is made by pouring a hot, thick sirup over beaten egg-yolks or beaten egg-whites, adding whipped cream, and packing and freezing the mixture without stirring.
Chocolate, maple and coffee are the most popular flavors for parfaits.

Biscuits—A biscuit is a yellow parfait mixture to which beaten egg-whites are added. It is stirred until it is partly frozen and then packed in small paper serving cases. The cases are laid in the trays of the mechanical refrigerator or in containers which are placed in a freezing mixture.

Water Ices, Sherbets, Bombes and Punches

All these mixtures are stirred while being frozen.

Ices—A plain ice is a sweetened fruit-juice which may or may not be diluted with water.

Sherbets—A sherbet is a plain ice plus egg-whites. Gelatin is sometimes used in sherbets. In milk sherbets, milk, instead of water, is used with the fruit-juice.

Bombes—A bombe is a combination of two or more frozen mixtures, packed in layers in a covered mold.

Punches—A punch is a water-ice frozen to a mush with some highly spiced fruit-juice or other flavoring added.

Sorbets—A sorbet is a sherbet made of several kinds of fruit.

Equipment for Making Frozen Desserts

The Crank Freezer

This type of freezer consists of a bucket of wood or metal for holding the freezing mixture, ice and salt, and a non-rusting metal container with a closely fitting cover for holding the mixture to be frozen. The mixture in the container is stirred by a paddle attached through the cover to a crank which is operated by hand or which may be attached to a small electric motor.

Ice Crusher—A bag of heavy muslin, burlap, canvas or sailcloth is required to hold the ice while it is broken into small pieces. Some implement is necessary for pounding the ice in the bag. A wooden mallet is generally preferred because it crushes the ice more thoroughly and quickly than a smaller implement. Very satisfactory mallets and bags for breaking ice can be bought.

The Freezing Mixture—One part salt to eight parts crushed ice, by measure, is a good proportion for home use. The ice should be crushed fine, to expose as much surface as possible to the action of the salt. Snow may be used instead of ice, but it is advisable to mix a small amount of water with the snow to hasten the melting process. Rock salt is best for use in freezing. Mix the ice and salt before putting them into the freezer, and fill the freezer well above the line of the mixture in the ice-cream container.

The Automatic Freezer

This variety of freezer requires no turning. The wall of the outer compartment is constructed with an air-space which helps to keep the warm air from entering and the cold air about the ice from escaping. The ice-cream is placed in the smaller container, covered and packed in ice and salt in the larger container. At intervals the cover is removed and the contents scraped from the side and beaten well with a spoon or paddle. It requires the minimum amount of ice and work to do the freezing and the frozen product is of a satisfactory quality, although not so smooth as that made by the freezer in which the mixture is stirred while freezing.

The Automatic Refrigerator

For speedy freezing, the temperature in the ice-making drawer of the refrigerator must be under twenty degrees. Your refrigerator is designed to keep foods at an even low temperature, and the freezing of desserts is an extra service. If yours will not freeze them, it is possible to have a switch added which will keep the motor operating continuously during the freezing period, or the valves may be readjusted to give the whole box a lower temperature.

No one, however, should be allowed to make adjustments or tamper with the valves except the electrician sent out by the salesman.

Preparation of Ingredients

Use more flavoring in all mixtures that are to be frozen than in mixtures that are to be served unfrozen, because the flavor freezes out to some extent. Stir well and thoroughly dissolve sugar before freezing.

Crush fruit for fruited creams or put it through a food-chopper. Large pieces of icy fruit are difficult to eat. Partly freeze the mixture before adding the fruit, otherwise the milk or cream may curdle and the fruit may settle to the bottom.
Scalding (not boiling) at least part of the cream and milk will give greater body and finer grain to ice-cream than it will have if the cream and milk are used without this preparation.

Chill the mixture before beginning to freeze. The best temperature is about 40° F. It should never be over 60° F. If it is too warm the cream may curdle before freezing.

Freezing Ice Cream

To freeze ice cream in a crank freezer, have the ice-cream container not more than three-fourths full. The turning of the crank incorporates air in the mixture and the freezing causes expansion, so allow plenty of room for "swell." Place the can containing the mixture in the freezer pail. Cover the can and adjust the top. Turn the crank to be sure that the cover fits tight. Add the ice and salt mixture as directed. Turn the freezer slowly until the mixture begins to freeze; then turn it more rapidly. This beats up the cream and produces a swell.

Ice cream takes from twelve to twenty minutes to freeze in a crank freezer. Ices and sherbets take from twenty to thirty minutes.

To freeze ice cream in a vacuum freezer, pack in the same manner as when a crank freezer is used. Several times during the two hours that are necessary for freezing, remove enough ice so that you can uncover the can without danger of salting the cream; scrape the mixture from the sides of the can with a spoon or paddle and beat thoroughly.

For quick results with the automatic refrigerator, take these precautions:

1. Chill your mixture well before freezing.
2. Do not try to freeze pans of water at the same time with desserts.
3. Do not open and close your refrigerator doors often or place warm, steamy foods in the box while you are freezing desserts.
4. Do not have the mixture too sweet or it will not freeze.

Ice cream mixtures having a heavy custard base respond very well to the automatic refrigerator. It is best to cook only the yolks of the eggs, then chill, and finally fold in the beaten whites just before freezing. This method not only gives a better texture but a greater volume to the finished product.

Refreshing and palatable sherbets may be frozen in the automatic refrigerator, but they are likely to be granular even when gelatin and beaten egg-whites are added.

Ice-cream and sherbets, and all other frozen desserts having a custard or gelatin foundation should be very vigorously stirred one hour after being placed in the refrigerator to freeze, and several times subsequently at half to three-quarter-hour intervals.

The addition of whipped cream does much to make the texture fine and smooth. Crushed fruit, marshmallows, grape nuts and crumbled graham crackers will also make desirable textures.

Recipes which are especially good for refrigerator freezing are: rennet-custard ice cream, maple-fruit ice cream, peach ice cream—No. 2, prune ice cream, raspberry ice cream, chocolate ice cream, frozen pudding, peach meringue, maple mousse, strawberry mousse, maple parfait, biscuit glacé, charlotte glacé and marshmallow mousse.

In all of these recipes, except the rennet-custard ice cream, the cream must be whipped. In making chocolate ice cream, add the whipped cream when the mixture is half frozen.

Packing and Molding Frozen Desserts

Ice-cream is ready for packing when it has a dull appearance, adheres to a spoon and retains its shape for some time. By thermometer test it should be about 27° F. It should be firm and mellow, smooth and velvety, free from grains or lumps and neither tough nor mushy. Ice-cream and ices that are to be molded should be packed into the molds at this time.

To Pack Ice Cream in the Freezer, drain off the brine and pack the can in coarse cracked ice and salt. Use one part salt to four of ice by measure. Cover the top of the can with a layer of ice about six inches thick. Cover the top of the freezer with newspapers or burlap or any other covering that will exclude air. Set the freezer in a cool place and let it stand two or three hours, for the ice-cream to ripen.

When Frozen Mixtures are to be Molded, have the mold chilled and ready when the mixture is frozen to the point where it is ready for packing. If it is allowed to freeze too hard before it is packed into the molds, it is difficult to handle.

Pack the Mixture Into the Mold Carefully, so that all curves and corners are filled compactly without air spaces; fill the mold to overflowing with the frozen mixture and cover with a sheet of white paper.

Press the Cover Down Tight and seal the crack with a thick layer of some fat that is hard when it is cold. The crack must be completely covered. Bury the mold in cracked ice and salt, using four parts of ice to one part of salt, by measure.

In Packing a Mousse or Parfait, use equal measures of salt and ice and let the mold stand from three to five hours, depending on its size.

When Using the Automatic Refrigerator, pack the mixture into the trays. Allow four hours for freezing, until you find that your refrigerator will freeze more quickly.

Paper Cases May be Filled with chilled or partly frozen mixtures. These may be placed in a closely covered receptacle and packed in ice and salt or placed in the trays of the automatic refrigerator.

Double Molding—Line the mold with a frozen mixture, making the layer equally thick in all parts. Fill the center with a mixture of contrasting color or texture or both. This mixture may or may not have been frozen first.

Unmolding Frozen Desserts

To unmold a frozen dessert, remove the mold from the ice mixture, rinse off the salt with cold water, break the seal, remove the cover and run a knife around the edge of the mold to a depth of not more than one-half inch. Invert the mold on a serving-plate. Let it stand for a few minutes and the contents will soon slip out. If it does not come out easily, dip a cloth into lukewarm (not hot) water wring as dry as possible and wipe quickly over the outside of the mold.

Suggestions Concerning Flavor and Texture

The Amount and Quality of Flavoring Extracts used are very apparent in the finished product. Some of the flavor freezes out, so an allowance must be made for this. The flavor should be delicately suggested rather than too pronounced.

The Amount of Fat in the Cream also affects the flavor. A rich cream has a better flavor than a thin cream.

Salt Added in Small Quantities—not more than one-half teaspoon to a gallon of the cream mixture—serves to give a "rounded out" or deeper flavor.
Ice Cream Should Stand Several Hours to ripen or blend the many flavors of the eggs, sugar, fruit, nuts, chocolate, and other substances found in the product. Each flavor may be distinguished in freshly frozen ice-cream.

If a Colored Product is Desired, only a small amount of coloring should be used. A delicate tint is all that is desired.

Texture is Affected by Whole Cream, egg-white, gelatin and cooked combinations such as milk and corn-starch or flour, and milk and eggs. A smooth velvety texture is desired. Other things being equal, a richer mixture gives a smoother product. A thin cream gives a coarse texture.

Texture is Also Affected by the Manner of Freezing. If the mixture is frozen too rapidly, it will be coarse and have a rough texture, while a slower freezing tends to improve its texture. This smoothness is not entirely due to the rate of freezing, however, but to the amount of whipping or beating which takes place before and during the freezing. If frozen without any beating, the product will be coarse even though made from a rich cream. The air that is beaten into the mixture in freezing produces a light smooth consistency.

A Certain Amount of Expansion is Desirable. If ice-cream is properly made, the volume increases at least one-third and the product is smoother in texture and richer to the taste than in a cream containing no air. Too rapid freezing prevents this increase of volume.

Ice Creams

CARAMEL ICE CREAM

2 cups milk
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup thin cream
1/2 cup macaroons

Caramelize half the sugar (see Index). Combine the milk, beaten egg, sugar and caramelized sugar. Heat the mixture to the boiling-point. When cool, add the cream and the macaroons crushed fine. Beat well and freeze.

BISQUE ICE CREAM

Add one cup of macaroon-crumbs to caramel ice-cream.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM

1 pint milk

CINNAMON ICE CREAM

Use the recipe for vanilla ice-cream, American (page 563). When the milk is put on to scald, add a piece of stick cinnamon about one inch long and one square of chocolate, grated. Beat the custard thoroughly with an egg-beater to insure smoothness of color. The cinnamon imparts a rich, spicy taste that is as elusive as it is delicious.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING FRESH FRUIT ICE CREAM

Prepare any desired fruit by sprinkling sugar over it. Let it stand one hour, press through a coarse sieve and stir into vanilla ice-cream, American (page 563), when the cream is frozen to a mush.

If Seed Fruits, such as currants or berries are used, strain through a fine sieve or a piece of cheese-cloth and use the pulp only. This can be put into the freezer with the cream and not reserved until later, as in the case of the mashed fruits.

Crushed Pineapple with the addition of a little lemon-juice makes a particularly fine fruit cream.

VANILLA RENNENT-CUSTARD ICE CREAM

BAKED ALASKA

No. 1.
Vanilla ice-cream
Sponge cake

4 egg-whites
4 tablespoons powdered sugar

Fill a round mold with vanilla ice-cream, pack and freeze, hard. At serving time, beat the whites of the eggs until light, add the powdered sugar and whip until light and dry. Turn the ice-cream on to a sheet of sponge cake placed on a board and cover it thoroughly with the meringue. Dust well with powdered sugar and set the whole in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) for a moment to brown. Place on a serving platter and serve at once.

No. 2, INDIVIDUAL—Cut sponge cake into thick slices and cut out the center of each slice, leaving about half an inch on each of the four sides and on the bottom. Set these cake boxes on a board, put slices of well frozen ice-cream inside, and cover with meringue, piling it up at the sides. Set in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) for a moment to brown the meringue. Remove to a serving-dish and fill the hollows on top with any preserved fruit or nut mixture.

ICE CREAM SANDWICHES

Between thin slices of devil's food, angel cake, sponge cake or butter cake, or between halves of éclair or cream-puff shells, place a serving of ice-cream of a flavor to blend well with the cake. Cover with chocolate, butterscotch, marshmallow, maple or fruit sauce, either hot or cold, and top with whipped cream and nut-meats of various kinds, moist coconut, powdered or granulated chocolate or pieces of fresh or canned fruit.

For example: (1) Between thin slices of gold or white cake, place a slice of vanilla ice-cream; over the whole pour plain marshmallow sauce or whipped cream and garnish with several tablespoons of crushed strawberries. (2) Fill a cream-puff shell with peach ice-cream and pour over it a peach sirup, topped with whipped cream. (3) Place chocolate or vanilla ice-cream between layers of white or angel cake and cover with a thick fudge sauce.

SUNDAES

Vanilla, chocolate or any other ice-cream served in a low glass, with sweetened crushed fruit or any desired sauce poured over it, is known as a sundae. Whipped cream, nuts, marshmallow cream, etc., may be added as a garnish.

NEAPOLITAN ICE CREAM

1 pint strawberry ice-cream
1 pint pistachio ice-cream
1 pint orange ice

(Any preferred combination of flavors may be used instead of these)

Pack a mold in salt and ice and spread the strawberry ice-cream smoothly over the bottom. If it is not very firm, cover and let it stand for a few minutes. Spread a good layer of orange ice upon it, and as soon as this hardens, spread over it the pistachio ice-cream. Cover and freeze.
Frozen Puddings

FROZEN PUDDING

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
Pinch salt
2 1/2 cups milk
1 cup heavy cream

MOCHA BISCUIT

1 quart milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup pulverized coffee
2 tablespoons flour
6 eggs

Put the milk into a double boiler, drop into it a muslin bag containing the pulverized coffee and let it infuse for fifteen minutes, keeping the milk at the scalding point. Beat the eggs and sugar together until smooth. Remove the bag of coffee from the milk, add the flour stirred with a little cold milk or water and cook fifteen minutes. Pour over the egg mixture and return to the double boiler to cook until smooth and thick. When cold partly freeze, then fill paper cases with the mixture and complete the freezing. Serve garnished with whipped cream.

NESSELRODE PUDDING

3 cups milk

1 cup French chestnuts
1/4 cup seeded raisins

Make a custard of the milk, sugar, egg-yolks and salt. When cool, add the cream and pineapple sirup. Blanch the almonds and chop them fine, then pound to a paste. Shell the chestnuts, blanch and boil until tender. Force through a sieve, and add to the custard. Freeze.

Line a two-quart melon mold with half the frozen mixture. To the remaining half, add a half-dozen large French chestnuts which have been boiled until tender, also the raisins and the assorted fruits cut in bits. Fill the mold with this mixture, cover and pack in ice and salt for two hours, or pack and freeze in the trays of the mechanical refrigerator. This is often served in individual paper cases with a bit of candied fruit on top of each.

Use the recipe for lemon sauce (page 581) substituting one teaspoon vanilla for the lemon-juice and grated rind.

YELLOW SAUCE

1 egg
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the white of the egg stiff, add the sugar, mix well and add the yolk of the egg, then the milk and flavoring, beating after each is added until the whole is smooth. This sauce is delicious on almost any pudding.

NEW ENGLAND NUTMEG SAUCE

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon nutmeg, grated
Salt

Mix well the sugar, flour and a pinch of salt. Add boiling water gradually, stirring continuously. Then add the butter and cook for five minutes. Remove from the fire and stir in the nutmeg. Serve hot on apple dumplings, bird’s-nest or berry puddings that have been made with biscuit dough.

AVOCADO CREAM SAUCE

1 cup cream, whipped
1/2 cup powdered sugar
3 drops green vegetable coloring
1/8 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup sieved avocado

Peel an avocado, remove pit, and force the pulp through a fine sieve. Whip the cream until stiff and add the sugar. Mix well. Add the salt and strained avocado and blend. Then add the food coloring. This dressing is delicious on fruit salads, baked apples or any hot dessert.
PASTRY AND MERINGUES

PASTRY may be defined as a stiff dough made very short by means of some kind of fat. It is used for pies and tarts and for some other dishes. There are two kinds of pastry; plain pastry and puff pastry.

Plain Pastry is usually used for pies. It may be made either crisp and crumbly or light and flaky.

Puff Pastry is not used for under crusts of pies because it rises or puffs up too much. It is sometimes used for rims where extra height is desirable, or for upper crusts of rich pies. It is used for tarts of various kinds, for cases, such as patty shells and vol-au-vents, to hold creamed mixtures, and for various shapes which are frosted or otherwise decorated for serving with afternoon tea or as desserts. It may be cut into points to take the place of toast as a garnish.

General Directions for Making Pie Crust

Mixing—Pie crust should be handled as little as possible. Sift together the flour and salt (and baking powder, if used); work in the shortening according to the directions for the different kinds of crust, and add the water gradually, always pouring it upon dry flour and working the mixture only enough to obtain a paste that will cling together in a mass and leave the sides of the bowl clean.

Amount of Water—This cannot be given definitely, because it will vary with the dryness of the flour and the amount of shortening used. If much shortening is used, less water is needed, because fat is liquid at oven temperature and so is counted as liquid. The paste should be soft enough to roll out smoothly without breaking at the edges. Use cold water, preferably ice-cold, if you wish a flaky pastry.

Chilling—If the paste is chilled before it is rolled, it will be easier to handle and lighter when baked. Allowing a short interval between mixing and rolling the paste permits a more complete absorption of water, and this too contributes to ease in handling the paste.

Thickening a Paste That is too Soft—If the paste is made too soft to roll, it can be thickened by working into it a combination of flour and shortening in the proportion of one tablespoon of shortening to four tablespoons of flour. This keeps the proportions of shortening, flour and water correct and a good result will be obtained. If flour only is added, the paste will be tough and hard.

ROLLING—Sprinkle flour over the mixing board and rolling pin and rub it into the wood as much as possible. Sometimes a stiff, closely woven cloth is used as a cover for the board and rolling pin and flour is rubbed into it. The mesh of the cloth holds more flour and gives it up more slowly than the bare wood, thus making it possible to handle a softer dough upon the cloth than upon the board.

Place the paste upon the floured board and toss it quickly over and over to coat the surface with dry flour. Pat into a round, flat shape, and roll out with light, quick motions of the rolling pin. Heavy pressure makes the paste stick to the board and breaks the surface, which should be kept smooth. When the rolling pin comes to the edge of the paste, it should roll off into space, not on to the board. The edges of the paste should not be pinched, but should be of the same thickness as all other parts.

In making a pie crust, keep the paste in circular form. An expert pastry maker can roll the paste so that it will exactly fit the pie tin without need of trimming. The under crust should be thick enough to support the filling when the pie is baked; that is, between one-eighth and one-quarter inch thick.

THE LOWER CRUST—When the paste is the right size, place the rolling pin across it, fold one-half of the paste over the pin, lift the paste over the pan and carefully shift it into position. Or, fold the paste double and lift it on to the pan with your hands. Fit it carefully down into the curve, being careful not to enclose air. If there is too much paste around the edge, trim off the excess with a knife or by pressing against the edge with your hands. If only one crust is to be used, crimp the rim with a pie crust crimpler, with the ends of a fork, with the side of the thumb, or with thumb and finger. If you desire a deeper pie than the pan provides, make the edge stand upright by fluting it or make a double rim by adding another piece of paste cut to fit the rim.

TO PREVENT SOAKING—Various methods of preventing sogginess of the under crust of juicy pies are coating the surface with egg-white, dusting with dry flour and partly baking the crust before putting in the filling.

THE UPPER CRUST—If an upper crust is necessary, roll it as directed for the under crust, but make it thinner and smaller. Score a design on it. It is not necessary to cut the design clear through, as the lines will break sufficiently in baking to allow the steam to escape and thus prevent puffing of the upper crust. After the filling is put in, moisten the rim of the under crust with cold water and lift the upper crust into place. Press the crusts carefully together around the rim, trim off any excess, and, if you wish, mark the rim as suggested for under crusts.

To Prevent Escape of Juices—If the filling is very juicy, it is wise to bind the edge of the pie with an inch-wide strip of muslin dipped into water or vegetable tape, used as directed. A little flour paste will hold ends together. Remove the strip after the pie is baked. Or, cut the upper crust one-half inch larger in diameter than necessary, and turn the excess under the edge of the under crust, previously moistened. Press the crusts together and mark them as you wish.

PIE AND TART SHELLS—Crusts baked before filling are done over the bottom of an inverted pan, between pans, or filled to 1/4 their depth with dry beans or rice. When inverted the dough should be pricked to allow air bubbles to escape.

Ready-to-Use Piecrust Mixtures

Piecrust mixtures containing all the required ingredients except cold water, are procurable in several excellent brands. These make pie making a simple and quick matter. They are particularly valuable for the small family.

Baking Pastry

Place pastry in a hot to very hot oven (400°-500° F.) so that the shortening will be cooked into the flour without first becoming oily. If the shortening becomes warm and oily before going into the oven, or after being put into the oven, the pastry will be tough or hard instead of crisp or flaky. When the crust begins to brown, the temperature may be reduced. (See table of cooking periods and temperatures, page 6.)

are cooked and put into a baked crust. This insures a dry, crisp or flaky under crust. Some custard pies are made in this way, but the flavor is not so good as when the uncooked custard is put into the uncooked crust and both are cooked at the same time.

General Directions for Making Grainy or Crumbly Piecrust

It is easier to make a good grainy or crumbly piecrust than it is to make the flaky crust. It is not so important that ingredients be cold and it makes no particular difference what kind of shortening is used; it may be one of the solid fats or one of the vegetable oils; it may be melted before it is used, and hot water may be used instead of cold water. The fat is mixed quite thoroughly with the flour in making this sort of crust, and it need not be cut in with two knives, as with flaky pastry—in fact, the finger-tips may be used for this mixing. The heat of the fingers melts the fat a little, but this is no particular disadvantage with this kind of pastry.

For crumbly piecrust, pastry flour, rather than ordinary bread flour, is an advantage and a smaller amount of fat can be used with the hot-water method.

Baking-powder, one-fourth teaspoon to a cup of flour, has a tendency to make the crust more tender.

GRAINY OR CRUMBLY PIECRUST

Plain—

| 1½ cups flour | ½ cup shortening |
| ½ teaspoon salt | 3 to 4 tablespoons cold water |

Sift flour and salt. Mix in fat with fork or finger-tips until the mixture has about the consistency of corn-meal. Add water gradually, tossing the moistened lumps of dough aside, so that the water may reach the dry material. When the dough clings together so that the bowl is clean, chill, remove two-thirds of it to a slightly floured board and roll out, keeping the paste as nearly circular as possible. Use this for the lower crust. For the top crust of a two-crust pie, use the remaining paste with the trimmings of the lower crust. This amount should make two shells of medium size, or one two-crust pie.

With Vegetable Oil—Use oil in the proportion of ½ cup oil to 2 ¼ cups flour with 1 teaspoon baking powder. Mix the shortening into the sifted dry ingredients with a fork. Less water is necessary to make the dough cling together. Otherwise the method is the same.

With Hot Water—No. 1.

- 1 ½ cups flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup shortening
- 4 tablespoons boiling water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Mix in fat with fork or finger tips and stir in the boiling water. Cool before rolling.

No. 2.

- 1 ½ cups flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup shortening
- 4 tablespoons boiling water

Pour the boiling water over the fat and beat with a fork until it becomes a smooth liquid. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into this mixture. Stir together, chill and roll out. This mixture keeps well in the refrigerator.

With Cornstarch

- ¾ cup cornstarch
- 1 ¼ cups flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 6 tablespoons shortening
- 1 egg yolk
- Cold water

Mix and sift all the dry ingredients. Rub in shortening with a fork or finger tips and add beaten egg yolk while stirring. Add water gradually till paste will hold together. Chill and roll out.

With Almonds—

- 1 ½ cups flour
- 3 tablespoons pulverized almonds
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 ½ cup shortening
- 1 egg
- Cold water

Mix dry ingredients and rub in fat. Add beaten egg and water to hold paste together. Cool and roll out.

Almond crust may be used for custard pie or any of its variations, for fresh fruit or dried fruit pies, for lemon pies, or for pumpkin, squash or sweet-potato pie. The crust is especially good for tarts, which may be filled with jelly, marmalade, fruit or whipped-cream mixtures.

General Directions for Making Flaky Piecrust

To make a flaky piecrust more pains must be taken than in making the crumbly crust. Very soft fats and oils do not make as nice a flaky crust as the firmer shortenings. Bread flour may be used very satisfactorily.

In mixing the ingredients be sure that they are cold, particularly the shortening and water. Do not use the finger-tips for mixing. The heat of the fingers softens the fat. Cut the shortening into the flour with two knives, rather quickly, and do not mix it very thoroughly; leave it in lumps or thin slices which will roll out to make layers or flakes.

There are three methods of making flaky crust. The third one is particularly good when you want to cut down the amount of shortening used. It is harder to mix and of course the crust will not be as rich as one in which a larger amount of shortening is used, but it is not tough.

A hot oven is especially important in baking a flaky crust. Layers of cold air have been incorporated into the crust and the heat of the oven expands this air quickly, making the crust light.

It is important to prick flaky crust before baking it. Otherwise it may puff too much in one place.

Sift flour and salt. Cut in the shortening with two knives. Do not mix as thoroughly as for crumbly pie crust, but leave shortening in small lumps or slices. Roll lightly and bake quickly in a hot to very hot oven (see table of cooking periods and temperatures, page 6).

No. 2—Use proportions given in No. 1. Mix as in that recipe, reserving one and one-half tablespoons of the shortening. Roll the paste out, spread with half the reserved shortening, roll up like a jelly roll and roll out with the pin. Spread with the remaining shortening, roll up and roll out again. If necessary sprinkle the board with flour to keep the paste from sticking.

No. 3—Use same proportions of flour and salt as in preceding recipes. Reduce the amount of shortening as much as one-half, if desired. Mix flour, salt and shortening as directed above. Take out one-half of the dry mixture. Add water to the remainder. Roll out in circular form. Place one-third of dry part in a row across the center of the dough and fold over from each side to make three layers. Turn half way round and roll out. Repeat twice more, until all of the dry mixture is used. Bake as usual.

PUFF PASTE

| 1 pound butter or other shortening | Ice-water                             |
| 2 teaspoons salt                    | 14 ounces bread flour or              |
|                                     | 1 pound pastry flour                  |

(The usual proportions are a pound of flour to a pound of shortening.)

If salted butter is used, wash it to remove the salt. To do this, wash the hands in water as hot as possible, rinse in cold water and knead the butter in ice-water in a scalded bowl until all the salt is drawn from it. At first the butter will crumble but when free from salt it will cling and mass together. Pat and fold till dry and in a compact mass. Reserve two tablespoons of it and put the rest in the refrigerator till needed.

Work the two tablespoons of shortening into the flour with the tips of the fingers. Moisten carefully with ice-water, and turn the dough out on a slightly floured board. Pat it smooth and divide into halves. Roll out each half to the same size and thickness. Over one sheet sprinkle a little flour. Take the remaining shortening from the refrigerator and make into a sausage-like roll, dredge with flour and roll out very thin as nearly like the sheets of dough in shape as possible. Flour the board and rolling-pin so that shortening will not adhere. Place the shortening between the two sheets of dough and roll as thin as possible without allowing the fat to break through. When the sheet becomes thin, fold in the sides until they meet, turn one-half way about and roll out. Fold and roll in this way twice and place in the refrigerator for fifteen minutes. Repeat rolling and cooling until dough has been rolled and cooled four times. If not needed for immediate use, it may be wrapped in a towel and left in the refrigerator from twelve to twenty-four hours and will be even lighter and more flaky than when freshly made.

Puff paste may be made without cooling, but it is lighter and rises better when the above directions are followed. The layers in puff paste are made by folding and rolling, incorporating air which, expanding with the heat, makes the paste rise.

An important factor in the making of puff paste is to have the oven at the proper temperature. The paste should be very cold when put into the oven, and the oven should be very hot, about 500° F. (cooled later to 450° F. or lower).

For Patty Shells, the oven should have a strong underheat, allowing them to rise to their full height before browning. If the oven is too hot, so that the paste begins to brown as soon as put in, immediately reduce the temperature.

To Glaze Puff Paste—When a brown, polished finish is desired, the pastry is brushed with egg mixed with one tablespoon of cold water to each egg. The egg must not be beaten until frothy, but merely enough to make it mix with the water. Where gloss but no color is desired, the white of the egg alone may be used; the yolk gives the yellowish brown tinge.

SUET PASTE

1 teaspoon baking-powder
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped suet
1 cup cold water

This paste is excellent for boiled fruit pudding and dumplings or for baked or boiled meat pies. All the ingredients must be very cold. Sift the baking-powder with the flour, add the salt, suet and water and mix into a smooth, firm dough. Chill and roll out.

APPLE PIE

4 to 6 tart, juicy apples
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon butter
1 teaspoon lemon-juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon or nut-meg, if desired

Line a pie-pan with any plain crust and fill with thinly sliced apples. Add the sugar, lemon-juice, and spice, and dot with the butter. Cover with a top crust, making it a little richer than the under one. This is easily done by rolling in bits of shortening and folding the paste several times. Cut a few slits in the top crust to allow steam to escape. Bake about forty minutes in a hot oven (450° F.) reduced after ten minutes (to 425° F.).

Invert a heavy china cup or a custard cup in the center of a baking-dish two to three inches deep. Line the sides of the dish with strips of pie paste, letting the paste come a little above the edge of the dish. Do not put any paste on the bottom. Fill with apples, pared, cored and cut in slices. Add sugar, spice and water, and dot with bits of butter. Cover the dish with pie paste, slashed to allow the steam to escape, and pinch its edge to the edge of the paste that lines the sides of the dish. Bake for three-quarters of an hour, or until the apples are thoroughly cooked, in a hot oven (450° F.) for ten minutes then 425° F. for thirty minutes). When serving, slip the knife under the cup to allow the confined juice to mix with the apple. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Stew the fruit and sweeten to taste. Mash, and season with nutmeg. Line a pie-pan with paste, turn in the filling and bake without an upper crust, for forty minutes in a hot to slow oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then reduced to 325° F.). Add powdered sugar and vanilla to stiffly beaten egg-whites. Spread over the pie and put back into the oven till the meringue is browned. Serve cold. This amount makes one pie.
No. 1. BLACKBERRY PIE

1½ cups blackberries
½ cup water
Sugar
Pinch of salt

Wash, drain and pick over the blackberries. Cook until tender with just enough water to prevent burning. Add sugar to taste, and a pinch of salt. Line a pie-pan with paste, shape a ring of the paste around the rim of the pan, fill with berries, partly cooled, and arrange strips of pastry across the top. Put on another rim around the edge and bake forty minutes in a hot to slow oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then 325° F.).

No. 2.

2½ cups blackberries
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon corn-starch
1 teaspoon butter

Line a pie-pan with crust and brush with white of egg. Add berries, and sprinkle with sugar and corn-starch mixed together. Dot with butter, and cover with upper crust. Bake forty minutes in a hot oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then 425° F.).

CRANBERRY PIE

1½ cups cranberries
¾ cup sugar
½ cup water

Cook cranberries, water and sugar for about ten minutes. Cool, place in one crust with a high rim and bake in a hot to slow oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then 325° F. for thirty minutes). Put strips of paste, lattice fashion, across the top.

CHERRY PIE

1 quart cherries
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
Powdered sugar

The common sour red cherries are the best for pies. Line a deep pie-pan with good plain paste, fill nearly full with stoned cherries, sprinkle with sugar, sifted with the flour. Cover with an upper crust, which should be rolled as thin as possible, make a vent in the center, and press the edges together so that the juices will not escape during the baking. Bake in a hot oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then 425° F. for thirty minutes). Serve cherry pies the same day they are baked, or the under crust will become heavy. Sprinkle powdered sugar over each piece just before serving.
A double plate, beans, rice or vegetable tape will keep your piecrusts in good shape while baking.

This pie is air-conditioned with a lattice-work top crust.

Follow the same directions in using any small fruit for pies.

MOCK CHERRY PIE

| 1 cup cranberries | 1 tablespoon flour |
| ½ cup seeded raisins | 1 teaspoon almond extract |
| ⅜ cup sugar | 1 teaspoon butter |

Line a pie-pan with crust. Fill with cranberries, washed and cut in halves, mixed with chopped raisins. Sprinkle with mixture of sugar and flour, add almond extract, and dot with butter. Cover with a second crust, and bake in a hot oven (450° F. for ten minutes, then 425° F. for thirty minutes.)

HUCKLEBERRY OR BLUEBERRY PIE

| 1 quart huckleberries or blueberries | 1 cup sugar |
| Flour |

Wash and drain the berries and sift a very little flour over them, dredging carefully until each berry is lightly coated. Stir the sugar well into the fruit, and turn into a pie-pan lined with crust. Cover with an upper crust and bake about forty minutes in a hot oven (450° F. for 10 minutes, then 425° F. for 30 minutes). Serve cold, with sugar sifted over the top. Flouring the berries as directed will make just enough thickening to counteract the excessive amount of juice.

PINEAPPLE PIE

| 2 cups crushed pineapple | ½ cup sugar |
| 2 tablespoons corn-starch | Juice ½ lemon |
| ½ teaspoon salt | 2 egg-yolks |

Scald the pineapple. Mix corn-starch, salt and sugar, and stir into the pineapple. Stir and cook ten minutes. Add lemon-juice and beaten yolks slowly. Cover and let cook five minutes. When cool, turn into baked crust, and cover with whipped cream or a meringue made from the whites of the eggs, or ornament with baked circles, crescents, or other figures cut from remaining crust.
PEACH PIE

2 cups cut up peaches
$\frac{1}{4}$ cup water
$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon allspice, if desired

Pare peaches and slice thin. Put in pie-pan lined with paste; sprinkle with sugar and spice, add water and dot with butter. Cover with upper crust and bake forty minutes in hot oven ($450^\circ$ F. 10 minutes, then $425^\circ$ F. 30 minutes).

FIG PIE

$\frac{3}{4}$ pound dried figs
$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups boiling water
2 eggs
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Cut the figs fine, add boiling water and cook about one-half hour, or until the skins are tender. Beat the egg-yolks, add the granulated sugar and the salt, stir into the figs and cook until the egg thickens. Turn into a baked crust. Cover with a meringue made of the stiffly beaten egg-whites and the powdered sugar. Brown in a slow oven ($300^\circ$-$350^\circ$ F.).

RHUBARB PIE

No. 1, Double Crust—

2 cups cut up rhubarb
Flour
1 cup sugar

Wash and peel the rhubarb and cut it into small pieces. Flour the pieces until they are quite white, then add sugar. Line a pie-pan with paste, put in the rhubarb, with the sugar well stirred into it. Cover with the upper crust and bake about forty minutes in a hot oven ($450^\circ$ F. for 10 minutes, then $425^\circ$ F. for 30 minutes).

No. 2, Single Crust With Meringue—

2 cups cut up rhubarb
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tablespoon sugar for meringue
1 teaspoon butter

Line a pie-pan with plain paste. Wash and peel the rhubarb, cut it into small pieces, and dredge with flour until each piece is quite white. Mix the sugar, rhubarb and egg-yolks together and place in the pie-pan. Dot with butter. Bake in a hot to slow oven (450° F. for 10 minutes, then 325° F. for 30 minutes). When the filling is set, spread over the top the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, into which the tablespoonful of sugar has been folded. Return to the oven and brown the meringue lightly (300°-350° F. for 8-10 minutes).

PRUNE OR DATE PIE

1 cup cooked and pitted prunes or dates
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
1 cup water or juice
1 tablespoon flour

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg, or ¼ cup moist coconut, if desired

Cook the prunes with the other ingredients until slightly thickened. Add a little cinnamon or nutmeg, if desired. Bake between two crusts in a hot oven (450° F. for 10 minutes, then 425° F. for 30 minutes). Prune or date pie is delicious served with ice-cream or whipped cream. This amount makes a small pie.

STRAWBERRY PIE

1 cup sugar
2 ½ tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 recipe Plain Pastry (page 588)

1 quart strawberries, washed and hulled
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Mix sugar, flour and salt together. Mix with strawberries and lemon juice. Line pie plate with pastry and fill with fruit mixture. Adjust top crust, gash to allow for escape of steam. Bake in a very hot oven (450° F.) for 10 minutes, then reduce to moderate (350° F.) and bake 30 minutes longer.

RAISIN PIE

1 cup seeded raisins
2 ¼ cups water
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

4 ½ tablespoons flour
1 egg, beaten
3 tablespoons lemon-juice
3 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Mix the sugar and flour, add with the seasonings to the beaten egg, add the raisins and liquid. Cook in double boiler until mixture thickens. Cool, then pour into pastry lined pie plate, adjust top crust. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for 10 minutes then reduce to 350° F. and bake 30 minutes longer.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin
1 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup milk
3 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 baked pastry shell

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Combine next 8 ingredients with slightly-beaten egg yolks in the top of a double boiler. Cook over water until thickened. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool until beginning to congeal. Beat egg whites, add sugar and beat until stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into baked pastry shell and chill until firm. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

CREAM PIE

1 cup hot milk
1 tablespoon corn-starch
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg-yolks or 1 whole egg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Scald the milk. Mix the corn-starch, sugar and salt and add hot milk, slowly. Cook twenty minutes over hot water. Beat the egg-yolks and add slowly, stirring rapidly. Cool and add vanilla. Put into a baked crust.

VARIATIONS OF CREAM PIE

Banana or Orange Pie—Slice fruit into baked crust and cover with cream pie filling. Cover top with meringue made from two egg-whites and two tablespoons powdered sugar. Brown in a slow oven (300°-350° F.).

Chocolate Pie—Use only seven-eighths of a tablespoon of corn-starch. Add two tablespoons grated chocolate and two tablespoons sugar just before removing cream pie filling from the stove. Beat well. Cover with meringue made as in banana or orange pie above.

Coconut Pie—Add four tablespoons moist coconut to the cream pie filling and two tablespoons shredded coconut to the meringue. Make meringue as directed for banana or orange pie above.

Nut and Raisin Pie—Stir one cup of chopped nuts or raisins, or nuts and raisins combined, into the filling, and sprinkle a few over the top.

Date Pie—Add one cup of chopped dates to the filling. Cover with meringue as directed for banana or orange pie.

Butterscotch Pie

| 1½ cups milk | 2 eggs |
| 1 cup brown sugar | 2 tablespoons butter |
| 2 tablespoons corn-starch | 2 tablespoons powdered sugar |

Heat one cup of milk with the sugar until the sugar is free from lumps. Mix the corn-starch, one-half cup milk and egg yolks and add to the hot mixture slowly. Cook in a double boiler until thick, stirring constantly; then continue to cook for ten minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Remove from fire and add butter. When cool, pour into a baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites and the powdered sugar. Brown in a slow oven (300°-350° F.).

As an Attractive Variation, cover the top of the pie with halves of marshmallows instead of meringue, and brown in the oven. In this case, use one whole egg instead of two yolks.

Cottage Cheese Pie

| 1 1/2 cups smooth cottage cheese | 2 eggs |
| 1 cup fine chopped raisins or 1 cup moist coconut | 1 lemon, grated rind and juice |
| ½ cup honey, sirup or sugar | 2 tablespoons cream |
| | 2 tablespoons butter |

Press the cheese through a ricer, add other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Turn into paste lined pie-pan and bake (450° F.) until the mixture thickens slightly. Lower the heat (325° F.) and bake until firm.

No. 2—Omit raisins or coconut and spread preserves or jam on top after the pie is baked.
CUSTARD PIE

2 or 3 eggs or 4 to 6 yolks 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups hot milk

Beat the eggs, add sugar, salt, cinnamon and milk. Mix well and pour into unbaked crust. Place in a hot oven (450° F.) for ten minutes to bake sides and bottom of crust. This will help to prevent a soggy crust. Decrease the heat and cook (at 325° F.) until a silver knife inserted in the center will come out clean (about thirty minutes). The custard must not boil at any time. If it does, it will be watery.

COCONUT CUSTARD PIE

2 eggs 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup sugar 1 cup moist coconut
2 cups hot milk 1/4 teaspoon salt

Beat the eggs and sugar together until light, then add the milk, nutmeg, coconut and salt. Line a deep pie-pan with crust, pour the mixture in and bake at 450° F. for ten minutes. Then reduce the heat to 325° F. and bake until a silver knife inserted in the center will come out clean (about thirty minutes). These quantities will make one thick pie or two thin pies.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

4 eggs, separated 1 tablespoon gelatin
1 cup sugar 1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup lemon juice 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 baked pastry shell

Whipped Cream

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; add 1/2 cup of sugar, lemon juice and salt. Cook in a double boiler until the consistency of custard. Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes, then dissolve in hot custard. Add lemon rind. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Beat remaining sugar into stiffly-beaten egg whites and fold into gelatin mixture. Blend well. Fill baked pastry shell. Chill until firm. Cover with whipped cream before serving. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.
VARIATIONS—Grapefruit Chiffon Pie: Use grapefruit juice and rind for lemon juice and rind.

Orange Chiffon Pie: Use orange juice for lemon juice, omit lemon rind and add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Lime Chiffon Pie: Use lime juice for lemon juice and grated lime rind in place of lemon rind.

SOUR CREAM PIE

1½ cups sour cream  ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs  4 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar  ½ cup chopped raisins
½ teaspoon cinnamon  1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon cloves  2 tablespoons sugar

Scald one cup of the cream in a double boiler. Mix egg-yolks, spices, flour, sugar and remaining cream and add slowly to the hot mixture. Cook fifteen minutes. Add raisins and vanilla. When partly cooled, pour into a baked crust. Cover with meringue made from stiffly beaten egg-whites and 2 tablespoons sugar. Brown in a slow oven (300°-350° F.).

PUMPKIN PIE

1½ cups prepared pumpkin  1 teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar  2 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon  2 cups milk
½ teaspoon ginger

Steam or bake fresh pumpkin and put it through a sieve. Canned pumpkin is ready to use. Add remaining ingredients in the order given. Turn into a crust-lined pan and bake. Use a high temperature at first (450° F.) to cook the bottom and sides of crust. Reduce the temperature and continue cooking at 325° F. until a silver knife inserted in the center will come out clean. Do not let the pie boil, as that will make it watery.

A delicious addition is one-half cup of fine chopped nutsmeats. Whipped cream and a tart jelly are also very good with pumpkin pie.

SQUASH PIE

The yellow, hard-shelled squash makes almost as good pies as pumpkin and is often easier to obtain. Use the proportions given for pumpkin pie, adding two tablespoons of butter, because squash is not so oily as pumpkin. Stew, steam or bake the squash about one hour and be sure that it is as dry as possible. Baking insures this more easily than does any other method of cooking.

SWEET POTATO PIE

Pare and boil or bake sweet potatoes, press them through a sieve and follow the directions given for pumpkin pie, adding three tablespoons of butter and reducing the sugar to one-fourth cup unless a very sweet pie is desired. Flavor with nutmeg.

MINCE PIE

1 recipe Plain Pastry
(page 588) 2 1/2 cups mincemeat

Line pie plate with pastry. Fill with mincemeat. Cover with top crust which has several slits in it to allow steam to escape. Moisten edges of lower crust with cold water, fold upper crust under lower crust and press edges together with floured fork. Bake in a very hot oven (450° F.) for 10 minutes, reduce to 350° F. and bake 30 to 40 minutes longer or until crust is browned. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie. Serve hot or cold.

MINCEMEAT

3 pounds lean beef
1/2 pound suet
6 pounds sour apples
3 pounds seeded raisins
2 pounds seedless raisins
1/2 pound citron, minced
1 nutmeg, grated

2 pounds sugar
2 cups cider vinegar
2 cups molasses
1 tablespoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
1 tablespoon salt

Cut meat in cubes, cover with water and simmer until tender. Cool. Force meat, suet and pared and cored apples through a food chopper. Add remaining ingredients plus 2 cups stock and simmer 1 hour, stirring frequently. Fill into sterilized jars, seal and keep in a cool place. Makes about 9 quarts.

Boil sugar in cider until dissolved. Add beaten eggs slowly and stir until thickened. Add butter, raisins and nutmeg.
Turn into a pan lined with crust. Cover with top crust and bake in a very hot oven (450° F.) for ten minutes, then reduce the heat slightly (to 425° F.) and continue cooking for about thirty minutes longer.

If you prefer, omit the top crust, bake for ten minutes at 450° F., then reduce the heat to 325° F. and bake for thirty minutes longer. Remove from the oven, cover with a meringue made of the egg-whites and powdered sugar, and return to a slow oven (300°-350° F.) to brown.

PASTRY SHELLS

No. 1—Roll plain or puff paste thin and cut with a biscuit-cutter. With a smaller cutter remove the centers from one-half of these circles and lay the rings thus made on the whole circles, in this way building a wall around the shell. Bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.). When these shells are used, small pans are not required. With puff paste, if a deep shell is desired, remove the centers from two circles and lay both rings on top of the uncut circle.

No. 2—Invert patty pans or muffin tins, cover with crust and bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.). Patty cases made in this way make very attractive individual pies, a variation from the usual large pies. They may be made ahead of time and warmed in the oven to freshen them. Any pie mixture, fresh or canned fruit, jelly, marmalade, or whipped cream mixed with nuts and fruits may be used for filling. Do not fill the shells until just before they are to be served. The moisture in the filling will soften the crust if they stand too long. Use the cookie cutter for cover decorations.

APPLE TARTS

5 apples
1/2 cup cold water
3 eggs
1 lemon

3/4 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Pare, core and cut up tart apples and cook them in the water until soft, stewing them very slowly. Beat this sauce smooth, partly cool, then add beaten egg-yolks, lemon-juice and grated rind and the granulated sugar, increasing the amount of sugar, if desired. Line patty-pans with paste, fill them with the mixture, dot with butter and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.). Beat the whites of the eggs stiff, add the powdered sugar, spread on top of the tarts and return to the oven to brown. This amount makes six to eight tarts.

APRICOT AND MARSHMALLOw TARTS

Wash, soak and stew dried apricots. When tender, press through a sieve. Sweeten to taste. To each cup of pulp add six marshmallows cut in small bits. Fill baked pastry shells and decorate with quartered marshmallows.

BANANA ROLL

Peel bananas and cut in halves crosswise. Roll puff or flaky paste one-eighth of an inch thick. Cut into pieces. Dip each piece in ice-water and wrap around a half banana. Place on a baking-sheet and bake in a quick oven (450° F.). Serve with strawberry sauce, No. 2. See page 583.

BANBURY TARTS

1 cup chopped raisins — 1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cracker-crumbs
1 egg, beaten

1/8 teaspoon salt
1 lemon, juice and rind

Mix ingredients in order given. Roll puff or flaky paste one-eighth inch thick and cut in three-inch squares. Put a teaspoon of the Banbury mixture in the center of each, wet edges of paste, and fold to form a triangle. Prick several times and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven (450° F.). This amount makes eight to ten tarts.

CHEESE PASTRIES

4 eggs
1 tablespoon cream

1 package cream cheese
1/2 cup sugar

Beat eggs very light, add remaining ingredients and beat until well mixed. Line shallow muffin-pans with puff pastry and put in hot oven (450° F.). After ten minutes, take from oven, fill with the cheese filling and bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for thirty minutes.
No. 1.
CHESS PIES

\[ \frac{1}{2} \text{ cup butter} \quad 3 \text{ eggs} \\
1 \text{ cup sugar} \quad 5 \text{ tablespoons sugar} \\
1 \text{ cup chopped raisins} \quad \frac{1}{2} \text{ teaspoon vanilla} \]

Make individual pie shells on inverted muffin-pans. Prick before baking to prevent the air from pushing them up and out of shape.

Cream butter, and gradually add sugar. Add chopped raisins, one whole egg, and two egg-yolks. Fill shells three-fourths full and cover with a meringue made from two stiffly beaten egg-whites, sugar and vanilla. Brown meringue slightly in the oven, and while browning stir into the pie mixture once or twice with a fork. This makes the mixture fluffy.

No. 2.

\[ 1 \text{ cup milk} \quad 2 \text{ egg-yolks or 1 whole egg} \]
\[ 1 \text{ tablespoon corn-starch} \quad 1 \text{ teaspoon vanilla} \]

Bake patty shells by covering the bottoms of muffin-pans with plain paste.

Scald the milk. Mix corn-starch, sugar and salt and add hot milk slowly. Cook 20 minutes over boiling water. Beat the egg-yolks or the whole egg and add slowly, stirring rapidly. Cool and add vanilla. Fill the patty shells with this mixture. Cover each with a layer of chocolate fudge one-fourth inch thick.

\[ \frac{1}{4} \text{ cup butter} \quad 1 \text{ tablespoon orange-juice} \]
\[ 2 \text{ egg-yolks} \]

Mix the cheese with the other ingredients until creamy. Line a dozen deep molds with puff or flaky paste. Prick and fill with the cheese mixture. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for ten minutes. Then reduce the heat (to 325° F.) and bake until golden brown and firm. When done, turn upside down on a sheet of paper and leave to cool. Spread each tartlet with apricot or currant marmalade, quince or apple jelly or green-gage jam.
CRAB APPLE PUFFS

Line muffin-tins with puff or flaky paste; fill with crabapple jelly, cover with the paste and bake at 450° F. for ten minutes. Then reduce the heat slightly (to 425° F.) and complete baking. Remove from the tins while hot. Serve with a sauce made by melting crabapple jelly.

RAISIN STICKS

\[\frac{1}{4}\text{ recipe puff or flaky paste} \quad \frac{1}{2}\text{ teaspoon cinnamon} \]
\[\text{Seedless raisins} \quad 2\text{ tablespoons sugar} \]

Sift a little sugar on top and cut cross-wise in strips three-fourths of an inch wide. Put a bit of butter on each stick and bake in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) until brown.

FRENCH PASTRY SANDWICHES

1 lemon \quad 1 cup sugar \quad 1 egg

Roll puff paste about one-fourth of an inch thick and cut in circles. Dip in ice-water and bake. Serve two of these put together with filling made as follows:

MAMMY'S FRIED PIES

Stew dried apples, peaches or apricots. Drain off all juice, mash well and sweeten. Roll puff paste one-eighth inch thick and cut circles three inches in diameter. On one of the circles place a spoonful of the filling, having a clear margin of the pie-crust. Moisten this edge all around, place another circle on top and press the edges firmly together. Fry in deep fat like doughnuts or sauté with a little fat in a hot frying-pan, turning the pie so that it will brown on both sides. These are good with fillings of mince meat, or any thick jam or preserve.
APPLE OR PEACH CAKE

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking-powder
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
6 to 8 juicy apples or peaches

Make a crust by sifting the flour and baking-powder together, cutting in the butter and adding salt, beaten egg and enough sweet milk to make a soft dough. Roll the crust one-half inch thick and line a greased baking-tin with it. Cover the crust with quartered apples and sprinkle with a little cinnamon and molasses. Bake in a rather quick oven (400° F.) till crust and apples are both a light brown. Sprinkle with sugar, keep in the oven five minutes more and then serve. This amount makes one large cake.

GOOSEBERRY TARTS

Remove stems and tails of green gooseberries, stew slowly in very little water till the fruit breaks, then sweeten well and set aside to cool. When cold, turn into pastry shells cover with a top of puff paste and bake in a very quick oven (450° F.). Brush each over while hot with beaten egg and set back in the oven three minutes to glaze. Serve cold.

GRAPE TARTLETS

1 cup grapes
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
½ cup white grape-juice
1 teaspoon corn-starch
1 cup whipped cream

Cover inverted oval patty-pans with puff or flaky paste. The paste should be pricked thoroughly so that it will keep its shape. Bake a delicate brown in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) remove from the pan, dry the inside and fill with grape mixture made as follows: Make a sirup by boiling together sugar, water and grape-juice. Moisten the corn-starch to a smooth paste with a little cold water and stir in as thickening. Remove seeds from the grapes and put the grapes into this sirup. Simmer until the grapes are soft and sirup is thick. At serving time, fill the shells and top each one with whipped cream and a single uncooked grape laid open in halves. This recipe makes from six to eight tartlets.
LEMON TARTLETS

2 lemons
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sponge cake crumbs

Mix the juice and grated rind of the lemons with the sugar, eggs and sponge cake crumbs. Beat until smooth. Put into twelve patty-pans lined with paste and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) until the crust is done (15-20 minutes).

MACAROON TARTS

Mix this with the melted butter. Beat until smooth and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Cover inverted patty-tins with puff or flaky paste, prick thoroughly and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.). When cool, put a spoonful of marmalade or jelly into each and cover with the macaroon mixture. Place for a moment or two in the oven until the tops brown. This amount will make six to eight tarts.

MARMALADE STRIPS

Place a thin layer of crust on an inverted baking-pan. Spread with thick marmalade or any filling that does not run. Cover with another thin layer. Cut into strips four inches by one and a half. Bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.). When cool, spread with a thin icing made of confectioners’ sugar and water. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts.

NAPOLEONS

Divide puff paste into three portions and roll each portion into a sheet as thin as possible without breaking. Prick thoroughly and chill. Bake a delicate brown in a hot oven (400°-450° F.), cool and spread the sheets with cream filling. Spread the top with confectioners’ frosting. When ready to serve, cut in blocks two inches wide by four inches long.

PEACH DUMPLINGS WITH WHIPPED CREAM

Pare freestone peaches, cut hole in ends and carefully remove stones. Wrap in circular pieces of puff paste rolled to 1/4 inch thickness and tuck in the paste where the stones were removed. Bake in hot oven (450° F.). Before serving, fill holes with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

PASTRY PINWHEELS

Fold corners toward center, pinwheel fashion. Bake on cookie sheet 12 minutes in hot oven (450° F.).

PEEK-A-BOOS

Cut thin pie-crust in rounds about three inches in diameter. Prick one-half of the rounds with a fork. In each of the other rounds cut three holes, to form a triangle, using a thimble or some other small cutter. Bake in a quick oven (450° F.). Spread jelly on the pricked rounds, cover with the perforated ones, putting in extra jelly through the holes. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.
PINEAPPLE TARTS

Roll puff or flaky paste about one-half inch thick. Cut rounds with a biscuit-cutter. Dip half of these in ice-water and place in a greased pan. Cut holes in the centers of the other circles. Moisten half the edge of the circle with cold water and in the center lay a teaspoon of thick raspberry preserve. Fold one-half of the circle over the other, making edges meet. Press closely and mark with a fork dipped in flour. Brush with beaten egg, prick the top with a fork, and chill before placing in the oven. Bake fifteen minutes at 450° F. Dust with granulated sugar before serving. If desired, decorate the top of each with a single preserved berry or a candied cherry. Other fruit may be used in the same way.
SWEET RISSOLES

Cut circles of puff or flaky paste three inches in diameter from a sheet rolled not more than one-fourth inch thick. Wet the edges of each circle for one-half inch all around, lay one teaspoon of any thick stewed fruit or marmalade on one side of the circle and fold the other half over upon this until the edges meet. Pinch the edges together, brush over with beaten egg and fry in deep fat at 360°-370° F. Dust with sugar and serve.

PASTRY ROLLOVERS

Cut circles of thick rolled paste from four to five inches in diameter. Prick thoroughly, spread with jelly and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Roll closely over and over. Place on an inverted pan, having the lapped side of the rollover underneatb to keep the roll in place. Bake in a quick oven (400°-450° F.) and brush with milk just before removing from the oven.

Meringues

A meringue is a very light, delicate preparation made by beating white of egg until stiff and fine grained. It is sweetened, and may or may not be flavored otherwise.

Egg Whites for Meringues—Good storage eggs give satisfactory results, but if eggs are too stale the whites are somewhat liquid and will not beat up well. Such eggs, therefore, are undesirable for meringues, although they may be usable for other purposes.

Varieties of Sugar for Meringues—The sugar for meringues may be powdered, fine granulated or brown. It should be sifted to free it from lumps and to keep it from being compact.

Proportion of Sugar to Egg White—For pie and pudding meringues, use from one to three tablespoons of sugar to each egg-white. For kisses and meringue shells, use from four to five tablespoons of sugar to each egg-white.

Methods of Making Meringues

No. 1—Beat the egg-whites until stiff, then add the sugar gradually, continuing the beating until the mixture is fine grained and will hold its shape.
No. 2—Add the sugar to the unbeaten egg-whites and beat both together.

With Either Method, if more than three tablespoons of sugar is to be used for each egg-white, beat two-thirds of it in as directed, and fold the last third carefully into the mixture. More beating may make the egg-white fall.

Methods of Using Meringues on Pies, Tarts and Puddings

These may be used in any of the following ways:

No. 1—Spread the meringue evenly over the surface, using a knife or the back of a spoon.

No. 2—Make the surface uneven by spreading in ridges or by making points.

No. 3—Make fancy shapes by using a pastry bag and tube.

No. 4—Put the meringue on by the spoonful. This is desirable for some puddings, as it is then easy when serving the pudding to have a nicely shaped meringue for each serving.

No. 5—Bake the meringue for puddings by itself. To do this, float spoonfuls of the mixture upon hot water in a shallow pan. Set the pan in a slow oven (300°-350° F.) and bake until the meringues are lightly browned. Skim them off immediately and place upon the prepared pudding.

In spreading meringue over the surface of a pie or pudding, be sure that it touches the pastry rim or baking-dish all around or it will shrink away from it in baking.

Temperatures—All meringues should be baked in a slow oven. For meringues baked on pies or puddings, the correct temperature is 300°-350° F.

Cooking Periods—Bake pie and pudding meringues from eight to ten minutes, depending upon the thickness of the meringue. They should rise and be delicately browned.

FRENCH RECIPES

The Institute secured these excellent recipes directly from French kitchens. They have been selected for those who are interested in real French dishes. The secret of French cooking (except for sweets) is the use of a whiff of garlic. Even when it does not appear in the recipe, bowl, baking dish or food is usually rubbed with it.

PLAIN SOUP

- 6 tablespoons rice
- Boiling water
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 medium-sized carrot
- 4 medium-sized turnips
- 2 large potatoes
- 1 large onion
- 2 sprigs water cress
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 cups milk

Wash the rice and add to rapidly boiling salted water. Clean and pare the vegetables, cut them in small pieces and add to the rice. Boil together for five or ten minutes, adding more water if necessary, then cover the pan and simmer the mixture gently until it is well cooked, and the water is reduced. Add the butter and milk—and serve very hot.

GREEN SOUP

- 2 bunches water cress
- 2 diced potatoes
- 2 hard-cooked egg-yolks
- 2 slices bread
- 2 tablespoons butter or other fat

Cook the water cress until almost done, then add potatoes and cook until they are soft. Press through a sieve and add the purée to the water in which it was cooked. Brown the bread slightly in one tablespoon of the fat, and cut into small cubes. Add the minced egg-yolks and the remaining tablespoon of butter or other fat to the soup, season to taste, add the cubes of bread and serve hot.

ECONOMICAL VEGETABLE SOUP

Cut equal quantities of any left-over vegetables, such as carrots, turnips, green peppers, potatoes, celery, string beans, into small pieces. Brown them in a frying-pan with some butter or other fat, add enough hot water to cover, season with salt and pepper, and cook until tender. Drain, press through a sieve and return the pulp to the water in which the vegetables were boiled. Serve hot with small squares of toasted bread. Canned vegetables may be used.

CODFISH WITH BROWN SAUCE

| 2 cups salt codfish | 1 clove garlic, chopped |

2 \text{ tablespoons sugar} & \quad 2 \text{ egg-whites} \\
3 \text{ cups milk} & \quad \text{Marshmallow whip} \\
& \quad \text{Cherries}
\end{align*}
\]

Melt the chocolate and sugar in the milk in a double boiler. Add the gelatin, previously soaked in three tablespoons of water. Pour the mixture into a wet mold and let it stand in a cool place until the pudding is firm. Turn the pudding on to a glass dish and garnish it with beaten egg-whites mixed with marshmallow whip. Place a cherry in the center of each mound of garnish.
RICE CROWN WITH APRICOTS

Cook rice in milk and put in a buttered ring mold. When cool, turn into a fruit-dish. Cook dried apricots and place halves around the top of the crown. Strain the remainder of the fruit through a fine sieve and pour in the hollow of the crown. If this dish is desired hot, put the mold in the oven for a few minutes before trimming it with the apricots.

BREAD PUDDING

| 6 or 8 slices stale bread | 1/2 cup seeded raisins |
| Salt | 1 quart milk |
| 2 eggs | 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1/4 cup sugar | 1 teaspoon lemon extract |

Dip slices of stale bread in slightly salted water until they are soft. Drain and put into a bowl, adding the well-beaten eggs, the sugar, and the seeded raisins. Scald the milk, flavor it with the cinnamon and lemon extract, pour it over the bread, and fill a greased pudding-dish with the mixture. Set in a pan of hot water and cook in the oven (250°-350° F.) from forty-five to sixty minutes. Serve with hard sauce.

APPLE MERINGUE PUDDING

| Toasted bread | Sugar |
| Hot milk | Nutmeg |
| 1 dozen apples | 3 eggs |

Cover the bottom and sides of a baking-pan with toasted bread, wet with hot milk. Core the apples and cook them whole; sweeten with sugar and flavor with nutmeg. Beat the yolks of the eggs together with a little sugar and pour over the apples. Put the apples in the baking-pan over the bread, then cover with the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in a slow oven (300°-350° F.) for a few minutes.
HOT AND COLD BEVERAGES

Coffee

The standard kinds of coffee on the market today are Mocha, Java, Bogota, Rio and Santos. Although only about three per cent of the coffee used in the United States is actually from Mocha or Java, these names represent grades that are regularly for sale.

Buying Coffee

The size of the coffee bean is not important, since that differs with each variety; the color, however, may be, because this indicates the amount of roasting to which it has been subjected. A light-colored bean is likely to be mild in flavor; a medium one, somewhat stronger; while a very dark one may be bitter.

If possible, purchase unground coffee and grind it at home as it is needed. It is much more economical to use finely ground coffee, because more strength can be obtained from a given amount than from that which is coarser. If one has equipment for using pulverized coffee, that will be the most desirable.

Caffeine-Free Coffees—Coffees from which most or all of the caffeine has been extracted are on the market. These are sold under trade names. Together with cereal beverages they are used by those who prefer them to coffee or who may find coffee too stimulating.

Instantaneous Coffees consisting of finely pulverized coffee which may be dissolved in boiling water are available for campers and those who want a quick cup of coffee.

Storing Coffee

As coffee loses its strength when it is exposed to the air, it should be kept tightly covered, especially after it has been ground. When coffee has lost its flavor from exposure to the air, it can be improved by heating the dry coffee in a frying-pan, taking care not to let it burn. The flavor, however, will not be so good as the original flavor.
Methods of Making Coffee

The most delicious coffee is made with water just below the boiling-point. Many of the percolators and drip coffee-pots on the market are planned on this principle. Coffee should be served as soon as it is ready; if it has to stand, the pot should be tightly covered and the spout should be plugged with cotton or tissue, so that none of the aroma will be lost.

For weak coffee, use 1 level tablespoon coffee to 1 cup water.
For medium coffee, use 2 level tablespoons coffee to 1 cup water.
For strong coffee, use 3 level tablespoons coffee to 1 cup water.

Filtered or Drip Coffee—There are many coffee-pots on the market for making filtered coffee. They all contain some sort of a strainer which allows the water to drip through the coffee very slowly. Pulverized coffee should be used for this method. Place the coffee in the strainer and pour boiling hot water over it. If the infusion is not strong enough, refilter it. Serve immediately. Glass tricolators of oven glass ware are excellent for making filtered coffee, as they hold the heat well.

Boiled Coffee—Put the coffee into the pot with the white of an egg or some egg-shells and a little cold water and stir all together thoroughly. Pour boiling water over it and place on the stove. Cover the spout of the coffee-pot or stuff it with paper to preserve the aroma. As soon as it boils up, reduce the heat and allow it to settle. A quarter of a cup of cold water poured in will cause the coffee to settle more quickly. Do not allow it to become muddy by careless pouring. To avoid this, decant it into a hot serving-pot.

Percolated Coffee—Use the correct size percolator for the number to be served. Measure fresh-running cold water into pot to same number of cups. Measure coffee, finely ground or pulverized, into the basket, using 1 heaping tablespoonful to cup of water. Use medium heat or flame until percolating begins, then lower flame and continue for 8 to 10 minutes, when the liquid in the glass cap is light brown or deep amber. Serve at once. Prolonged percolating dissipates the fine aroma and flavor.

AFTER-DINNER COFFEE

The best after-dinner coffee is made with a filter. If really black coffee is desired, use three tablespoons of finely ground coffee to each cup of freshly boiled water. Wet the strainer in cold water before adding the coffee. Pour the boiling water slowly upon the coffee, and leave the pot over the heat while the water is finding its way through the fine grains and absorbing their flavor. When all the liquid has dripped through, the coffee is done and should be served at once.

VIENNA COFFEE

Make after-dinner coffee and serve in demi-tasses topped with stiffly whipped cream. Sugar may be used if desired. This style coffee is best suited to afternoon or evening service, although it is adapted for after-dinner service as well. Serve with small cakes.

CAFÉ AU LAIT

Make medium or strong coffee by the drip or percolator method and while it is being prepared scald an equal amount of fresh milk. Pour the coffee and hot milk together into the cups in equal amounts, one pot in each hand.

TURKISH COFFEE

Use finely pulverized coffee. Mix one tablespoon of coffee for each demi-tasse with an equal amount of granulated sugar. When the water is boiling briskly, add the coffee, and when it looks frothy remove from the fire. In a moment or two, boil it up again and repeat a third time. It should be thick and foamy. Serve at once, without cream, as the last course at dinner or luncheon or as a refreshment in the evening with small cakes. It is too strong to serve in cups any larger than demi-tasse.

ICED COFFEE

Make coffee of desired strength—it should be fairly strong, as the ice dilutes it. Cool it and serve in tall glasses with cracked ice; or pour the hot coffee over cracked ice, in glasses, adding more ice if needed. Top the glass with whipped cream or vanilla ice-cream. Cream may be poured on the ice before the coffee is added, and the coffee may then be topped with whipped cream.
Cereal Beverages

Grains, roasted so that they produce a brown infusion, similar in appearance to coffee, are obtainable in several brands. These furnish a hot beverage for many who do not care for or cannot drink coffee or tea. They are excellent breakfast beverages for children and young people. Directions for preparing them are given on the packages.

Tea

A cup of tea with its delicately fascinating aroma is one of the most delicious beverages, but probably no other is attended with such doubtful results, chiefly because the average person knows little about the selection of teas, and methods of brewing it are uncertain.

Varieties of Tea

Teas divide into three groups according to the method used in preparing them for market.

Unoxidized or Unfermented—These include the green teas, an example of which would be the Japan pan-dried tea. The leaves are greenish and the tea made from them is light colored and delicate in flavor.

Partly Oxidized or Partly Fermented—These include the Oolong and Ceylon varieties. The leaves are brown and the tea made from them is darker in color than that made from the unfermented leaves and has a characteristic aromatic flavor.

Oxidized or Fermented—These are known as black teas, such as English Breakfast or China Congou, and India teas such as Darjeeling and Pekoe. The leaves are black and the beverage has a rich dark color and a fruit flavor.

During oxidation or fermentation, chemical changes take place which improve the flavor and reduce the amount of tannin, the substance which gives tea its astringency. As green teas are not oxidized, they contain a larger proportion of tannin than the others and consequently have a more astringent flavor.

Buying Tea

Buy tea that has well-curled leaves and that is free from stems or dust. In preparing tea for marketing, the leaves are withered or steamed and then rolled by hand or machinery.
This extracts some of the juice, which dries on the leaf and makes it more easily soluble when the tea is steeped. The twist of the leaf due to this rolling helps to secure this dried juice. Tea with very large leaves, dusty tea or tea in which stems are found in abundance is of poor quality and even though offered at a reduced price is bad economy, as a large quantity must be used to produce even a fair flavor.

Storing Tea

Tea will absorb moisture and odors, and the volatile oil, to which it owes much of its flavor, will evaporate. Store tea, therefore, in tightly covered cans and in a cool place.

Best Method of Making Tea

Glass or earthenware pots are by all means to be preferred in making tea; metal is to be avoided if the best flavor is desired. If two pots are not available, some arrangement by which the tea leaves can be removed from the pot is necessary. Some pots come equipped with strainers.

Tea May Be Put in a Tea-Ball or a muslin bag and taken out when sufficiently steeped. These containers should be not more than half full, to allow the tea leaves room to swell and to give off the amount of flavor of which they are capable.

Making Tea in a Cup with the aid of a tea-ball or strainer is not to be encouraged, as the tea does not steep long enough and the flavor and aroma are dissipated.

The Quantity of Dry Tea to Use in proportion to water is not fixed; it depends on the grade of tea and the strength desired. An old rule reads, “a teaspoon of tea to a cup,” and it is an excellent one to use when trying a new tea; but most people will find that it is not necessary to use as much as this. The housewife must experiment with her particular kind, and suit it to the tastes of the individuals drinking it.

The Method of Making is not so variable. Experts insist that there is only one way. Freshly boiling water is necessary, otherwise the tea is flat and insipid. Pour the boiling water on the required amount of leaves in an earthen or glass pot. If an infusion is desired with a maximum of aroma and a minimum of tannin or astringent flavor, allow it to brew for three minutes, then remove the tea container or pour off the liquor into another warm pot and serve at once. More “body” is given by longer brewing, due to extraction of more tannin. Five minutes should be sufficient time.

Tea May Be Served With Sugar, cream or milk, lemon, cloves, candied cherries, orange-peel or rose leaves and mint. Black teas are best to serve with cream.

ICED TEA

Make tea in the usual way. The clearest iced tea is made by pouring the hot liquid over cracked ice rather than by cooling it slowly and chilling in the refrigerator. If it is to be poured over cracked ice, it must of course be made doubly strong, as the ice dilutes it.

Chocolate and Cocoa

Chocolate is made from cocoa beans that are ground under pressure. It is sold in the unsweetened form, such as we commonly use for a beverage, and also sweetened and flavored. If chocolate is stored in a warm room, the fat known as cocoa butter will melt and come to the surface, and when it hardens will give the chocolate a gray look, because the fat is practically white. The cake of chocolate, however, is as good to use as ever. The instantaneous chocolates found on the market are combinations of cocoa, flavoring, sugar and often milk powder.

Cocoa is the ground bean from which part of the fat has been extracted. It should be a rich reddish brown in color. If it is very dark, it is usually because it has been artificially colored or made from imperfectly cleansed beans or those of a poor quality.

Cocoa is a valuable food and is an excellent medium by which to introduce milk into the diet. Because it contains a stimulant, it is best to use a minimum of cocoa and a maximum of milk when giving it to children.

Cocoa preparations, in which cocoa, sugar, powdered milk and malt are used, make quickly prepared beverages.

The method of making all beverages containing cocoa is based on the fact that cocoa is rich in starch; therefore cocoa boiled for five minutes has a much better flavor than that which is made by simply adding it to scalded milk, because cooking improves the flavor of all starches.
COCOA

2 to 3 tablespoons cocoa
½ cup water
1 quart milk

1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Stir cocoa, sugar and either hot or cold water together and boil over the fire for five minutes; add salt. Scald the milk in a double boiler; add to the cocoa mixture and stir until well blended. Or, add cold milk to the cocoa mixture after boiling for five minutes and let it stand over hot water until hot and well blended. Beat with a rotary egg-beater to make foamy before serving. Whipped cream or marshmallows may be served with cocoa.

CHOCOLATE

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
4 cups milk

3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons water

Scrape the chocolate fine, mix it with the water and heat over hot water until the chocolate is melted. Bring the milk to the scalding point (in a double boiler), add the chocolate and the sugar, stir until-dissolved and whip with an egg-beater until the beverage is light and frothy.

ICED CHOCOLATE

Make chocolate or cocoa as usual; cool and serve in tall glasses with chopped ice, topped with sweetened whipped cream.

RECEPTION CHOCOLATE

1 quart milk
½ cup cocoa
¼ cup flour
1 quart water

½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt

Mix dry ingredients and make a smooth paste with some of the water. Pour on the remainder of the water and boil slowly for fifteen minutes. Combine with the milk, bring to the boiling-point. Add vanilla. Serve with whipped cream. This is a very thick, rich cocoa which is improved by standing over hot water an hour or more.
Fruit Beverages

Fruit beverages are particularly valuable in the diet. They should be served more frequently than any of the others except milk. The time has passed when we think of them as only for formal or semi-formal occasions or for the warmest Summer days. They offer most desirable minerals, are rich in vitamins, and, because of the sugar used to sweeten them, are fairly high in fuel value. Most of the fruit-juices have a wholesome laxative effect. In the Summer they make refreshing drinks; through the Winter, the juices that have been bottled during the warmer months plus the fresh juices available from the citrus fruits are a source of vitamins and minerals, which may be so lacking in the diet at that time; and in the Spring they are most valuable stimulants to the jaded appetite. The tang of their acid flavor and their attractive color make them welcome additions to the table.

Grape-juice, pineapple-juice, tomato-juice concentrated grapefruit-juice and orange-juice, etc., for making fruit beverages, may be bought in bottles or cans.

COMBINATIONS OF FRUITS—Any combination of fruit-juices will make a successful beverage provided some of the more tart juices, such as those from lemons, sour oranges, apple cider or rhubarb, are present to give the necessary acidity.

SUGAR SIRUPS—A beverage sweetened with a sugar sirup is better than one to which unmelted sugar has been added. The sirup gives a smoother texture and is easily mixed through the whole drink, while sugar has a tendency to sink to the bottom.

The amounts of sugar given in the recipes can not be exact, as the sugar must vary according to the acidity of the fruit and individual taste.

UTENSILS—It is best to use silver, glass or stainless steel in cutting fruit, or for pressing or stirring the juices. Some metals give a metallic flavor to the beverage. Utensils of glass, china, enamel or wood are the most desirable to use for holding the juices.

CHILLING—Fruit beverages may be chilled by putting cracked ice into the beverage or into a bowl in which the container holding the beverage is set. Ice cubes made in the trays of the mechanical refrigerator are excellent for chilling beverages.

Cover and simmer for half an hour. Strain through cheese-cloth. Add sugar, tea and lemon-juice. Serve cold. As some pineapples are much more sour than others, more sugar may be necessary.

LIMEADE

Limeade is made in the same way as lemonade, using limes instead of lemons and a little more sweetening. This is even more refreshing than lemonade in summer.

A DOCTOR'S advice is necessary in planning the diet for an invalid, as each case must be considered individually. The following general suggestions are intended to help the housewife who, in addition to her other work, has the duty of ministering to the needs of the sick and convalescent.

The Proper Selection and Preparation of food for an invalid is important, but the best cooked and most palatable food may be spoiled in the serving. When possible, remove all bottles and suggestions of medicine from the room. Use a light tray, and serve everything as nicely as possible—the hot things really hot; the cold dishes cold, not lukewarm. In illness, even more than in health, care in serving is imperative, for appetite may be poor.

Meals Should be Served at Regular Intervals, and although the patient should not be consulted about the food to be brought to him, his likes and dislikes should be considered as far as possible.

Before Serving the Meal, be sure that the patient is ready for it, with hands and face washed; and that provision has been made for placing the tray where it will be convenient for him or his attendant to reach it. Special raised trays or bedside tables may be bought; or a rest may be improvised by placing a block of wood or a bundle of magazines on each side of the patient so that he will not have to bear the weight of the tray on his knees.

The Tray Should be Covered with a clean napkin or tray cover, and the dishes and serving should be very dainty. A flower or sprig of green will often take an invalid's mind from the food, and the attractiveness of the whole will tempt him to eat what would otherwise remain untouched. Serving the meal in courses will add to the interest. Place the courses on the tray in the order in which they are to be eaten and within easy reach of the patient. Do not serve too much of any one food. Invalids will often take liquid diet through a straw and enjoy it after the glass has become tiresome.
FOODS AND BEVERAGES FOR INVALIDS

Remove the Tray and Dishes as soon as the patient has finished eating. In contagious diseases, sterilize everything used in the sick-room by boiling in water for ten minutes.

Milk and Egg Dishes

Milk

Hot—Heat the milk quickly over direct heat, stirring constantly, and serve at once. Heat the cup before pouring in the milk, and cover it with a saucer for carrying to the sick-room. Hot milk is a mild stimulant in cases of extreme fatigue. Cooked milk will agree with many persons who cannot take raw milk.

Diluted—If milk disagrees with a patient it may sometimes be made more digestible by diluting it with barley water, oat-meal water or any good carbonated water, in the proportions of two tablespoons or more of the water to one cup of milk.

Albumenized—

1 egg-white 1/2 cup cold milk
2 tablespoons cracked ice Pinch of salt

Beat the egg-white with a fork or egg-beater, add ice, milk and salt. Beat or shake enough to mix well.

Artificial Buttermilk.

1 quart skimmed milk 1/4 cup water
1 buttermilk tablet

Pasteurize the milk (See Index) and cool it to body temperature. Dissolve the tablet in the water, and add this to the milk. Mix thoroughly and stand covered in a warm place for twenty-four hours, or until a solid curd is formed. Keep in a cool place until needed. Beat smooth with a rotary egg-beater or shake thoroughly just before serving.

Kumiss.

1 quart milk 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 yeast-cake

Heat the milk to 75°F., add the sugar and the yeast-cake dissolved in lukewarm water. Fill sterilized bottles to within one and one-half inches of top, cork tightly and shake. It may be necessary to tie the corks on the bottles, as the yeast causes the milk to ferment and if gas is produced in considerable amounts the corks are forced out. Invert the bottles and place where they can remain at a temperature of about 70° F. for ten hours. Place in the refrigerator inverted and let stand for twenty-four hours, shaking now and then to prevent the cream from forming in the mouth of the bottle. If left standing too long, it becomes less palatable. It should look like thick foamy cream when ready to serve. In opening the bottle care must be taken not to let the milk foam over.

WHEY

Whey is the water solution of milk sugar, salts and minerals which forms the basis of fresh whole milk and which is separated from the curd and fat as follows:

\begin{align*}
\frac{1}{2} \text{ rennet tablet} & \quad 1 \text{ cup fresh whole milk} \\
1 \text{ tablespoon cold water} & \quad
\end{align*}
\]

Dissolve rennet tablet in water. Warm milk slowly, stirring until lukewarm—not hot (120° F.). A few drops of milk on the inside of the wrist should feel comfortably warm. Remove milk from stove. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds, then let stand unmoved until firm. While warm, cut curd gently into coarse pieces to separate from the whey and strain carefully through fine bleached muslin (72 to 76 mesh). Sweeten and flavor if desired. Serve as the doctor orders.

With Lemon-Juice—

\begin{align*}
1 \text{ cup hot milk} & \quad 2 \text{ teaspoons sugar} \\
2 \text{ tablespoons lemon-juice} & \quad
\end{align*}
\]

Add lemon-juice to hot milk and let stand over hot water until the milk separates. Strain through a double thickness of cheese-cloth and add the sugar to the whey.

With Orange-Juice—Substitute orange-juice for lemon-juice and use one-half the sugar in the recipe for lemon whey.

EGGS

Steamed—Put a piece of butter in an oatmeal dish, remove the tea-kettle lid and set the dish over the boiling water. When the butter is melted, break an egg into the dish, and cover with the tea-kettle cover. The egg will cook in a few minutes, will keep hot, and may be served in the same dish. This is also an easy way of scrambling eggs without changing the dish.

For Other Ways of Serving Eggs to Invalids look in the index for the following recipes: Coddled Eggs, Poached or Dropped Eggs, Battered or Scrambled Eggs, Shirred Eggs, Baked Eggs, Egg Timbales, Egg Toast, Scalloped Eggs, Creamed Eggs, Eggs à la Goldenrod, Plain Puffy Omelet, Plain French Omelet, Cream Omelet, Oyster Omelet, and others, depending on the condition of the patient to be served.

EGG DRINKS

Albumen Water—No. 1.

1 egg-white
1 cup ice-water
Sugar
1 tablespoon lemon-juice

Stir the white of an egg with a sliver fork, and add the water. Serve plain or sweeten and flavor with lemon-juice. Mix well.

No. 2.

2 teaspoons sugar
½ cup warm water
2 tablespoons lemon-juice or
3 tablespoons orange-juice
1 egg-white
Pinch of salt
Crushed ice

Dissolve the sugar in the warm water. Add lemon-juice. Beat egg-white enough so that it will mix; add salt and put with remaining ingredients. Shake or beat the mixture. Strain, and serve with cracked ice.

See Index for Egg Lemonade, Egg Orangeade, Eggnog, etc.

Cereal Dishes

In preparing any of the grain foods for an invalid, take special care to see that they are well cooked. In some cases the cereal may be put through a sieve or purée strainer. Whole-grain foods are important laxative articles of diet.

BANANA GRUEL

Stir banana meal into hot milk, and add sugar to taste.
OATMEAL PREPARATIONS

For oatmeal gruel and oatmeal water when the prepared oat flour is used, follow the directions for barley gruel and water. They may, however, be made from either coarse oatmeal or rolled oats. If the latter are used, they should be prepared as described in the chapter on cereals, (See Index) using the following proportions:

Oatmeal Gruel—

\[\frac{1}{4} \text{ cup rolled oats or } \frac{1}{3} \text{ cup coarse oatmeal} \quad 1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups water}\]

Oatmeal Water—

\[1\frac{1}{2} \text{ tablespoons rolled oats or } 2 \text{ tablespoons coarse oatmeal} \quad 2 \text{ cups water}\]

Oatmeal Jelly—

\[4 \text{ tablespoons rolled oats or } 5\frac{1}{2} \text{ tablespoons coarse oatmeal} \quad 1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups water}\]

BARLEY PREPARATIONS

Barley Gruel, No. 1.

\[1 \text{ tablespoon barley flour} \quad 1\frac{1}{2} \text{ cups boiling water}\]
\[1\frac{1}{2} \text{ tablespoons cold water} \quad \text{Salt}\]

Mix the flour with the cold water. Add the boiling water gradually, stirring constantly, and boil hard for thirty minutes. Salt to taste. Strain through a very fine sieve.

No. 2—Use the same ingredients as for No. 1 but decrease the boiling water to one cup and add one-half cup of hot milk to the gruel when serving.

Barley Water, No. 1.

\[2 \text{ teaspoons barley flour} \quad 2 \text{ cups boiling water}\]
\[1 \text{ tablespoon cold water}\]

Follow directions for barley gruel.

No. 2.

\[2 \text{ tablespoons pearl barley} \quad 1 \text{ quart cold water}\]

Wash the barley, and soak for five hours or over night in the cold water. Cook until it has boiled down to a pint. Strain twice.
Barley Jelly—
2 tablespoons barley flour 2 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons cold water

Follow directions for barley gruel. Strain into a mold, chill, and serve with sugar and cream.

INDIAN-MEAL GRUEL
2 tablespoons corn-meal 1 quart boiling water
1 tablespoon flour ½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons cold water

Mix the meal and flour with the cold water, rub smooth, and stir the paste into the boiling water. Stir well, and when the gruel boils, lower the heat so it will simmer gently for two hours. Add the salt, cook for one-half hour longer, and serve with cream or milk.

PANADA
Boiling water 2 soda or graham crackers

Place the crackers in a bowl, and add just enough boiling water to soak them well. Set the bowl in a vessel of boiling water, and let it remain twenty or thirty minutes, until the crackers are quite clear, but not broken. Lift them out carefully without breaking and lay them on a hot saucer. Salt if necessary. Serve very hot with sugar and cream.

RICE JELLY
2 tablespoons rice flour  Salt and sugar
1 cup boiling water Cinnamon or lemon-juice, if desired
Cold water

Mix the rice flour with enough cold water to make a thin paste, and then add the boiling water. Sweeten and salt to taste, and boil until the rice flour is transparent. Add a little cinnamon or lemon-juice as flavoring, if desired.

Wet a mold with cold water, pour in the jelly, and when cold serve with milk or cream and sugar.
FLAXSEED LEMONADE

4 tablespoons whole flaxseed  4 tablespoons sugar
1 quart boiling water  Juice of 2 lemons

Simmer the flaxseed in the water for an hour or more. Strain, add sugar and lemon-juice, and serve hot.

CHICKEN BROTH

1 fowl (3 pounds)  2 tablespoons sago or tapioca
2 quarts cold water or rice
1 teaspoon salt

Wash the chicken and remove all the skin and fat. Cut it into small pieces, crack the bones well, and place it in a kettle with two quarts of cold water and let stand one-half hour. Set the kettle on the fire in a slow heat, add the rice, and gradually bring the water to the boiling-point. Keep it simmering for three hours, with the kettle tightly covered. Season with salt, skim off fat, strain off the broth, and serve. If made the day before using, the soup may be allowed to cool, when fat may be more easily removed.

BEEF JUICE

Broil one-half pound round of beef, cut about four inches square and an inch thick, until both sides are browned and the meat is well warmed through to start the juices. Two minutes should be sufficient. Sprinkle with salt, cut in pieces, place in a presser, lemon-squeezer or potato-ricer and squeeze out all the juice. One-half pound of beef yields two ounces or four tablespoons of juice.

Sufficient juice for two servings is generally prepared at one time. Warm the second serving over boiling water, stirring the juice constantly until it is a little more than lukewarm and serve at once.

BEEF TEA—Place 1 pound lean, ground beef in a fruit jar. Add 1 pint cold water, and let stand 1 hour. Place jar in a saucepan of cold water with a cloth on bottom of pan under the jar, and heat water slowly to 140° F. Do not let it boil. Continue two hours, then slowly increase heat until beef tea turns a deep chocolate color. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt.
HIGH ALTITUDE COOKING

The boiling point of water is called 212° F. but actually that temperature is reached only at sea level. For every 500 feet ascent the boiling point drops one degree. As altitudes rise in this country from sea level to 12,000 feet, food boils at 202° F. in Denver, and 198° F. in Laramie.

Simple boiling processes are carried on by the use of a pressure cooker or a sealed steamer as indicated under vegetable cookery (pages 386 to 388). In the baking of meats and vegetables oven heat can be regulated without regard to altitude. Above 7,000 feet, additional time must be allowed. The little book called "Vegetable Cookery at High Altitudes" by Emma J. Thiessen of the University of Wyoming will be found valuable.

Candy and frostings can no longer be tested by temperature because the soft-ball stage, which is 236° F. up to 1,000 feet, is 226° F. at 3,000 feet, 223° F. at 5,000 feet, and 220° F. at 7,000 feet. The other stages also occur at lower temperatures as the altitude rises. Testing consistency of the sirup by the finger or the saccharometer is the way out.

High altitude does the greatest damage to the baking processes, particularly to those baked foods containing sugar, non-yeast leavening, and shortening.

Marjorie W. Peterson of Colorado State College has made a careful study entitled "Baking Quick Breads and Cakes at High Altitudes," giving recipes for sea level with their necessary variations for 3,000 to 11,180 feet. Miss Peterson calls attention to some general requirements for all high levels. Cake and bread flours should be used exactly as indicated and not interchanged. Reductions in the amounts of sugar and baking powder as well as fat must also be made as the altitude rises, and while these bear a certain ratio per thousand feet, they are not regular. The modern woman living in high altitudes would do well to buy Miss Peterson’s booklet.
CANNING, PRESERVING AND JELLY MAKING

To Preserve Foods by Canning we must do two things. First, we must provide sufficient heat to destroy all microscopic life that will cause spoilage in food; and, second, we must provide a perfect seal which will prevent the re-entrance of micro-organisms. These problems of preventing spoilage have been practically solved by the improved methods of canning which are explained below.

METHODS OF CANNING

The open-kettle or cooked-in-the-kettle and the cold-pack or cooked-in-the-can are the two methods of canning now commonly used.

Description of the Open Kettle Method

The open-kettle method is so called because the food to be canned is completely cooked in a kettle before it is poured into the jar. This method involves more risk than the cold-pack, because, unless the jar, the cover, the rubber, and all the utensils that come in contact with the food have been thoroughly sterilized by being boiled for several minutes before the jars are filled, and unless the work is carefully done, there is always the risk that the canned food will be infected and that it may spoil after the jar has been sealed. For some products, however, such as thick preserves and conserves, for which more intense heat than that of boiling water is needed, the open-kettle method must still be used. Many persons, too, prefer the open-kettle method for canning strawberries and tomatoes. It is not advisable to use it for non-acid vegetables or meats.

Description of the Cold-Pack Method

In the cold-pack method the uncooked or partly cooked food is packed in the jars, covered with water, sirup, or ice; and both the jar and its contents are heated simultaneously by boiling water or steam. This method is recommended for most fruits and all vegetables and meats, because it is not only a safer, easier way of canning most foods than the old open-kettle method, but also because the product retains much of its natural flavor and color and more of its nutritive value.

Blanching for the Cold-Pack Method

Blanching is a preliminary step sometimes used in the cold-pack method of canning. It is no longer considered necessary to blanch all vegetables, and whenever this step can be eliminated it saves time and a certain loss of food substance. Tomatoes and some fruits are blanched to make it easy to remove the skins. Blanching may be done with either boiling water or steam.

Vegetables That Should be Blanched

The following vegetables are the only ones which must be blanched before canning:

GREENS—All greens should be blanched about five minutes to reduce the bulk.

CORN—In order to prevent loss of the milk, corn should be blanched on the cob until it is firm to the touch and until the milk does not ooze out when the corn is pricked with a fork.

BEETS, CARROTS, PARSNIPS—Beets, carrots and parsnips should be blanched until the skins will slip off easily.

When Boiling Water is Used, place the fruit or the vegetables in a piece of cheese-cloth or in a crate; lower this entirely under the water, and heat for the required number of minutes. Blanch only a small quantity of the product at a time in order to keep the water as near the boiling point as possible all during the process.

For Blanching in Steam place the food in some perforated utensil or in a piece of cheese-cloth and suspend it in a tightly closed steamer. Greens should be blanched until no further shrinkage will occur. Blanching in steam generally requires a longer time than does blanching in boiling water. The steam must penetrate to all parts of the mass. For this reason do not crowd the fruits or vegetables, particularly when you are blanching greens.

The Cold Dip Which Follows Blanching rapidly chills the outside of the blanched fruit or vegetables and is accomplished by plunging them into cold water. While the food should be cooled sufficiently to make it easy to handle, do not allow it to remain in the cold water too long.
Cooking or Processing in the Cold-Pack Method

Food to be canned by the cold-pack method is usually heated or, as it is called, processed in one of two ways.

1—Continuous boiling in a hot-water bath (at 212° F.).
   a—for a long period of time.
   b—for a shorter period of time, if a small amount of lemon-juice or vinegar is used.

2—Cooking at a high temperature in steam under pressure.

While a continuous period of cooking in boiling water may be successful for vegetables and meats, if the period is long enough, it is not generally considered as effective in destroying the organisms that cause spoilage as cooking in steam under pressure. As a precaution against botulinus poisoning, vegetables canned in the hot-water bath should be boiled after being opened, before they are used.

Acid as an Aid in Canning by the Cold-Pack Method

If a steam pressure cooker is not available, the use of a food acid (lemon-juice or vinegar) with foods processed in a hot-water bath increases the certainty of success in canning corn, peas, beans, asparagus and greens. The acid flavor is scarcely noticeable and to most persons not objectionable.

Quantity of Acid to Use—For each pint jar of vegetables, use one tablespoon of vinegar or lemon-juice and one teaspoon of salt. Boil the jars of vegetables in the hot-water bath for one and one-half hours, according to the directions given farther along in this chapter for each vegetable.

General Directions for Canning Vegetables by the Cold-Pack Method

1. Choose vegetables that are young and that have made a quick growth.
2. Do not use very dirty vegetables as more micro-organisms are present on these than on clean vegetables.
3. Do not attempt to handle too large a quantity of vegetables at once, especially in hot weather. The various steps in the canning process must be followed in rapid succession to prevent loss of flavor caused by what is known as flat sour, and large quantities can not be handled rapidly.
4. Can vegetables as soon as possible after they have been picked. This is particularly necessary with asparagus, peas, beans and corn.
5. Clean the vegetables thoroughly and prepare them as for cooking.

6. If there is much variation in size, grade the vegetables so that the contents of each jar will be as nearly uniform as possible.

7. Blanch the vegetables, if necessary (Page 659). The blanching or scalding should be continued just long enough to make the vegetables sufficiently flexible to pack easily or to loosen the skins so that they can be quickly scraped off. Spinach and certain other delicately flavored greens should be blanched in steam instead of in boiling water, until they are thoroughly shrunken.

8. Chill the outside of the vegetables by immersing them in a large receptacle of cold water and removing them immediately. Do not attempt to cool the vegetables thoroughly by this cold dip.

9. Pack the vegetables in clean, tested jars to within one-half inch of the top. Corn should be packed only to within one inch of the top. Shake the jars to get a good pack, but do not press the vegetables down with a spoon.

10. Add from one-half to one teaspoon of salt to each pint jar. Some vegetables, such as peas, corn, beets and pumpkin, are improved by the addition of a small amount of sugar as well.

11. Fill the jars with boiling water to within one-fourth inch of the top. Place a new rubber on each jar, adjust the cover, and partly seal it by adjusting only the upper clamp or by slightly screwing the lid.

12-A. If the hot-water bath is used, place the jars on the rack in the container and add water. The boiling water should cover the tops of the jars to the depth of about one inch.

In using the hot-water bath do not begin to time the heating until the water boils over the jars. Keep the water boiling during the entire period. (Time-table on page 665.)

B. If the pressure cooker is used, place the cooker on the stove and put in the rack before placing the jars in the cooker. Add sufficient water to come up to the rack but not to cover it. Let the water get warm. Place the jars in the crate and lower it into the kettle. If two tiers of jars are to be put in the cooker, place a rack between them. Adjust the cover and place all the bolts in position; then begin screwing them down by hand, in rotation. Do not finish screwing down one bolt before starting the others. A better connection is obtained by following the right method. Finish tightening the nuts with a wrench.

Open the pet-cock and allow it to stand until a fine stream of steam appears; then close it. Shortly after this, the pointer on the dial will begin to move or register pressure. As soon as the desired pressure is reached, lower the heat and keep the steam at that pressure for the required length of time. See table on page 664.

When the required time is up, turn out the heat or remove the cooker from the fire. When the pointer on the dial of the cooker registers zero, open the pet-cock gradually and allow the steam to escape. If the pet-cock is opened before the pressure is down to zero, the liquid escapes from the jars and there is danger of forcing out the rubbers.

13. Remove the jars from the hot-water bath or cooker, seal them, and invert while they are cooling, so that if there is a leakage in the jar it may appear in time. Avoid a draft on the jars, but cool them as quickly as possible, especially if the vegetables are corn, beans, asparagus or greens.

14. Wash the jars, label them, and store in a cool place.

General Directions for Canning Fruit by the Cold-Pack Method

1. Select firm, well-grown, but not overripe fruit.
2. If possible, can fruit on the day that it is picked.
3. Wash, pare, and prepare the fruit, removing all bruised or decayed parts.
4. If there is much variation in size, sort the fruit so that the contents of each jar will be as nearly uniform as possible.
5. Blanch the fruit if necessary in boiling water, a small quantity at a time, until the skin slips off.
6. Chill the outside of the blanched fruit by immersing it for a brief period in a large receptacle of cold water. Do not attempt to cool the fruit thoroughly by this cold dip.
7. Pack the fruit firmly in clean, tested jars to within one-half inch of the top.
8. Fill the jars with boiling sirup or hot water.
9. Place a new rubber on each jar, adjust the cover of the jar, and partly seal it by adjusting only the upper clamp or by slightly screwing the lid.
10. Cook for the required length of time in the hot-water bath, or, in the case of hard pears, or pineapple, in the pressure cooker. (See tables pages 664-665.) Be sure to have the jars completely immersed in water.

General Directions for Canning Meat by the Cold-Pack Method

Continuous heating is necessary in canning meats. Most authorities agree that meat should be canned only under steam-pressure.

The various parts of beef, veal, pork and mutton may be canned successfully, as may chicken and rabbit. Rabbit is canned on the bone.

1. Select meat in perfect condition. Tough cuts lend themselves well to canning.
2. Trim off dark-colored or strong-smelling portions and surplus fat. If mutton is being canned, be careful to remove the thin outer skin, which has a strong flavor. Wipe the meat well with a damp cloth. The bones may be used for making soup stock.

3. Free the meat from bones and cut it into pieces suitable for packing in the jars.

4. Pack the raw meat solidly into clean glass jars, filling them to within one inch of the top.

5. Add from one-half to one teaspoon of salt for each pint of meat, and other seasoning, such as chopped onion, celery leaves, or bay-leaf, if desired. Add no water.

6. Adjust the rubbers and the covers, and partly seal the jar.

7. Heat the jars under ten pounds of pressure for one and three-quarters hours. If a water-bath is used, boil for five hours.

Avoid These Mistakes in Canning Any Food

If there is an empty space in the jar it may be caused by any one of these conditions:

1. The jar may have been packed too loosely.

2. The product may not have been blanched enough to cause necessary shrinkage.

3. The pressure may have fluctuated instead of being kept steady.

4. The pet-cock of the pressure cooker may have opened before the pressure dropped to zero.

To be sure, the empty space will not affect the quality of the food, but it does detract from the appearance and wastes space.

Lack of liquid in the jar may also be caused by uneven temperature, and when the jar is packed closely there is little space left when the water is added. The product will keep in this condition, but the flavor seems to be better if the food is practically covered with liquid.

In the canning of greens, asparagus, peas, beans and corn, flat sour seems to be responsible for more failures than any other one factor.

This condition is not always apparent until the jar is opened. The appearance may be unchanged as to color and texture, but when the jar is opened the taste and odor are bad and the product must be destroyed. Occasionally neither odor nor taste is detected until the food is heated. Sometimes the presence of flat sour is indicated by the slightly clouded color of the liquid and a general change in the color of the product itself.

This condition seems to develop at different stages along the route from the garden to the canner. It is imperative then to use only fresh sound vegetables, since changes are said to take place in vegetables when they are allowed to stand for a time in a warm place. Hence it is also necessary to prepare only a limited number of jars at one time, so that the product can be handled rapidly.

Caution in Using Home-Canned Foods

Because of possible danger from botulinus poisoning, it may be well to boil all home-canned vegetables for five minutes after the can is opened. This should be done even if the food is to be served cold in a salad.

1. When the cover is loosened, if there is an escape of air or liquid, it may indicate that gas has been formed by the spoiling of the food.
2. Smell the contents, but do not taste. A peculiar odor indicates spoiled food, and a single taste of food spoiled by botulinus is sometimes fatal.
3. The liquid should be clear, free from all clouded appearance.
4. The food should be firm and free from mold.
5. Do not take any chances. If there is any doubt as to the condition of the food discard it.
6. If the food is in good condition, do not pour off the liquid. Vegetable juices contain minerals and other valuable food substances and may be added to soups, gravies and sauces.

* If a steam cooker is used, the time should be increased one-third the amount given for the hot-water bath.
For altitudes above 1,000 feet, it is said that the time of cooking should be increased 10 per cent. for each 500 feet.

SIRUPS FOR CANNING FRUITS

The thickness of sirup for canning fruits depends upon the kind of fruit with which it is to be used and upon the richness of the product desired.
In order to obtain the grades of sirup ordinarily used in canning, sugar and water may be combined in the following proportions and boiled five minutes. The quantity of water is given as the same in each grade in order to show the variation in the quantity of sugar used:

Thin Sirup—Four cups of water, two cups of sugar. This sirup may be used for such fruits as apples, pears, raspberries and other sweet berries, when a rich product is not desired.

Medium Sirup—Four cups of water, two and one-half cups of sugar. This sirup may be used for such fruits as sweet plums, blackberries, and sweet cherries.

Thick Sirup—Four cups of water, five cups of sugar. This sirup may be used for such fruits as peaches, cherries or pineapples, when a sweet product is desired.

A still thicker sirup may be desired for rhubarb, gooseberries, currants, sour cherries, and other very sour fruits. Such a sirup may be made by boiling the thick sirup until it begins to spin a thread.

Preserves, Marmalades, Jams, Conserves and Fruit Butters

In making preserves, marmalades, conserves, jams and fruit butters, a larger amount of sugar is used than in canning. The sugar is cooked into the fruit or condensed with the fruit-juice and acts as a natural preservative against yeasts and bacteria. These foods must still be protected from molds, and this is most satisfactorily accomplished by sealing in clean hot jars.
Preserves

Preserves are fruits in which the tissues of the fruit have absorbed a heavy sugar sirup until they are filled with sirup instead of with water. A good preserved fruit is plump and tender in texture and filled with sweetness. It is bright in color, clear and sparkling.

Cook Hard Fruits Before Placing in Sirup—Stew hard fruits, such as hard pears, underripe peaches, pineapples, sweet apples, quinces, watermelon-rind or citron, until tender before placing them in a heavy sirup. This makes the fruit soft, so that the sirup can enter the cells of the fruit. If these fruits are not treated in this way, the preserves will be hard and tough instead of plump and tender. Tender fruits such as berries, ripe peaches or cherries may be placed at once in a heavy sirup.

Cook Rapidly in Sirup—Cook the fruit rapidly in the sirup, and only long enough for the sirup to fill the fruit. Too long cooking gives a dark, stiff product.

When foods have been given a preliminary cooking to make them tender, drain them before adding them to the sirup. The water in which they were cooked should be used for making the sirup. Place the fruit in the sirup and bring it quickly to the boiling-point; continue the cooking rapidly until the product has a bright, clear, shiny look, showing that the fruit is filled with the clear sirup.

Plumping—If an extra fine quality of preserve is desired, add the fruit to the sirup and heat it only until it bubbles; then set it away in a covered enamel preserving-kettle for several hours, or over night. Then continue the cooking. In this way, more sirup is absorbed by the fruit. If the amount of extra work entailed is not too exacting, the heating and cooling process may be repeated several times. Pears, peaches, green tomatoes, whole tomatoes, crabapples, citron and melon-rind are especially adapted to plumping. Fruit to be candied should be plumped.

Sealing—The best method of keeping preserves is to seal them in hot clean jars. If trouble has been experienced with molds, it may be desirable to hold the jars of preserves in steam or boiling water for ten minutes as an extra precaution against molds. All jars, rubbers, spoons and utensils that are to be used in placing preserves in the jars should be sterilized in boiling water.
SIRUP FOR PRESERVES

The amount of sugar used in making the sirup for preserves may vary with the tastes of the individual. About three-fourths pound of sugar and three-fourths cup of water to one pound of fruit is used for most fruits. For gooseberries and very tart fruits, a pound to pound proportion of sugar is required. Dissolve the sugar in the water and boil the sirup for five or ten minutes, according to the sweetness desired. If a very rich preserve is to be made, boil sirup until it spins a thread (230°F.), before adding the fruit.

BERRY PRESERVES

Follow recipe for strawberry preserves or sun-cooked preserves (pp. 671-672) for all berries except blackberries. Blackberries do not make satisfactory preserves, on account of the large hard seeds.

CHERRY PRESERVES

2 pounds sour cherries, weighed after stoning
1 1/2 pounds sugar

Add the sugar to the stoned cherries and bring them quickly to the boiling-point. Cook rapidly until the fruit is clear, skimming as necessary. Pour at once into clean hot jars and seal.

FIG PRESERVES

4 pounds fresh figs
2 pounds sugar
1 cup water
1 lemon

Wash and peel the figs. Slice the lemon. Boil the sugar and water together for ten minutes, then add the figs and lemon. Cook rapidly until the fruit is clear. Seal in clean hot jars.

PRESERVED GINGER

1 pound fresh ginger roots
1 1/2 cups water
1 pound sugar

Scrub roots of fresh green ginger thoroughly, using a brush. Pare with a very sharp knife, and place the roots at once in cold water. Rinse well and place in fresh cold water. Let stand over night. Drain, weigh the ginger, place it in a preserving-kettle, and cover it with cold water. When the water is boiling, skim out the ginger and place it again in cold water. When quite cool, return to the kettle, add more cold water, and when the water is boiling, skim out the ginger and lay in cold water, as before. Do this three times, or until the ginger is tender.

Boil the sugar and water together for ten minutes. Drain the ginger and add it to the sirup. Bring quickly to the boiling-point; remove from the heat and let it stand over night.
Drain off the sirup, let it come to a boil and repeat the first process.

Drain off the sirup again, heat to boiling, add the ginger and simmer until clear. Pour into clean hot jars and seal. It will be ready to use in two weeks.

GOOSEBERRY PRESERVES

1 pound green gooseberries   1 1/4 pounds sugar

Stem the berries, remove the blossom end, and wash the fruit in cold water. Half cover the gooseberries with water and scald the fruit until the skins are soft. Add the sugar to the hot mixture. Bring quickly to the boiling-point and cook until clear. Seal at once in clean hot jars.

GRAPE PRESERVES

4 pounds Concord grapes   1/2 pound of sugar for each
1/2 cup water to each pound pound of prepared fruit
fruit

Wash the grapes and press the pulp from the skins. (They are extra nice if seeded.) Boil the sugar and water ten minutes. Add the fruit and cook until the grapes are clear and the sirup is thick. Pour into hot clean jars and seal.

GREEN-GAGE PRESERVES

3/4 pound sugar to each pound of fruit

Place the plums in a wire basket, immerse the basket in boiling water, and when the skins crack and loosen remove the plums from the water and peel them. Place a layer of the fruit in a large earthen jar, sprinkle it with some of the sugar, add another layer of fruit, and one of sugar, and when all is used set the jar aside until the next morning. In the morning, draw off the juice that has formed. Boil it for ten minutes, skimming it as the scum rises. Add the fruit, and cook rapidly until the plums are clear and tender. Skim out the fruit, place on a large platter, and boil the sirup until it coats a spoon, draining into the kettle all that drains from the fruit on the platter. When thick enough, return the fruit to the sirup and bring to a boil. Pour into clean hot jars and seal.

PEACH PRESERVES

¾ pound sugar and ¾ cup of water to each pound of prepared fruit

Cling-stone peaches are better than free-stone, for they keep their shape better. Wash, peel, and remove the stones if desired. If the stones are to be removed, cut the peaches in quarters. Boil the sugar and water for ten minutes. Skim, add the fruit and cook rapidly until it is transparent. Seal in clean hot jars.

PINEAPPLE PRESERVES

¾ pound sugar to each pound of prepared fruit

Pare the pineapple, and with a sharp, pointed knife extract the eyes; then with a silver fork tear the fruit off the core in pieces of moderate size. Weigh the pulp, then place it in a preserving-kettle and partly cover it with water. Cover the kettle closely. Cook until the pineapple is tender. Then drain the pineapple from the water and add the sugar to the water, and cook together until the sirup is thick enough to coat a spoon. Return the fruit to the sirup and cook rapidly until clear. Pour into clean hot jars and seal.

PLUM PRESERVES

6 pounds fruit 4½ pounds sugar 1 cup water

Select small purple plums and be sure they are sound and not overripe. Remove the stems, wash the fruit, and pierce each plum with a fork. Place the plums in an earthen bowl or jar, cover them with the sugar and add the water. Cover the bowl and set in a cool place over night. Drain the plums, and boil the juice for five minutes. Add the plums and cook until clear.
This will take only a few minutes, and care should be taken not to overcook, as the sirup thickens or jellies after standing.
Pour into hot, clean jars and seal.
QUINCE PRESERVES

3 quarts sugar  3 cups water  4 quarts prepared fruit

Never cook quinces in sirup before steaming or boiling them in water until tender, as sugar hardens the uncooked fruit.

Scrub the quinces with a stiff brush, wash, pare, core, and quarter, dropping the pieces into cold water to prevent discoloration. Save all the good parings and cores for jelly. Measure the prepared fruit, put it into a preserving-kettle, cover with cold water and cook until the fruit is soft, then skim out and drain. Save the water to be used with the parings, cores, and gnarly fruit for jelly.

Make a sirup of the sugar and water and boil for five minutes. Add the drained quince quarters and cook rapidly until the fruit is clear. Pour into clean, hot glasses and seal.

Many persons prefer quince preserves made with an equal measure of sweet apples or firm pears. The method of making is the same as for quinces alone.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

4 pounds berries  3 pounds sugar

Pick over, wash, and hull the berries. Add the sugar to the strawberries, and heat gently until the sugar dissolves and the juice is drawn from the berries. Cook rapidly until the fruit is plump and transparent and the sirup thick. Pack carefully in clean, hot jars and seal. All berries except blackberries may be made into preserves by this method. (See also Sun Cooked Preserves below.)

EIGHT-MINUTE STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

Select large firm berries of deep-red color. Wash and remove the hulls. Weigh the berries and add an equal weight of sugar. Mix the berries with the sugar, using a wooden spoon and lifting the berries gently to avoid crushing them. Place the berries and sugar at once over the fire. Bring them to the boiling-point as soon as possible and boil rapidly for eight minutes. Seal in clean hot jars. By this method the berries keep their shape and the finished product has a clear, rich color.
SUN-COOKED PRESERVES

Small fruits like strawberries, raspberries, and currants can be preserved by this process. Wash the fruit, drain thoroughly, pick over and stem, then weigh it. For each pound of fruit, allow one pound of sugar and one cup of water. Add the water to the sugar and cook until the sirup spins a thread. Remove the sirup from the fire. Add the fruit and let it remain in the sirup over night. With a skimmer remove the fruit from the sirup, and lay it on platters or flat dishes. Cook the sirup again until it threads. Pour the hot sirup over the berries, cover the platter with cheese-cloth or glass and place in the direct sunlight. A glass cover hastens the process. Allow the fruit to stand three or four days in the sunshine, or until the sirup is thick and jelly-like in consistency. Pack in clean jars and seal.

TOMATO PRESERVES

1 pound small, yellow tomatoes 1 lemon
1/4 pound sugar

Select the small yellow tomatoes that are about the size of small plums. Pour boiling water over them and cover tightly for two minutes, then quickly drain and cover with cold water. This will loosen the skins. Peel the tomatoes, being careful not to break them. If any are found with the skins still unloosened, treat them again with boiling water. Place the sugar and tomatoes in a crock or enamel bowl and let stand over night. Drain off the juice and boil rapidly until it threads. Add the tomatoes and the thinly sliced lemon. Cook until clear and thick. Seal in clean hot jars.

GREEN TOMATO PRESERVES

8 pounds green tomatoes 1 tablespoon preserved ginger
6 pounds sugar 6 lemons

Wash the tomatoes, remove any dark parts about the stems, and weigh them. Cover them with boiling water, let them stand five minutes, drain and slice them into a preserving-kettle, placing a layer of the tomatoes, then a layer of sliced lemon, then the sugar with the ginger sprinkled over it. Let the mixture stand over night. Drain and boil the sirup for ten minutes.
Skim, add the tomatoes and cook rapidly until they are clear. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal.

Jams

Jams are made from whole small fruits which are either mashed or cooked to a pulp with sugar. Good jam is soft, tender and jelly-like in texture, bright and sparkling in color and of the same consistency throughout the mixture.

Some Underripe Fruit Desirable—Portions of fruit left from canning, or broken fruit, may be used for jam, but at least a portion of the fruit should be underripe. Overripe fruit lacks pectin and some pectin, a jellying substance, is necessary for good jam.

Cook the Fruit Before Adding Sugar—In order to develop the pectin substance, the fruit should be cooked for a few minutes before the sugar is added. If the fruit does not have sufficient juice, add just enough water to keep it from burning and cook it in a covered kettle.

Not Too Much Sugar—The best jam is made by using not more than three-fourths pound of sugar to each pound of fruit.

Cook Quickly and Not Too Long—After the sugar is added to the fruit, continue the cooking quickly until the jam gives a jelly-like appearance. It should hang in sheets from the spoon or set quickly if a portion is dropped on a cool plate. It should be tender and jelly-like, not thick and tough. Jam thickens on cooling, and an allowance must be made for this or the jam will be overcooked. Overcooking also darkens the product. It is better to make a small amount of jam at a time. Use enamel or porcelain cooking utensils, if possible.

Stir to Prevent Burning—Jam is a highly concentrated mass and will burn quickly unless it is stirred from the bottom. Use a wooden spoon and lift the mass from the bottom. It is better to cook jam briskly and watch it carefully for twenty or thirty minutes than to let it simmer for hours.

Seal in Hot, Clean Jars—Jams, like preserves, are safer from molds if they are sealed in hot, clean jars.

Blackberry Jam

Mash the berries, cook them in their own juice until they are thoroughly heated, then press them through a sieve to remove the seeds, which are objectionably large. Measure this pulp and liquid, and for every pint allow one cup of sugar. Add the sugar to the pulp, and cook rapidly until thick, stirring frequently. Pack in clean, hot jars and seal.

FIG JAM

1½ cups sugar to 1 pint of stewed figs

Select soft, ripe, white figs, remove the stems and peel. Mash, add just enough water to prevent scorching and cook until they are soft. Add sugar and cook rapidly until the mixture is thick and amber colored with a shiny surface.

RASPBERRY AND CURRANT JAM

1 pound red raspberries ¼ cup currant-juice ¾ pound sugar

Mash the fruit, add the currant-juice, and bring to the boiling-point, stirring well from the bottom. Add the sugar and cook until thick, stirring occasionally. Pack in clean hot jars and seal.

STRAWBERRY JAM

¾ pound sugar to 1 pound hulled berries

Pick over the berries and remove the hulls. Put the fruit on the fire alone, mashing it as it heats; a wooden potato-masher is best for the purpose. Bring the fruit to a boil, stirring almost constantly and crushing any berries that may remain whole. Add the sugar to the fruit and boil together until thick (not over twenty minutes), stirring well to prevent burning. Pack in clean hot jars and seal.

GOOSEBERRY JAM

Follow directions for strawberry jam, but boil the fruit alone until the skins are soft, then add the sugar and boil until the mixture is thick. Avoid too long cooking, as the juice will thicken on standing.

GRAPE JAM

Stem the grapes, wash, and press the pulp from the skins. Place the pulp in a kettle, cook until soft, then rub through a sieve to remove the seeds. Cook the skins until soft in just enough water to cover. Combine the two mixtures and boil for five minutes. Measure and allow one cup of sugar to every pint of fruit. Cook until thick, which will take but a few minutes. Pack in clean hot jars and seal.

PEACH JAM

5 pounds peaches
1 cup water
3 pounds sugar

Choose good peaches that are not firm enough for canning. Remove the stones and cut in slices. Put the water in the preserving-kettle and add the peaches. Cover and cook until soft, stirring to prevent sticking. Add the sugar and cook until thick and jelly-like. Pack in clean, hot jars and seal.

RED RASPBERRY JAM

Pick over the berries and wash them carefully. Weigh, and to each pound of fruit allow three-fourths pound of sugar. Heat the berries gently in a preserving-kettle. When the juice starts, mash with a wooden potato-masher. Add the sugar and cook rapidly until thick and clear. Seal in clean hot jars.

Marmalades

Marmalades are usually made from fruits which have some jelly-making properties, that is, in which both pectin and acid are present. Thin slices of fruit are used and the product shows a clear jelly or jelly-like sirup in which the sliced or cut fruit is suspended. If a fruit is used which lacks these jellying properties, they are often supplied by adding sliced orange or lemon or by using some tart apple-juice.

Marmalades are prepared in the same way as jams, except that the fruit remains in thin slices or cut portions and is not mashed. They should be clear and sparkling in color.

ORANGE MARMALADE

12 thin-skinned oranges
3 lemons

Wash the fruit and slice it as thin as paper, or grind it fine. For each quart of fruit, add one and one-half quarts of water and let the mixture stand over night. In the morning cook it slowly until tender, from two to two and one-half hours.
Measure the cooked fruit and add an equal amount of sugar. Cook the mixture until it jellies from a spoon (thirty to sixty minutes). Pour it into clean, hot jars and when it is cold, cover it with hot paraffin.

CARROT AND ORANGE MARMALADE

6 carrots
3 oranges
1 lemon
Sugar

Dice the carrots and cook them until they are tender, in as little water as possible. Slice the oranges in thin pieces and add the juice and grated rind of the lemon. Measure the carrot and fruit, and add two-thirds as much sugar. Simmer the mixture until it is clear. Turn it into jelly glasses, and when it is cold, cover it with hot paraffin.

AMBER MARMALADE

1 grapefruit
1 orange
1 lemon
3 1/2 quarts water
5 pounds sugar

Wash and wipe the fruit. Cut in paper-thin slices, using a very sharp knife. Add the water and let stand over night. Cook until the peel is tender and let it stand over night. Add the sugar and cook until the sirup thickens slightly on a cold dish. Pour into clean jars and seal.

GRAPEFRUIT MARMALADE

1 pound peeled grapefruit
1 quart water
3/4 pound sugar
1/4 pound grapefruit peel

Wash the fruit and remove the peel in uniform sections. Choose one-fourth pound of peel that is free from blemishes and cut it into thin slices. Cover with water, and boil for ten minutes. Drain, cover with boiling water, and repeat the process four or five times to remove the bitter flavor.

Weigh the pulp and slice it. Cover with the water and boil until very tender. Pour into a flannel jelly-bag, press until no more juice can be obtained, and filter the juice through another clean flannel jelly-bag without pressing. Pour the juice into the kettle, add the sliced peel, and the sugar, and boil rapidly until it reaches the jellying point.
STARTING POINT—THE FINISHED PRODUCT WILL BE GOLDEN ORANGE MARMALADE

SUCCULENT PEACH PRESERVES WILL BRING A BREATH OF SUMMER TO YOUR WINTER MEALS
FRUITS AND BERRIES ARE ALWAYS IN SEASON IF YOU PRESERVE THEM
QUINCE AND APPLE MARMALADE

Wash the quinces and remove the blossom end. Cut the fruit in small pieces; add sufficient water to cover it, and cook until it is soft. Rub it through a sieve, and combine the pulp with an equal measure of tart apple pulp. Use two-thirds as much sugar as pulp. Cook until it is thick and clear (about twenty-five minutes). Turn it into clean, hot glasses and when it is cold cover it with hot paraffin.

RHUBARB MARMALADE

Rhubarb for marmalade should be young and fresh. Cut it into inch lengths without peeling. Weigh it. Allow three-fourths pound of sugar to every pound of rhubarb. Place the sugar and rhubarb in a preserving-kettle, heat it very slowly and boil until thick and clear. Pack in clean hot jars and seal.

Conserves

Conserves, like marmalades, may be made of large or small fruits. They differ from marmalade in that several fruits may be combined and nuts may be added. In this way, it is possible to develop pleasing combinations of flavors and to combine fruits which have good acid or pectin content with fruits that lack these qualities. Conserves are made in the same way as marmalades. When nuts are used, they are added after all the cooking is done, as heat toughens the nut-meats.

CHERRY CONSERVE

3 pints pitted sour cherries       2 2/3 cups sugar
1 pint black raspberries

Combine all the ingredients, and cook until thick and clear.

No. 1. CRANBERRY CONSERVE

1 quart cranberries       2 2/3 cups sugar
1 cup water
Juice of 1 orange

1/2 pound walnut-meats

Wash the cranberries and cook them in the water until the berries burst. Add all the remaining ingredients except the nuts and cook until the mixture is thick. Break the nuts into small pieces, add them to the cooked mixture, then pour it into hot, clean glasses and seal.

No. 2.

2 quarts cranberries
1 cup raisins
2 oranges
2 lemons
6 cups sugar

Combine the grated rind and juice of the oranges and lemons with the other ingredients and cook until the mixture is thick and clear. Pour into hot, clean glasses and seal. This is an excellent relish with game.

CURRANT CONSERVE

5 pints currants
6 1/2 cups sugar
2 oranges
1 cup walnut-meats

Combine the grated rind and juice of the oranges with the currants and sugar and cook until the mixture is thick and clear. Add the nuts, pour into clean, hot glasses and seal.

GRAPE CONSERVE

2 pints grapes
2 oranges
1 cup seeded raisins
2 2/3 cups sugar
1 cup walnut-meats

Wash, stem, and seed the grapes. Slice the oranges very thin, and add to the grapes. Add the raisins and sugar and cook until the mixture is transparent and thick. Add the chopped walnut-meats. Pack while hot in hot, clean jars and seal.

PINEAPPLE CONSERVE

1 quart pineapple pulp and juice
2 oranges
1 lemon
3 cups sugar

Pare the pineapples and put them through the food-chopper. Steam until tender. Add the sugar, grated rind and pulp of the oranges and lemons and cook the mixture rapidly until it is thick. Pour into glasses and seal.
PINEAPPLE AND RHUBARB CONSERVE

1 quart shredded pineapple
4 quarts rhubarb
2 oranges

3 1/2 quarts sugar
1 cup nut-meats

Cook the pineapple in a covered kettle, with a small amount of water, until tender. Add the rhubarb, juice and grated rind of the oranges, and the sugar, and cook until thick. Add the chopped nuts and seal in clean, hot jars. This makes an excellent filling for sandwiches.

PLUM CONSERVE

2 quarts plums
5 1/2 cups sugar
1 lemon

Wash and pit the plums. Add a small amount of water and cook in a covered kettle until the skins are soft. Add the sugar, and grated rind and juice of the lemon, and cook until the mixture is thick and clear. Pack into hot, clean glasses and seal.

Fruit Butters

Fruit butters are among the most wholesome of fruit sweets, as they contain a large amount of fruit to a small amount of sugar. In making butters, the whole fruit is cooked until tender and then rubbed through a sieve. Sugar is added, and spice if desired, and the mixture is cooked until it is smooth and thick. Like jam, it must be carefully watched and should not be overcooked.

GRAPE BUTTER

4 pounds grapes
1 pound sugar

Wash and stem the grapes. Cook in a small amount of water until the skins are soft. Press the pulp through a strainer, to remove seeds and skins. Add the sugar and cook until thick and clear. Pour into hot, clean glasses and seal.

PEACH BUTTER

2 quarts peach pulp
4 cups sugar
1 cup water

Pare, stone, slice and measure the fruit. Place it in the preserving-kettle with the water and heat it very slowly. When it is soft, pass the peaches through a fine sieve, return the pulp to the fire, add the sugar, and cook until thick and clear. Pack in hot, clean jars and seal.

APPLE BUTTER

Wash the apples, and cut them in eighths. Cook them in a small amount of water until they are tender. Put them through a sieve. To each cup of pulp add four tablespoons of sugar and cook the mixture until it is thick. If the apples lack flavor, a small amount of lemon-juice and grated rind may be added. Pour into hot, clean glasses and seal.

APPLE AND PLUM BUTTER

Wash and cut the apples and the plums. Use about three times as many apples as plums. Cook them in a small amount of water until they are tender, then put the cooked fruit through a sieve. To each cup of fruit pulp, add one-third cup of sugar. Cook the butter until it is thick and clear. Pour into hot, clean glasses and seal.

COMBINATIONS OF FRUITS FOR CONSERVES, MARMALADES AND PRESERVES

2. Equal parts peaches and plums, with nut-meats.
3. Two parts peaches, one part pineapple, one part rhubarb.
4. Equal parts peaches and apricots, with nut-meats.

FRUIT JELLIES
Fruit-jelly is made by combining fruit-juices and sugar in the right proportions and under the right conditions. To be good for jelly, a fruit-juice must contain acid and a substance called pectin. Pectin is the essential jelly-making substance. Some fruits contain acid and pectin in proper proportions for making perfect jelly. With other fruit-juices either acid or pectin has to be supplied by some other fruit in order to make good jelly. A sour juice makes a more tender jelly than one that contains little acid. Without sufficient pectin the mass will not jelly.

The Best Fruits for Jelly Making
Among the fruit-juices that make good jelly when used alone are apple, crabapple, partly ripe grapes, currants, and slightly underripe red raspberries. Such fruits as strawberries, peaches, pears, pineapples and cherries do not make good jelly when used alone. Currant-juice may be used with an equal measure of rhubarb-juice, with good results in color, texture and flavor. The table on page 683 suggests good combinations of fruit-juices.

A perfect jelly is clear, bright and tender. When cut, it has a clean surface and does not stick to the knife or spoon. When turned from the glass, jelly should hold its shape and should quiver but not break.

How to Make Jelly

METHOD I
Look the fruit over carefully, and remove blossom ends or decayed parts. It is generally not necessary to remove the skins. Most fruits need to be cooked before the juice can be extracted. Juicy fruits should be cooked in a small amount of water. Such fruits as apples should be covered with water.

First Extraction of Juice—Cook the fruit until it is tender, turn it into a jelly-bag and allow the juice to drip through. If a clear jelly is desired, do not squeeze the bag. Squeezing gives a cloudy jelly.
SECOND AND THIRD EXTRACTIONS—A second and a third extraction may be made from such fruits as crabapples, apples, grapes, currants and quinces. Return the pulp to the preserving-kettle after the juice has dripped from it, cover it with water, heat it gradually and allow it to simmer for thirty minutes. At the end of that time, turn it into a jelly-bag and allow it to drip without squeezing. This juice is usually kept separate from the first extraction and made into jelly by itself. It has good taste but is not clear.

Tests for Pectin

In making jelly, it is necessary to know in general the proportion of pectin present, as on this depends not only the jellying of the mass but also the amount of sugar that will be required.

EPSOM-SALTS TEST FOR PECTIN—To one tablespoon of cooked fruit-juice, add one teaspoon sugar and one-half tablespoon Epsom salts. Stir the mixture until the salts have dissolved, and let it stand for twenty minutes. If the mixture forms a solid mass or large flocculent particles, the juice will make a satisfactory jelly without added pectin.

Quantity of Sugar

Probably many of the failures in jelly-making are caused by the addition of too much sugar. Currants, underripe grapes, green gooseberries, barberries, and wild apples are practically the only fruit-juices that require an equal measure of sugar. Two-thirds as much sugar as juice is a good proportion for most fruits; the table on next page gives the proportions of juices and sugar for different kinds of jelly.

FESTIVE FLAVORS

Apple and crab apple jelly take on a note of gaiety if flavored with a spray of the leaves of rose geranium, lemon verbena or fresh mint. Drop the sprigs into the boiling jelly just before it is finished and allow to cool with the jelly while pouring. The jelly glass can also be decorated by enclosing a flower. Use a wild rose or other simple flower. Wash, and with the petals damp press it to the bottom of the glass. Add a spoonful of the jelly, partly cool and allow it to solidify before filling the remainder of the glass.

Cooking the Jelly

In general, not more than two quarts of jelly should be cooked at one time. The capacity of the preserving-kettle should be four or five times as great as the amount of juice to be cooked, as there is a tendency for the juice to boil over.
FROM FRESH FRUIT TO JUICY JELLY AND THIS IS HOW IT'S DONE
CLEAN WHITE PARAFFIN TO SEAL THE FLAVOR OF YOUR JELLY

JELLY JEWELS IN CUSTARD CUPS WRAPPED IN CELLOPHANE, FOR CHRISTMAS OR BON VOYAGE GIFTS
Measure the juice and boil it rapidly for five minutes, skimming it if necessary. Add the sugar and stir the juice until the sugar is dissolved. Heating the sugar seems to save no time, nor does it seem to improve the quality of the jelly. Cook the juice very rapidly, to obtain a bright, clear product; long, slow cooking gives a dull, dark jelly of inferior texture.

JELLY TEST—To test the jelly, take up a small amount of the juice in a spoon and allow it to drop from the side of the spoon. When the drops flow together and sheet from the spoon, the jelly is done and should be removed from the heat at once.

Sealing the Jelly

Pour the hot juice into clean, hot glasses, filling them to the top. The jelly shrinks as it cools and leaves a space for the paraffin. When the jelly is cold and has set, cover it with hot paraffin.

When Fruits Lack Sufficient Pectin

When a fruit-juice, or a combination of fruit-juices, does not contain enough pectin to make jelly, a concentrated form of ready-to-use pectin may be used. (See Method II.)

METHOD II

The ready-to-use pectins are very helpful in making jelly. It does not matter if the fruit is low in natural pectin, the pectin extract will jelly any fruit with which it is used. Hence, many fruits such as cherry, raspberry, peach, etc., which do not make a good jelly alone, can be used with concentrated pectin. This assurance of success recommends it to the woman who has never been a highly successful jelly-maker. Others prefer to use it because it is always ready; and also because the pectin extract has been subjected to much heat in preparation and is very concentrated, so that it is neither necessary nor wise to heat the fruit more than the few moments the directions advise. Unfortunately sometimes more heat is used than directed and consequently the pectin breaks down and the jelly is unsuccessful. Much the same thing happens when jelly made by the usual method is overcooked.

Since jellies or jams made with ready-to-use pectins require little cooking, there is little loss from evaporation and so larger quantities are obtained than when the natural pectin of the fruit is depended upon.
Several types of combined fruit-juices and pectin are now on the market for use in making quick jellies.

Directions for Using Concentrated Pectin

Ready-to-use pectins are highly concentrated. The directions given with the package should be carefully followed as these have been developed to give the most satisfactory results with the product. The proportions for their use are generally recommended as follows:

For Strawberry, Blackberry, Raspberry or Loganberry Jelly use 4 cups of fruit juice, 8 cups of sugar and 1 cup of pectin.

For Cherry, Peach or Pineapple Jelly use 3 cups juice, 6 1/2 cups sugar, and 1 cup pectin.

For Elderberry Jelly use 3 1/4 cups juice, 8 cups sugar and 1 cup pectin.

To make these jellies, follow directions for extracting juice given under Method I, add the necessary amount of sugar to the juice, stir and bring the mixture to the boiling-point, add the pectin and boil vigorously for one minute. Remove the jelly from the heat, skim and pour it into hot glasses.

Special Recipes for Making Jelly

The directions for making jelly given on the previous pages may be used in making all jellies. Special directions are given for a few jellies of unusual characteristics.

In Using Commercial Ready-to-Use Pectin for making jellies, follow the directions on the package or those supplied by the manufacturer, as these have been developed to give satisfactory results.

BARBERRY JELLY

Gather the berries just before the first frost. Remove the stems, wash and measure the berries, and to every two quarts allow one pint of water. Cook until the berries are soft, take from the fire, drain, and measure the juice. To each cup of juice allow one cup of sugar, for barberries require more sugar than most fruits. Boil the juice for five minutes, add the sugar and cook until it meets the jelly test; then turn into hot, clean glasses. When cool cover with paraffin.
LOQUAT JELLY

Wash the loquats carefully, remove the blossom end, and cut the fruit in half. Put the fruit in a preserving-kettle and add water to cover. Cook gently till the loquats are tender. Strain and measure the juice. Bring to the boiling-point, boil five minutes, and add three-fourths of a cup of sugar for each cup of juice. Boil until the jelly point is reached, strain, and pour into hot clean glasses. When cool, cover with hot paraffin.

MINT JELLY

Wash the mint and chop it fine. To each cup of chopped mint add one-fourth cup sugar and one-fourth cup water and let it stand over night or for several hours. Place it over the heat and bring it to the boiling-point.

Make apple jelly, using two-thirds cup sugar to each cup of apple-juice. When the jelly test is observed, add green vegetable coloring and one or two tablespoons of the prepared mint for each quart of apple-juice.

QUINCE JELLY

Quinces require long cooking to become tender. They may be cooked in the fireless cooker or under steam pressure; in both cases they acquire a rich, dark red color. Quinces have too little acid and too much pectin to make a desirable jelly when the juice is used alone. An equal amount or twice as much tart apple improves the flavor. Equal parts of cranberry, quince, and apple-juice give a jelly of rich red color and delicious flavor.

Cut the quinces in small pieces, add sufficient water to float them and cook them until they are tender. Drain off the juice. Use two-thirds as much sugar as fruit-juice. Proceed according to the directions for making jelly. The pulp may be used for conserve or butter.

ROSELE JELLY

2 cups roselle-juice 1 1/2 cups sugar 2 teaspons lemon-juice

Wash roselles, cover them with water and cook until they are tender. Strain, measure the juice, boil it for five minutes, and add sugar and lemon-juice in the proportion given above. Cook until it sheets from the spoon. Skim, and pour into hot, clean glasses. When cool, cover with paraffin.
WHEN foods are preserved with salt water or vinegar, the process is called pickling. Sweet pickles, sour pickles, and spiced pickles, either sweet or sour, are secured by varying the spices and seasoning.

Both fruits and vegetables may be pickled whole, or in halves, quarters, or slices. Cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, beets, carrots, cauliflower and cabbage, peaches, pears, crabapples and grapes are the vegetables and fruits most often preserved by pickling.

Preparing Food for Pickling

Clean vegetables carefully by scrubbing them in plenty of clear water. Then give them a preliminary soaking in a solution of salt and water—(one-eighth to one-fourth cup salt to one quart water)—for several hours or over night, or even for several days. Some vegetables must be parboiled in salt water before they are placed in the pickling solution. The salt draws the water from the tissues and makes them crisp and firm and better prepared to absorb the pickling solution.

Fruits need no preliminary treatment with salt and water. Prepare them as for canning and place them in the pickling solution.

Important Facts About Pickling

Use porcelain-lined, graniteware or aluminum kettles for cooking pickles. Use a granite or wooden spoon for stirring or lifting the pickles.

Too much salt toughens and shrivels the vegetables to be pickled. Too strong vinegar may bleach the vegetable or cause it to soften after it is pickled.

The best results are obtained if pickles are sealed in glass or stone jars.

Varieties of Pickles

SWEET PICKLES—Fruits, ripe cucumbers and melon-rinds are pickled in a sweet, spiced vinegar solution.

MIXED PICKLES—Various combinations of vegetables may be pickled together as mixed pickles.
Relishes—Vegetables chopped fine and pickled are called relishes.

Chow-Chow, Chili Sauce and Piccalilli are forms of relishes.

Chutney—A sweet pickle highly seasoned, made from a variety of chopped vegetables or vegetables and fruits, is called a chutney. Chutneys are served with cold meats, sausages or stews.

Catchup and Sauces—Many fruits and vegetables, especially tomatoes, are chopped fine, cooked in the pickling solution and strained to form a thick fluid or sauce.

Tomatoes, Peppers or other vegetables or fruits stuffed with various mixtures and pickled are popular in some sections.

Dill Pickles and Sauerkraut—In these two forms of pickle, vinegar is not used. The vegetable is allowed to ferment in a salt solution and the only acid present is the lactic acid formed by the action of the bacteria upon the sugar in the vegetable. In dill pickles, the dill is added for flavor. Plain salted cucumbers may be prepared in the same way without the dill. They are removed from the brine, soaked over night in cold water, and put in a pickling vinegar and prepared as needed.

SPICED VINEGAR

1 quart vinegar 1 tablespoon white mustard
1 pint sugar seed
1 tablespoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon allspice 1 teaspoon salt

The spices may be used either whole or ground, as one prefers a clear or a dark pickle. If they are ground, they should be placed in a muslin bag and removed from the solution before the pickles are canned. If the pickle is one that is to be heated in the vinegar, the vinegar and spices are not previously heated. If the pickle is to be placed in the cans cold and the hot vinegar is to be poured over it, the solution is brought slowly to the boiling-point and then poured over the pickle.

Pickled Beets

Cook small beets until they are tender. Plunge them into cold water and slip off the skins. Cover them with spiced vinegar (recipe above), and simmer them for fifteen minutes.
Seal them in clean, hot jars. Golden wax beans, the stems of Swiss chard, or very small carrots may be pickled in the same way.

CUCUMBER PICKLES

- 100 cucumbers
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Vinegar
- 1 ounce mustard seed
- 2 red peppers
- 1 ounce cloves

Use the smallest cucumbers you can procure, making two and one-half inches the limit of length. Put the spices in thin muslin bags, using at least two bags. Place the cucumbers in a kettle with enough good vinegar of medium strength to cover them. Place the bags of spices in the vinegar, together with the salt and sugar, and the peppers cut in rings. Heat the vinegar as slowly as possible; when it is scalding hot but not boiling, the pickles are ready to set away. If this recipe is carefully followed, satisfactory results will be obtained. If the vinegar boils, the pickles will soften.

RIPE CUCUMBER SWEET PICKLES

- 8 large ripe cucumbers
- ⅛ pound stick cinnamon
- 1 ounce whole cloves
- 3 pounds sugar
- 1½ pints vinegar

Pare the cucumbers, quarter and take out the seeds, then cut the quarters into medium-sized pieces. Scald in salted water (two tablespoons salt to one quart water), then drain and simmer in clear water until they are tender but firm. Drain well. Tie the spices in a bag and boil them with the vinegar and the sugar for five minutes. Pour this mixture over the cucumbers, cover the jar and set away. The next day pour off the sirup, boil for ten minutes and pour over the cucumbers again. Flavor is improved by repeating this process several times. Place the pickles in clean, hot jars and seal.

GREEN CUCUMBER SWEET PICKLES

No. 1.

Sweet cucumber pickles made by the following recipe will keep for several years without being sealed. Choose very small cucumbers. Soak them in weak brine (two tablespoons salt to one quart water) over night. Next morning remove the cucumbers, scald the brine and skim it, turn it over the pickles again and let them stand for two days. Repeat this process on the third morning and let the pickles stand two days longer. Then scald the brine each morning until the eighth day, removing the pickles and pouring the hot brine over them each time. On the eighth day, remove the pickles from the brine, cover them with spiced vinegar, heat thoroughly, and place them in clean, hot jars.

No. 2.

7 pounds cucumbers 1 tablespoon allspice
1 ounce cinnamon 1 quart vinegar
2 ounces cloves 3 pounds sugar

Pare, quarter and seed large cucumbers. Wash thoroughly, then soak for four days in salt and water (two tablespoons salt to one quart water), changing the brine every day. Put the spices in a bag. Boil the cucumbers with the vinegar, sugar and spice until the cucumbers are clear. It is best to watch carefully and remove each piece when it is clear. Pack in clean, hot jars and seal.

MUSTARD PICKLES

1 pint cucumbers, about 2 inches long
1 pint large cucumbers, sliced
1 pint pickling onions
1 cup string beans, cut diagonally in 1-inch pieces
1 pint small green tomatoes
1 pint cauliflower, cut in small pieces
3 red peppers, chopped

3 green peppers, chopped
1 cup small carrots, or sliced carrots halved or quartered
1 1/4 cups white sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 tablespoon turmeric
1 teaspoon celery salt
Vinegar
4 tablespoons powdered mustard

All the vegetables should be tender. Soak all the vegetables in brine (one cup salt to one gallon water) over night. Drain and soak them in clear water for three hours. Mix a sufficient amount of vinegar and water, in equal quantities, to cover the vegetables. Allow them to stand in this vinegar for one hour, then scald them in this liquid.

Make a dressing by mixing the sugar, flour, mustard, turmeric and celery salt and adding three pints of hot vinegar slowly, stirring to make a smooth paste. Cook the mixture over a pan of hot water until the sauce thickens.
Drain the vegetables thoroughly. Pour the mustard dressing over them while they are hot, and simmer them for five minutes. Pack the pickle into hot, clean jars and seal.

DILL PICKLES

Choose cucumbers over five inches in length. Wash them well and pack them in earthenware jars or wooden casks. On each layer of cucumbers place a thin layer of dill, stalks, leaves and seed balls included. When all are packed in, cover them with a brine solution carrying forty per cent. salt (approximately two pounds salt to three quarts water). Place a layer of grape or horseradish leaves on top and weigh the whole down with a clean plate and stone. Two or three weeks will be required for curing.

SPANISH TOMATOES

- 24 green tomatoes, sliced
- 1 large onion
- 2 green peppers
- 1/4 cup salt
- 1 tablespoon peppercorns
- 1 tablespoon mustard seed
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 quarts vinegar

Alternate layers of sliced tomatoes with layers of sliced onion and chopped green peppers, in a large crock, and sprinkle each layer with salt. Let stand twenty-four hours, then drain. Put the vegetables in a preserving-kettle, add the spices and sugar and cover with the vinegar. Cook gently for forty-five minutes. Pack in clean, hot jars and seal.

PICKLED ONIONS

Peel small onions until the white is reached. Scald in strong salted water (four tablespoons salt to one quart water), then drain. Pack in jars and sprinkle white mustard and pepper over the onions. Cover them with a boiling hot solution of vinegar. When cold, put in clean, cold jars and seal. One tablespoon of salad oil may be added to the top of the mixture.

PICKLED SWEET RED PEPPERS

Wash the outside of the peppers thoroughly and wipe them dry. Cut a slice from the stem end and remove the seeds. Cut into thin strips with the scissors, or into long ribbons, working around and around the pepper. Scald well and then drop into ice-water to crisp them. Drain well. Make a sirup, using a proportion of one cup of sugar to two cups of vinegar. Put the peppers into clean, hot jars, fill to overflowing with hot sirup, and seal.

PEPPER MANGOES

| Green peppers | 2 tablespoons white mustard seed |
| 1 quart chopped cabbage | 1 tablespoon cinnamon |
| 1 tablespoon salt | 1 cup sugar |
| 1 tablespoon cloves | Vinegar |

Remove the stem ends of green peppers, carefully extract the seeds and midribs and lay the peppers in strongly salted water (one-half cup salt to two quarts water) for twenty-four hours. Chop the cabbage fine and add the salt, mustard seed, cloves, cinnamon and sugar, mixing them well. Drain the peppers, stuff them with the prepared cabbage, replace the pepper caps and tie them in position. Pack the peppers in a stone jar and cover them with strong cold vinegar. They will be ready to use in two or three weeks.

PICKLED SECKEL PEARs

| 7 pounds Seckel pears | 1 tablespoon cinnamon |
| 1 pint vinegar | 1 tablespoon allspice |
| 1 pint water | 1 tablespoon cloves |
| 3 1/2 pounds sugar | |

Pare the fruit, remove the blossom end, but leave the stem on. Make a sirup of the vinegar, water, sugar and spice, boiled for five minutes. Add the fruit and cook until clear. Seal in hot, clean jars.

GINGER PEARs

| 5 pounds hard pears | 1/3 cup preserved ginger |
| 3 cups water | 3 lemons, juice and grated rind |
| 5 pounds sugar |

Remove the skin and cores from the pears and cut the fruit in slices lengthwise. Add the water and cook until the pears are tender. Add the sugar, juice and grated rind of the lemons, the ginger cut in small pieces, and simmer the mixture until it is thick. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal.
PICKLED CITRON

2 pounds citron 1 lemon
2 pounds sugar 1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 pint vinegar 1 teaspoon cloves
1 pint water 1 teaspoon allspice

Pare the citrons, and cut in medium thin slices. Soak over night in salt water (two tablespoons salt to one quart water). Drain off the brine and cook the citron in clear water until it is tender. Add the citron to the hot pickling solution made from the vinegar, sugar and spices, and boil it rapidly until it becomes clear. Seal it in hot, clean jars.

SPICED CURRANTS

4 quarts currants 1 teaspoon allspice
2 pounds white sugar 1 teaspoon cloves
1 pint vinegar 2 teaspoons cinnamon

Stem the fruit, and wash it. Make a sirup of the sugar, vinegar and spices and boil for five minutes. Add the fruit and cook until the mixture is thick and clear. Seal in clean, hot jars.

SPICED PLUMS

4 quarts plums 1 pint vinegar
3 pounds sugar 1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon ground cinnamon 1 tablespoon allspice

PICKLED PEACHES OR Pears

No. 1.

4 quarts peaches or pears \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce stick cinnamon
2 pounds white sugar \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce whole cloves
2 cups vinegar

Dip the peaches quickly in hot water and remove the skins. Remove skins from the pears by paring. Boil the sugar, the vinegar, and the cinnamon for twenty minutes. Place a few of the peaches at a time in the sirup, and cook them until they are tender. Pack them into clean jars, placing a few cloves in each jar. Adjust the rubbers, and fill each jar to overflowing with the hot sirup. Adjust the covers, and seal the jars immediately.

No. 2.

½ peck peaches or pears  1 pint vinegar
2 pounds brown sugar  1 ounce stick cinnamon
Clove

Select large, firm peaches or pears and prepare as in preceding recipe. Make a sirup by boiling the brown sugar, vinegar and cinnamon together for five minutes. Stick two cloves in each fruit, put them into the sirup and cook until soft. This sirup is sufficient for a half peck of fruit, but it is better to put only half this quantity into the sirup at a time.

PICKLED WATERMELON RIND

2 pounds watermelon-rind  1 lemon, sliced thin
2 pounds sugar  1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 pint vinegar  1 teaspoon cloves
1 pint water  1 teaspoon allspice

Soak the watermelon-rind over night in salt water (one-fourth cup salt to one quart water). Drain off the brine. Cook the watermelon-rind in clear water until it is tender.

Make a hot pickling solution of the other ingredients, add the drained rind, and boil it rapidly until it becomes clear. The spices should be tied in bags and removed before the pickle is bottled. Seal it in clean, hot jars.

Green tomatoes, cut crosswise in thin slices, may be used instead of the watermelon-rind.

RED PEPPER RELISH

12 red peppers  1 quart vinegar
12 green peppers  2 cups sugar
3 large onions  1½ tablespoons salt

Split the peppers and remove the seeds. Chop the peppers coarsely, pour boiling water over them and let stand for five minutes. Drain, pour more boiling water over them, and let stand ten minutes. Drain and add the chopped onions. Boil the vinegar, sugar, and salt for five minutes, and add all the other ingredients. Cook the mixture ten minutes after it has come to a boil. Pack in clean, hot glass jars.

2 large onions  1 tablespoon cinnamon
4 green peppers  2 1/2 cups vinegar

1 cup vinegar
Few grains cayenne
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 small onion, chopped

Take the freshly gathered mushrooms, wipe them carefully with a damp cloth, chop them and mix them thoroughly with the salt. Let them stand over night. Mash them, and to this pulp and juice add the chopped onion, spices and vinegar. Put in a kettle and boil slowly until thick. If desired, this catchup may be strained. If too thick, thin with vinegar. Seal in clean, hot jars.

COLD TOMATO CATCHUP

1 peck ripe tomatoes
1 pint vinegar
Salt
Garlic
Allspice

This is a recipe used in the kitchen of General Washington. Wash the tomatoes and force them through a wire sieve, then strain through a jelly-bag. The liquid is not used in the catchup.

Thin the pulp with the vinegar. Season with salt, pepper, garlic, allspice, and cloves. Bottle in sterilized containers and seal. This catchup retains the taste of the fresh tomatoes and is an excellent flavoring for soups and sauces.

OLD VIRGINIA CATCHUP

1 peck green tomatoes
½ peck white onions
3 ounces white mustard seed
1 ounce allspice
1 pound brown sugar
1 ounce cloves
½ cup dry mustard
¼ cup water

Salt
Vinegar

Chop the tomatoes and onions, sprinkle with salt, and let stand three hours. Drain well and put the pulp in a preserving-kettle with the other ingredients. Cover with vinegar, and boil slowly for one hour. Seal in clean, hot jars. Less mustard may be used if a less hot catchup is desired.
PICKLED HORSERADISH

1 cup grated horseradish
2 tablespoons white sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups cold vinegar

To the grated horseradish add the sugar, salt and vinegar. Mix well and seal in clean, cold jars.

TOMATO PURÉE

1 gallon tomatoes
1 small onion, sliced
1 stalk celery or celery leaves
1 bay-leaf
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika

Cook the mixture until the tomatoes are tender and put it through a strainer. Boil the pulp until it is reduced to one-half the original volume. Seal it in hot, clean jars.

The culls left from canning tomatoes may be made into soup or purée.

TOMATO PASTE

Spread thick tomato purée on dry plates or flat granite pans which have been brushed with unsalted fat. As soon as a film forms over the top, loosen the paste with a spatula, and turn it on to a screen covered with cheese-cloth. Dry it in the sun or a very slow oven. When it is so dry that it can be handled without sticking, roll it in paraffin paper, fold under the ends of the paper, and store it in a tin box or a glass jar.

The paste may be used for soup, sauces, scalloped dishes, etc. Soak it in cold water until it is soft, before adding it to any hot mixture. One teaspoon of the paste makes one cup of soup.

BRANDIED PEACHES

1 peck peaches, skinned
Sugar to half their weight
1 quart brandy

Alternate in stone jar, layers of peaches with sugar until filled. Add brandy. Cover closely, using cheesecloth or un-bleached muslin under the jar cover. Can be used after 1 week. Keep in cool place.
THE expression "en casserole" is sometimes misunderstood because the word "casserole" is used in two quite different ways by writers on domestic subjects. Properly speaking, a casserole is the coarse clay saucepan, so common in France, in which meats and vegetables are not only cooked but served on the table. In its other usage the word is applied to a case or mold of potato, rice or fried bread, inside of which is placed some preparation of meat or vegetables. The word in this case really signifies a border or croustade. Directions for using this second form of casserole will be found in the chapter on entrées.

Varieties of Casseroles

Casseroles of different sizes, shapes and materials, are convenient additions to the cooking equipment, and should be chosen with consideration for the needs of the family. They come in many sizes from the individual ramekin up to one that will hold two chickens. They may be had in various shapes—oval and round, shallow and deep. They are made in a variety of materials—glass, vitrified china, earthenware, iron and aluminum—and in a color-range that allows one to choose according to personal preference—brown, yellow, green, blue and mixtures.

Care of Casseroles

Casseroles will last indefinitely if properly treated. It is wise to avoid a sudden and great change in temperature, such as occurs when a casserole is taken from a hot oven and placed in a wet sink. It is not advisable to set a glass or earthenware casserole over a high flame without an asbestos mat under it. A new casserole may be tempered and made more tough by pouring cold water into and about it, and bringing it gradually to the boiling-point.
Advantages of Cooking in a Casserole

The casserole saves dish-washing, because it makes it possible to bring food to the table in the dish in which it was cooked. Frequently, also, it contains a “one-dish meal” which eliminates all but the one cooking dish.

The casserole makes it possible to use left-overs in attractive, palatable combinations, to cook tough meats tender, and to prepare vegetables in an almost unlimited variety of ways. Any vegetable may be boiled, steamed, baked, scalloped or creamed, and cabbage, cucumbers, eggplant, onions, peppers, potatoes or tomatoes may be stuffed and cooked in the casserole.

Food cooked in this way needs little watching, it may be kept warm and still attractive if the meal is delayed, and there is no loss of vegetable or meat juices. These juices contain a valuable part of the food which is often thrown away, especially in the case of vegetables that are boiled.

A whole meal may be cooking in the oven in the casserole while the oven is being used for some other purpose, such as baking cookies. The cover of the casserole should fit well into the dish, so that it is practically airtight, a fact that should be borne in mind when the casserole is purchased. If the oven must be kept very hot for something else, set the casserole in a pan of water so that the food within will simmer, not boil. As the water becomes hot, take out part of it and add cool water to keep it at the desired temperature.

CHICKEN EN CASSEROLE

1 chicken 12 potato balls 12 button mushrooms
Butter, salad oil, or other fat 1 carrot, sliced Salt, pepper, paprika
1 pint rich brown stock 6 small onions

Wash the chicken and cut it up. Sauté the pieces in a little fat until well browned on all sides. Place in a greased casserole, add brown stock, cover and cook in a slow to moderate oven (350° F.) for an hour.

When the chicken has been cooking for an hour, sauté the carrot slices, the potato balls, the onions and the mushrooms in a little fat, stirring them lightly around until they are well browned. Put these with the chicken in the casserole, season with salt, pepper and paprika, add more salt if needed, cover and cook for three-fourths of an hour, then remove the cover and allow the chicken to brown before serving.

PIGEONS EN CASSEROLE

Pigeons or squabs
Bacon
3 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 Spanish onion
Veal broth or white stock
Vegetables, as desired
Flour

Clean and wash young pigeons and tie a strip of bacon around each one, or lard the breasts if preferred. Place the butter or other fat in a casserole, slice a mild Spanish onion over the fat, arrange the pigeons on the onion in the casserole, cover the casserole and set over a low heat with an asbestos mat under the casserole to protect it from direct heat and to insure slow cooking. Cook on top of the stove for fifteen minutes. Add enough veal broth or white stock to half cover the pigeons and set in the oven (350° F.) to cook until tender (2-2½ hrs.). When nearly done, vegetables may be added. At serving-time thicken the liquor in the casserole by stirring into it flour mixed smooth in a little water, allowing one tablespoon of flour for each cup of liquid.

STEAK EN CASSEROLE

3 tablespoons butter or other fat
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups stock
Salt
Parsley
Pepper
Turnip balls
Carrot balls
Potato balls
Small onions
2 pounds of 1½-inch steak

Make a brown sauce of the fat, flour, stock and seasoning. Add balls of turnip, carrot, potato and onions, which have been previously cooked in a little brown stock until tender. For each person, allow a half-dozen little balls of each of these vegetables and two small onions. Keep this sauce hot while you pan-broil the steak until about half done, then transfer steak to heated casserole, pour vegetables and sauce over steak, cover, and place in oven (350° F.) until steak is sufficiently cooked. When ready to serve, sprinkle the steak with finely chopped parsley.
CHOPPED BEEF EN CASSEROLE

2 pounds clod of beef
2/3 cup tomato catchup
1/2 teaspoon tabasco sauce
Boiled beets
Salt

Mix chopped beef with tomato catchup. Add tabasco sauce, using more if desired. Season well with salt. Place in casserole and bake (350° F.) slowly two to two and one-half hours, basting frequently with water and tabasco or Worcestershire sauce. A few strips of bacon across the top will add to the richness, and improve the flavor. Garnish with quartered beets.

TAMALE PIE EN CASSEROLE

1 cup yellow corn-meal
6 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1 medium-sized onion
2 tablespoons fat
2 cups chopped beef
2 cups tomatoes
2 pimientos
Cayenne

Cook corn-meal, water, and salt, as for mush, for about thirty minutes. Chop onion and fry in fat till brown. Add meat and fry until red color disappears. Add tomatoes, pimientos, and cayenne. Line oiled casserole with mush, put meat mixture in center, cover with mush, and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.; 2-2½ hrs.).

TURBANS OF FISH EN CASSEROLE

Prepare slices of halibut or other fish about the size of one's hand, with all bone and skin removed and sufficiently thin to roll easily. Trim all to uniform size, dip each in melted butter or other fat, squeeze over them lemon-juice and onion-juice, and sprinkle with salt. Beginning at the widest end, roll the slice of fish and secure with two toothpicks. Set the turban in a greased and heated casserole and pour in a little stock made by simmering the bones and trimmings of the fish in a little water, together with a few slices each of carrot and onion. Cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) basting occasionally. When done, drain off the liquid and thicken it with flour mixed with cold water. Return to the casserole, and reheat.
HUNGARIAN GOULASH EN CASSEROLE

4 onions
2 pounds veal
Bacon fat
1½ pints brown stock
Pepper
1 pint potato balls

12 small onions
1 cup carrot slices
1 cup turnip slices
Salt
Paprika

Slice the onion and cut the raw veal in cubes. Cook together in a little bacon fat, until brown. Transfer to casserole, pour over it the brown stock and season with pepper and paprika. Place in moderate oven (350° F.). Add more fat to that in the frying-pan and brown in this the potato balls, small onions, and slices of carrot and turnip. Add the vegetables and salt to the casserole when the meat is partly cooked. Finish the cooking, adding more stock if necessary. This dish should cook two hours. If the broth is too thin when ready to serve, thicken slightly with browned flour rubbed smooth in water.

LAMB EN CASSEROLE

6 slices of lamb
2 tablespoons melted butter or other fat
2 cups brown stock

1 pint vegetable balls
12 small onions
Seasoning

Cut thick slices from a leg of lamb and sear, browning both sides. Brush with melted fat and place in casserole with one-half to one cup of brown stock. Cook over heat or in a moderate oven (350° F.) until tender, then add potato balls, carrot balls and onions, which have been previously cooked. Add more brown stock, salt, pepper and paprika.

PORK CHOPS EN CASSEROLE

6 pork chops
6 sweet potatoes
Salt and pepper

½ cup brown sugar
1 to 2 cups milk

Place a layer of sweet potatoes, sliced crosswise, in a greased casserole, dust with salt, pepper, and a little brown sugar; continue the layers until the casserole is about two-thirds full. Heat the milk and pour it over the potatoes; it should just cover them. Place the pork chops on top of the potatoes, cover and bake (at 350° F.) for an hour, then remove the cover and season with salt and pepper. Leave the cover off and cook until the chops are tender and nicely browned on top.

Four tart apples, pared, cored and cut in eighths, used in place of the sweet potatoes, make an excellent casserole dish with pork chops.

Calf's Liver En Casserole

1 pound calf's liver
6 slices bacon
1 cup button mushrooms
3 cups potato balls
1 pint brown stock

Wash the calf's liver thoroughly and wipe dry. Fry some bacon in a pan, remove, place the liver in the bacon fat, and sear each side thoroughly. Transfer to a casserole, add slices of bacon, brown stock, and sautéed mushrooms. Cook for one hour and a half in the oven (350° F.) adding more stock if necessary. Just before serving add potato balls which have been fried in deep fat (395° F.) and drained.

Casserole of Rice and Liver

1 cup rice
1 quart water
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 pound lamb's or calf's liver
2 cups stock
1 teaspoon caramel
2 tablespoons browned flour
2 tablespoons fat
Crumbs
Salt and pepper

Boil the rice in the water and mash smooth with the fat. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Line a well-greased casserole with the mixture, pressing the paste firmly against bottom and sides, and leaving a large hollow in the center. Set in a cold place until firm. Meanwhile boil the liver, drain, chop fine and season with salt. Heat the soup stock, seasoned with caramel (See Index). Make a brown sauce with the fat, browned flour and soup stock, and add the minced liver. Fill the hollow in the center of the rice with the liver mixture, sprinkle with crumbs and brown in the oven.
RICE EN CASSEROLE

2 cups chopped cold meat
3 eggs
½ cup milk
2 cups boiled rice
Celery-salt

2 tablespoons butter or other fat
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
Salt

Season the meat and pile it in the center of an oiled casserole. Mix the eggs, milk, rice, fat and seasonings. Pour over the meat, cover, and bake (350° F.) for twenty minutes.

SPANISH RICE

¾ cup rice
2 tablespoons fat
5 cups water
2 onions
2 cups tomatoes
½ cup chopped green pepper or pimientos
Salt
Pepper
Paprika

Fry the rice in the fat until brown, then add water and boil until soft. Drain. Sauté the onions in a little fat; mix with tomatoes and chopped peppers or pimientos, and add to the rice. Add seasoning, and place in a greased casserole. Bake (350° F.) for thirty minutes.

RICE À LA CREOLE

1 cup chopped boiled ham
1 onion
1 cup boiled rice
1 can tomatoes
2 cups fine soft crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
Celery-salt
Pepper and salt

Mix ingredients in the order given. Bake in a greased casserole for one-half hour (350° F.). This dish makes a good one-dish meal.

SPAGHETTI, SPANISH MICHEL

2 cups spaghetti
1 quart tomatoes, fresh or canned
½ cup boiled ham
1 onion
1 green pepper
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt

Break the spaghetti into inch pieces. Cook in one quart boiling water until tender, add the tomatoes, and cook fifteen minutes longer. Remove the fat from the ham and try it out. Dice onion and green pepper, and fry slowly in this fat until tender. Chop the ham and add it with the onion, green pepper and seasoning to the spaghetti and tomatoes. Put in casserole and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).

SCALLOPED HAM AND POTATOES

| 6 potatoes     | 1 green pepper (may be omitted) |
| 1 pound raw smoked ham | Flour |
| 3 cups milk (or more) |

Cover the bottom of an oiled baking-dish with sliced, raw potatoes. Sprinkle with flour and add inch-square pieces of ham. Repeat until the dish is full. Pour in as much milk as the dish will hold. Bake (350°-400° F.) until the potatoes are tender (1-1½ hrs.). Chopped green pepper adds to the flavor.

SUMMER CASSEROLE

| 6 hard-cooked eggs | 2 teaspoons salt |
| 3 ripe tomatoes    | 1½ cups milk    |
| 3 tablespoons butter or other fat | ½ cup grated cheese |
| 3 tablespoons flour | Buttered crumbs |

Cut hard-cooked eggs in half and arrange around the edge of a greased casserole or baking-dish. Slice peeled ripe tomatoes in the center of the dish. Make a white sauce of the milk, fat and flour. Add cheese, and stir over a very low fire until the cheese is well mixed and smooth. Pour over tomatoes and eggs. Cover with crumbs and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven (350°-400° F.).

The centers of the tomatoes may be scooped out, and a whole egg placed in each, if desired.

BANANAS EN CASSEROLE

| 6 small bananas | 1 cup boiling water |
| 1 glass currant or grape jelly | 1 lemon |

Peel the bananas. Remove the coarse threads and divide in quarters, cutting first crosswise and then lengthwise. Place in a greased casserole and pour over them a sauce made by melting the currant or grape jelly in the boiling water, and mixing with it the juice of a lemon. Cover the casserole and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) until the bananas are tender. The cover may be removed at the last moment and the bananas sprinkled with granulated sugar and allowed to brown slightly. Serve as an entrée with game, mutton, or beef.

AU GRATIN DISHES EN CASSEROLE

Au gratin dishes, many of which are given in this book, are particularly adapted to the casserole. The mixtures of chicken, sweetbreads, fish, macaroni and vegetables may be entirely prepared, then placed in the casserole, topped with buttered crumbs and cheese and placed in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) to brown.

Eggs Yorkshire—

- 1/2 cup fat
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 hard or soft cooked eggs

Place casserole with fat in oven to melt. Remove fat to use in batter, leaving enough to grease casserole thoroughly. Return casserole to oven to heat. Beat eggs and milk thoroughly; add baking powder, flour, salt and fat and beat mixture until smooth. Cover bottom of casserole with layer of eggs (whole, halved, quartered or sliced). Pour in batter until casserole is about 2/3 full and place in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes until mixture begins to expand and brown slightly, then reduce to 350° F. for 25 minutes. The batter should puff nicely during baking, making an attractive uneven broken surface. Serve at once from baking dish.

Salmon Casserole—

- 1 1-pound can salmon
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 pound American cheese
- 2 cups prepared biscuit
- flour
- 3/4 cup milk

Flake salmon in casserole. Melt cheese in top of a double boiler; add 1/3 cup milk while stirring. Pour over salmon. Mix biscuit flour and 3/4 cup milk and make biscuits. Cut each in half and place around edge of casserole. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) until lightly browned.
COOKING FOR TWO

The problem here is really more one of planning and marketing than of actual cooking. No roast leg of lamb or baked ham of course, no standing rib roast of beef, not often a whole watermelon. But it is possible to buy cuts of meat and to plan the other marketing so that to all intents and purposes these favorites may form part of the menu even for the smallest family. Moreover, many dishes which are too expensive to be served to a large and hungry family are often possible for a family of two.

Cooking Equipment for Two

It is impossible to cook small quantities satisfactorily in large dishes; so the first thing to do is to buy dishes and utensils of the right size. The following list is given as a suggestion.

A small casserole or a large ramekin for soufflés and casserole dishes, to be used either for the meat course or for baked puddings.

Individual ramekins and custard cups.

A small frying-pan for cooking eggs, bacon, etc.

A small baking-pan for roasting meat.

Small saucepans and kettles for vegetables and other boiled foods. The saucepans that fit together, two or three on a single burner, are especially good for the small family.

A deep pot of small diameter for deep fat frying and a wire strainer that will fit down inside it to be used as a frying basket.

A double boiler holding one quart.

Muffin pans in sets of six.

Layer cake and pie pans five or six inches in diameter.

A small square or oblong shallow pan for baking sheets of cake, ginger-bread, etc.

A small loaf pan for breads, loaf cakes and meat loaves.

A set of skewers for serving “en brochette.”

A cup sized egg beater.

Small bowls.

An ice cream freezer either of the crank or vacuum type, holding from one pint to one quart.

The small ovens for use on top of the stove are very convenient for baking two or three potatoes or apples or a small dish of rice pudding, custard and similar desserts.
How to Modify Recipes

Most of the recipes in the American Woman's Cook Book are planned for six persons. Many of them can be cut down to one-half or one-third and made exactly as though the entire quantity were used. It is often more advantageous to cut the recipe in half rather than thirds, since it is sometimes harder to work with small amounts and there is relatively greater waste from food adhering to pans and spoons.

In cooking over direct fire or in the oven, the loss of moisture will be comparatively larger than in the larger quantity recipe, so a little more liquid may be used. This is true particularly in recipes that use cream sauces and in meat casseroles.

Recipes including eggs are more easily made if they can be divided to the one or two egg quantity. If less than one egg has to be used, there are two ways of doing it: Either use a very small egg or beat the egg slightly and divide it, keeping the unused portion for some other dish. It might be well to say, however, that a little more egg than the recipe calls for will not generally do any harm. So if you are not considering economy you will be safe in using a whole egg even though the rest of the ingredients are cut down.

With yeast dough it is advisable to use a larger quantity of yeast, proportionately, than would be used in the full recipe. For instance, if the recipe calls for one yeast cake, and you are cutting it down to one-third or one-half, it will be wise to use the whole yeast cake, or the greater part of it, in order to hasten the process. Those recipes which demand no kneading are easier than the kneaded ones to handle in small quantities.

For soups, allow from one-half cup to one cup for each person, the amount depending upon the kind of soup you are making and whether you are serving it in cups or plates.

For desserts, allow from one-half cup to three-quarters cup for each serving.

Of creamed dishes, vegetables, etc., about two-thirds cup is served, but an allowance for a second portion should be made.
To Use One Recipe in Different Ways

Often a full recipe can be made and used in different ways for several occasions.

The Recipe for Creamed Chicken, for instance, will provide enough for an au gratin oven dish.

A Rich Baking Powder Biscuit Dough will make shortcakes for one meal, toasted biscuits for another, and, if baked in a sheet and covered with cinnamon and sugar, coffee-cake for a third.

Pie Dough will make pies, tart shells for meat or dessert, cheese strips for soup or salad, and tiny jam turnovers for afternoon tea.

Cake Batter may be baked as loaves, layers, sheets or cup cakes, as cottage pudding, to be served hot with a sauce, or as a ring in which to serve fruit, jelly or a creamed dessert. A fruit cake mixture may be baked as fruit cake or steamed in small molds and served hot with sauce.

How to Use Left-Overs

The problem of cooking for two depends to a great extent for its solution upon the ability to use left-overs attractively at successive meals. In using this surplus food, it is important to supply whatever is lacking. If it is dry it needs to be moistened; if it is hard it needs to be softened; if it is not of any particular flavor it needs to be well seasoned or mixed with something that will give it a distinctive and appetizing taste.

Sometimes it is well to keep your left-overs uncooked. For instance, if you have a steak that is too large for one meal, because in order to have it appetizing you had to have it cut fairly thick, cut out the heart or tenderloin and broil it, keeping the rest for a fresh-meat casserole the next day.

Any small pieces of uncooked meat may be made attractive by broiling on the skewer or preparing as a mixed grill or a mixed fried dish. For any of these there need be only a few small pieces of meat with accessories such as half a dozen mushrooms, a few slices of potato, an onion or two, small cubes of egg-plant or turnip or other vegetables, a few curls of bacon or a tiny sausage or two. To cook "en brochette" dip the small pieces of meat and vegetable in melted butter and impale them on the skewer. Bacon and sausage of course need no butter.
Put the skewer on the broiling rack and broil, turning occasionally. For a mixed grill, any meat or vegetable that can be put under the broiler may be used. Slices of tomato, eggplant and pineapple give interesting variety.

Meats for Two

The following types of meat dishes are as easily served to two as to six:

- Hamburg balls or steak
- Lamb, mutton, veal or pork chops
- Liver
- Kidneys
- Sweetbreads
- Ox tails
- Chop suey
- Sausages
- Scrapple
- Dried beef
- Sliced ham
- Bacon
- Salt pork

Roasts—Instead of a large roast of beef, buy a thick steak, roll, tie and roast it in a very hot oven (450°-500° F.) for a short time. If even this is too large a roast, cut out the heart for roasting and keep the rest for a casserole dish.

For Lamb, Mutton and Veal Roasts, buy loin chops—as many as you require. Have the bones separated at the joints but do not have the meat cut through. Cook as a standing roast.

For Baked Ham, buy a one-inch thick slice of raw ham. Brown it on both sides in the frying-pan, then cover it with mustard, flour and sugar and stuff the top with cloves. Add a little water and cook, covered, in a moderate oven (350° F.) for an hour.

In Place of Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb, mutton or veal, buy a slice of the meat and spread it with any desired stuffing. Roll, with the stuffing inside. This may be browned first and then baked, or may be put immediately into the oven.

For Pot Roasts a one pound or two pound piece will be quite as satisfactory as a larger one, though it may require a little more watching while it is cooking.

Poultry—A whole turkey, of course, is out of the question, but poultry may be enjoyed in the shape of a broiling chicken or guinea chick, or squab and the smaller game birds, quail and grouse. These can be broiled, fried or baked. The pigeon is nice in a pie.
Fish

Whole Fish that will serve six or more persons are not a wise purchase for the small family. Either buy small fish, such as smelts, perch and butterfish, or a steak or fillet from one of the large fish—halibut, cod, haddock, salmon and the like.

Shell Fish are particularly well suited to the needs of the small family. It is possible to buy just the right amount of clams, oysters, shrimps, hard and soft-shelled crabs, and sometimes a lobster just large enough for two is procurable. Shad roe and frogs' legs are luxuries that are more often possible for the small family than for the large family.

Vegetables

The Large Vegetables will give left-overs that can be used in many ways. A small cabbage makes one nice salad, and, a few days later, one cooked dish. Winter squash can be used up in pies and custards. An egg-plant will give one-half for stuffing and baking and several slices for frying, with some, perhaps left to cook in Oriental style. Left-over cooked cauliflower may be served cold as a salad, or scalloped.

The Smaller Vegetables, fresh peas, beans, carrots, beets, potatoes, etc., can be bought and cooked in exactly the quantity required, though, as all of these are good for use in salads, it is generally wise to cook a little more than you need for one meal.

Spaghetti, Macaroni and Noodles are often served as a vegetable. These, of course, are easily managed if there are cooking utensils of the right size.

Soups

Any Creamed Vegetable Soup can be made in a pint quantity.

A Quart of Meat Stock can be made from the bones and trimmings of meat purchased for other cooking, and whatever is not needed for soup can be made into gravies and sauces for following days. A thickened meat stock containing small pieces of meat and plenty of diced vegetables makes a substantial dish.
Breads

One Loaf of Yeast Bread can be made at a time, and quickly, if the proportion of yeast is increased.

Any Baking Powder Mixture can be mixed in the desired quantity, and almost any kind of loaf can be made with it—white, whole wheat, graham, oatmeal, bran, nut, raisin, etc. Baked in a small pan, these loaves will be used up before they are dry.

Biscuits and Muffins are the ideal home made bread for the small family.

Pancakes and Waffles are always possible, and may be served as breakfast or luncheon breads, as accompaniments to meat or chicken, or as a dessert, with fruit, honey, maple sirup or a sauce. With a table griddle or iron they can be cooked in the dining-room and served piping hot.

Cakes

A Layer or Loaf Cake which can be consumed in one or two meals can be baked in small pans. Half of an average recipe will make two of these small layers as well as several cup cakes or a sheet which can be cut into squares and frosted or not as desired.

If Rolled Cookies Are Too Much Trouble, use any recipe for drop cookies. These can be flattened out with a knife and made as thin as you wish.

Desserts

Puddings—With individual custard cups or ramekins or with one large enough to serve two, practically any baked pudding is possible, and with these same molds, custards or any of the cold puddings are easily molded. The recipes need no change other than cutting them to the desired quantity. It is as easy to make one cup of custard or gelatin as it is to make a quart.

Most steamed puddings improve with keeping, so it is quite possible to make an entire recipe, steam it in small molds, and keep the extra ones for future need. They can be reheated in the top of a double boiler or in a pan, surrounded by water, in the oven. For strawberry shortcake of the old fashioned variety, cut the crust with a biscuit cutter and make individual shortcakes. For a sweet shortcake, bake the batter in muffin pans. Cottage pudding, soufflés, and similar desserts may be baked in custard cups or ramekins and either turned out or served in the dish with or without sauce.

Pies—A small sized pan will make as good a pie as a large one. If an extra shell is baked at the same time as a two-crust pie, it can be kept for several days, then reheated to freshen it and filled with a custard, cream or lemon filling. Individual tart shells made with the muffin tins, or turnovers just large enough to serve one person make a variation in form.

Fruits

These offer little difficulty, since most of them come in individual portions. If you feel impelled to buy the large fruits, such as watermelon, honeydew and casaba melons, and pineapple, serve them in different ways so that they do not become tiresome before they are eaten up. From the pineapple make a fruit cup, a salad, an open tart, frosting for cake or a delicious sherbet or ice-cream. After the first slices of melon have been used, cut balls and allow them to stand in fruit juice. Serve, chilled, as a fruit cup. Watermelon can be used for a cooling sherbet or frappé and the other melons make interesting fruit salads.

Nuts

These should not be forgotten in planning meals for two. Chestnuts, for example, make a delicious vegetable with meat when boiled and buttered or creamed. Chestnut purée with sweetened whipped cream is an unusual and delicious dessert. Blanched walnuts are particularly nice in making many dishes and can be roasted with a little oil or butter and served hot and crisp with meat.

Canned and Packaged Goods for Two

Although it is easy to feed a family of two with home cooked fresh foods, as shown by the preceding suggestions, an acquaintance with the possibilities of canned and packaged goods is important to the manager of a very small household. This is particularly so in the case of one who does work outside her home, or who makes her home in a kitchenette apartment where space-saving is a major consideration.
CANNED VEGETABLES eliminate the time-consuming operations of washing, scraping or paring, and simplify the problem of garbage disposal, which must always follow the preparation of fresh vegetables.

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, MEATS AND FISH of many kinds come in cans of various sizes, so that it is possible to buy the size that best suits your requirements.

READY-TO-MIX piecrust, pancake, cake and pastry flours shorten the time and reduce the number of utensils needed for mixing pies, biscuits, pancakes, muffins and cakes.

FRUITS AND NUTS IN CANS OR JARS of suitable size are always ready for salads, desserts, appetizers and garnishes.

CONDENSED, EVAPORATED AND POWDERED MILK may be kept in small space and, if not kept too long before they are opened, do not require a refrigerator temperature, as fresh milk does.

STEAMED PUDDINGS, pie-fillings, ready-to-mix pudding ingredients, canned Welsh rarebit, chicken à la king, baked beans, spaghetti in savory sauces, soups of all varieties and countless other aids are at your service to help you serve varied and appetizing meals however limited your time or culinary space.

COOKING AT THE TABLE

THE small table cookers of various kinds—grills, chafing-dishes, waffle irons, muffin irons, pancake griddles, toasters and coffee percolators—make informal entertaining a pleasure to the hostess as well as to the guests.

Meals cooked at the table must of course be simple. It is usually wise to confine a supper to one hot dish, with such accessories as bread and butter, toast, crackers or cold sandwiches, a hot drink or a cold drink or both. If something more elaborate is desirable, the meal may begin with a fruit cocktail or a simple salad and end with a dessert that is easily served. Relishes, such as celery and olives, are easily provided.

Suggestions for Table Cookery

It will help you to entertain successfully in this manner, if you will keep in mind the following suggestions:

1. Prepare Ahead of Time everything that can be prepared. Have the table spread with all that is needed in the way of china, silver and glass. Arrange the sandwiches, relishes and other cold accessories attractively and conveniently.

2. Have on Hand Everything That is to Be Used in the hot dish, and have it prepared as far as it is possible to prepare it. Meat or fish or vegetables should be nicely diced, cheese grated, oysters drained, and eggs broken into a bowl, unless they are to be cooked separately, as in poaching or frying. Lack of preparation often results in tiresome delays and unappetizing confusion, but with everything in readiness the one hot dish is easily put together before the guests become tired of watching the process.

3. Be Sure That Your Equipment is Sufficient to provide for the needs of your guests. If you are giving a waffle party, do not invite more guests than your waffle iron will easily serve, so that no one need wait hungrily while others are eating. The same thing holds true with table grills and chafing-dishes. There should be enough creamed chicken or Welsh rabbit to serve everyone generously at the same time.
4. If Your Cookers are Electric, be sure that your wires are heavy enough to bear the load without blowing out a fuse. Unless you have special wiring and sturdy convenience outlets, it is safer not to attempt to use a grill or waffle iron plus a percolator on the same circuit. Plan to use first one and then the other, or you may melt a fuse when the meal is but half ready, leaving your guests hungry for that always indefinite period until it may be replaced.

half of the milk, stirring all of the time and being careful that the flame is not too hot. Beat the yolks of the eggs until frothy, add the remainder of the milk and stir into the roux. When the mass is of the consistency of cream, add the lobster, cut up coarsely, and, when thoroughly heated, serve. If using the fresh fish, prepare as directed (see page 218). For many families, the pleasant comings of friends and neighbors have no further purpose than warm interchange of plans and ideas over a cup of tea or coffee.

But some believe that life is lived with one's associates and that learning to know them simplifies business and professional as well as personal relationships. This does not mean that social life shall be stilted or rigid, even when formal—quite the contrary is usually the sought-after end. Clear thinking, honest motives and ease in management can develop a social life that is simple and charming.

The guest list must be carefully considered. When inviting persons for the purpose of introducing them to someone else, be sure that as far as can be discovered, there is no third person to inject a discordant note. One cannot take full responsibility for the emotional responses of all one's friends and acquaintances, but some caution can and should be exercised. When entertaining a group of professionals it is well to have several professions represented so that conversation will be general and pleasant, and not turn to moot professional questions that may start a sharp debate.

Many families, too, see in their social life an opportunity to train their children in the social graces and amenities. This, of course, can be overdone if not carefully thought out. Many guests are not interested in children and some are annoyed by them. But family parties are always the logical and pleasant opportunity to give the youngsters their chance. In any case, children should be prepared for what is ahead of them. Being more at ease in their own minds about what may happen and what is expected of them, they are much less likely to "show off" or behave like the "enfant terrible." Being reminded of the uses of knife, fork, and napkin beforehand, too, and not reprimanded in the presence of others, will make for better behavior.

ENTERTAINING WITHOUT A MAID

Many women can manage almost any form of entertainment without the help of a maid. For most, however, there are distinct limits to what should be attempted for pleasant and dignified results. The disappearance of the dining room and the substitution of a bay or alcove in the living room has increased the ease of servantless entertaining at the table. Many small pieces of furniture are especially designed to add to the efficiency of the hostess and the comfort of her guests, such as the drop-leaf, gate-leg and butterfly tables, double-decked tea carts, muffin stands and butler's trays. The menu should be planned to avoid last minute activities on the part of the hostess. She should be free to greet and attend her guests. All the extra china and glass necessary should be on one of the small tables within the hostess' reach and china removed can be placed out of sight on the lower shelf of the table or the low butler's tray.

Extra bread, butter, wafers, sauces and water are also on the auxiliary table. If arrangements are well planned, the hostess need not leave her chair until it is time to clear, and serve the dessert. At that time, too, the coffee can be started. The coffee service has previously been placed at a convenient spot in the living room, and the screen to be used for enclosing the table when it has been left is at an easily accessible place. (See page 82.) As the guests leave the table for the living room, the hostess enters with the coffee while the host attends to placing the screen. By the time all have lighted a fresh cigarette, the coffee is being poured and the dining table has been forgotten.

BUFFET SERVICE

Until very recently the only buffet was an informal type of service in which everyone served himself and his partner from a refectory table set against one side of the living or dining room. The table is spread with the best cloth and laid with the best china and silver if the occasion is formal, or with an informal cloth and pottery, copper, chrome and wood for a man’s buffet or a sports party. Decorations are in keeping with the occasion and the appointments. Silver is laid in groups, plates are stacked and napery is laid in a tilted pile. Only one or two hot dishes are served and all the food is brought to the table at the beginning, except for necessary replenishing.

The currently popular buffet dinner is another way to manage a maidless dinner. Guests are seated at card tables placed in the living room or other open space, wherever they can be comfortably seated and served. The extended dining table is set much as for the usual buffet, except that it is away from the wall so guests may walk around it. The small tables are set for the usual four with a complete service at each place. If there are flowers or other decorations they should be very small and low. Small fruits in low bowls are effective. The large table, however, may be very elaborately adorned with both flowers and candles. Friends or members of the family may be asked to assist and the host should be occupied in seeing that everyone is seated comfortably. Sometimes older people, unacquainted with this form of service, become confused and need help. Second helpings, fresh water and butter are brought to the small tables by host, hostess or those assisting.

For more hilarious parties, still on the grown-up side, there are those in which each couple brings one course, the hostess providing the hot one and coffee. There is also the dinner at which all hands help. This takes some organizing to keep the guests from colliding and from clogging the kitchen, but if well planned, can be a great source of fun and not much more formal than a studio party.
More formal and peculiarly adapted to servantless entertaining is after-dinner coffee and liqueurs. Invitations are usually issued for "9 p. m. to Midnight" and since these parties are particularly popular among bachelors and professional people—physicians, newspaper people and musicians—guests arrive at their own convenient time. There is usually music from 10 to 11, giving the earlier arrivals an opportunity to have their coffee and conversation first and the latecomers to have theirs afterwards.

THE "RUMPUS" ROOM

The retirement of solid fuels from domestic consumption has resulted, in recent years, in the rearrangement of basement space to provide for the Rumpus room. This room takes many forms and is as variously equipped as there are types of basements and of household ideas. It ranges from the simple, cleared space allotted to children's indoor play to the elaborate, professionally decorated English Taproom. In many of the simpler types there are provisions for some sort of cooking, an electric grill or a fireplace before which corn may be popped, or chestnuts, wieners and marshmallows roasted. Without cooking equipment, food prepared in the kitchen is served here. All Rumpus room parties are of the most informal type and the menus planned should reflect this spirit. Picnic menus serve best: hamburgs and wieners on rolls, small steaks, chops and bacon, sandwiches, whole pickles, radishes, tomatoes, olives, deviled eggs, whole fruit, doughnuts and cider, beer, lemonade or ginger ale. If there is a fireplace, use it for the camp cookery children enjoy on hikes—potatoes, sweet potatoes, whole eggs or onions done in the hot ashes. Clever boys and their fathers will be able to manage more complicated things. The room is, of course, the ideal spot for taffy pulls and popcorn-ball parties of the oldsters' childhood. Entertainment takes the form of games.

COCKTAIL PARTIES

Another form of entertaining that lends itself to the maidless home is the cocktail party. Men and women living alone, as well as householders, find this a simple method of bringing their friends together in both small and large numbers. The larger the party, the more formal it is apt to be but this need not necessarily hold. A refectory table against the wall is the usual setting but nothing is served that cannot be eaten with the fingers. No individual silver is necessary and only a tiny napkin is used. Drinks are the special province of the host. He will make up his own shopping list and often does his own buying. He will know the particular tastes and aversions of many of the guests (in a small party, of all of them) and guide himself accordingly. A woman alone will have a relative or friend act in this capacity. Likewise, a man entertaining alone may ask his sister or friend to attend to the menu. Served with the drinks are tiny and attractive open sandwiches, made of tart, smoked or spiced ingredients. Sweets are never used, except that in every group there are those who do not use spirituous liquors, for whatever reason. For them, there should be fruit juices, ginger ale, fruitades or whatever taste dictates. Then serve sweets. In addition there should be olives, small pickles, stuffed celery, carrot strips, potato chips in their various shapes or salted nuts. In cold weather hot hors d'oeuvres served with a toothpick are especially acceptable: small filled broiled mushrooms, broiled cocktail sausages with or without a bacon wrapping, broiled olives wrapped in bacon and many others. It is well to remember that all varnished furniture needs protection from the occasional careless guest. The foot of every stemmed glass should be provided with a jacket, and tall glasses equally well protected. Have plenty of coasters in addition.

OUTDOOR PARTIES

Interest in out-of-doors dining has long been evident in American families, somewhat colored by local facilities. When a lake and beach are available, then campfires, beach parties, fish fries and clambakes vie with picnics and steak fries. Many communities encourage these outdoor activities by providing picnic grounds and camp sites, often equipped with open-air fireplaces, tables, benches and other necessary facilities. Recently, however, many families have discovered that they may serve any meal out of doors on their own premises with very little effort and much pleasure. A screened-in porch, a level terrace, a planted back yard serves admirably or, if very fortunate, a garden planted and equipped as an outdoor living room. The handy man about the house or the local carpenter can build collapsible tables or hinged ones against the house wall, rush or picket screens and canvas-covered or wooden chairs, at little expense, using waterproof materials and finish. Since this is a warm-weather arrangement, there need be little concern for hot dishes, but it adds to convenience if an electric outlet can be available for making coffee and toast and keeping such dishes hot while serving. There need be little change in the menu when food is served at home. For transporting some distance, elaborate menus and complicated dishes should be avoided; steaks, chops, wieners, bacon, broilers and hamburgs to broil over an open fire if available; rolls of the proper shape; potato, cabbage, coleslaw or other small vegetable salad; whole tomatoes, radishes, olives, carrots; whole fruits, cookies, cupcakes or doughnuts. Beverages such as coffee, milk, or chocolate are carried in thermos bottles or in their own containers if beer or canned fruit juices. An ample supply of paper plates, cups, napkins, etc., should be at hand and used to build the fire that disposes of all refuse at the end of the meal. Be very sure the fire is completely extinguished before you leave it.

FORMAL PARTIES

The Formal Dinner or Luncheon served by the household staff will be found thoroughly discussed on pages 64 to 82.

WINE SEASONS FINE FOOD

WINE seasons fine food and kindles delight in dining adventures. Until we have ample time in which to train our palates, the nice distinctions between the great vintages must remain an occult problem, but our education and our pleasure can be increased immediately by a somewhat cursory survey of the accepted laws for the serving of wine and for its use in cookery.

The fermented juice of grapes is the base of all wines. Except for the so-called fortified wines, there are two main headings for imported and domestics alike—red and white. The white types vary from a pale beige to a deep amber; the red ones show an even greater color variation. The latter should grow slightly light with age. If a red wine does not do so, it has been toned up in its youth. White wines, on the contrary, gain body and grow more golden with the lapse of years.

This passage of time affects wine as it does humans, for wine is a living thing. It becomes sick; it recovers; it is affected by the seasons, by heat and cold; it grows old; it dies—all this even after it has been bottled.

The term "good year" (we quote a chart on the opposite page for important French wines) merely means that the balance of sun and moisture of that particular year was propitious to superlative wine. In general, it is wiser to buy a fair wine of a good year than a famous brand of a poor year.

For daily use, still wines are suggested. If you are serving a single wine, serve a white wine when your main dish is a fish or a light type of meat; to accompany beef, lamb, and the like, a red wine is advised. Claret is the customary red wine for frequent service.

Claret at its best comes from the Bordeaux district of France. In that district the vineyards are large enough to permit the owners to carry out all the processes of growing, pressing, bottling and storing on their own land. Hence their brand names—usually the names of their châteaux—are guarantees of uniform quality. Red Bordeaux are lighter than most other red wines.

White Bordeaux come from the same district and are, generally speaking, sweet wines. Sauternes and Graves are two famed classifications.

Burgundies come from a very small district extending southward from Dijon for some thirty-five miles. The upper portion produces the great red Burgundies; the southern portion supplies lighter kinds and the great white Burgundies. Bottling at the property is infrequent, for the holdings of a proprietor are small and scattered. As a result Burgundies are commonly sold under the name of a township, and your greatest protection in their purchase is the reputation of the purveyor.

White Burgundies are dry, with one or two exceptions. The term "dry" denotes a "less sweet" wine. Rieslings and Chablis, for example, are dryer than Barsac or Sauterne. However, there is no fixed standard of dryness for all Chablis or all Rieslings. It is a relative matter that varies not only with the type and brand but with the particular years of growth. Depend on your wine merchant for detailed advice.

In addition to Bordeaux and Burgundy, Anjou, Alsace, and the Rhone valley produce excellent French wines. The best German wines are white and should be chilled. Italian wines are heavier than either French or German, more heady. Nearly every country in Europe grows grapes and makes wine. Though France, Germany and Italy are the great wine exporting countries, the others ship their choicest varieties to the rest of the wine drinking world. Our domestic wines cannot be charted reliably as yet. We have some very fine vineyards and need only time to ripen our pressings and to establish uniform standards. Young wine is suitable for daily use, but fine wines must be ripened under expert supervision for eight or more years before they attain their full glory.

Fortified wines include sherry, madeira and port. Brandy has been added to the natural wine. This increase in alcoholic content prolongs their keeping qualities and permits storage in upright positions.

Champagne needs no introduction. By complicated processes, the wine is aerated and the corking and recorking is a momentous and difficult technique.

Wine Sequence (or Service Sequence)—Wines reverse the usual order of hospitality. Your most august wine should be accorded the last place if you are serving more than one kind. The theorists hold that your wine tasting ability is not toned up to a proper appreciation of the unrivaled grandeur of a fine wine at the beginning of a dinner.

Englishmen customarily serve sherry with clear soups but Frenchmen consider that the sherry is too vivid a wine to precede the dry white wine that accompanies the entree or fish.

Never serve a sweet wine before a dry one, nor a rich, fruity Burgundy before a claret.
In serving two wines, select a rather dry white wine to accompany your fish or entree and a red wine for your meat course.

In serving three wines, the following make the best combinations:

A. White, red, Champagne
B. White, red, white
C. White, red, red.

In the case of "B," the second white wine should be sweet. In the case of "C," the greater of the red wines comes second.

Champagne is served with the dessert if several wines are provided.

Liqueurs are served with coffee in the drawing room or in the dining room at the close of dinner. Cognac is the most popular. However, Benedictine, Cointreau, Chartreuse and Crème de Menthe have many devoted admirers. Englishmen often drink port at the close of dinner.

Italians and Frenchmen habitually dilute their ordinary red wine with water for a daily beverage. Never add ice or very icy water to wine, for the sudden chilling ruins its flavor.

The Amount to Serve—Wine is best appreciated when it is drunk in moderation, as a food, as a pleasure and not as a thirst quencher or stimulant. Plan a total allowance of a half bottle to each guest. Thus a table of eight will require two bottles of each of the principal wines or four bottles if you are serving only one variety. However if you are ending dinner with a sweet wine, a Chateau d'Yqem, for example, one bottle should be ample.

Though it is sometimes convenient to serve one large and one half-size bottle, you will notice that the smaller bottles lack some of the fine qualities of the larger ones.

Try to gage the amount required for your dinner with rather nice exactitude, especially in the case of Champagne. Once iced, then warmed and re-iced at a later date, Champagne is nearly ruined, and other wines suffer to a lesser degree.

It may be pertinent to add that the larger the group of guests the more each one tends to consume.

Temperature—Broadly speaking, all red wines should be served at room temperature and all white wines chilled. The change in temperature from that of the storage space should be accomplished gradually, as sudden chilling or warming harms all wine.

Red wines should never be drunk cold. Fine red Bordeaux and Burgundies have scarcely any bouquet at a temperature that chills the hands. Red Bordeaux, or claret, is best at a temperature of 70°-75° F., approximately room temperature. If you keep your wines in a cool storage place—55° F. is ideal for storing—bring the claret to the dining room several hours before service time so that it may warm gradually. Never insert the bottle in hot water or put it near heat to hasten this process. Red Burgundy may be served slightly cooler than the other red wines. It loses its numbness speedily after it is poured into the glasses and by holding the bowl of the glass in the palm of the hand, to warm it further, the guest savors its expanding bouquet before tasting it.

Beaujolais, Arbois, Chinon and a few other red wines, with much bouquet and little body, are best drunk cool; they are exceptions to the general rule.

White wines should be drunk cool or chilled. The sweeter the wine, the longer it takes to chill it. Dry white wines cool quickly and a dry champagne quickest of all. On the other hand, a sweet sauterne takes a couple of hours in a mechanical refrigerator to reach its ideal temperature of 40° F. A half hour to an hour is ample refrigeration storage to cool white Burgundies, Rhone wines and the like.

All sweet white wines, all sparkling wines and some dry wines should be thoroughly chilled. They should approximate 40° F. This chilling is best accomplished by the use of an ice bucket, at least when the wine reaches the table. The first cooling may be done by laying the bottles, horizontally, of course, in the mechanical refrigerator. But wines, once iced, lose their grandeur if slightly warmed, and if they are allowed to stand outside a casing of ice for even ten minutes, the result may be disastrous. You can hasten even icing by turning your bottle in the ice bucket, which should be deep enough so that the entire bottle, except the very top, may be surrounded by ice.

Beer should be kept in a cool place so that it may be made icy cold quickly when needed. However, it should not be stored permanently in the refrigerator.

Uncorking and Decanting—Careful uncorking is important. One least bit of cork dropped into the bottle will ruin great wines and can be detected in every case by the discerning palate.

A lever type corkscrew is ideal; its edges should be rounded so that it will not cut the cork. Insert it evenly, straight and to the full depth of the cork. Then withdraw it very slowly so that your wine will remain still. This prevents the mixing of any sediment in the bottom of the bottle with the clear liquid.

Note the condition of the cork. It should be long, moist and tightly inserted in the bottle. Short corks are an indication of slip-shod bottling, and dry corks, of poor after care (probably the bottle has been stored in an upright position). If the cork smells acid, the wine itself is turned and no longer in good drinking condition.

In recorking, it is usually advisable to cut off a little from the upper part of the cork (this obviates any taste of sealing materials) and insert this top end in your bottle. The moist end expands rapidly on exposure to air and can seldom be reinserted.

Decanting is the gentle transfer of wine from its bottle to a decanter. No two experts agree as to the advisability of doing this. However, there is no gainsaying the fact that old red wine with considerable sediment must be poured from the bottle by a very expert hand, or be decanted to prevent any sediment from reaching the wine glass. The simplest methods of decanting are to pour the wine slowly into a glass decanter and stop as soon as any sediment appears, or to pour the wine through a funnel topped with a thin layer of absorbent, not medicated, cotton. Decanting should be done just before the meal is served.

Fine white wines are seldom decanted. However, both white and red wines of the ordinary day-by-day sorts are often served from a handsome glass decanter. This fashion originated in Europe because wines of this grade are often bought in bulk. A decanter of white wine and another of red are frequently placed on the dinner table. It is a great convenience to own several sizes. Ordinary red wines will keep for a considerable period if the decanters are airtight. As you drink your wine, change it to a smaller decanter; the ideal is to have the wine and the stopper of the decanter meet each other. Liqueurs with high alcoholic content keep in partially filled decanters or bottles. Sherry, Madeira, Port and Claret are served from the bottle or from a decanter with equal correctness.
Care of Wine—Wine should be kept at an even temperature and in a dark, dry place with some ventilation but no drafts. A closet equipped with metal bins is the best solution in city apartments. A cellar is, of course, ideal. Storing vegetables or other foods in such a cellar is unwise for they impart a disagreeable odor to wines even though they are bottled.

Fortified wines and brandy may stand upright. Keep all your other unopened wines in a horizontal position when stored. Upright bottles of natural wines spoil in a few days, because of the shrinkage of the corks. Do not disturb your wines by unnecessary movement, for if there are any dregs or sediment movement tends to cloud the entire bottle.

The ideal temperature for storing wines is about 55° F. Even temperature is important, for sudden changes ruin fine wines.

Glasses—Sets of glassware make so charming a table decoration that most women will find it convenient to buy water goblets, glasses for red wines, and small ones for white wines and sherry in a single pattern. Champagne glasses should match the other glasses, for those who plan that luxury. Liqueur and cocktail glasses may differ, for they seldom appear at the same time as the other glassware. So select gay bits of contrast for these special services.

In choosing wine glasses, buy rather large ones and fill them partially; one-half to three-quarters is suggested. Since color is one of the great fascinations of fine wine, connoisseurs approve clear crystal glassware with sparse decoration. A ball or tulip shaped bowl atop a long stem conserves the aroma and permits swirling. By holding the stem between the thumb and forefinger, the guest may move his glass so that the wine picks up a slight motion and licks the sides of the glass. This swirling exhibits the fine texture of your wine and gathers its bouquet so that, when the glass is lifted to the mouth, the nose also gains full pleasure from the rich, fruity aroma. Dry wine spreads like water, and sweet wine hangs and makes runnels. A Bordeaux that does this is called "a fat one."

The glory of Champagne, its sparkling quality, is best conserved by serving it in a glass with a fluted top on a hollow stem. The effervescence has a longer road to travel before it is dissipated in the atmosphere.

A set of tall glasses suitable for beer, ale, juleps and lemonade may match your water goblets or differ in pattern. Steins for beer are preferred by some hosts.

Wine in Cookery—Wine is friendly to many foods but is equally antagonistic to other favorites. Egg is the outstanding example of the latter and cheese of the former. White and shell fish, poultry, game and meat, except pork, take on added luster by the addition of a small quantity of wine. Mushrooms, truffles and sweet potatoes complement wine flavors. Beware, beware, the combining of wine with acids in the form of gherkins, vinegar and similar condiments.

For fish or meat sauces, dry wines are the dicta of most experts. Riesling and Chablis are typical dry white wines, and claret is a typical dry red one. In the case of fish, the wine must be white, always, for red wine and fish do not mix. Meats may be cooked with either red or white wine. Occasionally a dash of a sweet cordial added at the last moment improves a meat. For instance, a tablespoon of Benedictine works magic in a pot roast.

Desserts and fruits combine to best advantage with sweet white wines, fortified wines, sweet liqueurs or a little brandy.

The amount of wine used in cookery is surprisingly small. To benefit by this trifling quantity, the flavor must permeate each morsel of food. Several methods aid the cook to this end. “To marinate” the food in the wine, for an hour or so, is suitable to some recipes. “To burn” is the easy means to benefit from a small amount of brandy; simply pour the brandy over the food, touch it with a lighted match and shake the food until the flame dies out. To cook the food with wine for a considerable period of time is the third and usual method.

Remember, however, that wine should never cook at a high temperature. A dozen bubbles spell disaster. This is especially true in the case of dishes that combine cream and wine. They should be cooked over hot water to prevent curdling. Another trick is to heat the fish or meat with the wine and add the cream or cream-egg mixture just before serving. If the amount of cream is large, heat it separately so that it will not chill the hot mixture. Do not heat eggs for sauces; merely add after the sauce is removed from the fire, for the heat of the cooked food will coagulate the egg.

When browning the top of a platter filled with a wine sauce and fish combination—sole or lobster, for example—place it as close to the flame as possible and leave only a second or two.
Never keep it in the broiler long enough to raise the temperature of the entire sauce. In olden days, a red hot poker seared the top—a nearly perfect method.

Never allow the aroma of your wine to escape and be squandered on the air. This bouquet should be part of the food. So cover your cooking utensils closely; cooking parchments may be used. Likewise, desserts should be closely covered while they chill in the refrigerator.

Taste your foods as you assemble and cook them. The requisite amount of salt and of wine will vary because of the differences in the wines themselves. Some sorts—sherry is one—run the gamut from quite sweet to very dry and from a rich, heavy, tawny quality to a light, flavorsome one.

Remember in your tasting adventures that, in the finest cooking, the wine flavor does not dominate; it merely accents and adds subtlety to the basic food flavor.

Remember, too, that all punches, with or without wine, should stand for thirty minutes or more after they are mixed. This is called the ripening process. Ice is added at the time of service.

COURT BOUILLON

- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1/2 cup white wine (dry)
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 slices garlic
- 2 small onions
- 1 bay leaf
- 6 peppercorns
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme
- 6 slices carrot
- 3 sprigs parsley

Cook together for 30 minutes at simmering temperature. Strain and use as a substitute for water in poaching fish. If the recipe calls for a sauce, use this bouillon for its base. Any fish is improved by the added flavor-giving qualities of a court bouillon. Be sure to poach, not boil, your fish.

CHILLED TROUT

Try poaching brook trout in two tablespoons of butter and a half cup of court bouillon or of white wine. Turn once and cook a very short time. Lift out, chill and serve with tartar sauce. It may be covered with an aspic gelatin and garnished with shrimps and bits of truffle.

Soften the gelatin in the cold water. Dissolve in the hot consommé. Add the lemon juice and wine, and salt if required. Chill in the refrigerator. Chop lightly before putting in service cups. Top with minced parsley, a lemon crescent or a bit of tomato fringed with minced green pepper.

Cut the halibut in small cubes. Steam over hot water or poach in court bouillon for five minutes. Beware of long or swift cooking as the halibut easily loses its shape. When poached, put the fish, butter, wine, brandy, salt and cayenne in a double boiler and heat smoking hot. Beat the yolks and combine with the evaporated milk (sour cream may be substituted for the milk and lemon juice) and cook with the hot fish for one minute. Remove from the fire and add the lemon juice. Serve on very hot plates. An excellent chafing dish innovation.

Sauté the lobster in the melted fat. Add the seasonings and the wine. When very hot serve on small bread croustades or packaged appetizer shells.
LOBSTER A LA NEWBURG

½ lb. butter 3 cups lobster meat (3½ lb. live lobster)
1 cup Madeira wine
2 cups whipping cream
1 small can truffles
Salt and cayenne to taste

Cut the lobster in small pieces. Chop the truffles fine. Heat both the above in melted butter till very hot. Add the wine. When hot add the cream and seasoning and let them blend for several minutes. Cook over hot water, as a high temperature will curdle the cream-wine mixture.

SOLE THERMIDOR

1 lb. sole or filet of flounder ¼ cup brandy
1 tablespoon flour 3 tablespoons butter
½ cup sour cream 2 cups court bouillon
1 teaspoon dry mustard 4 tablespoons grated Swiss or Parmesan cheese
Salt and cayenne to taste

Neatly trim the fish fillets and poach in court bouillon. (See page 745.) Lift onto a hot baking platter. Combine the flour and melted butter and add the court bouillon in which the fish was poached. Add the seasonings, the cream, the brandy and 2 tablespoons of the cheese. Do not cook. Pour over the fish, sprinkle with the remaining cheese and put close under the flame to brown instantly. Serve as an entrée.

HAM PORTE MAILLOT

¼ cup cooking fat ½ clove garlic
½ cup dried Lima beans ½ cup cauliflower
(cooked) ¼ cup celery
½ cup carrots 2 leaves lettuce
½ cup onion ½ to ¾ cup dry white wine

Originated by a restaurant just outside the Porte Maillot, one of the gates of Paris, this dish brings a new flavor to a baked ham. We have substituted dried Lima beans for the French white bean that is infrequently used in America. Cut the carrots, onion, garlic, celery, cauliflower and lettuce in long narrow shreds. Simmer them in the cooking fat but do not brown.
When cooked add the previously cooked Lima beans and the white wine. Cook together one minute and serve around a hot baked ham or as a sauce for left-over ham that has been re-heated over steam.

VEAL WITH OLIVES

1 1/2 lbs. veal cutlets           1/4 cup butter or cooking fat
1/3 cup Marsala wine              10 green olives
Salt and pepper to taste

The secret of the success of this delicious Italian meat is to have the veal pounded paper thin. Ask for veal scaloppini at markets in the East. Otherwise ask for veal cutlets and ask the butcher to pound the meat paper thin after cutting it 1/4 inch thick. Wipe the veal, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Simmer very quickly in the melted butter, browning lightly on both sides, add the wine and the olives cut in narrow strips. Heat one minute and serve. The veal should cook in five minutes.

BURGUNDIAN BEEF

3 lbs. beef, rump or round        2 tablespoons butter
1/4 lb. salt pork                 3 tablespoons flour
3 cups minced onion               1/2 carrot, in circles
2 small shallots, minced          1 clove garlic
6 peppercorns                     2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 bay leaves                      2 tablespoons minced chervil
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar     1 1/2 to 2 cups red wine or fresh minced tarragon         Salt to taste
1/8 teaspoon thyme

Dice the salt pork and sauté in the butter. Cut the beef in two-inch cubes or leave in one piece as preferred. Sear thoroughly in the hot fat. Lift out. Add the onion, garlic, shallots and carrot. Simmer them in the fat till light yellow. Add all the other ingredients and the beef. Cook on a very slow fire three hours. Remove excess fat and serve. It may be re-heated with advantage.
LAMB CHOPS WITH MADEIRA

- 6 lamb chops
- 3 onions
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon tomato paste
- ½ clove garlic
- 2 carrots
- 4 mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons Madeira
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon salt

Cut the vegetables in fine inch-length strips. Simmer them in the butter till tender. Cover during this cooking so that the zest will be preserved. Season. Add the tomato paste and Madeira. Serve on top of broiled lamb chops. Thick lamb chops boned and circled with bacon add elegance to this Madeira flavored dish.

CHICKEN BRAISED WITH WINE

(Coq au Vin)

- 1 frying chicken
- 8 small white onions
- 4 small shallots
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 tablespoon minced chervil
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon brandy
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 3 tablespoons butter
- ¼ lb. salt pork diced
- ¼ lb. mushrooms
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 carrot
- Pinch thyme
- 1 cup red or white wine
- 1 clove garlic

Lightly brown the salt pork in the melted butter, add the shallot, onions, garlic and the carrot cut in circles. Simmer till golden, but not browned. Lift out and brown the chicken. Sprinkle with the flour, seasoning and herbs. Return the sautéed vegetables and add the wine. Cook fifteen to twenty minutes on a rather hot fire. During the last five minutes add the mushrooms. Skim off excess fat and serve.

Red wine is usual in making this dish, but the white one gives a more delicate flavor.

Make your dinner perfect by serving with this chicken a salad of mixed greens with a simple French dressing made with lemon juice. The acid of vinegar devitalizes the subtle details in flavor of the wine-cooked chicken.
EGGS WITH SHERRY AND ORANGE
(Oeufs au Xérès et à l’Orange)

6 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sherry
Cayenne
3 tablespoons tomato sauce
Butter
Grated orange rind

Beat eggs until no longer stringy. Blend in sherry and tomato sauce. Add seasonings. Melt butter in a frying pan and pour in the mixture. Cook slowly, stirring until it begins to set. Then sprinkle with the grated orange rind and serve immediately.

PLANTATION SWEET POTATOES

6 sweet potatoes
6 tablespoons sherry wine
3/4 cup butter or other fat
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Paprika
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Bake washed sweet potatoes at 450° F. for 40 minutes. Cut off a slice from the top of each and hollow out. Mash the potato. Whip with the melted butter or other fat, the seasoning and the sherry. Re-stuff in the potato shells and sprinkle with paprika. Brown in the oven.

MUSHROOMS WITH MADEIRA

1/2 lb. mushrooms
8 small white onions
3 tablespoons bouillon
3 teaspoons flour
1/4 cup butter
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons Madeira
1 tablespoon minced chervil
Salt, cayenne
1/2 bay leaf

Melt the butter and cook onions in it for five minutes. Do not brown. Add the mushrooms that have been washed but not peeled. Whole mushrooms make the most attractive service, so slice only the stems. When well coated with butter, add the minced herbs, the flour, the bouillon and the seasoning. Cook until the onions are tender—slowly of course. Add the Madeira and cook one minute. Serve garnished with croutons and minced herbs.

A delicious entrée or specialty for chafing dish parties.

WELSH RAREBIT

1 lb. grated American cheese 1 teaspoon butter
1 teaspoon paprika ½ pint ale or beer
Salt and prepared mustard to taste

Melt the butter and stir so that it oils the bottom of your pan. (A chafing dish over hot water is ideal.) Add the cheese and gently stir into it one tablespoon of beer or ale. The cheese will at once thicken and another tablespoon of beer or ale should be added. Stir continuously. Add more liquid until the mixture is smooth and velvety. The exact amount of ale varies with different cheeses. Season to taste and serve on toast. Hot plates are essential. This will serve six single portions.

HOT WINE SAUCE FOR VENISON, GAME OR TONGUE

1 tablespoon butter ½ cup water
½ glass currant jelly ½ cup port wine
Juice of ½ lemon 3 cloves
Pinch cayenne 1 teaspoon salt

Simmer together for five minutes all ingredients except the wine. Strain and add the port wine. Add also a little of the meat gravy. Serve hot.

BRANDIED APPLE FRITTERS

4 medium apples 4 tablespoons brandy
1 egg ½ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar 1 cup flour
1 ½ teaspoons baking powder ¼ teaspoon salt

Pare the apples, core and slice in circles or cut in segments. Pour over them the brandy, cover tightly with cooking parchment. Combine the well beaten egg yolk with the sugar and milk. Add the flour that has been sifted with the salt and baking powder. Fold in the egg white beaten stiff. Dip the brandied apples in this batter and fry in deep fat (360-370° F.) two to four minutes. Serve with sauce superb or powdered sugar.

SAUCE SUPERB

| 2 eggs | 1 cup powdered sugar |
| 1 cup whipping cream | 4 teaspoons rum |

Beat the eggs till thick and lemon colored. Add the sugar gradually and continue beating. Whip the cream very stiff, add the rum and combine the two mixtures. The secret of success in making this sauce is to beat it thoroughly. It will keep for hours in the refrigerator.

APRICOT RUM WHIP

| 1 1/2 can apricots | 1 tablespoon rum |
| 3/4 cup whipping cream | 3 egg whites |

Drain the apricots and reserve the juice for beverages. Mash the fruit through a sieve and combine with the whipped egg whites and the whipped cream. Fold in the rum and serve cold.

BRANDIED CARAMEL BANANAS

| 6 bananas | 3 tablespoons butter |
| 1 tablespoon brandy | 3 tablespoons brown sugar |

Peel the bananas, divide in halves lengthwise. Melt the butter and sauté the bananas. Turn when brown on one side. Add the sugar and, when browned on the other side, add the brandy. Serve on very hot plates with the brandied sugar atop the bananas.

CRÊPES SUZETTE

| 3/4 cup flour | 6 lumps loaf sugar |
| 2 teaspoons sugar | 1 orange |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 6 tablespoons brandy |
| 3/4 cup milk | 1/4 cup Grand Marnier Liqueur |
| 3 eggs | 1/8 lb. sweet butter |

This very famous but really very simple dessert is not difficult. A more awe-inspiring recipe for the crêpes is common at many great Parisian restaurants, but this is excellent and simple. The successful making of crêpes depends on the thinness of the batter.

Add sugar and salt to the eggs, beaten slightly, then alternately the flour and the milk and then beat thoroughly with a rotary beater. Lightly grease a small frying pan (7 inches) and pour in about two tablespoons of batter. Move the pan so that the batter spreads to the outer edge of the pan. Brown on both sides and roll. Keep in a warm place until ready to serve.

The Suzette sauce is made by rubbing the lump sugar with the white part of the orange peel, adding one teaspoon of very finely minced outer peel and dissolving the sugar in one tablespoon brandy. Combine with one-eighth of a pound of sweet butter. At service time, in the chafing dish, or Suzette pan preferably, melt prepared butter, add the cooked crêpes and turn. Then add the remaining brandy and the liqueur. Light with a match and when the flame goes out serve your crêpes.

BRANDIED APRICOT OMELET

Make a puffy omelet in the usual manner. Before folding it spread with apricot jam to which you have added a tablespoon of brandy. Around the omelet serve a foamy brandy sauce or a sauce superb.

GEORGIA CHRISTMAS PUDDING

\begin{align*}
0.5 \text{ cup chopped walnuts or pecans} & \quad 0.5 \text{ cup chopped raisins} \\
0.5 \text{ cup sugar} & \quad 0.25 \text{ cup sherry wine} \\
6 \text{ egg whites} & \quad 0.25 \text{ cup rum} \\
& \quad 1 \text{ teaspoon lemon juice}
\end{align*}

Soak the nuts and raisins in the wines and lemon juice for at least six hours—overnight if possible. Beat the egg whites stiff, add the sugar and beat till ropy. Fold in the wine-soaked fruits and nuts. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water. Bake at 350° F. for one hour. Serve with the following sauce.

Make a custard of 6 egg yolks, \(0.25\) cup sugar and \(1.5\) cups of scalded milk. When smoothly thickened, flavor with sherry and serve on the Christmas Pudding. This is a famous old Georgia recipe.

FROZEN PUDDING WITH RUM

2 eggs 1 cup assorted candied fruit
1 cup sugar 2½ cups milk
½ to ¾ cup rum 1 cup whipping cream
Pinch salt

Cover the chopped candied fruits with rum and cover tightly. Stand two or three hours. Make a custard of the eggs, sugar, salt and hot milk. Cool. Fold in the whipping cream, beaten stiff, and the candied fruits. Pour into a tray of the mechanical refrigerator and freeze. Beat at the end of an hour and once or twice afterward to assure even textured cream. At the last beating, the cream may be placed in small molds or in little individual paper containers.

PINEAPPLE WITH KIRSCH

Cut a ripe pineapple in slices. Remove the rind and the eyes. Restack the slices in their original shape. Pass with the pineapple a bowl of powdered sugar and a bottle of kirsch.

Canned pineapple is also excellent with kirsch but, when using it, you gain in flavor by pouring the kirsch over the fruit and chilling in the refrigerator for an hour or more. Be sure to cover closely so that all the zest will be part of the fruit. Allow one tablespoon of kirsch to two slices of canned pineapple.

Many other fruits are delicious accompanied by this mild liqueur, strawberries, for example.

SYLLABUB

2 cups whipping cream ½ cup powdered sugar
1 tablespoon rum

A famous English recipe. Whip the cream stiff, fold in the sugar and rum. Ripen in the refrigerator for half an hour, covered, of course. Serve in sherbet glasses.
WASH, stem and cut in half 1 quart ripe strawberries. Cover with powdered sugar and 2 tablespoons rum. Chill 30 minutes. Whisk two egg whites stiff, beat in gradually 4 tablespoons powdered sugar. Fold in the chilled berries. Serve in sherbet glasses and top with sweetened whipped cream.

TIPSY PUDDING

One of the choice recipes of our Grandmother’s era. It appeared in the place of honor on New Year’s Day. The secret for a successful outcome is to use a very stale, very porous cake. A broken, not cut, sunshine cake at least four days old, should be soaked in sherry. Allow about one cup sherry to a quarter of a good sized cake. An hour later cover the cake with a soft custard flavored with rum. Serve very cold.

OLD FASHIONED WINE JELLY

Soak the gelatin in the cold water until soft. Dissolve in the boiling water, add the sugar and other ingredients. Pour into molds that have been rinsed in cold water. Serve with whipped cream.

BRANDIED PEACHES

Pare the peaches with a silver knife. Insert 2 cloves in each whole peach. Make a syrup of the sugar and water. Add the egg white beaten to a froth. Skim. Put in fruit, one layer at a time, and boil five minutes or until it may be pierced with a straw. Remove the fruit to a platter to partially cool. Then pack in glass jars. Return any excess juice to the syrup and boil about ten minutes more, or till well thickened. Remove from the fire, add the brandy and pour over the fruit. Seal at once. White cling stone peaches are particularly good. Six pounds of fruit will yield about seven pint jars. Improves with age.

HASTY WINE GELATIN

| 2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Madeira wine or $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sherry wine |
| 3½ cups hot water                 |                                                            |

Dissolve the gelatin in the hot water. When perfectly clear add the wine. Pour in molds that have been rinsed in cold water. Serve with whipped cream. Garnish with grated orange peel on top the whipped cream. Orange flavored gelatin combines well with Madeira.

CLARET LEMONADE

| 12 cubes ice | Sugar syrup to taste |
| 1 bottle claret | Orange slices |
| Juice 3 lemons | |

Half fill a glass pitcher with ice cubes or cracked ice. Add the lemon juice and a few slices of orange. Fill the pitcher nearly full with claret and add sugar syrup to taste. Stand twenty to thirty minutes to blend and ripen.

MULLED CLARET

| 1 qt. hot claret | $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar |
| 1 piece stick cinnamon | 8 cloves |
| Juice 1 lemon | $\frac{1}{2}$ lemon sliced |

Heat the claret and add the other ingredients. Stir till dissolved and serve hot. Doughnuts were served with it in the nineties.

TUTTI FRUTTI

Into a stone jar put one cup of brandy, the best you own, one cup sugar and one cup ripe strawberries. Stir thoroughly. As each fruit comes to the height of its perfection, add it, with a cup of sugar for each cup of fruit. No more brandy is indicated. Be sure to stir at each addition. Large fruits like peaches should be cut in small pieces. Cherries and plums should be stoned. Atop vanilla ice cream this is an epicurean delight. Perhaps you will make enough to use it for preserves.

CHAMPAGNE CUP

Sweeten the fruit juices slightly. Combine all the ingredients. Let stand ten minutes after mixing with a large piece of ice in a punch bowl. It’s well to use as large a piece of ice as possible, for it melts more slowly and adds less water to the punch.

EGGNOG, SOUTHERN

4 eggs
1/2 cup whipping cream
4 tablespoons brandy or whisky
3 tablespoons powdered sugar

Beat the yolks till thick and lemon colored. Slowly beat in the brandy and sugar. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites and the whipped cream. This must be eaten with a spoon. Excellent.

EGGNOG—OTHER TYPE

4 eggs

4 tablespoons brandy or rum
3 cups milk
Grating of nutmeg

Beat the egg white to a dry froth. Beat into the egg white the sugar and then the yolks of the eggs combined with the brandy. Add the milk and a slight grating of nutmeg. Serve at once. Famous at New Year’s and Christmas.

ZABAGLIONE—

4 egg yolks
3 tablespoons honey
Cinnamon
2 tablespoons Marsala wine

Beat egg yolks with honey until thick and lemon colored in the top of a double boiler. Add wine gradually. While it heats continue to use rotary beater. Serve as drink or dessert sauce with dash of cinnamon.
